ROME, July 17 (UP).—Under-Secretary Bottai of the ministry of corporations, receiving 120 Italian industrialists who are residents of France, told the visitors they could perform effective work among the Italians in France who still are obstinately opposed to fascism.

"They need patient persuasion but they are bound to join the fold and receive the light which emanates from Rome," the undersecretary said.

STALIN ADDRESS STRESSES U. S.-BRITISH FIGHT

Points Out Tendencies Towards War

Continued from Page One

all tend toward a struggle for supremacy between Breat Britain and the United States.

The struggle between imperialism and the colonies has been intensified since the Fifth Congress. Since then the revolutionary movement of the Chinese workers and peasants has developed tremendously as has also the national revolutionary movement everywhere.

The antagonism between the Soviet Union and the capitalist world has also intensified. During the period of the Fifth Congress there existed a fairly stable balance between these two worlds. Today, however, the balance has almost ended.

Pacifist Talk Is Cloak.

These antagonisms tend toward imperialist wars and intervention. Imperialist war is now the main world problem before the League of Nations and disarmament talk is nothing but a cloak for increased war preparations.

Stalin pointed out that the social democracy is the chief agent of imperialist pacifism in the camp of the working class. The social democracy alone, however, is not sufficient for the imperialists, because without the suppression of the working class, the basis of capitalism is unsound. Fascism exists for the purpose of suppressing the working class.

The tasks of the working class are struggle against the social democracy, exposure of all forms of pacifism, the winning of the majority of the workers, the formation of a united front between the workers of the capitalist countries and the toilers of the colonies in order to prevent war or to transform the imperialist war into civil war for the overthrow of capitalism, the setting up of Soviet power, the freeing of the colonies and their organization for the defense of the workers' and peasants' state.

WATT URGES AID TO COAL MINERS

Seeks Support for Big Convention

Continued from Page One

cling to the helm of the union until the union is completely smashed. This he does in spite of the persistent demands of the big majority of the miners to leave them alone and let them organize a strong miners' union, which will embrace every miner of this country.

"In view of the above situation, and taking the only course left to us, a call, signed by nationally-known rank and file miners, was issued for a National Miners' Convention, to be held on September 6 to 16 at Pittsburgh, Pa., to form a strong rank and file miners' union.

"It is of utmost importance that this convention be made a huge success. This convention will give the knock-out blow to the entire rotten Lewis machine. A successful National Miners' Convention, and the organization of a clean and strong miners' union, will bring fresh hope and courage to the entire working class of this country. But to accomplish this is a difficult task. A great deal of organization work has to be done and much money is needed.

"Fellow workers! Come to our aid! Our fight is your fight, also! Without the aid of the entire working class we are doomed to fail. You must give us your support! We need funds at once!"

SUPPRESS PAPER OF COMMUNISTS

BRUSSELS, July 17.—Because of an article that was addressed to the soldiers and sailors and which asked them, in case of a war, to feel their solidarity with all the soldiers of the capitalist governments, and to turn their weapon against their own bourgeois, the Communist newspaper, "The Red Flag," was expropriated by the government.

The writer of the article, De Boeck, and the Communist representative in the Belgian parliament, Jacquemotte, who is the responsible editor for the newspaper, have been invited to an "investigation."

There are two charges against Jacquemotte, one for the above mentioned article, for which he is considered responsible, the other for an article which he himself wrote and which he entitled: "The Courts by Order of the Government Turn Against Our Party."

Jacquemotte brushed the charges aside and protested against his arrest since he was granted immunity as a member of parliament, and it had been ignored. He refused to answer, on this ground, all further questions.

Pioneers of the U. S. S. R. Hold Study Hour

[illegible] their meeting room. These children Communists begin to study the fundamentals of Marxism and Leninism at an early age, and realize fully the important role they will have to play in building the Fatherland of the Proletariat.

ОКТЯБРЁНОК

KELLOGG TALKS PEACE; NAVY PREPARING WAR

WASHINGTON, July 17.—While Kellogg talks of "peace" conferences and treaties to "outlaw war," the navy department is increasing its forces and rapidly preparing for war, figures on armament reveal.

During the session of congress just closed, larger appropriations for the navy was made. The enlisted personnel has been increased to 84,000. Of this number, 60,186 have been assigned to the sea-going forces and 23,814 will be sent to air stations and other shore stations, training posts, etc.

Officers Increasing.

The number of non-commissioned officers is increased considerably The plans call for an increase of 60 chief petty officers, 124 first class petty officers, 109 second class petty officers, and 205 third class petty officers. Another 252 are included in non-rated groups.

In addition to the enlisted personnel, training will be given this summer to more than 8,000 reserves This means 92,000 sailors for war purposes, in addition to those who will be drafted.

New Warships.

While newspapers have been carrying reports of "disarmament," the government has been constructing two new modern cruisers, the "Pensacola" and the "Salt Lake City." Both were completed last week.

The preparations for war are not confined to armaments and increases in the enlisted personnel. Efforts are being made to popularize the service, and for this purpose "Fleet Week" celebrations will be held in Seattle August 6 to 11, inclusive.

False Propaganda.

A revival of world war propaganda methods are seen in falsehoods published in "Our Navy," such as stories that Sandino murders wounded marines and even wounded soldiers of his own forces The authorities deliberately circulate these falsehoods, despite the testimony of those who have visited Sandino's army.

TEXTILE PICKET GETS 3 MONTHS

Strikers Hail Move For New Union

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 17.—Another textile striker, Joseph Correia, Jr., 17 years old, has been sentenced to serve three months in jail for picketing the gates of one of the 56 mills tied up by the walkout over 14 weeks ago of 28,000 mill operatives.

This time the charge of singing or disturbing the peace was dispensed with, because the New Bedford police had framed up a case of "breaking factory windows."

Judges Vicious

Manuel Dos Santos and John Braz, two other strikers arraigned on the same charge, had their cases postponed till the following day. They, too, will in all probability be jailed for several months, it is believed. The judges in the local courts have been indulging in an orgy of viciousness, sentencing 37 strikers to 6 months each for participating in all-night picket demonstrations.

Attorneys for the International Labor Defense promptly appealed the case of the 17-year-old striker and obtained his release after posting a bond of $500.

Favor New Unions

Thousands of strikers here have registered the most enthusiastic approval of the step taken by the National Textile Mill Committees in issuing a call for a nation-wide convention for the creation of a new textile workers organization.

Although no definite steps have as yet been announced by the New Bedford Textile Workers Union, which is affiliated with the Textile Mill Committees, it is believed that a conference will soon be held, where plans will be formulated for presentation to this convention.

HORTHY POLICE TERROR INCREASE

Hundreds of Workers Framed, Tortured

BUDAPEST, (By Mail).—In Hungary terrorism in the jails is increasing. During the last few days mass arrests of workers who are suspected of "Communism" are taking place in Budapest. In the provinces also numerous workers and even more working women have been arrested.

The arrests are made on the ground of the material that has fallen into the hands of the police during the trial of Bela Kun. In reality Schweinitzer and Hetenyi, the chiefs of the Horthy police, are basing their action on the reports sent them thru the last few weeks by the Austrian police.

Forced "Confessions."

The police demanded from the prisoners "confessions" that they have sent letters to Bela Kun. Schweinitzer hopes in this way to prove which members of the Central Committee of the Hungarian Communist Party are at this moment in Budapest.

The prisoners were put thru fearful mishandling and torture. Even such a bourgeois paper as the "Prager Presse" describes the doings in the Budapest jails as follows: "There investigations were carried on for the whole night as usual, which means, "confessions" obtained thru torture and maltreatment."

The social-democratic paper "Nepszava" writes about it: "On the orders of Mayor Hetenyi the whole police force was called out on a riot call on Friday afternoon. The arrests began in the evening hours Detective squads were detailed to the workers' quarters, who during the course of the night arrested workers in larger or smaller groups and turned them over to the police. About midnight the hearings began. On Saturday the arrested workers were set free."

The Budapest newspaper "A Mai Nap" reports among other things the following: "The recently uncovered Communist plot is closely connected with the trial of Bela Kun in Vienna and it is to be hoped that the spies sent by Bela Kun from Vienna to Hungary be discovered. The prisoners are for the most part not workers but young intellectuals. It is to be hoped that the police will also succeed in capturing the courier who brought the propaganda money from Moscow thru Vienna to Budapest."

About the wealth of data upon which police used to make the numerous arrests, the "New Vienna Tageblatt" reports very correctly: "The police investigations go back to the time, when after the arrest of Bela Kun in Vienna the Budapest Chief of Police Dr. Josef Schweinitzer procured the expropriated correspondence of Bela Kun from Vienna, by which means he learnt of the dates of Communist organization activities in Budapest."

The Vienna "Evening" corroborates this bit of news by reporting that the Budapest police were supported in their raids "by reports from foreign police departments." It adds further: "The political department of the Budapest police sent observers during the trial of Bela Kun not only to Vienna but also to Berlin and Warsaw. On the ground of the reports of these investigators the Horthy police will prove that the Communist workers' committees organized by Bela Kun also had an organization in Budapest. The present arrests have netted people whom the police suspect of having been in relation with Bela Kun on such a committee. Besides we also learn from the head of the Budapest police that a certain people's commissar of the Hungarian Red Dictatorship is at present in Budapest. He is being sought for."

MRS. HOOVER'S DAD ILL

PLACERVILLE, Calif., July 17 (UP).—C. D. Henry, father of Mrs. Herbert Hoover, was reported weakening gradually today at a Placerville sanitarium.

SPANISH KING SURROUNDED BY BIG ARMY GUARD

Disturbances Revealed In Move

PARIS, July 17 (UP).—Spanish army maneuvers were begun in the Pyrenees district today coincident with the expected arrival of King Alfonso to inaugurate the new Pyrenees tunnel between France and Spain tomorrow.

Newspapers here show interest in the maneuvers, the first to be held within but a few miles of the French frontier.

It is believed here that the army concentration may be due partly to a desire gracefully to provide heavy guards for the king in view of recent revolutionary activity in Spain

Special trains left Barcelona carrying mountain infantry and three batteries of mountain artillery. Other trains are bringing mountain troops from Granollers and Manresa, while Alfonso's own mountain battery is ready to leave Urgel garrison for Sierre Des Cadi. All the troops will remain in the Pyrenees until August 9.

LESS YOUNG PEOPLE NOW

In 1870 there were 7,700,000 persons between the ages of 15 and 25, while there were 2,000,000 persons between 50 and 59. In 1920 there were 18,600,000 persons in the former group and 8,200,000 in the latter group, showing an 18 per cent. decline in the younger generation.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $3

Enclosed find $..........
for ..... months / weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

ATTENTION

Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Women's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.

You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the
FREIHEIT
PICNIC
SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn

Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

NASH MOTOR COMPANY SANDERS GO ON STRIKE WHEN BOSSES REFUSE TO RAISE YELLOW CAR RATES

KENOSHA, Wis. ((By Mail).—[illegible] workers who went on strike [illegible] at the Nash Motor Company were organized to conduct a [illegible] struggle by a representative of the Young Workers' (Communist) League, Sam Herman. An executive committee was elected to represent the strikers and picket lines were established to call out other workers.

The workers on strike are sanders and get paid on a piece work basis, $2.25 for sandpapering blue and yellow cars and $2.65 for green bodies. The strike occurred because the bosses refused to raise the rate paid for yellow car bodies, which are extremely difficult to work on.

Although the work requires great skill, the average pay of a skilled sander is between 60 and 75 cents per hour. The men were working an average of ten to eleven hours per day.

Special efforts are being made to call out the polishers and make the strike tie-up production just when the open-shop Nash Motor Company is concentrating all its energies in getting out a vast number of cars to meet the demands for its new model cars.

Efforts will also be made to bring to the attention of the officialdom of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, who will meet in annual convention in Kenosha, the task of organizing the Nash workers into a union and supporting the strike. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, is scheduled to be present at the convention.

The strikers are in high spirit and are willing to fight on for their demands. They welcome the fighting DAILY WORKER and look forward to much help from it in their struggle.

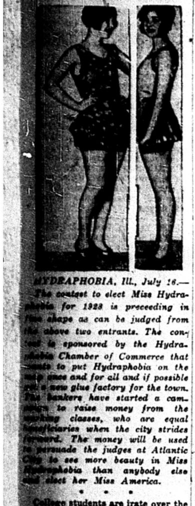
H. A. S.

HANDOUTS

Ford has offered to Fordize Hungary and Bulgaria. It could hardly be done. There aren't enough drug stores in these countries to carry Ford parts. Nor are there enough [illegible] to carry away the workers when they quit at 6 p. m.

• • •

Miss Hydraphobia?



HYDRAPHOBIA, Ill., July 16.—The contest to elect Miss Hydraphobia for 1928 is preceeding in fine shape as can be judged from the above two entrants. The contest is sponsored by the Hydraphobia Chamber of Commerce that wants to put Hydraphobia on the map once and for all and if possible get a new glue factory for the town. The bankers have started a campaign to raise money from the working classes, who are equal beneficiaries when the city strides forward. The money will be used to persuade the judges at Atlantic City to see more beauty in Miss Hydraphobia than anybody else and elect her Miss America.

• • •

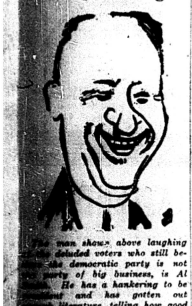
College students are irate over the announcement of the International Association of Clothing Designers that students are no longer leaders in the world of fashion. Who wouldn't be irritated on being criticised in his main field of usefulness.

• • •

The well known presidential infant, Cal Coolidge, was told the story of Jonah and the whale by the [illegible] preacher at Brule. He then played a while on his hobby horse, was given a new diaper and put to bed.

• • •

He Ought to Laugh



The man shown above laughing at the deluded voters who still believe the democratic party is not the party of big business, is Al Smith. He has a hankering to be president and has gotten out [illegible] literature, telling how good he is to fill all the ash cans from [illegible] to Key West. The money for this has been provided by his friend Bill Kenney, contractor, who has made several fortunes on city and state graft and wants to [illegible] up his business on a national [illegible]. In one of his leaflets Al Smith, speaking of the time he was a N. Y. state assemblyman in 1903, says: "I thought I would never get the hang of it. And then I made up my mind I'd stay and I'd learn about it." He learned all about Tammany Hall of which he is the head is the most efficient [illegible] in corruption the world has ever known.

• • •

[illegible] of Learning

[illegible] Walter E. Schuette, president [illegible] Eastern District of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of [illegible], "Now, the question legitimately arises: 'How can a man truly [illegible] that God did not spare His [illegible], that God brought the supreme sacrifice at Calvary, while [illegible] that God is [illegible] or unwilling to take [illegible] in the minor concerns [illegible] earthly life.'" If the boss [illegible] drinking water leave [illegible]. He will speak to him [illegible].

"Philadelphia Textile Workers, Join Mill Committee!" Urges Correspondent

CALL NATIONAL CONVENTION TO MEET IN FALL

A. F. L. Record Shows Consistent Betrayal

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA (By Mail).—At the present time, the textile workers are faced with wage cuts, speed-up, unemployment, and a vicious open-shop offensive of the employers. The tapestry carpet weavers in Philadelphia received a 15 per cent. cut in wages. A few months ago, the Wilton carpet workers were handed a 10 per cent. reduction in wages by the well organized association of carpet manufacturers of Philadelphia. The hosiery workers have seen similar cuts in their pay envelopes. All through the industry the workers are receiving a starvation wage, working two, three and four days a week. But the greed for profits of the bosses knows no bounds. Knowing that nine-tenths of the textile workers are unorganized, and that the one-tenth that are organized are led by trade union officials who have no intention of carrying on a struggle against the tixtile barons, the mill owners carry on their attack upon the standards of licing of the workers without check.

A. F. of L. Fakers Do Nothing.

In the face of this situation, the labor fakers of the A. F. of L., the United Textile Workers of America, have done absolutely nothing to organize the textile workers for struggle against the attack of the bosses. The policy of these officials is to crawl before the mill owners, to "co-operate" with them, to speed up the workers more, and serve as the efficiency agents of the employers for producing more profits, and thereby gaining the friendship of the mill barons, and the support of their own group interests.

On April 28 and 29, the United Textile Workers' officials had a conference in Knitters' Hall to discuss a "Remedy for the Textile Industry." At this conference the officialdom of the United Textile Workers received enthusiastically Mayor Mackey, who has helped the employers to effectively smash the strike of the Fetterolf carpet workers, and Mr. Blum, the representative of the Textile Manufacturers' Association. The "remedy" arrived at by these labor misleaders was to elect a committee to co-operate with the bosses, and jointly to work for a higher tariff on upholstery fabrics.

Not a word was mentioned by these good friends of the employers about organizing the 80,000 unorganized textile workers of Philadelphia. Not a word was mentioned about fighting the speed-up, or fighting for a shorter work-week, a 40-hour week, in order to mitigate the unemployment situation. Not a word was mentioned about unemployment relief. Not a word was mentioned about leading the workers in a mass struggle against the mill barons as the only remedy for the textile industry. No! The reactionary leaders of the United Textile Workers dare openly to talk of co-operation with the same gang of cut-throat capitalists, who have fired out workers wholesale from their mills for daring to join a union and fight against wage cuts.

Wilton Carpet Men Organized.

When the wage cut of 10 per cent. was imposed on the Wilton carpet workers of Philadelphia a few months ago, the carpet workers immediately began to organize, determined to make a fight against the cut. By a general strike of the 5,000 Wilton carpet workers of Philadelphia, and a determined, militant mass struggle, the carpet mills could be closed, the attack of the employers could be beaten back.

The misleaders of the United Textile Workers of America on the contrary, worked frantically to prevent any wide-spread struggle. Sporadic and spontaneous strikes of the creeler boys in Hardwick and Magees, and in Holmes were beaten back. An isolated little strike in the Develin carpet mill was broken with the aid of the police. No steps were taken to call out the workers for an organized struggle against the wage cut.

The Wilton Carpet Manufacturers' Association then stepped in, and provoked a strike in the carpet plant of Fetteroff, the president of the association, by firing all the workers who had joined the union. The betrayal and mismanagement of this strike by the UTW officials is a painful story. Entirely insufficient relief was raised. The strike, conducted in a mill with only 125 workers, and with the employer backed up by the whole manufacturers' association, could only be won by a mass struggle. The UTW leadership exerted all its pressure to keep the workers in the other mills from coming out. When the injunction was issued against the picketing of the mill, the UTW leadership crawled before the strike-breaking court and boasted how peacefully and respectably they conducted their strike. No attempt was made to defy the injunction and to picket the mill with hundreds of workers, in spite of Judge McDevitt, the police, and the whole strike-breaking city administration of Philadelphia.

Carpet workers of Philadelphia! Join the Textile Mills Committee! Organize into a powerful, fighting organization that will organize all the textile workers, and conduct a mass struggle against the wage cutting attempts of the mill operators.

The Textile Mills Committee is organizing a new National Textile Workers' Union in September. Already, the 28,000 striking textile workers of New Bedford are behind the militant program of the Textile Mills Committee. The Textile Mills Committee of New Bedford is setting a splendid example to all the textile workers how to conduct a militant struggle against the wage cuts, against the attack of the employers, against the injunctions, and the use of the police and State troops against the workers. Twenty thousand workers stand on the picket lines of the New Bedford mills, and shout and sing their defiance of the mill operators and their police and injunctions.

Join Mill Committees.

Thousands of workers in Fall River are joining the Textile Mills Committees. All over the country the textile workers see that in this new National Textile Workers' Union is the force that will organize all the textile workers, that is organizing the textile workers on industrial, and not on craft lines, that is leading the workers in mass struggle against wage cuts, against the speed-up system, against unemployment, against the nine and ten-hour day, and the long work-week.

Join the Textile Mills Committee of Philadelphia. Organize a committee in every textile mill! Come to the next meeting of the Philadelphia Textile Mill Committees at Kensington Labor Lyceum, 2nd and Cambria Sts., on Thursday, July 19, at 8 P. M. Come, and bring with you other textile workers. P.A.

Still Going After Sixty Years

[illegible] in search of gold, Dad Gene Howell retraced his steps in the same wagon to visit his son in Ft. Wayne, Ind. Photo shows Howell, his wife and two daughters, with this picturesque vehicle of pioneer days.

UNEMPLOYED ARMIES SEEK WORK IN VAIN

CHICAGO, July 17 (UP).—The harvest call from the wheat fields of the southwest and the northwest no longer beckons to the human driftwood—that endless army of unemployed—that moves back and forth through West Madison street in Chicago.

Things were different years ago, but time has wrought many changes. Modern harvest equipment has met the demand, in part, for seasonal labor in the wheat fields of Kansas and Oklahoma in the southwest and the Dakotas in the northwest.

"I remember back about 15 years ago," J. E. Tonoff, manager of the Atlantic Employment Agency, told the United Press today. "We would send carloads of men to the harvest fields daily at this season of the year.

Scrapped By Capitalism.

"You wouldn't see those crowds of men looking for work," he said, as he pointed to groups of idle men lined along the curb outside. "Machinery has taken the place of men and we have no more appeals for harvest hands from the wheat fields.

"Years ago, the men would go from here first to Kansas, then Oklahoma, double back and go to the Dakota fields about September. When the northwest harvest was completed many would move into Canada in the fall."

Madison and Canal streets, "employment row," offers a pitiful study of the unfortunates.

'FREEDOM' IS NIL REPORT SHOWS

Workers Party Most Repressed

Talk all you please—so long as you don't say anything. This is freedom in the United States in 1927 as summarized in the American Civil Liberties Union's annual report.

American Legionnaires led in agencies of intolerance, scoring hits from 19 civil liberties observers to 16 by the Ku Klux Klan, 10 by the Fundamentalists and 9 by the D. A. R. Public officials, as usual were the most active agents of repression.

Repression Strengthened.

"All the instruments of repression remain not only unchanged," the Union warns, "but they have been strengthened the last year by decisions of the U. S. supreme court notably the cases sustaining the criminal syndicalism laws."

"Wherever labor is militant or radicals active, the forces of suppression are aroused," the report adds. "The record for the year 1927—a condition that continues into 1928—clearly shows it. The Workers Party as the most active radical political organization gets the brunt of the attack. So do strikers everywhere—in the Colorado coal fields under I. W. W. leadership; in Pennsylvania and Ohio under the United Mine Workers leadership; in the textile towns under the United Textile Workers."

KRESGE STORES PAY $1.25 A DAY

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH (By Mail)—I have just been working in the Kresge store in Alliance the last two Saturdays for the munificent sum of $1.25 for eight hours' work.

My room-mate, a young girl and a good clerk, has been working for them for the last three years and she receives only $13.00 per week. It is a hot, sweltering store in which we must work. And no one is permitted to sit down. There is a cranky manager who drives one on lest one allow a sale to slip by.

This poor girl has a young girl for whom she must provide. Besides, she must keep up a house at the same time.

But this is Kresge's exploitation store. The owners don't care how any of its workers suffer so long as Kresge makes his profits.

YOUNG WORKER CORRESPONDENT.

2 Get 25-Year Terms For 23-Cent Holdup

BEDFORD, Ia., July 17.—For holding up two young men from whom they obtained 23 cents, two men, who gave their names as Arley Dewitt and George Randle, of Sterling, N. D., were sentenced here yesterday to terms of 25 years' imprisonment

POLICE ARREST 5 PHILADELPHIA CLOAK WORKERS

Their Crime Giving Out Handbills

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, (By Mail).—A new kind of crime was discovered today by some of the petty police officials.

This crime is called "agitation."

Their "Crime."

At seven o'clock Friday morning Ida Palitaglia, assisted by four men comrades, stationed herself with them near some clothing factories in the heart of the city and distributed circulars to clothing workers on their way to work. These circulars merely advised the clothing workers to join the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union and told them the advantages of belonging to a union.

Distributing circulars is a legal act in the city of Philadelphia.

So Harry Kruss, employe of a private detective agency and also a deputy constable (a petty municipal police job), was temporarily nonplussed. However, Kruss is a faithful lackey of his masters and he soon devised a scheme whereby he could legalize the arrests.

Arrested 5 Union Workers.

So he at once arrested the five union workers, with the aid of other policemen and had them charged in court with the heinous crime of "agitation."

It is a case of this kind which makes it the duty of every class-conscious worker to join the International Labor Defense, and fight for what few,—and in Philadelphia the "cradle of liberty," there are very few indeed,—legal rights yet remain.

Cases of this sort show clearly to what depths American capitalist "democracy" has sunk.

—C. RABIN.

WEISBORD STILL HELD UNDER BAIL

Other Passaic Cases Are Dropped

Cases against all strikers in the memorable Passaic woolen mills strike of 1926 have been dismissed, save that against Albert Weisbord, strike leader.

Exorbitant bail demands and police brutality marked the Passaic strike. At one time $455,000 bail was required for 11 strikers. Weisbord was originally held under $30,000 bonds. Chief Richard Zober, whose brutal handling of strikers was responsible for the Civil Liberties Union's intervention, was later discredited and dismissed from office for possession of stolen automobiles

Weisbord is still held under $5,000 bail because of political pressure.

Weavers Win Strike After 3 Week Strike

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 17.—After a three weeks' strike here the 46 unorganized weavers of the Hoosac mills won a readjustment in their piece rates. The transfer from caring for one fine loom and one coarse loom each to two coarse locms on coarse goods, made the weavers lose from $3 to $5 per week and was the cause of the strike.

While the strike was going on the bosses sought to break it by sending their material out of town to another one of their shops at Lawrence.

New Type of Stage Lighting Adopted by Vaudeville Circuit

H. H. STOLL, of the Keith-Albee-Orphem Circuit, has developed a new system of stage lighting that is to be put in use throughout the country as soon as the work of installation will allow. The present type of lighting as used in border and footlights generally is known as "Floodlighting." The light floods out over a wide range and each fixture is wired for three or four circuits of a given wattage. Each circuit is lamped with a given color or a color filter is used in front of each lamp. This restricts the use of each circuit to the present color does not permit of focussing and only reflects a small portion of the total light.

To overcome this condition, Stoll has created a new type of lighting known as the "Kliegle-Stoll" System. This is an arrangement whereby each lamp is placed in a spotlight hood with reflector and condensing lense, in front of which is operated a color change of as many colors as desired. These colors are operated automatically from a remote point at the stage switchboard This device is so arranged that all lamps can be used for all colors and it is possible to get eleven combinations of colors from four primary filters. The beam can be changed from spot to a flood by a reflector condenser system. It is entirely remote and is automatic in control The Hall and Connolly spotlight which Stoll also developed, is now used in general by the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Circuit projection department.

SIGMUND ROMBERG'S 25TH PROUCTION

With the production of "The New Moon," which Schwab and Mandel will place in rehearsal shortly, Sigmund Romberg, the composer, sees his 25th show reach the stage. When Romberg came here from Vienna some seventeen years ago he commenced writing waltzes and then popular ragtime before he found an opportunity to compose the music for several revues. His first operetta was "Maytime," a huge success, and among other musical plays and comedies from his pen are "The Midnight Girl," "The Blue Paradise," "My Lady's Glove," "Marjorie," "The Dream Girl," "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time," "My Maryland," "The Desert Song," "My Princess," "The Love Call" and "Rosalie," to say nothing of a half dozen Winter Garden productions.

AUTO RACER MAY LIVE.

DETROIT, Mich., July 17 (UP).—George Souders, who was hurtled into the inner rail when his car overturned at the 100 miles Knights Templar race yesterday, is still unconscious but his condition is improved and he will probably live, Dr. D. D. Stone of Highland Park Hospital said this today.

IN "GRAND STREET FOLLIES"

Jean Crittenden who plays one of the chief roles in "The Grand Street Follies," the clever satirical revue at the Booth Theatre.

Morgan Steel Rises To Record Heights

PITTSBURGH, July 17 (UP). The Carnegie Steel Company announced today the advancement in prices of bars, plates and shapes the basic steel products, $2.00 per ton. The previous prices were $1.90 per hundred.

The advance in prices becomes effective for all fourth quarter business and represents the largest increase announced by the company in a number of years. Recent price advances have been $1 per ton.

POOR FARMERS BARELY EXIST IN CALIFORNIA

Cotton Mortgaged Before Harvest

(By a Worker Correspondent)

RIPLEY, Calif., (By Mail).—Enclosed find fifty cents for the "Save The DAILY WORKER Fund." May The DAILY WORKER maintain itself until the rotten capitalist social system has tumbled in a mass of ruins.

The poor farmers, share croppers, tenants and workers out there are having a terrible time trying to survive. The cotton is already mortgaged for all that it will stand even before it is harvested.

The workers, Mexicans, Negroes and whites, are averaging less than ten days work each month at $3 per day. Many families are enjoying incomes of from $10 to 20 each month. They are the lucky ones. The majority are living on the tender mercies of the local grocer.

The American Legion is sponsoring a plan for separate schools in the Palo Verde Valley. A colored teacher is to be used to instruct the Mexicans, Negroes and the more backward white children. A mass meeting of protest is being held Sunday, June 8, with myself as the principle speaker at Blythe. We are hoping to develop a stiff opposition.

—JOHN H. OWENS.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
BATTLE OF CHATEAU-THIERRY
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
Premiere Revival Showing "STARK LOVE"
also Robert Flaherty's "MOANA" and "The Birth of Films," Charlie Chaplin's first screen test

KILLS STEPFATHER FOR PEACE

BISMARCK, Mo., July 17 (UP).—Miss Ida Biggs, 19 has confessed that she shot and killed her stepfather, William Silas Simpson, 51, "to bring peace into the family."

SANTAL MIDY
Irritable Bladder Catarrh
Soon cleared up by genuine Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless
Sold by All Druggists

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

TO ALL OUR READERS:

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS

Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.

Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....

Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

ONFERENCE FOR INERS RELIEF IN ARLEM FRIDAY

olidarity Fair Will Offer Fine Program

Pointing out that the fight of the striking miners throughout the coal areas of half a dozen states being waged in behalf of all workers, the Harlem section of the National Miners Relief Committee is calling on all workers' fraternal organizations, trade unions and benefit associations to elect delegates to a special Miners' Relief Conference to held at 347 E. 72nd St., Room 7, Friday, July 20, at 8 p. m.

Issue Appeal for Aid

"All the miners ask for," reads their conference call, in part, "is that you, fellow-workers, come to their aid and help them fight starvation and disease, injunctions and evictions, by liberally donating funds for relief, and to help their brothers and sisters lying in jail on framed-up charges by conducting drives for defense funds."

Each organization of Harlem is asked by the Harlem Miners Relief Committee to elect two delegates to represent it at the conference. The committee points out that "only by organized efforts will this work be carried through to a successful end."

Speakers From Mines

A highly interesting program is being arranged, including speakers direct from the mine-war front. The conference, coming two days before the launching of the nation-wide Miners' Relief and Defense Week, will act as an impetus to relief and defense work in Harlem. Most of this week will be devoted toward making a success of the sale of tickets for the Miners Solidarity Fair of August 5, to be conducted by the National Miners Relief Committee at Pleasant Bay Park, and to include a program which for variety will exceed any other held in New York.

MALIGIN SEEKING AMUNDSEN PARTY

Krassin to Refuel and Resume Search

Continued from Page One

scientist who was left to die on the ice by the Italians, Zappi and Mariano, complained before the Italia crashed that the dirigible had been completely mismanaged, Prof. Behounek said. Malmgren was nervous and distraught, he declared, and seemed to have little confidence in the direction of General Nobile.

* * *

MOSCOW, July 17 (UP).—The Russian icebreaker Krassin steamed swiftly through northern waters today in an attempt to save the life of one of the 16 men she rescued from the ice of the north.

Captain Adalberto Mariano, taken off an icefloe near Foyn Island, was reported in a serious condition. One leg was badly frozen while he, Captain Filippo Zappi and Finn Malmgren, who was not rescued, attempted to walk to aid.

Condition Critical

It was reported today that gangrene had set in and that Mariano's condition was critical.

As soon as Mariano has been transferred from the Krassin the big icebreaker—which now has been listed as one of the greatest mercy ships in modern history—will continue on to Advent Bay with the other 15 men she rescued from what appeared to be an almost inevitable death in the desolate, icebound north.

To Refuel

After the Krassin disembarks her rescued men the icebreaker will refuel, Chukhnovsky's plane will be reconditioned—it was damaged when he made a forced northern landing due to the fog—and then the Krassin will start out to hunt 12 other men lost in the Arctic. These groups include the Roald Amundsen party of six and the six men of the Italia who floated away with the envelope of that craft.

Chukhnovsky will attempt several reconnoitering flights from the Krassin through the territory in which it is considered likely the 12 men might now be awaiting rescue.

FOOD BOSS GETS BIG "WELCOME"

Continued from Page One

refused to discuss the strike with the committee, though Tofolosky expressed a desire for a conference with the union.

Sazor previously operated a union restaurant on Second Ave., but when the new houses were opened up near Broadway (on 38th, 40th and th Sts., he refused to continue the union agreement.

Speakers at the mass meeting Sunday were A. Bloom, Louis Riffin, Alex Sagi and Gertrude Welsh of Local 1, and Henry Sazor, left wing leader of the Capmakers' Union, brother of the restaurant owner. Henry Sazor was arrested on the picket line when he walked with the strikers to protest against his brother's refusal to recognize the union.

Exploiters Find Indians Useful as Local Color in Publicity Stunt

Having stolen the land away from the Indians and made them virtual serfs, the white exploiters are not at all adverse to using them as local color, especially for publicity purposes. Photo shows Indians from the Yellowstone camped in Minnehaha Falls Park, once the favorite haunt of the Sioux braves. The show was arranged by the Minneapolis Rotary Club.

GEN. OBREGON IS ASSASSINATED

Mexican President Is Killed By Officer

Continued from Page One

who had made a portrait of Col. Ricardo Topete, one of Obregon's aids.

The assassin-artist posed the president for a sketch, then drew a revolver and shot him five times in the back.

Obregon's headquarters here announced that the president elect had died instantly.

The shooting occurred at 2:20 p. m.

Police and military threw a cordon around the center of the city.

President Calles is said to have entered San Angel and gone directly to interrogate the alleged assassin, said to be a captain in the Mexican army.

A man, known only as "Juan," was arrested as the alleged assassin. Several hours after the crime no details were available, owing to the great confusion.

The shooting occurred in a restaurant known as the "Bombilla" within the town of San Angel. A few political friends of the president-elect were giving him a luncheon.

President Calles, when notified of the assassination, started immediately for San Angel, accompanied by immediate members of his staff.

Obregon had come from his farm in Sonora to hold a demonstration here where he expected to entertain ten thousand of his supporters at a dinner.

A train bearing 500 of his adherents enroute to the capital was attacked yesterday but there were no casualties.

Obregon was to have assumed office December 1 and he had announced that he would continue the policies of President Calles—including the religious regulations of the government.

The president-elect held that the Catholic clergy had obstructed the revolutionary program of his former administration and of President Calles.

Obregon came to the presidency of the Mexican republic in 1920 over a series of bloody battlefields, with the realization that in ten years of actual presidents since the dictatorship of Porfiro Diaz two had been murdered, one had died and one was an exile in foreign lands.

However, the general remained in power until in 1924 he was succeeded by Calles—and the four years of his reign was for the most part peaceful.

Obregon was born in Siquisiva, Sonora, Feb. 19, 1880, the youngest of a family of 20 children.

At his death today he was reported to be a millionaire, most of the fortune made by a monopoly on the bean crop in northern Mexico.

Obregon took to arms when news came of the assassination of President Madero. He became a brigade commander in Carranza's army where he won one of the most important battles of his career, leading the advance on Nogales.

Later, at Celayo, he brought the military career of the bandit Pancho Villa almost to an end.

The "chick pea" farmer became minister of war while Carranza was serving as provisional president but upon the latter's election as President Obregon retired from office—breaking with Carranza. In 1918 Obregon announced he would oppose Carranza at the next election.

The manner of his succession was typical of many Mexican administrations. Carranza fleeing the capital and Obregon entering with his troops.

Obregon had just been elected president in seeming violent opposition to the landlords and clericals who centered around the Catholic church. Recently a rapid change toward support of the church and of United States imperialism appears to have been brought about by the influence of U. S. Ambassador Morrow, former partner of J. P. Morgan, the Wall Street financier.

Sharp repressions of the Mexican working class followed.

AGED WOMEN KILLED.

KEENE, N. H., July 17 (UP).—Three elderly women were crushed to death today when the closed automobile in which they were riding was demolished by a railroad train on a blind crossing at Harrisville. The dead are: Mrs. Etta E. Pearson, 69, of Keene; Mrs. Ellen C. Baker, 74, of Keene; Miss Mary L. McCrills, 64, of Haverhill, Mass.

YANKS WIN 5TH IN ROW; GIANTS BOW TO REDS

(By United Press)

The New York Yankees continued their campaign against Cleveland yesterday, winning the fifth straight game from the indians, 4 to 2. Cleveland got 11 hits off Al Shealy, but the Yankee rookie got his revenge by hitting a home run in the second inning. George Uhle, Cleveland ace, also was hit freely.

Lefty Grove, although touched for 10 hits, managed to weather through nine innings and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated Detroit, 6 to 2, in a listless game. Holloway and Smith gave the Athletics 11 hits.

* * *

Adolfo Luque proved too much for New York and the Giants fell into third place by losing to Cincinnati. 4 to 5. The Reds got four runs off Bill Walker in the opening inning and continued to bombard Aldridge and Faulkner.

The St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead by taking an easy game from Brooklyn, 7 to 1. Manager Wilbert Robinson sent Dazzy Vance against the league-leaders, but the Dazzler was relieved by Jumbo Elliott after the Cards got four runs off him in the fifth inning. Haines gave the Dodgers only 7 hits.

YESTERDAY'S SCORES.

American League.

New York 4, Cleveland 2.
Philadelphia 6, Detroit 2.
St. Louis 5, Washington 0.
Boston 9, Chicago 6.

National League.

Cincinnati 5, New York 4.
St. Louis 7, Brooklyn 1.
Pittsburgh 7, Boston 6.
Chicago 4, Philadelphia 3.

BIG LABOR SPORTS MEET IN NEW YORK AUG. 25-26

(Labor Sports Press Service.)

With one of the best athletic grounds in the vicinity of New York secured, and clubs all over the country already pouring in entries, the Labor Sports Union second annual national track and field meet Aug. 25-26 promises to far surpass last year's meet, which was held in Waukegan and drew around 250 athletes. From all indications this meet in New York will have more than 600 participants. In addition to all the regulation track and field events, there will be soccer games, furnished by several of the championship teams of the Metropolitan Workers League, gymnastic exercises, and a mass calisthenic drill. Clubs all over the country are drilling squads of their members to take part in this mass drill, and it is expected that at least 300 to 400 athletes in all will be in this event.

In order to assure large delegations from the middle western states, a special train is being contracted for this purpose.

The meet is not confined only to regular members of the Labor Sports Union, but is open to all worker athletes who are not members of the A. A. U. clubs, and who are members of a workers' organization. A special invitation is being extended to athletes who are members of trade unions.

CHINA SEAMEN SEIZE U. S. SHIP

Continued from Page One

to defy their officers, armed themselves and became masters of the boat.

Rush Military.

But the Venezuela's captain had been able to radio to the mainland for armed aid from the authorities ashore. Armed coast guardsmen were rushed to the Venezuela from coast guard base 11 at San Francisco. Their superior numbers and weapons enabled them to herd the Chinese seamen below and later to transfer them to the United States vessel, President Harrison where they are shackled and will be held for sure frame-up and vengeance of the ship-owners through criminal prosecution.

CONCERT TO BE DEMONSTRATION

Workers Will Honor Soviet Union

Continued from Page One

pression and under conditions which make for the best possible results.

Prof. Theremin will appear on Saturday night in a program which will afford the vast throng of 25,000 workers that is expected ample opportunity to observe all the beauties of this new ether-music and its infinite possibilities.

Much has already been said concerning the excellence of the Arnold Volpe Symphony Orchestra and the Roxy Ballet. They will be found to be worthy co-artists of Prof. Theremin.

Tickets for the great concert are on sale at the office of The DAILY WORKER, 26-27 Union Square. Buy them now.

Tag Days For Fund Start In August

The first National tag days to help raise the $100,000 Workers (Communist) Party Campaign Fund will be held during the week of August 19-25. The National Campaign Headquarters has urged all party organizations to immediately begin their preparations for active participation in the work.

WORKERS GET INCREASE

TORONTO, Ont., July 17. (UP).—The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board has raised the wages of employes of the Hamilton Street Railway to 52 cents an hour.

BISCUIT COMPANY PAYS LOW WAGES WORKER REVEALS

Correspondent Tells Of Miserable Conditions

Continued from Page One

we do. Two years ago we were promised a two-dollar raise. Other departments somehow managed then to get a one dollar raise. We are still waiting for ours. Once I happened to stand near Mr. Kloper when a young worker asked him for a raise. Mr. Kloper said, "You know, young man, that the wages you make are too high as it is. We're going to cut wages soon, and if you don't like it, you'd better look for another job."

This is the sort of an answer a worker gets if he is not organized into a union. If we had a strong union, then that worker wouldn't have had to go to ask for a raise as an individual. He'd have an organization behind him, and his demands would have to be met, or else the company would soon find itself in plenty of trouble.

"Daily" Only Workers Paper.

Many times before this I wanted to express myself about our troubles poor conditions and low wages, but never had the chance. Last week a man offered me a DAILY WORKER free. He was distributing a lot of copies to all of us workers. I took it home, read the letter that another one of us workers wrote in to The DAILY WORKER, and so am writing this myself now. The DAILY WORKER is the only paper a worker can express himself in, and the only paper which will help the workers to organize. I will buy The DAILY WORKER every day at the news-stands.

Before I close, I think there should be an Italian and a Spanish speaker at the open-air meeting next week, because a good many of the workers are Italians and Spaniards and cannot understand English so very well. —B. M.

Unemployed Will Meet Tomorrow In Brooklyn

Hundreds of unemployed workers of Greater New York will meet tomorrow evening at 8:30 p. m. at 154 Watkins St., Brooklyn, at a huge Unemployment Conference held under the auspices of the Provisional Committee of the Unemployment Council.

Workers Party Activities

Unit 6F.

Unit 6F will meet today at 6 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St. Campaign and industrial work will be taken up. Furriers are excused so that they can attend their mass meeting.

Joint Industrial Conference of Sections 2 & 3.

A joint industrial conference of Sections 2 and 3 will be held on Tuesday, July 24, 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All unit and subsection industrial organizers as well as representatives of the leading committees of the Party fractions of the I. L. G. W. U. Furriers, Millinery, Fancy Leather Goods and Office Workers must attend. A district representative will be present.

Night Workers Tomorrow.

Night Workers Branch will meet today at 3 o'clock at Workers Center, 6th floor. Continuation of last week's lecture will take place.

Section 5 Agitprop.

Section 5 (Bronx) will hold a section agitprop campaign conference tomorrow evening at 8 p. m. at 2075 Clinton Ave. All unit agitprops, DAILY WORKER agents, literature agents, as well as all campaign committees of each unit and of the Section Executive Committee must attend. All aspects of the campaign, as well as the question of the reading circles will be considered.

Unit 3E 2F.

Unit 3E 2F will meet today at 6:15 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St.

Section 7.

Section 7 will hold a membership meeting today at 8 p. m. at 764 40th St., Brooklyn.

* * *

The Executive Committee of the Working Women's Federation will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. sharp, at the Labor Temple 14th St. and Second Ave. in Room 32.

* * *

All Section Campaign managers must hand in reports on signatures and get material needed at the district office on Thursdays of every week.

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

* * *

The District Women's Committee will meet this evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Workers Center, 26 Union Square.

special meeting tonight at 143 East 103rd St. The necessity of preparations to make the I. L. D. outing a success will be discussed. A prominent speaker will talk.

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

Workers School Outing.

All comrades interested in soccer or swimming or both are invited to attend the Workers School Sport Outing on Sunday, July 22. We meet at 242nd Street subway station, Van Cortlandt Park at 8:30 sharp.

Young Workers Social Culture Club.

A membership meeting of Young Workers Social Club will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. at 118 Bristol St. near Pitkin Ave., B'klyn.

Volunteers For I. L. D.

Volunteers are wanted at the National Office of the International Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 402, anytime between 9:30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

* * *

Council 2 will hear a lecture this evening at 8:30 p. m. at 1400 Boston Road, Bronx. The subject to be discussed will be the election campaign. Lecturer will be announced.

* * *

Workers Culture.

The Workers Culture Club of Bath Beach will have an Outing Sunday, July 22nd, 9 a. m. at 1940 Benson Ave.

* * *

An outing will be held on Saturday, July 21, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

ROME, July 17 (P).—Several deaths occurred today from heat that is causing suffering throughout the country. The temperature at Florence today was 104.

Labor and Fraternal

Harlem I. L. D. Meet.

The Harlem Branch of the International Labor Defense will hold a

MOBILIZE FORCES IN DISTRICT TWO FOR 'PARTY DAYS'

Anti-War Demonstration Is Planned

Continued from Page One

which all the comrades, from the highest functionary to the rank and file, are required to report to their units and discuss the major party campaigns.

"Many of our comrades are engaged in activities in the unions and Party auxiliary organizations which take a great deal of their time and energy and fail, on this account, to attend to Party units.

"On these Party Days we call upon every Party member to attend his unit meeting without fail. The names of all Party members who fail to attend the Party Day meeting will be referred to the district office."

Labor Defense Outing Date to Be Announced

The annual outing of the New York Section of the International Labor Defense, which was to have been held Saturday in Pleasant Bay Park, has been postponed because of a conflict in date with the concert at Coney Island Stadium.

The date when the outing will be held has not yet been determined, but will be announced in the near future. All tickets bought thus far will be good for the new date.

AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 184
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3468 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

BUTCHERS' UNION
Local 174, A.M.C. & B.W. of N.A.
Office and Headquarters: Labor Temple, 243 E. 84th St., Room 12
Regular meetings every first and third Sunday, 10 A. M.
Employment Bureau open every day at 6 P. M.

ARBEITER BUND, Manhattan & Bronx; German Workers' Club.
Meets every 4th Thursday in the month at Labor Temple, 243 E. 84th St. New members accepted at regular meetings. German and English library. Sunday lectures. Social entertainments. All German speaking workers are welcome.

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

Workers Cooperative Clothiers, Inc.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2223

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

Unity Co-operators, Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Telephone Stagg 5356
Dr. J. C. HOFFER
Surgeon Dentist
287 South 5th St., near Marcy Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Proletarian prices for proletarians

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

IL LAVORATORE
RED PICNIC
Saturday, July 22nd at Zeaman Park
NORTH BERGEN, NEW JERSEY
All Features—Bowling—Rifle Targets—Amusements
ADMISSION .... 50 CENTS

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Dividends Paid From the First of July
CONSUMERS FINANCE CORPORATION
Subsidiary of the United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
6% dividends are being paid from the first day of deposit on gold bonds in denominations of $100, $300, $500 and $1,000 secured by the second mortgage of the second block of houses in the Co-operative Workers' Colony.
Offices: 69—5th Ave., New York, N. Y.
TELEPHONE: ALGONQUIN 6900.
2700 Bronx Park East (Co-operative Workers' Colony)

International Outing
To Aid Class War Prisoners and Their Families
SATURDAY, JULY 21st, 1928.
PLEASANT BAY PARK, BRONX.
ATHLETICS—JAZZ BAND—OPEN AIR DANCING
GAMES—TORCH LIGHT PARADE—MASS SCENE—REFRESHMENTS.
Movies Will Be Taken at the Park.
Admission 35 cents
Auspices: International Labor Defense New York Section
DIRECTIONS: Take Bronx Park Subway or L to 177th St., then take Union Port Car to end of line. Free busses to park.
TICKETS on sale at: Workers' Center and I.L.D., Room 422, 799 Broadway.

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor..................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!

For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Ask Al—He Knows

If there are any honest members of the working class still left in the socialist party they should read carefully the document sent out by "their" party demanding from Al Smith an investigation of the administration of Jimmie Walker. In this set of charges against the Wall Street henchmen operating in the city, there is exposed—without the formality of an investigation—all that has been said by the Communists about the so-called socialist party.

It is not necessary here to elaborate on the utterly treacherous notion which the socialist petition intentionally conveys, the illusion that the workers have anything to gain from "investigations" into capitalism by the henchmen, who are paid to do the bidding of their masters. No need accuse the socialists of having had in view any gain for the workers. Besides they would, no doubt, declare that the move is intended merely as a vote-catching maneuver.

The five-cent fare, the symbol of popular government, seems doomed, the socialists charge. The symbol of popular government!

Let the socialists explain to the workers just what they mean when in 1928 they speak of the popular government, which they declare Jimmie Walker is desecrating.

When the socialist party waxes indignant over the Queens sewer graft scandal, it is because "sixteen millions of dollars have been mulcted from Queens taxpayers," and their concern becomes never so acute as when they fear that "the Tammany administration has granted valuable franchises to the Equitable Bus Company, revealed as a corporation without capital." The half million unemployed workers in New York will no doubt share this deep concern.

Not a word in the charges against the Tammany administration for its strike-breaking activities against practically every strike which the workers have fought in the city. No mention of the Tammany gangster police attack on the traction workers, against the teamsters, and, of course, no criticism of the Tammany methods against the needle trades workers. The New York socialist party leaders are too grateful to their police partners in the sordid crimes of strikebreaking during the past two or three years.

This is indeed a remarkably illuminating document which the socialists have put forth to catch the votes of the dissatisfied little shop keepers squirming under the increasing pressure of the big business nether and upper mill stones, and to catch such workers only who are not class-conscious, but think with the minds of the petty shop keepers. And to prove that it is not the workers whom the socialists mean to enlist in their campaign, their petition to Al Smith, idol of the Morgans and duPonts, ends by calling upon the "upright citizens of New York City" to join with them in the great crusade to make this a town fit for little lawyers, little merchants, little politicians, to live in.

The working class has nothing to expect of the socialist party, except further strike-breaking and continued sabotage of the labor movement, while spreading illusions in support of capitalist "Al Smith" democracy.

Workers, join your own class party. It is the Workers (Communist) Party, section of the Communist International.

And vote Communist.

That's What "Arbitrators" Are

Whatever the hardships of the struggle of the workers today in this imperialist country, no one can say that the events of the struggle are not interesting. Alvan T. Fuller, governor of Massachusetts, but better known to the workers of the entire world as the murderer of Sacco and Vanzetti, is seriously put forward as "arbitrator" of the strike of 28,000 heroic textile workers of New Bedford.

This little joke of history ought to provoke much thought among the textile workers and among the members of the whole working class. This is not just a joke. Nor is it an accident that the bourgeoisie put forward a classic hangman of the working class as a symbol of the "impartiality" of the State, as an instrument with which they pretend to reconcile the struggling classes.

Fuller, who lied and swindled in a score of ways in pretending to investigate the Sacco-Vanzetti case only to allay the suspicions of the working class, while the electrocution proceeded with swift certainty, is an excellent example of the nature of an arbitrator between capital and labor. That's what "arbitrators" are—hangmen in disguise.

The 28,000 textile workers are fortunate in the clumsiness of the stoggy Massachusetts mill barons who knew no better than to put forward a transparent fraud.

Try again, Old Man Butler. Seek out as your swindling "arbitrator" one who is a slicker scoundrel than the threadbare Fuller. Try to find a sleek "friend of labor" to put over the fraud of "arbitrating" the textile workers into defeat.

But the textile workers must learn not to fall for the next "arbitrator," either. Continue the picket line. That is what is winning the fight. The mill barons are trying to lure attention from just this point of pressure. Stick to your picket line.

The Steel Trust Enslaves Its Workers

By LOUIS SISELMAN.

Poverty and misery prevails in the region where the steel trust has spread its rule, as well as in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Duquesne, Pennsylvania, is a striking example.

When one crosses the McKeesport Bridge over the Monongahela River he can see the big steel chimneys of the steel mills, which cloud the town with heavy black smoke. The streets are narrow and dirty, bricks are torn up, on the broken porches of the old company houses the workers tired from a hard day's toil, sit in their working clothes and inhale the thick clouds of smoke which come from the steel chimneys and from the locomotives which run down the main street. There are countless numbers of churches and barber shops here. The churches serve as detective bureau, and each barber shop as a saloon.

Where the Rich Live.

In another part of the town there is a high hill. There you can see fine houses with beautiful shrubbery. Silence there is; no noise of the mills is heard; there is no smoke, the air is clear. In these houses music is played, the Black Bottom is danced; thru the windows one sees valuable furniture and ornaments. Alongside the houses stand expensive automobiles.

Look from the hill down towards the hovels where the workers live. Hell is there incarnate.

On the hill the bootleggers, the priests and the mill foremen live.

There is only one mill in town employing over seven thousand workers. The mill belongs to the Carnegie Steel Corporation. Everyone before being employed must pass a physical examination, just as in the military service—the horse is tried out to see if he is strong enough. No man can get a job in the mill unless he has references from some member of the Ku Klux Klan, or a business man. He must be a member of a church and if his record in the church is doubtful, immediately he is surrounded with a squad of spies from the company who watch his every step. The spy system in the mill is beyond description. No one knows who his neighbor is.

Like Prisoners.

The workers toil under the guard of company police just like prisoners. There is a policeman in each department who watches the steel slaves. Over these policemen there is a sergeant who watches the policemen. All this does not include the whole gang of foremen and other watch-dogs that the workers are faced with. The men work ten and twelve hours a day for the starvation wage of 40c and 44c an hour. The speed-up system in the mill is fearful. All kinds of schemes are in force.

One of their schemes is to lay off some workers from a given department for a few days. When these workers return to the shop they must work double speed to catch up with the back work to supply material for other departments, as well as each day's need.

There are also many young workers employed in the mills. These young workers get 22c an hour in spite of the fact that they produce with the aid of machines just as much as the older workers.

A special club is organized in the mill for the young workers. The president of this club is one of the board of directors members and he sees to it they are given the "right education."

The work in the mill is hard, unhealthful and dangerous. Many are injured. But the government in the steel region is directed by the steel trust. They actually laugh at the so-called compensation laws which exist only on paper. When a worker is injured and remains out of the mill over 30 days because of illness, he must, on his return, pass a physical examination. In case the company doctor finds the productive power of a worker has been minimized because of his injury, he is not taken back in the mill.

An insurance system has been established in the mill under the supervision of the company. Every worker must be insured. The cost of the insurance is taken out of the worker's pay. The worker gets nothing when injured; but only when he is "killed to death." The advantages of this insurance lies in the following: First the company gets a big percentage of the insurance; secondly, the insurance payments show that the workers are willing to pay, so why have compensation laws at all?

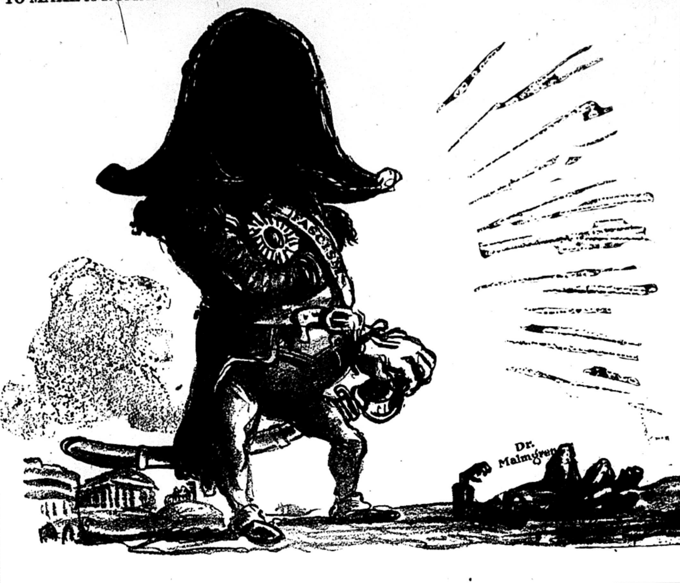
No one dares to mention any form of workers' organization in the mill. If any worker attempts it, he is immediately reported to the mill foremen.

In spite of all these chains put upon the steel slaves the steel trust feels that he is still not secure and various other means are utilized. For instance, lately it has even taken off the doors of the lavatories and company policemen watch all day long so that no papers or leaflets or anything in the form of propaganda shall be left in these lavatories. In brief, it can be said that the whole mill is a great prison and so is the town—one big prison. The despotic rule of the middle ages is nothing in comparison with the plutocratic rule of the steel trust.

(To Be Continued.)

TO MAKE A ROMAN HOLIDAY

By Fred Ellis



United States Election Laws

Framed by the Capitalists to Keep Working Class Parties Off the Ballot

(Continued.)

By JULIUS CODKIND

Right here it must be stated that in practically every state the law is so vague and indefinite and presents so many technicalities to be complied with that in an emergency the officials can always find some minor violation or technical objection through which they may at will practically rule off any candidate or list of candidates. Almost everywhere there is nothing to prevent them from so construing the law so as to prevent the candidacies of all but the two leading parties from getting on the ballot.

An excellent illustration of this was an occurrence in the state of California in 1924. The provisions of the California law are among the most difficult of any state in the country. The LaFollette third party group was fighting for a place on the California ballot. Almost at the last moment, they discovered that the law required petitions to be signed by a minimum of 36,000 voters. Within a couple of days petitions were gotten out and the necessary number of signatures was obtained. These were duly filed within the time limit given in the law.

California, however, is one of the most doubtful of the states. The candidacy of LaFollette was a menace to the republicans, who were at the time in control of the state, so they ruled that the LaFollette petitions were technically void because each petition named the whole 13 LaFollette electors. They contended that the petitions should have been so drawn as to prevent the name of each elector on a separate sheet, so that instead of signing once for all thirteen electors, as was done, each citizen should have signed thirteen times on thirteen separate sheets.

The case was taken to the state supreme court but the ruling of the officials was upheld against the LaFollette crowd in spite of a clause in the law which reads as follows:

"If on or before a date which shall be the seventy-fifth day before any primary election, there shall be filed with the secretary of state a petition signed by registered qualified electors of the state, equal in number to at least three per cent of the entire vote of the state at the last preceding November election, declaring that they represent a political party or organization the name of which shall be state therein, which party said electors desire to have participate in such primary election; such petition to be circulated, signed, and the signatures thereon of the registered electors certified to and transmitted to the secretary of state by the county clerks substantially as provided in section five of this act, for the circulation, signing, certification, and transmission of nomination papers for state officers; providing, however, that no electors or organization of electors shall assume a party name or designation which shall be so similar to the name of an existing party or organization as to mislead voters.

"This statute shall be liberally construed, so that the real will of the electors shall not be defeated by any informality to comply with all the provisions of this law."

The socialist party in a few states, and the farmer labor parties in a few other states, are recognized under the law as legal political parties. ("Legal" is here used in the sense of a party which is automatically entitled to place its candidates on the ballot. Other parties while not "legal" political parties may and do exist without being unlawful or illegal.)

The following extracts from the laws of some of the states will give a good picture of the difficulties faced by the Workers (Communist) Party in the struggle to place its candidates officially on the ballot. These must be prefaced by a few explanatory remarks.

In practically every state, a political party is legal only when it receives a certain proportion of votes in the elections. As a rule the states require from three to ten per cent of the votes.

Many states require filing fees, ranging generally from ten to one hundred dollars for each office.

In the figures here given, the number of signatures noted is the minimum required by the law. As a large number of signatures are generally voided by the state officials, at lease one-third above the minimum amount given must be furnished in every case. In California, the number of signatures thrown out is from 40 to 60 per cent.

As a general rule, signatures of voters who have participated in the primaries are not valid.

Another point that must be borne in mind is that most states do not recognize the signatures of citizens as such. One must be not only a citizen, but a registered voter.

When the following figures are considered, it must be noted that the highest vote cast by the Workers (Communist) Party in 1924 was 8244 in the state of New York.

Tasks of Party.

In the case of practically every generalization made above, there are grotesque exceptions here and there.

NEW YORK. Population 1920 census, 10,450,718. 12,000 signatures are required to place the state ticket on the ballot. These must include at least 50 valid signatures from each of 60 counties and 50 signatures from the other two counties of the state. To place its candidates for office in some of the more important sections in the city of New York, thousands of additional signatures are required of the party by the state. It must be noted that a minimum of one-half the area of the state lying north of the Erie Canal from Albany to Buffalo is a country in every respect as backward as the state of Vermont on which it borders and in which we have not even a single member-at-large. All signatures must be witnessed by a notary public. In New York state signatures cannot usually be gotten otherwise than by house to house canvas as the signatures must be obtained within and by certain residential districts. Upstate, where the object is to get only about a hundred in each county signatures can be gotten in factories or at open air meetings. This provision is general throughout practically all states but applies in most instances only to local or district candidates.

(To Be Continued.)

Fake "Farmer-Labor" Convention Ends

Politicians, Bankers, Lawyers, In Aimless Talkfest

(Continued.)

By THURBER LEWIS

A sensation was caused when the name of William Bouck of Washington, nominated with Duncan MacDonald for vice president and president in 1924 by the Federated Farmer-Labor Party in St. Paul, was placed before the convention as a running mate for Norris. David McVey, a labor man who, however, did not represent any labor organization in the convention, called Bouck a Communist. He went into his version of the Chicago and St. Paul conventions of 1924 which, he said, were completely dominated by "the Foster-Ruthenberg combine of Communists."

McVey blamed the Communists for the bad state of the farmer-labor movement. Joseph A. Poirier, assistant county attorney of Hennepin County Minnesota, representing a farmer-labor ward organization in Minneapolis, also took a lick at Bouck. He was later elected national chairman and thought this would be a good campaign speech. He said that $90,000 was spent by the Communists to control the farmer-labor movement in order to wreck it. He said Bouck, at the St. Paul convention, took orders from Foster and Ruthenberg and was, in fact a Communist. He ended his fifteen minute tirade against Bouck and the Communists and then walked promptly to the press table. There he singled out the correspondent of the Federated Press and pleaded with him not to quote him on what he had said of Bouck and the progressives.

Tactics of Faker.

The reason is plain. Progressive sentiment is strong in Minnesota. Prosecutor Poirier has political ambitions there. He wants to play with the radicals in the farmer-labor association in Minnesota and wouldn't like to have them know what he said about Bouck, who is well liked there. The speech he made against Bouck and the progressive element in Chicago helped to get him elected chairman of the farmer-labor party, which position, he thinks, will help his political fortunes in Minneapolis and Minnesota.

The only one to speak kindly of Bouck was his nominator, Alli Reed, an old populist from South Dakota. Reed was at both the Chicago and St. Paul conventions and took issue with David McVey's version of them. McVey had spoken of the Communist steam roller. Reed said the Communists were at no time in the majority. It was their strong organization and wise leadership that gave them control. "Talk about steam rollers. The worst I have ever seen was the one at the farmer-labor convention in 1920 when the farmers and other groups were completely flattened out by the labor politicians who dominated the convention," Reed said.

The fight to throw the convention to the socialist party candidates was led by McVey, Poirier and Karl Jursek. They maintained there is nothing in the farmer-labor platform that Thomas will not support. Jursek said he had been to the socialist executive meeting in Baltimore and asked Thomas if he would accept the nomination. Thomas said he would. One argument was that the socialists had a campaign fund and the farmer-laborites had none. The move, however, was vigorously opposed by old populists and monetary freaks who composed a good half of the convention. They are still living in the days of free silver and think the socialists are too radical.

Among the eighteen planks adopted as the platform are: Public ownership of natural resources and production and distribution in any industry that becomes a monopoly; equalization fee for farm relief; against child labor; against injunctions in labor disputes; recognition of Russia; old age pensions and unemployment insurance and a plank more dry than wet. On the whole, the program is sharply reminiscent of that of the socialist party.

No Labor Representation.

Save for three or four individuals who happen to be members of labor unions, there was no worker representation in the convention. There were some farmers. The convention was dominated by middle class elements. The platform shows this and it is even more strongly indicated by the delegates' choice of Norris, a lawyer, and Vereene, a wealthy cotton mill owner of Georgia, who undoubtedly employs child labor, against which there is a plank in the platform. With Poirier, a prosecuting attorney, as national chairman, Bert Martin, a lawyer of Denver, as national secretary, the picture is complete. On the executive there are some more lawyers, realtors and insurance men. Currency reformists and vaccination freaks were among the thirty-two delegates that reported.

New Basis Needed.

If the convention showed anything, it was that if a labor party is built in the next four years, it will not be on the basis of the present farmer-labor party that met at the Stevens hotel in Chicago this week. It is moribund, beyond revival and in all likelihood will never again be heard of. Two moves were made to save the remnants. One was an attempted coalition with the prohibition party which also met in Chicago. The other was the attempted fusion with the socialist party. Both moves failed. The party that ran Parley Parker Christianson for president in 1920, demurred to LaFollette in 1924 and nominated in 1928 a candidate who does not choose to run, will be ancient history in 1930.

12 Years After the Frame-Up of Tom Mooney

By WALT CARMON

WHEN Mooney and Billings were put behind prison bars the workers rose in protest. Demonstrating before the American Embassy in Petrograd, the victorious Russian workers led the way. The trade unions of Italy, Great Britain and Holland protested. Protests of labor the world over and threats of a general strike grew into a great mass movement that gained force and saved the life of Tom Mooney. This movement became infected with vain illusions of "justice" from capitalist courts, then dissipated and almost disappeared.

And Tom Mooney is still in San Quentin waiting, for twelve years now. The man of some 40-odd years looks over sixty. His hair is snow white, deep lines groove his face, which is coated with a prison pallor. And Warren Billings is still waiting within the walls of Folsom. He is thirty-five years old now—"there are deep lines in his face that usually come only in later years."

12 Years in Hell

July 27 makes twelve years of prison life for both. Twelve years within four narrow walls is eternity. In these years the two courageous men have been waiting—and thinking. "I am convinced that a broader appeal will have to be made," says Tom Mooney in his letter to the International Labor Defense. "The policy I have been following for the past five years will not bring justice to Mooney and Billings." Warren K. Billings approves. They have seen the world from a prison window for twelve years now. They have been watching the pageant of the class struggle before them and they have been thinking:

"Our appeal will largely have to be centered upon the great mass of workers, organized and unorganized, as well, that great body of liberal-minded people throughout the entire nation."

Appeals to I. L. D.

And to the International Labor Defense: "Anything you can do in this direction to help us secure some small measure of justice after twelve years of imprisonment, I will, and I am more than certain that my co-sufferer, Billings, will also appreciate any efforts put forth by your organization to bring about the desired results."

Tom Mooney and Warren Billings have spoken. And slowly but surely on the twelfth anniversary of the infamous frame-up a new movement is coming to life. The central labor bodies of Chicago, San Francisco and Milwaukee, among others, have raised their voice for Mooney and Billings. The labor press has placed this issue before thousands of other workers. The "Labor Defender," speaking for all class war prisoners, gains four thousand new readers with a Mooney-Billings issue. Meetings are being held. Picnics for defense are becoming demonstrations for Mooney and Billings. Tom Mooney's own local of the Moulders Union elects him as delegate to the Moulders' national convention held recently. In Europe, "Rote Hilfe," organ of the International Red Aid of Germany, devotes a good section to Mooney and Billings. In England and France the labor press brings it forward. In Soviet Russia, again the cry for the freedom of Mooney and Billings is raised. This is only the first giant rumble.

Coming Storm

While all this is happening the capitalist press hears the coming storm. Headlines announce "Labor in New Move to Free Mooney and Billings." In St. Louis the Post-Dispatch and even in blase New York the "World," the "Telegram" and the "Graphic" speak of the case of Mooney and Billings. On the twelfth anniversary of the entombment of two workers for life we are witnessing the beginning of a new revitalized movement for their freedom, stripped of all illusions clear visioned and girded for battle.

Twelve years ago Mooney and Billings were sent to prison becaus they fought for their class. The were convicted on the word of witnesses from the underworld and sentenced by a court on the instruction of the Chamber of Commerce. I the twelve years since, the witnesse have confessed their crookedness. A dictaphone hidden in the district attorney's office brought further proo of a frame-up. Investigators hav searched and combed the evidenc with legal fine-combs and found a pack of lies. The world know that Mooney and Billings have be framed.

Still Waiting

No matter. Mooney and Billing are still behind prison bars waitin —"upon the great mass of worker organized and unorganized"—an the workers will not fail them. Th twelfth anniversary of the frame-u of Mooney and Billings is a time f every red-blooded worker to join th movement for their liberation.

Capitalist courts will not fr them. Like the legal murder Sacco and Vanzetti, the case Mooney and Billings is monument proof of the kind of class justi that workers can expect from ca italist courts. Mooney and Billin in 12 bitter years of imprisonme have learned that and tell it to th world of labor. They appeal to th working class. Join the moveme to "Free Mooney and Billings." Jo the International Labor Defense make that movement strong

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

Vol. V. No. 170.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1928

OBREGON MURDERED BY CLERICAL

World Congress Urges Struggle Against Fascism

GENERAL MOTORS RAISES PAY IN FEAR OF UNION

Organization Work to Continue

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

FLINT, Mich., July 18.—All departments of the General Motors Corporation here are seething with unrest today and plans for organization in the Auto Workers Union are going rapidly ahead in spite of the effort on the part of the huge concern, alarmed at the tremendous movement it sees developing, to buy off the striking workers in the Fisher Body plant.

Tries "Bribery."

Increases of a totally inadequate nature have been granted by the General Motors Corporation as a sort of bribe to the men and the strike is at present not proceeding. Numbers of the men unable to maintain life even on the pitiful increase are seeking jobs elsewhere.

The arrest of Philip Raymond and Arnold Zeigler, organizers of the Auto Workers Union, have incensed the workers. The two leaders, who have been organizing the men while Duffy, the A. F. of L. organizer remained passively at the Hotel Durant, were jailed on a charge of passing out handbills.

Protest Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting to protest the arrests has been arranged and thousands of the exploited General Motors workers are expected to rally to demand the release of the organizers.

ROSARIO STRIKE IS SPREADING

Water, Electric Tie-up Looms in City

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 18.—Three hundred thousand tons of grain were tied up in the harbor here today as the result of the failure of the ship owners to accede to the demands of the port workers.

To add to the general tie-up all street car service has been halted by the walk-out of traction workers and the workers in the water and electric plants are threatening to strike within forty-eight hours provided the owners have not met the men's terms within that time.

Action on the part of the workers in these two industries would virtually tie up the whole city in a general strike like that of a month ago, since the more important building trades workers and other sections of the Rosario working class have already been on strike for two weeks.

Efforts of the owners to import strikebreakers have signally failed, as the union has succeeded in throwing a cordon of pickets around every wharf in the city.

No immediate end of the strike, which began in a dispute for higher wages and better conditions, is forecast.

A conference of business men, while admitting that the strike is slowly spreading despite their efforts to halt it by force through the medium of hired thugs, intimated that no end was in sight and that no demands would be granted. A threat to close down all business in the city if the government does not crush the strike at once is not being taken very seriously by the strikers.

LEWIS ORDERS NEW WAGE SCALE

Strikebreakers in Final Blow to Miners

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 18.—The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America late today took its final step in strikebreaking by voting to authorize district officers in the bituminous fields to negotiate new wage scales with their respective operators, it was announced in a statement issued by John L. Lewis, president of the Miners' Union here late today.

"The committee formulated an amended policy, designed to best cope with the depressed conditions in the bituminous industry as they exist," the statement continued. "In addition, the committee considered possible legislation affecting the coal industry and approved the course heretofore followed by the organization on this subject.

The move is seen here as a final move by Lewis to break the resistance of the coal diggers.

Communist Freed

Max Hoeltz, German Communist leader whose liberation from prison was forced by working class protest after the government attempted to hold him in spite of the recent amnesty act, is shown above. When he and his comrades reached Berlin they were met with a tremendous ovation from the German workers, rejoicing over this proof of the power of the working class.

WELCOME HOELTZ AND PRISONERS

Greet Freed German Workers

(Wireless To DAILY WORKER.)

BERLIN, Germany, July 18.—While the sheet-iron roofs above the long platforms of the Stettin and Silesian railroad terminals here reechoed yesterday to the strains of the International sung by thousands, crowds of workers that filled the stations and overflowed into the streets and side streets for blocks, welcomed home Max Hoeltz, Communist leader, and the recently released class war prisoners, liberated by mass pressure under the terms of a faulty and tardy amnesty act.

Committees From Shops.

Committees from the workers of scores of factories thruout this city and others, delegations from the Communist Party and labor organizations without number, welcomed the home-coming workers, while battalions of Red Front Fighters, surrounding and mingling with the demonstration dissuaded the police from any desire to interfere.

Greeted by C. I.

Huge wreathes greeting the liberated workers in the name of the Communist Party and the German working class were prominent on the platforms and among the crowd.

Attempts of the prisoners to speak were met with thunderous cheers that drowned out all voices. The attempt had finally to be abandoned and the men left the depots accompanied by guards of honor composed of Red Front Fighters and unofficial escorts of thousands who thronged the streets for hours after the demonstration was ended.

ACCIDENT OUSTS 600 COAL MINERS

Mine Car Crashes Thru Engine House

ASHLAND, Pa., July 18 (UP).—Six hundred employes at the Centralia Colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company are idle today as the result of damages caused when a mine car crashed through the concrete engine house at the mine last night.

A stationary engine, it was said, started under its own volition, hoisted a mine car up a slope and broke through the engine house.

WOLF, AUSTRIAN ROYALIST FACES BURLESQUE TRIAL

Urged Horthy Army to Kidnap Bela Kun

VIENNA, July 18. — Charged with urging the Horthy government to invade Austria with troops for the purpose of seizing Bela Kun, Hungarian Communist leader, and carrying him off to torture and death in Hungary, Colonel Gustave Wolf, leader of the Austrian monarchist party, faced a mock trial in the Viennese courts today.

Troops Fill City.

The trial began in a city filled with troops, before eager crowds who filled the courtroom.

In spite of the facts in his letter to the Hungarian minister, appealing to him to urge on his government the complete severance of relations with Austria in event of refusal by the latter to extradite Bela Kun. Wolfe, who is technically accused of treason, pleaded not guilty.

Denies Letter.

He asserted smilingly that he never had called upon the Hungarian government to invade Austrian territory for the purpose of seizing and kidnapping the Communist leader, although his letter made exactly this appeal.

The monarchist declared that instead he had invited the Hungarian troops to suppress a revolt which Kun had planned.

Wolf, whose monarchist activities are disagreeable to the Seipel government, was arrested following a royalist demonstration on May 9.

THREE CONCERTS IN ONE SATURDAY

Theremin, Volpe, Roxy Ballet to Appear

The great DAILY WORKER concert at Coney Island Stadium Saturday night will really be three concerts in one. And each of the three concerts will be of the sort that is remembered a lifetime.

Volpe To Appear First.

The first concert will be given by Arnold Volpe and his symphony orchestra of 50 musicians of the first rank. Volpe, the founder and first conductor of the Lewisohn Stadium concerts, and one of the foremost conductors in the country, has selected a program of unusual distinction. It will consist of the following numbers: Coronation March from Meyerbeers opera, The Prophet; Wagner's Rienzi Overture; Caucasion Sketches by Ippolitow-

Continued on Page Five

EXPOSE MCGRADY SEEKING "PEACE"

3,000 Furriers Jam Big Hall at Meet

Despite the sweltering heat yesterday, three thousand furriers crowded the big hall in Cooper Union in answer to the call of the Joint Board of the Furriers Union and heard their leader, Ben Gold, tell how Edward F. McGrady, union-wrecking emissary of the American Federation of Labor, had made "peace overtures" when he saw that his scab union is about to fall to pieces.

Exposes Faker

"Not that McGrady desired peace," Gold explained; "it was merely a gesture to obtain a breathing space for his tottering structure." To prove that the A. F. of L. fakers were actually ready to confer with the "dreaded" Communists.

Continued on Page Five

SLAVES "INDUSTRIANS"

Goodyear Rubber Co. Coins a Synonym

(By Federated Press).

Goodyear Rubber Co. is known in Akron for stinginess with wages liberality with hours and careless abandon in scattering titles among its workers.

So it is that the humblest sweeper of corners and boiler of rubber soup bears the exalted title of "Industrian." Qualifications for Industrians are hardly exacting. They must be at least 12 years old. They must swear allegiance to the stars and stripes. They must have showed loyalty to dear old Goodyear by staying with the job at least six months

Having been graduated from mere worker to Industrian, the tire maker is elevated to the dizzy pay heights of $4.50 a day. This represents no mean victory over Goodyear's efficiency experts, for he started at 35 cents an hour.

Only Industrians may vote in Goodyear's company union; only they may carry grievances through the industrial democracy over the works manager's head to the president and even the board of directors Of course no Industrian has ever shown such disloyalty and ingratitude as to appeal from the works manager's edict firing or disciplining him.

Industrians also have the privilege of belonging to the Rubber Workers' Union, Goodyear boasts But—and what a but—Industrians "must leave their union at the door when they enter the factory."

DELEGATES FROM MANY LANDS AT HISTORIC MEET

U. S. Representatives On Praesidium

(Wireless to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 18.—The Sixth World Congress of the Communist International was opened here yesterday in the decorated hall of the Labor Palace by Nicolai Bukharin, who was greeted with great applause.

His first words were devoted to the victims of the class struggle in Italy, Poland, Indonesia, and China, who died fighting against imperialism. "Long may they live in the workers' hearts," he said.

"Since the Fifth Congress the Communist movement has been greatly extended," he said. "The Chinese Communist Party, for instance, has become a real revolutionary party. The Japanese Party is also beginning to develop into a fighting party. The Indian Communist movement is growing. But capitalism is also consolidating its forces, and social democracy is also growing. Partially stabilized capitalism forces the Communist International to adopt new complicated tactics in order to mobilise the masses for a decisive blow against imperialism.

"Carrying out socialist construction under difficult circumstances places the Soviet government and the Communist Party before severe tasks. Both in the Soviet Union and in capitalist countries, Communists do not perform sufficient detail work. The chief tasks in capitalist countries are still trade union work and the conquest of the masses. The congress must adopt a program with such a message for the millions of workers all over the world, and a firm practical line for all countries, from China to America.

"The congress work must provide the steel foundation also for consolidating the Communist Parties of

Continued on Page Five

STALIN TELLS OF FUTURE POLICIES

Speaks of Task Facing Communist Parties

(Wireless To DAILY WORKER.)

MOSCOW, July 18.—"No temporary difficulties are able to stop the process of turning the Soviet Union from an agrarian to an industrial land and constructing socialism in town and country," Joseph Stalin, secretary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, declared in an address commenting up the draft program submitted to Communist World Congress in session here.

Continuing his speech, Josef Stalin, general secretary of the All-Union Communist Party, yesterday stressed the principles common to all the Communist Parties. The program outlined by him treats not only of the so-called civilized countries but of the whole world, thus being truly international.

Owing to the irregularity of the capitalist development, the draft assumes the possibility of socialism in individual countries with the formation of the two rallying points of capitalism and socialism in their fight for world supremacy.

Reject United States of Europe.

The draft rejects the slogan of the United States of Europe and proposes a Federation of Soviet Re-

Continued on Page Three

TRANSIT LINES RECEIVE NOTICE

Notice of recapture of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Rapid Transit Company and the Interborough Rapid Transit Company was yesterday served on these companies by the New York State Transit Commission, in accordance with the provisions of the so-called readjustment plan announced recently by Samuel Untermyer, special attorney for the commission.

The notice advises the companies that in accordance with the terms of the dual contracts between the

Continued on Page Two

Tale of Heroic Rescue by Soviet Ice-Breaker Told in Frozen North

Cruising in the far north, passengers of the S. S. Reliance of the Hamburg-American Line received a first-hand account of the heroic rescue of the fascist Nobile flyers by the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. The Krassin has now rescued a total of 16 men and is proceeding further. Photo shows the Reliance amid ice fields.

COMMERCE CHAMBER IN DRIVE ON MILL PICKETS

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 18.—Public admission of their complete failure to break away even a small section of workers from the ranks of the 28,000 strikers, was made here when the New Bedford Chamber of Commerce issued a statement demanding that "mass and house picketing and the formation of crowds in the vicinity of the plants" be halted by the police authorities. This, the statement said is the reason why no one went to work when the mill owners invited the strikers to resume their places at the looms.

In answer to the statement of the bosses' organization, the New Bedford Textile Workers' Union declared that "having failed utterly in their attempts to break the strike hitherto, the mill owners are now setting into motion machinery of oppression to abrogate the rights of the strikers to keep scabs from entering the mills by peaceful and legal means.

Strikers to Resist.

"The union condemns this latest threat to crush the strike by the forcible breaking up of the picket lines, which is the real meaning of the Chamber of Commerce state-

Continued on Page Five

HOLD FALL RIVER STRIKE MEETINC

Police Fail to Halt T. M. C. Meeting

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 18.—Over two thousand textile workers gathered for a Textile Mill Committees meeting on a lot and trudged a mile and a half to another meeting site after the police had succeeded in terrorizing the owner into refusing to allow the use of the rented field.

The meeting was called by the T. M. C. after hundreds of British and American workers signified their desire to hear the leaders of that organization. A special meeting was, therefore, arranged in the residential district of those workers.

Fail to Stop Meeting

Despite all the elaborate preparations of the police, they did not succeed in preventing the meeting, because the union representatives had prepared in reserve a lot rented from a union sympathizer.

The hundreds of tramping strikers were closely followed by the police, Police Chief Feeney himself making a new attempt to terrorize the owner of the field. Failing in this Feeney ordered squads of police

Continued on Page Two

BEGIN NEW YORK SIGNATURE DRIVE

State Campaign Now In Full Swing

With their hall crowded to capacity and a high spirit of enthusiasm prevailing, Sections 2 and 3 of the Workers (Communist) Party, after listening to a report by Rebecca Grecht, campaign manager of District Two, at a membership meeting held at their section headquarters, unanimously decided that every member of their section must immediately report for nominating petitions in the territory in which they live and start collecting their quota of signatures to place the Party candidates on the ballot in New York City.

This decision was made in view of the fact that no local candidates are being run by the Workers Party in the territory covered by these sections.

Active Militants.

The membership of these two sections are among the most active elements in the ranks of the Party—most of them are needle trades workers who have actively participated in the most important labor struggles in the city. They will report at the section headquarters in upper and lower Bronx, Harlem, Downtown Manhattan, Williamsburg, Brownsville, Boro Park and Astoria. It is expected that they will contribute largely to the success of the signature drive throughout the city.

Membership meetings have also been held in Williamsburg, addressed by John Di Santo and in Astoria, Queens, at which Abraham Markoff reported on the election campaign. Astoria will start its signature drive on Monday, July 23, at the Bohemian Hall, Woolsey and 2nd.

These complete the series of membership meetings which have been held in every section of the city to

Continued on Page Five

PUBLIC PROTEST HITS GAS MERGER

Kenny Big Stockholder In Both Concerns

The public hearing today held before the Upstate Public Service Commission on the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger of the Brooklyn Edison Company with the Consolidated Gas Company of New York was adjourned until July 25 after representatives of various civic organizations had protested bitterly that their objections to the proposed merger were not being given a fair hearing.

Representatives of the two companies testified that the proposed merger would bring "beneficial results."

The Consolidated Gas Company, one of the corporations involved in the merger, two years ago secured an increase in rates through the efforts of Prendergast, chairman of the commission and George R. Van Namee, Al Smith appointee.

It was also recently revealed that William F. Kenny, one of Smith's biggest financial supporters in his fight for the presidency, is a large stockholder in both the Consolidated Gas Company and in the Brooklyn Edison Company.

"SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS"

French Communists Arouse Chamber

PARIS (By Mail).—In the French chamber of deputies an extended discussion on the budget and appropriations for the army and navy led to a heated debate between the Communists and the government forces.

One, Fienllien, a supporter of the government, denounced with a tremulo in his voice "the scandalous propaganda which subversive elements spread in the army. The patriotic press has already noticed this propaganda which is carried on by the Communists. Public opinion is enraged. The government should do something about it. I demand that the minister take all necessary measures."

The Communist deputy retaliated:

"We spread propaganda only among the workers in the army!"

And all the reactionaries jumped, crying: "There's the admission! There's the admission!"

"Tell me this, then," replied the Communist deputy, Jacquemotte: "You do not by any chance spread religious and capitalist propaganda in the army, do you?"

The debate was prolonged in great heat.

HANGMAN OF WORKERS SICK

BERLIN, July 18 (UP).—Otto Wels, leader of the social-democratic party, was taken to hospital yesterday, suffering from an internal hemorrhage.

MALIGIN RENEWS ARCTIC SEARCH

Soviet Flyer to Hunt For Amundsen

MOSCOW, July 18.—The Soviet ice-breaker Maligin continued to make progress today despite the extensive ice fields and the heavy storm which has been raging since yesterday morning. The Maligin which has set out to search for the Amundsen party, plans to skirt the southeastern shore of Spitzbergen while the aviator Babushkin, hopping off somewhere along the coast will make reconnaissance flights.

The Maligin will make extensive searches along this coast and then steam for Archangel, continuing to keep a sharp lookout for any traces of the Amundsen party. The chances of the Amundsen party being alive are considered good in Soviet scientific circles.

• • •

Krassin to Continue Search.

MOSCOW, July 18 (UP).—The icebreaker Krassin, which already has brought 16 men out of the Arctic alive after most of them had given up hope of ever again reaching civilization, will not quit its mercy work until one last search has been made for 12 others lost in the ice bound sea.

The Soviet relief committee decided this today and the Krassin with its cargo of rescued explorers was ordered to continue to Advent

Continued on Page Two

SMITH TO HAVE $10,000,000 FUND

No Limit Set to Big Contributions

The declaration of Herbert H. Lehman, Morgan-controlled banker, and financial director of the Smith election campaign that there would be no limit to the Smith slush fund is believed in informed circles here to be an invitation to the republican party campaign managers to adopt publicly a similar policy. In this way, it is said, the usual charges of "buying" the election will this year be avoided, and both old parties will be free to pile up record totals.

$10,000,000 Estimate.

Estimates of $10,000,000 as the probable amount of the democratic campaign slush fund was received here as being far too low. At least five millions, it was pointed out, was expended in putting over Calvin

Continued on Page Five

PRESIDENT-ELECT SHOT 'FOR CHRIST' SAYS CHURCHMAN

U. S. Makes Threat of Intervention

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP).—The United States is prepared to cooperate with President Calles to prevent possible revolutionary disturbances in Mexico as a result of the assassination of President-elect Obregon.

In an authoritative quarter it was said this government will do whatever it can on this side of the border to prevent such disturbances.

"Revolution is the last thing we want to see in Mexico,' one authority said. "Naturally, if we can help stop it, we shall do so."

Washington is dependent largely upon Ambassador Morrow in this situation.

• • •

Shot By Clerical.

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—Jose Juan Gonzales, the religious fanatic who killed General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, yesterday, is believed to be an agent of the counter-revolutionary clerical group that has been conducting a bitter campaign against the Calles government.

The assassin, who is now being questioned, originally gave his name as Juan Escapulario. Later it was learned that his real name is Gonzales and the pseudonym Escapulario assumed because of its religious significance. The escapulario is a piece of stiffened cloth bearing an image of the virgin Mary. Gonzales is believed to have been connected with the attempt on the part of the clerical faction to assassinate Obregon by bombing his car last winter.

• • •

MEXICO CITY, July 18 (UP).—President-elect Alvaro Obregon, third Mexican leader to be assassinated within 15 years, met his death as he sat surrounded by friends discussing his prospective return to titular as well as actual leadership of the country.

With Senator Valdez Hamirez, former Foreign Minister Aaron Saenz, Colonel Juan James and other supporters, Obregon motored out to La Bombilla restaurant, in the wealthy Sanangel suburb, for a conference.

Approaches Table

The cafe orchestra was playing. Surrounding tables were crowded. As Obregon and his followers sat at the table a young man approached. He asked whether he could not draw caricatures of members of the party. They consented.

The young man drew a picture of

Continued on Page Two

MINERS CALL TO OTHER WORKERS

Disease, Need, Death, Stalk Fields

Beginning Sunday, July 22nd, and for a week thereafter workers thruout the country will be mobilized in the drive for relief and defense of the thousands of miners and their families during the national Miners' Relief and Defense Week, conducted jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee and

From the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to Mexico, hun- the International Labor Defense. dreds of relief committees affiliated with the National Miners' Relief Committee of 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, will work with branches of the International Labor Defense in the various cities and towns to put through the drive. This is the first time during the fifteen months of the strike a drive of such scope and intensity has been undertaken.

From the mining camps come a deluge of letters of appeal for food, for medicines, for tents. The wooden sheds that homeless miners' families are forced to occupy are veritable furnaces. There is no light. Gas and water have been turned off in hundreds of mining

Continued on Page Two

MANY SOVIET CENTENARIANS

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 18.—Of the Soviet Union's population of 146,964,866, there are 25,498 persons listed as being one hundred years old or more. The country has 5,000,000 more women than men.

"Keep Up the Struggle," Anti-Imperialist League Urges General Sandino in Letter

WILL CONTINUE MASS AGITATION, BODY'S PLEDGE

Points Out Relation With Other Struggles

Calling upon General Augusto C. Sandino to continue the fight against U. S. marine rule in Nicaragua, to make the struggle exclusively upon the interests of the workers and peasants and to invoke the aid of workers' movements in other countries, the All-America Anti-Imperialist League addressed a reply to the recent letter of the Nicaraguan rebel leader.

The letter in full follows:

"New York, July 17, 1928.

"Gen. Augusto C. Sandino,
"El Chipoton,
"Nicaragua

"Dear Friend and Comrade:

"We take this opportunity of informing you that we received your letter dated May 20. It is not necessary for us to say that your letter was received with great enthusiasm. The best commentary we can make on your letter is that it has served to demonstrate that not only are you conscientious in your fight against imperialism and for the independence of Nicaragua, but as well are you a class-conscious leader.

"Struggle Against Wall St.

"For many years the Nicaraguan people have been struggling against Wall Street, and we have always closely followed your resistance. But never was the struggle so much ours as that which you began the 4th of May, 1927, because we understand that this is the real fight of the Nicaraguan people against their invaders, and for that reason the masses of all Latin America see in your uprising a warning to the imperialists and the beginning of a real upheaval against imperialist ravages.

"The struggle against imperialism in the United States has particularly developed the fact that the petty bourgeois politicians, who masquerade under the alias of 'liberal,' such as Borah and his kind, are objectively the enemies of the oppressed people and support uncompromisingly the policy of aggression of Wall Street.

"Imperialists In Many Lands.

"We want to call to your attention the fact that, as you probably have observed heretofore, the struggle against imperialism is not restricted to Nicaragua alone, though at the present moment American imperialism is concentrating all its might to crush the valiant opposition of your forces. The same marines who are making your country safe for Wall Street are helping to drown in a sea of blood the revolution of the workers and peasants of China; these same marines are in Haiti, Philippines, Panama, Santo Domingo and Porto Rico.

"In the United States, where Wall Street has at its service the entire machinery of the state, including the postal authorities, the police and the courts, they try to prevent us from taking part in the struggles of the oppressed peoples and jail us.

"To Continue Agitation.

"But now, more than ever before, we are going to continue to arouse as wide a mass of the American workers and farmers as possible in behalf of the independence of Nicaragua. We will continue to collect medical supplies for your army of liberation in order to establish a bond of sympathy and fraternity between the anti-imperialist fighters of the United States and those in Nicaragua.

"We greet you warmly, and through you, all the valiant fighters of your heroic army.

"For the independence of Nicaragua!

"For victory in our fight against imperialism!

"All-America Anti Imperialist League (U. S. Section).
"Leon S. Ruiz, Spanish Sec.
"Harry Gannes, "Acting Sec."

TRANSIT LINES RECEIVE NOTICE

Continued from Page One

and the railroads, the leases of these lines will be terminated within a year from date.

The approval of the City Board of Estimate and Apportionment is needed for the final carrying out of the plan.

It is known that the final steps of recapture will in all probability be gone through, inasmuch as an agreement has already been reached with the B.-M. T. by which it is to receive a handsome price for its elevated stock lines. The I. R. T., which is said to be holding out, is likewise known to be agreeable to the arrangement. The Interborough is now practically controlled by the B.-M. T.

"[illegible] Up" Increased Fare

The Transit Commission at the same time referred to its counsel the application of the Eighth and Ninth Ave. railroads for an increased fare. These lines will follow the same procedure as the other companies by applying to the federal courts, it is known.

Charles L. Craig, formerly city controller and now special counsel for the city, appointed by Jimmie Walker to fight the increased fare move, is known to be interested in the Eighth and Ninth Ave. lines as well as the Fourth and Madison Ave. line. About two years ago Craig, Jimmie Walker and Al Smith, together with the republican legislature, sought to sell these lines to the city for $7,000,000.

Children Whose Fathers Held the Vienna Barricades

SACCO
VANZETTI

Truckloads of children whose fathers fought on the barricades during the revolt in Vienna during July of last year are shown in the picture. Under the auspices of the Red Aid, the children are now touring Germany. The signs on the first truck read: "We are the children of the Vienna barricade fighters." Below is written: "Fight against bourgeois justice! Free the class war prisoners!"

MINERS IN NEW URGENT APPEAL

Defense Week Begins July 22

Continued from Page One

camps. Typhoid fever often results from lack of sewage systems. Food is becoming scarcer daily.

The Pittsburgh office of the National Miners' Relief Committee receives visits daily, it is declared, from miner-delegates from camps miles away, who come with harrowing tales of need and virtual starvation, tears in the their eyes, begging some food "for the kids."

Always these miners carry on—in face of evictions, hunger and disease, they tighten their belts another notch and fight on against the union-smashing drive of the operators.

"We want to bake a little bread for our hungry children," is the plea they make. "Just a little flour!"

As great as is the need for relief funds, just as pressing is the immediate necessity for raising money for the defense of miners who are in jails on various framed-up charges—the sole reason being their activity on the picket lines.

Here are just a few of the hundreds of victims of the frame-up and prisons of the operators. Tony Minerich, strike leader, sentenced to imprisonment in Ohio by Judge Benson W. Hough, author of the infamous injunction Minerich urged the miners to defy. An appeal is now being made to a higher court.

Case of Women.

Mother Guynn, 63-year-old strike leader, and 50 other women of St. Clairsville, Ohio, were tricked into jail. The fines and court costs of 59 pickets of Yukon, Pa., amount to more than five hundred dollars. The Zeigler, Ill., mine leaders, led by Henry Corbishley, must serve long sentences. Other cases, far too numerous to list. The American classic, the frame-up, has been planted in the mine fields on a scale unsurpassed anywhere.

For relief, for defense, hundreds of thousands of dollars are immediately necessary. During the National Miners' Relief and Defense Week, all workers—as an act of self-protection—must help. Send all donations to National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

• • •

Perth Amboy Responds.

A mass meeting in Perth Amboy, N. J., this Saturday night, July 21, will start the drive for National Miners' Relief and Defense Week, July 22 to 29. This meeting will be held at 308 Elm Street, Perth Amboy, at 8 o'clock. A Hungarian worker, a miner for years, who has been on strike for the past fifteen months, will picture the epoch making struggle.

This will be followed by a report by E. S. Stanley, relief organizer for New Jersey, on the progress of relief work in that state.

The workers of Perth Amboy and of New Jersey as a whole have shown in the past that they realize the importance of the struggle of the striking miners by donating over $10,000 in the past few months to support this struggle.

Cancer Conference Is Opened In London

LONDON, July 18 (UP).—The failure to do more to educate the public regarding cancer is "little short of scandal," Dr. M. Donaldsonu, well-known British physician, declared in an address before the initial conference of the world cancer conference today.

Twenty-five nations are represented by the delegates to the conference. Sir John Bland Sutton, Britisher, is presiding.

SILK WORKERS PREPARE FOR BITTER STRUGGLES

By HARVEY O'CONNOR
(Federated Press).

PATERSON, N. J., July 18.—Silk workers of Paterson, their minds bearing deep the imprints of heroic struggles for bread and union, watch carefully bosses' ceaseless efforts to destroy the 8-hour day and break down wage standards. Now they are girding for another battle, around the rallying cry of the 8-hour day.

Little by little conditions won in the memorable strike of 1913, which ranks in labor history with Lawrence and Passaic, and in other struggles of 1916 and 1918, are slipping away. Here an unscrupulous boss squeezes in the 10-hour day, across the street a small mill gets by with a 10 per cent wage cut.

691 Firms.

Union silk workers admit they have been unable to keep a tight rein on the industry since post-war deflation. Paterson has 16,000 silk workers, and yet 691 firms compete bitterly with each other in this one silk center. A few concerns are large, but hundreds employ only a handful of workers.

A petty employer with but a loom or two will keep his entire family busy, day and night. In homes, little children toil far into the night, duplicating notorious sweatshop conditions that once characterized New York. Over this myriad of small shops the union finds it difficult to exert control. The bigger shops are better, particularly the ribbon mills where the Ribbon Weavers' Union has strength. But dame fashion has dealt cruel blows to ribbons, and work is slack in that branch of the industry.

Worst of all is unemployment. Associated Silk Workers' officials estimate that 3,000 are jobless and another 1,500 on part time.

Undismayed, the union is redoubling efforts to organize workers. Special efforts are being made to get dyers and finishers into a union. In this branch small firms have made great inroads, tearing down labor conditions. Along with merger moves among many firms, the union hopes to get a strong local organized.

Significant Strikes.

Shop meetings are being held in union mills. Members in non-union mills are working quietly among their shopmates. Language group meetings are arousing foreign-born workers.

Look, the union organizer says to these groups. Last year your boss put you on the 10-hour day. And now he is in Europe with his family while you sweat through hot summer months with no vacation, except the one you don't want—when the shop closes down.

Small strikes characterize the industry. Sun Silk Co. workers walked out when the boss tried to tack an extra hour on the day. As a compromise, workers were forced to take a 5 per cent wage cut. At the Hellawel Warping and Winding Co., the whole shop went out against a cut from $20 to $18 with a 30 per cent speed-up in the machines.

CHINESE SEAMEN TO BE DEPORTED

Beaten Up By Police After Wage Demand

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)
By WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Twenty-three Chinese sailors aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela went on strike last Thursday over a wage dispute, when the ship's officers refused to listen to their spokesman.

The captain promptly called the U. S. Coast Guard cutter to the rescue, on the grounds that there was a "mutiny" on his ship, and a bitter fight followed between the unarmed Chinese sailors and a detachment of coast guord men, customs guards and special police, all of whom carried loaded pistols, the butts of which were used freely on the heads of the Chinese. The sailors, after being badly beaten up, were arrested for "rioting and mutiny," and are slated to be deported to China. The Chinese consul in this city, who was called to the scene, did nothing to assist the sailors.

The capitalist press of this city is making much of the "mutiny."

BENEFIT BY YOUTH CAMP.

PHILADELPHIA (FP). — Hundreds of labor children will get the benefit of Pioneer Youth Camp at Lahaska, Pa. this summer. Rates for union children are $10 a week for others, $17.50.

EXPOSE MCGRADY SEEKING "PEACE"

3,000 Furriers Jam Big Hall at Meet

Continued from Page One

a facsimile of a telegram was exhibited, signed by McGrady and sent to Charles Stetsky. The telegram instructed Stetsky to have an intermediary named Cohen ask the Joint Board to wait till McGrady returned from Troy for negotiations. The telegram is countersigned by Isidor Cohen, who certifies that this telegram was given to him by Stetsky with instructions that he follow out its requirements.

Movement for Single Union

The climax of Gold's speech was his declaration that from now on the movement of the fur workers for a single union in the industry was taking on new forms. That all elements in the struggle for one union will be united to deal the final death blow to the fast-disintegrating scab company union, the Joint Council which is completely controlled by the employers

An interesting sidelight, which supports the contention that the Joint Council is about to collapse, was the announcement by Gold at the beginning of his speech that other groups, besides the Sorkin-Winnick group, were seeking opportunities to talk "peace" with the Joint Board. The Sorkin group, still functionaries of the Joint Council, is now in public conflict with the Stetsky-McGrady gang.

S. Liebowitz, assistant manager, was chairman of the meeting.

Other speakers at the meeting were Irving Potash, Louis Cohen and J. Winogradsky.

Resolution Unanimously Passed

The resolution unanimously passed, which shows a definite trend toward a new orientation in the struggle against the A. F. of L., socialism and their boss allies, declares in part:

Whereas, the A. F. of L. Company Union has broken off negotiations that have been going on for the past several months with the object of putting an end to the attack on the Furriers Union; and

Whereas, the Company Union, in league with the bosses, gangsters and with the Industrial Squad, is conducting a vicious campaign of terror, arresting and beating the workers who are demanding July increases from their employers; and

Whereas, the A. F. of L. Company Union is practicing actual holdups on the fur workers with the sole purpose of extorting money from them and thus functioning as an organization of racketeers in the fur trade; and

Whereas, the misleaders of the A. F. of L. have in their campaign of terror in the Furriers Union broken the Furriers Union, sold out the union conditions and the wages of the fur workers to the bosses, and reduced the fur workers to a condition of helplessness and want; and

Whereas, there has already arisen from all directions a rank and file movement for One Union of all fur workers, without any exceptions, a movement which is being fought most viciously by the misleaders of the A. F. of L. Company Union; be it therefore

Resolved by the fur workers assembled at Cooper Union on Wednesday, July 18, to give full power to the Joint Board to unite all elements that have joined the movement for One Union, and, as soon as possible, with these united forces, re-establish one powerful union of fur workers that should be capable of restoring the 40-hour week, increase the workers' wages and restore all of the other union conditions; and be it further

Resolved that the Joint Board is given full power to call together a conference of shop representatives for the purpose of laying the foundation of One Furriers Union for all fur workers and of all fur workers.

PRESIDENT-ELECT SHOT 'FOR CHRIST' SAYS CHURCHMAN

Counter-Revolutionary Agent, Belief

Continued from Page One

Col. Ricardo Topete, one of Obregon's aides.

"Can I show this picture to General Obregon?" he asked.

Empties Pistol

He aproached the president-elect and from under cover of the picture emptied a small seven-shot automatic pistol into Obregon's back.

Obregon slid down in his chair and fell to the floor. Few at adjoining tables realized what had happened at first.

Col. Topete, whose picture had been drawn, grabbed the assassin. Other members of the party joined him. They were about to kill the assassin when Gen. Roberto Cruz, chief of police, halted them.

Taken to Home

"Wait," he shouted. "Let us see who is behind this."

Obregon, dying, was lifted up and carried to his motorcar, which began racing to Obregon's town house in the city.

Obregon died as he was being carried into the house. He had said no word since he was shot.

From the house Obregon's body was carried to the National Palace, to lie in state.

The assassin was taken to police headquarters, his pistol still in his hand.

Wanted Christ to Reign

"I have done what I came to do," he said. He was reported later to have said:

"I killed Obregon because I wanted Christ, the King, to reign completely. not partially."

Only the day before, Obregon, in a statement of policy, had reaffirmed his position that the government must be supreme and that the Catholic Church must obey the laws which caused a complete split between church and state.

• • •

ROME, July 18 (UP).—Almost at the moment of the assassination yesterday of Gen. Alvaro Obregon by a suspected religious fanatic, a convention of Italian Catholic girls was praying "for the day when persecutions of Catholics in Mexico would cease."

There were several addresses at the convention regarding alleged ill-treatment of Catholics in Mexico.

• • •

Presidential Tangle Looms

MEXICO CITY, July 18 (UP).—The permanent congressional committee, that conducts legislative business when congress is not in session, was to meet today to discuss the puzzling problem of the succession to the presidency as the result of Gen. Alvaro Obregon's assassination.

Apparently there is no provision for procedure in the event of the death of a president-elect, and in Mexico there is no vice-president.

Obregon was elected president July 1 for a six-year term, the term having been extended from four years a few months ago. He was to be proclaimed president by congress at its September session, and was to take office December 1 as successor to President Calles.

Calles May Serve Conditionally

Mexican law provides that in the event of the death of a president during the first two years of his term, congress may name a provisional president and arrange for a new election. It was regarded as possible that this method might be used, Calles acting provisionally as chief executive.

It is stipulated in the constitution that though a president may serve two full terms, they must not follow one another directly.

• • •

Censorship Clamped On

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, July 18 (UP).—Censorship of press dispatches over the Mexican telegraph lines, imposed late yesterday at Mexico City, had not yet been extended to this port of entry today.

German Exploiters In South Africa Growing

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, July 18.—German colonists are coming into South Africa in such great numbers that they have the majority in all governing bodies and make up a considerable portion of the foreign population. The British residents view this influx with alarm, fearing that their own control will be seriously challenged.

After the German troops were defeated in South Africa in 1895 by the British most of the Germans left the colony. Since the war, however, they have been settling in greater and greater numbers.

Risked Their Lives to Make Great Rescue

The entire world has reechoed the story of the heroic rescue of the survivors of the fascist Nobile expedition by the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. The Krassin is now refueling, while the second Soviet ice-breaker, the Maligin, has set out to hunt the lost Amundsen party. Above is a composograph showing members of the Krassin crew rescuing the Italia survivors.

"UNEMBARRASSED BY CRIES OF RED PACK"

The following citation from the central organ of the Christian Socialist Party, headed by Seipel "Deutsche Presse" and published in Prague is characteristic of bourgeois opinion in Czechoslovakia not only in the case of Bela Kun and Sacco and Vanzetti, but also on the reaction in Czechoslovakia against the revolutionary workers. The paper writes the following on the demand that Bela Kun should not be extradited to Hungary:

"Justice should learn not to withdraw before the terror of the masses before the mighty demonstration of the reds in the case of the extraditing of Bela Kun. At this moment Austrian justice can take a good example from that American judge who turned Sacco and Vanzetti over to the electric chair, unembarrassed by the howls of the red pack."

POSTPONE LABOR DEFENSE OUTING

Workers Are Urged to Support Affair

The outing of the New York section of the International Labor Defense, which was scheduled to take place at Pleasant Bay Park this Saturday, has been postponed until Saturday, August 11. The I. L. D. has decided to postpone its affair in order that all workers may attend the concert at Coney Island Stadium Saturday, arranged by The DAILY WORKER and the Freiheit.

The outing on August 11 will be the same as originally scheduled, it is announced. Athletics, games, open-air dancing, a torch-light parade, a mass scene and other numbers will be included on the program.

Tickets are 35 cents and are on sale at the office of the I. L. D., 799 Broadway, Room 422, and at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square. All tickets bought for the old date will be good on Aug. 11.

Ex-Premier Giolitti Dies, Critic of Fascism

CAVOUR, Italy, July 18.—Giovanni Giolitti, 86, former premier of Italy, died here of a complication of diseases. He had been ill for several weeks.

He was powerful as a "liberal" leader until the fascists took power, when he was disposed and was censored for his severe criticism of the fascist regime.

MALIGIN RENEWS ARCTIC SEARCH

Soviet Flyer to Hunt For Amundsen

Continued from Page One

Bay to refuel for a second great search.

The breaker Krassin today met the rescue ship Braganza at sea and took aboard an Italian physician to treat Captain Adalberto Mariano whose legs were frozen while he was on the ice.

Aviator Chuknovsky of the Krassin, the Norwegian huntsman Noyes and the three Italian alpine chasseurs of his dogsled party were transferred to the Braganza.

• • •

Possible Amundsen Clew.

COPENHAGEN, July 18, (UP). An Oslo dispatch to the Berlingski Tidend today said the Navy Department had been advised two fishermen had discovered wheel tracks on Bear Island and that might furnish a clew to the fate of the Latham airplane in which Roald Amundsen went to the rescue of members of the dirigible Italia.

The fishermen followed the tracks to a dangerous hill, from which there was a sharp descent into the sea.

Near where the tracks terminated the fishermen reported they found a coat, a cap and three broken pieces of wood. The fishermen believed the wood might have been from the Latham plane, although the dispatch did not indicate the reason for this belief.

Gary Negroes Fight Jim-Crow High School

GARY, Ind., July 18.—The announcement that the city council had approved the erection of the Roosevelt School, which is conceded to be a colored school, has aroused the ire of Negroes in this city, and they are girding themselves for battle—and a finished fight.

It is believed that if the separate school is erected, the time will be short before a Negro high school will be established, and Jim-Crow schools will be the order of the day. Attorney Robert Bailey, counsel for the parents who opposed the original effort to establish Jim-Crow schools, states that he has no knowlege of this new effort, but that it will be vigorously fought by the Negro population in Gary, and that he will be on the firing line.

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION

Co-operative Workers

Camp Nitgedaiget

Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731

MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.

A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.

Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.

REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:

OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)

Rates: $17.00 Per Week

TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR.
BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

MILL WORKERS HOLD FALL RIVER STRIKE MEETING

Police Fail to Halt T. M. C. Meeting

Continued from Page One

and plain clothes men to surround the meeting as a gesture of intimidation.

The 2,000 workers assembled stayed in spite of the police and enthusiastically applauded every time the speakers mentioned the slogan, "prepare to strike."

James P. Ried, leader of the Fall River Mill Committees; A. Weisman, and Biedenkamp, of the Workers International Relief, were the speakers at the meeting.

• • •

Thousands at Meeting

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 18.—An immense crowd of many thousands held the largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting of textile workers Monday yet held by the Textile Mill Committees here. The meeting was held on Liberty Lot, purchased by the union with workers' donations, after police ordered that no meeting place be rented to the T. M. C.

Hundreds attending the meeting later came to the platform and signed up as members of the union. Strike sentiment is mounting with amazing rapidity, the meeting showed. The T. M. C. is now preparing strike machinery for a struggle to regain wages cut by the mill owners here.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $2

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months / weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

ATTENTION

Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Women's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.

You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the

FREIHEIT
PICNIC

SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn

Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

Baroni, Italian Trade Unionist, Framed by Blackshirts in Milan Bomb Outrage

WORLD CONGRESS OPEN IN MOSCOW AS MANY ATTEND

Communists Call For Greater Struggle

Continued from Page One

publics and Colonies, which have left the world capitalist system and which are fighting against world capitalism for world socialism.

The draft further attacks the social democracy as the chief support of capitalism in the camp of the workers and regards all other tendencies, like anarchism, guild socialism, etc., as social democratic forms.

The draft declares that relations between the Communist Parties of the West and East are a preliminary condition for proletarian hegemony and dictatorship.

The plenary session of the Central Committee of the All-Union Communist Party has approved the draft and appealed to the members to file proposals for corrections with the Program Committee of the Sixth Congress.

Grain.

Continuing his address, Stalin then dealt with the questions of grain policy. He pointed out that the adoption of extraordinary measures succeeded, in the beginning of 1928, in recovering the ground lost during the previous year and in overcoming the grain crisis.

"The results for this January to March are normal, though the destruction of the autumn plantings in the South Ukraine and Northern Caucasia have caused strong pressure on the peasant supplies in other districts at a time when the harvest prospects are still uncertain. This has resulted in a recrudescence of the extraordinary measures such as illegal searching of the peasants' farms, etc., which have endangered the workers' and peasants' alliance.

"Of course, the workers' and peasants' alliance has not been destroyed, but only endangered. Some comrades have lost their heads and exaggerated the danger, the speaker said, but the prospects of a good harvest and the abandonment of the extraordinary measures have caused the situation to become peaceful again.

Farms Split Up.

"The basis of the grain difficulties is that in spite of the fact that the area under cultivation has nearly attained the pre-war figure, peasant agriculture has become split up. Small scale agricultural production is unprofitable and low, whereas the towns and industries are developing rapidly, with a consequent development of the demand for grain.

"The solution of the problem lies, in the first place, in increased grain productivity on the part of small and middle scale production; in the collectivization of small and middle scale farms and improvement in the existing Soviet farms.

"People who believe that small and individual farms are the beginning and the end of agriculture have nothing in common with Leninism," the speaker said. "The chief characteristic of the present situation is that increased productivity of the small scale farms is no longer alone sufficient to solve the problem, although this increased productivity is the chief task before the party at this moment.

Two Tasks.

"Two new practical tasks, therefore, arise: Increased productivity of the collective farms and the improvement of the Soviet farms.

"Apart from the general causes, the Plenum's resolution enumerates the following specific temporary causes for the grain purchase crisis: Loss of balance in the markets in consequence of the quicker growth of the peasants' demand for industrial goods; the unfavorable relation of grain prices to other agricultural prices; the errors in the planning system, particularly regarding prompt commodity supply; insufficient taxation of the possessing sections; errors of party, Soviet and purchase organizations; violation of Soviet legislation through administrative arbitrariness, etc.; exploitation of Soviet errors by capitalist elements in town and country.

"In order to abolish these specific temporary causes it is necessary to abandon illegal searches of peasant farms and other violations of Soviet law; to abandon any recrudescence of requisition methods and at the same time to guarantee more elasticity in the state regulation of commerce; to make certain increases in the price of grain; to organize and regulate commodity supply in the grain districts and immediately to form a state grain reserve.

Alliance Not Ended.

"It is stupid to say that the alliance between the workers and peasants is finished. If this were true the peasants would have reduced the grain producing area whereas the grain producing areas have actually increased everywhere.

"Some comrades think that in order to consolidate the alliance of the workers and peasants we must concentrate on textiles instead of heavy industry. This is quite wrong, the speaker pointed out. The textile industry is very important, he said, but the main line must be the production of machinery. Furthermore it is impossible to develop the textile industry without heavy industry.

"Consolidation of the alliance is necessary, not in order to perpetuate the classes indefinitely, but in order to bring the peasants and workers closer together and train the individualist ideology of the peasant in collectivism for the preparation of the destruction of class antagonisms on the basis of socialist society.

Points of Support.

"This is only possible on the basis of new technique and collectivism. It is not true that consolidation of the alliance is only possible thru concessions to the peasants. Apart from concessions we must have points of economic support in the village, and highly developed cooperatives together with collective and Soviet farms, Stalin said.

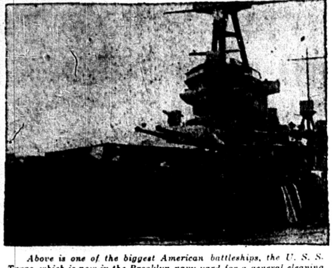
"Increased work among the village poor is necessary in order to guarantee the support of the latter."

"The lesson of the Donetz trial," Stalin pointed out, "is that in working to secure a minimum of loyal specialists we have been tremendously backward. Therefore we must intensify the training of new technical experts from amongst the workers themselves. The Soviet government has therefore added 40,000,000 roubles annually to its former expenditure for this purpose."

"We have always learned from our mistakes," the speaker declared, "and we must do this now. The grain difficulties have shaken up the Bolsheviks and forced them to work more actively for the development of grain production. Without these difficulties the Bolsheviks would hardly have paid such serious attention to the question.

"The Donetz trial also caused us to consider taking energetic steps for the formation of new technical forces in industry. First steps have already been taken and more will be effected."

Ready to Defend Wall St. Interests



Above is one of the biggest American battleships, the U. S. S. Texas, which is now in the Brooklyn navy yard for a general cleaning up. It is the policy of the navy department to keep all its war machines in such condition that Wall Street can go ahead with its plans for a new imperialist war without any worries. Incidentally, the sailors who are ready to be maimed and slaughtered for the sake of Big Business are not treated with nearly as much care as is this warship.

FASCIST SECRET AGENT WAS REAL HEAD OF PLOT

Barbusse Committee Reveals Facts

(Wireless to The Daily Worker)

VIENNA, July 18.—Reports to this city from Milan have just revealed that the Communist trade unionist, Baroni, is one of those accused of participation in the recent explosion in Milan.

Baroni's only crime, however seems to have been participation in the workers' delegation to the Soviet Union.

The Barbusse Investigating Committee which is examining the facts in the case has discovered that the real organizer of the Milan explosion was Boldrocchi, a member of the fascist secret service.

United States Election Laws

(Continued.)

By JULIUS CODKIND.

CALIFORNIA. Population 1920 census, 3,480,902. To put the Party on the ballot this year, 36,000 signatures or three per cent of the total vote in the previous elections will be required, these to be filed on June 14th. The law even specifies the size and form of type to be used in printing the petitions.

To place our presidential candidates on the ballot there, we must nominate 13 electors. For each elector a separate petition must be printed. This means that every citizen who signs must sign 13 times for our electors only, besides the various signatures which may be required for the state and local offices.

We intend to file our candidates as independents under a law which allows additional candidates to go on the ballot as individuals after the primaries have been held. Under this law, they go on the ballot without Party designation, requiring only 12 to 13 thousand signatures this year. These signatures must be obtained within a period of 25 days, each signature being dated and verified by a deputy registrar. Under the law only those who have been certified as deputy registrars may canvas for signatures. These deputy registrars must be citizens who are qualified voters. Voters who participated in the primaries are not eligible to sign petitions.

OKLAHOMA. Population 1920 census, 2,047,397. This state requires 5,000 signatures of voters for each candidate. The state has ten electors and here, too, each citizen must sign ten times on 10 separate sheets. Another requirement in Oklahoma is that after the signatures are obtained that the whole 5,000 must be typewritten on the back of the petitions, petitions to be filed June 16th.

In Kansas.

KANSAS. Population 1920 census, 1,773,289. The law specifies that a new party—and our Party is perpetually new until we obtain the minimum of votes required—must get signatures amounting to a total of one per cent of the vote cast for the successful candidate for secretary of state and that the total must include one per cent of such vote from at least 10 counties. At a very late date, our local comrades were told that the presidential electors could be placed on the ballot if petitions are signed by 2,500 voters. There is nothing said to this effect in the election law pamphlet sent out by the state and our comrades in Kansas could obtain no information from the officials of the state. The attorney general and the secretary of state both refused to give any information or to answer letters sent from the national office. The Kansas comrades employed several lawyers to help them with this work. Not only did the lawyers fail to obtain a correct explanation of the law, but they could not even get out a correct form of petition.

NORTH CAROLINA. Population 1920 census, 2,555,296. This state, which is building up a large textile industry, is important as a new industrial state, and also because it is one of the tier of states composing the solid south, with a Negro population about equal to that of the whites. To help new parties get on the ballot only 10,000 signatures are required. Unfortunately, our Party has only one member-at-large in the entire state.

OHIO. Population 1920 census, 5,810,498. The law legalizes a party as one that cast ten per cent of the entire vote of the state in the last general election. Other political organizations can go on the ballot as independents by securing signatures equal to one per cent of the entire vote of the state. This year the minimum is 14,467. Before filing, signatures must be submitted for preliminary inspection to the registrars in each county. At least 20,000 signatures will have to be raised to insure the Party a place on the Ohio ballot.

MISSOURI. Population 1920 census, 3,409,758. The law requires 2 per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general election. This year, the minimum number of signatures required is 26,107. A legal party in this state is one that casts 3 per cent of the vote.

PENNSYLVANIA. Population 1920 census, 8,774,347. This state has a comparatively liberal law. Although our vote in 1924 was only 2,735 we have good Party organization in District 3 at Philadelphia and in District 5 at Pittsburgh. The law requires petitions signed by one-half per cent of the vote cast for the successful candidate for governor. This year the amount in signatures is 5,514. This state and Massachusetts are practically the only states which furnish printed petitions for use by parties trying for a place on the ballot. Unlike other states, also, the law is clearly defined and cannot be misunderstood.

A consideration of the figures of our vote in Pennsylvania, (2,735 in 1924) together with the comparatively small number of signatures required give a good comparative picture of the obstacles to be overcome by us in the various states of the country.

CONNECTICUT. Population 1920 census 1,394,324. The law requires a state convention to be supplemented by petitions signed by one per cent of the total vote cast for the office filed for in the last preceding election. For electors this amounts to 4,500 signatures.

ARIZONA. Population, 1920 census, 340,848. Petitions must be filed carrying two per cent of the vote in at least 5 of the 14 counties in the state. The amount in each county aside from Maricopa is not large but the distances are enormous and the state very sparsely populated. We will probably fail in the state but the activities of Comrade O'Brien since his return from the National Nominating Convention are already commencing to bear fruit in the shape of Party organization, the spread of TUEL agitation and a jump in DAILY WORKER subscriptions.

In Dupont's State.

DELAWARE. Population, 1920 census, 224,068. A state consisting of three counties. Each county requires 250 signatures. Some of our comrades, fearing the iron heel of the Duponts, who control the state refused either to try for signatures or allow their names as candidates Under Party discipline and with a Party organizer on the job, we are taking advantage of a peculiarity in the law which allows us to run in separate counties, to put on our Party ticket in Newcastle county which is the industrial county with the city of Wilmington, containing the Dupont plants.

MARYLAND. Population, 1920 census, 1,457,608. Two thousand signatures are required. Baltimore is a good center, but our comrades were disheartened from previous failures and at first refused to undertake the job. In a hard drive they succeeded in getting the necessary signatures. The result is great enthusiasm and revival of Party spirit and plans are being laid to extend the Party organization to nearby industrial centers.

MAINE. Population, 1920 census 769,334. NEW HAMPSHIRE. Population 443,407. These states require only one thousand signatures each but our Party organization is weak and consists altogether of Finnish comrades who are altogether unacquainted with the election law.

MINNESOTA. Population, 1920 census, 2,403,164. Only 2,500 signatures are required but the law specifies that these must be all registered voters who did not participate in the primaries. Our Party instructed its followers to vote in the labor party primaries.

UTAH. Population, 1920 census 453,313. Requirement is only 500 signatures but we have a very poor Party organization. In a letter received from Comrade M. P. Bales, he states: "I wish I had your sublime optimism as to the ease with which 500 signatures can be secured to a certificate of election in this state. While I am skeptical of our ability to get 500 sworn voters to sign our petitions, I am positive that this will enable us to build up the Party and get it functioning again."

Iowa, a strong republican state, and Tennessee, Georgia and Florida strong democratic states, officially accepts all candidacies of nominees made by state conventions.

South Carolina.

South Carolina does not print an official ballot. Its officials specify the size and style of the ballot as well as the color of paper to be used All parties print their own ballots and each voter before going to the polls generally provides himself with the ballot of the party for which he intends to vote. It is very difficult to find other than democratic ballots at the polls and particularly after the vote is counted.

Having accomplished the task of placing candidates officially in nomination and having fought out the campaign, working class parties find only insignificant totals of votes registered in their favor. There are a number of reasons for this.

Disfranchisement.

Of chief importance, perhaps, is the disfranchisement of large sections of the working class. A complete survey of the situation is in itself a special task and can be adequately treated only in a special article dealing with the subject. A few points, however, must be commented upon:

In the United States, the privilege of voting is extended only to citiens over the age of twenty-one. This provision automatically disfranchises millions of young workers under the age of twenty-one.

(To Be Continued.)

SMALLPOX ON SHIP

BOSTON, July 18.—The Steamship Belfast, from Bangor, Me., was held at quarantine for several hours here yesterday while doctors vaccinated more than 200 passengers and members of the crew, after discovery of a case of smallpox aboard. A Negro steward was taken ashore at Gallops Island for treatment.

SATURDAY EVE., JULY 21

Most Amazing Invention of the Twentieth Century!

PROFESSOR

THEREMIN

of Soviet Russia

Produces Music from the Air

ROXY BALLET

Russian and Oriental Dances

ARNOLD VOLPE, Conductor

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA OF 50 MEN

CONEY ISLAND STADIUM

Surf Avenue and West Sixth Street

TICKETS FOR SALE ALL DAY AT THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 UNION SQ.

Admission: 75c; $1.00; $1.25 and $1.50 All Seats Reserved

[illegible]EAMEN, ORGANIZE PORT COMMITTEES TO FIGHT THE SHIPPING BOSSES," CORRESPONDENT URGES

([illegible] a Seaman Correspondent.)

[illegible] shipping offices on the water[illegible] are a great menace to the [illegible] in the marine industry.

[illegible] largest of these offices is [illegible] maintained by the U. S. Shipping Board. Thru their method of keeping tabs on seamen, they are in a position to blacklist any man who they may wish to drive off their ships. This is especially true when a man complains about bad conditions or makes a fight for better conditions on board ship. When he comes ashore and goes to ship out of the Shipping Board he finds himself classed as undesirable.

The other shipping offices are maintained either by the steamship companies employing the men or by private shipping masters. The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey issue cards containing a man's record while in their employ. The private shipping masters secure their contracts for shipping seamen by supplying the men at a lower wage scale.

On the west coast the ship owners' association has its own employment bureau. There the men register and ship when their numbers are called. Each man has a discharge book which is kept by the captain of the ship. When the man quits and goes ashore, if he has demanded or in any way complained about food or working conditions, he finds his discharge book stamped as his being a bad character and this handicaps him when he applies at another ship for a job. The officers are bound to turn him down should they see his book stamped in this manner.

These conditions can only be remedied by the seamen forming themselves into Port Committees and in this manner lay the foundation for a strong, militant organization which will strive to abolish these conditions in the marine industry and have the men ship out of their own union hall.

BLACKIE.

Pocketbook Workers Suffer from Speed-up; Work 2 or 3 Days a Week, Letter Relates

[illegible]EFT WING PUTS [illegible]EMANDS BEFORE [illegible]RD CONVENTION

Shiplacoff Pleads for Bosses' Peace

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Conditions in the pocketbook industry for the majority of the workers are bad. There are workers who have not worked for as long as [illegible] years. Other work part time. The manufacturers are very arrogant and provocative. Workers working two or three days a week must work fast, according to the latest speed-up and efficiency methods. The manufacturers are daily pressing down the present standard of living.

Union Officials Do Nothing.

The union officials do not show any desire to remedy this situation or to better the conditions of the workers. On the contrary they always follow in the footsteps of the A. F. of L. leadership, by uniting with the manufacturers against the workers.

Due to the conscious effort of the union officials to intimidate the workers their militant spirit is almost broken. The workers do not take any interest in the union. Union meetings are poorly attended. At the last convention of our union only about 10 workers came as visitors out of a membership of about [illegible].

This month we are witnessing our third bi-annual "convention." It is a convention in name only, and a farce in reality. In our union no delegates to the convention are elected, where all the paid officials and various union committees get together and call themselves the convention.

Our manager, Shiplakoff, who helped Sigman and McGrady in their attempts to break the Cloakmakers' and Furriers' Unions, pursued the same policy in our union. Most of the leading left-wingers and old members of the union were suspended indefinitely and fined heavily. Workers who are not 100 per cent with the right-wingers can not run for office. Others are terrorized, taken off their jobs and fined for any little thing or for no reason at all.

At the present "convention" the left-wingers were "eliminated." This shows why at the present "convention" no concrete demands to the manufacturers were proposed. The 40-hour week, which, according to our present agreement, should have been negotiated at about this time, was not even mentioned. Instead, Shiplakoff, in his manager's report to the convention, pleads with the manufacturers to be kind to the workers, appeals for peace in the industry, and proves to the bosses statistically that it pays them better to have a union shop instead of a non-union shop. In other words, making out of our union a company union.

Left-Wing Control.

Over two years ago, before the present agreement with the manufacturers was signed, the main section of our union was headed by left-wingers. Even at their right-wing controlled "convention" the left wingers were well represented. And, as result of the growth of the left wing in our union as well as in the other union, the manufacturers were forced to give us a 10 per cent. raise in wages and promise the 40-hour week for this year.

On the event of the present "convention," the left-wing issued a journal in which they pointed out to the workers the concrete demands which must be put forth and fought for before signing the next agreement with the manufacturers.

The left-wing in the journal called upon the workers to adopt a militant policy toward the manufacturers and to rally around the left-wing demands:

1. Forty-hour week.
2. Forty-four weeks guaranteed work a year.
3. An unemployed insurance fund paid by the bosses and controlled by the union.
4. Minimum scale for the general helpers, packers, examiners and beginners.
5. One scale for the mechanics.
6. Democracy in the union.
7. Re-instatement of all suspended members.

This was a surprise to our union officials, who expected to rush the convention without any concrete demands to the manufacturers. And as a result of the left-wing demands enumerated above, Shiklakoff and his gang decided at the last session of the "convention" on July 1, to have another session three weeks later, in order also to discuss "trade questions."

—LOLEK.

[illegible] Trainmen Killed In Locomotive Explosion

[illegible]LACIER, B. C., July 18.—Three [illegible] were killed near here when the boiler of a Canadian Pacific [illegible]otive exploded.

Blesses Huge War-Machine

While Kellogg talks "peace," his war department attends to its usual business of expanding and improving its preparations for the next imperialist slaughter. Photo shows Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, daughter-in-law of the late militarist ex-president, christening a huge tri-motored plane.

FIND BOYS OF 5 SELLING PAPERS

Child Labor Laws Fail to Aid Them

WASHINGTON, July 18. — Between one-tenth and one-fifth of all newsboys found at work at night in eight cities surveyed by the U. S Children's Bureau were under 10 years of age. These cities were Washington, D. C., Atlanta, Columbus, Newark, Paterson, Omaha Wilkes-Barre and Troy. Several thousand children were included in the study.

"In each of the cities," says the bureau, "children of six and seven years, and in one city two boys five years old, sold papers despite the fact that all the cities except two had ordinances restricting the age at which children might sell paper to a minimum of ten years. One city was in a state in which the child labor law set a minimum age of 12 for newspaper selling."

The bureau points out that "Boys who sell papers all the daylight hours after their release from school have no time for wholesome recreations, for the preparation of home lessons. Furthermore, the long hours, irregular or hasty meals, exposure to inclement weather, and nights spent in distribution rooms are conditions not conducive of normal development."

There has been no improvement in these conditions, the bureau finds since the surveys made 10 and 15 years ago. Indications are that the moral and health influences surrounding boys in the newspaper-selling trade will grow worse. The minimum age for licenses to sell newspapers must be made as high as public opinion will stand, because "some of the worst features of newspaper selling are of a kind that make it as little desirable for boys of 12 to 15 as for those of 10 or 11. Where selling for children is not prohibited but is regulated, hour regulations should prohibit night work and work during school hours."

4 Forest Fires Caused by Heat in California

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18 (UP). —Hot winds and extreme dry conditions making the four forest fires in Southern California extremely dangerous, forestry officials announced today.

The fires continued to burn, but were believed by forest rangers to be under control.

More than 1,000 fire-fighters, mostly volunteers, battled the flames yesterday and last night.

Two of the fires continued to smoulder in the vicinity of San Diego, while two more burned near Los Angeles.

The fires damaged timber lands and watershed brush lands.

John Clark, rancher, was expected to die from burns received in a brush fire near San Diego.

SUES FOR DEATH OF SON.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 18.—Mrs. Judith Holanes today instituted in circuit court a suit for $10,000 damages against Gustave Thiery for the death of her son on January 26, 1927. The son was run down by a truck belonging to the company of which Thiery is president. The accident was found to have been caused by faulty brakes in the machine.

BOSSES USE SPORTS FOR OWN INTERESTS

(By a WORKER Correspondent)

The "official labor movement" of this country has neglected labor sports very much. Sports is not very important, they say. Why should they bother about sports, anyway? Sports are neglected the same as fighting for shorter hours and more pay.

On the other hand, the employers are utilizing the sports movement for their own interests.

One of the firms that promotes sports for its workers is the Textile Dyeing Company of America, Inc., at their Hawthorne, N. J., plant. They have organized a baseball team, a soccer team, tennis and other teams. The firm has, in Hawthorne, a field for baseball and soccer. Besides this it maintains a tennis court and a general recreation room. In general, this concern is willing to have sports of any kind.

The baseball team consists of firm employes, plus a son of the president of the firm. Sport is used to broaden its open-shop policy.

Recently the chamber of commerce of Paterson, N. J., issued photographs and statements concerning the sports activities of this concern. The chamber of commerce is well pleased with this policy. After all, why shouldn't it be? The means justifies the aim.

It is about time that labor should take a greater interest in sports. Sports should be used to promote trade unionism. I must say that I am overjoyed that The DAILY WORKER is devoting more attention to sports.

We must not allow the bosses to use sports for their open-shop purposes. Workers, use sports for your own benefit.

CASSELL.

Movie Director Finds Remnants of Atlantis

BERLIN, July 18.—While Director Wolkoff of the German Films Ufa was looking for a location for the filming of a new play in Tunis he dug up some old implements and arrowheads near the village of Gabls.

Dr. Borchart, an authority on the ancient Atlantis civilization, judged the remains to belong to the old and dim city of Atlantis, which is thought to have been destroyed some 3,000 years ago. Some remnants are thought to belong to the famous Poseidon Temple.

SEARCH GOLD; BALKED.

MONTREAL, Que., July 18 (UP) —James Goodwin Hall and Enos Curtain, Wall Street brokers, who failed to arrive at Lac Chibougamau in northern Quebec where they hoped to investigate gold claims, are reported to have been seen in a canoe heading for Oskelaneo.

5 AND 10c STORE GIRLS SLAVE 54 HR. WEEK FOR $11

Manager Always At Their Elbows

(By a WORKER Correspondent)

Saturday is the big day in the 5 and 10-cent store. Cash registers ring gaily in rhythm with the crooning of Black Mammie on the phonograph. The manager strolls about the aisles beaming, his eyes alert, watching, smiling.

Human Waves

The crowds come and go like mighty waves, overwhelming the salesgirls, then calm sets in, as after a storm, and there is a temporary lull.

Here a crowd looks over the "notions" counter, cleverly arranged to catch the eye. Wares are here displayed from the far ends of the globe.

"Would you like an incense burner, sir—very beautiful?" smiles the salesgirl, and immediately she burns some incense on the lap of a fat, green Buddah and slowly the smoke comes curling out of his mouth. The crowd is captivated.

"Have some nice cameos, lady, real cheap; genuine imported goods," invites another girl at the next counter.

The buzzing of the crowd, the crooning of Black Mammie and the ringing cash registers, intermingled with the tinkling of little bells, make weird music.

Sweated Tinsel

One is inclined to agree with Barnum, that there is a fool born every minute of the day when one watches the American public. It is like a child with a bright toy when faced with gaudy display. The glaring lights add luster and color to the cheap surface of products produced under the most severely exploited labor on earth. There is not a thing of intrinsic worth in this tinsel display, but the public buys—drunk with bargains, and the manager looks on and smiles.

I, too, look on at this spectacle; my feelings somewhat mingled with pity, for, after all, who are these buyers but poor workers being swindled out of their hard-earned money.

As I pause in my occupation of sweeping this vast "bazzar" I see here reflected a tragic phase of American life. My eyes take in the salesgirls moving about the oozing crowds, ever aware of the watchful eye of the manager. For fifty-two hours a week they are watched like thieves, at the end of which they receive the grand sum of $11.

Girl Slaves

I see the sixteen-year-old Italian girl, Maria, her sunken, timid eyes embedded in an olive-skinned face moving about listlessly. I wonder whether there are dreams behind that hideous mask, or have her dreams been crushed?

There is the Yankee girl from Plattsburg, who lives with an aunt; she still retains her healthy looks, but how long will it last? The Jewish girl, Esther, who carries her nose high in the air; she is waiting to be married to a lawyer and flaunts her sweetheart's college key in everybody's face. She has vowed never again to set her foot inside a 5 and 10-cent store—after she is married.

There is the other Italian girl, Ruth, with a beautiful, sweet smile on her face that radiates and warms; the customers know her and flock to her like children to their mother. Thus is life in this "great and free country."

AL SCHALK.

FIRE REVEALS HUGE STILL.

RACINE, Wis., July 18.—A fire which started in the industrial district here at 1:20 a. m. today revealed one of the largest alcohol plants found in Racine since prohibition. Firemen and police carried 24 five-gallon cans of alcohol from the building. Philip Christiano, the owner, was arrested on charges of possessing and manufacturing liquor.

French Dollars For Bratianu's Fascists

BUCHAREST, July 18.—Charles Rist, vice-governor of the Bank of France, has come to Bucharest to arrange for a loan of 300,000,000 francs to the Rumanian government, as an official representative of the French state bank.

The loan will add greatly to French prestige in the Balkans and will strengthen their position against the Italian bankers, besides gaining a strong foothold with the Bratianu government, it is thought here.

MUSICIANS HIT AT MOVIETONE

National Conference to Plan Campaign

CHICAGO, July 18 (FP)—Though union control and popular taste in Chicago minimize the menace, the Chicago Federation of Musicians will join sister locals throughout the jurisdiction of the American Federation of Musicians in the fight against the movietone and similar musical devices to dispense with living orchestras. Pres. Joseph N. Weber of the national union, with an enrollment of 80,000 members, says jobs of musicians are jeopardized by the canned music and the ear of the public is outraged as well.

Officials of the Chicago local are confident that theatre patrons will not stand for the new noise. "Imagine theatres saving $2,000 a week on orchestras," he exclaimed, "and charging the same prices to the public as before. The people won't stand for it. They want good music produced by union orchestras. We can hold our ground in Chicago but we are ready to join in any national campaign the international office initiates."

About 2,500 musicians have theatre jobs in Chicago. Thirty theatres, mostly movie houses, have installed movietones, but use them chiefly as auxiliaries and reliefs for the regular orchestras.

The national conference of the organization in New York July 22 will plan a campaign.

Whites Get Injunction Against Cemetary

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 18.—More than one hundred white people living at Frayser station opposed the location of a cemetery for Negroes near the township, which is four miles from this city. They declared that the cemetery would "hinder business," and the frequent coming of Negroes to the village in large numbers would be "an encroachment of the rights of the villagers."

A petition was submitted by those promoting the cemetery asking the court to set aside the injunction restraining them from opening the cemetery, and a counter petition was presented by the villagers.

RESTAURANT ROBBED.

BUFFALO, July 18 (UP).—Two armed bandits, their faces covered with handkerchiefs, walked into an East Buffalo restaurant shortly after noon today, backed the patrons and the proprietor against the wall, rifled the cash drawer of $2,500 and made their escape in an automobile.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 1462 R 1.

PHILA. WORKING CLASS WOMEN AID MINE RELIEF

Prepare to Hold Big Conference

(By a WORKER Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA (By Mail).—Although organized but a few weeks ago, the Women's Section of the Philadelphia Committee of the National Miners' Relief has already succeeded in doing some very splendid work, and is now getting itself ready for further activities on an enlarged scale.

A big, successful picnic, held under the auspices of this committee, has recently been held which netted a considerable sum of money that was immediately sent to the coal fields.

Thirty women have already pledged to make regular monthly payments to the Miners' Relief through this committee, and a concentrated effort is being made to secure many more women to make similar pledges.

All the affiliated organizations as well as individual members are now busy gathering food, clothes, ornaments and many other things for a big rummage sale to be held in August. A moving picture benefit for the relief of the striking miners will soon be given. Block parties in all parts of the city are to be held.

Preparations for an enlarged conference to bring in additional organizations to join this important Women's Miners' Relief Conference are now being made. This conference will soon be held and the date of its taking place will shortly be announced.

The committee urges all sympathizers to send money, clothes, food, pictures, etc., to the secretary, Jennie Cooper, at 39 N. 10th St.

C. RABIN.

Fire in B.-M. T. Sub Causes Traffic Jam

Fire, caused by a short circuit in an electric fan in the ladies' room of the B. M. T. subway station, caused a bad traffic snarl at Pacific St. and Fourth Ave. yesterday afternoon.

The station is one of the busiest traffic centers in Brooklyn.

Patrolman Charles E. Burns, on duty outside the station, saw the smoke coming out of it and turned in an alarm. The blaze was extinguished in a few minutes, but it was 20 minutes before the traffic was running smoothly again.

HOW DOES YOUR NUCLEUS WORK?
What problems is it confronted with?
What questions would you like answered?
The Communist Nucleus
What It Is
How It Works
By M. JENKS
Just off the press!
Deals with and solves the problems of your nucleus.
A real manual for work in your nucleus.
Secure Your Copy NOW!
15 Cents
Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th St.
New York City

Three Features at the Cameo

"Stark Love," "Moana" and "Birth of Films" On One Program

THIS week at the Cameo Theatre the Film Arts Guild presents an extremely interesting and intelligent motion picture program worth the time of a worker and well worth the modest expense. Three pictures feature the program. Two of them are among the finest productions of American pictures and the third is an extremely interesting bit of motion picture history.

"Stark Love" is stark realistic life of primitive mountaineer people. It is beautiful in its simplicity and interest. More than that, it deserves attention as an authentic presentation of one phase of contemporary American life, as well as being a contemporary glimpse of our log-cabin era of a hundred years ago. For it is that also. These people in the Santeetlah district of the Smoky Mountains on the border line of North Carolina and Tennessee are at the present stage a picture of early American pioneer life. It is worth seeing for a better understanding of our own history.

All the details of this life are woven into a well told, extremely dramatic story based on the life of the people. It is simply but spendidly acted by the natives themselves, none of whom have ever seen a movie or a theatre and scarcely realizing what it was all about. The picture was written and directed by Karl Brown and deserves a place as one of the fine achievements of American motion pictures.

Like "Stark Love," the showing of the beautiful "Moana" is a revival. This almost perfect picture of Samoan life, made by Robert J. Flaherty, who also made "Nanook of the North," is well worth seeing over again. It is the third time we have seen it but we are willing to go again. As a picture of primitive life and sheer natural beauty it is one of rare things in motion pictures.

To complete a most enjoyable program "The Birth of the Films" is a showing of bits of the first motion pictures made in 1895 to 1900, as well as a screen test of Charlie Chaplin, beginning his career. Every bit of it is extremely interesting and highly amusing and the sub-titles are hilarious.

The entire program at the Cameo Theatre this week is a credit to intelligent management.

PRINCIPALS OF THE FAMOUS ROXY BALLET.

Two talented members of the well-known Roxy Ballet who will feature the program at the Coney Island Stadium this Saturday night.

Foreman Recalls War, Breaks Peace Memorial

LOUVAIN, July 18.—A Belgian foreman destroyed the balcony of the memorial library given to Belgium by the United States, as a token of good-will between nations. The foreman, who had directed the building of the balcony, was just putting the finishing touches to it, when he was filled with memories of the late war and broke the pillars of the balcony with a hammer. He gave as his reason that the horrors of war are too easy to forget.

BRITISH YELLOWS REELECTED

LONDON, July 18 (UP).—Ramsay MacDonald was re-elected chairman of the parliamentary labor party today—the official leader of the party. J. R. Clynes was reelected deputy chairman. Both are to serve during the next session of parliament.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S
MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
BATTLE OF CHATEAU-THIERRY
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
Premiere Revival Showing "STARK LOVE"
also Robert Flaherty's "MOANA" and "The Birth of Films," Charlie Chaplin's first screen test

TREASURY BALANCE.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP).—The treasury net balances for July 14 was $176,668,023.44. Customs receipts this month to July 14 were $18,983,872.29.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" ———— Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

OSSES' BODY OF EW BEDFORD IN RIVE ON PICKETS

Mill Strikes to Resist Attack

Continued from Page One

ment," the union declaration says. It concludes by calling on the entire population of New Bedford to resist any attempt the mill owned city authorities may make to launch a police terror against the striking workers.

The extreme popularity of the strikers' cause among all strata of the New Bedford population has been one of the most vital factors in preventing the adoption of a policy of terror against the workers. Several attempts at attacks on workers' demonstrations, such as the police breaking up of the strike parade several weeks ago, aroused storms of indignation. But the mill owners desperation at seeing the unyielding ranks of the tens of thousands of workers, gives rise to the belief that they will now use all the oppressive machinery of the state to break the strike.

Greater Demonstrations

The New Bedford Textile Workers Union declares its policy to be "more and greater mass demonstrations to meet the coming offensive of the bosses."

* * *

Official Flourishes Gun

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 18. —Yesterday evening an official of he Nashewena Mill, named Burton, strutted to and fro before the picket line flourishing a revolver and daring the large numbers of pickets to "start something."

Burton, however, was exceedingly diligent to remain always very close to the two policemen there, who did nothing to halt the madman.

The answer of the pickets to the display was derisive laughter.

Another factor tending to prove hat the textile barons are fast losing ground is the news item carried n an employers' textile trade journal. The news item states that despite the action of the manufacturers' association in issuing a unanimously signed document denying rumors of a cleavage among their ranks, the rumor that some bosses will break away still persists. The news dispatch also admits that if he employers' intention was to weaken the ranks of the operatives uch weakening is not apparent.

The news item was written on the occasion of the announcement of the New Bedford mill bosses that they will now change their policy of silence to one of giving "their side f the case" publicity.

$10,000,000 MAY BE SMITH FUND

Kenny Holds Traction and Power Stock

Continued from Page One

Coolidge in a campaign in which here was little threat to the republican chances. This sum was the probable expenditure of only the national committee and did not take account of the enormous outlays of he state organizations and the numerous "unofficial disbursements. The present campaign will see between twenty-five and thirty millions expended by both parties, it was declared.

Unlimited Slush Fund.

There will be no limitations on he size of contributions, Lehman admitted. Asked if the present campaign expenditures would exceed hose of all previous campaigns, Lehman agreed that "there will be many factors which will make it expensive. Every state in the north, east and west will be considered debatable ground," the banker said. This was taken to mean that an intensive and nation-wide drive on a hitherto unknown scale would be made. Estimates are that $2,000,000 will be expended in New York state alone.

The contributors to the campaign will be the large corporations, it is understood. In fact the same ones who contribute to the republican host will as in other years be found in the democratic list. Observers are watching with considerable interest the extent of financial support which will be given to Smith by the traction companies, especially the B.-M. T. with whom Smith has entered in a deal to raise fares ed by the power interests. Wm. F. Kenny, old crony of Al Smith and multimillionaire contractor, has declared that he would give all he had "for love of Al." Kenny is one of the controlling stockholders in the Third Avenue Railroad now seeking a fare increase. It has also been learned that Kenny is a heavy stockholder in the Consolidated Gas Company, recently combined with the Brooklyn Edison Company, and which was able through Al Smith's upstate public service commission to secure an increase in rates two years ago.

ED. RESERVE [illegible]AISES RATES

WASHINGTON, July 18 (UP).—Federal Reserve Banks at Boston and St. Louis will establish five per cent discount rates Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

Big Boss Grafter and Son Who Inherits Cash

John M. Phillips (left), late Queens contractor, whose operations with the Tammany Hall machine in that borough cost the workers some twenty millions of dollars. The innocent looking young man at the right is Francis Phillips, his son, who is now defying the "law" in a contemptuous refusal to tell the Federal Grand Jury about a trifling $3,000,000 which is involved in the investigation.

YANKS BREEZE HOME AS BABE RUTH SOCKS 36TH

(By United Press)

Babe Ruth's 36th home run of the season with two mates on base and two out in the ninth inning gave the New York Yankees a 9 to 8 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

After fighting uphill to take the lead, the White Sox saw the game flit away on the wings of Ruth's drive into the right field bleachers.

The Yankees played miserably afield, making six errors. Mark Koenig, Yankee shortstop, was the principal offender, with three miscues.

Howard Ehmke held the Detroit Tigers to six hits, the Philadelphia Athletics winning, 5 to 1. George Haas, rookie centre fielder of the Athletics, had a perfect day at the plate, getting three hits in three trips.

* * *

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Brooklyn Robins twice by one run, 11 to 10 and 2 to 1. The double victory tightened the Reds' grip on fourth place and left them only 5½ games behind the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, who were idle.

* * *

YESTERDAY'S SCORES

American League

New York 9, Chicago 8.
Cleveland 6, Boston 5.
Philadelphia 5, Detroit 1.

National League

Cincinnati 11, Brooklyn 10 (1st).
Cincinnati 2, Brooklyn 1 (2nd).
Pittsburgh 16, Boston 3.

STANDING OF CLUBS

National League

	Won	Lost	PC.
St. Louis	55	32	.632
Chicago	52	37	.584
New York	46	34	.575
Cincinnati	50	38	.568
Brooklyn	44	40	.524
Pittsburgh	41	40	.506
Boston	24	56	.300
Philadelphia	21	56	.273

American League

	Won	Lost	PC.
New York	64	23	.736
Philadelphia	51	35	.593
St. Louis	47	41	.534
Chicago	41	47	.471
Cleveland	39	49	.443
Washington	36	50	.419
Detroit	34	50	.405
Boston	34	51	.400

* * *

PHILA. & HOSIERY WORKERS FORM BASEBALL LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—Branch No. 1 of the American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers has formed a workers' baseball league comprising 7 teams. Teams are formed by the shop associations and the games are played in the evening in the Kensington section of the city.

The teams have been playing from the beginning of the season, though without formal organization or regular schedule. Officers of the local have endorsed these workers' teams and are encouraging the formation of others.

* * *

BAR SUNDAY BALL IN HAGERSTOWN, MD.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 18 (UP).—The death knell of Sunday baseball in Hagerstown was sounded here today when 11 members of the Hagerstown team, through a lawyer, entered pleas of guilty to charges of "working on Sunday." The men paid fines.

By an agreement between club officials and state's attorney no more Sunday games will be played here, it was announced.

* * *

IZZY SCHWARTZ TO MEET GRANDE FRIDAY NIGHT

NEW YORK, July 18 (UP).—Corporal Izzy Schwartz of New York, recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as world's flyweight champion, will meet Frisco Grande, Buffalo Filippino, in their twice-postponed 12-round bout at the Rockaway (L. I.) Stadium Friday night.

MORGAN RETAINS BOXING CROWN

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, July 18 (UP).—Tod Morgan of Seattle, Wash., retained his junior lightweight title here tonight by defeating Eddie (Cannonball) Martin of Brooklyn in 15 rounds. Morgan won the decision in one of the bloodiest fights seen this season.

BUFFALO, July 18 (UP).—Two persons were killed and two others were injured today when a touring car in which they were riding was struck by a New York Central train at Clarence, near here.

MOSCOW WORLD CONGRESS OPENS

Delegates From Many Lands Attend

Continued from Page One

all nations. Long live international revolution."

After his address the delegates rose and sang the Internationale.

Following comrades were elected to the Presidium: Bell, Great Britain; Bucharin, Soviet Union; Cachin, France; Chitarov, Young Communist International; Foster, United States; Carlandi, Italy; Humbertdroz, Switzerland; Jilek, Tchekoslovakia; Katayama, Japan; Kilboom, Scandinavia; Kuusinen, Finland; Lacorda, South America; Lenski, Poland; Losovski, Red International of Trade Unions; Lovestone, United States; Manuilski, Soviet Union; Molotov, Soviet Union; Murphy, Great Britain; Manavar, Indonesia; Piatnitzki, Soviet Union; Remmele, Germany; Saris, Greece; Schueller, Young Communist International; Semard, France; Sierra, Italy; Stalin, Soviet Union; Stankov, Balkans; Strachow, China; Likuang, China; Thaelmann, Germany; Sekander, India; Koschieva, Poland; Zapotocky, Tcheckoslovakia; and Clarazetkin, Germany.

Following agenda proposal of Remmele was adopted: The Executive Committee of the Communist International report by Bucharin, The Executive Committe of the Young Communist International report by Schueller, the International Control Commission report by Stutchka, the Imperialist War by Bell, the Communist International program by Bucharin, the Colonial Revolutionary Movement by Ruusine and Mercoli, the Situation in the Soviet Union by Varga and Manuilski.

Various delegates then addressed the congress from the Communist Parties of China, Japan, South America, Mexico, India, and the American Negroes. A representative of the Moscow garrison spoke amidst storms of applause.

A delegation of Moscow factories brought greetings to the congress. Cachin answered greetings on behalf of the Presidium. In name, Japanese, American, and British delegations, Katayama proposed an address of appeal to Chinese workers.

METAL WORKERS BREATHE POISON

(By a Worker Correspondent)

The 250 workers in the Shapiro and Aronson, Metal Co. work under very unsanitary conditions. The young workers between the ages of 16 and 19 years old make 12 to 14 dollars per week while workers 20 years old and over earn $20 to $25 per week.

On the 5th floor the different metal and chemical materials we produce, poison the air we breath. If the room was larger and the ceiling higher, the hazards would not be so dangerous. We are only allowed one-half hour for lunch and therefore have no chance to go out in the open air and must rush thru without lunch in order to be back to work on time.

The organized workers today work only 8 hours per day while we work 8¾ hours. We have a 48 hour week while the organized workers have a 40 an d44 hour week. They have a full hour for lunch while we have only a half hour.

It is only thorugh organization that we can better our conditions get shorter hours and more wages.

We must organize floor committees which will be able to take the first step in bettering our conditions and who will help in the organization of the entire factory.

We want to hear from other workers through The DAILY WORKER.

GROCERY CLERKS CHOSE OFFICERS; 2 FIRMS SETTLE

Members Endorse Left Wing Leadership

With very few exceptions, the entire leadership of the Retail Grocery, Fruit and Dairy Clerks' Union will be re-elected to office for another term, according to the overwhelming sentiment exhibited by the membership in renominating their officers. Most of the candidates for the union's important posts remain uncontested. The nominations were held Tuesday night at a mass membership meeting in Stuyvesant Casino, after the officers had delivered a report of the union's organizing activities.

Members Endorse Strike

The members unanimously endorsed the report of the strike among the fruit store clerks.

Announcement that a banquet is being prepared to celebrate on August 3 the first anniversary of the union's existence outside the United Hebrew Trades, was received with enthusiasm. The union has severed its affiliation with the United Hebrew Trades after the reactionaries in control tried to destroy the union because of its militant left wing leadership. The union's strength and membership have since grown tenfold.

In completing the nominating work, the membership chose an Election and Objection Committee, which is to meet Friday evening immediately after work in the union office, 117 Second Ave. All nominees are called upon to appear before the committee if their names are to appear on the official ballot. Elections will take place in two weeks.

Firms Sign Agreements

Max Budig Dairy Co., 165 E. 156th St., Bronx, and the Handler Bros. Dairy Co., 862 Hunts Point Road, Bronx, yesterday signed agreements with the union, according to an announcement issued today. The firms agreed to grant all conditions called for in the union agreement to the clerks in their stores.

CLOAK WORKERS MEET TONIGHT

Active Unionists to Plan Big Drive

All active members of the cloak and dressmakers' union have been called to a meeting tonight for the discussion and formulation of plans to be carried out in the organization drive which the Joint Board intends to launch in August.

An announcement issued by the Joint Board yesterday, declares that the meeting will take place not in Manhattan Lyceum, as has hitherto been reported, but in Stuyvesant Casino, Second Ave. and 9th St., immediately after work.

Plans for the drive have already been drafted by the local committee of the N. O. C. and by the Joint Board. After discussing the reports of the union leaders, preliminary steps to erect the organization campaign machinery will be taken by the meeting.

Appoint New Ministers to Bulgaria and Mexico

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 18.—President Coolidge today appointed Warren D. Robbins as Minister to Salvadore and H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld as Minister to Bulgaria.

Robbins, now Counselor at Rome, succeeds Jefferson Caffery, resigned and Schoenfeld, Counselor at Mexico City, succeeds Charles S. Wilson, recently transferred to Roumania.

CARPENTERS' UNION
LOCAL 2090
Meets every Thursday, 8 P. M., at Labor Temple, 243 East 84th St. Office and headquarters are in the Labor Temple.

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

New Orleans Launches Pre-Election Clean-Ups

NEW ORLEANS, July 18.—New Orleans is being swept by squads of patrolmen and detectives, in the usual pre-election "cleanup" for the purpose of polling more votes in the fall, carrying out the orders of Police Superintendent Thomas Healey, to "clean out the gamblers."

Police reported 28 arrests today, a small percentage of the alleged gamblers, lottery sellers, confidence men, and hand bookers picked up since the "clean-up" was launched.

TRIPLE MUSICAL AFFAIR SATURDAY

Great Program at Big Coney Concert

Continued from Page One

Ivanov; Fantasy from Bizet's Carmen; and Marche Slave, by Tschaikovsky.

The second concert will be a dance concert by the famous Roxy Ballet, under the direction of A. Nelle, former partner of Pavlowa. Dancing is an art which has always been closely allied to music and the dancing of the Roxy Ballet is certain to blend harmoniously into the mood of the evening. The program of the Roxy Ballet will be: Gypsy Dance and Mazourka from Delibes' ballet, Coppelia; and dances from Grounod's Faust.

Theremin!

There will be an intermission of 10 minutes after the program of the Roxy Ballet and then the third concert, the greatest of them all will be put on: Prof. Leon Theremin, whom thousands of workers have been waiting to hear with the greatest eagerness, will demonstrate his new invention by which music of unsurpassed beauty is drawn out of the air. Prof. Theremin will perform a regular concert program, playing both solos and with the accompaniment of the Volpe Symphony Orchestra.

The solo numbers of the great Soviet scientist and musician will be Night by Rubinstein and Etude by Scriabine. With orchestra accompaniment he will play Golterman's Concerto in A Minor and The Swan by Saint-Saens.

Three concerts for the price of one, including Prof. Theremin, the marvel of the century. Workers who have not yet bought tickets will most certainly be disappointed if they wait until the last minute. Get your tickets at once at the office of The DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square.

Volunteers Needed For Stadium Concert Work

Five hundred volunteer workers are wanted by the DAILY WORKER to help organize the Coney Island Stadium concert at which Leon Theremin and Volpe's orchestra will perform, on Saturday.

All those who volunteer to help should report at The DAILY WORKER business office, 26-28 Union Square, (second floor) immediately. It is very important.

Worker Dies In Blast In Peru Hoodoo Mine

PERU, Ill., July 18. — Anton Shimkus, one of the few men induced to work in the mine shaft here, died of injuries he received after a discharge of dynamite shot. The explosion caught Shimkus and buried him under several tons of coal. Shimkus was 45 years of age.

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation, Automobile, Accident, Health.

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Telephone Stagg 5356
Dr. J. C. HOFFER
Surgeon Dentist
287 South 5th St., near Marcy Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Proletarian prices for proletarians

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

Workers Party Activities

Speakers Conference.

A speakers conference at which the problems and tactics of various phases of our Party election campaign will be discussed, will be held Saturday, July 21, at 26 Union Sq. 5th floor at 2 p. m. Comrade Benjamin will lead the discussion on "The Democratic Party Platform." All Party open air speakers and all members of section speaking classes, all section, sub-section and unit agitprop directors must be present at this conference if they are to participate intelligently in the Party election campaign.

* * *

Joint Industrial Conference of Sections 2 & 3.

A joint industrial conference of Sections 2 and 3 will be held on Tuesday, July 24, 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All unit and subsection industrial organizers as well as representatives of the leading committees of the Party fractions of the I. L. G. W. U., Furriers, Millinery, Fancy Leather Goods and Office Workers must attend. A district representative will be present.

* * *

Section 5 Agitprop.

Section 5 (Bronx) will hold a section agitprop campaign conference this evening at 8 p. m. at 2075 Clinton Avenue. All unit agitprops, DAILY WORKER agents, literature agents, as well as all campaign committees of each unit and of the Section Executive Committee must attend. All aspects of the campaign, as well as the question of the reading circles will be considered.

* * *

The Executive Committee of the Working Women's Federation will meet this evening at 7:30 p. m. sharp, at the Labor Temple 14th St. and Second Ave. in Room 32.

All Section Campaign managers must hand in reports on signatures and get material needed at the district office on Thursdays of every week.

* * *

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

Labor and Fraternal

Downtown I. L. D. Meet.

The Downtown Branch of the International Labor Defense will hold its meeting tonight at 8 p. m. at 35 East Second St. All members must attend.

* * *

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

* * *

Workers School Outing.

All comrades interested in soccer or swimming or both are invited to attend the Workers School Sport Outing on Sunday, July 22. We meet at 242nd Street subway station, Van Cortlandt Park at 8:30 sharp.

* * *

Young Workers Social Culture Club.

A membership meeting of Young Workers Social Club will be held today at 8 p. m. at 118 Bristol St. near Pitkin Ave., Brooklyn.

* * *

Volunteers For I. L. D.

Volunteers are wanted at the National Office of the International Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 402, anytime between 9:30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

* * *

Workers Culture.

The Workers Culture Club of Bath Beach will have an Outing Sunday, July 22nd, 9 a. m. at 1940 Benson Ave.

* * *

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

LEVINE WRECKS MACHINE

CURTISS FIELD, L. I., July 18 (UP).—Charles A. Levine wrecked his monoplane Columbia here last night and narrowly escaped serious injury. The plane was badly smashed, but Levine and his companion, "Major" Fleming, escaped with only bruises. The accident occurred when the first trans-ocean airplane passenger made his third unsuccessful attempt to land after a poor take-off.

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

BEGIN NEW YORK SIGNATURE DRIVE

State Campaign Now In Full Swing

Continued from Page One

mobilize the Party for the signature drive.

Campaign in Swing.

The campaign to put the Workers Party on the ballot in New York City is now in swing. Campaign committees have been elected to supervise the drive in the various section headquarters established for this purpose.

Section 7, Boro Park, was the first to open the drive in the city, last Sunday. With a minimum of 1,500 signatures necessary to place the candidate in the 9th assembly district, Kings, on the ballot, Section 7 believes that an early start is essential. Party members living in Bath Beach, Bensonhurst and Coney Island are expected to assist the Boro Park Section.

Section 1, Downtown, has already begun sending out committees and declares it will be the first to reach its quota.

Section 8, Brownsville, has made a careful study of its district. It is determined to put the candidates in the 22nd and 23rd assembly district on the ballot in a short time and then to start on signatures for a candidate in the 18th assembly district.

Section 5, Bronx, has set Monday, July 23, as the date for the opening of its drive.

Harlem and Williamsburg are mobilizing their membership in preparation for an intensive campaign.

Quota: 100 Signatures.

The quota for each Party member is 100 signatures. Only the determined efforts of the membership will place the candidates of the Workers Party on the ballot. Every Party member must report at the designated headquarters.

On the Party Days designated by the district, July 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and August 1, special efforts will be made to rally the Party members behind the drive.

The following is a list of headquarters in the city where petitions may be obtained:

Section 1, Downtown Manhattan, 60 St. Marks Place.

Section 4, Harlem, (a) 143 East 103rd Street. (b) 200 West 135th St., Room 210.

Section 5, Bronx, (a) 2075 Clinton Avenue. (b) 2700 Bronx Park East. (c) 715 East 138th Street.

Section 6, Williamsburg, (a) 29 Graham Ave., Brooklyn. (b) 46 Ten Eyck St., Brooklyn.

Section 7, Boro Park, 1373 43rd St., Broklyn.

Section 8, Brownsville, 154 Watkins St., Brooklyn.

Section 9, Queens, Bohemian Hall, Woolsey St. and 2nd Avenue.

SHOE WORKERS TO HOLD PICNIC ON JULY 22ND

Expect Thousands at July 22nd Affair

A picnic, which is being held to celebrate the unification of all former groups of shoe workers under the banner of the new organization, the Independent Shoe Workers Union of Greater New York, will be held Sunday, July 22, at Hauses Park and Casino, 463 Flushing Ave., Astoria, Long Island.

The increasing pressure of the bosses in the trade against the living standards of the 40,000 New York shoe workers, the fearful speed-up and increase in hours under which some workers toil 90 hours per week has made organization sentiment particularly strong during the past months, leaders of the union declare.

The picnic is to signalize the beginning of a new period in the activities of the workers in the industry, it is declared.

A first-class concert program has been arranged. There will also be dancing, good music and refreshments. A large turnout is expected.

"Labor" Secretary Distorts Figures On Unemployment

WASHINGTON, July 18.—In a transparently misleading announcement Secretary of Labor Davis today heralded "a distinctly favorable" outlook for both employers and employees this summer and fall.

He called attention to the fact that employment in factories was greater in June than in May for the first time in five years, but the republican politician failed to explain that the slight increase is only of June over May while general employment levels are lower than any year since 1921.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

International Outing
To Aid Class War Prisoners and Their Families
Saturday, August 11, 1928
PLEASANT BAY PARK, BRONX.
ATHLETICS—JAZZ BAND—OPEN AIR DANCING GAMES—TORCH LIGHT PARADE—MASS SCENE—REFRESHMENTS.
Movies Will Be Taken at the Park.
Admission 35 cents
Auspices: International Labor Defense New York Section
DIRECTIONS: Take Bronx Park Subway or L to 177th St., then take Union Port Car to end of line. Free busses to park.
TICKETS on sale at: Workers' Center and I.L.D., Room 422, 799 Broadway.

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months
Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor..............................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor..............................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Workers!
For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!

Dwight Morrow Loaded the Gun

> "I killed Obregon because I wanted Christ, the king, to reign completely, not partially."
>
> —Statement of Obregon's murderer, who assumes the name "Escapulario," a word applied to a certain "holy cloth" used in religious ceremonies.

Again the assassin's revolver speaks for reaction, for the cause of clerical counter-revolution. This time in Mexico. The weapon of individual terror, of political assassination, appears once more in a long series of incidents as a characteristic weapon of reaction.

But if the darkest forces in Mexico, based on landlordism and clerical privilege, have murdered General Obregon, it does not necessarily follow that Obregon at the time of his death represented the forces of progress for the Mexican masses. Stupidity, blind inability to estimate social phenomena and the trend of history is characteristic of the type of reaction represented by the attempted counter-revolution in Mexico leading to the assassination of Obregon.

When the counter-revolution, encouraged and financed by Wall Street interests, was organized and launched by the Mexican church and landlords, immediately directed to the overthrow of the Mexican government headed by Calles, it was the duty of the workers and peasants of Mexico to rise against the counter-revolution. They did this with magnificent courage, and the military power of the counter-revoluton was destroyed.

But when the workers and peasants kept Calles and Obregon from being overturned by military counter-revolution, that was no guarantee that Calles and Obregon would be faithful to the workers and peasants. United States imperialism, seeing that the impracticability of the attempt to overthrow the Mexican government at that particular time through military force, resorted to the more subtle tactics of direct pressure of the big New York banks combined with diplomatic pressure of the United States government.

Dwight Morrow, the Morgan ambassador from Washington, was the intermediary who exercised the strongest corrupting influence upon Obregon. Morrow interceded with Obregon directly for "peace" with the clerical reaction; Morrow wanted Obregon to base himself upon clerical landlordism and no longer to be dependent upon the vigilant and ever more militant and "unreliable" working class and peasantry. As long as Obregon had to depend upon militant workers and peasants against the priests and landlords, Wall Street would be inconvenienced in trying to use Obregon as a policeman of imperialism to suppress the Mexican workers and peasants for exploitation by United States capital.

Ambassador Morrow in approaching Obregon held in one hand the threat of military aggression and in the other hand the bribe of loans and the corrupting favors which petty-capitalist politicians such as Obregon find it hard to resist.

Before the assassin's bullet laid out Obregon as an enemy of the clerical-landlord reaction, Obregon had already shown many indications that he had himself gone over to the cause of reaction.

There is every reason to believe that Morrow had already succeeded. Vague intimations and half-denied rumors of reconciliation between Obregon and the Catholic hierarchy were accompanied by sharper repressions of the working class by the Mexican government. The disgusting imperialist orgy in connection with the flight of Lindbergh to Latin-America, the failure of Mexico to fulfill its historical role as leader of the anti-imperialist struggle of Latin-America as evidenced in the slavish capitulation at the Havana conference, followed by the surrender-flight of the Mexican aviator Carranza—all go to show that Obregon had capitulated to the coalition of Mexican reaction and United States imperialism prior to his murder by the dark forces of clerical reaction.

• • •

United States capitalist newspapers are now speculating on what will happen next in Mexico. To the Wall Street capitalists this means nothing more than the problem of how they can control Mexico through other instruments now that Obregon, whom they had practically signed up as their agent, is no more.

But to the workers and peasants of Mexico there is no uncertainty as to what will happen [illegible] in the main outline. It will be a bigger [illegible] fiercer, more [illegible] struggle of the United States financiers and government to enslave the Mexican masses with new instruments. For the Mexican workers and peasants it will be necessary to mobilize every resource of all Latin-America, not corrupted to United States imperialism, to fight that imperialism.

With the situation as tense as it already was, the assassination of Obregon is bound to mark a new stage in the struggle, and all active elements must and will move to strengthen their positions.

One thing there cannot be: Peace between United States imperialism and the Latin-American masses whom it regards as its slaves. The nature of imperialism is such that it is impossible for a nation in the stage of economical development of Mexico to exist in the shadow of the big Wall Street imperialism without struggling for its very life. In the earlier stages of United States imperialism, the bloody tyrant Diaz for more than thirty years bartered his country to the Wall Street pirates. After Diaz was overthrown in 1911, Mexico was kept in bloody turmoil by the deliberate intrigues of United States, British and other imperialists. Its location on the border of the United States, together with its natural resources, were the inescapable object of this interference.

War and epidemics of assassination will be visited upon Mexico by its Wall Street exploiters until the day when Mexico successfully fulfills its historic role as the leader of and mobilizer of Latin-America to throw off the yoke of United States imperialism. If a clerical fanatic fired the shot that killed Obregon, it was Dwight W. Morrow, Morgan's man, that loaded the gun.

"Peace"

While every nation in the world is preparing for the coming world war, Kellogg, secretary of state, of the most piratical of the imperialist powers, is peddling among his fellow capitalist statesmen in Europe his "plan for outlawing war." Kellogg's "antiwar" plan is recommended as an excellent dope with which any capitalist statesman can lull the working class of his own nation to sleep in illusions of peace while the same capitalist statesmen speed up the furious pace toward war. Social-Democratic politicians are especially good buyers for this useful commodity.

Abraham Lincoln, once requested by a soap manufacturer to write a recommendation of his soap, wrote: "This is a satisfactory soap for people who are satisfied with this kind of soap."

Kellogg's plan is a perfectly peaceful plan for all peoples who would be peaceful anyway. For capitalist imperialist nations in this epoch of world-wars to go through mock ceremonies of acceptance of this plan, is simply to play a murderous joke on the masses they are preparing to send to war. What the text of Kellogg's agreement is does not matter in the slightest—there would be and will be war made by the imperialist nations absolutely regardless of any words that may be written on any piece of paper. But even the text gives the sardonic farce away. The essential text is:

ARTICLE I.

The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

ARTICLE II.

The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts, of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them shall never be sought except by pacific means.

Meantime the Sixth Congress of the Communist International has opened its sessions in Moscow and will deal in real earnest with the questions of the coming world war. No camouflage will cover its utterances and plans. Imperialist world war is coming rapidly and with absolute certainty, and the workers of the world will be told so in plain, truthful analysis. They will also be told what it is necessary to do in order that the imperialist war between nations shall be transformed into the war between classes and the overthrow of capitalism, without which there can be no end of war.

Kellogg's lies are competing with the drastic and effective work of the Communist parties of all countries in mobilizing the working class against the coming imperialist war.

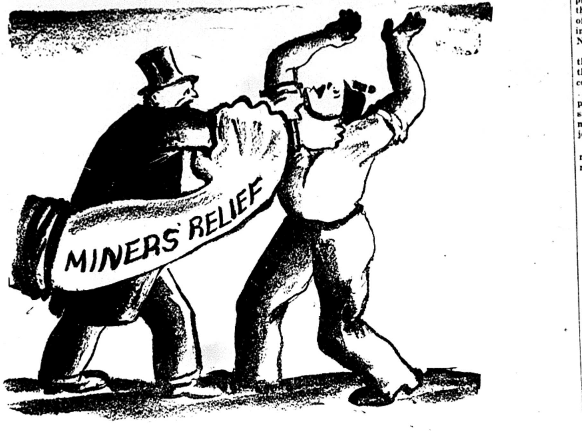
Kellogg will lose in the competition.

The workers in the United States must strengthen as rapidly as possible their revolutionary party, the Workers (Communist) Party, the American section of the Communist International which carries on the struggle against imperialist war.

Vote Communist, and join the Workers (Communist) Party.

STOP HIM!

By M. Pass



The Story of a Legal Crime

Frame-up of Max Hoelz, German Communist Leader by Class Courts

By W. D.

IN the history of legal injustice the case of Max Hoelz must occupy a special place. On the 22nd of June, 1921, an "exceptional court" sentenced Max Hoelz to hard labor for life and to a permanent loss of all civil rights. The public prosecutor had demanded the death sentence. With the exception of that little group of our contemporaries whose aim is to justify under all circumstances all legal iniquities imposed upon supporters of the left-wing movement, no one in Germany now believes that Max Hoelz is guilty of murder. The indictment charged Max Hoelz with murder, the court found him guilty of killing. Even if the bona fides of the court are granted, nevertheless there was frivolous zealousness in preparing the indictment. By the fact that the sentence of the court is in operation down to the present day, the case of Max Hoelz becomes a collective, subjective and political crime. The preliminary to the trial the accompanying circumstances, the procedure of the trial and the obstinate prevention of any retrial, all these things make the case of Max Hoelz more than out of the ordinary.

Story of His Life.

Max Hoelz was the son of a peasant. He was brought up religiously went to work as a farm hand and very early showed more than usual intelligence. An engineer sent him to England to work as a sort of apprentice in a technical bureau. Returning to Germany later on Hoelz failed to find work as an engineer and was compelled to go as a manservant. In his spare time he prepared himself and saved up enough money to permit him to attend a technical high school. But then the war broke out and prevented him Caught up in the wave of mad patriotism which swept over Germany in 1914 as over all other countries plunging into the mass-murder. Hoelz volunteered and joined a Saxon cavalry regiment. During the war he distinguished himself as a despatch rider. His experiences during the war opened his eyes to the terrible crime of capitalist society crushed his petty-bourgeois ideas and made a rebel out of him. According to his own statements, however, he only became a Marxist and a Communist as a result of study in prison after his sentence. "My activity as a rebel group leader, as a putchist was wrong," admits Hoelz, but his acts were great nevertheless, and the proletariat needs men of such courage, resource and passionate enthusiasm for the cause as Max Hoelz.

After the war had come to an end Hoelz became a member of an unemployed workers' committee in Falkenstein in Vogtland. The impoverishment of the unemployed workers was terrible. A demonstration of these workers placed Max Hoelz at their head and demanded food and clothing. The refusal of the bourgeoisie was answered by Hoelz and a small band of armed men he had collected around him by force. The authorities and the factory workers had to give way and do what Hoelz required of them His activity and his name spread like wildfire throughout the whole of Germany. The bourgeoisie trembled at his name. The Reichswehr (Germany army) were mobilized against him. Hoelz made his escape against tremendous odds Later on, he appeared again under a false name in Saxony agitating amongst the workers of the famous Leuna works for an insurrection.

In March, 1920 reactionary militarists attempted to overthrow the German Republic (Kapp Putch). The government fled from Berlin and all over Germany the workers declared a general strike. In the Ruhr district and in Vogtland armed struggles took place between the Kapp troops and the workers. The news of the fighting in his own home in Vogtland brought Max Hoelz back to his own people where he was welcomed with tremendous enthusiasm. The mass will made him their military leader. Under the leadership of Hoelz the workers became the masters of Vogtland New terrors were in store for the bourgeoisie, Hoelz forced them to pay the costs of the struggle. The mobilization and concentration of 50,000 Reichswehr was necessary to defeat Hoelz and his poorly armed troops of workers. Hoelz and a number of other proletarian fighters escaped into Czechoslovakia. An official request of the German government for the extradition of Hoelz was rejected by the Czechoslovakia government on the ground that the offenses committed by Hoelz and his supporters were committed from purely political motives.

March Insurrection.

Then came the March insurrection in central Germany in 1921, a spontaneous rising of the workers oppressed and provoked to an intolerable pitch. Hoelz hurried from his exile to the scene of the struggle ignoring the blood money the German government had placed upon his head. Once again he became the indisputed leader of the struggle Hoelz himself was always at the hottest part of the fighting. He always strived to avoid unnecessary brutalities and to maintain a proletarian military discipline. A mass mobilization of military and armed police and volunteers crushed the rising. The vengeance of the police students and volunteer bourgeois was bloody. Blood lust and brutality were allowed free rein amongst the unarmed workers. Murder and violence took place everywhere. The investigation committee instituted by the Prussian Diet has masses of proofs for this reign of terror murder and violence. The arm of the law makes no attempt to reach the brutal murderers who brought unspeakable suffering to thousands of working class families. But as long as Max Hoelz was still at liberty the blood lust of the bourgeoisie was not stilled. The bourgeois press howled for the head of Max Hoelz. And an army of police and spies finally delivered him up to "justice." But there was not enough evidence to please them. The Berlin police presidium then publicly offered a reward of 50,000 marks for information which would lead to the conviction of Max Hoelz! Such a thing was unparalleled in the history of even bourgeois "justice." But what did that matter? The main thing is that it served its purpose.

Frame-up Victim.

During the fighting, a well-known monarchist and rich landowner named Hess had been shot dead by the troops of Max Hoelz. A witness came forward, attracted by the 50,000 marks and declared that Max Hoelz personally had fired the shot which killed Hess. The widow of Hess supported the testimony, but only in the second examination after she had been properly prepared and influenced by the criminal police. In her first examination Frau Hess declared that she had seen no one actually shoot, she had only seen a man from behind who was carrying a rifle. That was no use to the representatives of "justice," so the police took care of Frau Hess and she was suddenly able to declare at the second examination that Hoelz was the man she had seen and that he had not carried a rifle but a revolver! At the instructions of Hoelz a number of shots were fired, she declared. Since then, however, it has been proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that Frau Hess was in the house at the time and could not possibly have seen the killing which took place in the courtyard. It has also been proved that the other witness, the man thirsty for the 50,000 marks, named Uebe could not possibly have seen the killing of Hess from the place where he (Uebe) was admittedly standing at the time Added to this, the exceptional court declared that the killing had been carried out by a number of people and not by Max Hoelz alone. The defending lawyer of Max Hoelz demanded that a uniform trial take place, as this would undoubtedly have proved the innocence of Hoelz in connection with the killing of Hess. The exceptional court refused this, however, and in another trial before another court a second worker was tried and sentenced to 7½ years hard labor for the killing of Hess. This worker was sentenced upon the evidence of Frau Hess and died afterwards in prison. Both he and Max Hoelz both acknowledged all their political activity proudly but both denied energetically having fired at Hess. All the other offenses have long since been amnestied. On the fragile basis of paid evidence the sentence mentioned was passed on Max Hoelz and he has been excluded from all the amnesties which have taken place since.

"Evidence" Withdrawn.

The injustice of the sentence on Hoelz for the killing of Hess is made still more clear by the following facts: About a year ago the miner Freihe, a follower of Max Hoel in 1921, came forward and declared that he had killed Hess, describing the killing in convincing detail. He had confessed to the killing also shortly afterwards in prison in the presence of a number of other people including the man Uebe, who afterwards became the star witness for the prosecution against Hoelz. These others had advised him, Friehe, to keep quiet to save himself as Hoelz would in any case get a life sentence. Friehe then held his tongue and Uebe gave evidence against Hoelz. In October the widow of the killed man, Hess, withdrew her evidence against Hoelz and Friehe gave himself up to the police for the killing of Hess. All to no purpose. Max Hoelz remained in prison, the examination of Friehe was deliberately dragged out interminably. The Reichstag interfered No use. And then in November 1927 the court announced like a bombshell that the examination of Friehe had revealed no cause for a retrial of the Hoelz case! This was the decision of the reactionary court although everyone who has had anything to do with the matter, politicians, jurists, professors of jurisprudence, lawyers, etc., are convinced of the innocence of Max Hoelz.

HANdOuTS

Introduction of American religious procedure into Tibet is indicated in the following lines from the report of Professor Nicholas Roerich now in Tibet to the Buddhist Center of New York:

"Here are high Lamas, who, on their sacred beads, are calculating their commercial accounts, occupied completely with thoughts of profit . . . Lamas, 'teachers of the people,' tell your fortune for compensation according to the haunches of mutton or dice or on sacriligious objects. . ."

These Lamas surrounded with mutton and money understand the real value of religion.

• • •

Fears Females

The noble features shown above belong to A. B. See. He's a Brooklyn elevator manufacturer not an alphabet. He has just made himself ludicrous by the publication of a book entitled "Schools" in which he expresses such 17th century thoughts as the following: "Women have an inherent desire to be ruled, and the man who does not rule his wife does her an injustice." When a wife chases a hen-pecked husband into his study these are the kind of thoughts he consoles himself with.

• • •

Gems of Learning

W. Lawrence Saunders, 2nd, National Aeronautic Association:—"It seems to be the opinion of many that these test flights are made for the sole purpose of establishing new records. This is not so. These altitude flights are made to test the fighting ability of seaplanes carrying a war load, which is equivalent to a load of bombs and machine guns. In time of war all fighting between planes is done at high altitudes and the plane that can attain the greatest altitude, of course, has the advantage over all others." Frank about it, isn't he?

M. Stephen Lauzanne, in the Paris Matin:—"In one word, M. Hoover is the first business man in a country of the biggest business men in the world. Perhaps he may never move crowds with his eloquence nor the world with his declarations in fourteen points. But it is certain that, with him as President, America will never suffer cold, nor hunger, nor privation." American capitalists will not.

H. C. Normington, Insurance Manager of London Auto Insurance Firm:—"With regard to the Jews, the subject is very difficult, but it is better to put the matter frankly. In a great number of cases when Jews hire a car they pack it with families and children and drive off for a joyous day's outing in an irresponsible way, not caring a straw about the car, because it is insured. They hire a car for the day and get the absolute maximum out of it." Those naughty Jewish pipple.

Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works: "The paramount issue of the presidential campaign is business and the protective tariff to protect the people of the eastern part of the United States, where 42 per cent of the population lives." And 2 per cent benefited by the protective tariff

The Steel Trust Enslaves Its Workers

Men Work Under Guards Like Prisoners; Poverty and Misery Prevail

(Continued.)

Political Rule in the Town.

The whole town is ruled by, a triumvirate: the priest, the bootlegger and the foremen of the mill All are Ku Klux Klan and are on the payroll of the steel magnates The mayor himself is a stockholder in the company, a Klu Kluxer and a bootlegger. Likewise all the other officials down to the lowest post.

There is no independent social institution in town; everything is under the control of the company there is no meeting place or printing place that is not under the control of the Klan; every child must belong to the Boy or Girl Scouts. There is also a women's organization. The president of all these children's and women's organization is a woman, a Mrs. Worton, who is the wife of one of the board of directors of the company. The foremen, the policemen, the spy, and saloon keepers rule the men in the mill. The priest, the Ku Klux Klan rule the women and children. Thus the rule of the steel trust dominates the slaves completely.

The only bank in town belongs to the company. As soon as the workers begin to save some money the mill is immediately shut off or works only part time. The object of this is to keep the workers always on the level of dependence.

Company Detectives.

In every narrow street, in every saloon, there can always be found a whole squad of company detectives. Every new face coming into town is immediately hunted out and watched.

The post office is directly connected with the mill magnates. If any worker receives mail which bears the slightest indication of a workers' organization immediately this is reported to the company. I have visited workers' homes, spoken with various workers and find they would be glad to read The DAILY WORKER, but "How could I take The DAILY WORKER," said one "Just as soon as I receive it the post office will notify the company and I will lose my job and will be driven out of my home. What shall I do? Here is my donation of $5.00. It is hard for me to give this but with my donation I desire to express my hearty feeling for the only workers' paper, but at the same time I do not want my name mentioned."

Our Party is "illegal" there but our comrades are doing good work. No hall can be rented for any entertainment which bears a workers' name. No permit for a hall can be obtained unless vouched for by a priest. At all times a gentlemen's agreement seems to exist between the steel company's policemen and the A. F. of L. bureaucrats. The following fact will serve as an example.

For Relief.

An affair of a certain Croatian Church society was held. Due to some progressive members in this society they decided to have miners appear at their affair and appeal for funds. As soon as these two miners in their mine clothes appeared in the town the company police stopped them and asked them if they endorsed the Reds or the A. F. of L. When one miner said he was against the John Lewis machine these two miners were arrested, shipped out of town and were not permitted to enter the hall and appeal for funds.

Duquesne is not the only hell and prison place for the steel slaves. About every town in Pennsylvania and West Virginia where the steel trust has spread its rule, has the same conditions.

In Woodlawn, Pennsylvania, also a town of the steel trust, we had a trial against Pete Mesaline and two other comrades who were sentenced to five years in prison only because Communist literature and a bust of Lenin was found in their houses. The stool pigeon who informed against them was a priest and the Tzvetkov gang, "the Slavish Yellow Society." Their case is pending in the supreme court. The International Labor Defense is fighting their case. Workers who helped to raise their bail were fired from their jobs and driven out of Woodlawn.

This is a sample of our "American democracy." The steel trust stands only as an example of the capitalist ruling power in the present system. Everything is built upon blood and might, blood and steel, blood and iron and blood and coal. The restless spirit that exists among the steel slaves shows that the day is not far when they will take up the fight and strike the real blow.

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

NATIONAL EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V. No. 171. Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

JOHN PORTER IS GIVEN 2½ YEARS HARD LABOR

Young Strike Leader Tells Court-Martial He Would Not Be Tool of Capitalists

Gets Maximum on "Desertion" Charge After Officers Try to Avoid Political Issues

By PAUL CROUCH.

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

FORT ADAMS, R. I., July 19.—John Porter, arrested a month ago and turned over to the military authorities, following his New Bedford strike activities and leadership in the Young Workers (Communist) League, was sentenced by general court-martial yesterday to two and a half years imprisonment at hard labor and "dishonorable" discharge from the army, on a technical charge of desertion.

Exposed Role of Army.

The sentence followed Porter's exposure of the role of the army and his declaration that he would not be used against his own class. He took the stand, in spite of the knowledge of the consequences, and made one of the most militant challenges of capitalist militarism ever known in the history of court-martials.

Saved from Life Sentence.

The fact that Porter received a sentence of two and a half years instead of life imprisonment was due to the mass protest already beginning to be noticed b ythe authorities, and their efforts to avoid the political significance of the case. Plans for trying Porter under the 96th Article of War for leadership in the strike and membership in the Young Workers (Communist) League had been abandoned after the beginning of mass protest organized by the International Labor Defense, the Young Workers League and other organizations.

Porter was finally charged with "desertion" from the army and the officers tried to prevent expose of the reasons for his arrest in New Bedford and the causes which led Porter to desert the army last year when he had almost completed his enlistment.

Tried to Weaken Position.

At the "investigation," Porter made a written statement in which he told of his activities against the bosses in the New Bedford strike, and declared that the authorities had known that he was a deserter for a long time, but arrested him only because of his participation in the struggles of the workers. The authorities tried to weaken his stand and persuade him to accept freedom or a short sentence on condition that he make a sentimental plea and leave the political issues out.

The trial was scheduled for July 17, but when Isaac Shoor, attorney retained by the International Labor Defense, arrived he found that most of th emembers of the court-martial were out of the post. Apparently, it was their intention to call the court-martial later without Shorr's presence and take care of the situation in their own way. Shorr would permit nothing of the kind, and demanded an immediate trial with a definite date. At last, Porter was brought before the court-martial yesterday at 2 P. M.

At the opening of the trial, everything seemed to be going well for the authorities. They read extracts from court-martial regulations and "evidence" in military terms meaning nothing to a civilian.

Efforts to Avoid Issues.

Then the "investigating officer" was called to the stand. He said tha tPorter had "admitted the essentials of desertion" without quoting his words, and he would not read Porter's written statement that his arrest was on account of his strike activities, etc.

Finally, the "investigating officer" tried to make a sentimental appeal for Porter to avoid completely the real political issues. Fantastic stories were given of "an aged mother," etc. Obviously, it was the purpose of the officers to give Porter a very short sentence in order to get out of the predicament in which they found themselves.

No Retreat By Porter.

Porter refused to fall into the [illegible], regardless of the consequences to himself. He demanded to take

Continued on Page Three

7 Killed in Border Raid in Jugoslavia

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, July 19.—Four gendarmes and three peasants were killed and one gendarme was injured seriously today when an Albanian band, under Feriz Salko[illegible] is alleged to have crossed the frontier and raided the village of [illegible] in the Novipazar district.

Many of the Albanian bands and the Albanian army are known to be equipped and financed by the Italian fascists.

Fascists Deserted Son

The mother of Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist, above, shown reading the last message from her son who was deserted and left to die on the ice by Zappi and Mariano, two survivors of the fascist Nobile expedition.

MUSSOLINI GAGS ITALIA SURVIVORS

Krassin Brings Seven Mes Into Port

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, July 19 (UP).—Seven survivors of the dirigible Italia disaster arrived here today aboard the Russian icebreaker Krassin, nearly two months after their departure in the airship May 25 for a flight over the North Pole.

All were relatively well except Captain Adalberto Mariano, whose frozen leg had been amputated on shipboard during the night.

Doctor Goes Aboard.

The relief ship Braganza met the Krassin at sea yesterday and put aboard the ship doctor of the Citta di Milano, the Italia's base ship. The doctor found Mariano in a critical condition. Gangrene had set into his frozen leg and immediate amputation was deemed necessary.

The faces of the survivors were drawn and showed the ordeal through which they had passed.

The seven were transferred aboard the Citta di Milano and preparations were made for the ship to proceed to Narvik, Norway. There the survivors will be trans-shipped to be sent to Rome. The Citta di Milano will return here.

Meanwhile the eighth survivor of the crew of sixteen, General Umberto Nobile, the Italia's commander, was understood to be prepared to leave here secretly within a few days for Rome.

nder a withering fire of criticism, Nobile may embark on a coal steamship for a secret destination and then go to Italy.

* * *

Mussolini Gags Survivors.

ROME, Italy, July 19.—Italian survivors of the Italia disaster were ordered by Premier Mussolini today to return to Rome at once and, in the meantime, to "abstain from any further messages, statements or interviews."

3 Missouri Miners Crushed to Death

JOPLIN, Mo., July 19.—Three miners were crushed to death at Waco, near here, when they were caught beneath a fall of rock estimated at weighing 50 to 75 tons. The miners were working in No. 1 shaft of the zinc mine when the mass of rock enveloped them. They are Robert Thomas, 32, Elmer Jessware, 26, and Stephen A. Grant, 43.

POLICE ATTACK PICKETS; 9 MILL WORKERS JAILED

Pinto, Leader, Defends Woman Against Cop

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 19.—Nine textile pickets, arrested At the Kilburn Mill after a police attack, received jail sentences of from one to five months when arraigned in district court here today.

Most of those arraigned were "disturbing the peace" and "obstructing the police." Sentences were imposed after all had waived examination.

Augustus Pinto, picket leader, was arraigned on five charges and was sentenced to five months in jail. Mrs. Louisa Moura was given a three-month sentence.

All appealed and were ordered held under bail of $300 for each charge for the October session of superior court. The International Labor Defense is handling the cases.

* * *

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., The reign of terror heralded by the demand of the manufacturers' association and the Chamber of Commerce that picket lines be dispersed, was instituted when squads of police yesterday afternoon charged a mass picketing demonstration at the Kilburn Mill, and arrested 9 strikers when they defended themselves from the clubs of the police.

Seven hundred were patrolling the standing as spectators, when the police detail, headed by Sargeant McCarthy, swinging clubs to disperse the pickets and spectators for jeer-

Continued on Page Two

MEETING HELD IN MID RIVER

Communists Defy the Police

ZELIEZEVCI, Jugoslavia, July 19.—Taking advantage of the heat wave to foil the police, Communists here donned bathing suits and held a meeting in the middle of the Gran River after the authorities forbade them to assemble.

The speaker declaimed from the shoulders of four comrades, while rows of policemen stood on the banks threatening arrest. The police finally sent for bathing suits and dived after their quarry, but the Communists made good their escape with a final "Hurrah for the world revolution" as they swam off downstream

Jewish Literature In U. S. S. R. Develops

CHARHKOFF, U. S. S. R., July 19.—The October revolution has created in the Soviet Union conditions particularly favorable to the development of the literature of the national minorities, and Jewish literature in particular. The latter has taken a veritable jump since the beginning of 1928, over all the republics where the Jewish population is dense. Such is the case in the Ukraine.

There are a great number of Jewish writers, full of talent and of diverse tendencies. Among the young novelists, poets and dramatists who give the greatest hope can be cited: Hofstein, Rieznik, Markich, Kvitko, Lourie, Feffer, Kipnis, etc. Among the older ones there are masters, such as Bergelson and Nistor. Certain works of these writers, such as "Ecluse," by Marckich;a "Mr. Guehke," by Viener; Kvitko's satirical novel, "Tastes of Bim-Bam"; the novels of Nistor have attained great success even abroad.

HEAT CAUSES 6 DROWNINGS.

Six persons, who had gone to the beaches to escape the intensity of the heat, were drowned during the last 24 hours.

Twelve persons were reported prostrated yesterday as the mercury hovered close to the 90 mark.

PICTURE DATA ESSENTIAL

Workers Urged to Send Photos to Daily

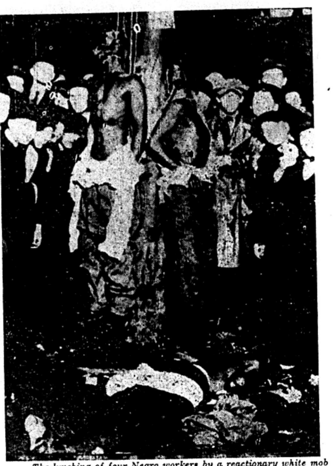
Workers have already begun to respond to the appeal of The DAILY WORKER for workingclass photographs. Some of the pictures that have been received are of unusual interest and will be published within the next few days.

All worker-photographers should remember to include with each picture the necessary data concerning it. A picture of a picket-line is of little use unless we know what picket-line it is. Give complete information with each picture, written preferably on the back of the photo.

All sorts of pictures that have a connection with the struggles of the workingclass are wanted by The DAILY WORKER, but the most desirable photos are close-ups of people in action. The glossy finish type of picture is best for reproduction purposes.

Every picture that is published will bear the name of the worker-photographer that took it. Put your cameras to work for The DAILY WORKER.

Four Negro Victims Of Ruling Class



The lynching of four Negro workers by a reactionary white mob in one of the southern states. Note the grins on the faces of the cowardly murderers as they observe the culmination of their work of instilling the elementary principles of capitalist democracy into the Negro. (Photo by courtesy of "Labor Defender.")

U. S. COMMUNIST PARTY DENOUNCES LYNCHINGS

The Workers (Communist) Party yesterday issued from its national headquarters in New York vigorous denunciation of lynching—calling attention to several recent cases of terrorist crimes against Negroes, encouraged and left unpunished by the ruling class and authorities, as well as the attitude of the capitalist political parties giving tacit approval of lynching.

The Communist statement, which sets forth the measures which it declares the workers must fight for in the struggle against lynching, is as follows:

Three Negroes have recently been lynched in the most horrible and brutal manner in the state of Mississippi. A mob of over 5,000 battered down the jail at Brookhaven and dragged out two Negroes who had been arrested because they had resisted two white men who had attacked them with a gun following a dispute. The mob tied these men to automobile trucks, dragged them around the town, and strung them up to an electric light pole within 50 feet of the City Hall. While they were yet conscious, these ill-fated blacks were lowered to the ground, mutilated, and their remains again strung up. Among the mob were business men, prominent city officials, physicians, lawyers, school heads, and church leaders. At Summit, another Negro was given over by officers to a lynching mob which hanged its victim to a tree along the road.

Only a few days before, at Houston, Texas, a young Negro was lynched as the democrats assembled for their national convention. He had exchanged shots with a detective who had been hounding him. He was taken from the hospital, where he lay wounded, by five men, one a policeman in uniform, and hanged from a bridge. While the body of this young Negro swung limp and lifeless, the democrats, assembled at Sam Houston Hall eight miles away showed their complete accord with the system of lynching and exploitation by their failure to write any plank in their platform or even to utter a single word against this horrible practice of lynching.

Lynching, a Part of Capitalist Class Oppression.

These lynchings expose once more the system of savage repression and brutal terrorism by which the Negro masses of America are ground under the iron heel of their ruthless exploiters. These lynchings reveal the true nature of the 'democracy," "justice," "law and order," which the imperialist masters of America impose upon their slaves, the millions of black and white workers who have no right that their capitalist exploiters are bound to respect Lynching, mob violence, burning at the stake, are common and established practices of American capitalist democracy. Thousands of Negroes, and thousands of white workers, also, have been put to death by this savage terror.

Lynching is openly defended in congress, it is condoned in the courts, it is preached from the pulpits. It is purposely maintained by the wealthy rulers of America as a necessary part of the vicious system of oppression and exploitation which keeps the Negro masses as a slave class at the bottom of capitalist society, degraded and driven in the most merciless fashion, to produce wealth for their inhuman exploiters. It is the naked engine of terror which upholds the whole vile system of racial segregation and oppression, of Jim-Crowism, disfranchisement, peonage and slavery—the system which not only crushes the Negro masses but divides them also from the white workers and secures the degradation and exploitation of all the workers of America.

Lynching is a special part of the "law and order" of capitalist society. It is the extra-legal counterpart of the legal machinery and state power by which the workers black and white, are enslaved, repressed and exploited by the financial masters of America. It is part of the whole capitalist system of exploitation, which utilizes the divisions between black and white workers to pay the Negro workers the most miserable starvation wages and to force him to work under the most degrading conditions at the

Continued on Page Two

Many Inspectors Held For Rum-Smuggling

NIAGARA FALLS, July 19 (UP).—A number of railroad employes and customs inspectors assigned to the American terminals of the two international bridges here are under investigation by special agents of the intelligence unit of the customs department for alleged complicity in a freight car whisky-running conspiracy.

The investigation, shifted to this city from Buffalo, into the international smuggling of carloads of Canadian whisky by means of purchased or stolen Canadian customs seals will continue until all possible sources have been checked, it was said.

Paterson to Hold First Open-Air Meet in Years

PATERSON, N. J., July 19.—The Young Workers (Communist) League of Paterson has arranged an open-air meeting for tonight on the corner of Main and Bank Sts.

The importance of this meeting cannot be exaggerated, because it is the first time in many years that either the Young Workers (Communist) League or the Workers (Communist) Party has been allowed to hold an open-air meeting in this city.

Journalism Nourishes Its Faithful Lackeys

LONDON, July 19.—Lloyd George has announced his intention of retiring from journalism. He has had a full career as a journalist.

The Sunday Express announces that he was paid 800 pounds for the articles he wrote for an American syndicate.

Lloyd George can retire, having earned in this way about 125,000 pounds sterling, since he gave up the business of premiership for that of journalism.

WORLD CONGRESS URGES STRUGGLE AGAINST FASCISM

Delegates From Many Lands at Meet

(Wireless to The Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 18.—The Sixth World Congress of the Communist International was opened here yesterday in the decorated hall of the Labor Palace by Nicolai Bukharin, who was greeted with great applause.

His first words were devoted to the victims of the class struggle in Italy, Poland, Indonesia, and China, who died fighting against imperialism. "Long may they live in the workers' hearts," he said.

"Since the Fifth Congress the Communist movement has been greatly extended," he said. "The Chinese Communist Party, for instance, has become a real revolutionary party. The Japanese Party is also beginning to develop into a fighting party. The Indian Communist movement is growing. But capitalism is also consolidating its forces, and social democracy is also growing. Partially stabilized capitalism forces the Communist International to adopt new complicated tactics in order to mobilise the masses for a decisive blow against imperialism.

"Carrying out socialist construction under difficult circumstances places the Soviet government and the Communist Party before severe tasks. Both in the Soviet Union and in capitalist countries, Communists do not perform sufficient detail work. The chief tasks in capitalist countries are still trade union work and the conquest of the masses. The

Continued on Page Two

ROSARIO GENERAL STRIKE LOOMS

Police Slug Wo ke s as Ports Close

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 18.—The strike of dock workers in Argentina has won the support of the workers, and, with the strike leaders ready to call a general strike, troops and resrves have been called into the field by the government.

The efforts of the police to put down the strike of the dock workers by force resulted today in the wounding of several strikers and slugging of many others when the police tried to break up a demonstration of the strikers at Villa Constitucion.

The police were called out in that city to suppress the beginnings of the general strike, which finds its most militant center there.

In the meantime all port traffic is paralyzed, and especially at Rosaria, the second largest port in Argentina, shipping is at a standstill. Three hundred thousand tons of grain are lying on the docks awaiting export. Truck drivers and carters refuse to cart anything from the port zone.

Date Set for Annual Labor Defense Outing

The annual outing of the New York section of the International Labor Defense, which was to have been held Saturday in Pleasant Bay Park, has been postponed because of a conflict in date with the concert at the Coney Island Stadium.

The new date set for the outing is August 11. Pleasant Bay Park will remain the scene of the affair All tickets bought up till now will be good for the new date.

Free 4 Union Moulders From Strike Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—Four union molders, three of whom are union officers, were dismissed in court here after being brought up on charges arising from their strike activity in 1926.

RANK AND FILE MINERS ASSAIL LEWIS SELLOUT

Coal Diggers In All Districts Denounce New Strikebreaking Order

Ohio Operators Confirm New Betrayal; Aim Complete Open Shop

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—Bitter denunciations from militant mine leaders as well as from the rank and file coal diggers from practically every mine district continued today to pour into the headquarters of the National Arrangements Committee for a new miners' union, of which John Watt is chairman, following the last strikebreaking act of John L. Lewis, who yesterday ordered the miners back to scabbery on whatever terms they could secure.

Deeply Aroused

Nothing has so aroused the miners of the country since the infamous betrayal of Lewis of the 100,000 west Pennsylvania miners in 1922, whom Lewis deliberately left out of the agreement which he signed up for the other strikers. The final act of strikebreaking, as it is termed, in practically all the communications to the local headquarters of the progressives, is declared to be the outcome of Lewis' treacherous policy of sign[illegible] up separate agreements for Illinois, for Kansas and for other districts while leaving the Pennsylvania and Ohio miners to battle with divided forces.

Telegrams and letters from progressive mine leaders from the anthracite are equally bitter in denouncing the policy of the strikebreaking Lewis machine in keeping the hard coal miners at work under an agreement which expired at a different time from that of the bituminous.

Still Determined

The tenor of the communications pouring into the local progressive headquarters indicate a sentiment of surprising determination on the part of the miners already out for fifteen months not to be routed by Lewis, who is now seen more clearly than before to be in league with the open-shop operators.

The last move of Lewis, according to all indications, has brought into sharp relief the necessity of building a new union of the coal diggers under rank and file control directed by progressive policies of uncompromising struggle against the coal barons. Considerable impetus has been given to the call for a national miners' convention by the progressives, which will be held here September 9-16.

The order of Lewis advising the miners to go back to work on any terms followed a meeting in Indianapolis yesterday of the so-called International Policy Committee, composed of Lewis' handpicked executive board and representatives of his machine in the various districts.

After deliberating over the best

Continued on Page Two

MEXICO TO FACE FUTURE STRIFE

Calles May Remain In Office

MEXICO TO FACE

MOSCOW, July 19 (UP).—Izvestia, central organ of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, today foresaw for Mexico as the result of General Obregon's assassination possibility of "new strife for power and civil wars in which American imperialism probably will say the last word."

Obregon, the newspaper said, played a Napoleonic role in recent Mexican history, and his murder "was the dramatic conclusion of an acute political conflict."

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 19 (UP).—Several additional arrests in connection with the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon have been made, Chief of Police Rios Zertuche announced today. Examination of the assassin, Jose de Leon, who has confessed, continued throughout the day in an effort to learn if he had accomplices.

According to present plans, de Leon will be shot on the same spot in the yard at police headquarters where three priests and an engineer were executed in November for plotting against the lives of high government officials.

* * *

Calles to Remain

MEXICO CITY, July 19 (UP).—President Calles is likely to remain in office for two years in order to overcome the difficulty of filling the presidency after the assassination of President-elect Obregon, it was indicated authoritatively today.

Obregonista sources said today that a constitutional amendment would be proposed to congress under which Calles' term would be extended so that instead of leaving office December 1, at the end of the four-year term for which he was elected, Calles would remain in office for a total of six years—until December 1, 1930.

REVEAL PITIFUL FARM EARNINGS

WASHINGTON, July 19 (FP).—Reports made to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the U. S Department of Agriculture from 13,859 farms in all parts of the country, for the year 1927, show an average net income of only $1,290 on an average place of 275 acres In the calendar year 1926 the average income from 13,475 big farms was $1,133.

Ordinary farms of 20 to 160 acres are not separately treated in this report. The average investment in these big farms was $15,445 in 1927, and the cash balance—above an average of $242 in food products consumed by the farmer's family—was $1,048. This covered the wages of the farmer and his family for the year, his living expenses, debt-interest and improvements.

FASCISM "WELCOMES" LACKEY

PIACENZA, July 19 (UP).—Musa Juka, Albanian minister of agriculture, was officially welcomed when he arrived today to visit agricultural experimental stations.

PRISON CENSOR FAILS

Birthday Greetings to Clara Zetkin

BERLIN, July 19.—The Director of the central prison here confiscates all in-coming and out-going announced. It was the most severe mail, magazines and newspapers, which do not bear the name of When it is a question of mail to and Fridericus, Stahlheim or the like. from the Soviet Union then even birthday greetings fall into the hands of the censor.

Here is one of the big failures of the prison censor:

"To Clara Zetkin.
Moscow. The Kremlin.

"Battle greetings to our great leader on her birthday. In the name of all proletarian political prisoners in the prison of Sonnenburg.
OTTO BRAUNE."

The censor did not succeed in stopping this one. Clara Zetkin got her birthday greetings.

DROUGHT HITS ITALY.

TRIESTE, July 19 (UP).—Severe drought is sweeping Dalmatia. Peasants are striving desperately to save their crops.

Young Workers School of Illinois Will Open July 22nd at Rockford

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—The Young Workers' Training School, District, 8, will open on July 22 in Rockford, Ill., with 40 students. The students are young workers coming from the entire district. There will be ten young coal miners, and five young steel workers among them.

The purpose of the school is to equip these young proletarians with the necessary political and organizational knowledge so that they can return to their specific territories and build sections of the Young Workers (Communist) League, and also to aid them in their work within the trade unions and various fraternal organizations.

The school will be held for a period of five weeks. Thanks are due especially to the Lithuanian, Finnish and Scandinavian workers for their financial assistance which has made this school possible.

RAILWAYS BUY EXPRESS CO.

A report on its plan for acquiring the American Railway Express was announced today by the Express Committee of the Association of Railway Executives.

The plan calls for participation of the railroads in sharing the cost of taking over the properties of the express company.

Unemployed Workers Have Nothing to Say About Use of "Relief" Funds in Chicago

CHARITY TRUST SHOWN AS NEST OF REACTION

Banker-Fascists Hold Principal Jobs

(By Federated Press)

CHICAGO, July 19.—Though over [illegible]00,000,000 of private funds are now invested and held for charity and education in Chicago, the class for whom the money was given has nothing to say about how it is to be spent. No representatives of labor sit on the boards that hand out the alms, tinker with the health or shape the character of the beneficiaries.

Autocracy.

The Chicago Community Trust carries this autocracy over charity administration a step further. It is a charity of charities, soliciting control over charity funds and seeking authority to change the object for which they were originally given. The giver himself is eventually disfranchised by a clause in a suggested form of bequest reading: "When in the judgment of the Chicago Community Trust the need for this charity shall cease the money may be devoted by the Chicago Community Trust to any of the purposes of said trust."

Organized in 1915 the trust now controls over $3,000,000 and has in sight millions more through wills that have not yet gone through the probate mill. Its five directors are an interesting group. The chairman is Clifford W. Barnes, long associated with the committee of fifteen and other silk stocking snoopers lumped by the Chicago Federation of Labor as "employer racketeering outfits." The vice chairman is Bernard A. Eckhart, whose reluctant revelations of Liberty bond dealings with Fred Upham, Chicago bond peddler, for Will Hays of the G. O. P., were the feature of the Teapot Dome hearings in Chicago last spring.

A third is President E. J. Buffington of the Illinois Steel Company, the steel trust subsidiary. Buffington is the man who tried hard, but unsuccessfully, to make his workers show joy and reverence for Queen Marie of Rumania when she inspected the plant. Charles S. Cutting, the fourth, is a former judge of the probate court, where billions are handled annually. The fifth is Abel Davis, a banker, who had ambitions to head the Illinois national guard and was receiver for a time of the American Co-operative Society, the notorious Harrison Parker enterprise.

Also Mr. Dawes.

Not content with such an array, an advisory council has been set up almost exclusively of bankers. One looks in vain for aliberal or prosocial spirit among them. Naturally labor men are not wanted there in an advisory cap acity. The advisers include Vice President Charles G. Dawes, the banker-fascist; Charles H. Markham of the unfriendly Illinois Central; James A. Patten, grain gambler and open-shop buccaneer, who was also caught with the Sinclair Liberty bonds; and chiefs of the First National Bank, Illinois Merchants Trust Company, Continental and Commercial National Bank, State Bank of Chicago, National Bank of the Republic, Northern Trust Company, Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Union Trust Company, Chicago Trust Company, Central Trust Company, Noel State Bank and the Bank of America.

The Chicago Community Trust is a device to perpetuate control of charity funds in reactionary hands. As Secretary Frank Loomis says, without realizing what he is saying: "The Community Trust works in co-operation with and has the endorsement of the strongest financial institutions in the community. Thus it secures conservative management of the principal of any fund and effective use of the income from year to year forever, whatever changes in institutions and methods may come.

Scientist Discovers New Cancer Theory

LONDON, July 19 (UP).—A theory that cancer arises inside the body and is not caused by a living virus or germ, was outlined to the cancer conference today by Dr. James B. Murphy of New York.

Dr. Murphys theory, regarded as the most important recent pronouncement, is in direct conflict with that of W. E. Gye and J. E. Barnard, British scientists, who announced three years ago their discovery of a living cancer virus.

Dr. Murray said that the formation of this theory was the culmination of sixteen years research.

Cancer, he suggested, was due to a ferment produced within the body.

FALLS OUT WINDOW: JAILED.

BROOKLYN, July 19 (UP).—William Ritchie, 28-year-old Negro, was arrested today for disturbing the peace through falling out of a [illegible] story window in his pajamas.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

MINEOLA, L. I., July 19 (UP).—[illegible] Dupolito, spaghetti house owner, today accused his partner, [illegible] Utica, of the murder of William F. Gilbridge, Brooklyn contractor, whose body was found [illegible] in a berry patch.

Millions Flock to Beaches to Escape From Sweltering Heat

Workers who spend their days in poor ventilated, unsanitary factories, under the constant [illegible] of the speed-up, suffer most from the summer heat. Some of them succeed in escaping on Sundays to the beaches, where overcrowding makes bathing difficult. Above is a typical scene at Coney Island.

COMMUNISTS DENOUNCE LYNCHINGS

Workers, Black and White, Must Resist All Exploiters

Continued from Page One

most arduous and disagreeable tasks.

Capitalist Politicians Will Never Stop Lynching.

The political servants of the imperialist oppressors will never abolish lynching. The Cole Bleases and the Heflins, the Glasses and the Tillmans, openly support lynching. The Coolidges and the Hoovers and the Smiths either silently support lynching or speak hypocritical words, but never take action against the lynchers. The parties of big and small business, the parties which represent the interests which fatten upon the system of violent enslavement and repression of the Negro and white workers, will never abolish lynching.

The republican and democratic parties have held the power of government between them. During all this time nothing has ever been done to punish lynchers, while thousands of black and white workers have been done to death. Both republicans and democrats united to defeat the Dyer anti-lynching bill, which in spite of its many defects would have provided some legal basis for proceeding against the lynchers.

The Democratic Party of Lynching

The democratic party is the party of the solid South, the party of the business men and the plantation owners who live upon the labor and subjection of the black and white workers. Not a single Negro delegate was seated in the democratic convention, and a Jim-Crow cage was provided for Negro visitors. Al Smith and Jimmy Walker by many acts have openly shown their complete acceptance of the whole nefarious system of race oppression and class exploitation and have proved their thorough subservience to big business. They have received the seal of approval of the Bleases as well as of the Raskovs, of the Southern lynchocrats as well as of the Northern financiers. Tammany Hall stands solidly with the Southern democrats for disfranchisement, segregation, peonage and lynching, for the enslavement and exploitation of the black and white masses of America.

The Republican Party's Betrayal and Lynching.

The republican party is the party of big business, of the bankers and financial magnates who have only one use for the Negroes—to keep them in violent subjection, in order to wring wealth out of their toil.

The republican party used the Negroes to win control of the government for the capitalists, from the chattel slave holders. But as soon as the capitalists succeeded in establishing their system of wage slavery and exploitation, the Republican party betrayed the Negroes and delivered them up to the slave drivers and lynchers. Hoover, the republican candidate for president is the faithful servant of the imperialist oppressors. He has maintained segregation in his department, and condoned the peonage and abuse of thousands of Negroes during the Mississippi flood disaster The republican party openly rebuffs the Negro by segregating their delegates at its national convention in Kansas. The few empty and hollow words which the republicans give to the Negroes in their platform should deceive no one. Its record of betrayal and repression proves it also to be the party of Jim-Crowism and disfranchisement, peonage and lynching, the party of the wealthy tyrants who grind huge profits out of the black and white workers and farmers of this country.

Socialist Party Now Openly Treacherous.

The socialist party is treacherous. It openly declared upon taking office in Reading, Pennsylvania, that it would maintain capitalist law and order. Its empty gesture of the Berger anti-lynching bill means nothing. Besides this bill fails in the most important essential, the right of self-defense for the Negro masses.

The socialist leaders of the Pullman Porters have lined up with William Green, President of the A. F. of L. They have betrayed the interests of the Pullman Porters. They have accepted the policy of segregation and non-organization of black workers advocated by Green, and the reactionary officialdom of the trade unions. Randolph has openly declared for Smith, the candidate of the democrats, the party of the southern lynchers. He has not even been rebuked or censured by the socialist party. The socialist party continues to support him in his betrayal of the interests of the Negro workers to the capitalists and lynchers.

In the South, the socialist party refuses to admit Negroes into its ranks and holds meetings at which the practices of Negro segregation are strictly enforced.

Only the Working Class Can Abolish Lynching.

The brutal and atrocious treatment of the Negro masses, of which lynching, cold-blooded and horrible, is an expression, is a characteristic of United States imperialism which suppresses with bayonet and gun the peoples of Haiti, Latin America and the Philippines and crushes with murderous cruelty every attempt of the colonial and semi-colonial peoples, to free themselves from the oppression and exploitation of their imperialist masters.

Only the victorious party of the workers can abolish lynching. Only a workers' and farmers' government can overthrow the whole vile system of lynching and exploitation. It was the revolutionary Communist Party which abolished lynching and pogroms in Russia. It will be the revolutionary Workers (Communist) Party of America that will abolish lynching in America in the same way. The Workers (Communist) Party stands forth as the champion of the oppressed Negro masses Twenty-four Negro delegates sat in the National Nominating Convention of the Workers Party, participated on all important committees and helped to draft a program of action for the oppressed masses of America, black and white. Only the Workers Party supports the Negro masses in their struggle against the system of lynching and race oppression. Only this party unites black and white workers in militant struggle against the system of imperialist oppression, of which lynching is an outgrowth. Only this party champions the Negro masses in their right of self-defense and only this party fights with them against mob violence and terrorism.

The Workers Party Fights the Lynching System.

The Communist Party considers it as its historic duty to unite all workers regardless of their color against the common enemy, against the master class. The Negro race must understand that capitalism means racial oppression, and communism means social equality.

The following are the demands of the Workers (Communist) Party for which it will fight with all its vigor and determination. It calls upon the workers and poor farmers, black and white, to organize their might to put these demands into effect.

1. A Federal law against lynching, and the protection of the Negro masses in their right of self-defense
2. Abolition of the whole system of race discrimination. Full racial political and social equality for the Negro race.
3. Abolition of all laws which result in segregation of Negroes. Abolition of all Jim-Crow laws. The law shall forbid all discrimination against Negroes in selling or renting houses.
4. Abolition of all laws which disfranchise the Negroes.
5. Abolition of laws forbidding intermarriage of persons of different races.
6. Abolition of all laws and public administration measures which prohibit, or in practice prevent, Negro children or youth from attending general public schools or universities.
7. Full and equal admittance of Negroes to all railway station waiting rooms, trains, restaurants, hotels and theatres.
8. Abolition of discriminatory practices in courts against Negroes No discrimination in jury service.
9. Abolition of the convict lease system and of the chain gang.
10. Abolition of all Jim-Crow distinctions in the army, navy and civil service.
11. Immediate removal of all restrictions in all trade unions against the membership of Negro workers
12. Equal opportunities for employment, wages, hours and working conditions for Negro workers and white workers. Equal pay for equal work for black and white workers.

The Workers (Communist) Party calls upon the Negro and white workers to fight against the lynching system, to vote against the lynching system by voting against the parties which uphold that system, by supporting the only party which can and does fight against the system of lynching and oppression.

Unite against the lynchers and exploiters!

Organize for the abolition of the system of lynching and exploitation!

Vote Communist!

Join the Workers (Communist) Party of America!

—Central Executive Committee, Workers (Communist) Party of America.

ASK PARDON FOR I. W. W. PRISONERS

Washington Governor Gets Many Protests

Protests are pouring in on Governor Rolland H. Hartley at Olympia, Washington and H. B. Clausen at Walla Walla, Wash., in a demand by labor everywhere for the unconditional release of the Centralia prisoners, now serving their eighth year in prison for daring to protect their union headquarters and lives from the attacks of the American Legion vandals on Armistice Day 1919. The attack also resulted in the horrible murder by the Legionnaires of Wesley Everest.

The national office of International Labor Defense, 80 E. 11th St., New York, through assistant national secretary Martin Abern today gave out a number of the protests which have been sent to the governor. Among them is the following telegram by Frank L. Palmer, former editor of the Colorado Labor Advocate and author of the book, "The Labor Spy." His telegram to Governor Hartley declared:

Demand Pardon.

"As an American Legionnaire trying to forget the war hysteria, I strongly urge unconditional pardon for the Centralia labor prisoners."

Edward S. Smith, a prominent liberal of Columbus, Ohio, has wired Governor Hartley the following:

"I am thoroughly familiar with the circumstances surrounding the Centralia case and have for a long time believed the verdict a miscarriage of justice. I, therefore, respectfully urge executive clemency in the form of an unconditional pardon in the case of the eight members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Many friends also support this action."

Writes to I. L. D.

In a letter to the International Labor Defense, Smith states: "Surely the Centralia victims have been imprisoned long enough for the crime of loyalty to working class principles." He offers best wishes to the International Labor Defense in its campaign for the release of the Centralia prisoners.

International Labor Defense urges workers and labor organizations everywhere to write to Governor Roland H. Hartley at Olympia Wash., asking for the release of the Centralia prisoners.

Tory Bankers to Safeguard German 'Rights'

LONDON, July 19 (UP).—Great Britain's readiness to examine any proposal for a final settlement of all Germany's reparations obligations was announced in the house of commons yesterday by Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

Any proposal for fixation of the total sum of Germany's liabilities, Churchill said, would be examined, provided it was framed so as to safeguard British rights and interests.

Under the Dawes plan, it is stipulated merely that Germany shall pay annual installments of reparations for an indefinite period of time.

PRISONERS ATTEMPT BREAK.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 19 (UP).—Two prisoners staged a desperate attempt for freedom here yesterday, capturing a guard and using him as a shield. They lost their nerve when another guard refused to open a door for them, and were captured.

NINE STRIKERS JAILED IN MILL POLICE ATTACK

Pinto, Leader, Defends Woman Against Cop

Continued from Page One

ing when a group of straw bosses rode out of the mills.

Picket Leaders Jailed.

When the picket leaders insisted on their right to picket, they were immediately arrested. When Louisa Moura, a striker, ran up to Sergeant McCarthy and demanded the release of her husband John, the police thug seized her by the throat and began choking her.

Augustus Gonsalves Pinto, leader of the Textile Workers Union of the T. M. C., leaped from the police wagon, he was shoved into when arrested a few minutes before, and forced McCarthy to release his hold on the woman despite the police thug's threat to shoot. The woman striker later fainted in the police car

U. T. W. Pickets Join.

Pickets on the line of the United Textile Workers Union, on seeing the attack on the woman and Pinto's subsequent act, rushed in to the defense of the Textile Mills Committees workers. Horace A. Riviere U. T. W. organizer and leader of the Textile Council picket line, tried to stop his members from joining in the defense against the police onslaught. His shouted orders to his followers that they keep marching in his line was definatly ignored as the U. T. W. members pushed him aside and ran in.

The brutal attack of the police has aroused a tremendous storm of indignation among the ranks of the strikers of all nationalities. When reports of the attack went around the city, thousands of workers came to the union offices to prepare a far larger picket demonstration, which materialized this morning in front of the same Kilburn Mill.

As Pinto went marching by the headquarters of the U. T. W. at the head of a large picket line this morning after being bailed out last night, he was enthusiastically cheered by the members of the latter union. A rousing reception greeted him when he came to the mills to take his place at the head of the line. The discomfiture of the U. T. W. official heading the other picket line was complete when he saw his workers join in cheering Pinto, who has become the hero of the hour among all the strikers.

All nine arrested were bailed out by the International Labor Defense attorney when they were arraigned in court last night. The charges against them were disturbing the peace, obstructing police and assaults on police.

Alphonso Lamieras, Portuguese speaker at the T. M. C. strike meetings, was also arrested with Pinto. The others are: Jose De Rosa, Caeser Almeida, Louisa Moura, John Moura, Joe Alneida, Casmiro Lamieras and John Cordiera. All appeared on the picket line this morning.

TANGIER RULERS FORM NEW PACT

PARIS, July 19.—A slight alteration of the Tangiers agreement of 1923 which made Tangiers a protectorate under France, England Spain and Italy was finished today at the French Foreign Office. Representatives of the four European powers participated although there was no representative present from Tangiers.

Some minor changes were made which gave the fascist governments of Spain and Italy more power in the city council, in this way appeasing the Italians, who have embarked on an extended imperialistic policy in Northern Africa and the Adriatic.

The fascists were given the right to appoint officials to the Tangier municipal council and another administrator and magistrate.

Divine Fathers Differ Over Niceties of Faith

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, July 19.—A heated discussion in the Holy Synod of the Greek Orthodox Church over matters of principle, tactic and questions of Christian dogma threatens to bring about a crisis in the holy body. The Holy Synod has been sitting for days and nights trying to solve the tangle of arguments and opinions uttered by the divine fathers.

The situation is so serious that it may even result in the resignation of the Patriarch Dimitrius, head of the Greek church.

6 JAILED IN RUM THEFT.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19 (UP).—Six men are under arrest in connection with the theft of $1,000 worth of liquor and ale from the Albany prohibition bureau's storeroom on the tenth floor of a warehouse here.

WOULD BUY RAILROAD.

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UP).—The Western Pacific Railroad Company applied to the interstate commerce commission today for authority to acquire the Western Pacific California Railroad Company.

Slain by Bullet of Clerical

[illegible] assassinated by a religious fanatic who is believed to have been an agent of the counter-revolutionary catholic faction. Above is a photo of Gen. Obregon (left) with President Calles (right), taken shortly before the assassination.

WORKERS DON'T LIKE U. S. ARMY

'No More Camp fo Me,' Says Young Rec uit

FORT ADAMS, R. I., July 19.—"When I get through this month, no more C. M. T. C. for me." This was the opinion expressed to me by one of the young workers who came here for a "vacation."

Compared to the regular ssoldiers, those in the Citizens Military Training Camps have an easy life. They have far more drill and consequently less pick and shovel work. Every effort is made to give them as much training as possible during the month in camp. The regular soldiers here have been moved out of their barracks and are living in tents—six soldiers to the tent, their quarters being turned over to the C. M. T. C. in their efforts to make them come back next summer for more training.

Few Like Military Life

In spite of this, few in the C. M. T. C. like this sample of military life. They are called out of bed by the bugle at 5:45 in the morning and are kept busy until late in the evening.

I spoke with one of the young workers attending the C. M. T. C. here. He was on "K. P." (kitchen police) at the time. "Work here is no joke, believe me," he said. He stated that when on "K. P." one works from early in the morning until late at night, scrubbing the floor, washing dishes under a boss, etc., with hardly a minute's rest, and at no time during the day is anyone permitted to go to his quarters.

900 at Fort Adams

Nine hundred workers are being prepared for capitalist wars at Fort Adams alone in the C. M. T. C. this year. From a capitalist military viewpoint, the money spent on the C. M. T. C. is a valuable investment, unless the day comes when these young workers will realize the role of the armed forces and use their military knowledge against the bosses. I was surprised to see the amount of drill which has been forced into the young workers in a period of 10 days. They are being given instruction in the use of rifles in addition to "close-order" drill.

Of greatest importance is the reactionary propaganda at the camp, the effort to poison the minds of the young workers with patriotism and make them submissive tools of the masters.

Religious Dope

Religion is used as a part of their patriotic propaganda, and every Sunday the young workers here are required to attend church services. If they cannot attend a church of their "own" denomination, they are taken to a church in Newport.

The regular soldiers here have to take care of the new cannon fodder, and complain of the excessive work. Also, they say that discipline is very harsh and that the most extreme sentences are given for any trivial cause.

3 DROWNED IN AUTO.

GREENUP, Ky., July 19 (UP).—Ed Moore, 54, his wife and their daughter Zuna, 15, were drowned today when their automobile plunged over a ferry float into the Ohio River at Fullerton. The bodies of Mrs. Moore and the daughter were recovered.

MINERS ASSAIL LEWIS' SELLOUT

Operators Confirm New Betrayal

Continued from Page One

method of formulating their previously agreed upon program of strikebreaking, it is understood, the crew decided to work out an ambiguous resolution using the phrases "wage agreements," "mutually satisfactory basis," "existing wage schedules" and a "referendum vote of the respective districts." None of the Lewis gang, however, expects that the miners will be deceived by the form of the strikebreaking order.

The resolution follows:

"Resolved:

"1. That the officers of the respective districts comprising the central competitive field and the outlying bituminous districts be authorized to enter into wage negotiations with their respective operators on a basis mutually satisfactory.

"2. That district representatives and the officers of the national union shall co-operate in the execution of this policy.

"3. That all district organizations be authorized to permit any coal company or any mine to employ all the men it may require for maintenance, repairs, development, construction or production of coal, providing, however, that such company agrees with the district to pay the existing wage schedules and carry out the existing agreement temporarily until a district agreement is negotiated.

"4. That any agreement negotiated under this policy shall be submitted for ratification to a district convention or a referendum vote of the respective districts."

WORLD CONGRESS URGES STRUGGLE AGAINST FASCISM

Delegates From Many Lands at Meet

Continued from Page One

congress must adopt a program with such a message for the millions of workers all over the world, and a firm practical line for all countries, from China to America.

"The congress work must provide the steel foundation also for consolidating the Communist Parties of all nations. Long live international revolution."

After his address the delegates rose and sang the Internationale.

Following comrades were elected to the Presidium: Bell, Great Britain; Bucharin, Soviet Union; Cachin, France; Chitarov, Young Communist International; Foster, United States; Carlandi, Italy; Humbertdroz, Switzerland; Jilek, Tcheckoslovakia; Katayama, Japan; Kilboom, Scandinavia; Kuusinen, Finland; Lacorda, South America; Lenski, Poland; Losovski, Red International of Trade Unions; Lovestone, United States; Manuilski, Soviet Union; Molotov, Soviet Union; Murphy, Great Britain; Manavar, Indonesia; Piatnitzki, Soviet Union; Remmele, Germany; Saris, Greece; Schueller, Young Communist International; Semard, France; Sierra, Italy; Stalin, Soviet Union; Stankov, Balkans; Strachow, China; Likuang, China; Thaelmann, Germany; Sekander, India; Koschieva, Poland; Zapotocky, Tcheckoslovakia; and Clarazetkin, Germany.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c — 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 — 3 months $2

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

LENINISM

By JOSEPH STALIN

A masterly exposition of "Marxism of the epoch of imperialism and of the proletarian revolution."

$2.50

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS, 39 E. 125th St.
NEW YORK.

ATTENTION

Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Women's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.

You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the FREIHEIT
PICNIC
SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn

Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

1852 THE SAME ADDRESS OVER 75 YEARS 1928
METROPOLITAN SAVINGS BANK
ASSETS EXCEEDING $29,000,000
Deposits made on or before the 3rd day of the month will draw interest from the 1st day of the month.
Last Quarterly Dividend paid on all amounts from $5.00 to $7,500.00, at the rate of 4½%
Open Mondays (all day) until 7 P. M.
Banking by Mail Society Accounts Accepted
We Sell A. B. A. Travelers Certified Checks
No. 1 THIRD AVE Cor 7th St

Monarchist Who Urged Horthy Police to Take Bėla Kun by Force, Released

TRUSTIFICATION SHOWN AS TREND IN INDUSTRIES

Giant Monopolies Are Capitalist Ideal

By LELND OLDS
(Federated Press)

The age of competitive industry is drawing to a close. It will be followed by an era of giant monopolies operating under government franchise and supervision. This is the view of Prof. Schalenbach of the University of Cologne, termed by the New York Times "one of the greatest authorities on industrial economics." He forecasts an entirely different industrial world from that in which the present labor movement developed its tactics.

AVast Trustification

Most observers are concerned with the spread of industrial and financial mergers in the United States and of international cartels in Europe. But Schmalenbach sees mergers and cartels as a transition to state trustification, while profits will still go to the owning class.

In competitive industry wages and raw material costs are important, compared with overhead and administration expenses which do not fluctuate with the ups and downs of plant operation. The machine has signed the death warrant of this era, according to Schmalenbach.

Recently the U. S. department of commerce issued a survey showing the increasing role played by international cartels in Europe's economic and political life. It points out that carefully organized national cartels, called trusts in America, play a leading part in this development.

In the United States the year so far has seen an unprecedented succession of industrial mergers. Oil, steel, automobile, building material, coal, food, drugs, amusements, public utilities, banking, in all these fields financiers have been working toward control of competition.

Standard Oil.

The great Standard Oil units are revamping their structure in order to control petroleum from the well until it is delivered to the consumer. The Texas Corporation and the California Petroleum Corporation combined to form a unit with assets of about $380,000,000. Republic Iron and Steel merged with Trumbull Steel. The Chrysler-Dodge merger is still in the air when the Studebaker- Pierce-Arrow combination is announced. Certain-teed Products takes over the Beaver Board companies. Continental Can and U. S. Can combine. The smokeless coal producers of West Virginia work out the details of the first large consolidation in the bituminous industry.

United Drug merges with Sterling Products. The Keith companies join the Orpheum Circuit. The Postal Telegraph-Commercial Cables companies combine with International Telephone and Telegraph. American Power and Light and Montana Power form a new giant power combine and other great power holding companies continue to absorb utilities. The Washburn-Crosby Company, the Red Star Milling Company and other flour mills, at the direction of National City Bank interests, join to form the General Mills, Inc., becoming the largest unit in the field. These are but a few of the mergers since January. Bankers and industrialists predict that the merger movement will continue with increasing velocity.

Trade Associations.

Trade associations are becoming an important factor in consolidating industries and limiting competition. Oil, cotton, wool, steel, jute, all these and others have developed alliances to protect profiteers against the industrial chaos threatened by the growth of productive power in every field beyond all possible sales.

Throughout the capitalist world this change in the industrial order is proceeding rapidly. In England as in America echoes the refrain that "free competition is everywhere tending to end in forms of monopoly." Everywhere there is increasing pressure for changes in a legal system which was developed to protect the individualist business against contracts, conspiracies or what not in restraint of trade. The financiers want to remove legal restraints on price, production and market control.

If labor merely acquiesces in the legal changes advocated by organized capital, its fate in the new era of state-franchised monopolies will not differ materially from that of servile or slave populations in the past.

Discover Body of Man Whose Home Burned

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., July 19.—Further investigation of the mysterious fire which destroyed the home of John Budah last week was being conducted here today following the discovery of the farmer's body hanging from a tree on an adjoining farm last night. Sheriff Van Connell and Coroner Henry Larsen, who examined the body, today expressed the belief that Budah may have set fire to his own home and then committed suicide.

Militarists Head Funeral of Mexican Flyer

The funeral procession of Capt. Emilio Carranza, Mexican flyer, marked the last stage of his imperialist "good will" flight which ended tragically when his plane crashed in New Jersey, killing the flyer. Photo shows the funeral procession at 42nd St. and Broadway, with American soldiers heading the line of mqrch.

ELECTION LAWS IN UNITED STATES

(Continued.)

By JULIUS CODKIND.

A report from the United States census bureau dealing with the foreign-born whites of voting age in 48 leading cities throughout the country in 1920 shows in every instance that much more than half of the foreign-born population are not naturalized and therefore ineligible to vote, althought they are quite welcome in the country as producers of huge totals of surplus values. The total thus disfranchised amounts to 3,400,000 in these 48 cities alone. The laws are particularly stringent against the rights of foreign-born workers to become citizens of the country, five years continuous residence being required for obtaining citizenship, in addition to many technical requirements that must be met.

Negroes in South.

In the South, the Negro population, which is about equal to that of the whites, is almost wholly disfranchised. Such Negroes who have qualified to vote by payment of full taxes required in several of the states, and who have registered and otherwise complied with stringent provisions of the law find themselves arbitrarily challenged and subject to arrest if they dare to appear at the polls.

In South Carolina, where each party prints its own ballots, Negroes who call for the democratic ballot are permitted to register their "opinion." Other Negroes are generally arrested if they dare to go through with an attempt to vote. Many of the Southern states circumvented the 14th Amendment to the Federal Constitution by special laws containing property requirements, etc. In order that these laws might apply to the Negroes only, a "grandfather clause" was usually added which excepted from these laws all whose grandfathers had voted before the Civil War. No Southern Negro, of course, had the privilege of voting before the Civil War.

A comparison of the vote in Georgia, one of the most backward of the Southern states, and the state of Indiana, whose population is about equal to that of Georgia, reveals this condition more clearly than words can picture. The census of 1920 gives the population of Indiana as 2,942,210 and that of Georgia as 2,910,598. The vote for president in 1920 was 1,108,000 in Indiana, and 151,000 in Georgia.

The census of 1920 shows only 51½ million eligible to vote in the whole country, of which only 26½ million actually voted in that year which was a presidential year and therefore attracts the highest total of votes.

All this, of course, militates directly against the chances of working class parties, because the masses of the disfranchised are almost wholly workers among whom are large sections of highly class-conscious and militant workers.

When the votes have been finally registered, the counting is done by the election boards in each election precinct. These boards consist of officials appointed by the dominant political parties and usually compensated by the state. There are no non-partisan officials, although in New York, the Honest Ballot Association, which is a semi-private institution, is permitted to send watchers to the various precincts. It has rarely been the experience of the writer that one of these honest ballot watchers has interceded to safeguard the vote of minority parties.

In addition to the officials of the board, the New York law provides for two watchers from each "'legal' political party" and one from each "independent" group or party. The Workers (Communist) Party in New York goes on the ballot as independent.

Police "Protection."

The state also provides a uniformed policeman for each board. In practice, this policeman intervenes only on behalf of the election board officials, i.e., generally sneak-thieves and gangsters whose duty it is to see that ballots of opponents are spoiled, voided, marked, defaced and finally not counted.

These officials assume czaristic powers. It is common practice for them to resort to bodily violence where they are being thwarted by a good watcher. On several occasions before the left wing split, when the socialist party was electing minor officials in New York, these officials who, as candidates for re-election, had every legal right to enter the polling places, received bad beatings when they attempted to protest against fraud and vote stealing. In no instance was the policeman on duty known to interfere and never was a judge to be found who would consent to act against the grossest violation of the law.

Although generally the law painstakingly makes careful provision for the safeguarding of the vote, the rule is invariably to disregard the law and to violate its every provision, so long as the parties of Wall Street are served and no official, no policeman, no district attorney, and no judge will ever consent to enforce its provisions or prosecute any violation made on behalf of these parties.

Democracy in America resolves itself into the proposition that new or minor parties seriously making a bid to elect any of their candidates find themselves from the first engaged in a series of bitter struggles. Fraud and violence rule supreme. The brutal dictatorship of the bourgeoisie throwing aside all pretense of decency and legality comes to the fore naked and unashamed. Workers participating in the parliamentary campaigns in America learn very quickly that the bourgeoisie will never surrender political power without a desperate resort to arms.

Perth Amboy Strikers Plan Workers' Social

A social for Perth Amboy shirt workers, who are now on strike, will be held today in the Workers' Home, 308 Elm St., Perth Amboy. All workers have been invited to attend the affair. Strikers will be admitted free of charge.

INDICTED HALTS HEARING.

WASHINGTON, July 19 (FP).—The senate investigating committee on patronage corruption was getting ready to summon as a witness Perry Howard, special assistant attorney general of the United States when Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, went to Mississippi and caused Howard to be indicted for selling federal patronage. This indictment shuts off testimony until after the November election.

"OFFICIAL OBSERVERS" LAND IN NICARAGUA

MANAGUA, July 19.—The latest contingent of "official observers" who will follow the course of the American marine-superintended elections here in the fall has arrived in Nicaragua.

Professor Harold W. Dodds, of Princeton, and 22 naval ensigns, who comprise the last contingent, are to be added to General Frank McCoy's general staff at once.

Besides the 66 officers of the American army, navy and marine corps who will see that the elections are brought off in a satisfactory way, all the American marines not actively engaged in the campaign against General Sandino will be drafted to stand guard at the polls.

The 666 marines who arrived here yesterday have already been disposed advantageously for poll duty.

In view of the recent elimination of two conservative candidates, the rumor is already gaining ground here that General Moncada's services in betraying the cause of the liberal army to Col. Henry L. Stimson, at Tipitapa, will be rewarded with the presidency by the Americans in the autumn.

FOUND GUILTY OF "HIGH TREASON" JUDGED TOO ILL

Called for Violence Against Kun

VIENNA, July 19.—Gustav Wolff, leader of the Austrian monarchist party, was tried by a jury here today and found guilty of high treason.

The monarchist made himself very conspicuous during the trial of the Communist leader, eBla Kun. By means of speaking, writing curdling letters and fiery statements he called upon the Hungarian fascists to invade Austria in armed bands and forcibly take Bela Kun from the Austrial police and turn him over to Horthy justice.

The Budapest police were only too eager to carry out the suggestion, and did all in their power to induce the Vienna government to turn Bela Kun over to them. The demonstrations of workers, however, were too menacing, and eBla Kun remained in an Austrian jail.

The jury found Wolff guilty and sentenced him to one year in prison. Soon after the verdict was delivered the monarchist was set free to enter a hospital. He will be allowed to serve his term whenever he gets better, it was announced.

PORTER GETS TWO ONE HALF YEARS

Defies Authorities At Court-Martial

Continued from Page One

the witness stand in his own behalf. court-martial. There was a short The idea was not pleasant to the adjaurnment s othat Porter could be warne dof the consequences and wha th emight expect if he took the stand. He replied that he insisted on giving his testimony.

The first questions were made by the defense attorney, Shorr:

"Where and when were you born?"

"Exiter, New Hampshire, May 14, 1909."

"How old were you when you enlisted in the army?"

"Sixteen."

"When did you leave the army?"

"July, 1927."

"What was your reason for leaving the army?"

Porter replied:

"I wish to repudiate the statements of the 'investigation.' The reason I deserted the army was because I found out that the army is a tool of the capitalists and is used against the workers I learned that the army and the national guard is used to break strikes and defend the investments of the capitalists. I objected to being used for these purposes."

"Did you object to the purposes of the army when you enlisted?" Porter was asked.

Learned While in Army.

"At that time, I was only sixteen and did not realize the purposes of the army. I learned from other soldiers of many cases in which the military forces have been used against the workers. Many of them realize the purpose of the army."

Fear ran thru the court-martial. The officers had been startled when Porter stated his reasons for leaving the army. But the knowledge that he was not the only one to realize the anti-labor role of the army was a serious problem.

Efforts for Long Sentence.

The cross-examination began. The "prosecution" had no questions of importance and apparently thought that the less Porter had to say the better for them. Then, questions were open from the officers of the court-martial. One, Captain Young, asked a series of questions about the identity of the other soldiers who shared Porter's knowledge about the army, but could get no information for future courts-martial trials. Captain Young tried to get Porter to make statements with the apparent purpose of making charges of "conspiracy' to give a 20 year sentence, but was completely unsuccessful, Porter being equal to the most subtle questions and coming out victor.

Practically no arguments were made by the surprised prosecution, which could not think of any reply to Porter which would not make matters worse for the authorities, and decided that actions were better than words.

Shorr made the argument for the defense. Then, the court was closed for secret discussion and the verdict.

SWORDFISH KILLS TWO.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 19 (UP).—A swordfish today, attacked broke and sank a rowboat off Antofogasta. Two of the fishermen occupants were drowned. A third was rescued.

SATURDAY EVE., JULY 21

Most Amazing Invention of the Twentieth Century!

PROFESSOR
THEREMIN
of Soviet Russia

Produces Music from the Air

BENJAMIN GITLOW

Acting Secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party and Vice Presidential Candidate

Will Speak at the Huge Demonstration

BEN GITLOW

ROXY BALLET

Russian and Oriental Dances

ARNOLD VOLPE, Conductor

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA OF 50 MEN

CONEY ISLAND STADIUM

Surf Avenue and West Sixth Street

TICKETS FOR SALE ALL DAY AT THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 UNION SQ.

Admission: 75c; $1.00; $1.25 and $1.50 All Seats Reserved

Vare Keeps Tab on All Voters for President or Dog-Catcher, Says Letter is a popular belief that plays a big part in the life. This would seem to be out in the case of the great comedian Charles Dawes went to a park in his town, Evanston, Ill., to make ch. Despite wide advertising half a dozen people were pres- The vice-president scowled and home without saying one word could be published.

ANdOuTS

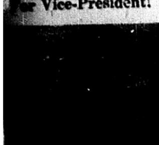
• • •

For Vice-President!



"Ma, look out! He's coming!"

"He doesn't mean anything. He's a politician. Robinson, vice presidential candidate on Al Smith's ticket."

"Why is he waving his fist?"

"Having his personality photographed."

"Why?"

"Adolph, a politician must have a platform or a personality."

"What's Al Smith got?"

"Al Smith believes a president to have something of a nose and a smile if he's going to help the working class much."

"What does Hoover think?"

"Hoover says it's absurd to think the country will stride forward unless the president has fat cheeks."

"How about Joe Robinson."

"He says it's dangerous for a big country like the United States to have a vice president without big fists."

"What good is a big fist for a politician."

"It holds more."

"Well, who's this down here."

• • •

For Secretary Of State

"That's Eddie Cannonball Martin, prize fighter."

"What's he posing like a politician for?"

"His supporters say if Joe Robinson can be vice president with a reach of 68 inches, Cannonball Martin ought to be in the cabinet with a reach of 64 inches."

• • •

The average American is born with a certain talent for lying. But he treats it so lightly it is seldom more than a hobby. Not so with senators. Their mendacity has a professional quality. For instance, [illegible] and Brookhart, before the G. O. P. convention said that Hoover would sink the farmers. Now these two senators say he will save them. He will do neither. The farmers ultimately will save themselves with the aid of the workers by setting up a government of their own.

• • •

Gems of Learning

Hubert Work, Hoover manager: "It is difficult for me to believe the farmers are in such distress as alleged." Too near the truth for a republican politician to believe.

Merchants' Association in letter to New York State Crime Commission: "There would be fewer acquittals and disagreements by juries and the number of convictions would be greater, especially in the case of crimes of violence, if more of our substantial and successful business men would serve on criminal juries." The business man is willing to forget his own past and convict all the other bandits.

Plan Miners' Relief Drive in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 19.—July 21 and July 28 is National Miners' Relief Week. All over the country the great masses of sympathizers of the striking miners are rallying behind the call for relief. In Philadelphia, monster house to house collections will be held on two Saturdays, July 21 and July 28, beginning at 1 P. M., from the following six stations:

[illegible] Girard Ave., West Philadelphia.

[illegible] Gordon St., Strawberry Mansion.

[illegible] N. Franklin St.

[illegible] Labor Lyceum, 2nd and Cambria Sts. (entrance from [illegible]

[illegible] W. cor 8th and Ritner Sts.

[illegible] Tasker St.

BALLOTS ALL MARKED WITH SECRET CODE

Machine Pays Poll Tax for Thousands

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA (By Mail).—The Vare republican organization, like all good republicans, are 100 per cent. Americans, worship the government, including the eminent Col Coolidge, and tell all the citizens of Philadelphia to be good "law" abiding American citizens.

Tammany Hall and all the other democratic organizations do the same thing. In Philadelphia, since there is but one political party of any potency at the present time, it is necessary only to examine this Vare-controlled republican organization and see whether they really mean what their leaders and henchmen are always saying.

According to the "law" during elections, the only legal voting form is the secret, direct, Australian ballot. This would make it impossible for anyone to learn how the ballot was used. But all Philadelphians know that the Vare organization keeps tab on every voter who has voted, from president to dog-catcher.

Courageous workers, however, will vote the Workers (Communist) Party ticket and ignore the threats of the division and ward leaders(or heelers) as they are known in the local vernacular.

Marked Ballots.

How do the Vare "heelers" keep such a close tab on every voter? There are many methods employed. In the recent testimony given in the Vare-Wilson contest for senatorial seat from Pennsylvania, the stubs of the ballot in one division were all marked up by a secret code. The division "heeler" declined to admit any knowledge of the code, even going so far as to claim it meant nothing. However the lawyers, the investigators (U. S. senators), and the spectators were simply amused, realizing the significance of this code.

There is a law in the state of Pennsylvania that every voter is require dto pay 50 cents each election, this 50 cents being known as a "poll" tax. The voters are required to pay this out of their own pocket, and no one else is permitted to pay. The Vare machine, however, purchases thousands of votes each election day by paying the voters 50 cents, or rather giving him a poll tax certificate free of charge. So great is the "respect" of the machine leaders for the "almighty" law.

Free Tax Receipts.

During the hearings before the senate "investigators," one Frederick Schadt, a petty Vare election official, testifed that the 20th Ward leaders, Michatel Mullin, a deputy coroner, and Edward Connor, a magistrate, had instructed him to issue free poll tax receipts to 90 voters in the 18th division of that ward.

This testimony, revealing as it did, methods in vogue in the great "free" city of Philadelphia, was highly damaging to the Vare machine.

But it must be remembered that nothing is holy to Philadelphia republicans, and that in this city their sway is absolute. So they immediately "framed" Schadt, the government witness, had him arrested and sent to jail. This arrest and imprisonment, both illegal, was arranged not only as a punishment to Schadt for telling tales out of school, but also to intimidate any other witness who might do likewise at the further hearings to be held within a week or ten days.

It is in this fashion that the Vare republican organization sets an example of 100 per cent. enforcement, going so far as even to frame-up government witnesses.

One thing is certain, however, the workers of Philadelphia have had enough of this thing. They are going to the polls this election day and will not permit themselves to be bluffed by the threats of Vare "heelers." They will vote for Foster and Gitlow and the Workers Party ticket straight, as the only representatives of their class on the ballot.

—C. RABIN.

Al Smith a Traitor, Say Texas Democrats

DALLAS, Texas, July 19 (UP).—Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee, was branded a traitor to the constitution of the United States by V. A. Collins, keynote speaker at the organization meeting of anti-Smith democrats of Texas here today.

Collins was applauded enthusiastically by the 500 democrats who attended the meeting.

"This is a crusade to save the ideals of America," Collins declared.

Mellon On Financial Visit to Europe

PARIS, July 19.—Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury of the United States, and one of the wealthiest men in the world, arrived today from America and motored to Dinard.

The French finance minister announced that, as yet, no conference had been scheduled with Mellon.

Heiress' "Poverty" Makes Good Publicity

Isobel Stone, daughter of the late Gov. William A. Stone of Pennsylvania, who left her a mere $3,000,000 for spending money, is now living in a barge where singing is her favorite exercise. The lady, formerly a Broadway prima donna, knows the value of advertising and finds that "poverty" pays. Photo shows her in training.

VANCOUVER STUDENTS DENOUNCE MILITARISM

(By a Worker Correspondent)

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 19.—Ten students of the Pacific Coast Workers' Summer School distributed a leaflet denouncing the Citizens' Military Training Camps at a dance given here recently for 600 recruits marking the official closing of the camp. Starting from different parts of the hall at a prearranged signal seven girls from the school passed rapidly through the crowd, giving the leaflets to the recruits.

When the girls tried to leave, they were stopped by armed guards at the door. As soon as the officers read copies of the leaflets, they confiscated as many as they could from the recruits who had received them. Additional guards were placed at the door, with strict orders to let no one out. Boys who had received the leaflets were asked to identify the distributors.

Detained for an Hour.

Four of the students were identified and questioned by the officers. After being detained for almost an hour, the girls were released.

The leaflets were eagerly read by the recruits and others present at the dance, especially after the officers began to confiscate them. Comments ranged from a savage "Whoever did that ought to be hung!" to "Well, what they say seems to be all right."

Contain Worker Slogans.

The leaflets described the bad conditions in the camp; pointed out the function of the army and navy in protecting American investments abroad and as a strikebreaking agency at home. It contrasted conditions in the Soviet Union with conditions here, appealing to the recruits to resist all attempts to crush the Soviet Union, "the friend of the workers of all countries." Its slogans were:

Fight for a month's vacation with pay!

Fight against capitalist militarism!

Fight against imperialist aggression in China and Nicaragua!

Fight against all attempts to crush the Soviet Union!

Fight for and defend the workers' interests!

UPHOLDS RAID ON UNEMPLOYED

Philadelphia Workers Given Fines

(Special To DAILY WORKER.)

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—Declaring that the five workers who on February 12 led an unemployment demonstration were enemies of the constitution and by inference that they had no standing before the law, Judge Alessandroni, well-known Vare machine tool, yesterday refused the appeal of these workers who were attacked by the police when they urged their demands for unemployment insurance and other support for the jobless.

The decision on this case, which has been pending since February, upholds sentence of Herbert Benjamin, district organizer of the Workers (Communist) Party in Philadelphia; Michael Tuoler, Jennie Cooper, Fannie Cutler and George Evans, who are charged with villifying the mayor and the president when police prevented unemployed workers from entering the headquarters of the Workers (Communist) Party, where a meeting of unemployed had been called. The original sentence imposed a fine of $10 on the workers.

Eleven others, who were arrested together with Benjamin, and also fined in the original hearing before Magistrate Fahnstock, were released and their appeal sustained.

The International Labor Defense will carry an appeal against this conviction to the higher courts with a view to establishing the right of workers to meet without police permit.

STRIKE AROUSES ELMIRA CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, July 19 (FP).—Copies of a circular issued by the Elmira (N. Y.) chamber of commerce to all other local chambers of commerce in the United States, denouncing the strike of the Intl Assn. of Machinists at the plant of the American-LaFrance & Foamite Corporation, in Elmira, have reached machinist general headquarters in Washington.

This circular, inspired by President Rose of the corporation, seeks to explain away the fact that he declared for the open-shop and against a wage adjustment parley, and that 289 out of 300 men in the plant walked out and have stayed out. The concern is the chief manufacturer of fire fighting equipment in the United States.

Woman Kills Self In Religious Frenzy

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 19.—Intense religious mania induced the suicide yesterday of Mrs. Annie Atkins, a 40-year-old woman who lived in Hollywood. Mrs. Atkins was stricken in the midst of the church service Sunday morning, and it required several members to quiet her. Again, Sunday afternoon, she ran through the streets, screaming and tearing off her clothes. Again friends quieted her.

Monday morning she went to the home of a friend and asked to use the telephone. Seeing a revolver on the table, she grabbed it, and shot herself through the heart, dying instantly.

CHASING INQUIRY UPHELD.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19 (UP)—The court of appeals today upheld the "ambulance chasing" inquiry being held in New York City when it ruled that Alexander Karlin, an attorney, who had refused to testify must give his testimony. Since the inquiry started corporations have saved thousands of dollars due to the drop in damage suits.

British Cable Trust To Swallow Marconi

LONDON, July 19 (UP).—Marconi Company directors announced today that profits for 1927 were $2,152,355, permitting an interim dividend of 10 per cent, less income tax, on ordinary shares.

A general meeting will be held next fall. Then the details of the plan to merge the companies with the Eastern and Associated cable Companies in a British empire communications organization will be outlined.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

PALO VALLEY NEGROES FIGHT SEGREGATION

American Legion Backs Race Prejudice

(By a Worker Correspondent)

The Negroes of Palo Valley Southern California, adjacent to the Colorado River, are making a determined fight to prevent the introduction of segregated schools for Mexican and Negro children to begin with the coming September school sessions.

This is a cotton producing valley and is settled chiefly by people from Texas and the hinterlands of the old South, who nurse all the hatreds and prejudices of the old Negro slavery regime. The entire move for separate schools has the backing of the local American Legion, which in California has become a Negro hating, labor-bating organization. Its activities parallel those of the Ku Klux Klan.

The Negroes have formed an Anti-Segregation Society under the leadership of George Ivans, Sam J White, John Davis and John H Owens. Funds are being collected in preparation for a legal battle to test the constitutionality of such a procedure. The state constitution provides against separate schools.

A spirited mass demonstration was held on July 8, in the Methodist Church at Blythe, Cal. Plans were completed for bringing in Attorney MacBeth of Los Angeles to handle the legal end of the matter. A committee, consisting of John H. Owens Ed. Bell and Wade Bowen, was appointed to confer with the local school board and superintendent of school, Prof. George R. Scott.

Prof. Scott has been acting in a very vacillating manner, and his sympathies appear to be directed against the Negroes. Previous committees sent to confer with him have received very unsatisfactory replies

WORLD TOURISTS ARRIVE IN LONDON

2 70-Year Old Women to Visit USSR

Word was received here via cable by Milton Goodman, manager of World Tourists, Inc., 69 Fifth Ave., that two groups of tourists sent out by the organization have arrived safely in London, completing the first leg of their trip to Russia.

Among the tourists is Miss Ella Ball, 70 year old educator, who, before leaving New York said that she felt that she must see the new social system being evolved in Russia before she died. Advices from London said that Miss Hall is standing up well under the excitement of the trip. Miss Hall comes from an old American family. Her grandgather is the founder of Keuka College at Keuka, New York. She will visit Central Russia, White Russia Ukraine, Crimea, Caucasus and the Don and Volga districts.

Another 70 year old member of the same group is Miss Elizabeth Sommer of Philadelphia.

20 Truckmen Strike For Wage Increase

MONTICELLO, Ia., July 19.—Twenty unorganized truck drivers, employed in highway paving near here, struck for an increase in wages. The Contractors hired scabs, whom they paid the old scale.

New Producing Firm Planning Six Attractions for Broadway

Stock producers, usually inactive on the main street known as Broadway, are going in for producing on a large scale, and for showing their attractions in Broadway theatres. Here is Charles E. Blaney, a well-known stock producer, who is to make his debut as head of a new corporation which will seek fame and fortune on the main stem. No less than six productions are planned for the coming season.

The first of these to go in rehearsal is a comedy drama titled "Trimmed" by James Hagan. The play will be tried out in Mr. Blaney's stock theatre in New Brunswick, N. J., and perhaps come here in August.

Other plays listed are "Passion's Paradise," by Jacques Harblane; "The Beautiful Shop Girl," a musical comedy; "Found Wanting"; "Hit and Run" and "The Heartache Kid," an original opus based on theatrical life. Altogether an ambitious program for a stock producer.

A crime thriller that gripped London in 1862 was given its second New York revival by the East Side Stock Company last night, when "Sweeney Todd, the Demon Barber of Fleet Street, or The String of Pearls" by Frederick Hazleton, opened at the Laboratory Theatre. The cast includes W. Gordon Craig, Lydia Cortese, Dick Adams, Marion Crowne, Helen Grayson, Byron McGrath, Burton Mallory, Karol Rembov, Walter Ellsberg, and Helen Huberth. During the week of July 23 the company will play W. S. Gilbert's "Engaged."

Marie Saxon, last seen here in "The Ramblers," will be the prima donna in Lewis E. Gensler's production "Ups-a-Daisy," the musical comedy with which Mr. Gensler will make his debut as a manager on Broadway where he is known already as a composer of musical scores.

W. C. Fields will be starred by Earl Carroll in his new "Vanities," which opens August 6th, at the Earl Carroll Theatre.

LEGLESS FLYER STARTS SOON.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 19 (UP).—M. R. "Dinger" Daugherty, legless, one-armed aviator, who hopes to fly to Rome on a transatlantic solo flight, said he expected to get started today or tomorrow.

"I may start this afternoon if the weather is all right," he said. "I'll go north over Trenton, Staten Island and then to Long Island."

STAR OF "THE LADDER."

Carroll McComas, who plays the leading role in the United Actors' philosophical play, "The Ladder," at the Cort Theatre.

YACHT MANIACS SHANGHAI CREW

Must Sink or Swim to Land, They Boast

(By Federated Press).

If the big sailing yacht Azara breezes first across the Atlantic to Santander, Spain to win King Alphonso's gold cup, the speed boat's owner can thank union seamen for his victory. The Baker brothers, Detroit owners of the Azara, broke all precedents for millionaire yachtsmen when they went to the Seamen's Union hall in New York for a deep-water crew.

Her rival, the Atlantic, recruited a crew from byways of Brooklyn's waterfront, put them on the yacht two days before sailing and then anchored off Sandy Hook. "They'll have to sink or swim to get ashore," said Millionaire Bell of New York to prevent another rebellion of forecastle hands.

TRAIN CRASH KILLS 10.

WARSAW, Poland, July 19 (UP).—Ten persons were killed and many injured today when a passenger train collided with a freight train at Gronjec, near Warsaw. Four passenger cars were demolished.

NEW MACHINES OUST MONESSEN TIN CO. WORKERS

July 4th Off—Without Pay, of Course

(By a Worker Correspondent)

MONESSEN, Pa., (By Mail).—I will write a few lines about the working conditions here in Monessen. The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company sure was generous to their workers. We got one day off for the 4th of July (naturally without pay), and some of the workers took advantage of their holiday and left town. Being that they could not get back here in time to report for work they just naturally lost their jobs.

That's how strict the bosses are here if a worker can't report for work every day—he can get out and stay out. Many others are willing to take their places.

Inventions Oust Workers.

The Pittsburgh Steel started up No. 2 Rod Mill just recently, which will give a few more workers a chance to earn more profits for the bosses. No. 2 Rod Mill has been closed for quite a while since No. 1 with its new patent machines, could take care of all the orders with less human labor and greater output. No. 2 mill would require at least four times as many workers as No. 1. So now, since they have more orders to fill, they have to start up No. 2 where the workers get about 2 or 3 days a week, while No. 1 works 7 days a week.

Page Steel and Wire Company hired about 6 men the other morning to work for about $3 a day. Their work didn't last no more than three days because the company received a couple carloads of brick and they wanted them unloaded in a hurry. The boss was sure a nice real fellow to work for. When he saw that your wheel-barrow was not loaded to the top he just gave you a yellow slip and told you to go to the office and draw your money.

That's the kind of working conditions we have here in Monessen. Pa.

—J. E. M.

SMALLER BILLS; LESS MONEY.

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UP).—Acting Secretary of Treasury Mills announced today the new United States paper money—about one-third smaller than present bills—will be put in circulation July 1, 1929.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:35
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
BATTLE OF CHATEAU-THIERRY
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
Premiere Revival Showing "STARK LOVE"
also Robert Flaherty's "MOANA" and "The Birth of Films," Charlie Chaplin's first screen test

HOOVER BUNK MAN ACTIVE.

CHICAGO, July 18 (UP).—Henry J. Allen of Wichita, Kansas, publicity manager for the presidential campaign of Herbert Hoover, arrived here today from Washington.

SUBSCRIBE
to International Press Correspondence
and
The Communist International

First Hand Reports and Editorials on the Sixth World Congress of the Communist Internatonal

RATES:
One Year $6.00
Six Months $3.50
Single Copies ..... .10

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

PATERSON
Daily Worker Picnic
Sunday, July 22, 1928
TO BE HELD AT AUKINS FARM
NORTH HALEDON, N. J.
Auspices: W. P. Paterson
Directions: Take North Haledon Bus and get off at farm or Haledon Bus and ride until last stop.
ADMISSION .... 15 CENTS

A Worker's Tour to Soviet Russia
TO WITNESS THE CELEBRATION OF THE NOVEMBER REVOLUTION
"EVERY WORKER SHOULD PARTICIPATE"
The Group Sails October 17th on the Cunard Express Steamer "MAURETANIA" VIA LONDON
COPENHAGEN
HELSINGFORS
7 DAYS
of Interesting Sightseeing in LENINGRAD and MOSCOW RETURN
WARSAW
BERLIN
PARIS
$375.00
May Be Paid in Monthly Installments.
First Payment $25.00.
(FREE VISES—EXTENSIONS ARRANGED FOR TO VISIT ANY PART OF U. S. S. R.)
WORLD TOURISTS, INC.
69 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures [illegible] the Party on the ballot at the following head[illegible] which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET
NEW YORK CITY

GROCERY CLERKS CHOSE OFFICERS; 2 FIRMS SETTLE

Members Endorse Left Wing Leadership

With very few exceptions, the entire leadership of the Retail Grocery, Fruit and Dairy Clerks' Union will be re-elected to office for another term, according to the overwhelming sentiment exhibited by the membership in renominating their officers. Most of the candidates for the union's important posts remain uncontested. The nominations were held Tuesday night at a mass membership meeting in Stuyvesant Casino, after the officers had delivered a report of the union's organizing activities.

Members Endorse Strike

The members unanimously endorsed the report of the strike among the fruit store clerks.

Announcement that a banquet is being prepared to celebrate on August 3 the first anniversary of the union's existence outside the United Hebrew Trades, was received with enthusiasm. The union has severed its affiliation with the United Hebrew Trades after the reactionaries in control tried to destroy the union because of its militant left wing leadership. The union's strength and membership have since grown tenfold.

In completing the nominating work, the membership chose an Election and Objection Committee, which is to meet Friday evening immediately after work in the union office, 117 Second Ave. All nominees are called upon to appear before the committee if their names are to appear on the official ballot. Elections will take place in two weeks.

Firms Sign Agreements

Max Budig Dairy Co., 165 E. 156th St., Bronx, and the Handler Bros. Dairy Co., 862 Hunts Point Road, Bronx, yesterday signed agreements with the union, according to an announcement issued today. The firms agreed to grant all conditions called for in the union agreement to the clerks in their stores.

PUBLIC PROTEST HITS GAS MERGER

Kenny Big Stockholder In Both Concerns

The public hearing today held before the Upstate Public Service Commission on the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger of the Brooklyn Edison Company with the Consolidated Gas Company of New York was adjourned until July 25 after representatives of various civic organizations had protested bitterly that their objections to the proposed merger were not being given a fair hearing.

Representatives of the two companies testified that the proposed merger would bring "beneficial results."

The Consolidated Gas Company, one of the corporations involved in the merger, two years ago secured an increase in rates through the efforts of Prendergast, chairman of the commission and George R. Van Namee, Al Smith appointee.

It was also recently revealed that William F. Kenny, one of Smith's biggest financial supporters in his fight for the presidency, is a large stockholder in both the Consolidated Gas Company and in the Brooklyn Edison Company.

METAL WORKERS BREATHE POISON

(By a Worker Correspondent)

The 250 workers in the Shapiro and Aronson, Metal Co. work under very unsanitary conditions. The young workers between the ages of 18 and 19 years old make 12 to 14 dollars per week while workers 20 years old and over earn $20 to $25 per week.

On the 5th floor the different metal and chemical materials we produce, poison the air we breath. If the room was larger and the ceiling higher, the hazards would not be so dangerous. We are only allowed one-half hour for lunch and therefore have no chance to go out in the open air and must rush thru without lunch in order to be back to work on time.

The organized workers today work only 8 hours per day while we work 8½ hours. We have a 48 hour week while the organized workers have a 44 hour week. They have an hour for lunch while we have only a half hour.

It is only thorugh organization that we can better our conditions get shorter hours and more wages.

We must organize floor committees which will be able to take the first step in bettering our conditions and who will help in the organization of the entire factory.

We want to hear from other workers through The DAILY WORKER.

BUFFALO, July 19 (UP).—Two persons were killed and two others were injured today when a touring car in which they were riding was struck by a New York Central train at Clarence, near here.

Tammany Grafters Plead "Not Guilty"

Peter B. [illegible] (left) and Andrew Zorn, business associates of the late John M. Phillips, sewer pipe king and chief of the Tammany graft machine in Queens, pleaded "not guilty" in federal court on charges of income tax frauds.

EXPOSE MCGRADY SEEKING "PEACE"

3,000 Furriers Jam Big Hall at Meet

Despite the sweltering heat yesterday, three thousand furriers crowded the big hall in Cooper Union in answer to the call of the Joint Board of the Furriers Union and heard their leader, Ben Gold, tell how Edward F. McGrady, union-wrecking emissary of the American Federation of Labor, had made "peace overtures" when he saw that his scab union is about to fall to pieces.

Exposes Faker

"Not that McGrady desired peace," Gold explained; "it was merely a gesture to obtain a breathing space for his tottering structure." To prove that the A. F. of L. fakers were actually ready to confer with the "dreaded" Communists, a facsimile of a telegram was exhibited, signed by McGrady and sent to Charles Stetsky. The telegram instructed Stetsky to have an intermediary named Cohen ask the Joint Board to wait till McGrady returned from Troy for negotiations. The telegram is countersigned by Isidor Cohen, who certifies that this telegram was given to him by Stetsky with instructions that he follow out its requirements.

Movement for Single Union

The climax of Gold's speech was his declaration that from now on the movement of the fur workers for a single union in the industry was taking on new forms. That all elements in the struggle for one union will be united to deal the final death blow to the fast-disintegrating scab company union, the Joint Council which is completely controlled by the employers.

An interesting sidelight, which supports the contention that the Joint Council is about to collapse, was the announcement by Gold at the beginning of his speech that other groups, besides the Sorkin-Winnick group, were seeking opportunities to talk "peace" with the Joint Board. The Sorkin group, still functionaries of the Joint Council, is now in public conflict with the Stetsky-McGrady gang.

S. Liebowitz, assistant manager, was chairman of the meeting.

Other speakers at the meeting were Irving Potash, Louis Cohen and J. Winogradsky.

Resolution Unanimously Passed

The resolution unanimously passed, which shows a definite trend toward a new orientation in the struggle against the A. F. of L., socialism and their boss allies, declares in part:

Whereas, the A. F. of L. Company Union has broken off negotiations that have been going on for the past several months with the object of putting an end to the attack on the Furriers Union; and

Whereas, the Company Union, in league with the bosses, gangsters and with the Industrial Squad, is conducting a vicious campaign of terror, arresting and beating the workers who are demanding July increases from their employers; and

Whereas, the A. F. of L. Company Union is practicing actual holdups on the fur workers with the sole purpose of extorting money from them and thus functioning as an organization of racketeers in the fur trade; and

Whereas, the misleaders of the A. F. of L. have in their campaign of terror in the Furriers Union broken the Furriers Union, sold out the union conditions and the wages of the fur workers to the bosses, and reduced the fur workers to a condition of helplessness and want; and

Whereas, there has already arisen from all directions a rank and file movement for One Union of all fur workers, without any exceptions, a movement which is being fought most viciously by the misleaders of the A. F. of L. Company Union; be it therefore

Resolved by the fur workers assembled at Cooper Union on Wednesday, July 18, to give full power to the Joint Board to unite all elements that have joined the movement for One Union, and, as soon as possible, with these united forces, re-establish one powerful union of fur workers that should be capable of restoring the 40-hour week, in-

SMITH TO HAVE $10,000,000 FUND

No Limit Set to Big Contributions

The declaration of Herbert H. Lehman, Morgan-controlled banker, and financial director of the Smith election campaign that there would be no limit to the Smith slush fund is believed in informed circles here to be an invitation to the republican party campaign managers to adopt publicly a similar policy. In this way, it is said, the usual charges of "buying" the election will this year be avoided, and both old parties will be free to pile up record totals.

$10,000,000 Estimate.

Estimates of $10,000,000 as the probable amount of the democratic campaign slush fund was received here as being far too low. At least five millions, it was pointed out, was expended in putting over Calvin Coolidge in a campaign in which there was little threat to the republican chances. This sum was the probable expenditure of only the national committee and did not take account of the enormous outlays of the state organizations and the numerous "unofficial disbursements. The present campaign will see between twenty-five and thirty millions expended by both parties, it was declared.

Unlimited Slush Fund.

There will be no limitations on the size of contributions, Lehman admitted. Asked if the present campaign expenditures would exceed those of all previous campaigns, Lehman agreed that "there will be many factors which will make it expensive. Every state in the north, east and west will be considered debatable ground," the banker said. This was taken to mean that an intensive and nation-wide drive on a hitherto unknown scale would be made. Estimates are that $2,000,000 will be expended in New York state alone.

The contributors to the campaign will be the large corporations, it is understood. In fact the same ones who contribute to the republican chest will as in other years be found on the democratic list. Observers are watching with considerable interest the extent of financial support which will be given to Smith by the traction companies, especially the B.-M. T. with whom Smith has entered in a deal to raise fares and by the power interests. Wm. F. Kenny, old crony of Al Smith and multimillionaire contractor, has declared that he would give all he had "for love of Al." Kenny is one of the controlling stockholders in the Third Avenue Railroad now seeking a fare increase. It has also been learned that Kenny is a heavy stockholder in the Consolidated Gas Company, recently combined with the Brooklyn Edison Company, and which was able through Al Smith's upstate public service commission to secure an increase in rates two years ago.

"SUBVERSIVE ELEMENTS"

French Communists Arouse Chamber

PARIS (By Mail).—In the French chamber of deputies an extended discussion on the budget and appropriations for the army and navy led to a heated debate between the Communists and the government forces.

One, Fieullien, a supporter of the government, denounced with a tremulo in his voice "the scandalous propaganda which subversive elements spread in the army. The patriotic press has already noticed this propaganda which is carried on by the Communists. Public opinion is enraged. The government should do something about it. I demand that the minister take all necessary measures."

The Communist deputy retaliated:

"We spread propaganda only among the workers in the army!"

And all the reactionaries jumped, crying: "There's the admission! There's the admission!"

"Tell me this, then," replied the Communist deputy, Jacquemotte: "You do not by any chance spread religious and capitalist propaganda in the army, do you?"

The debate was prolonged in great heat.

BEGIN NEW YORK SIGNATURE DRIVE AT BIG MEETING

State Campaign Now In Full Swing

With their hall crowded to capacity and a high spirit of enthusiasm prevailing, Sections 2 and 3 of the Workers (Communist) Party, after listening to a report by Rebecca Grecht, campaign manager of District Two, at a membership meeting held at their section headquarters, unanimously decided that every member of their section must immediately report for nominating petitions in the territory in which they live and start collecting their quota of signatures to place the Party candidates on the ballot in New York City.

This decision was made in view of the fact that no local candidates are being run by the Workers Party in the territory covered by these sections.

Active Militants.

The membership of these two sections are among the most active elements in the ranks of the Party—most of them are needle trades workers who have actively participated in the most important labor struggles in the city. They will report at the section headquarters in upper and lower Bronx, Harlem, Downtown Manhattan, Williamsburg, Brownsville, Boro Park and Astoria. It is expected that they will contribute largely to the success of the signature drive throughout the city.

Membership meetings have also been held in Williamsburg, addressed by John Di Santo and in Astoria, Queens, at which Abraham Markoff reported on the election campaign. Astoria will start its signature drive on Monday, July 23, at the Bohemian Hall, Woolsey and 2nd.

These complete the series of membership meetings which have been held in every section of the city to mobilize the Party for the signature drive.

Campaign in Swing.

The campaign to put the Workers Party on the ballot in New York City is now in swing. Campaign committees have been elected to supervise the drive in the various section headquarters established for this purpose.

Section 7, Boro Park, was the first to open the drive in the city, last Sunday. With a minimum of 1,500 signatures necessary to place the candidate in the 9th assembly district, Kings, on the ballot, Section 7 believes that an early start is essential. Party members living in Bath Beach, Bensonhurst and Coney Island are expected to assist the Boro Park Section.

Section 1, Downtown, has already begun sending out committees and declares it will be the first to reach its quota.

Section 8, Brownsville, has made a careful study of its district. It is determined to put the candidates in the 22nd and 23rd assembly district on the ballot in a short time and then to start on signatures for a candidate in the 18th assembly district.

Section 5, Bronx, has set Monday, July 23, as the date for the opening of its drive.

Harlem and Williamsburg are mobilizing their membership in preparation for an intensive campaign.

Quota: 100 Signatures.

The quota for each Party member is 100 signatures. Only the determined efforts of the membership will place the candidates of the Workers Party on the ballot. Every Party member must report at the designated headquarters.

On the Party Days designated by the district, July 23, 24, 25, 30, 31 and August 1, special efforts will be made to rally the Party members behind the drive.

The following is a list of headquarters in the city where petitions may be obtained:

Section 1, Downtown Manhattan, 60 St. Marks Place.

Section 4, Harlem, (a) 143 East 103rd Street. (b) 200 West 135th St., Room 210.

Section 5, Bronx, (a) 2075 Clinton Avenue. (b) 2700 Bronx Park East. (c) 715 East 138th Street.

Section 6, Williamsburg, (a) 29 Graham Ave., Brooklyn. (b) 46 Ten Eyck St., Brooklyn.

Section 7, Boro Park, 1373 43rd St., Broklyn.

Section 8, Brownsville, 154 Watkins St., Brooklyn.

Section 9, Queens, Bohemian Hall, Woolsey St. and 2nd Avenue.

BALL LEAGUE OF HOSE WORKERS

PHILADELPHIA, July 19. — Branch No. 1 of the American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers has formed a workers' baseball league comprising 7 teams. Teams are formed by the shop associations and the games are played in the evening in the Kensington section of the city.

The teams have been playing from the beginning of the season, though without formal organization or regular schedule. Officers of the local have endorsed these workers' teams and are encouraging the formation of others.

Workers Calender

All announcements for this column must reach The DAILY WORKER several days before the event in question to make the announcement effective. Many announcements arrive at the office too late for publication owing to the additional time needed for the delivery of the paper.

• • •

Philadelphia Picnic.

Workers (Communist) Party, District Three, will hold a picnic and carnival on Labor Day at Shutzen Park. Benjamin Gitlow will speak.

• • •

Chicago D. E. C. Meet.

CHICAGO, Ill.—The District Executive Committee of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Chicago will hold an organizational conference of shop nuclei on July 22. All functionaries of various units, and comrades in different factories have been urged to attend.

• • •

Philadelphia Miners' Relief.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Philadelphia Miners' Relief Conference here has arranged a picnic for July 29 at Maple Grove Park.

• • •

Philadelphia T. U. E. L. Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Trade Union Educational League of Philadelphia will hold a Grand Picnic at Maple Park Grove on August 4, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 2 a. m. the next morning. Sports, dancing, and musical programs will be added to the speeches of prominent members returned from the U. S. S. R. All are invited to attend.

• • •

Philadelphia Campaign Meets.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., The following open-air camaign meetings will be held here on the following dates:

Friday, July 20.—7th and Ritter. Furson, Ball, Sam Burt.

Saturday July 21.—7th and Snyder. Nachowitz, Whitman Apelbaum. At Kensington and Orleans; Benjamin, Stanley and Thomas.

• • •

Philadelphia Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.,—The Workers (Communist) Party here has arranged a picnic to be held August 19 at Burholme Park. Al workers are invited to attend.

• • •

Chicago Picnic.

CHICAGO, Ill.—A picnic for the benefit of the Northwestern Shop News of Chicago will be held on July 29, under the ausices of Section 6, District 8, of the Workers (Communist) Party. In order to reach the picnic grounds, take Grand Ave. car to Sayre (7100 block), walk north to 3100 block, then one block west to 3101 North Nordica.

• • •

Roxbury-New Bedford Benefit.

A lecture, the subject of which will be, "Why Are the Textile Workers Facing Starvation?" will be held this evening at the New International Hall, 42 Wenonah St., Roxbury. F. G. Biedenkapp will deliver the lecture. Come on time. Contribution 25 cents. Held for the benefit of the striking textile workers of New Bedford, Mass.

• • •

Perth Amboy Mine Relief.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J.—A mass meeting will be held here on July 21 at 8 P. M., for the purpose of starting the drive for the National Miners' Relief Campaign. It will be held at 308 Elm St., Perth Amboy.

• • •

Scranton Y. W. L. Picnic.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A picnic will be held under the auspices of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Scranton, Pa., at Runo Farm, Hollow Ave., on August 5, at 10 A. M. All young workers are welcome. A very interesting program has been arranged.

• • •

Chicago Sacco-Vanzetti Meet.

CHICAGO, Ill.—All workers here are expected to come to the Sacco-Vanzetti memorial meeting on August 22, 8 P. M., at Temple Hall, Van Buren and Marshfield. The speakers will be Ralph Chaplin, M. Schulman, Guldo Serio and others. A musical program has been prepared.

• • •

Perth Amboy Mine Relief Meet.

A meeting at which a Hungarian miner will speak on the miners' strike, will be held at 308 Elm St., Perth Amboy, Saturday, July 21. There will be other speakers present.

CHINESE SEAMEN TO BE DEPORTED

Beaten Up By Police After Wage Demand

By WILLIAM SCHNEIDERMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19. — Twenty-three Chinese sailors aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela went on strike last Thursday over a wage dispute, when the ship's officers refused to listen to their spokesman.

The captain promptly called the U. S. Coast Guard cutter to the rescue, on the grounds that there was a "mutiny" on his ship, and a bitter fight followed between the unarmed Chinese sailors and a detachment of coast guord men, customs guards and special police, all of whom carried loaded pistols, the butts of which were used freely on the heads of the Chinese. The sailors, after being badly beaten up, were arrested for "rioting and mutiny," and are slated to be deported to China. The Chinese consul in this city, who was called to the scene, did nothing to assist the sailors.

The capitalist press of this city is making much of the "mutiny."

CHICAGO PIONEER CAMP OPEN SOON

CHICAGO, Ill., July 19.—Located in a beautiful spot at Round Lake, Illinois, the Pioneer Camp this year of District 8, will be by far the biggest camp ever held in this vicinity.

Plans are being made to include groups of miners' children from the southern Illinois coal regions—free of charge. Many children will come from the steel territory of Hammond, Gary and Indiana Harbor. In addition to that there will be children from Kenosha, Waukegan, Milwaukee and Chicago.

Camp will last for a six-week period, starting July 22, and ending September 2. There will be three 2-week periods of camp, with different groups of workers' children accommodated each period. Provisions are being made for all sorts of sports equipment to be installed on the camp grounds.

MILL WORKERS HOLD FALL RIVER STRIKE MEETING

Police Fail to Halt T. M. C. Meeting

Police Fail to Halt T. M. C. Meeting

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 19.—Over two thousand textile workers gathered for a Textile Mill Committees meeting on a lot and trudged a mile and a half to another meeting site after the police had succeeded in terrorizing the owner into refusing to allow the use of the rented field.

The meeting was called by the T. M. C. after hundreds of British and American workers signified their desire to hear the leaders of that organization. A special meeting was, therefore, arranged in the residential district of those workers.

Despite all the elaborate preparations of the police, they did not succeed in preventing the meeting, because the union representatives had prepared in reserve a lot rented from a union sympathizer.

The hundreds of tramping strikers were closely followed by the police, Police Chief Feeney himself making a new attempt to terrorize the owner of the field. Failing in this Feeney ordered squads of police and plain clothes men to surround the meeting as a gesture of intimidation.

The 2,000 workers assembled stayed in spite of the police and enthusiastically applauded every time the speakers mentioned the slogan, "prepare to strike."

James P. Ried, leader of the Fall River Mill Committees; A. Weisman, and Biedenkamp, of the Workers International Relief, were the speakers at the meeting.

• • •

Thousands at Meeting

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 19.—An immense crowd of many thousands held the largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting of textile workers Monday yet held by the Textile Mill Committees here. The meeting was held on Liberty Lot, purchased by the union with workers' donations, after police ordered that no meeting place be rented to the T. M. C.

Hundreds attending the meeting later came to the platform and signed up as members of the union. Strike sentiment is mounting with amazing rapidity, the meeting showed. The T. M. C. is now preparing strike machinery for a struggle to regain wages cut by the mill owners here.

FED. RESERVE RAISES RATES

WASHINGTON, July 19 (UP).—Federal Reserve Banks at Boston and St. Louis will establish five per cent discount rates Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

New Orleans Launches Pre-Election Clean-Ups

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—New Orleans is being swept by squads of patrolmen and detectives, in the usual pre-election "cleanup" for the purpose of polling more votes in the fall, carrying out the orders of Police Superintendent Thomas Healey, to "clean out the gamblers."

Police reported 28 arrests today, a small percentage of the alleged gamblers, lottery sellers, confidence men, and hand bookers picked up since the "clean-up" was launched.

POSTPONE LABOR DEFENSE OUTING

Workers Are Urged to Support Affair

The outing of the New York section of the International Labor Defense, which was scheduled to take place at Pleasant Bay Park this Saturday, has been postponed until Saturday, August 11. The I. L. D. has decided to postpone its affair in order that all workers may attend the concert at Coney Island Stadium Saturday, arranged by The DAILY WORKER and the Freiheit.

The outing on August 11 will be the same as originally scheduled, it is announced. Athletics, games, open-air dancing, a torch-light parade, a mass scene and other numbers will be included on the program.

Tickets are 35 cents and are on sale at the office of the I. L. D., 799 Broadway, Room 422, and at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square. All tickets bought for the old date will be good on Aug. 11.

Volunteers Needed For Stadium Concert Work

Five hundred volunteer workers are wanted by the DAILY WORKER to help organize the Coney Island Stadium concert at which Leon Theremin and Volpe's orchestra will perform, on Saturday.

All those who volunteer to help should report at The DAILY WORKER business office, 26-28 Union Square, (second floor) immediately. It is very important.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

TORONTO, July 19 (UP).—After receiving a letter yesterday that his mother had died two weeks ago, Thomas Burns, 24, doing three months for carrying a revolver, escaped from Toronto Jail today. He was a model prisoner, a trusty, and was due to be released Friday.

SHOE WORKERS TO HOLD PICNIC ON JULY 22ND

Expect Thousands at July 22nd Affair

A picnic, which is being held to celebrate the unification of all former groups of shoe workers under the banner of the new organization, the Independent Shoe Workers Union of Greater New York, will be held Sunday, July 22, at Hauses Park and Casino, 463 Flushing Ave., Astoria, Long Island.

The increasing pressure of the bosses in the trade against the living standards of the 40,000 New York shoe workers, the fearful speed-up and increase in hours under which some workers toil 90 hours per week has made organization sentiment particularly strong during the past months, leaders of the union declare.

The picnic is to signalize the beginning of a new period in the activities of the workers in the industry, it is declared.

A first-class concert program has been arranged. There will also be dancing, good music and refreshments. A large turnout is expected.

Worker Dies In Blast In Peru Hoodoo Mine

PERU, Ill., July 19. — Anton Shimkus, one of the few men induced to work in the mine shaft here, died of injuries he received after a discharge of dynamite shot. The explosion caught Shimkus and buried him under several tons of coal. Shimkus was 45 years of age.

CHICAGO
PLEASANT HOME
with young couple for young refined girl; very reasonable; mostly for companionship sake. Spaulding, near Potomac.
Reply By Mail: Freiheit, 3301 Roosevelt Rd., Box 8

PITTSBURGH, PA.
UNION PRINTING
At Moderate Prices
From a CARD to a NEWSPAPER
S. & S. PRINTING CO.
207 Market St. Pittsburgh, Pa.
Court 2051.

Los Angeles, Calif.
DR. M. KOMPANIEZ
DENTIST
2630½ Brooklyn Ave., Cor. Mott St.
Open Evenings Till 9 P. M.
Phone: Angelus 5087

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
DAILY WORKER AGENCY OF PHILADELPHIA
1214 Spring Garden Street.
A. SOKOLOV, Mgr.
Telephone: Poplar 0837.

CAMP HULIET
(Over the Delaware)
LUMBERVILLE, PA.
JUST THE PLACE FOR A WORKER'S VACATION.
Directions—By Bus or Trolley to Doyleston and then by Camp Bus to the Camp.
By Train—To Raven Rock, N. J., on the Penna R. R.
Form New York—By Train to Raven Rock, N. J.
For further information and registration apply to:
Workers' Co-operative Assn.
317 So. 5th St. PHILA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA
The work we make is good. Organizations' work—our speciality.
Spruce Printing Co.
152 N. SEVENTH ST., PHILA., PA.
Bell—Market 6383 Union
Keystone—Main 7040. Printers.

CAPITAL BEVERAGE COMPANY
Will take care of your entertainments and supply.
SODA WATER AND BEER
2434 WEST YORK ST.
Telephone: Columbia 6255.

SCHUETZEN PARK
83rd and Tinicum Ave.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Beautiful nature spot. Splendid picnic ground with a dance hall of 1,000 capacity. Will accommodate any labor organization.
DIRECTIONS: Take trolley car south-bound to Moyamensing Ave., then Southwestern car going westward. Also Subway line No. 37.

Philadelphia, Pa.
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISER
MARKET RESTAURANT
1228 Spring Garden St.
DELICIOUS FOOD
Have Your Dinner and Supper With Us—Telehone Poplar 4971

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Come With Your Friends and Family to the
PICNIC
Given By the Joint Defense Committee of Cloakmakers and Furriers
At Maple Grove, Sunday, July 22, 1928
Take Car No. 50 on Fifth Street—Get Off at Maple Grove
GAMES — PRIZES — SINGING — GOOD EATS
SPEAKERS: Hyman, Koretz, Boruchivitz

Chicago, Ill.
7,000 Will Attend the Seventh Annual
Freiheit Picnic
Sunday, July 22nd, 1928
Baer's Grove, 3737 N. California Ave.
MAX BEDACHT
District Organizer Workers (Communist) Party and Candidate for United States Senator, Will Speak
DANCING GAMES
Tickets in Advance, 35 Cents; At Gate, 45 Cents
Directions: Kedzie-California Ave. to Irving Pk. Blvd.

Red Cartoons 1928
Sixty-four pages of the choice work of the best proletarian artists in America, including:
FRED ELLIS WM. GROPPER HUGO GELLERT
M. BECKER JACOB BURCK DON BROWN
HAY BALES K. A. SUVANTO WM. SIEGEL
Introduction by Robert Minor
FREE WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION
($6.00) to the Daily Worker
THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First St., New York, N. Y.
RATES
$6.00 a year
$3.50 6 months
$2.00 3 months
Enclosed $........ for .... sub to the Daily Worker. Send me the premium "Red Cartoons of 1928" (only with a year's sub).
NAME
STREET
CITY STATE

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8.00 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months
Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor..............................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor...................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Workers!
For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!

Final Betrayal of the Miners

John L. Lewis and his henchmen of the United Mine Workers' Union have long ago been exposed stark naked as traitors to the coal miners of the United States. During the past months there has not been a rag left to tear off of these scoundrels which could further expose them as outright agents and practically employees of the Mellon and other scab coal barons.

Now the only remaining thing that could happen has happened—Lewis and his "policy committee" have openly admitted in a public statement that the policy they are trying to force upon the bituminous miners is the abandonment of the Jacksonville scale and the surrender of the workers of the entire coal industry, district by district in separate agreements, to complete scab conditions. This ghastly act of Lewis might be called a stab in the back of every coal miner of the United States if it had any of the character of a surprise. But The DAILY WORKER, the Workers (Communist) Party and the militant movement among the miners has long ago exposed every detail of the aims and tactics of the Lewis bureaucracy. Therefore Lewis' statement issued Wednesday at Indianapolis can only be called a confession to all the crimes this corrupt strike-breaking gang was accused of.

What did we accuse Lewis of? We said he, as an agent of the capitalist class in general, and of the scab operators in particular, was aiming straight for the smashing up of all of the union that had any militancy, so as to reduce what remained to a virtual company union ruled by the coal operators through himself. We said that Lewis, while pretending to fight for the Jacksonville scale (a pitiful enough aim), was really manoeuvering to force the miners back into open-shop pits at wages below the Jacksonville scale. We said further that Lewis was going straight toward the goal of a general surrender of the principle and practice of national agreements; that his real plan from the beginning was to destroy the national front of the union by jockeying the miners in each district into signing separate agreements of abject surrender..

In the momentous statement at Indianapolis, Lewis cold-bloodedly confesses to every sordid crime of which he is accused. Miners, accept anything you can get below the Jacksonville scale!—says Lewis. Give up to the bosses in every district separately! Don't even stand together while surrendering, so as to get the best terms that a defeated army can get, but divide up into separate districts and flee before the enemy as a disorganized rabble! This is the counsel of treason offered by John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers' Union to the coal miners!

But The DAILY WORKER has something entirely different to say to the coal miners. Lewis' open confession must be made a final signal of warning to the coal miners of the entire country that any further delay or hesitation in rallying to the construction of the new Mine Workers' Union can only result in the entire destruction of unionism in the American coal industry.

Miners! Long ago you have been warned that the United Mine Workers' Union has been destroyed as a labor organization by the systematic treason of the Lewis bureaucracy. Lewis and the shell of an organization to which he clings with the help of police, company gunmen and bosses, can lead you nowhere but to destruction.

Prior to this latest confession, the more militant sections of the old union have been on the march toward the building of the new Mine Workers' Union. District after district has discarded the company agents who were acting as officers of the union and have taken steps to participate in the great national convention called for September 9, when the new union will be founded.

The advance guard has long ago started. This confession of Lewis must be made to open the eyes of new scores of thousands of coal miners who have been slow to see and believe.

On to the September convention!

The mine workers will not consent to be slaves forever.

On with the great new union of coal miners!

Sailors and Sanity

Last year one sky-pilot organization which preys upon seafaring men distributed to sailors in New York waters, according to its boast, nearly 1,000,000 copies of religious periodicals and 50,000 bibles. "Captain Benn," the most persistent of the dope distributors, claims that this mystic literature is a necessity to prevent insanity among sailors who must go on long, monotonous journeys. In other words, when cooped up on a wind-jammer for thirty days at sea with nothing else to read, the sodden mysticism of religious tracts produces a sort of semi-idiocy which it is claimed will prevent the more violent forms of insanity. It seems to be an application of the theory by which a man is vaccinated with smallpox germs as a preventative against the virulent form of smallpox.

This ought to be considered a challenge to the Workers (Communist) Party to stiffen up its work of getting into the hands of seafaring men the intelligent literature which will educate them as class conscious members of their own class, grasping its perspective and understanding its glorious historic role. Nothing could be more conducive to real mental health than this. It is not necessary for sailors to choose between the semi-idiocy of the missions and outright insanity.

Reach the seafaring men with Communist literature! They belong with us, not with the lying sky-pilots.

Soviet Ship-Building

At the time when world attention is centered upon the magnificent attainment of the Soviet ship, the Krassin, in rescuing the victims and righting the blunders of the fascist Arctic expedition, it is interesting to note that the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is forging ahead among nations in ship-building. Great Britain and Ireland, which used to build half the tonnage of the world, are now declining. With the ship-yards of the world constructing nearly half a million tons less at the end of June than at the beginning of the year, only five nations are increasing the amount of tonnage under construction, and the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is among those increasing construction.

This year the Workers' Republic has moved up from seventh place to sixth place among ship-building nations. It now has under construction ships of 115,298 tons, being ahead of Japan and only about 10,000 tons below France in present ship-building.

This is a part of socialist construction in the Socialist Fatherland of the working class of the world. The attainments of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics are the attainments of all of our class, in whatever land they may be. Every rivet that is hammered in, every piece of machinery constructed in the Soviet Union makes the working class of the world stronger in the struggle against capitalism.

That is why the capitalist class of the world is determined to make war on the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics to destroy the world-center of revolution.

The workers of the world must defend their Socialist Fatherland at all costs against the imperialists of "our own" capitalist countries.

CAMPAIGN CORNER

THE entire party is beginning to hum with the Communist Campaign activity in a manner that indicates that the 1928 presidential campaign will be long remembered. The party organization is gradually tuning itself to the campaign work, and before long can be expected to function smoothly and efficiently on the job of placing our party before the masses of workers and farmers as the political party of the working class and their champion in the class struggle.

• • •

Although busily engaged gathering the signatures necessary to place our party on the ballot, the Denver comrades report that Comrade Tom Ayers has been sent to help out in Salt Lake City, where a good speaker and organizer is needed to set the Utah party election machinery in motion.

At the same time Comrade Saul the Denver sub-district organizer is on his way to New Mexico to help the local comrades there to put their state on the ballot.

• • •

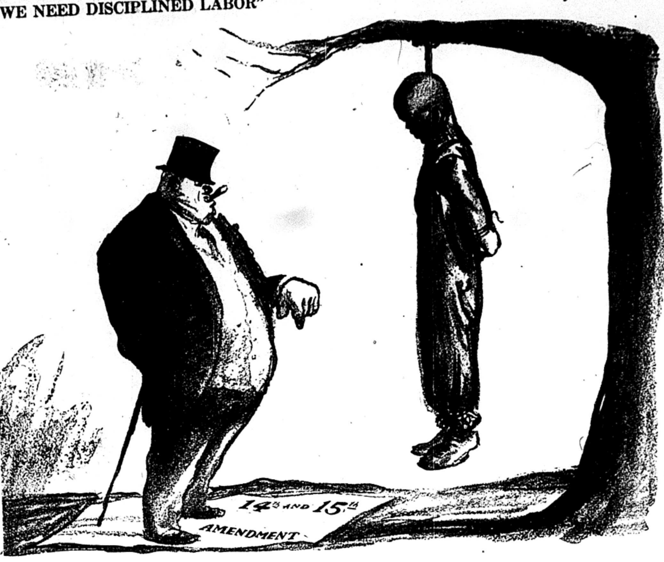
Comrade Hugo Oehler, Kansas district organizer, reports from Little Rock, Arkansas, that this year our party will have to go on the ballot as independent. He promises that by next year he will have a good functioning party organization in Arkansas that will be able to go on the ballot as a regular party. Although on his first organizational tour of the state, Oehler is confident that we will be on the ballot.

• • •

A great campaign picnic is being arranged for Labor Day by the Philadelphia organization, at which Ben Gitlow, Workers Party candidate for vice-president, will be the chief speaker.

"WE NEED DISCIPLINED LABOR"

By Fred Ellis



Concert a Great Demonstration

Theremin, Famous Soviet Inventor, Feature at Daily Worker Affair

ALEXANDER TRACHTENBERG.

The DAILY WORKER and the Freiheit are sorely in need of funds to help them tide over the bad summer months. They have arranged the Theremin concert at the Coney Island Stadium next Saturday night to help meet the present emergency. The DAILY WORKER only recently was in a serious financial crisis. The various financial drives conducted for the relief of the striking miners, textile workers, etc., taxed the capacity of the workers, whose earnings during recent times have been none too good. Out of their last resources they contributed to the Daily when it called for help because they could not see the only daily herald of the class struggle in the English language go under for lack of sustenance. The Freiheit, too, has suffered greatly in its income because of the financial strain which the Jewish comrades have been under on account of the garment workers' joint defense drives, the maintenance of the left wing fight against the corrupt machines in the needle trade unions as well as the drives for the miners and other appeals.

PROF. LEON THEREMIN.

The Daily and the Freiheit need the income which they hope to get from the Theremin concert. This alone is a good reason why the Coney Island Stadium should be full to the overflow Saturday, provided no counter-revolutionary rain interferes with our plans. The two fighting Communist organs deserve the demonstration of loyalty and support which will surely be given them Saturday at the Stadium.

Amazing Invention.

I submit, however, that there is another good reason why Saturday's affair should be made a landmark and 25,000 Communists, revolutionary workers, left wingers and all and sundry hell-raisers against capitalism should be on hand when Professor Theremin begins to draw his music out of the air. Comparatively a very young man and a professor in a Soviet engineering school, Theremin has already a great many valuable discoveries and inventions in the various branches of physics to his credit. Those who will be at the Stadium will be amazed at the invention which he will demonstrate there, just as the writer of these lines was amazed when he heard him at his first appearance in New York. The masses who will be at the Stadium will be moved to applaud, and I am sure they will at the same time think of Soviet Russia which has given this talented young engineer the opportunities for research which led him to make this important discovery.

Soviet Russia, our Socialist Fatherland, has not only won brilliant victories on the political, military, and economic fronts. It is winning victories on the cultural front as well. We should applaud these victories as we do those in other fields because they show the capacity of a workers' state to build a new life, to raise the cultural level of the masses, to contribute to the advancement of science and art. Larger masses of workers and peasants know how to read and write than before, they know more about personal hygiene, more newspapers are being read, more books and pamphlets are being published, more children go to schools, more discoveries are being made at the benches in the factories and in the laboratories—all for the greater glory and benefit of the people of the Soviet state.

Culture Not Neglected.

Even at the hardest times when there wasn't money to buy enough anaesthetics from abroad for their hospitals and hunger stalked thru the land, funds were not denied for needed instruments and materials for the laboratories and experimental stations so that the Pavlovs might go on with their researches. During the same time geographic expeditions were not abandoned, experimental schools were not given up, Marx-Engels institutes and revolutionary museums were established, libraries and reading corners were spread to the remotest villages, theatres were maintained and symphony orchestras were formed.

The world stands today in wonderment before the achievements of the Russian geographers, meteorlogists, navigators, and red aviators and sailors on the Krassin which is snatching from the jaws of death in the frozen Arctic the members of the militaristically conceived and scientifically bungled fascist expedition. Working masses everywhere applaud the Russian scientists, the Red Navy, and the Workers' Soviet State which is responsible for this glorious achievement. They are proud of the achievements of their Socialist Fatherland.

Proud of Artistry.

When we saw the great Russian cinema products, "Potemkin" and "The Fall of St. Petersburg," we felt proud of the artistry and craftmanship exhibited by the Soviet cinema producers. In Professor Theremin, who has made an important contribution to science under the auspices of the Soviet Educational System, we also meet a product of Soviet Russia. He deserves a warm reception from all workers and friends of Soviet Russia.

Comrades and fellow-sympathizers of Soviet Russia: Come in great masses to the Theremin concert not only to aid the fighting labor dailies, The DAILY WORKER and the Freiheit, which are the champions of Soviet Russia in America, but also to turn the concert into a mass demonstration for the Soviet Republic.

"Daily" the Mouthpiece of Steel Workers

Some High-Lights on a Campaign Tour of Pennslyvania

By L. SISELMAN.

IT is really encouraging to see how The DAILY WORKER has rooted itself among the steel workers. The steel slaves in the region of Pennsylvania and West Virginia actually recognize that The DAILY WORKER is the only workers' paper. Many are afraid to subscribe to the Daily because of the spy system that prevails in the mills and in the region generally. Nevertheless this has not stopped many workers from subscribing to The DAILY WORKER and giving their support to the Daily in spite of their starvation wage.

Town Controlled by Company.

Here are a few examples which will show the devotion of the workers to The DAILY WORKER. For instance, Ambridge, Pennsylvania is a town controlled by the American Bridge Company. The workers are earning 40 cents an hour; everything is controlled by the company; the spy system is terrible; our party is illegal. But in spite of all these difficulties a successful meeting was arranged in Ambridge where a loan of $100 was raised and 25 workers pledged $1 monthly to pay out the loan. In addition to that a young Pioneer has had ten customers for The DAILY WORKER and these ten customers have now become regular subscribers to the Daily. The Pioneer is now looking for new ones.

In New Kensington, a small town of steel and glass workers earning 35 cents an hour, the mills are working only two to three days a week The workers had a picnic and $20 was collected there; also many workers subscribed to The DAILY WORKER.

Worker Gets 3 Subs.

In McKeesport, many new subscriptions were also obtained, and the workers responded cheerfully to the aid of The DAILY WORKER One, by the name of Kessler, an old socialist who repudiates the yellow socialists for their cowardness and betrayal of the workers, donated $10 and gave three addresses of miners asking that for this money these three miners should have subscriptions for The DAILY WORKER. Kessler is not a member of the party.

In Pittsburgh a conference was held by DAILY WORKER readers and a DAILY WORKER Builders' Club was organized. One unit, number 2, pledged $150, of which $140 has already been raised. The other units are also doing their share.

Prison Town Active.

Even in the prison town of the steel trust, Duquesne, where every worker is surrounded by a squad of spies and detectives, the workers have subscribed to The DAILY WORKER secretly and asked that the paper be sent to different addresses. For example, one worker donated $5 to The DAILY WORKER but asked that his name should not be mentioned. "I would surely want to get The DAILY WORKER," he said, "but as soon as I get it it will be reported by the post office of the company and I will be fired from my job and driven out from my home." He is not the only one But in spite of all these difficulties the workers in the steel region under the iron heel of the steel trust are determined to be in line in helping to build a strong revolutionary organ.

New connections were established in Glassport, Pennsylvania, where a new DAILY WORKER agent was elected and subscriptions obtained In McKees Rocks, a new DAILY WORKER agent was also elected.

Subscriptions were obtained in Fairport, Ohio, Painesville, Ohio and Ashtabula. In Ashtabula a new DAILY WORKER agent was elected, and in spite of the terrible spy system and other difficulties he promised to be on the job.

In Conneaut, the Finnish comrades had a picnic where they did not forget The DAILY WORKER. Games were put up and the income went to The DAILY WORKER. The income paid for three subscriptions to unemployed workers.

Negro Workers Help.

In Warren, Ohio, new subscriptions were obtained and The DAILY WORKER agent, who is a Negro worker, does everything in his power to spread The DAILY WORKER among the Negro workers for he understands that this is the only weapon that fights for his oppressed race.

The material conditions of the workers in this region are very bad Many of them who would like to have The DAILY WORKER cannot afford it.

One of the methods used by the colored comrade is this: he puts a bundle of DAILY WORKERS near the mill, crosses the street, and the workers coming out from the gate pick up the Daily. Or he picks up a paper, he comes over to the workers, asks their opinion about it, and discusses the paper with them.

Mill Slaves Enthusiastic.

I have also established some Workers' Correspondence in New Kensington, Pa., Warren, Ohio, and other industrial places. The workers will report on the conditions of the mill and if these articles will appear in the Daily it will be of special interest to the workers slaving in these mills.

In Youngstown, the comrades have put up a special fund to enable those who are unemployed to subscribe to The DAILY WORKER In this way it was possible to obtain 24 new subscriptions. At present while I am in Youngstown, we expect to do more work. The special campaign committee exists in one unit is ready to be on the job and will be the initiative force for The DAILY WORKER Builders' Club to be organized.

From all these facts is to be seen that the workers—especially the oppressed workers under the bloody rule of the steel trust—are beginning to realize the importance of The DAILY WORKER and the time is not far when The DAILY WORKER will be the actual mouthpiece of these oppressed steel workers, as well as all other workers.

Told You So

THE assassination of Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, proves that the bacon and eggs and liberal credits policy of Mr. Morrow of the House of Morgan, ambassador to the southern republic, has not materially softened the bitter social struggle that has raged in that country for several years, between the big landowners, the Catholic Church and American investors on one side and the rising bourgeoisie on the other, supported by the workers.

• • •

AS these lines are written, there is no evidence other than strongly circumstantial, that the assassination was directed by the same organizations that have waged war on the Mexican republican government since the elimination of Diaz. But circumstantial evidence is strong and the most convincing I have seen are a guarded news report from Rome which states that the vatican was considerably "impressed" by the assassination and another by a former president of the Mexican congress which almost blamed Obregon for his own death.

• • •

THOUGH Obregon with Calles was one of the two outstanding leaders in the struggle of the big agrarians, who included Catholic bishops, he was a wealthy landowner. Recent reports indicated that while he held the same position as hitherto on the clerical issue he intended to draft new labor laws which might mean anything. However, his talk about the interests of capital and labor would go to show that they boded no good for the Mexican working class.

• • •

UNLESS the millions of Wall St. successfully intervene to save the interest on its loans, Mexico is in for another long period of internecine conflict. Senor Morones, the labor leader and one of Obregon's most bitter enemies, is a dyed-in-the-wool reactionary and just as willing to be Wall Street's tool as either Obregon or Calles. The truth will shortly come out when the telegrams of regret sent by leaders of various social groups will give way to bullets. In the meantime Mr. Morrow may meditate on the quirks of fate.

• • •

THE rescue of several aviators involved in the Polar fiasco of the fascist, General Nobile, by the Soviet government after other governments had failed to show much success or efficiency is not only a great tribute to the daring and ability of the Soviet airmen and seamen, but it has done at least as much to popularize the U. S. S. R. among the masses of the world as anything that the resourceful Workers' Republic has accomplished in years. It was just the opposite for the black-hand government of Mussolini.

• • •

GENERAL NOBILE practically parked himself on the front pages of the capitalist press for the past two years. In truth, he was no great shakes as an explorer, having always discovered a place that was almost as well known as Piccadilly Circus, London. But Mussolini needed prestige and a big balloon sailing back and forth over the top of the world, dropping fascist flags and perhaps Mussolini's photographs in accessible places, would not hurt Benito any when applying for a loan. Now, the fascist bubble of courage and efficiency has been properly punctured. The brave general fled in the first airship that hove in sight, leaving a comrade to perish on the ice.

• • •

NOW, the world knows better than ever that the "bloodthirsty" Communists of Russia, who were represented in the capitalist press and in the books of venal literary hacks, are not what they were pictured. Even though the members of the Nobile expedition were out to enhance the prestige of the fascist government, whose policies are as far apart as the poles from those of the Soviet government, the latter did not hesitate for a moment to dispatch a mighty expedition on a humanitarian mission.

• • •

RETAINERS and leading lights of the capitalist parties, caught with their hands in some public treasure chest, are beginning to charge their predicament to the wiles of their opponents. Perhaps there is something to it. Why cannot the officials of the two parties get together and arrive at an understanding regarding the division of the spoils. Then, those unseemly trials like Teapot Dome and the Queens County sewers would never take place.

• • •

BUT there is as little reason to expect that capitalist parties will cease their efforts to beat their opponents in the game of getting their paws on as much coin as possible than there is of the imperialist powers pulling off tricks on each other in the struggle for markets, concessions and new lands to exploit. But then who ever heard of gangs of gunmen pulling together very long after they succeeded in robbing a bank, not already plundered by its officers?

Tom O'Flaherty

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS-AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V. No. 172.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK. SATURDAY, JULY 21. 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

NEW BEDFORD MILL BOSSES ANNOUNCE TERROR CAMPAIGN

World Congress Stresses War Danger

VAST THRONG IS EXPECTED AT BIG "DAILY" CONCERT

Theremin, Volpe, Roxy Ballet on Program

All roads will lead to Coney Island Stadium tonight. Twenty-five thousand workers of every nationality and every trade will throng from various sections of the city to attend the long-awaited concert of The DAILY WORKER.

Theremin is the magic name that will draw these workers to Coney Island Stadium tonight. Theremin is the name that has been on everybody's lips. And tonight Theremin himself will perform his scientific miracle—he will play musical compositions of the greatest difficulty in the air.

In case of rain the concert will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 at Coney Island Stadium.

The great program will be put on as previously announced. In addition to Theremin, Arnold Volpe and his symphony orchestra of 50, and the Roxy Ballet will round out what promises to be the greatest proletarian concert ever held in this country.

The affair tonight will also be a demonstration of the left wing movement of New York. And in honor of this demonstration Ben Gitlow, [illegible] secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party and candidate for vice president, will appear to bring a revolutionary message to the vast throng.

Five [illegible] for work [illegible] must [illegible] Stadium at [illegible] noon.

There are still a few tickets left, but they are not likely to remain long unsold. Those who don't want to be turned away at the Stadium tonight should buy their tickets at once at the office of The DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square.

SOVIET AVIATOR IN NEW REPORT

Chuknovsky Says 3 on Ice Flow

KINGS BAY, July 20 (UP).—The Russian aviator, Chukhnovsky, who first sighted the Polar explorers in the Malmgren walking party, said today he was convinced there were three men in the group at that time and expressed surprise that only two had been rescued.

Chukhnovsky, who was rescued by the Russian icebreaker Krassin after his plane was forced down when returning from the rescue trip, said there was a possibility of a mistake in his observations, but that pictures taken at the time would reveal the situation.

Two members of the wrecked Italia's crew, Captain Filippo Zappi and Captain Alberto Mariano, have been rescued by the Krassin. They reported Dr. Finn Malmgren had been left on the ice in a dying condition.

"We were convinced we saw three persons," Chukhnovsky said. The aviator was accompanied by three aides. "The first was standing erect, the second was tottering and the third man was stretched on the ice.

"All three were tied together by ropes to prevent falling from the tiny icefloe, which was only 20 meters square and was surrounded by open water. We were greatly surprised to learn that only two men were rescued.

"Though it is possible we mistook a bundle of garments for the third person, we hope this will be clarified through pictures we took while cruising over the icefloe. The small size of the floe prohibited dropping of supplies to the starving men."

WON'T RACE BYRD

BUFFALO, July 20 (UP).—Lieut. Karl B. Eielson, who with Captain George H. Elkins will explore the Antarctic, said here today that their expedition will in no way make an attempt to race the one commanded by Comamnder Byrd to the South Pole.

Must Settle For All Coney Tickets Tonight

All tickets for tonight concert at Coney Island Stadium must be settled for at the Stadium not later than 7 o'clock this evening. Since all seats are reserved, no returns will be accepted after that time.

Returning From Red Nominating Convention

Photo shows a group of delegates from Ohio returning from the national nominating convention of the Workers (Communist) Party which was held recently in New York City.

RELIEF BODY PLEDGES SUPPORT TO MINERS

Unremitting support of the needy miners notwithstanding the abandonment of the strike by the Lewis machine was yesterday pledged by the National Miners Relief Committee in a statement issued by Alfred Wagenknecht, relief director of the organization which has sent thousands of dollars into the fight and has supplied hundreds of mine families with tents and clothing in order that they might continue their struggle against the open shop menace facing the industry.

"The need for relief and protection is even greater now than before," the statement declared. "Those who have fought in the front ranks of the strike, those militant rank and file leaders who were clubbed by the police on picket lines and suffered arrest, will be the first to be victimized and black-listed by the operators. These courageous miners must not be allowed to starve. Their children must be fed

Aid Is Urgent.

"Although the officials of the United Mine Workers of America have instructed the districts to sign separate agreements, the struggle is not over. The Pittsburgh Coal Company and the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company, two of the largest coal trusts, and the Ohio operators declare they will never sign agreements with any union This means that the fight against open-shopdom is still on. While the miners battle for union recognition they must receive the aid of all their fellow workers in the cities so that they will not be starved into accepting open-shop conditions.

"The relief work must continue Relief committees spread throughout the country must not lessen their activities. Hunger is more widespread than ever, and miners must not be forced to accept conditions from the operators which will mean continued misery. Hundreds of miners are still under arrest, and must be defended."

Defense Week.

The International Labor Defense is cooperating with the National Miners Relief Committee in a coast to coast drive for funds during the coming week. National Miners' Relief and Defense Week is expected to mobilize hundreds of thousands of workers.

Mass meetings are scheduled for Sunday, July 22, the opening day of the drive. House to house collections, tag days, entertainments, shop and union collections will be some of the week's activities.

All funds collected will be for-

Continued on Page Two

MINERS LOOK TO CONVENTION

Leaders Prepare For Big Convention

(Special To DAILY WORKER.)

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Preparations for taking control of the mine situation was speeded up here by leaders of the National Arrangements Committee for a New Miners' Union, a convention for which is being called here for September 9-16. The move by Lewis to deliver the final blow of treachery to the strike of the coal diggers has been expected, progressive leaders declare.

The results of the Lewis betrayal will have no permanent effect, it was said. Upon the rank and file of the coal diggers and their correct policies of struggle depends the outcome of the battle. That the miners can never be beaten down has been proven, it is pointed out, by their fifteen months of the most heroic struggle in the history of the American labor movement. The coming convention in September will see a turning point, it was declared.

* * *

Operators Expose Betrayal

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

HELLVILLE, Ohio, July 20.—Confirmation of the charges that the John L. Lewis machine in ordering back the miners to the scab pits on any terms which the coal companies may dictate, was carrying out an understanding between himself and the operators was had

Continued on Page Four

YOUNG WORKERS EXPOSE YIPSELS

Basic Industries Are Well Represented

At a meeting arranged by the Young Workers (Communist) League of Brownsville in their headquarters there were more than 100 persons present. Among these was a large delegation of yipsels, about 25 in number. The reason for the turnout of the entire yipsel membership in Brownsville was the fact that Philip Frankfeld, acting district organizer of the League, had been announced to speak on the Fields case and the Young People's Socialist League.

Frankfeld said in part: "The Fields case, insofar as the League is concerned, is an expression of the petty-bourgeois degeneration of the yipsels. We are not interested in the Fields case for its own sake.

The young Communists, however, see in it a sign of the fact that the young socialist movement has certainly reached the bottom of the ladder, when members of its national committee can in any way be connected with such practices."

Frankfeld went on to say that the

Continued on Page Two

33 GIRL WORKERS INJURED IN FIRE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 20. (UP).—Thirty-three girls were injured, several seriously, when a fuse exploded in the Duerler candy factory here late today.

More than 100 girls, at work in the factory at the time of the explosion, were thrown into a panic and rushed for the doors. Fire broke out and burned several of the girls before they could make their escape from the building.

MINER'S LIFE A GAMBLE

Falling Rock Usually Wins Struggle

By ED FALKOWSKI.

TREMONT, Pa., July 20.—Coal in the breasts is always loosening crumbling, falling down. When a lump falls on a miner's head, splitting the scalp, he often merely removes his cap, feels the bleeding spot and goes back to work. "In two or three days it'll be all right," he assures himself. "Only a split head."

A miner works in a shower of rocks and pebbles and pieces of coal Every miner carries his nicks on his back, shoulders and legs where dropping rocks and coal have hit him.

"Why is the miner so foolish in taking chances?" someone asks whenever a man is being hauled out of the mines. But taking chances is

Continued on Page Two

MANY MILITANTS DIRECT WORKERS PARTY CAMPAIGN

Committee From All Parts of Country

A committee of one hundred prominent and active leaders in the American labor movement of both sexes comprise the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party, according to a statement issued last night from the committees headquarters at 43 East 125th St., New York City.

This committee—organized around the national ticket of the Workers (Communist) Party, with William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow carrying the Communist election banner—hails from every state in the union and is representative of workers, farmers, women and Negroes.

In making public the names of the committee, the National Election Campaign Committee statement declares:

"Rallying around the election campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party, headed by William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, are to be found men and women who have proven their loyalty to the working class in the past by deeds as well as by words.

Represents All Workers.

"The members of this committee represent the best that the proletariat of the United States has produced. They come from every part of the country and represent the exploited in factory, on farm, the doubly exploited Negroes, the persecuted foreign-born workers, and the women whose special problems are taken advantage of by the employing classes to work them at starvation wages.

"This Committee of One Hundred proletarians realize that only through a revolution can the problems that keep the working class in perpetual struggle with poverty and misery be eliminated and a social order built up that will give the producer the fullest possible share of the fruits of his toil—a social order where the exploiter who lives on the labor of others will be conspicuous by his absence.

"Those men and women of the working class see in the election campaign an opportunity to rally the masses for the struggle against capitalism, to protest against the crucifixion of the peoples of Latin-America by the imperialists of the United States, and to help organize into the Workers (Communist) Party during this campaign thou-

Continued on Page Two

LOSE JOBS THRU ZARITSKY UKASE

Cap Bosses Aid Right Wing Union Wreckers

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

BOSTON, Mass., July 20.—Unable to destroy the Boston Capmakers Local 7 by reorganization and expulsion of its militant leadership, Max Zaritsky, president of the International Cloth Hat, Cap and Millinery Workers' Union, together with socialist party official and lawyer Bearack, filed suit for an injunction to remove the legally elected officers of the local from control of the union.

S. Miller, organizer and other functionaries of Local 7 received summons to appear in court for a hearing July 23.

Availing themselves of the economic power which the bosses active

Continued on Page Four

PIECE WORK FOR MILLINERY BOSS

Imposed on Workers in Spite of Protests

The next organized step for imposing upon the members of the Cloth Hat, Cap and Millinery Workers Union the hated system of piece work was taken by the Zaritsky machine, in control of the millinery union recently, according to the workers of the shop of Teitler Bros., 648 Broadway.

This employer had asked the union officialdom to grant him the privilege of operating under the piece work system. Not daring to grant it outright, the union officials advised the boss to take his demand for "arbitration" to Dr. Abelson, despite the non-existence of a col-

Continued on Page Two

FOSTER OPENS THIRD SESSION OF WORLD MEET

Bukharin Stresses War Danger

(Wireless To DAILY WORKER.)

MOSCOW, July 20.—William Z. Foster, member of the secretariat of the Workers (Communist) Party of America and a member of the Presidium of the Communist International, opened the third session of the Sixth World Congress of the Communist International this morning.

Nikolai Bucharin, president of the Communist International, continued his speech begun at the second session last night, in which he made the report for the Executive Committee of the Comintern and presented the theses on the international situation and the tasks of the Communist Parties.

Seward Opens Second Session

The second session was opened by Pierre Seward, secretary of the French Communist Party.

Bucharin declared that a new analysis of the world situation was necessary. Since the war three periods have been experienced, he said. The first was the acutely revolutionary period during which capitalism was unstable and ended in 1923 with the defeat of the German workers. The second period was characterized by the capitalist offensive and the preparations for the capitalist stabilization. The second period also saw the temporary end of the revolutionary situation in Europe and the transfer of the revolutionary wave to the colonies.

Capitalist Reconstruction

The third period was the period of capitalist reconstruction with growth of the productive forces, great technical progress and reorganization of capitalism. Simultaneously the Soviet Union was experiencing a reconstruction period during which it formed a new technical industrial basis and reorganized industry.

Capitalist development, coupled with the growth of antagonisms, is now threatening war, he said. The third capitalist period created a new world situation requiring new tactics. Capitalist development is tending towards state capitalism and trusts are becoming identified with state organs.

New Outlook

Under these circumstances the theory of the partial stabilization of capitalism formulated at the Fifth Congress has now a new sense. The capitalist crisis remains and consists in the fact that the structural alterations of world economy intensify the internal contradictions of capitalism. The existence of the Soviet Union, the Chinese revolution and

Continued on Page Two

BLAME CHURCH IN OBREGON DEATH

Quis of Assassin Nears End

MEXICO CITY, July 20 (UP).—Police investigation of the murder of General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, was near an end tonight and the assassin, young Jose De Leon Toral, a religious fanatic, was being questioned probably for the last time before his execution.

In addition to Toral, ten others have been arrested and are held for investigation in connection with the assassination, which it is officially charged was due to catholic clergy action.

Presumably the authorities hope by a public trial to definitely establish the fanatical character of Toral and his alleged connection with catholic clerical dissidents.

Chief of Police Rios Zertuche blamed the catholic church for the assassination.

"Police headquarters now is in a position to make public the fact that responsibility for the crime rests with the catholic clergy," his statement said.

Night Picketing Keeps Textile Mills Shut

The New Bedford textile strikers are preparing to hold a big picket demonstration tonight. Photo shows night picketing outside the Kilburn Mill, which thwarted efforts of scabs to start the looms working.

MANY GREETINGS SENT MOONEY AND BILLINGS

Announcement was made yesterday by Martin Abern, assistant national secretary of the International Labor Defense, that numerous replies have come into the headquarters of the organization in response to the campaign among organizations, groups and individuals to send greetings to Tom Mooney and Warren Billings on July 27, the twelfth anniversary of the imprisonment of these workers on a frame-up now conceded by everyone.

Victims of Class Struggle.

Among those received is one from Roger Baldwin, director of the American Civil Liberties Union, endorsing and backing the campaign for their unconditional pardon. In this statement to International Labor Defense, the Civil Liberties Union states the following:

"The Civil Liberties Union recognizes Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings as the victims of their radical views and activities, not as the perpetrators of the crime with which they were charged. That makes theirs a clear civil liberties case. We are prepared to back the campaign for their unconditional pardon to the limit of our resources. It is a disgrace to the country that they have been imprisoned these 12 long years. It is a disgrace to the labor movement that it allows its brothers to remain in prison without raising their voices for their unconditional pardon. We welcome any campaign

Continued on Page Two

POLICE ATTACK STREET MEETING

Industrial Barons Fear Communist Party

(Special To DAILY WORKER.)

KENOSHA, Wis., July 20.—Once more the Kenosha police took orders from the powerful open shop interests that dominate the city and broke up an open air meeting of the Workers (Communist) Party and Young Workers (Communist) League.

The meeting was held in the downtown section of the city yesterday, and was organized for the purpose of calling upon the delegates to the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor that was holding its annual convention in Kenosha, to organize the unorganized workers.

Samuel A. Herman, of the Young Workers (Communist) League, had been speaking for about twenty minutes, exposing the treachery of the bureaucracy of the American Federation of Labor and its close adherence to the policy of the Wall Street government, on the political

Continued on Page Four

SIGMAN BOAST SHOW UP FRAUD

"Big Drive" Failure, His Statement Proves

The pretense at an organization campaign, conducted for an entire week by the right wing forces in the Cloakmakers Union, loudly heralded in the yellow Jewish Daily Forward, showed its true nature when the Sigman Joint Board issued an official statement giving the results of the "great drive" for a full week.

"Four contracting shops joined the Contractors Association and one joined the Manufacturers Association, says the Sigman statement.

Tragic Humor

The most laughable of the week's accomplishments, however, was the appointment of Sol Metz to a position as the official guardian of the agreements with the employers. Metz, who for the past few years has been selling insurance and real estate to the cloak manufacturers, is the man who is to see that his

Continued on Page Two

CONGRESS HEARS YOUTH REPORT

Moscow Session Hears Progress of Y. C. I.

(Wireless to Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 20.—Following the conclusion of Bukharin's speech today, Schueller reported on the activities of the Executive Committee of the Young Communist International. As a result of the partial stabilization, rationalization and radicalization of the working-class youth, Schueller said, young workers and apprentices must participate more actively in the struggles of labor and join unions in the special youth sections.

The main task of the Young Communist International should be centered in the anti-militarist struggle and against the bourgeois attempts to militarize the youth. During the last few years, Schueller also reported, the membership of the Young Communist International has remained fairly stable and progressive, whereas the Socialist Youth International has lost over one half of its total membership.

SADISTIC JAIL TORTURES

Perverted Warden in Rumanian Prison

GENEVA, July 20. — Prison terror in Rumania is a commonplace but stories reach here thru the "Adevarul," the publication of the Red Aid of Rumania, that are unbelievable.

On the night of June 30th the prison director Corotu together with an engineer, Pascal, entered the cell of Bujor, a proletarian political prisoner, pulled him out and mishandled him in a sadistic fashion.

The Adevarul writes: "The prisoners of Doftana can be subjected to punishment—justly or unjustly, we will not argue. That is all. They have not been sentenced to torture. They are not sentenced to satisfy the immoral dictates of a crazy director. And finally they are not sentenced to be made a joke of by the prison warden."

WILL OPERATE PLANTS DESPITE WORKERS RISK

Cheer Picket Captains at Demonstration

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 20 (UP).—Operators of New Bedford Textile Mills today started an active campaign against picketing in connection with the strike of more than 25,000 employes.

This sudden change was announced last night by John Sullivan, president of the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers Association who declared the association was determined that operatives desiring to resume work should not meet interference.

* * *

Open Campaign of Terror.

NEW BEDFORD, July 20.—New and hitherto unattempted methods of force and terror against the striking textile workers were openly predicted here by spokesmen of the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers Association who demanded that the Coolidge tactics of using the militia to break the famous Boston police strike be adopted by the authorities in New Bedford. "We are going to operate at all costs," John Sullivan,

Continued on Page Four

JAPS FIRE ON CHINESE TROOPS

Invaders Plan to Stay Ten Years

SHANGHAI, China, July 20.—Japanese imperialist troops fired on Chinese regulars near Tsinafu today according to a report which eminated from Japanese sources. The Japanese troops were sent to disarm Chinese troops who it was charged were infringing on the railway zone set up by the invading Japanese army.

* * *

PEKING, July 20.—The Japanese Consul at Nanking notified the Japanese Legation of Peking today that the Chinese Nationalists had presented a note proclaiming the lapse of the Sino-Japanese Treaty. The note made clear that the Japanese therefore were subject to Chinese jurisdiction.

The Consul refused to receive the note, but agreed to unofficially transmit the terms to the Legation.

The spokesman for the Legation said that Japan was willing to discuss treaty revision when the Nanking Nationalists showed an amicable spirit. He considered the present action to be discourteous.

He said that the Japanese intend to maintain the attitude that the treaty was not revised within the set period and therefore the treaty was automatically renewed for another term of ten years.

* * *

WASHINGTON, July 20.—In a statement tonight Representative Porter of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, urges early action by the United States in the negotiations of new treaties with China.

200 CHILDREN ARE POISONED

WASHINGTON, July 20 (UP).—A holiday excursion down the Potomac River turned into tragedy today when about two hundred children, taken for a picnic by Central Union Mission, were stricken with food poisoning.

Fifty were hurried back on the first boat fifteen miles to Washington. A second boatload was due in later tonight. Meanwhile, a squad of physicians and nurses had been sent to the scene and had given first aid treatment to some 50 children left at the picnic grounds.

Up until 7 p. m. more than [illegible] had been treated at emergency hospital. Most of the cases were reported serious.

Police Attack Workers Party Meet in Philadelphia, Arrest Five; Forbid Gatherings

GATHERING HELD IN DEFIANCE OF POLICE TERROR

Communists to Keep Up Meetings

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—Police, acting under orders of the corrupt Vare machine, attacked an election campaign meeting of the Workers (Communist) Party Thursday night and arrested five of the speakers.

The meeting, which was held at the corner of 7th and Poplar Sts., a section densely populated by white and Negro workers, had attracted a large throng of several hundred. It was held in defiance of Police Commissioner Mills' order forbidding all street meetings of the Workers Party.

Those arrested were Herbert Benjamin, district organizer of the Workers (Communist) Party; Ben Thomas, candidate for governor of Pennsylvania on the Labor Party ticket; F. Crowley and Jennie Cooper and Elizabeth Levy, both of the Young Workers League.

The men were taken to the Eighth and Jefferson Sts. police station and the women to the 19th and Oxford Sts. station. All were charged with disorderly conduct. The five workers were released on bail yesterday morning and will come up for hearing in a few days. All were scheduled to speak at an open-air meeting last night.

The Workers (Communist) Party of District 3 has issued a statement denouncing the police terror and expressing its determination to continue to hold meetings for the purpose of rallying Philadelphia workers behind the program of the Workers Party and to expose as before the role of Big Business and its petty hirelings in the city government in oppressing the workers.

SIGMAN BOAST SHOW UP FRAUD

"Big Drive" Failure, His Statement Proves

Continued from Page One

customers do not violate the agreement.

One accomplishment of the organization drive was, however, registered yesterday. Nathan Leventhal, a cloakmaker, came to the Daily Worker editorial office and exhibited a broken nose and a blood-stained shirt in evidence of a vicious assault made upon him by a gang of about ten Sigman thugs.

Lead Pipe Attack

When asked why they had assaulted him, whether it was because he was picketing or for any other reason, he replied: "No, I was merely standing among another group of workers in the street, when the thugs attacked us with lead pipes." This uncalled for attack on cloakmakers was consciously made in an effort to create the impression that the "organization campaign" was going on, it was proven.

Three Firemen Injured When Floor Collapses

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 20.—Three firemen were injured, two seriously, late yesterday in a fire which threatened to destroy the Cameo Theatre Building, five-story structure, in downtown Fifth Ave.

The firemen were hurt when part of one of the floors collapsed.

RUBBER WORKERS IN CHICAGO ARE SLAVES

(By Federated Press)

CHICAGO (FP).—If you sweat and choke nine hours in the hot steamy factory of the Featheredge Rubber Company in Chicago you can take home $3.60 for your labor. If you can keep it up six days a week your weekly wage will be $21.60. But if you need more than $21.60 for your family the company will let you work 12 hours a day, paying 60 cents an hour for the three hours overtime. In this way the 12-hour grind will give you $5.40, or $32.50 for a week of 72 hours.

If you are a girl your hourly wage is much less and your overtime is limited by Illinois law to one hour over the nine-hour standard day. Girls don't stand the work as well as men, either.

Lay Off.

The company specializes in rubber strips for auto windows and windshields. It got contracts from Henry Ford in considerable quantity but recently Ford growled about the qualiyt and lack of orders forced a layoff. The company also specializes in German immigrants for its labor force, employing a mixture of threats and kidding along to keep the workers from asking wages or talking unionism.

The normal force is about 200.

"You work hard and we'll take care of you," is the favorite expression of the superintendent.

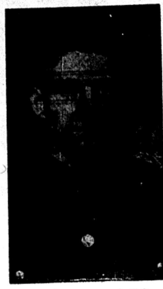
The rubber is molded by steam pressure at great heat. The workers are in a constant sweat and at the end of the day nothing but cold water is provided at the wash trough. The cold water closes the pores of the skin around the tiny particles of rubber and sets up an intense irritation. Complaints to the management are met with the remark that there is steam available to heat the water at the other end of the room. But this is a difficult scalding business and after 12 hours of fatigue few workers have the energy left to heat their wash water in this way.

Old Scales.

When two foremen quit in order to start a rival plant wages suddenly jumped up. A number of 40-cent workers got 55 cents and a couple of key men were raised from from 62½ cents to around 70 cents. But when the rival failed to prosper there was a lay-off in the Fetheredge and then the old scales once more.

During the war, rubber workers, principally in Akron, O., had a union that functioned well until the open-shop drive of 1921 knocked them out. Now rubber workers have practically no organization anywhere in the country and their unionization may have to wait until the auto industry, the principal consumer of rubber, comes under union control.

Crouch and Porter—Red Soldiers



In 1925, Paul Crouch was sentenced to 40 years and Walter Trumbull to 26 years for organizing a Young Workers (Communist) League in the army in Hawaii. A few days ago, Crouch was present as The DAILY WORKER correspondent at the court-martial of John Porter, who was tried by the army authorities following his activities as strike leader and organizer of the Young Workers (Communist) League in New Bedford. Porter had deserted the army after he realized that it is a tool of the capitalists. Many other soldiers, also, are beginning to realize the role of the army, and are determined to use their own military knowledge for the cause of the working class.

FIGHT FOR PORTER TO BE INTENSIFIED

The two and a half year sentence given John Porter does not mean that the case is ended, according to a statement issued by the National Executive Committee of the Young Workers (Communist) League, and also an announcement of the national office of the International Labor Defense. Both organizations state that the sentence of Porter means that the workers must intensify the drive for his release.

The statement of the League follows:

"The declaration of John Porter to the court-martial that the army is the tool of capitalism, in spite of the fact that he was at the mercy of the military, is typical of the best traditions of the revolutionary youth movement.

"We will take up the challenge of the army in sentencing Porter to two and a half years in prison following his militant stand. The facts of the case must be brought to every young worker in this country. The sentence of Porter will echo around the world and mark another step in the unity of soldier workers with civilian workers in their common struggle for a new society free from wage slavery.

"Porter's militant stand shows that he is worthy of being one of the first Red Soldiers in the United States, and his sentence will urge us forward and we will intensify the struggle for which Porter is behind the bars.

"The Young Workers (Communist) League calls on every class-conscious worker to support the drive for Porter's immediate unconditional release.

"National Executive Committee,

"Young Workers (Communist) League."

The National Office of the International Labor Defense has stated that both the legal fight for [illegible] the mass protests will be continued and intensified until [illegible]

Porter soon will be sent to the military prison at Governor's Island. During the next week or two, his address will remain: John Porter (Walerysiak), Guard House, Ft. Adams, R. I. Workers are requested by the League to write to him.

COAL DIGGERS IN DEATH GAMBLE

And Usually the Black Rock Wins

Continued from Page One

the miner's job. That is the only way he can "make coal," for which he draws his checks.

When William Ochs was caught under a fall of coal and instantly killed the other day at the Bear Gap colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Co., nobody could blame him for taking unnecessary chances, since the very nature of mining is to "rob out the coal."

The term "robbing the coal" suggests something of the nature of the miner's work. He actually sneaks up on the coal and "pulls it over" on the breast that threatens any moment to crush him in a hundred different ways. Tons of coal in lumps as big as houses hang above him miraculously. The height of the breast often makes it impossible for timber to reach up to the top. The miner is compelled to creep quietly under the hanging coal, his ears alert for every warning sound as he carries a few sticks of dynamite for the blasting.

Game With Death.

If suddenly these overhanging tons roll down on him and crush him, the game is up. If they still hang up, his next pay may be a good one. Either way it is pure chance. And when William Ochs was crushed to death under tons of coal the other day, his buddies said it was "bad luck." "The place looked safe when Bill went up," they told each other That's the game!

PIECE WORK FOR MILLINERY BOSS

Imposed on Workers in Spite of Protests

Continued from Page One

lective agreement in the industry.

The workers immediately informed their officials that they object to piece work, but to no avail. When the case came for a ruling to Abelson, he recommended that the system be given a four weeks' trial. As a result of the ruing, and with the threat of incurring the employers' and officials' persecution, the workers were bludgeoned into accepting the so-called trial period.

• • •

Arrested and Fined

For conversing with a scab working in the shop of Rothstein and Hershson, 63 West 36th St., in an effort to get her to join the milliners' strike, Silvia Rosen was arrested yesterday and later fined $10 by Magistrate Sorell in Jefferson Market Court.

The arrested milliner was not a striker herself, but because of working nearby had tried to talk to those refusing to strike.

Police in the millinery manufacturing district are beginning to exhibit a brutality against the striking girls not yet seen since the struggle of the workers against their international officials and the employers first began many weeks ago. The workers are nevertheless determined to fight the attempt to destroy their Local 43 at all costs, and see the intensified police terror as proof of the desperate situation of the Zaritsky crew.

MANY GREETINGS SENT TO MOONEY AND TO BILLINGS

Labor Defense Urges Increased Fight

Continued from Page One

which will bring the issues of their imprisonment again before the country and we pledge our support without let-up until they are free."

Bishop Paul Jones, of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, writes to the International Labor Defense in part as follows:

Unconditional Release.

"I appreciate your invitation to speak at the outdoor meeting. I want to assure you of my interest in the campaign for the release of Tom Mooney and Warren Billings I am quite sure that they were unjustly imprisoned and I hope that someday soon they may be released unconditionally."

Another who has expressed himself on the Mooney-Billings frame-up is Professor David Starr Jordan president emeritus of Leland Stanford University of California. In a letter to Tom Mooney he states in part:

Inquisition.

"As matters stand the state of California is on trial. The principle I have heard expressed that the person accused may or may not be guilty as charged, but 'whatever he gets is coming to him,' I consider one of the most dangerous, affecting criminal tactics. It is the spirit of the inquisitions of the Dark Ages."

Other statements of prominent people in behalf of Mooney and Billings will be released shortly. International Labor Defense urges workers to continue to send messages to Tom Mooney at San Quentin Prison Calif., and to Warren Billings at Folsom Prison, Calif. Agitation for the unconditional pardon of Mooney and Billings is increasing. A recent editorial in the St. Louis Post Dispatch asks for their release.

MILITANTS LEAD PARTY CAMPAIGN

Communist Message for All Workers

Continued from Page One

the world over, as a section of the Communist International, makes common cause with the revolutionary workers in all countries who are struggling to free themselves from native or foreign imperialism."

Communist Message for All.

"This campaign will be waged with all the energy at the disposal of the Workers (Communist) Party and its thousands of sympathizers. For the first time the workers and farmers in every part of the country will have an opportunity to listen to the Communist message and hear the two big parties of capitalism and the renegade socialist party exposed by Communist speakers.

"The Workers (Communist) Party, the only working class party in the field, the only party that recognizes the identity of interests of the proletarians and poor farmers all sands of militant workers who have hitherto heard of the Communist movement through the press of its adversaries and from the pulpits of its spiritual guardians.

The names of the Committee of One Hundred, of which Alexander Trachtenberg is the national treasurer, follow:

Mary Adams, Virginia; I. Amter, Ohio; Louis Bedacht, Illinois; Louis Bergar, Maryland; Fred Biedenkapp, New York; A. Bittelman, New York; Allan Bloomquist, Idaho; Ella Reeve Bloor, Indiana; Frank P. Brill, New York; Al Camp, Washington; Jas. P. Cannon, New York; Stanley Clark, Oklahoma; Paul Crouch, North Carolina; Anna David, Illinois; Ellen Dawson, New Jersey; Gus Deak, New Jersey; Julius Deter, Kentucky; Wm. Deitrich, Colorado; L. Derman, Washington; Edward L. Doty, Arkansas; Vincent R. Dunne, Minnesota; Wm. F. Dunne, New York; D. E. Early, Kansas; J. Louis Engdahl, Illinois; James Flannery, Rhode Island; W. C. Francis, Pennsylvania; Kate Gitlow, New York; Ben Gold, New York; Oliver Golden, Tennessee; Rebecca Grecht, New York; David Griffin, Washington; Elizabeth Griffin, Ill; Sam Hammersmark, Illinois; Wm. G. Hearing, Connecticut; M. Hendrickson, Florida; Charles Henry, Mississippi; Otto Huiswoud, New York; Jackson W. Hunter, Massachusetts; H. C. Iram, New Hampshire; Wm. Janhonen, Massachusetts; Jack Johnstone, Ill; David Jones, Maine; R. S. Kling, Connecticut; Alfred Knutson, North Dakota; B. H. Lauderdale, Texas; H. Lawrence, Texas; Joseph W. Leigh, Louisiana; A. Leon, Alabama; Ben Lifshitz, New York; Leonard Luoto, Wyoming; Jay Lovestone, New York; E. Markizon, Delaware; A. B. Martin, New York; Jack McCarthy, Massachusetts; Bob Minor, New York; Frank Mozer, Pennsylvania; I. Munsey, Pennsylvania; Scott Nearing, New Jersey; Emli Niva, South Dakota; Moji Nurmi, Wisconsin; Hugo Oehler, Missouri; Wm. O'Brien, Arizona; M. J. Olgin, New York; Walter Pananen, New Hampshire; Lucy Parsons, Illinois; Wm. Patton, Iowa; N. B. Phalen, Oregon; Juliet S. Poyntz, New York; Henry Puro, Wisconsin; S. E. Roy, Michigan; James P. Reid, Rhode Island; Wm. J. Ryan, Massachusetts; Rodney Salisbury, Montana; George Saul, Colorado; Robert E. Smalls, South Carolina; Vern Smith, California; Carl Skoglund, Minnesota; J. Sorenson, Washington; Jack Stachel, New York; Roy Stephens, Nebraska; Rose Pastor Stokes, New York; Thomas Stone, Virginia; E. W. Sheinert, Rhode Island; Ben Thomas, Pennsylvania; Claus Thorwaldsen, Maine; Sadie Van Veen, Ohio; Wm. Watkins, Minnesota; Wm. W. Weinstone, New York; Albert Weisbord, New Jersey; Anita C. Whitney, California; H. M. Wicks, Michigan; Scott Wilkins, Ohio; Wm. J. White, Pennsylvania; Bertram D. Wolfe, New York; Rose Wortis, New York; Willis L. Wright, Michigan; Chas. Zimmerman, New York; Herbert Zam, New York; N. Zirganos, West Virginia.

Funds Needed.

Money is urgently needed to wage this campaign. Send your contribution immediately to the National Election Campaign Committee, Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, 43 East 125th St., New York City.

FOSTER OPENS THIRD SESSION OF GREAT MEET

Bukharin Traces Path of Struggle

Continued from Page One

the shifting of the economic balance to the United States are the greatest factors in the new situation. In addition, the increased capitalist production is faced with smaller markets.

The contradictions in the capitalist system must lead to catastrophe. There is also a great contradiction between the United States and Europe. The United States is powerful, but has no colonized territories, while Great Britain has colonized territories but is itself deteriorating.

The capitalists thus face the problem of the redivision of the world, which means war. War is the chief problem today. The United States intends to become a colonial power. The antagonism between the United States and Britain is the greatest present factor in the situation.

German Imperialism

German imperialism is also regenerating. Germany is now industrially powerful and tending definitely toward the west. The general tendency is the capitalist preparation for war against the Soviet Union with the preliminary suppression of the working class. The workers are no longer facing individual capitalist enterprises, but great trusts and state backing. Strikes thus immediately become political, he said.

Relative stabilization does not exclude intensification of the class struggle. On the contrary, unemployment, strikes and the leftward swing of the masses are characteristic of this period.

Growth of Communism

Capitalist stabilization means also stabilization of the social-democracy which, despite its treachery, is increasing its influence in some places. Capitalist contradictions are the basis for the growth of the Communist Parties. Social-democracy is today unashamedly defending capitalism. The tactical change of the last Plenum towards the social-democracy arose from the given situation and was not any concession to the opposition. The expulsion policy of the Labor Party towards the Communists in Great Britain justifies the new Communist policy there. The united front policy remains. We must fight against the social-democratic leaders and win the social-democratic masses.

PLEDGE SUPPORT TO COAL MINERS

Miners Relief Body Opens Drive

Continued from Page One

warded to the relief headquarters at 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa to buy bread for hungry miners' children and defend the hundreds of arrested miners.

"Give your best efforts, all of your time, to collect every dime and dollar you can," Wagenknecht declared. "We must defend, protect and provide food for men who are fighting with their backs to the wall Make this drive a classic example of workers' solidarity!"

Phillips' Safety Box to Stay Closed Month

MONTREAL, July 20.—The contents of Francis Phillips' safety deposit box in the Montreal safe deposit vaults here will remain a mystery for one month at least.

According to an arrangement in the Superior Court here today, the box shall remain sealed and intact in its present condition until August 21. On that date the motion on behalf of New York will again be before the court.

Obregon's Hour of Triumph Proves Short

Only two weeks after he had been elected president of Mexico, Gen. Alvaro Obregon was killed by an agent of the counter-revolutionary catholic faction. Photo shows Obregon (arrow) riding in triumph thru the streets of Mexico two days before his assassination.

YOUNG WORKERS EXPOSE YIPSELS

Reactionary Trends Exposed at Meet

Continued from Page One

Communist youth league is not interested in helping in any shape or form the prosecution of Field. The Communist youth has nothing in common with any of the capitalist institutions, and it is the mission of the Communists to destroy them all. He pointed out many instances where the socialist party used the forces of the capitalist government against the revolutionary workers, both in this country and in other parts of the world. He showed that the fundamental differences between the young socialists and young Communists were irreconcilable.

When the floor was thrown open for questions and discussion it became evident that the Yipsels would attempt to monopolize the floor and would attempt to create disturbances and disorder. They were granted the floor and asked all the questions they wished, which were promptly answered. The floor was then given over to discussion. The yipsels objected to a ruling of the membership that there be a five minute limit for discussion. One after the other they spoke. League members answered them.

The arguments of the yipsels ranged from appeals "to the militant young Communists, that after all we are all brethren, we are all working for the same goal" to a vivid description of a hypothetical Communist in Prospect Park with "a pretty damsel." This by the educational director of the Brownsville circle, "Comrade" Plotkin. At the close of the discussion, when a large group of young Negro workers came into the hall, and when Frankfeld began to sum up, the yipsels marched out of the hall.

The League clarified its position on the Fields case. The League helped to show very concretely the methods and arguments to many young League members. The arguments of the yipsels were fully brought out and thoroly exposed. The League members in Brownsville, as a result of this discussion, became more determined than ever to go out and fight and expose the yipsels as a petty-bourgeois, student organization that is opposed to the interests of the toiling youth—and an enemy of the working class.

Stereotypers Gain a $1.50 Wage Increase

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 20.—Stereotypers employed on newspapers have won a raise to $45 for day work and $46.50 for night work This means a $1.50 increase for both day and night workers.

REPORT PANAMA GIVES AIR BASE

U. S. Opposes Grant to German Firm

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone July 20.—Some doubt was expressed here over the report that the Columbian-German Aviation Company has succeeded in obtaining a seaplane base twenty miles from the Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal.

The German company, Scadta, has been operating in South America and has met with considerable opposition from the Pan-American Airways. A United States line and the United States has opposed the concession to the German firm.

The Washington foreign department has objected on the ground that the German planes would fly over the Zone Canal and the military base.

Herman Kuehl, an official of the Scadta, said that the base had been granted as "a matter of courtesy because his company had a contract to assist in the delimitation of the boundary between Columbia and Panama."

Miner's Child to Speak at Mine Relief Meeting

The Children's Committee for Miners' Relief has arranged a big children's mass meeting to be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Labor Temple, 14th St. and 2nd Ave. One of the most active children in the miners' strike, an organizer of the children's strike clubs of Bentleyville, Pa., who has been touring the country for the purpose of organizing children's strike activities for miners' relief, will speak.

In addition to this, there will be a program of plays, singing, recitations. Refreshments will be served. Many miners recently arrived from the strike area have also been procured to address the meeting.

Boston Painters Win 12½c Wage Increase

BOSTON, July 20.—Union painters here have won a raise in wages from $1.25 per hour to $1.37½. Over 3,500 workers are affected by this raise.

ANTI-MILITARIST STICKERS WORRY U.S. ARMY CZARS

Threats Made Against Youth League

Military authorities are enraged and worried as a result of anti-militarist stickers which recently appeared on army recruiting signs in New York. The stickers, signed by the Young Workers (Communist) League, exposed the role of capitalist militarism and called on the workers to fight the "Citizen's Military Training Camps."

The army officers repeat the usual threats of "turning the case over to the district attorney," but cannot decide whether to make the charge "disorderly conduct" or "malicious mischief." As no arrests were made and the military authorities know who put up the stickers, it is obvious that the charges must be against "John Doe."

Military authorities report that they "may start a campaign to root out what seems to be an organized movement to discredit the summer training camps."

Among the recruiting posters covered with the League stickers was one at Third Avenue and 149th Street.

CRIPPLED AVIATOR DOWN

ROOSEVELT FIELD, L. I., July 20 (UP).—Morris R. Daugherty, 24, crippled aviator, landed here at 2:45 p. m. today, after a flight from Passaic, N. J., where he was forced down yesterday.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
V

Keep [illegible] ruggles [illegible], while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c — 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 — 3 months $3

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES
For Annoying or Painful Bladder Evacuation
Get the genuine Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless
Sold by All Druggists

Report of the Fifteenth Congress of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union

The first report in the Engish language of the most important Soviet Union Party Congress since Lenin's death.

A 500-page volume containing all reports, decisions and discussions.

50 Cents
Please include postage with every cash order.

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 EAST 125th STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Workmen's Furniture Fire Insurance Society, Inc.
ESTABLISHED 1872
Main Office: 227 EAST 84th STREET (Bet. 2nd and 3rd Ave.)
Telephone Regent 4391. NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

A co-operative fire insurance society for working people. Fifty-three branches throughout the United States. Membership on December 31, 1927, 49,600. Assets $700.000. Insurance in force, $53,000,000. All profits revert back to the members (policy holders) which enables us to offer the cheapest Fire Insurance in the country.

The yearly assessment (premium) is only 10c for each $100 insurance.

Upon joining every one must deposit $1.00 for every $100 Insurance which will be returned upon withdrawal from the Society.

Maximum insurance issued $2,000.

Workingmen and women, protect your homes in case of fire. Join the insurance society of your own class.

For further information apply at 227 East 84th Street.

ATTENTION
Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Women's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.
You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the
FREIHEIT
PICNIC
SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn
Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

Egyptian Chambers Dissolved, With Elections Suspended for Three Years

HANdOuTS

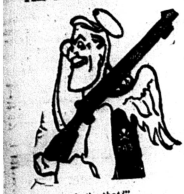
For some time Al Smith has been mad at William Randolph Hearst. When he met him on the street he wouldn't speak to him. This was because Hearst pointed out that Smith was responsible for the poisoned milk situation in New York. But now Al wants to be president. So he has hustled off Tammany Hall's court jester, Mayor Walker to visit Hearst on his California ranch. All Walker has to do is to get Hearst to switch from Hoover to Smith. Hearst is liable to do it. He would support Little Lord Fauntelroy for president if he got paid enough.

• • •

The public utilities companies of the U. S. admit they are spending a million a year for statements in the press that private ownership is best. Any worker can avail himself of capitalist freedom of speech and spend a million a year to deny the statements.

• • •

All Ready for Peace



"Ma, what's that?"

"Austin Chamberlain of Great Britain."

"What are those things growing out of his back?"

"Wings."

"What's that above his head?"

"A halo."

"What does he appear in that get-up for?"

"He's an angel. An angel of peace. He's always having a disarmament conference to get all the nations to put their firearms in the clothes closet, bury the hatchet and be nice to each other."

"Well, what's that long thing over his shoulder?"

"Adolph, wash your neck and ears or I won't let you go out and play in the lot."

• • •

Opinion of London police was expressed by Sir William Horwood ex-police commissioner, by his recent order forbidding the chewing of gum. The policemen didn't have sufficient forethought enough to spit out their gum before blowing their whistles which were thereby rendered "Clogged and unserviceable."

• • •

The National Biscuit Company has just completed plans for acquiring Christie, Brown and Co., biggest biscuit makers in Canada. Efficiency is to be increased. Even now by speed-up and long hours the employers steal about everything the workers produce. Biscuit bosses are so crooked anyway that there's hardly a one who couldn't hide behind a pretzel.

• • •

Vote Shopping

These two stalwarts are Earl S Kingsley, above, and Hubert Work below, heads of Herbert Hoover's purchasing department. They are entrusted with the delicate task of buying more votes than Al Smith can despite his Tammany Hall technique. Work has just given birth to the following brilliant remarks: "We should begin now to impress upon the thoughtless the privilege of the franchise. . .Eight million of young men and women are now eligible to vote for a president for the first time. . ." The fact that there are eight million youngsters ready to vote should hold no terrors for the capitalist parties. These voters have learned their economics in the Graphic and the Saturday Evening Post. As far as the privilege of the franchise goes this is the privilege the capitalists have of stealing everything the workers produce and still making them think they could better their conditions by putting a new face in the White House.

EGYPTIAN HOUSE DISSOLVED; SEE BRITISH HAND

King Fuad Sets Up a Dictatorship

CAIRO, Egypt, July 20 (UP).—The king yesterday suspended both chambers of congress and suspended elections for three years. Meanwhile royal decrees will have the force of laws. Members of the cabinet in Egypt also signed the dissolution order. It is understood the chambers' abuse of power was the excuse for the action.

• • •

Virtual Dictatorship.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 20.—The dissolving of the congress by King Fuad and suspension of elections for three years will virtually leave Egypt to a dictatorship, formally of the king, but actually of the British Colonial department.

The growing dissention in the legislature, and the growing nationalist spirit in Egypt has led to many uncomfortable situations for the British minister.

The congress, in spite of its limitations, has exhibited dissatisfaction with the present regime, in many cases refusing to cooperate with the British in the subjection of their country.

Plain Move.

The suspension of the elections will curb any opportunity the Egyptians may have to present their demands to England thru legal representation.

King Fuad is well-known here to be a faithful follower of the English government and obeys practically all dictates of the "mother country," is now expected to exercise a more brazen dictatorship under the cover of "divine rule."

I. L. D. PICNIC AT LANSING AUG. 5

CLEVELAND, July 20.—The district office of the International Labor Defense of Ohio is working hard in preparation for a grand miners' defense picnic to be held in Lansing Ohio, for the striking miners of Eastern Ohio.

The picnic is to be held on Sunday Aug. 5, at Taylor's Grove, Stop 23½, Lansing. Locals of the International Labor Defense participating are Neffs, Bellaire, Lansing Martins Ferry, Yorkville and Dillonvale, Ohio.

There will be an interesting program. Bishop Wm. M. Brown, the heretic bishop, will speak on miners' defense, as well as Carl Hacker state secretary of the I. L. D., and John Watt, national chairman of the Save-the-Union Committee. There will be dancing all day to the music of a 12-piece orchestra, as well as sports, games and races.

JAPAN FORCES MUKDEN 'PEACE'

Plans to Maintain Influence

TOKIO, July 20.—Japanese troops will not be withdrawn from Tsinan it was announced today, until there is a satisfactory "agreement" between the Nationalist government and the Manchurian war-lords.

That such a settlement favorable to Japanese interests in Manchuria will be reached publicly in the near future, is evident from the statement of Chang Hsueh-Lang, warlord of Mukden, that by the end of the month he will issue a statement announcing the allegiance of Manchuria to the Nationalist government.

TORTURED OWN CHILD.

MT. CLEMENTS, Mich., July 20 (UP).—Percy Smith, 23, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Jessie Ellison, 48 were expected to plead guilty this afternoon to assault with intent to do great bodily harm in connection with charges that the two had tortured one of Smith's children, Kathleen, 6.

NOTED HORTICULTURIST DEAD

OAKLAND, Calif., July 20 (UP).—Judge James H. Logan, 86, originator of the loganberry and mammoth blackberry, died yesterday after a long illness.

Judge Logan won wide recognition in horticulture.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Wins in Mexico

Dwight W. Morrow, Morgan ambassador to Mexico, whose hand has been traced behind the scene of all major developments in that country. The encouragement given to the reactionary catholic factions in Mexico by the U. S. ambassador is believed to have encouraged the assassination of President-elect Obregon, who for a time played a progressive role.

CLEVELAND I. L. D. PICNIC SUNDAY

CLEVELAND, July 20.—The Russian branch of the International Labor Defense of Cleveland announces a big picnic to be held this Sunday at Minona Park, State Road, Parma

There will be an interesting program of sports, dancing and speaking. The principal speaker of the afternoon will be Carl Hacker, state secretary of the International Labor Defense, who will speak on "Defense of the Striking Coal Miners."

HEAT HITS ITALY.

ROME, July 20 (UP).—Several deaths and many fires from spontaneous combustion were reported during the heat wave now blanketing part of Italy.

Temperatures of from 80 to more than 100 degrees were reported in the north. The southern sections of the country were enjoying cool breezes.

Deaths were reported from Pisa, Milan and Savona. Damage from fires has mounted to several million lire.

PATTON TO HEAD IOWA STATE RED TICKET IN FALL

Veteran Labor Man to Run for Governor

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, July 20.—At the state nominating convention of the Workers (Communist) Party held at Des Moines, William F. Patton of Council Bluffs was unanimously nominated for governor of Iowa. Amidst great enthusiasm, hundreds of members of the Workers (Communist) Party and delegates from many fraternal organizations chose a complete state ticket.

Old Labor Fighter.

Patton has for many years been employed on the railroads in various kinds of work. He is 70 years old, and at one time was a member of the Knights of Labor. He has spent his entire life in the class struggle, and is known throughout the region as one of the most militant fighters in the cause of the working class that has ever lived in the state. Despite his 70 years, he is in perfect health and is a powerful speaker.

Big Parties Reactionary.

In accepting the nomination, he said: "I will spend all my time up to the election in touring the state and urging the workers and exploited farmers to vote Communist and to join the Workers Party. I have lived in Iowa nearly all my life and conditions were never so bad for the workers of this state as they are at present. The workers and farmers should not be fooled by the so-called labor planks of the big reactionary parties. Even the so-called "liberal" Senator Brookhart has joined in praising the labor-baiting Hoover."

The workers and farmers all over the state are greatly enthusiastic over the nomination of Patton, and over the fact that they will be able to vote for a real labor ticket in the fall. They showed this enthusiasm yesterday at a large mass meeting held in Council Bluffs, where Patton and other state nominees addressed the assemblage.

JINGOES PRACTISING.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 20 (UP).—The 22 airplanes taking part in the national "realiability" air tour left here today for Tacoma, where they will remain tonight.

PATTERSON
Daily Worker Picnic
Sunday, July 22, 1928
TO BE HELD AT AUKINS FARM
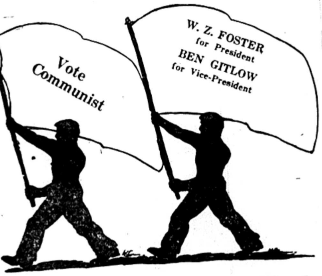
NORTH HALEDON, N. J.
Auspices: W. P. Paterson
Directions: Take North Haledon Bus and get off at farm or Haledon Bus and ride until last stop.
ADMISSION .... 15 CENTS

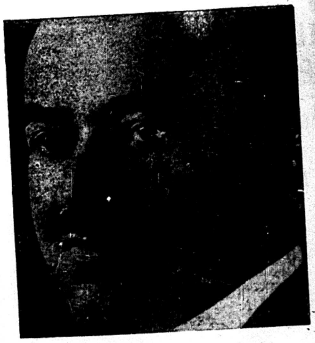


Order a Bundle!
Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.
Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.
Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.
$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).
Enclosed find $..........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

TONIGHT!
Most Amazing Invention of the Twentieth Century!

PROFESSOR
THEREMIN
of Soviet Russia
Produces Music from the Air
BENJAMIN GITLOW
Acting Secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party and Vice Presidential Candidate
Will Speak at the Huge Demonstration

BEN GITLOW



ROXY BALLET
Russian and Oriental Dances
ARNOLD VOLPE, Conductor
SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA OF 50 MEN
CONEY ISLAND STADIUM
Surf Avenue and West Sixth Street
TICKETS FOR SALE ALL DAY AT THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 UNION SQ.
Admission: 75c; $1.00; $1.25 and $1.50 All Seats Reserved

ational Biscuit Company Officials Try to Break Up Communist Election Meeting

SSES' ACTION USES ANGER OF WORKERS

nging Locomotive Used By Firm

officials of the National Biscuit Company, at 15th St. and Tenth tried yesterday to stop a noon-election meeting of Section 2 of Workers (Communist) Party by a locomotive with bell ringing wildly back and forth across in front of the meeting. last week's meeting, the to be held in front of the Biscuit Company, the bosses prepared for this meeting. that workers would crowd the platform of the Work- (Communist) Party as soon as set up, they tried to "kill" effects of the meeting by it out in noise. The work- who listened to the speakers re- the action of their bosses told the chairman later that he it was all prearranged.

speakers were Joseph Mag-, who spoke in Italian; H. and Jack Brustein of the Workers League and Law- Ross, chairman of the meet-

These meetings will be continued. A committee is now scout- for a more suitable corner on to conduct them.

OLICE ATTACK STREET MEETING

ndustrial Barons Fear Communist Party

Continued from Page One

The crowd of 500 workers continued to increase and sympathy of the workers to the made by the speaker was apparent. Suddenly an offi- appeared and placed Herman arrest.

Other policemen attempted to the crowd. The workers and jeered the police until "guardians of open shop law order" began to feel that they rather be elsewhere. B. of the Workers (Communist) of Milwaukee then mounted and pointed out what "dem-" the workers receive from bosses' government. After hav- said a few words, he too was under arrest while the work- jeered at the police.

this time the crowd had in- to about 1,000 workers, and police reserves were to the scene in the form of cycle police, police squads, and clothes men. Despite all this of force, the workers were dispersed until an hour later.

The Young Workers (Commu-) League and the Workers (Communist) Party will hold an- big joint open air meeting on in defiance of the brutal of the police.

LL BOSSES IN TERROR REIGN

Operate Despite Workers Risk

Continued from Page One

of the association, declared statement issued here yester-

• • •

Workers Aroused.

W BEDFORD, Mass., July 20. bitterness hitherto not pro- has made itself apparent the ranks of the 28,000 tex- workers who are nearing their week of strike against the mill here, as the bosses and city announce plans to in- the police and court terror the strikers.

a statement issued today the called upon Mayor Ash- and the police head to prohibit of factories, and demanded all methods be utilized to af- what they termed "protection"

The mayor and chief of police, as expected of them, gave their consent in the question by of Police McLeod, "How many make a legal number in line? somebody to set the figure ac- to law, and we'll know where begin." Mayor Ashley followed up with a guarantee that the be enforced.

two statements, it is be- presage the obtaining of an injunction by the mill But the strikers declare their of not permitting any to deprive them of their chief against the bosses, mass

Highest Salaried Baseball Prima Donna

Babe Ruth, shown above with his sister, Mrs. Mary Moberly, is the highest salaried of baseball prima donnas and gets $75,000 a year for six months' work a couple of hours a day. Among his other activities Ruth has endorsed prison-made scab goods.

GIANTS AND DODGERS TAKE CLOSE GAMES

(By United Press)

New York pushed across three runs in the last two innings to win the first game of the important series with the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3 yesterday. McGraw used three pitchers, including Larry Benton, his ace, who lasted six innings. The victory put the Giants in second place, two percentage points ahead of the Cubs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers got two more hits than the Pirates and defeated Pittsburgh, 8 to 7. Ray Kremer was knocked from the box in the second inning, and Dawson, who succeeded him could not hold the Robins in check. Petty also was ineffective and was replaced by Jumbo Elliott in the second inning.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

National League

New York 4, Chicago 3
Brooklyn 8, Pittsburgh 7
Cincinnati 4, Boston 3
St. Louis 5, Philadelphia 4

American League

Philadelphia 4, St. Louis 0
Washington 7, Detroit 4
Cleveland-Boston, Rain
Only Games Scheduled

• • •

Home Run Leaders

Ruth, Yankees	38
Wilson, Cubs	22
Bottomley, Cards	20
Gehrig, Yankees	19
Bissonette, Robins	18
Hornsby, Braves	17
Hauser, Athletics	14
Harper, Cards	14
Haffy, Cards	12
Hurst, Phillies	12

Totals

National League, 363
American League, 322

LABOR SPORTS UNION ACTIVE IN CHICAGO

(By Labor Sports Press Service.)

CHICAGO, July 20.—With 13 clubs as a basis on which to build, the Chicago district of the Labor Sports Union has been established on a firm basis. These 13 clubs have a total membership of about 450, active in every branch of sports. Dan Ellman, of the Larks Athletic Club, is the district secretary. The Chicago district is going ahead with plans for a local track and field meet, with the organization of a workers' soccer league and the sending of a large delegation of athletes to the National Labor Sports Union track and field meet in New York August 25-26.

HEENEY TAKES DAY OF REST

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 20 (UP).—His heavyweight title bout with Gene Tunney only six days away, Tom Heeney rested today, deserting his training camp early this morning.

Heeney has only three more days of training left. He will end his workouts Monday and take only light exercise Tuesday and Wednesday.

TO FILM PARADE AT MINE AFFAIR ON AUGUST 5TH

N. Y. Workers to Show Solidarity

On August 5 Pleasant Bay Park will be the scene of a huge solidarity parade in which militant slogans and banners will be carried by New York workers as a demonstration of their solidarity with the striking miners and their families. This will be one feature of a highly diverse and entertaining program of events at the Miners Solidarity Fair, to be held at Pleasant Bay Park by the National Relief Miners Committee, 799 Broadway. Moving pictures of the solidarity parade will be taken, the pictures to be later added to the film taken in Pennsylvania and Ohio of the miners' strike, showing scenes of picketing, police clubbings and arrests.

Other features of the affair will be games and sports, mass choir singing and dancing in native costume, fads of many nationalities and fine dance music. A special platform for dancing is now under process of construction.

Tickets at the price of 35 cents are now on sale at the office of the National Miners Relief Committee, 799 Broadway, Room 237. Organizations are asked to purchase tickets in blocks of 100 or more, paying for them 20 cents each. Such organizations will then be enabled to not only help the cause of the striking miners by contributing to the relief funds, but contribute to its own treasury.

The program committee is now at work enlarging the program to be presented on August 5 to the solidarity demonstrators. A highly diverse list of entertaining events is promised.

MINERS LOOK TO CONVENTION

Leaders Prepare For Big Convention

Continued from Page One

here today in the declaration by the companies that they will seek the complete open shop.

Determination of the operators to continue their efforts "to kill the union" through maintenance of the open shop basis, was reaffirmed by S. H. Robbins, president of the Ohio Coal Operators Association.

His oficial comment on the decision of the policy committee of the United Mine Workers at its meeting in Indianapolis Wednesday to allow "home rule" among the districe unions in effecting wage scales was:

"The move of the United Mine Workers organization will have no material bearing on the soft coal situation in Ohio.

"We are going along on an open-shop basis in fine shape. We are through negotiating with the union leaders on any basis."

Other coal operators expressed the opinion that the action of the union would havo the effect of stimulating the industry in this state by releasing union miners from their obligation to hold out for the $7.50 Jacksonville scalp. They said, however, that union leaders would never again be recognized in this state and that the "check-off" system is a thing of the past.

Whatever settlement is made in Ohio will be made by the state organization as a unit and not by the sub-districts, according to spokesmen.

Progressive mine leaders, as well as rank and file coal diggers, have shown by their determination and fighting spirit that they will fight to the end for their union.

Chicago Freiheit and Election Outing

The 7th annual Freheit Picnic will be held at Chicago, July 22, at Baer's Grove, 3737 N. California Ave. The picnic will not only be a Freheit jubilee afafir, but will also be a demenstration for the election campaign of the Communist Party. The speaker will be Max Bedacht, candidate for U. S. Senate on the Workers (Communist) Party ticket.

LOSE JOBS THRU ZARITSKY UKASE

Cap Bosses Aid Right Wing Union Wreckers

Continued from Page One

assistance grants them, the right wing international emissaries have announced that they would fine and cause the dismissal of any worker who declares his sympathy with the expelled progressive leadership.

This ukase was immediately followed up by action. A. Zeff, a worker in the Wentworth Hat Co. shop was thrown out of the factory and fined $25 by the right wingers. Zeff had told Hershkowitz that his clique had no business burglarizing Local 7 office, and stealing the International charter.

M. Krupnick was dismissed from the shop of the National Cap Co. and fined $25. William Futterman, another progressive worker, also lost his job and was fined a similar amount.

All girls in the shops of the Hahn Bros. and the National Cap Co., completely unionized by the left wing leadership, were ordered dismissed by the right wing, who told the boss to operate the hand sewing section of the factory open-shop. The girls, though young, were the staunchest supporters of the union leadership.

LABOR and FRATERNAL ORGANIZATIONS

Iron, Bronze Workers Meet.

A quarterly meeting of the union, to be held on Tuesday evening, July 24th, 1928, at 7 East 15th Street, at 8 p. m.

• • •

Washington Heights, Attention.

A literary and social club is being formed. All interested are invited to a meeting next Monday night at 8 p. m. at 100 Northern Ave., corner of 181st St., Apt. 33.

• • •

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

• • •

Workers School Outing.

All comrades interested in soccer or swimming or both are invited to attend the Workers School Sport Outing on Sunday, July 22. We meet at 242nd Street subway station, Van Cortlandt Park at 8.30 sharp.

• • •

Volunteers For I. L. D.

Volunteers are wanted at the National Office of the International Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 402, anytime between 9.30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

• • •

Workers Culture.

The Workers Culture Club of Bath Beach will have an Outing Sunday, July 22nd, 9 a. m. at 1940 Benson Ave.

• • •

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

Workers Party Activities

International Branch 1.

International Branch 1 will hold an educational meeting on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at 60 St. Mark's Place, N. Y. All members are urged to be present.

• • •

Section 7.

Section 7 signature collecting drive. Every comrade of the section must report at campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn, every evening from 6:30, Saturday and Sunday, all day. Also comrades from Section 2 and 3 are to report to same headquarters for signature drive.

• • •

Subsection 3C Meeting.

All units of Subsection 3C will meet Monday at 101 West 27th St. at 6:30 p. m. Election of directors for the election campaign will take place. All members are urged to attend.

• • •

Executive Subsection 3C.

The executive committee of Subsection 3C will hold a meeting on Wednesday at 101 W. 27th St. at 6.30 p. m.

• • •

Subsection 2A Functionaries.

A meeting of the executive functionaries of Subsection 2A will be held on Monday, July 23, at 101 W 27th St. All comrades must attend this meeting.

• • •

Sections 2 & 3.

The speakers class arranged by Sections 2 and 3 will start Tuesday, July 24, at 8 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St. Ray Ragozin will be the instructor. All comrades who wish to join the class must report Tuesday.

• • •

McKinley Square Branch, Y. W. L.

The McKinley Square branch of the Young Workers (Communist) League will hold an open air meeting Monday at 8.30 p. m. on the corners of 174th St. and Vyze Ave., the Bronx. The subject of the meeting will be the present election campaign.

• • •

Sub-Section 3E.

The enlarged executive committee of the sub-section 3E will meet on Monday, July 23, at 6:5 P. M. It is of great importance that the comrades be present on time.

• • •

International Branch 1.

The International Branch No. 1 will hold its regular meeting on Monday, July 23, at 9:00 P. M., at 101 W. 27th St.

• • •

Unit 3E 1F.

A very important meeting will be held of Unit 3E 1F on Tuesday, July 24, at 6:15 P. M., at 101 W. 27th St. Every comrade must be present. The roll call will be taken.

• • •

Unit 3E 2F.

The Unit 3E 2F will have a very important meeting on Wednesday, July 25, at 6:15 P. M., at 101 W. 27th St. All comrades must be present and on time. Roll call will be taken.

• • •

Campaign Discussion, B. 1, Sec. 5.

Everyone interested in the issues of the election campaign should attend the discussion at the headquarters of Branch 1, Section 5, on Tuesday, July 24, at 715 E. 138th St., at 8:00 P. M. Prominent speakers will address the meeting. Discussion will follow from the floor.

• • •

Unit SD2, 2C Meets.

Unit SD2, 2C will hold an interesting educational meeting tonight at 101 West 27th St., at 6:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend.

• • •

Brooklyn Speakers Class.

The speakers class being held by Section 7 of the Workers (Communist) Party will hold its first session Tuesday, at the section headquarters, 764 40th St., Boro Park. The class starts at 8 p. m., but all who wish to attend regularly should be at the meeting room at 7:45 p. m. promptly.

• • •

Daily Worker Agents, Section 7.

A conference of unit and subsection Daily Worker agents will be held Tuesday, July 24, at 6 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St.

• • •

Speakers and Agitprop Conference.

A conference fo all Party speakers, section, subsection and unit agitprop directors will be held today at 2 p. m. sharp at 26 Union Square, 5th floor. All comrades are requested to attend htis conference without fail since very important matters in relation to the election campaign will be taken up.

• • •

Speakers Conference.

A speakers conference at which the problems and tactics of various phases of our Party election campaign will be discussed, will be held today at 26 Union Sq., 5th floor at 2 p. m. Comrade Benjamin will lead the discussion on "The Democratic Party Platform." All Party open air speakers and all members of section speaking classes, all section, subsections and unit agitprop directors must be present at this conference if they are to participate intelligently in the Party election campaign.

• • •

Joint Industrial Conference of Sections 2 & 3.

A joint industrial conference of Sections 2 and 3 will be held on Tuesday, July 24, 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All unit and subsection industrial organizers as well as representatives of the leading committees of the Party fractions of the I. L. G. W. U., Furriers, Millinery, Fancy Leather Goods and Office Workers must attend. A district representative will be present.

• • •

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

DRESSMAKERS ENDORSE MINE RELIEF MEET

Conference to be Held on Thursday

At a meeting held at the Stuyvesant Casino Thursday evening the members of Local 22, International Ladies Garment Union endorsed the Shop Delegates Conference for Miners Relief, to be held at Bryant Hall at 6 p. m. on Thursday, July 26.

S. Zimmerman, chairman of the meeting, spoke for ten minutes on the extreme importance of the miners' struggle to needleworkers in New York and pointed out that the most effective weapon in the hands of the striking miners and their families is food.

Every member present received a conference call, addressed to all shop and factory workers who are employed between 14th and 59th Sts., urging them to elect delegates to the Miners Relief Conference of July 26. Individual workers employed in shops where for some reason it is impossible to elect delegates are urged to attend the conference as individual representatives of their shops.

The conference, which has already been endorsed by furriers, cloakmakers and dressmakers, is expected to mobilize hundreds of workers who see in the miners' strike and the disintegration of the miners' union a direct menace to their own standards of living and organization.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 164
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3442 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Airy, Large
Meeting Rooms and Hall
TO HIRE
Suitable for Meetings, Lectures and Dances in the Czechoslovak Workers House, Inc.
347 E. 72nd St. New York
Telephone: Rhinelander 5097

Get Your Money's Worth!
Try the
Park Clothing Store
For Men, Young Men and Boys Clothing
93 Avenue A, Corner 6th St.
NEW YORK CITY

Workers Cooperative Clothiers, Inc.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2223

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION
Co-operative Workers
Camp Nitgedaiget
Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731
MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.
A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.
Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.
REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:
OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)
Rates: $17.00 Per Week
TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR.
BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

DR. ISAAC GROSSMAN
297 E. 10TH STREET
NEW YORK
Telephone: Alg 6860

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Telephone Stagg 5356
Dr. J. C. HOFFER
Surgeon Dentist
287 South 5th St., near Marcy Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Proletarian prices for proletarians

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation, Automobile, Accident, Health.

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

IL LAVORATORE
RED PICNIC
Saturday, July 22nd at Zeaman Park
NORTH BERGEN, NEW JERSEY
All Features—Bowling—Rifle Targets—Amusements
ADMISSION .... 50 CENTS

The Russian Art Restaurant
181 Second Ave., Cor. 11th Street
THE ONLY ONE COOL! COOLER! COOLEST CABARET RESTAURANT
OPEN ALL SUMMER. COME IN AND ENJOY YOURSELF
DINNER—AFTER-THEATER SUPPER
OPEN FROM 3 P. M. to 3 A. M. ENTERTAINMENT and DANCING
Miss Nekolina —The International Gypsy Singing Star—
Miller's Famous Gypsy and Jazz Orchestra AND OTHERS
NO COVER CHARGE AT ANY TIME
BANQUETS, PARTIES and GROUPS

ALL SHOE WORKERS WILL MEET at the Concert—PICNIC—Dance
SUNDAY, JULY 22, 1928, at
HAUSE'S PARK & CASINO
463 FLUSHING AVE., ASTORIA, L. I.
ADMISSION, 50c
Directions: Take any B.-M. T or I. R. T. Subway to Queens Plaza. Change for Astoria. Stop at Hoyt Station.
Auspices: Independent Shoe Workers Union of Greater New York

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

THE "D.O." COMES TO THE "RENDEZVOUS"

By CHARLES ASHLEIGH

THE District Organizer was rather tired, and his nerves were a bit on edge. A sixteen-hour working day—sometimes an eighteen-hour one—is bound to tell on you after a while.

There were so many things to think of. And, when the party is illegal—"underground"—the work is much more harassing.

His day's work was done—all but one thing. He had attended committees; he had interviewed party officials. He was feeling worn out But still there was one more thing to do, and an important matter it was. He must find a meeting-place for this evening! There were only two hours in which to do this, and to let the comrades know.

The delegate had arrived in the city from an important convention. He had to leave tomorrow. Tonight he must meet the dozen leading comrades of the city, and report to them on the congress; and give them their new directions. It was up to the District Organizer to find the place.

Here was the house he had been seeking. A large, middle-class dwelling, it was. There were lights shining through all the front windows. Through the open windows of the ground floor one could hear music, laughter, and a hum of conversation. Guests were arriving as he approached.

• • •

This is an ideal place, thought the Organizer. He entered; the door always stood open in this Bohemian household.

There were about thirty people in the large tastefully furnished rooms. Groups were discussing avidly subjects of high literary, artistic or political import.

The master of the house came towards the Organizer, his eyes glinting welcome through his pince-nez.

"I am so glad you came," he said. "This is really a pleasure. Ha! You will enjoy some of the people here; they have absolutely no comprehension of our cause."

He led the Organizer towards a corner of the room.

"My dear," he said to his wife. "Look whom we have with us."

The lawyer's wife rose and hurried towards the Organizer, her hands extended.

"Oh, how glad I am," she said. "So god to see you again. Come, there are some interesting people you must meet."

And, before the Organizer could protest, she steered him into the thick of the crowd.

"This is Mr. Gobinsky," she said, presenting the Organizer to a stout solemn gentleman, "who has made such interesting researches into the Fourth Dimension. Mademoiselle Francsin, the well-known cyclist, who has done so much for the emancipation of women. And this is our dear Flor Stax, the founder of the Flamboyant School of Poetry. My friends, I want you all to meet Mr. Strauss. S-h-h-h! Let me warn you—he is one of those terrible Bolsheviks! But you know how I feel about that! He must tell you all about his experiences in prison. Two-and-a-half years of it! Just think—in these so-called enlightened days!"

• • •

A MURMUR of appreciation arose. They eyed the organizer with expectancy. One young lady ecstatically said: "How I envy you your martyrdom!"

The Organizer was in agony. He forced an amiable smile. "In a moment, ladies and gentlemen," he said. "But first, may I beg our host to show me where I can telephone?"

"By all means," said the hostess, leading the Organizer from the room.

"I must speak with you and your husband at once, for a few minutes," said the Organizer, as soon as they were alone.

"Why, of course," said the hostess breathlessly. "Oh, is it something very exciting?"

In the privacy of an upstairs room, the Organizer explained his errand.

"It is a very important meeting," he said, "and it must be held at nine o'clock this evening. All we want is a room—any room will do. There's only a dozen of us."

The lawyer, pursing his lips, looked doubtfully at his wife. "I really don't know . . .," he said. His wife—for once—was silent.

"It is quite safe," urged the Organizer. "Everyone knows you hold these literary and artistic soirees frequently. People come and go, all the time. No one will think anything, when my comrades drop in, in ones and twos. Half your guests don't know the other half, so there is nothing to fear from that quarter, either." He explained it all, with weary patience, reassuring them.

"I was sure you would agree," added the District Organizer. "You are so interested in our movement. And I have always known you to be among the most valuable and helpful of our sympathizers." Some cajolery, he thought, must also be used.

"Of course, we are interested," said the lawyer. "We would do anything possible to help you. But——"

"Mr. Strauss," the hostess interposed. "I really don't think it fair of you to ask us to do this. Consider our position! With your party illegal, it is not safe! If there were any arrests we would be in a terrible position. My husband and I, as hosts—as inspirers, I might even say—of so many men and women of talent and ideas, have practically a public position. Can we endanger it?" She glanced nervously at her husband for confirmation.

"That is so," said the lawyer. "We really must consider 'the greatest good to the greatest number,' you know. And my position as a professional man—it is not as though I had nothing to lose. If it were discovered that the meeting was held here, it might seriously damage—. Really, while I sympathize with your ideals, as I have often said, I do not think you should come to me with this proposal."

• • •

THE District Organizer was silent. He gazed at them coolly, meditatively, appraisingly.

"Is this the first time we have asked you to do anything to help us?" he asked.

"Yes," said his host. "But you see how it is. . . ."

"Yes," said the Organizer, "I see how it is. Good evening!"

Flutteringly, his host accompanied him downstairs.

He was out upon the street again. Only an hour and a half left now in which to find a place. He must find a place. The comrades were waiting.

He ran over, in his mind, the list of sympathizers living in this neighborhood.

There was So-and-So; he had a smaller place in a poorer street. There was more risk. But still, he wasn't known to the police. . .

"Yes, I'll go there," he thought, brightening with decision. "He's a good sympathizer; and I don't think he'll refuse. He's a working man."

Fascists to Try Sixty-Year Old Revolutionist

ONE of the accused in the last great process against the leaders of the Communist Party was Fabrizzio Maffi. Maffi was unable to appear in court as he was seriously ill in the prison hospital. The 60-year-old fighter will be tried therefore later on, assuming that he recovers his health whilst in the hands of the fascists, which is very unlikely.

Fabrizzio Maffi was born on October 2, 1868, in San Zeno Po in Lombardy. It would not be too much to say that he has devoted his whole life to the cause of the working class. The peasants of Piedmont, Venice and Lombardy know him as their organizer and leader. Maffi served the workers also as a doctor, particularly during the frequent epidemics and earthquakes.

When fascism came to the helm, Maffi was constantly persecuted by the fascists. On one occasion in 1921 he fell into the hands of the fascists, who demanded that he should cry "Long live fascism!" Despite a threat to his life, Maffi refused to do so and was seriously injured. After the split of the socialist party in 1921 Maffi followed Serrati and was in favor of returning to the Communist International. In 1924 he was elected into the chamber and became one of the leaders of the Third International group in Italy. Maffi was one of the first to shout "Murderers!" in the chamber when the news of the murder of Matteotti became known. From autumn, 1926, on, when Maffi was lying seriously ill, his house was constantly under police surveillance and although he was seriously ill he was arrested in November, 1926, with the other Communist members, transported from prison to prison and finally banned as a prisoner to the notorious island of Ustica. Afterwards he was removed to the prison of Milan to await trial. Imprisonment has seriously worsened Maffi's health. Unless the workers can save him speedily, he will die in prison.

Minister Is Unfrocked For 'Gross Immorality'

BROWNWOOD, Tex., July 20.—The Rev. G. E. Cameron, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, south of Brownwood, was expelled from the West Texas conference of the church yesterday after a jury of twelve ministers had found him guilty of charges of "gross immorality" preferred by a Brownwood woman.

Details of the trial and events leading up to it were withheld. The trial was conducted behind closed doors and only the verdict was announced.

SMALL DECLINE IN PRICES.

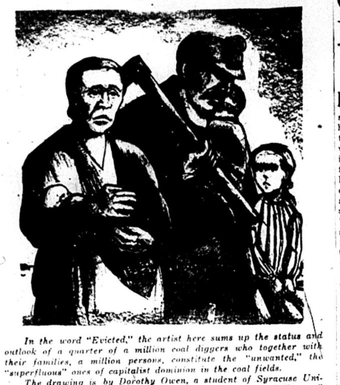
WASHINGTON, July 20 (UP). The prices of 451 commodities during the week ended July 14 showed an average decline of less than a tenth of one per cent, according to the wholesale price index compiled by the National Fertilizer Association. Declines occurred largely in textiles, grains, feeds and live stock, fertilizer materials and metals. Advances occurred in gasoline, fats, hides and coffee.

The index stood at 95.8 for the week ended July 14, compared with 100 per cent in 1926.

CHARGED WITH PLANE THEFT.

HARTFORD, Conn., July 20 (UP). —Hearing on the charge of grand larceny against Arthur Manning, Hartford aviator, alleged to have stolen an airplane from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was postponed today, pending arrival of detectives from Poughkeepsie.

Evicted



In the word "Evicted," the artist here sums up the status and outlook of a quarter of a million coal diggers who together with their families, a million persons, constitute the "unwanted," the "superfluous" ones of capitalist dominion in the coal fields.

The drawing is by Dorothy Owen, a student of Syracuse University. The institution, aptly labeled the "University of Heaven," is a Methodist "match" factory under the patronage of the oil trust. The present chancellor bears the expressive name of Flint!

The Red Army of the First Workers, Peasants Republic

Published by the Communist Party of Great Britain. Price 1d.

Reviewed by David Gordon

THE sub-title of this pamphlet is "A Short Account of the First Army of the Workers." It is that, brief and also clear, simple and comprehensive.

As a prologue to the book we find the oath of the Red Army. As "a son of the toiling masses" the Red Soldier takes his calling "with honor" to "the great cause of the emancipation of all toilers."

The first chapter answers the question of how it was possible for the numerically weak Red Army to overcome the imperialist invasion, aided by the counter-revolutionary social-democracy. "The chief weapon with which the Red Army defeated its enemies was the enthusiasm, the unqualified conviction in the justice of its cause, and the truth of the message which it carried to the working class."

• • •

The United States, Britain, Germany, France, Japan, Greece, Poland and a good number of Balkan states thrown in sent troops to aid the reactionary Krasnov, Denikin, Koltchak, Wrangel and Yudenitch against a determined, though relatively small, "Workers and Peasants Army." Despite their great forces and "their campaigns, accompanied by unparalleled brutality and violence," the White Guards were roundly beaten. "We are an army of the doomed. . . . We are a people who sigh for the faintest recollection of a well-spread dinner table, choice wines and select perfumes." Because the counter revolution fought for the further exploitation of the working class the army of the working class was not to be defeated.

The demoralized tsarist army was unfit to act as a revolutionary army and so was ordered demobilized. In February, 1918, the Red Guard was established. This was the beginning of the Red Army. But when the Menshevik reactionists and imperialist interventionists threatened the existence of the Soviet government the Red Army was truly formed. The result of its organization was victory for the workers and peasants of Russia and of the entire world.

• • •

"The Red Army" is a very important pamphlet. It should be sold and distributed wherever workers meet, in the shops and in the trade unions. The lessons of the first Workers' and Peasants' Army must be learned by the working class to make its struggle against capitalist exploitation more effective.

Philadelphia Youth Conference July 22

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 20.—Many organizations have already elected delegates to the preliminary working youth conference that will be held here tonight at 8 P. M. at 531 7th St. Among the organizations that have elected delegates so far are the Negro Carpenters' Local, Carpenters' Local 1073, Young Workers (Communist) League, Scandinavian Workers Sport Club, Kensington Sport Club, Knit Gods Workers' Union, Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Helpers, and many other organizations.

The young workers in Philadelphia, as elsewhere, are amongst the most exploited. At this conference the young workers themselves will discuss their problems and will take steps to remedy them.

Young workers who are not delegates have been invited to come as visitors to the conference.

CARRANZA'S BODY IN OHIO.

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—The body of Emilio Carranza, Mexican airman, who was killed last week in an airplane accident, enroute from New York to Mexico City made a brief stop here today. A little group of soldiers and officers stood at attention as the funeral train rolled in and stopped that the guard over the body of Carranza might greet those who met the train.

47 WORKERS AT COLLEGE.

MADISON, Wis., July 20 (FP).—Forty-five girls and two men comprise the summer school for workers conducted by the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Lillian Herstein of the Chicago Teachers' Union is one of the instructors.

MOVING PICTURES OF MURDER

FREEPORT, L. I., July 20 (UP). —Motio npictures of the events leading up to the murder of William F. Gilbride, Brooklyn contractor, will be shown before a jury when Joseph Ustica goes on trial as the slayer. The pictures were taken in the spaghetti house where it is alleged Gilbride was first assaulted.

Rare Photos Feature in the Defender

THE Labor Defender, monthly labor pictorial, in its August issue now on the press, features a photograph of Pierre Degeyter, famous worker-composer of the song of the revolution, the "Internationale." He is now in Soviet Russia, where he is receiving great receptions on his first visit.

The "Defender" photo of Degeyter, taken in his humble proletarian home in France, is accompanied by a story on the famous composer, together with the words of the song in full.

A short story by Charles Yale Harrison, "The Red Flag," a vivid sketch from life, reminiscent of the great Sacco and Vanzetti demonstrations of last year, is illustrated with a drawing by Phillip Reisman.

Other articles in this issue feature the Textile Strike in New Bedford, the minors' situation, Houston lynching, Sacco and Vanzetti, Tom Mooney, China and Japan. Anna Louise Strong, Albert Weisbord, Richard Moore and Arne Swabeck are among the contributors.

The whole issue is again featured by a collection of unusual photographs that are one of the main reasons for the increasing success of the "Labor Defender," pictorial organ of the International Labor Defense.

—C. W.

British Tories Agree To Kellogg Peace Plan

LONDON, July 20 (UP).—Great Britain's acceptance of the American proposal for an anti-war treaty among world powers was handed to the American charge de'affaires today, Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, announced in the House of Commons.

Great Britain's note, Chamberlain said, expressed complete readiness to sign the treaty at such time and place as might be agreeable to the United States.

PLAN BRYN MAWR MEET.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20 (FP). —Five-day week and unemployment will be discussed by union leaders and friends at the two-day summer conference of the Philadelphia Labor College. Facts about present productivity and unemployment practical application of the 5-day week, existing plans of unemployment insurance, women's hours and the shorter work week will be principal subjects.

The conference will be held at Bryn Mawr College. Students at the summer school for women in industry will present a pageant for the labor college group as part of their annual international peace festival.

CIGAR MAKERS WIN.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 20 (FP).—One thousand two hundred union cigar makers have signed an agreement with the R. G. Sullivan Co. providing that cigars shall continue to be hand made. The company wanted to introduce machines

CHINA'S CHILDREN PICTURE OF SLAVERY

By L. A.

(Translated by Sol Auerbach)

IN the tea plantations of the province of Hupeh harvest is in full swing. Small and big merchants have already bought it up. The large tea factories and warehouses are working full speed. The tea is being sorted, boxes and baskets are filled with freshly dried tea leaves. Dozens of children sit at the table crowded close to one another. Their supple fingers work quickly and separate the rotten leaves and twigs. They bend over the boxes, their small faces pale and covered with perspiration. The tea-dust hurts their lungs and they cough heavily. One gets faint from the aroma of the tea. It is this way from day to day, uninterrupted, from twelve to fourteen hours.

From the balcony of my room I can see the blacksmith shop, which is on the other side of our small street. Its din and hammering resounds from one morning until the next. By daylight and at night by the light of a small petroleum lamp I always see near the master and his helpers two greasy and soot covered children, the younger about eight and the older hardly ten years old. They work the bellows, hammer pieces of tin into shape, make holes in iron plates with a chisel. When food is brought them—rice with a little watery soup—they eyes dance greedily.

On the river at Canton and on the Wampu at Shanghai there are always heavily loaded junks to be seen, which are propelled with the help of a single enormous oar. On this oar the boatman, his wife and three or four-year-old children exert themselves with all their strength But this is not so bad since the sun shines here and the air is fresh.

In Canton, which is famous for its ivory products, children work in the stifling air, the dust and darkness of the well-known narrow alleys where this handiwork industry is to be found. The small Li-Po is twelve years old. Hhe has already had two years of apprenticeship and still has five more years to go before he will have fully learned ivory-cutting. He already knows how to cut up a piece of ivory into smooth three-cornered pieces and strips, which must yet be polished in order to make chopsticks out of them. He must, however, also learn how to cut rosettes knives, frames, Buddha figures and other things. That takes a long time. In the meantime his parents starve and wait until he is able to earn something and support them.

The embroidery of Tschang-Scha is known in all China and outside of its borders. Small children sit in the dark booths and blind themselves over the embroidery. Every piece made is saturated with their sweat and blood. Perhaps the colors of the embroidery are so brilliant because the faces of the small masters are covered with a deadly pallor.

In a small side-street of Shanghai there stand a tumbled down house, a shop. Within a busy rustling can be heard that is due to paper. At the door tremendous piles of boxes are being loaded. In Shanghai there are numerous match factories and even more tobacco factories. Millions of cigarettes are made there. These boxes are necessary for them. Hundreds of children from the age of five to twelve sit crowded closely against each other pasting boxes. The employer pays a Mexican dollar a year per child. Besides this the children receive ten cents for every 10,000 boxes. To finish 10,000 boxes takes over one month!

The small Li-Siao is only six years old. She always has a desire to sleep. She has worked with her mother for one year in a large silk factory of Shanghai. To unravel the silk cocoons small fingers are necessary. The cocoons are thrown into soapy water. The working room is full of steam and in this moist and stifling room Li-Siao unrolls the cocoons from early morning until late at night. She often falls asleep and if she is seen by the foreman, her finger is scalded. She receives incessant fines and is never paid her full months' wage of one dollar The foreman beats her painfully. Li-Siao can hardly await the new year, for then she has three holidays. the only ones in the whole year How she will be able to sleep then!

• • •

These children in the box, tea, silk and other factories and work shops who in their early years are already bound to the yoke of drudgery sighted in the days of the awakening of the labor movement the light of a new life. Strikes and demonstrations, meetings and rebellion were for them what play and recreation are for other children of their age.

There is, for example, a young picketer in Canton. For the first time does he see so much sunlight and air. He fills his lungs with air He wishes that the sun should also shine on all his young friends. The whole order of things must be changed.

There is again a young Pioneer in Hankow. He looks proudly on his red bandanna. When he will be older he will have a gun and lead the fight against all enemies of the working class. "Down with imperialism," he calls, with the whole strength of his voice.

Around Shanghai there runs an asphalt boulevard. On stifling summer nights foreigners ride here in their autos. Suddenly stones and coal dust hail down upon these elegantly dressed Europeans and their women. "Foreign devils!" "Imperialists," call the strong voices of children. The children run away and are overjoyed that they have, even only to a slight degree, avenged the oppression of their country.

A demonstration in Peking. Children with coin boxes collect money for the political prisoners. They are members of the "Chinese Aid Society for the Martyrs of the Liberation Movement." They wear bands with the slogan "For the Political Prisoners." They walk along beside the rows of the demonstrators and collect pennies from the workers.

A demonstration in Shanghai. The police arrest the speaker, beat up the demonstrators. The prisoners are led away. Children, members of the Red Aid, follow them to the police station, learn their names and bring them to the committee of the Aid Society.

A demonstration in Tientsin. Children march with banners on which slogans are written. Lustily they roar "Up with a Workers' Government!" "Down with Imperialism!"

The children's group of the Chinese Aid Society has 12,000 collective and 2,000 single members. It publishes its own newspaper, "The Children's Aid."

The Shanghai General Strike of March 1927. The workers take possession of the town. The children fight by the side of their elders They bring aid to their wounded under the very banner of the enemy fall, struck by enemy bullets. . .

These are the children from the factories and shops. They have trodden the road of struggle and will never be able to leave it again. With such children is the Chinese revolution assured of victory. These are the reliable reserve forces of the fighting workers and peasants of China!

Transmits Color and Form by Television

LONDON, July 20.—The experiments of John L. Baird are hailed here as a revolutionary stride in the development of television. He succeeded in transmitting from one room to another, in broad daylight, the head and shoulder of a man. This was done without the aid of powerful artificial light.

The receiver showed an image the size of a playing card, but perfect in all details. Not only was form transmitted but also color, which had never been done before.

HEAT WARPS EIFFEL.

PARIS, July 20 (UP).—Extreme heat in the last few days has warped Eiffel Tower so that it is six inches off plumb, it was learned today. The intense heat of the sun has affected the steel girders so that the great tower has bent towards the east Engineers said, however, that when Eiffel was built an allowance had been made for expansion of the steel and that the tower still was safe.

CONSUMERS TO MEET.

Brookwood Labor College will be the seat Aug. 19-25 of the first institute on consumers' cooperation ever held in the United States. For one week members of the Eastern States Cooperative League will study history and theory of cooperation practical problems and relations of the movement to labor and radical bodies.

Vacation-Reading
SUGGESTIONS
LENINISM—By J. Stalin $2.50
FOUNDATIONS OF IMPERIALIST POLICY—By M. Pavlovitch 1.10
DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY—By Ognyov 2.50
HISTORY OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL—By G. M. Stekloff 3.50
ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION 2.50
MISLEADERS OF LABOR—By Wm. Z. Foster... 1.25
REPORT OF THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE C. P. S. U. .... .60
ORGANIZATION OF A WORLD PARTY—By Osip Piatnitsky .... .15
WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th Street, NEW YORK CITY

Grand Concert to Be Held at Coney Island Stadium Today

SOME 25,000 workers are expected to attend the big concert and demonstration which will be held at the Coney Island Stadium tonight. Due to the rain last Saturday, the concert was postponed until this evening. The postponement, however served a good purpose; for the orchestra, under the baton of Arnold Volpe, were able to continue further rehearsals until yesterday The Roxy Ballet too, has found it possible to include new numbers. which received the final polishing this week.

The program arranged for this evening's entertainment follows:

Arnold Volpe will lead his orchestra of 50 musicians in the following program: The Coronation March from Meyerbeer's opera, "The Prophet"; the famous Rienzi Overture of Wagner, "Caucasian Sketches" by Ippolitow-Ivanov, Fantasy from Bizet's opera, "Carmen," and the popular "Marche Slavic" by Tschaikovsky.

The orchestral numbers will be followed by the Roxy Ballet under the direction of I. Nelle. The numbers include popular Gypsy dances and the Mazourka from Delibes' ballet, "Coppelia" and a group of dances from Gounod's opera "Faust." Other numbers will follow later in the evening.

Prof. Leon Theremin, the world famous scientist and inventor, called the Russian Edison, will be reserved for the climax of the evening's entertainment. Theremin will again demonstrate his remarkable invention by which he draws music out of the air, and will play both solos and with orchestra accompaniment. In the solos he will be accompanied on the piano by Arie Abileah.

His solo numbers will be "Night" by Rubinstein and Etude by Scriabine. With orchestra accompaniment he will play Golterman's Concerto in A Minor and Saint-Saens' famous composition, "The Swan."

LEON THEREMIN.

The young Soviet inventor will be the chief attraction at the concert which will be given at the Coney Island Stadium this evening.

"Seal Hunting in the Arctic," a film record of the only seal hunt in the Arctic, shares the program with Capt. H. A. Snow's "Hunting Big Game in Africa" at the Cameo Theatre this week. Varick Erissell, a New Yorker, 24 years old, is responsible for the Arctic picture.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
BATTLE OF CHATEAU-THIERRY
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

KEITH-ALBEE CAMEO 42nd St & B'WAY
REFRIGERATED COOL & COMFORTABLE
NOW
Film Arts Guild presents
Capt. H. A. SNOW'S HUNTING BIG GAME in AFRICA
Remarkable Film Record of Death Defying Expedition with Gun and Camera to Darkest Africa.
The ARCTIC SEAL HUNT
Astounding Film Story of Struggle for Food in Arctic Wastes.

DEATH FOR TWO.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19 (UP).—The court of appeals today upheld the death sentences of Martin L Miller, a Negro, and Anthony Russo

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" -- Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months
Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor……ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor……WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!
For the Workers!

Close the Breach Made by Lewis' Treason!

Like a jeering, hooting mob at a lynching, the scab coal operators with their superintendents and chief strike-breakers are pouring through the breach in the fighting line of the coal miners made by the treasonable action of John L. Lewis and the policy committee of the United Mine Workers' Union last Wednesday. The treacherous, crawling flunkey of the coal operators who tries to sell himself to the operators at a price based upon his continuing to be "President of the United Mine Workers," at last openly called upon the mine workers to make no further protest against the flooding of scabs into the mines, thus accepting the open shop; to make no further struggle for the Jacksonville scale, accepting any scab wages the operators would give; to give up all idea of a national agreement or any kind of national solidarity, and hereafter to make only an empty gesture toward agreements on separate district bases, "to permit any coal company or any mine to employ all the men it may require," etc., thus accepting the open-shop to make the surrender complete.

This craven declaration of policy was, of course, addressed as much to the coal operators as to the mine workers. It was a last bid to the operators to take the whole situation into their own hands, coupled with a slavish plea that John L. Lewis and his bureaucracy be allowed to function as administrators of labor-discipline for the operators. In other words, Lewis and his national bureaucracy aim through conspiracies with the operators in each district to retain a sufficient hold to enable them to continue to draw salaries under the benevolent toleration of the mine owners.

In relation to the mine workers, of course, this was merely the final admission of Lewis and the bureaucratic shell of the United Mine Workers' Union that they had been strike-breaking throughout the entire struggle and that all pretense of anything else was now discarded.

To operators, it was a plea for permission to be allowed to continue as their strike-breaker. Lewis' theory of class collaboration all along has been to the effect that "union officials" are the best strike-breakers; that coal capitalists can screw the mine workers down to a greater degree of exploitation with a scab union headed by such as Lewis, than without one. Lewis calls it "co-operation between capital and labor"—meaning labor leaders.

This was the nature of the policy committee's invitation to the operators.

But the operators' answer is a horse laugh.

What the operators intend to do about it is already shown by the statement of the Ohio Coal Operators' Association:

> "The Ohio operators are not interested in the action reported from Indianapolis and will have no further dealings with the United Mine Workers of America. Only last week the association, by unanimous decision, reaffirmed the open-shop policy."

Here we have the final outcome of the alliance between Lewis, the American capitalist class in general, and the coal capitalists as a section. Their objective is plainly, as we have always said, the open-shop. The open-shop bosses can accept intermediate stages to the open-shop, but as a whole they aim straight for the absolute scab system. Not even company unionism is acceptable to the coal operators, except as a make-shift in particular instances. Lewis, blinded by the petty views of an ingrowing bureaucracy, has offered his brand of prostitution to the operators.

But the coal barons can now reject even Lewis' brand of semi-company-unionism. But they are not by any means entirely through with using Lewis and the shell that is called the United Mine Workers' Union. The mine workers still have some big fighting to do against this gang of traitors, which is trying to claim the field so as to prevent the organization of the new Mine Workers' Union.

The honest and militant coal miners must not leave an hour unused to reach the mine workers who still remain within Lewis' organization, to convince the local unions and sub-districts and districts to discard the corpse of Lewis' organization and to join in the new Miners' Union which is building.

Miners! The breach made in your line by Lewis' treachery must be filled by organizing the new Mine Workers' Union.

A Soldier Imprisoned For His Class

John Porter, the former soldier who became a courageous young leader of the New Bedford textile strikers, has been given the savage sentence of two and a half years at hard labor in a military prison by a United States army court-martial after conviction for deserting the army.

This is not the end, but the beginning of the Porter case.

The rare event of the awakening of a soldier in the imperialist army who wakes up to his duty to his own class will flash as a red meteor in the sky. The flash will be seen around the world. John Porter, member of the Young Workers (Communist) League, stuck to his guns of militant class loyalty in the trial. He spoke, not for his own liberty, but for the cause of the working class and aganst the capitalist imperialism represented in the military court that tried him.

Nothing so terrifies the capitalist class as the vision of awakening class consciousness among the soldiers of the capitalist army. If not on the army, on what can the fat bourgeois depend? In this biggest and richest of all imperialist powers, there is not yet Bolshevism in the army. Only a few flickers have broken through the gloom, and these are practically individual cases, not approaching mass character, or even group character. The U. S. army is a volunteer army, and, though the "volunteering" is often inspired by unemployment and hunger, such an army is not so susceptible to the working class ideology as are conscripted troops.

And the American bourgeoisie likes to tell itself there will never be Bolshevism in the U. S. army.

But three years ago the American capitalist class and its military caste was startled out of its wits when two young American soldiers in the Hawaiian Islands were found to have organized a unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League in the U. S. army there. Later came the new, "incredible" and a fearful omen to the sleek American imperialists, that two United States marines had left the imperialists ranks to go over to fight for the freedom of Nicaragua in the army of Sandino. And now the Porter case—where the historic meaning of it all is dramatized by the arrest of an enlisted soldier for actually organizing and leading the mass picket line in a big labor struggle.

Three times Porter was warned by the police that he was known to have deserted the army and that if he persisted in participating in the strike he would be struck down by the arm of the military. When he refused to desert his strike post and was thrown into military prison, the army authorities and the big mill owners who were giving the orders were much troubled as to what to do.

The authorities were torn between two motives: the fear-inspired lust for vengeance, and the fear of the political consequences that would follow such vengeance. Paul Crouch had been given 40 years and Walter Trumbull 26 years, and the consequences had been so disturbing to army prestige that the sentences were later reduced. In the case of Porter, the military court martial compromised with its fears by evading as far as possible the direct political issue and giving the maximum sentence for desertion.

The term of John Porter's imprisonment must be and will be a term of energetic and effective agitation to stir up the working class—especially the youthful cannot fodder—to an understanding of the growing American militarism and the class significance of this case.

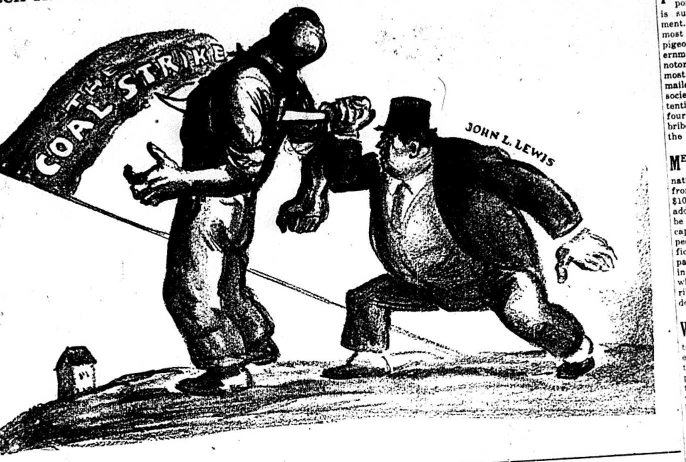
The Young Workers (Communst) League will doubtless be in the front trench of this fight. This organization has every reason to be proud of the attainments it has already registered in the field of anti-militarist work. Naval officials have been much disturbed when sailors of warships openly declared ther friendliness for the Young Workers (Communist) League. The pacifism of the days of "conscientious objectors" has been obliterated wherever the Young Communists have found their way. John Porter, who left the army because he realized its character as an instrument against the working class, found his way to the Young Communists and then expressed his regret that he had not remained in the army to win over the young soldiers to the cause of the workers.

The imprisonment of John Porter, strike leader, by the United States military arm of the capitalist class must be made to ring around the world.

Working class protest can be made to get him out, and also by this protest thousands of workers and soldiers can be waked up to the meaning of imperialism.

By Fred Ellis

ARCH-TRAITOR



Al Smith's Campaign Fund

Big Business Is Spending Huge Sums for the Candidates of Both Capitalist Parties

Not even the blue laws or the blue sky will limit the election campaign fund of the democratic party, according to an assurance given to "deserving" democrats by Herbert H. Lehman, finance director of Al Smith's presidential campaign.

Quietly killing all reports that the war chest of the Tammany sachem and that of Hoover, the Wall Street efficiency engineer, would be kept inside the $3,000,000, Lehman stated that Tammany would campaign in every state in the union and inferred that votes cost the democrats a lot more money in some sections of the country than they cost their opponents.

Big Business is into this fight with both feet, and since the most notorious plunderers, vote-buyers and grafters in the United States are high in the councils of both parties they will not let the expenditure of a few extra million dollars stand in the way of victory. With a possible exception all presidential victories in the United States have been won by the best-filled campaign chests.

The finance directors of the big capitalist parties will not bother much about going to the masses for their contributions. They will get them from the fellows who really own this country. The paltry contributions that deluded workers and poor farmers send them will be used as a blind.

The Workers (Communist) Party, with William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow heading its national ticket and hundreds of other proletarian candidates on the tickets in the various states, is making a drive for a fund of $100,000 to carry on Communist propaganda and to enlist workers and poor farmers in the party for the struggle against capitalism.

This is a mere bagatelle compared to the enormous sums that will be expended by the parties of Wall Street. But the raising of this sum would serve notice on the imperialists and their political lackeys that the workers and exploited farmers were making considerable strides in the work of organizing themselves for the every-day struggle for better living conditions and for the inevitable struggle for the overthrow of capitalism and the establishment of a Workers' and Farmers' Government in the United States.

Every dollar contributed by a worker or poor farmer to the swollen treasuries of Wall Street's parties and to the renegade socialist party will be used to fasten the shackles of wage slavery more firmly on his limbs.

Workers and exploited farmers give whatever you can spare to the Communist Campaign Fund and help to bring nearer the day when the useful producing classes will run the government as well as the factories. Send all contributions to Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City.

The Death Dance of the Reaction in Japan

By ITORO KABAYASHI.

The White Terror Reigns Thruout the Country; Government Prepares Mass Arrests

THE campaign against the revolutionary working class movement in Japan which was commenced in January of this year in connection with the elections is being continued without interruption. The mass arrests of candidates for the workers and peasants list and the arrests of those who participated in the electoral meetings of the workers and peasants were followed in March of this year by the destruction of the party organizations of the Rodonominto which united the best elements of the working class population in the towns and the peasants in the villages. The same fate was suffered by the Union of Left Wing Trade Unions, the Heghikai and the League of Proletarian Youth. Over a thousand of the active members of these organizations were arrested and flung into the prisons of Itigaya, Shugamo and Nakano in Tokio and in the torture chambers of the islands of Shikoko and Hokkaido.

White Terror Everywhere.

The blows of the Japanese reactionaries are directed with especial force against the Communists. The prime minister of Japan, Tanaka, is alleged to have cried when he reported to the Mikado the "devilish works" of the Communists. This Tanaka is the same man who appeared as the Nestor of the Fascist Leagues, and he it was who was actually responsible for the atrocities committed by the Japanese troops of occupation against the Russian workers and peasants during the Japanese intervention in Siberia. The anti-Communist hunt is not only being conducted in Tokio and other industrial centres against the workers in the factories, but the hunt has also been extended to the academies and high schools, etc. The Japanese telegraph agency, Shimbun Rengo, issues regular reports concerning the results of the hunt which are reminiscent of war-time communiques.

Numerous examining magistrates are at present engaged in preparing the material for the indictment in the monster process which is to commence on the 2nd of October of this year in Tokio against the arrested 426 revolutionaries. The well-known trial of the 99 Korean Communists and members of the Young Communist League which was proceeded by an "investigation" lasting eighteen months during which the prisoners were awaiting trial, shows clearly the methods of Japanese class-justice. Despite the fact that the scandalous methods used by the examining magistrates in preparing the trial, including systematic and refined tortures as well as plain downright brutality which cost a number of prisoners their lives, were thoroughly exposed at the trial, the "evidence" collected in this fashion was used as an excuse for passing long prison sentences.

Urge Severe Penalties.

Now, however, when the aim of the Japanese government is to destroy the revolutionary Communist movement root and branch, the punishments permitted by the exceptional laws for the "protection of the state," for the "suppression of civil war," etc., are not sufficient for the purpose, i.e., ten years' imprisonment. A new law is therefore in preparation against the Communists which has already won some fame or infamy under the name of the "Law Against Dangerous Ideas." The penalties for the violation of this new law are death or lifelong hard labor.

Stressing the necessity of such a law the Japanese minister of justice, Khara, declared at a session of the Japanese cabinet that this law was a necessary answer to the "increased activity of the Communists." There is therefore a direct connection between this draft law and the coming trial on the 2nd of October in Tokio, and the lives of all those accused who have earned the especial hatred of the Japanese bourgeoisie are in danger.

The zeal of the Japanese reactionaries in their struggle against the Communists will not permit them to await even this law and the ministry of the interior with the Secretary for Home Affairs Susuki, the man responsible for the draft for the liquidation of parliament, at its head is taking a number of administrative measures for dealing with the Communists. During the last session of the Japanese parliament 2,200,000 yen were granted for the purpose of fighting the Communists as a result of a report of Susuki. The ministry of the interior has founded a special department to deal with the fight against Communism. This special department has 109 permanent officials and a widespread net of spies all over the country. The special department has the right to carry out exceptional arrests. The department will also receive a central bureau for photographic records and a sub-department for fingerprints and a department containing nothing but files concerning the Communist movement in Japan and other countries.

This special department will have branches in the Japanese colonies Corea, Formosa and in southern Manchuria. The introduction of this secret police organization into the Japanese colonies promises new terrors for the unfortunate population of these colonies. Even now the Japanese police methods there are of such a nature that they do not hesitate in the least to invent "conspiracies" having allegedly as their aim the extermination of all Japanese in the colonies. This was proved by the mass arrests on the 27th of April in Southern Manchuria and by the various trials which have taken place in Korea.

Sidelights on the Workers Party Election Campaign

Score Attempt to Keep Foster and Gitlow Off Oklahoma Ballot

The attempt being made by crooked capitalist politicians in Oklahoma to keep Foster and Gitlow, the Communist presidential and vice-presidential nominees, off the state ticket was made public yesterday by the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party with headquarters at 43 E. 125th St., this city.

The statement reads:

"A brazen attempt is being made to prevent the Foster-Gitlow electors from going on the ballot in Oklahoma. Altho duly and properly filed in good faith, our electors were sent last moment notices to the effect that a petition signed by a hundred voters calling for the removal of the Foster-Gitlow electors had been filed with the secretary of state.

"The Oklahoma law is highly intricate and requires many formalities which must be met. Finding that the state requires a minimum of 5,000 signatures to be filed before June 16 for each of the ten electors—a grand total of 50,000 signatures—the members of the Workers (Communist) Party accepted the offer of the Farmer Labor Party to run on its ticket. The names were filed properly, and were accepted by Mr. McAllister, secretary of state, who gave verbal assurance to the Communists that no opposition list had been filed and that the time for filing was up.

Removal Threatened.

"Several days later McAllister sent notices to the Communist candidates informing them that they had been challenged by one hundred members of the Farmer-Labor Party and that unless they presented petitions within ten days, each petition signed by one thousand voters, they would go off the ballot.

"In such an emergency the law permits electors so challenged the privilege of filing a bond of $250 to prove their good faith, the bond to be returned if the candidate receives 10 per cent of the vote cast. Our comrade then sought to file bonds but McAllister refused, claiming that their time was up, altho there is nothing in the law as to time and in spite of the fact that they were ready to file on the 10th day but were prevented from doing so because McAllister's office was closed on that day, July 5th.

Challenge Illegal.

"At the same time our comrades discovered that the hundred challenges were not made by bona fide members of the Farmer-Labor Party and, therefore, that their challenge was illegal and our electors should be restored.

"On being confronted with the proof, McAllister still remained adamant. He not only refused to rectify the situation but he let slip a remark that he as a democrat favored the opposition list of delegates that had been filed.

"McAllister's game is now plain In Oklahoma the total vote of the democratic and republican parties is so close that the issue is usually decided by the switching of a few thousand votes. McAllister's game therefore, is to smuggle in a set of electors and state candidates on the Farmer-Labor ticket whose vote would be counted democratic.

"But McAllister will not have it all his own way. The Communists are leaving no stone unturned to get their candidates on the ballot. But even before getting their candidates on the ballot they are waging a hot campaign and showing up the shyster capitalist politicians of Oklahoma.

• • •

Talking about millions, how about a hundred thousand for the Communist Campaign Fund. If you want to help, send your contribution to Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, 43 East 125th Street, New York.

Told You So

THIS is by no means the most important news of the day, but it is susceptible to instructive comment. Gaston B. Means, one of the most successful and competent stool-pigeons in the employ of the government during the reign of the notorious Daugherty, and one of the most prosperous grafters and blackmailers that ever ratted on human society is out of the Atlanta penitentiary where he was sent nearly four years for accepting money to bribe officials and for violation of the federal prohibition law.

• • •

MEANS has been a model prisoner it is reported and represents a natty appearance on his departure from the federal pen. The fine of $10,000 that was imposed on him in addition to the prison sentence will be sworn off his conscience in good capitalistic manner, and Means expects to reap the reward of his sacrifice in fat contracts from newspapers and magazines for articles in which he will expose those for whom he went to prison to save their ribs and political necks. And he will do that little thing.

• • •

WHILE stool-pigeons and grafters of first class rating find it easy to pry open the doors of prisons and even while in confinement are able to while away the monotony of prison life thru special considerations allowed them by venal officials, workingclass victims of the struggle between capital and labor who fall into the hands of the law are not so lucky. The birds of prey like Means—tho he is only a baby buzzard compared to the big fellows in Wall Street—leave jail in better physical condition than when they entered. One has only to look at the picture of Tom Mooney, that appeared in a recent number of the Labor Defender and compare it to the photograph taken when he entered to realize what difference there is in the treatment accorded militant labor leaders and capitalist grafters who suffer because they are too clumsy in doing the logical thing for anybody to do who believes society is something to prey on and not to serve.

• • •

IMPORTANT discoveries of fossils of prehistoric carnivore in Mongolia are reported. Among the more important fossils reported are a femur and canine tooth of the audinoceras, a premolar of the andrewsachus and other fossils, which indicate, according to the publicity agent of the fossil-hunting expedition that "we are fast getting a good collection from the eocene age, the earliest part of the age of the mammals." This is very good news. I propose that a Communist expedition of dentists—if we have enough in the movement to fill a Ford—journey to the A. F. of L. headquarters in Washington and examine the teeth of the official labor fakers parked there.

• • •

SHOULD the Communist dentists notice any unusual growths on the masticating apparatus of the labor leaders they could cook up a scientific formula that would prove to the satisfaction of the average layman, that the owners of those molars were prehistoric men and should be embalmed immediately for preservation in a labor museum lest those dental gems might meet with untoward accident while their owners were exploring their raw oysters. It would be just like a consumer of those costly victuals to crash into a gem, thus wrecking the prehistoric tooth, conclusive evidence that a labor leader who believed in non-partisan political action belongs to the eocene age.

• • •

THIS suggestion is well worthy of consideration and if carried out without serious hitch should prove satisfactory all 'round. In the first place the labor movement would be rid of a number of antedeluvian specimens whose brains have been petrified so long that they are bullet-proof. The most influential of the labor leaders are of advanced age and their expectancy of life is no more than ten or fifteen years at best. It would be a splended prospect for them to lay open to public view in a museum and be looked on in awe by generations to come. And the Communist dentists could have each prehistoric tooth discovered called after themselves.

• • •

FOR instance on William Green's container—I rarely go to museums and forget the name of the thing they keep mummies in—there could be inscribed something lik this: Greenocerous eocene specime discovered in Washington in 1928 by a party of daring Communist de tists who developed the theory tha the prehistoricity of a reactionar labor leader could be proven by hi teeth. They were laughed at b their associates, but when the e tire officialdom of the America Federation of Labor consented to embalming process for the sake the publicity the hardy adventure were honored by the labor moveme and enabled to live for the rest their lives without having to tort their fellow beings for a living.

Tom O'Flahert

STOKERS PRODUCTION GA

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2 June sales of mechanical stok as reported to the departmen commerce, by the twelve lea manufacturers in the industry, 166 of 43,212 horsepower, as com pared with 130 of 38,705 horsep in May, and 153 of 50,958 h power in June, 1927.

SOVIET AVIATOR-HEROES MAY VISIT AMERICA IN SEPTEMBER

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Price 3 Cents

Vol. V. No. 173.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, JULY 23, 1928.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

MINE LEADERS ATTACK LEWIS; CALL FOR A NEW UNION

Watt, Toohey, Expose Strikebreaker in Open Shop Conspiracy With the Operators

COUNTER REVOLT SEEKS TO RAISE HEAD IN MEXICO

Clericals Threaten Labor Unions

MEXICO CITY, July 22 (UP).—A decisive victory over the labor party, resulting in the forced resignation of Luis N. Morones, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Labor and two other high party officials was scored today by followers of the late President-Elect Alvarro Obregon.

The resignation came as a result of charges that the laborites were "psychological authors" of the assassination of Obregon. Celestino Gasca, head of the Government Department of Fabrics, and Eduardo Moneda, director of the printing department, were the other labor party leaders who stepped out of office today.

Apparently the Obregonists exerted pressure on President Calles to bring about the changes which were officially to "facilitate the investment of the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon." Morones as President of the Crom, Mexican Federation of Labor, is one of the most powerful politicians in the country.

The attack on the laborites was led by Deputies Soto Y. Gama and Aurelio Manquire who directed their assault chiefly against Morones.

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 22.—A possible recurrence of the counter-revolutionary clerical outbreaks of several months ago, when the church hierarchy and wealthy landlords made their bloody attempt to overthrow the Calles government, was foreshadowed by a demonstration of 1,000 so-called agrarians here Friday night, apparently instigated by Antonio Diaz Soto y Gama.

Aviator's Funeral May Bring Clash

Trouble is looked for tonight when the body of the aviator, Carranza killed in an airplane accident in the United States after his flight from this city to Washington, will reach here. Labor organizations plan to demonstrate at the Colonia station when the body arrives, and the clericals are making open threats of violence, attempting to bring thousands of their followers to the city from the surrounding country.

This is considered to be an effort of the clerical-landlord groups to turn the blame for the murder of Obregon from their own door.

Start Anti-Labor Drive.

Remarks of Soto y Gama to the press yesterday were plainly intended

Continued on Page Two

SOVIET - AMERICA TRADE INCREASES

$45,000,000 Gain in 9-Month Period

Soviet-American trade for the first nine months of the Soviet fiscal year, 1927-28, beginning October 1, 1927, reached a total of $100,000,000. Purchases for the Soviet Union and sales of Soviet products in the United States in the nine months' period ending June 30, 1927, amounted to $55,000,000. American-Russian trade in 1913 totaled $48,000,000.

"While a new record for Soviet-American trade was reached during the nine months ending June 30, 1928, the composition of the trade remained about the same as last year," stated M. G. Gurevitch, acting chairman of the board of directors of the Amtorg Trading Corporation. "Raw materials, industrial equipment and agricultural machinery constituted the bulk of Soviet purchases here, while animal products, such as furs, bristles and

Continued on Page Two

PLUTOCRAT LEAVES MILLIONS

The will of Howard Elliott, former chairman of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific Railway Company, who died July 8 in [illegible], Mass., was filed for probate today. The bulk of the estate is said to be valued at more than two million dollars.

Strike Leader Freed

Fred E. Beale, New Bedford textile strike leader, who was released Saturday after completing a 30-day jail sentence for strike activities. Efforts to head off welcome demonstration by his release one hour earlier than announced time failed when eager strikers showed up before time.

20,000 AT HUGE CONEY CONCERT

Great Throng Applauds Theremin

Twenty thousand workers jammed Coney Island Stadium Saturday night and for more than three hours listened to one of the greatest proletarian concerts ever held in this country.

The concert, arranged jointly by the Daily Worker and the Freiheit, was characterized by high spirits until the very end of the evening. In addition to the musical program, the affair took the form of a rousing political demonstration, with Ben Gitlow, acting secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party and candidate for vice president as the speaker of the evening.

Lauds Soviet Rescuers.

Gitlow, who was introduced by Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer of the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party, riddled the political pretensions of Herbert Hoover and pointed out his role as a faithful servant of Wall St. When Gitlow mentioned the achievements of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin and the flyer Chukhnovsky, the huge stadium rocked with applause. "The heroic rescue achieved by these citizens of the first workers' and peasants' republic," he said, "is a refutation of the slanders of the capitalist press concerning the Soviet Union. In the future they will be compelled to hesitate before they write their lies about 'Bolshevik barbarism.'"

Gitlow received a great ovation both before and after his speech.

The musical program proved to be all that had been expected. Prof. Leon Theremin, whom Trachtenberg referred to as a representative of the new Soviet culture, astounded the vast audience with his new

Continued on Page Two

TWO KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

BOSTON, July 22 (UP).—At least two persons were killed and more than a score of persons injured here tonight when a four-car train on the Boston Elevated buckled and jumped the track just outside of the Beach St. station.

From twenty-five to thirty persons were carried in ambulances and taxicabs to the City Hospital, early reports indicated.

Cornelius Koehan of Roxbury, conductor in the fourth car, described to the United Press how the crash had felt in the train.

"We left Dudley St. station at 6:52," Koehan said, "arriving near the corner of Beach St. and Harrison Ave about eight minutes later.

"All of a sudden, just as we were rounding the corner, I heard a terrible crash ahead. The lights went out and I could hear women and children screaming."

MILL STRIKERS CHEER BEALE ON PRISON RELEASE

Boss Lauds Chief of Police and Union Head

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 22—Despite an obvious effort to avoid a strikers' demonstration at the release from jail of Fred E. Beale, by textile strike leader, by freeing him shortly after 7 a. m. Saturday morning instead of at the announced time of 8 a. m., hundreds of strikers were already waiting at the House of Correction gates in time to greet Beale with enthusiastic cheers. Beale had just completed a 30-day sentence for organizing a strikers' parade and for other activities.

The welcome committee of the union, however, arrived too late to officially welcome him back to the strikers' ranks, but after having sped back to the union headquarters caught up with Beale just as he was about to enter the building.

Here another rousing demonstation was staged by the textile workers, as the union committee presented Beale with a huge bouquet of red flowers.

Radiant and laughing, Beale thanked them for the reception and

Continued on Page Two

USSR RAISES GRAIN PRICES

Gosplan Provisions Are Fulfilled

MOSCOW, July 22.—Carrying out the five-year economic plan of the Planning Commission the government of the U. S. S. R. has ordered a general increase in the price of grain of approximately 10 to 15 per cent on wheat and 23 per cent on rye.

The plan was destined to better relations between the city and village by raising the prices of the peasant's products, thus enabling him to buy manufactured goods as his needs require.

The actual carrying out of the plan in such a great increase of prices is expected to result in great benefits for the peasant, especially with such good prospects for the autumn crop.

The economic plan promises to be fulfilled, as far as the peasant problem is concerned, contrary to pessimistic reports current abroad.

MANY KILLED IN LISBON REVOLT

LISBON, Portugal, July 22.—Reactionary government forces here, after two days' fighting, put down a revolt of soldiers.

Many arrests were made in Lisbon, Oporto and other points. Among those taken to prison were three former cabinet ministers and a number of former officers who escaped after the revolution of last year.

An official government report states that during the duration of the fighting seven were killed and over thirty persons were injured. No verification of the actual number slain and injured has been made on account of the strict censorship exerted on the press throughout the country since the hostilities began.

KRASSIN HEROES MAY PAY VISIT TO THE U. S. A.

Soviet Government Grants Permission

(Special to the Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, July 22—The Soviet airmen, Chukhnovsky, Prof. Samillovitch, and the others of the expedition aboard the Krassin, who rescued 16 of the survivors of the Nobile disaster, may visit the United States in September, according to an interview published in the "Izvestia," chief Soviet newspaper, today. The Soviet government has given permission to the heroes of the Arctic rescue to accept the invitation of the Russian American Chamber of Commerce to visit this country.

This was the content of an announcement made by the Soviet Rescue Committee today.

Official and public opinion was immensely interested in the announcement that the invitation had been extended and the news of its acceptance was welcomed throughout the country.

The date of the proposed trip is still uncertain, but it will hardly be before the end of September, because Prof. Samillovitch, head of the relief expedition aboard the Soviet icebreaker Krassin, reports from King's Bay that the vessel was so badly damaged in her struggle with the ice as to require refitting, which will be carried out within the next two weeks at a Scandinavian port, probably Gothenburg.

Charles Smith, the Moscow representative of the Russian-American Chamber of Commerce, speaks warmly of the world-wide interest in the achievement of the Soviet air heroes who saved the survivors of the fascist expedition when all the other countries attempting rescue work had failed.

WOLL REPORTS ANTI-LABOR PLAN

Open Shop Federation Active

Another step in the class collaboration policies of the American Federation of Labor leaders was taken with the publication yesterday of a report by the National Civic Federation Committee on Plan and Scope, actively sponsored by Matthew Woll, which recently was organized to find the basic principles on which labor and capital can co-operate in securing industrial peace.

The committee, whose composition was recently announced by Woll, now the acting president of the open-shop federation, has on its roster some of the most bitter union haters in the country. In the preliminary report made public yesterday it was announced that steps toward the repeal of anti-trust legislation have been taken: activities looking to the regulation of injunctions are likewise under way, it is stated. In charge of this branch of the open-shoppers' activities is James W. Gerard, former U. S. Ambassador to Germany, member of the State Industrial Commission and one of the most active enemies of the workers. Gerard is at the present time a staunch supporter of Al Smith.

Another committee working on Forms of Employes Organizations, understood to be an attempt to work out a form of company union, likewise reports "progress."

Leaders in the Fight for a New Miners' Union

John J. Watt, (right) and Pat Toohey, chairman and secretary of the National Miners' Convention Arrangements Committee, who are leading the miners in the fight for a new union to replace the one destroyed by the treacherous Lewis machine.

MILL BOSSES TRY LAY-OFFS TO HALT STRIKE

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 22.—Desperate with fear of the imminent strike of textile workers in Fall River, which the Textile Mills Committees threaten to call, the American Printing Company, one of the largest textile employers in New England, announced a twelve-day lay-off for 2,500 of its workers yesterday.

The Textile Mills Committee unit here, growing in membership by leaps and bounds despite the active opposition of the mill barons, the city police and the reactionary labor skates here, issued a statement declaring that it recognizes this is a bare-faced maneuver to smother the tremendous strike movement that will soon flame into action. This lay-off, the T. M. C. says, will be used as a starting point in the

Continued on Page Five

SMALL SUMS TO HELP RAISE FUND

Workers Donate to Communist Drive

The millions of General Motors are behind the candidacy of Al Smith and the millions of Wall Street, alias General Motors, are behind Herbert Hoover, but the one five and ten dollar bills of the working class are behind Foster and Gitlow, the candidates of the Workers (Communist) Party of America.

"Enclosed please find $5.00 donated to the National Campaign Fund of the Workers Party by the Lithuanian Working Women's Alliance, Branch 132 of Brooklyn, New York.—Fraternally yours, Edward Butkens."

This is one of the first responses to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund requested by the Central Executive Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Another comrade, Albert Gerling Madrid, Iowa, sends in $10 and asks for one hundred copies of the Party Platform.

It is the ten dollars, the five dollars, and the dollar bills of the working class against the millions of Wall Street.

There is no difference today be-

Continued on Page Five

POWER TRUST IN NEW RACKET

Sets Up a Course at Columbia

The power trust, which has spent thousands of dollars in buying politicians, newspapers, teachers and schools thruout the country, has decided to buy itself a summer course at Columbia University, according to information just disclosed.

Two utility corporations, the American Gas Association and the notorious National Electric Light Association, are "co-operating" with the university in a course for the study of household gas and electrical appliances.

The two companies have provided an extensive laboratory of modern home appliances in Dodge Hall, Teachers' College. The course is in charge of Prof. Carleton J. Lynde, head of the Household Engineering Department of Teachers' College.

In the gas course lectures and demonstrations are being given each afternoon by representatives of the American Gas Association. Similar lectures and demonstrations are being contemplated in the electricity course, to be given by representatives of the National Electric Light Association.

GENERAL STRIKE ON INDIA LINES

Hundreds of Arrests as Trains Halt

CALCUTTA, India, July 22.—The tense situation among workers in South India reached a crisis today when a general strike of railway workers was declared, according to dispatches which are arriving here.

Thousands of employers are affected by the strike and scenes of the utmost confusion exist in some parts of the province of Madras, one of the most important in South India. Workers have prevented the operation of trains by hurling themselves on the tracks and defying the police and emergency crews, the dispatches say.

The workers are reported to be taking things in their own hands. A heavy guard of special police was summoned to control the situation. Hundreds of arrests have been made.

Refusal of owners of business to deal with the labor unions has long ben threatening serious disturbance in India. Owners have repeatedly refused to recognize the unions and serious clashes between police and strikers have resulted.

The strike centered around the city of Madras, important as a transportation center of the lower peninsula.

Freiheit Sports Club and 'Daily' Plan Dance

The Freiheit Sports Club has arranged a concert, sports exhibition and ball in collaboration with the Daily Worker, which will take place on the evening of August 4 at the Pythian Temple, 2864 West 21st St., Coney Island.

A very interesting program has been prepared for the evening, and all workers in the city have been invited to attend.

AIRPLANE "MYSTERY" BAFFLES THE CZECH POLICE

Leaflets Calling for Red Day Demonstration Take Place of Fascist "Dope"

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (By Mail).—On July 2nd the fascist Czech legionnaires staged a demonstration in the sports stadium, which was a crude and unsuccessful attempt to arouse the inhabitants of Prague against the Soviet Union and the Communists.

The Czech government helped by a display of the military and police cordons. They also contributed a fleet of airplanes, whose function it was to drop leaflets, bearing the fascist propaganda, all over the city while the demonstration was going on.

To the great surprise of the fascists, and to the pleasure of thousands of workers, the leaflets that came fluttering down from the sky were "polluted" by thousands of leaflets appealing for mass participation in the coming Red Day of July 5th.

These leaflets had been declared illegal by the Czech government which had raided many workers' homes in an attempt to confiscate them.

The mystery of how the fascist leaflets were converted into revolutionary ones has not yet been solved by the police.

COMMITTEE LAYS PLANS FOR BIG SEPTEMBER MEET

Calls Upon Labor Movement to Defend Fight of Striking Coal Diggers

(Special To DAILY WORKER.)

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—The National Miners' Arrangements Committee, through John J. Watt, secretary, issued here yesterday a ringing denunciation of the action of the Lewis machine of the United Mine Workers' Union at the recent Indianapolis session of Lewis' policy committee which repudiated the so-called "no backward step" declaration of the last United Mine Workers' Convention. Lewis' action in abandoning the Jacksonville wage and in authorizing negotiations for district scales to be based on the "existing wages," is the culmination of the conspiracy to destroy the United Mine Workers' Union and to establish company unionism in the coal industry.

Outline Tasks.

In a long statement to the labor movement and to the mine workers, Watt and Toohey, speaking for the National Arrangements Committee, outline the tasks before the coal diggers and call upon them to redouble their energies for the building of a new union to replace the one destroyed by Lewis.

The statement follows in full:

LEWIS COMPLETES BETRAYAL

Abandons Jacksonville Scale—Defeats Pennsylvania and Ohio Strike—Destroys National Agreement.

MINERS BUILD THE NEW UNION

Elect Delegates to the Pittsburgh Convention, September 9-16.

The Policy Committee and the International Executive Board of the United Mine Workers' of America, headed by John L. Lewis, has decided to abandon the Jacksonville scale. The national agreement and national wage scale has been finally and completely destroyed. Wage cuts will now take place in all districts. Union conditions will disappear.

This is one more act of a treasonable career of the Lewis machine. Deliberately, and in the most base connivance with the bosses, step by step, the miners have been sold out. The union has been torn to pieces and is now a complete wreck. The miners are facing "open-shop" conditions and starvation. The future of the miners lies only in the throwing overboard of the last remnants of the Lewis machine and uniting in building the new union—a powerful union to embrace all the traditions of the past heroic struggles of the coal miners. That must now be the next step upon which every effort should be bent.

Climax of Lewis' Treason.

Many are the sell-outs of the past. In 1919, John L. Lewis betrayed the national strike; in 1922, he betrayed 100,000 unorganized miners who came out on strike and joined the union. He betrayed the anthracite miners, the West Virginia miners; he destroyed the Districts of Kansas, Nova Scotia and other districts. Last fall he put into effect the beginning of the separate agreement policy, took several districts out of the fight, leaving the Pennsylvania and Ohio miners to battle alone against the united coal operators. This recent action of the International Executive Board finally completes this series of betrayals. It is even in distinct violation of the last packed International Convention decision not to permit any recession from the Jacksonville scale.

In order to cover their sell-out and the fact that the union is completely destroyed, the International Executive Board is making a pretense of negotiating separate district agreements. In this situation the Lewis machine can obtain no other agreements from the operators than those based on the "open-shop," on conditions worse than slavery. For the miners any such agreements will be fake agreements, further splitting the ranks of the miners, pitting the districts against one another in competition for lower wages.

"Union" Officials Help Blacklist Union Miners.

That the Lewis machine has no confidence in obtaining even district fake agreements is evidenced by the fact that the International Board is instructing officials to send men back to work to the mines before such agreements are negotiated. By this the corrupt officials hope to collaborate with the operators in their black-listing and boycotting of active rank and file members.

To the Pennsylvania and Ohio miners this means the strike is betrayed by those who are paid high salaries out of the sweat and blood and countless sacrifices of the rank and file miners. These strikers were stabbed in the back while fighting against the operators, their evictions, their injunctions and their police terror. Could a scab peform a more base, degrading function?

The Pennsylvania and Ohio miners' strike is now definitely lost. The union is destroyed. Lewis, Murray, Fagan, Hall, Fishwick, Cappillini and all the other henchmen have completed their treacherous work.

Fifteen months ago the operators set out to destroy the union, concentrating first on the Pennsylvania and Ohio fields. They were ardently supported by the whole employing class. They found courts and police ready at their disposal. But their most formidable allies were their faithful tools—the officials of the U. M. W. of A.

Save-the-Union Committee Fought Traitors

Wage cuts have already taken place in the striking districts, and in the unorganized fields. Indirect wage cuts through the loss of union conditions have taken place everywhere. New wage cuts will follow in the so-called organized districts. This is the vicious circle.

What now has come to pass, we have warned against, time and again. Speaking for the interest of the rank and file membership, we advanced the program to SAVE THE UNION when it entered into its crises. We demanded a fight against wage cuts. We demanded a national agreement; the organization of the unorganized fields; a six-hour day, five-day week; control of operation of loading machines and mechanical devices; we demanded militant policies to rebuild the union such as strike activities, mass picketing, mass fight against injunctions, fight against evictions, adequate relief and extension of the strike into a national strike to secure victory.

Lewis Fought Picket Line, Helped Evictions.

Instead of paying relief the Lewis machine paid high salaries for themselves and their hired gangsters who broke up the picket

Continued on Page Two

U. T. W. Members Defy Labor Skates; Cheer Mill Committee Picket Leaders

ALL RACES WELD IN FIGHT WITH TEXTILE BOSSES

U.T.W. Mill Committee Members Fraternize

By AMY SCHECHTER.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 22 —The events of last Wednesday and Thursday in the New Bedford strike have been an exceptionally dramatic expression of the way in which mass action breaks down the vicious and unnatural barriers of craft and race and age and sex erected by the misleaders of labor, and sweeps the workers into a fighting whole.

In peace times the bosses and the labor bureaucracy find it easy to play upon the prejudices of the workers, and blind them to their common interests and their common fight. But when every day skilled and unskilled are confronted with the desperate need for unity in the face of the unified forces of bosses and state, and every day on the picket line they have the opportunity of seeing how all the various categories of workers have brave men in them good fighters and good strikers, the utmost efforts of the fakers, in this case the Battys and Binns ad Rivieres, can no longer keep them apart.

Encourage Pickets.

Wednesday evening, when the police under Detective Sergeant McCarty, notorious for his brutal handling of workers set upon the New Bedford Textile Workers' Union picket line at the Kilburn Mill, first seizing Auguste Gonsaves Pinto, picket captain for the whole southside, and Alphonso Lameiras, picket captain and eloquent Portuguese speaker at NBTWU mass meetings, the British and French skilled workers on Batty's line, shouted encouragement to the strikers under attack and immediately moved to their aid. But Horace Riviere, UTW organizer was there "Keep quiet," he yelled to his line "Keep going in line!" "Do you think that's the way to fight for the working people?" called back Maria Carreia, fiery little strike speaker, black smooth hair, flashing black eyes. "I hope the people get their eyes open now about you." Riviere's men began pushing him aside, "You've no right to stop us, we must all fight together," a Britisher shouted, and a number rushed over to help the NBTWU men, and when the nine pickets under arrest had been taken away a number kept marching on our line.

Known to Strikers.

Pinto was the hero, for his many run-ins with the police, and the splendid way in which he handles all the southside picket lines—and he had leaped from the patrol wagon and forced Sergeant McCarty to stop choking Luisa Moura, who had dared to protest against the arrest of her husband. "Take your hands off or I'll shoot you," said McCarty. As he was being taken away some of the British came around and said they would see he was bailed out if it took $20,000. Later in the evening two of Batty's members came around to the jail and bailed out two of the NBTWU members.

Thursday even the capitalist Evening Standard of this city had to acknowledge the unity of feeling that has swept over the strikers of both unions. "Rival strike factions join in cheering arrested Pinto," says a headline.

The same morning, when Pinto arrived at the Kilburn Mill, scene of the previous night's clash, UTW pickets joined heartily in the cheers that greeted him. And later, passing by the UTW southend headquarterr a crowd of strikers gathered around the door and cheered Pinto as he went.

Leader Praised.

Today, reports from those who can penetrate the fastnesses of Batty's camp, told that all the strikers were talking about last night's events. There was much praise for Pinto and the rest of the NBTWU Kilburn pickets, and bitter condemnation of Riviere' attempt to keep the UTW men from coming to the others aid. Also soreness because UTW men had participated in the scrap, and not one had been arrested. The rank and file don't consider special police privileges over the NBTWU something to be proud of as the leaders do.

The same source of information declared that visiting the Washington Club, a British social organization, to which many of the British mill workers belong, he was besieged by Batty men asking eagerly "Is Pinto out yet?"

One more incident. An old British loom-fixer told indignantly how when Burton, Nashawena Mill foreman had pulled out his gun the other night and threatened the strikers he and said to some of the British pickets, "You act like a lot of bloody Portuguese." And the loom-fixer hotly, telling the tale, "Ain't the Portuguese human beings?"

HEAT HITS 50 IN EUROPE.

VIENNA, July 22.—With the Balkan state still unreported, more than fifty persons are known to have lost their lives as a direct or indirect result of the heat wave which has reached and at some points passed records in Central Europe. Among the reports of death are: Austria, 23; Hungary, 11; Poland [illegible] Czechoslovakia, 3.

Lewis Henchman Out

Rinaldo Cappellini, formerly president of the Lewis machine District 1 of the anthracite, is reported to have resigned. Cappellini's policies and it has been charged, his paid gunmen, have resulted in the killing of numerous progressive miners in the district among whom were Alexander Campbell and Peter Reilly. The same machine has permitted the contractor system to continue in the district and has railroaded Sam Bonita, militant Pittston miner, to jail for fighting against the hated system. Cappellini once styled himself as a progressive.

OPPOSITION IN EGYPT GROWING

New Move Attempts to Remove Nationalists

CAIRO, Egypt, July 21.—Feeling runs high here against the latest move of King Fuad, who dissolved congress and suspended elections for three years, leaving the country under a virtual dictatorship.

The nationalist party of Egypt, the Wafdists, are extremely angered at the move, which they consider an attempt to end their opposition to co-operation with England and her governors.

Have Big Following

The Wafdists have a huge following in Egypt, which will not stand for co-operation with England, which they look upon as their suppressor, nor are they disposed to stand for this recent move and the accompanying state of military rule.

The nationalists consider the abrogating of whatever civil rights were theirs as a maneuver on the part of England, under the cover of the king, to subject Egypt to a complete dictatorship under British imperialism.

The Wafdists have exhibited in the past their enmity to British domination and their opposition in the congress, together with public support, has forced England into dictatorship and military rule, in an endeavor to wipe them out, they say.

The cabinet is headed by Premier Mohamud, a wealthy business man. The cabinet itself is composed chiefly of merchants and industrialists.

* * *

Disturbs Imperialists

LONDON, July 21.—At the moment when the capitalist world is patting itself on the back over the Kellogg peace pact, the news from Egypt is extremely disquieting. King Fuad's suspension of the Egyptian parliament for three years places Great Britain in the position of fathering the latest dictatorship of the old world.

It seems obvious that King Fuad and his new premier, Mohamud Pasha, had British consent in dissolving the Egyptian senate and chamber of deputies and instituting direct rule by the king and premier, which is regarded as bearing many resemblances to the Spanish and Italian dictatorships.

OPEN SHOPPER JOINS HOOVER

Bascom Slemp, 'Fixer,' for Republicans

WASHINGTON, July 22 (FP).—Bascom Slemp, non-union coal operator, southern delegate and patronage broker and general "fixer" in the Hoover pre-convention campaign, has joined the headquarters staff of National Chairman Work Slemp will interview other national committeemen—he represents Virginia on the committee—when they come to Washington to report.

AUTO ACCIDENTS.

WASHINGTON, July 20 (UP).—An increase of five per cent in the number of automobiles in operation in 1927 compared with the preceding year and an increase of ten per cent in the number of fatalities due to the operation of motor vehicles on the highways, and a decrease of four per cent in the number of persons killed as a result of highway grade crossing accidents last year took place, according to an announcement today by the committee on prevention of highway

MILL STRIKERS CHEER BEALE ON PRISON RELEASE

Boss Lauds Police Chief Boss Lauds Chief of

Continued from Page One

pledged his immediate renewal of all strike activities.

To the capitalist reporters outside the union offices, who asked about the strikers' parade to be held next Saturday, Beale condemned the city authorities who broke up by force the parade he had led. In discussing the coming parade, he declared: "I am confident the workers will make this the biggest turnout ever seen in New Bedford. This will show all people that we intend to stick thru the fight against the mill owners till we are victorious."

To Appear on Picket Line.

He later announced his intention of coming out on the picket line Monday morning. He then pointed out to the strikers the enormous advantages of a union run on the principle of collective leadership, pointing out the enormous strides the organization had made despite the imprisonment of himself and William Murdoch, another union leader who is still serving the 90-day sentence imposed at the same trial as Beale's.

While walking into the mass meeting, Beale was showered with flowers by the workers. He told the assemblage of the miserable conditions he was compelled to endure while in jail. Efforts to discourage him from further activities took the form of solitary confinement for 20 hours a day, he related. This was alternated with 3-day periods in an underground cell on a bread-and-water diet.

To Seek 1,000 New Members.

Other speakers then called upon the workers to intensify their drive for membership in the Textile Mill Committees, setting as their immediate goal the recruiting of 1,000 new members.

Late today, union organizer announced, large mass meetings at both ends of the town will be held to greet and to welcome back to leadership the released strike head.

* * *

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 22. —John Sullivan, president of the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' Association, who recently announced the beginning of a terror campaign against the textile strikers' picket lines, Saturday issued another statement which was completely devoted to a vicious attack on the New Bedford Textile Workers' Union of the Textile Mill Committees.

After demanding from the authorities that the T. M. C. and its "bolshevik demands" be forcibly suppressed, Sullivan gives detailed acknowledgement of the growing strength and popularity of the Mill Committees among the broad ranks of the strikers.

Lauds Police Czar

"Not only are they getting members from among the unorganized workers, but they are taking many members away from the already established unions, because some workers like aggressive tactics."

The mill barons' statement then went on in great praise of the Fall River Chief of Police Feeney, who is using all of the city's police power in trying to check the growstrike sentiment there by violently breaking up mass meetings of the Textile Mill Committees. Feeney, while chief of police, is at the sama time president of the American Federation of Textile Operatives, the Fall River union recognized by the bosses. Sullivan's statement calls for the use of the same tactics here.

Fraternization among the pickets of the T. M. C. and U. T. W. is increasing daily. A U. T. W. picket at the Booth Mill, disgusted with the attempts of H. Riviere, his official, to prevent the two lines from marching together, tore the U. T. W. armband off and demonstratively walked over to join the Mill Committee piket line.

United Textile Workers' Union members, standing outside of their south end headquarters, lustily cheered as the T. M. C. picket line marched past on their way to picket duty.

NICARAGUA PARTY WILL NOT VOTE

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 22. —With the candidates of the two factions of the conservative party withdrawn from the elections by the U. S. government, the conservatives have not put out another candidate after a two day session.

It is understood here that in order not to present any cause for embarrassment to the United States the conservative party will not have a candidate and will abstain from voting in the coming elections.

General Moncada, whose candidacy as representative of the liberal party, has been approved by the United States officials in Nicaragua, issued a statement, urging everyone to vote in this manner "showing the United States that the Nicaraguans consider the Tipitapa agreement sacred."

WATT, TOOHEY, RALLY MINERS TO NEW UNION

Continued from Page One

lines. Instead of mass picketing they advised the miners to stay home, to hold no mass meetings, to hold no local union meetings and entered into agreements with the coal operators to evict the miners from their homes. They cut off many locals from strike relief because they demanded and pursued militant strike policies. After six months of strike and utter failures of Lewis and his henchmen, they went into further conspiracy with the operators culminating in the separate agreement policy. They expelled progressive members, locals and whole districts while continuing their destructive work.

With the rank and file members we determined that a union should exist. We set out to build a new union upon the ruins of the old. This union will be built because it represents the united efforts of the militant rank and file coalminers; the rank and file who have made great, wonderful struggles during the past. Upon that basis and in that spirit, the new union will be built.

Pennsylvania and Ohio strikers you have been sold out. You will be forced back to work under the abandonment of the Jacksonville scale. The tens of thousands who will be discriminated against and who will be jobless will never forget this sell-out. Nor must they lose courage. Conditions can be regained through the building of the new union controlled by the rank and file miners.

Hold Your Fighting Line!

Pennsylvania and Ohio miners continue to act in an organized manner. Call your local unions to meet, to take things into your own hands and decide as a body, to determine your conditions and break definitely with the Lewis machine. Keep your local unions intact and prepare to send your delegates to the national convention to be held in Pittsburgh, September 9 to 16. Join the NEW NATIONAL MINERS' UNION as the only salvation and the only hope of reestablishing union conditions.

Miners in the so-called signed up sections fight this latest betrayal; fight against wage cuts; send your delegates to this national convention; join the NEW NATIONAL MINERS' UNION.

Anthracite miners the campaign to cut your wages and smash your union has already begun in your districts. Beware of anybody speaking of a separate anthracite union. Alone you cannot win this battle. Send your delegates to the national convention and join the NEW NATIONAL MINERS' UNION.

Miners in unorganized territories, you have already suffered several wage cuts. Your conditions are miserable, yet your wages will be further slashed to the very bone. Now is the time to organize your locals everywhere, to send delegates to the national convention and join the NEW NATIONAL MINERS' UNION.

Build Your New Union.

Coal miners in all fields, break completely with the Lewis machine, make no further dues payments to these corrupt officials. Henceforth affiliate your locals with and send your dues to the National Miners' Convention Arrangements Committee. Take control of your local unions. Remove all officials who stand in the way and select new officers from your own ranks who are ready to help build the NEW NATIONAL MINERS' UNION.

Workers everywhere, continue your relief support to the Pennsylvania and Ohio miners. Because of the strike being lost thousands of miners will be blacklisted, boycotted and unable to return to work. Starvation is now stalking the mine fields in many districts because of the sell-outs by the Lewis machine and its policy of driving 250,000 miners out of the industry.

All Workers Must Help Miners.

Workers everywhere, came to the defense of the coal miners, their struggles are your struggles. The destruction of the U. M. W. of A. threatens your own union. The building of a new, powerful miners' union will become a real aid in beating back open-shop attacks everywhere.

The miners will still face struggles in the future. Preparations for this will be made at the National Miners' Convention to be held in Pittsburgh, Pa., September 9 to 16.

This convention will be ruled by the rank and file. They will take matters into their own hands, select new leaders.

Militant rank and file miners, you have shown in the past that you know how to build an organization. Unitedly we will build a new union.

Stand together all soft coal and anthracite miners!
Lewis and his whole corrupt machine must go!
Come to the National Miners' Convention!

NATIONAL MINERS' CONVENTION ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE,

JOHN J. WATT, Chairman
PAT. H. TOOHEY, Secretary

WORLD WORKERS FACE INCREASING HARDSHIPS

By LELAND OLDS (Federated Press).

We want your assistance in reducing labor costs. That is the extraordinary invitation sent British railway unions by the railways. In one form or another that request is going to labor in every country where the old capitalist order is struggling to save its prerogative. Capitalist competition has developed maladjustment between production and consumption to the point where profits can be saved only by reducing labor costs.

The predicament of the British railway workers is closely parallel to that of their fellows in this country. They face the sorry choice of reductions in wage rates or reductions in the number of jobs. In the last 2 years the British railways have effected drastic savings at the expense of their staffs by laying off men. Part-time work has also been common in the shops.

Speed Up.

Alongside this reduction of 30,000 workers there has been a continuation of the speeding up which has made the occupation of the average railwaymen today one of the most strenuous and nerve-wracking in the whole of industry.

That sounds as if it had been clipped from an American labor paper concerning reductions in force in this country. Nor are the railway workers the only ones who face this predicament in both countries. In England as in the United States there is no adequate market for the full product of the coal mines and in both countries hundreds of thousands of coal diggers are out of work while the remainder work for low wages. In the steel industry steady improvement of machinery has been cutting the number of jobs offered by blast furnaces and mills on both sides of the Atlantic. In textiles it is the same.

Growing Unemployment.

The last 3 weeks has seen a steady growth of unemployment in England, the registered number of unemployed having risen to 1,217,000 on July 2. A New York Times special correspondent quotes labor members of parliament that there are 8,000,000 people on the line dividing normal poverty from actual suffering. He continues:

"Startling contrasts of wealth and poverty abound. In the midst of undeniable distress the London social season has been a brilliant success. There seems to be plenty of money in the hands of the few who buy luxuries, while some great areas of British population are slowly dying out because of continued lack of work."

Demand New Status.

Such contrasts abound in every capitalist country. Unemployment grows chronic. The workers are asked to cooperate in preserving stability. This means that they are asked to cooperate in reducing labor costs in order that the few may continue to buy luxuries during the period of transition to a new era Are the workers going to let slip this opportunity for demanding a new status in the age which is to follow?

VAST AUDIENCE HEARS THEREMIN

20,000 Attend Big Coney Concert

Continued from Page One

ether-music which he drew out of the air by the movements of his hands. Theremin played solos with piano accompaniment and also with accompaniment by Volpe's symphony orchestra.

Undaunted by Pain.

Theremin was originally scheduled to appear last on the platform, but when it began to rain during the concert by Arnold Volpe and his orchestra, who were first on the program, was shifted to second. The rain proved to be only a drizzle and hardly a person left the stadium.

The playing of Volpe and his orchestra was likewsie received with great favor as was the dancing of the Roxy Ballet, under the direction of A. Nelle, former partner of Pavlowa. The orchestra accompanied both Prof. Theremin and the ballet and also played several encores after the ballet had concluded its program, thus giving the great crowd more than full measure.

An appeal for funds, made by Alexander Trachtenberg, resulted in a generous response.

SOVIET - AMERICA TRADE SHOWS BIG GAIN IN 9 MONTHS

Orders for Industrial Equipment Increases

Continued from Page One

casings were the principal items of Soviet imports into this country. Total purchases were about $84,000,000 and sales $16,000,000.

Machinery Orders Increase

It must be noted, however, that in the past two years industrial equipment became an item of increasing importance on the Soviet purchase list here. Orders placed for machinery and other equipment for Soviet factories now being built or expanded amounted for the past nine months to about $10,000,000 as against about $7,000,000 in the corresponding period of the preceding Soviet fiscal year. Purchases of agricultural machinery and supplies amounted to $8,771,593, also a considerable increase over last year.

"Of the raw materials, the principal items were cotton, which is being purchased by the All-Russian Textile Syndicate, 39 Broadway, rubber and metals. These purchases totaled for the nine months $60,608,923, more than double the figure for the corresponding period of the preceding year."

Purchases by the Amtorg Trading Corporation, the All-Russian Textile Syndicate, Centrosoyus-America and Selskosojus-America, the four principal companies engaged in Soviet-American trade, amounted to $83,193,449. Sales of Soviet products by the Amtorg, Centrosoyus and Selskosojus amounted to $11,955,073.

Shipments of products to the U. S. S. R. by American concessionaires, imports of Russian manganese into this country by the Georgian Manganese Company and sales of furs here by American firms having special contracts, aggregating about $5,000,000, must be added to the above figures.

Fascist Troops Rout, Kill 100 in Tripoli

TRIPOLI, July 22.—The band of tribesmen revolting against the Italian rule in Tripoli were attacked by fascist troops, causing fifty to be killed and an equal number wounded.

The revolutionists suffered casualties double those of the troops, which consisted mostly of natives and were officered by Italians.

Female Babbits

Acting Mayor McKee, subbing while Walker is away, is shown above welcoming a delegation of female open shop business women from Tennessee.

REACTION SEEKS POWER IN MEXICO

Threatens Attack on Labor Unions

Continued from Page One

to turn the flood of vengeance against the labor organizations. Under the slogan of "labor leaders must be eleminated from the government," and with accusations that trade unionists in Tecubaya "celebrated the assassination with champagne," the clericals are carrying or a pogrom-like agitation against the labor organizations which they symbolize in the person of Luis N. Morones, secretary of labor in the Calles government, who has retired to the vicinity of Santa Fe under a guard of several hundred men.

Morones, who is an extreme reactionary, representing "labor" in about the same way as did Samuel Gompers in the United States, is, however, only a convenient butt upon which to center an attack intended to mobilize a man-hunt for bigger game.

Catholic Priests Involved

Meantime all accumulating evidence, as admitted by General Antonio Rios Zertuche, chief of police of the federal district, strengthens the case that clergy was behind the assassination of Obregon and that Leon Toral, the murderer, acted as a mere tool of the clerical conspirators in firing the five shots that ended Obregon's life.

MATTHEW WOLL MEETS HOOVER AT CONFERENCE

Labor Fakers Receive Instructions

WASHINGTON, July 22 (FP).—Matthew Woll, vice-president American Federation of Labor, and acting president of the National Civic Federation, called on the republican presidential nominee just before Hoover started west. Woll is the member of the executive council of the A. F. of L. who is nearest to sympathy with Hoover. He is supposed to have carried a message from William Green as to what the organized workers hope the republican candidate will emphasize in his acceptance speech.

W. N. Doak, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and a close friend of Bascom Slemp, former secretary to Coolidge and non-union coal operator, has likewise had a talk with the G. O. P. nominee. Doak is looked upon as Hoover's adviser on labor strategy.

Manchuria Warned Against Nationalists

TOKIO, July 22.—Premier Tanaka has sent instructions to Chang Hseuh-liang, military governor of Manchuria, dissuading him from an alliance with the Nationalist government of China, it is reported here.

Good Books for Workers

Workers Library Publishers

We carry a full line of literature for workers: Fiction, history olitics, social studies, books on Soviet Russia, etc.

We publish the Communist — monthly theoretical organ of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Write for a list of our latest publications and watch our daily announcements in The DAILY WORKER for new books and pamphlets.

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th St., New ork City

BOOKS

Spend An Enjoyable and Useful Vacation
Take Along a Book!
Soviet Russia in the Second Decade—Edited by Chase, Dunn and Tugwell .... Price: 2:50
The Diary of a Communist Schoolboy—By Ognyov Price: 2.50
Leninism—By Stalin .... Price: 2.50
Organization of a World Party—By O. Piatnitsky Price: 15 cents
The Communist Nucleus—By M. Jenks Price: 15 cents
Fifteenth Congress of the CPSU .... Prce: 50 cents

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 E. 125th St., New York City

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $3

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

ATTENTION

Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Workmen's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.

You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the
FREIHEIT
PICNIC
SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn

Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

FOREIGN NEWS AND FEATURES --- BY CABLE AND MAIL FROM SPECIAL CORRESPONDENTS

PHILIPPINES FOR U.S. CAPITALISTS, STIMSON URGES

New Land Laws Will Oust Peasants

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

MANILA, Philippine Island (By Mail).—Modification of the land laws to permit large-scale development of the rubber region in Mindanao and acquisition of large estates by Americans was advocated by the governor-general of Philippines, H. L. Stimson, at the opening session of the new legislature. He explained to the representatives of the Philippine people that their economic misfortunes are due to absence of large landholding. He said:

"At the present rate with which the agricultural land of these islands is being distributed among their people it will be 400 years before that great asset, that great guardian of the people's stability, is fully put to use."

He recommended such revision of the laws governing the creation and regulation of corporations, and the "laws under which capital comes in contact with government" be revised "so as to insure the people who are willing to lend money to you that the enterprise in which they invest will be fairly, justly and equitably treated by your public officials and that the title of the securities which the investors receive in exchange for their money will be sound and safe."

Stimson explained to the Filipinos that their own way to independence and liberty is to hand the country over to American capitalists. He told them how the United States 140 years ago were so poor that it had to borrow money to develop the country and its resources, how without foreign money the United States would still be in a primitive state and poor and. . ."is America in economic serfdom to these countries today?" he asked. Stimson described to the legislators how beneficial the influx of American capital was to Cuba, Panama and Hawaii and that the Philippines had the brightest future before them if they would abolish the antiquated laws preventing the formation of large estates and hampering American capital. He explained that "by exciting an unfounded fear" the opponents of American capitalist imperialism "would block the only avenue towards economic and therefore political independence of these islands." In other words, the Filipinos according to Stimson, will get their independence if they sell their country to American capital.

He finished by assuring the listeners:

"I believe that American capital has learned the unwisdom and the danger of attempting unfairly to exploit the land in which it enters."

Quits After 30 Years of Service for Imperialism

After 30 years at the beck and call of the capitalists to help slaughter workers, Sergeant Claude Ensign has retired. He is shown above being speeded on his way by a speech from Captain Cummings of the U. S. army.

U. S. MAKES "REVOLT" TO GAIN OIL FIELDS

The creation of a new republic in the north of South America, to be formed of the state of Zuilia, of Venezuela and the Colombian departments of Santander and Goagira is discussed by certain "revolutionary" elements in these districts of the two countries. These districts are those which contain almost all the oil fields of Colombia and Venezuela. The adherents of this proposed oil republic of Zulia of which Maracasbo is a part intend to abolish all restrictions on the exploitation and exportation of oil by foreigners and hope, in compensation to obtain early recognition and support of their "independence" by the financial powers mostly interested in the exploitation of these districts.

Would Profit U. S.

Up to the present the financial interests of Great Britain in Venezuela and Colombia are considerably larger than those of the United States. Consequently a "revolution" detaching these provinces from the two mother countries and the early recognition by the United States would mostly profit the United States, to the detriment of the British interests. The growth of the oil production of Venezuela has been extraordinary. It has doubled every year since 1919. It produced 425,000 barrels of oil in 1919, 1,400,000 in 1921, 2,200,000 in 1922, 4,200,000 in 1923, 9,042,000 in 1924, 64,000,000 in 1927 and 117,000,000 are calculated for the year 1928.

The British oil exploitations in Colombia and Venezuela, due to their proximity to the Panama Canal are a menace to imperialist interests of the United States. By the creation of an independent oil republic of Zulia, under American control British influence might be more easily removed. The actual governor of Zulia is said to have received assurance from resident Americans that in case of a revolution which would proclaim the independence of Zulia from Venezuela, the new republic would receive all protection from the United States. The Venezuelan government has repeatedly denied that there is any such movement for independence. Nevertheless, circulars and proclamations in this sense, describing all the advantages of such change, are being circulated.

The militant labor elements are watching this conflict of the two imperialisms in their countries, without taking sides with any of the parties, but they expose in their secret but widely circulated publications the coming conflict and the role the workers should assume in such emergency.

FACTORY BLAST KILLS WORKERS

One Dying, Many Hurt in Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, July 22.—One worker died early today, another was dying and six others were suffering from severe burns and other injuries following an explosion late yesterday of acetylene gas tanks in the air reduction company's plant.

Fire swept through the building as a series of blasts from 100 tanks fed the flames. It was at first feared that a dozen workers might have been trapped in the one-story structure. After heroic efforts on the part of the workers, almost two hundred of them escaped to safety. The names of the dead and injured have not yet been listed by the company.

Buffalo Doctor Finds New Cure for Cancer

BUFFALO, July 22 (UP).—A new method of cancer treatment, by use of neddles of platinum and lead, has been discovered by Dr. Raymond Nauth, Buffalo physician and scientist. The announcement was first made unofficially from his laboratories here, although Dr. Nauth later admitted the discovery of the new treatment and said that it would be submitted to the medical profession.

10,000,000 Unemployed In World, Last Years

PARIS, France, July 22.—At no time during the last few years has the total of unemployed throughout the world fallen below 10,000,000 it was stated at the International Social Conference here.

The conference took no concrete steps towards remedying the situation. They merely decided that unemployment was an important problem.

NEW FASCIST EDUCATOR

ROME, July 20 (UP).—Gieseppe Belluzzo assumed the duties of minister of education yesterday after being introduced to heads of departments by Pietro Fedele, his predecessor.

In a statement announcing his assumption of his duties, Belluzzo said:

"I intend personally to direct public education with the standards and sentiments that animated my action during my term as minister of national economy. I am confident I can count on the active callaboration of all officials and teachers, to

CAMPAIGN CORNER

Carl Hacker, Ohio campaign manager reports that the total number of signatures received at the Cleveland office of the Party has already mounted to 5,600, with almost all out-of-town points still to be heard from. The call for a general mobilization of all members to go out for signatures has just been issued. Although 20,000 signatures are needed, it is commencing to look as though Ohio is going to go over the top with a rush.

* * *

Sidewalks-of-New-York Al Smith is figuring out how to raise a three million dollar campaign fund. Too bad there can be only one campaign manager. Otherwise we might suggest the appointment of a couple more Wall Street money-bags in addition to Raskob of J. P. Morgan, General Motors, and the republican party.

* * *

Seems to us the situation looks somewhat awkward for the Alphonse and Gaston parties of Wall Street. Being a republican and at the same time the Smith campaign manager, does Mr. Raskob, the republican, intend to vote the republican ticket except for president, or is Mr. Raskob, campaign manager, going to vote straight democratic? Wonder if he knows or cares.

* * *

Will Smith get his official three million? That aint the problem. The question is will he get enough unofficially to elect him.

* * *

Comrade Roy Stephens reports the Iowa state convention held at Des Moines Sunday to have been a huge success. Iowa is the eighth state to go on the ballot. Wm. F. Patton was nominated for governor and Walter Sweeney for lieutenant governor, in addition to the presidential electors.

* * *

Hannah Kuebbler of Toledo, Ohio, has the honor of making the first donation from the state of Ohio to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund. She sent a money order for $5 with a promise of more later.

* * *

Chicago reports that the street meetings are now going full blast. Additional word from Comrade Bedacht, Chicago District Organizer, guarantees that the states of Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin will be on the ballot with full Communist tickets.

* * *

Additional orders for stamps and buttons have been received by campaign headquartezrs, raising the total for buttons to 55,000 and for Vote Communist stamps to 95,000. The Ohio district has sent in an order for a thousand books of the Vote Communist stamps, amounting to 80,000 stamps, but the printer cannot supply the books in sufficient quantities to meet the demand, and this order had to be cut to 250 books for the present.

Don't worry, Comrade Amter, the other 750 books will soon be in your hands.

* * *

The Workers (Communist) Party is in this election campaign to mobilize the working class for a workers' and farmers' government.

* * *

While Smithy is busy planning the best means of reaching into the bankers' money bags, Herbert is already well advanced in the expenditure of his first million. Herb has no such troubles as Al. His problem is not to get the dough but to pretend he is not getting it, so as to conceal the real total of his expenditures.

* * *

Max Hankin, Buffalo district organier, is now on tour of the western New York counties to get the necessary signatures for the Party to go on the ballot.

* * *

New York is planning to carry the Communist Election Campaign into the numerous working class camps in the vicinity of the city. Word received from Rebecca Grecht district campaign manager, is to the effect that Mohegan, Golden Bridge Nitgedaiget, Unity, etc., will soon be ringing with the Communist Campaign.

* * *

District Two, of the party, is planning a series of Special Camp Collections for the benefit of the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund.

* * *

The first Workmen's Circle branch has been heard from with a donation to the Communist Campaign Fund. This is a check for $5 from Branch No. 246.

* * *

Reports from Denver are that young Tom Ayers has developed into a very good speaker who knows how to put the spirit of Bolshevism into his speeches.

* * *

Orders have already been received for 30,000 buttons and 65,000 VOTE COMMUNIST stamps. Rush in your order to avoid delays incident to getting out new lots of stamps and buttons.

* * *

Philadelphia reports that a call has been sent out for an election campaign conference of all left-wing working class organiations, and that it is planning the formation of a large campaign committee on which there will be representation from all organizations sympathetic to the party.

U. S. FAVORS BOLIVIA IN LAND DISPUTE

Paraguay, Argentine Not Considered

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

The boundary conference held in Buenos Aires between representatives of Bolivia and Paraguay regarding the disputed territory of the Chaco Boreal held by Paraguay and claimed by Bolivia was ended without argument. The aggressive purpose of the stronger party, Bolivia, which is a virtual protectorate of the United States, became clearly apparent.

The territory, about 100,000 square miles, very thinly populated by uncivilized Indians is still unmapped, but in general under control of the Paraguayan government which occasionally sends inspecting officials.

Troops Sent.

Bolivia began to claim the Chaco Boreal and to send troops and erect forts as soon as it was discovered that the territory, contiguous to the extensive oil land holdings of the Standard Oil Co. of Bolivia, also contains vast and promising oil fields. Previously Bolivia never pressed its claims to this territory.

When Bolivia's pressure increased and the armed clashes between Bolivian and Paraguayan troops in the disputed territory became more frequent, with actual danger of war the Argentine government called a conference at Buenos Aires of representatives of the two countries to settle the dispute amicably by mutual concessions. Argentina, which has important economic and financial interests in Paraguay, desired to save Paraguay from conquest by Bolivia and indirectly to prevent the extension of the United States influence from the Pacific to the Atlantic across the South American continent through Bolivia and Paraguay and finally into Argentina.

Unable to Agree.

After several weeks of negotiations the two parties, deliberating under the chairmanship of an Argentine "neutral observer," they were not even able to agree on what should be arbitrated. The Argentine arbitrator proposed that, pending a settlement, the occupied districts in the disputed territory should be demilitarized and the forts dismantled. The forts of each country penetrate deep into territory claimed by the other, giving raise to frequent clashes.

Paraguay agreed but Bolivia refused to dismantle the forts recently erected and only offered to reduce the garrisons. The Bolivian delegates also refused to allow the arbitrator to decide whether territory held by an occupying force belongs legally to that country or not and is subject to arbitration. Furthermore, the Bolivian delegates requested that a part of the Chaco should be declared Bolivian territory immediately, before and independently of the arbitration decision and that only the possession of a part of the Chaco should be arbitrated. Bolivia did not indicate which part it is willing to have arbitrated. In other words, it wanted immediate concessions from Paraguay before entering into any negotiations. Paraguay sometime ago offered Bolivia that part of the chaco Boreal which would give Bolivia access to the Paraguay River and thus enabling Bolivia to build a seaport on the navigable part of the river for vessels able to carry goods and passengers to the Atlantic through the mouth of the Rio Plata.

Bolivia's Claims.

Bolivia, however, claimed not less than all the territory of the Chaco down to the angle where the River Pilomayo joins the Paraguay, which is across the river from Asuncion the capital of Paraguay. Paraguay was unwilling to have Bolivian army and forts on the bank of the river opposite to its capital.

Reports are being repeatedly published that Bolivia is mobilizing. The Bolivian government press is making an intensive chauvinistic war propaganda against Paraguay publishing stories that Paraguay prepares to invade Bolivia. (Paraguay has 900,000 inhabitants and Bolivia 2,500,000.) To reach the capital of Bolivia the Paraguayan soldiers would have to climb the western ridge of the Andes, about 15,000 feet. Bolivia is receiving arms from the United States.

Rejected Draft.

At the recent Pan-American Congress at Havana the Bolivian delegation rejected the first draft of the commission on maritime neutrality which provided that neutral countries "may allow" the transition of arms and ammunition to a belligerant if it is a landbound country. Bolivia insisted that this be changed to read that the coastal countries should be obligated to allow the transit of arms to landbound belligerants. Paraguay accepted the first draft and opposed the second. Paraguay and Bolivia are the only other landbound countries on the American hemisphere. Hughes supported Bolivia and finally the Bolivian draft was accepted against the votes of Paraguay and Argentina.

AL EXPECTS CROWDS

ALBANY, N. Y., July 22.—Albany is making arrangements to handle 150,000 persons when Gov. Alfred E. Smith is officially notified of his nomination as the democratic presidential candidate.

"Charity" Gives Poor Crippled Children Outing

Placed under capitalism in city institutions reeking with graft and ill treatment, the crippled children of the poor get an outing up the Hudson River once a year, so that the photographs in the capitalist papers can show how "happy" they are. Photo shows a group of crippled boys and girls on such an outing.

PROSPERITY OR THE BURST BUBBLE OF 1918

By MARTIN A. DILLMON.

ST. LOUIS (FP).—Though papers of St. Louis declared that republican prosperity is the issue upon which candidate Hoover will stand, they published the result of a social survey by the Provident Association, in which it was found that house rent in St. Louis tenement sections has doubled since 1916; that housing conditions have grown steadily worse during the period, and families are eking out an existence in quarters unfit for human habitation.

The study is a part of a nationwide survey undertaken by social welfare bodies to determine the cause for the ever increasing relief appeals.

Of 100 St. Louis families studied in 1916, 15 were found living in 1 room each, 9 families in 2-room quarters and 1 in 3 rooms. In 1925, 1-room families had increased to 28. 2-room families to 13. Two families were found in 3 rooms each and 1 with 4 rooms. Many of the structures were long ago deserted by more fortunate people for better neighborhoods.

One father keeps his flock together on $17 a week as a lumberyard laborer, another with 8 children gets $90 a month in a mail order house. Large plants throughout the city are operating part-time or under-manned. Workers besiege downtown employment agencies begging for any kind of a job.

If Hoover brings a prosperity sermon to St. Louis he will encounter many unbelievers.

GIRL WOULD SELL SELF FOR FAMILY

Poverty Forces Her to Marry for Money

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 22 (UP).—Beatrice Albert, 19, who offered to sell herself in marriage in order to provide for her poverty beset family, was embarrassed today by complications resulting from the offer.

Beatrice thought her family troubles were over when W. W. Goynes, 50, Spanish war veteran, came forward and said he would pay her parents and brother $6.000 if she would marry him.

Goynes had the $6,000 all ready, but the family Beatrice hoped to benefit has divided three ways in advising her as to her course.

If she marries Goynes, Beatrice's mother says she never will speak to her daughter again.

If she doesn't marry Goynes, her 72-year-old father asserts she will lose all his respect.

If she contracts any auction marriage whatever, her brother won't take any of the money.

Increasing Beatrice's plight, Goynes has cooled somewhat in his ardor and says bluntly that another solution is open to her—she can go to work and support her folks.

Apparently tiring of her hesitancy, Goynes is pressing his suggestion by offering to permit her parents and brother to continue living rent-free in one of his cottages if she will get a job.

Beatrice, indicating what she may decide, says now that "money isn't everything."

U. S. S. R. Scientists Leave on Expedition

MOSCOW, July 22.—An expedition of Russian scientists, headed by Nicholas Krylenko, left Moscow recently for Central Asia to study unexplored areas of the Pamir Highlands and the life of the tribes inhabiting these regions.

The expedition will attempt to find tribes, which are hidden in the wilderness, and whose costumes have remained unchanged for hundreds of years.

Diver Drowned Under Fourteen Ft. of Water

TROY, N. Y., July 22 (UP).—John Ericsson, 28, a diver, was under water for four minutes Saturday at the foot of Jefferson Street, Watervliet, when his fellow workers on shore felt a feeble tugging on the signal rope.

Apprehensively they hauled Ericsson to shore. He was unconscious. For three hours his mates alternated with doctors in an effort to revive him while a spark of life remained. Not until Coroner Charles J. Cote declared him dead was the fight given up.

Fourteen feet under water, the river workers said, Ericsson's helmet became unfastened. He was employed by the Cleveland Construction and Engineering Company and lived on Chaddunk Ave., Buffalo.

2 SAVED; THEN DROWN.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 22 (UP).—Alice and Martha Patton, 18 and 14, sisters, of 432 West 4th St., New York City, were drowned in the Hudson river at Fort Montgomery, after they had once been saved by John Dunning of 75 11th Ave, Manhattan.

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Ten Killed in German Train Wreck and Fire

MUNICH, Germany, July 22.—Search of the charred wreckage of two railroad cars yesterday revealed that ten persons had been killed when the two cars were telescoped and caught fire near here. Twenty-five persons were injured. Three of those killed were women.

When the coaches burst into flames, several of the victims were burned to death, some of the bodies being unrecognizable.

MINERS' CRISIS IN AUSTRALIA

Coal Barons Launch Drive on Union

By W. FRANCIS AHERN.

SYDNEY (FP).—The coal industry in Australia is in a serious crisis. The principal factors are over-development during the war, introduction of substitutes for coal, general depression.

The crisis is part of the international coal crisis. The principal harvest the workers reap is unparalleled unemployment. This crisis in the industry is reflected in a deep crisis in the Miners' Union. A special convention of delegates from all districts has been called.

It is admitted that reorganization of the union is necessary. Requesting and attending conferences under the auspices of the government is considered a dangerous experiment.

The coal barons are aggressively attempting to lower the conditions of the miners and to cut wages. This the mine workers are strenuously opposing, and at various meetings held on the coal fields they have decided to resist.

Balkans Spend Budget On War Preparations

GENEVA, July 20.—The Balkans spend a great portion of their revenues on their armies, it was revealed here in a report today.

Jugoslavia spends 31.79 per cent of her revenues for military purposes; Greece, 25.93 per cent; Rumania, 20.40 per cent; Bulgaria, 17.65 per cent; Czechoslovakia, 12.61, and Hungary, 9.51.

40 SAILORS DROWNED.

HANOI, French Indo-China, July 20.—Death toll in the shipwreck of the French steamer Cap Lay, which foundered at the mouth of Songtambo River yesterday, was set at forty today, with as many injured.

Most of those dead were drowned when lifeboats were crushed between the ship's hull and rocks as they were lowered.

MUD FOR WANAMAKER

PHILADELPHIA, July 22 (PU).—An urn containing soil from Lafayette's grave, the place where the first American World War dead were killed and the landing place of Commander Richard E. Byrd's airplane America was placed today on Wanamaker's crypt here.

WON'T INVITE RUSSIA.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (UP).—Only countries with whom the United States has diplomatic relations will be invited to send delegates to the International Conference on Civil Aeronautics, to be held here December 12 to 14, the state department announced today.

SHOW VENIZELOS' TRUE COLORS BY JAILING WORKERS

Greek Dictator Deports Many Strikers

ATHENS, Greece, July 22.—The first indication of the course of action the Venizelos regime will take is made clear by the mass arrests in Greece. In respect to a conflict between striking miners and police in Saloniki the Greek police have "proven" that "the Communist Party is responsible for the conflict, turning the strikers against the scabs."

After this "proof" the police arrested seventeen Communists and ordered them deported. Five of them were banished to Ionia, five to Anafi, five to Folegrandos and two to Thyra.

At the same time the police threatened that "if the Communists will again resort to terroristic action" they will bring mass arrests down upon themselves.

In spite of the terror of the government the strike continues.

In Saloniki a large meeting was to take place that was prohibited by the police. In spite of that the workers appeared in masses at the appointed place. The police had orders that all corners and streets leading to the meeting place be heavily guarded, and that at a pinch weapons should be used. The prudence of the workers saved them from a heavy blood bath.

The editor of the Communist newspaper, "Rizpospastis," was arrested in Athens.

Strikers are arrested in masses, without any ground, in the small towns of the provinces. Most of them will be deported.

British Lord Says Amity Talk, Nonsense

PARIS, July 22.—Lord Crewe, the retiring British ambassador to Paris laughed at the talk of peace and good-will between the United States at a luncheon given for newspaper men.

In a circle of acquaintances more frank than the usual diplomatic type the lord could speak more freely. Abandoning the usual diplomatic line he said:

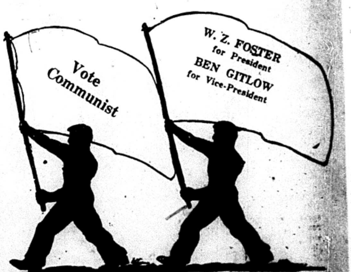
"There is a great deal of nonsense in the talk about Anglo-American friendship and brotherly amity."

WIN HUNGER STRIKE.

ATHENS, Greece, July 22.—The 17 soldiers who have been on hunger strike in the prison of Syngros because their legal soldier's pay was taken away from them because they complained of the lieutenant of the prison, have won their demands.

They are being sent to the military prison where they will be treated in the customary fashion.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.



Order a Bundle!
Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.
Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.
Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.
$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).
Enclosed find $..........for........Daily Workers
Name
Street
City .... State

...ll Begin Big Drive of Militant Cloak Workers at Giant Bronx Mass Meeting

K AND FILE GHT SIGMAN, EAT SHOPS

...eat Right Wing Thugs," Is Call

...order to "launch the campaign ...the rank and file against the ...shop system and to build a ...workers union of the workers ...the leadership of National ...zation Committee," the latter ...ation is calling all workers ...ladies garment manufactur- ...industry to a gigantic mass ...in Bronx Stadium, accord- ...a statement issued recently ...latter organization over the ...of Louis Hyman, chair-

Appeals To Workers.

...statement also appeals to the ...to fight against any at- ...of Sigman and his cohorts to ...them to pay dues to his com- ...union under the guise of the ...organization campaign they ...conducting. The statement de- ...in part:

...International clique is now ...a new effort to extort money ...you thru their guerilla com- ...under the pretext of a ...new organization campaign. ...not a campaign to get better ...for you in the shops. it ...a campaign to organise the ...ry. The "company union," ...is on the verge of collapse, is ...a last effrot to extort ...from you before it is com- ...wiped out.

Defend Yourself.

...must not permit yourself to ...rized by their guerilla com- ...The gangsters of the un- ...hired by the company ...are insignificant as com- ...with the will and determina- ...your united strength. All ...need is united action when ...mittees appear in your ...Do not stop when the guer- ...mittees come to your shops. ...give them a cent. Give them ...resistance. Defend yourself ...them and wherever possible ...them, drive them out.

...ers! The end of the clique's ...is in sight. Now is the ...for united action to put into ...the plans worked out for ...our union. The first ...shop chairmen's conference, ...the 12th of July, in Webster ...acted. It has decided to ...the campaign of the rank ...against the sweat-shop sys- ...build a union of the work- ...gigantic mass meeting ha ...arranged i nthe Bronx Stadium ...th of August. The confer- ...chairmen has decided that ...and dressmakers must im- ...join the union of the ...under the leadership of the National Organization ...which constitutes the united ...of all those who want to have ...and union conditions."

...istrict Open Air ...eetings This Week

...ntion all Party speakers and ...Campaign Committees ar- ...by District 2 Agitprop Dep.

WEEK OF JULY 23.

...day, July 23.

...Square—Marshall, Leroy, ..., Hendin, Pasternack, Trach-

...nd Ave. and 106th.—Baum.

...day, July 24.

...St. Ext., and Havemeyer, ...lyn.—Liptzin, Midola, Rose-

...day, July 25.

...Ave. and 10th St.—Pollack, ...Peer, Auerbach, M. Epstein.

...Square — Minor, Silber, ..., Blake.

...Ave. and 132nd St.— ...hoff, V. Smith, Ed. Welsh, ..., Gussakoff.

...kins and Intervale.—Di Santo, ...witz, Cibulsky, R. Wortis, Sev-

...rtle and Prince.—R. B. Moore, ...ams, Bimba, Rosemond.

...Dayton Ave., Passaic.—J. O.

...gle Pencil—noon—B. Miller.

...day, July 26.

...way and Jamaica, L. I.— ...man, P. Shapiro, V. Smith.

...St., St. Annes.—Baum, Ja- ...Yusem, Gitz.

...St. and 8th Ave.—Auerbach, ..., Schalk.

...on and Cruger — Padgug, ...Lyons, Chas. Nemeroff, Ruis-

...St. and Mermaid.—G. Pow- ...Rock, Wright, Midola.

...Wile Biscuit Co.—Noon—

...July 27.

...Biscuit Co.—Noon—D.

...and Pitkin, Brooklyn.— ...Padmore, Lilienstein, Mag-

...and William, Brokolyn.— ...Nessin, Reiss, Suskin.

...and Graham, Brooklyn.— ...Primoff, Rosemond, A. Sus-

...Ave. and 110th St.—Ballam, ...Taft, Ed. Welsh, Codkind.

...and Plaza, Newark, N. J. ..., Erdy.

...day, July 28.

First Ave. and 79th St.—Markoff, Suskin, Lustig, Hendin.

13th Ave. and 42nd St., Brooklyn. Sherman, Wright, Lillienstein, Valentine.

West New York, N. J., 14th St. and Bergenline Ave.—S. Pollack, Freiman.

Bait for Suckers Trains for Champ Bout

Photo shows Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, training at Speculator, N. Y., training for his battle on Thursday with Tom Heeney, challenger for the heavyweight crown. The sparring partner is Harold Mays. He leads a dog's life.

YANKS, GIANTS LOSE, DODGERS BREAK EVEN

(By United Press)

Red Faber's single, which scored two runs, enabled the Chicago White Sox to defeat the New York Yankees, 6 to 4, yesterday. Johnson and Moore gave Chicago only seven hits, but two Yankee errors hurt New York.

• • •

The Chicago Cubs demonstrated Sunday that they are ready to fight the St. Louis Cardinals right down to the wire for the National League pennant.

Their 4 to 2 victory over the Giants gave them the important series, three games to one, and kept them on the heels of the league-leading Cardinals. Charley Root gave the Giants only four hits and did not yield a run until the eighth inning.

Pittsburgh and Brooklyn divided a double-header in their fight for leadership of the second division. Dazzy Vance pitched superbly in the first game, giving the Pirates only four hits. Brooklyn won, 5 to 0. Pittsburgh won the second game, 6 to 5, chiefly because of Ray Kremer's steady pitching.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

National League

Chicago, 4; New York, 2.
Brooklyn, 5; Pittsburgh, 0 (1st).
Pitsburgh, 6; Brooklyn, 5 (2nd)
Cincinnati, 5; Boston, 4.
St. Louis, 8; Philadelphia, 7.

American League

Chicago, 6; New York, 4.
Washington, 8; Detroit, 2.
St. Louis, 8; Cleveland, 5.
Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN OLYMPIC TEAM IN WORKOUT

AMSTERDAM, July 22 (UP).—For the first time since the final tryouts at Cambridge, Mass., the American Olympic team had a real workout today.

The cinder strack in the stadium was in better shape and coaches sent the athletes through their races, clocking many of them. Ray Barbuti, Fuil Snyder and Joseph Tierney, quarter milers, were all timed around 50 seconds and Lloyd Hahn did a quarter mile in 52 seconds. Hahn, who is working harder than any of the American athletes, then ran the 660-yard distance in 1:24 4-5.

DETROIT LABOR SPORTS SECTION PLANS MEET

(Labor Sports Press Service)

DETROIT, July 22.—The Detroit section of the Labor Sports Union, which is one of the liveliest in the whole organization, is proceeding with the plans for a local elimination meet, preparatory to the national track and field meet at New York on August 25-26. The Detroit section includes some eight clubs with a total of 350 members and the meet will undoubtedly develop spirited competition.

U. S. TENNIS PLAYERS SPLIT EVEN IN LAST 2 MATCHES

PARIS, July 28.—Johnny Hennessey and Francis Hunter went through the formality of playing out the semi-finals with the Italian Davis Cup team today. Hennessey won and Hunter lost. George Lott and Hennessey, by winning their doubles match Saturday, clinched the victory for America. Today's results made the standings four matches to one, in favor of the United States.

Hunter lost to Baron Henri De Morpurgo today because he played erratically at the start and was unable to overcome the Italian's lead in time to stave off defeat. Hunter rallied too late and lost, 6—4, 6—8, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3. The score of Hennessey's match with P. Gaslini today was 7—5, 6—3, 6—4.

Fisherman Drowned When Boat Hits Rock

NEWPORT, R. I., July 22.—One man was believed drowned and a fellow fisherman rescued yesterday after the two-masted oyster schooner "Elida Hearn," had piled up on rocks and capsized in Narragansett Bay.

TRY LAYOFFS TO HALT BIG STRIKES

'Vain Gesture,' Say Fall River Mill Workers

Continued from Page One

imminent Fall River struggle. It also declares:

The closing down of the American Printing Works in Fall River from July 25 to August 7 is a definite attempt to weaken the determination of the workers in Fall River to go out on strike to fight for the restoration of the 10 per cent wage cut and for the other demands of the T. M. C., 20 per cent increase in wages, 40-hour, 5-day week, against the speed-up and the recognition of the union.

The excuse that the management gives for the closing down of the cotton division, which alone employs 2,500 workers, is that there is not enough work. This all the workers know is not true and realize that the activities of the T. M. C. in the past weeks has mobilized thousands of workers into the union in preparation of the struggle that is about to begin, and this together with the fact that the influence of the T. M. C. is felt generally throughout the city has thrown a scare into the ranks of the mill owners and they are becoming desperate in their attempts to weaken the spirit of the workers.

3 WORKERS DEAD IN TRAIN WRECK

8 Injured; Many Other Bodies Not Yet Found

FARMINGTON, N. H., July 22.—At least three workers were killed and eight others injured in a derailment of five cars of the Barnardi Show Carnival Company's 20-car train at Places Crossing, near here, just before noon today.

The identity of three bodies, taken from the wreckage and still at the scene of the accident late this afternoon, according to railroad officials, had not yet been established. The eight persons who were injured were removed to a hospital at Rochester, N. H.

Wrecking crews from Dover and Concord, N. H., were rushed to the scene of the derailment, a secluded spot three miles south of this town, as soon as news of the accident became known.

Railroad officials said there was a slight possibility that others might be found in the wreckage and that the crews were continuing their search, according to the latest reports.

PATRIOTIC—5 DIE OF LOCKJAW

ERIE, Pa., July 22 (UP).—John Diemert, 15, died in Hamot Hospital today of lockjaw resulting from a blank cartridge wound received on Independence Day. His death is the fifth in the last week from lockjaw all caused by Fourth of July explosives.

JEWISH LABOR TO AID PARTY DRIVE IN NEW YORK CITY

Pledges Support to Red Candidates

Forty-six Jewish labor and fraternal organizations of New York City at a conference called by the Jewish Bureau of the Workers (Communist) Party, voted unanimously to endorse the Workers Party ticket, and drew up a comprehensive program to rally the Jewish working masses for the Communist program and candidates in the coming elections.

Among the organizations represented were 18 branches of the Workmen's Circle, 5 branches of the Independent Workmen's Circle, 7 Workers' Clubs, and 13 parents' organizations of the Non-Partisan Workers' Schools. The Progressive Delicatessen Clerks' Union, Local 302, also sent delegates.

Communist Program Stressed.

The conference was addressed by Boris Lifshitz, secretary of the Jewish Bureau of the Workers Party, and candidate for the assembly in the 6th Assembly District, Manhattan. He spoke on the program of the Workers (Communist) Party exposing the role of the republican and democratic parties, emphasizing especially the degeneration of the socialist party and its open betrayal of the interests of the working class Rebecca Grecht, New York campaign manager and candidate for assembly in the 5th Assembly District Bronx, also spoke on the tasks of the left wing in the political campaign.

Campaign Committee Chosen.

The conference elected a campaign committee of 21 to coordinate the work of the various organizations and mobilize the greatest support possible for the campaign Every organization present pledged itself to work for a voluntary tax of $1 per member for the $100,000 election campaign fund of the Workers Party, and agreed to enlist its membership in the signature drive to put the Workers Party candidates on the ballot.

A resolution endorsing the Workers Party, and calling upon all Jewish workers to support the Communist election campaign, was adopted unanimously. The conference decided to call a second conference in the middle of August and to double the number of organziations represented.

Members of Section 7 of the Workers (Communist) Party are urged to report to the section campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Boro Park, every evening from 6:30 to 9:30, and on Saturdays, from 1 to 10 p. m. to participate in the election signature drive. On Sundays, the work for the day will begin at 10 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

Members of Sections 2 and 3 should also report to the Section 7 headquarters for the signature drive.

Bath Beach Youth Plan Hike to Alpine Woods

The Bath Beach unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League, together with all the other clubs in the vicinity, have arranged a hike to the Alpine Woods for next Sunday. The sports and social committees of the unit have prepared a varied athletic and musical program for the event.

The hikers will leave at the Dyckman St. Ferry at 10 a.m. All young people living in Bath Beach and vicinity have been invited to attend.

A CORRECTION.

The DAILY WORKER of July 9th carried an article that the partner of the plumbing firm of Adolph Grobstein of 930 E. 138th St., Bronx, is Mr. Benchey Davis, a member of Local 463, of the Plumbers' Union of Manhattan and the Bronx.

Now, you made some slight error The name of Mr. Grobstein's partner is Mr. Benchey Danis. Kindly correct the error. —CASSELL.

AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 184
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3468 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Workers Party Activities

International Branch 1.

International Branch 1 will hold an educational meeting on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at 60 St. Mark's Place, N. Y. All members are urged to be present.

• • •

Section 7.

Section 7 signature collecting drive. Every comrade of the section must report at campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn, every evening from 6:30; Saturday and Sunday, all day. Also comrades from Section 2 and 3 are to report to same headquarters for signature drive.

Subsection 3C Meeting.

All units of Subsection 3C will meet today at 101 West 27th St., at 6:30 p. m. Election of directors for the election campaign will take place. All members are urged to attend

Executive Subsection 3C.

The executive committee of Subsection 3C will hold a meeting on Wednesday at 101 W. 27th St. at 6:30 p. m.

• • •

Subsection 2A Functionaries.

A meeting of the executive functionaries of Subsection 2A will be held today at 101 W. 27th St. All comrades must attend the meeting.

Sections 2 & 3.

The speakers class arranged by Sections 2 and 3 will start tomorrow at 3 p. m at 101 W. 27th St. Ray Ragozin will be the instructor. All comrades who wish to join the class must report Tuesday.

McKinley Square Branch, Y. W. L.

The McKinley Square branch of the Young Workers (Communist) League will hold an open air meeting today at 8:30 p. m. on the corners of 174th St. and Vyze Ave., the Bronx. The subject of the meeting will be the present election campaign

• • •

Sub-Section 3E.

The enlarged executive committee of the Subsection 3E will meet today at 6:15 p. m. It is of great importance that the comrades be present on time

• • •

International Branch 1.

The International Branch No. 1 will hold its regular meeting today at 9:00 p. m., at 101 W. 27th St.

Unit 3E 1F.

A very important meeting will be held of Unit 3E 1F tomorrow at 6:15 p. m., at 101 W. 27th St. Every comrade must be present. The roll call will be taken.

Unit 3E 2F.

The Unit 3E 2F will have a very important meeting on Wednesday, July 25, at 6 15 P. M., at 101 W. 27th St All comrades must be present and on time. Roll call will be taken.

• • •

Campaign Discussion, B. 1, Sec. 5.

Everyone interested in the issues of the election campaign should attend the discussion at the headquarters of Branch 1, Section 5 tomorrow at 715 E. 138th St., at 8:00 p m. Prominent speakers will address the meeting. Discussion will follow from the floor.

• • •

Brooklyn Speakers Class.

The speakers class being held by Section 7 of the Workers (Communist) Party will hold its first session tomorrow at section headquarters, 764 40th St., Boro Park. The class starts at 8 p. m., but all who wish to attend regularly should be at the meeting room at 7:45 p. m. promptly.

Daily Worker Agents, Section 7.

A conference of unit and subsection Daily Worker agents will be held tomorrow at 6 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St.

• • •

Joint Industrial Conference of Sections 2 & 3.

A joint industrial conference of Sections 2 and 3 will be held tomorrow at 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All unit and subsection industrial organizers as well as representatives of the leading committees of the Party fractions of the I. L. G. W. U., Furriers, Millinery, Fancy Leather Goods and Office Workers must attend. A district representative will be present.

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

The regular meeting will take place Wednesday, July 25th, 8 p. m. at 350 E. 81st Street.

• • •

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

• • •

Brownsville Y. W. L.

An open air meeting will be held tonight at Hopkinson and Pitkin Ave. at 8:30. Speakers: Liphshits, Gudisman, Stove, Borts and Polchack.

• • •

An open air meeting tomorrow night at Hirkimer and Utica Ave. at 8 o'clock. Speakers: Kass, Mellman and Marr.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
19. SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

SMALL SUMS TO HELP RAISE FUND

Workers Donate to Communist Drive

Continued from Page One

tween the democratic and republican parties worth noticing. Raskob, the multimillionaire, supports Smith. Mellon, the multimillionaire, supports Hoover. Both millionaires will win. The working class will lose when Raskob and Mellon bring home the bacon.

The workers and poor farmers are asked to vote for Foster and Gitlow because those candidates represent the interests of the exploited masses. Those candidates run on a platform which calls for the organization of the workers and farmers for a struggle against capitalism and for the organization of a Workers' and Farmers' Government. While the two parties of capitalism insist on their devotion to the interests of big business, the Workers (Communist) Party appeals to the working class to support it in a war on the robber system which will free labor from the chains of wage slavery.

Send in your contributions at once to the Communist Campaign Fund Workers Party of America, 43 E. 125th St., New York City, Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer.

WEST COAST FUR UNION IN FIGHT

International Refuses Charter

The recently published appeal of the Boston Fur Workers Union, Local 30, to all International locals roquesting them to endorse the Boston union's demand on the general executive board for an inter-local conference met with a response from a Los Angeles local, it has been learned here.

A group of progressive workers in the fur industry in that city organized a furriers' local and were refused a charter by the International officers. The Los Angeles Fur Workers Union, as the group afterwards termed itself, replied to the Boston appeal will a full endorsement of the conference demand.

The proposed conference was asked for by the Boston local in order to have all the International locals take steps to end the struggle between the right wing Joint Council and the JJoint Board in New York, and stated that the inner struggle there was rapidly destroying the out-of-town locals.

The Los Angeles reply contains a brief history of the California workers' struggle to build a union there. It is signed by N. Henkin, president; H. Tsepon, treasurer; S. Sonnenshein, secretary, and T. Rutnik.

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Telephone Stagg 5356
Dr. J. C. HOFFER
Surgeon Dentist
287 South 5th St., near Marcy Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Proletarian prices for proletarians

РУССКИИ ЗУБНОИ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

CO-OPERATIVE
Dental Clinic
2700 Bronx Park East
Ap't C. I.
TEL. ESTABROOK 0568.
DR. I. STAMLER
Surgeon-Dentist
DIRECTOR
OPEN: Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs. from 10 to 8 P. M. Saturday and Sunday from 10 to 7 P. M.

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Iron, Bronze Workers Meet.

A quarterly meeting of the union, to be held on Tuesday evening, July to be held tomorrow evening at 7 EastEast 15th Street, at 8 p. m.

• • •

Washington Heights, Attention.

A literary and social club is being formed. All interested are invited to a meeting tonight at 8 p. m. at 100 Northern Ave., corner of 181st St., Apt. 33.

• • •

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

• • •

Volunteers For I. L. D.

Volunteers are wanted at the National Office of the International Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 402, anytime between 9.30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

• • •

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

DEWEY RECEIVED IN SOVIET UNION

Many Educators Attend Welcome Banquet

MOSCOW, July 22.—John Dewey and his American group of educators were officially received here by the Society for Cultural Relations, at a banquet attended by Lunarcharsky, minister of education; representatives of the foreign office, of the Amtorg and a number of leading Soviet professors.

Mms. Kameneff, president of the Society for Cultural Relations, welcomed the American professors and asked them to present the facts fairly to the American public. Assuring him that "our work is scarcely begun and that we know that there are many errors and shortcomings," she hoped that Professor Dewey and his companions would help in sweeping away the host of prejudices and lies that are extant about the Soviet Union.

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation, Automobile, Accident, Health.

"PEACE" MOVE AGAINST U.S.S.R. IS SUCCESSFUL

Powers Maintain Bloc Against Soviet

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The fourteen nations invited to participate in the "Kellogg "peace" conference, scheduled to be held in Paris towards the end of August, have all replied favorably, it was announced here today.

The governments are Germany, France, Italy, Poland, Belgium, Great Britain, the Irish Free State, Canada, India, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Czechoslovakia, and the Union of South Africa. The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics was not invited.

Changed Instrument.

The reply of Chamberlain is considered here as being the basis for an agreement in Paris. The original draft which was pledged to the "renunciation of war as a instrument of national policy," has been so altered by revisions and reservations that it is hardly recognizable.

English reservations insisted on the right of a government for unrestricted action in its imperialistic areas, and on the holding power of all previous treaties.

Aims To Confuse.

Informed circles here look upon the whole matter as an elaborate effort to do nothing and to confuse public opinion. If the Locarno treaties and the League of Nations remain unaltered, it is thought that the same military bloc against the U.S.S.R. will remain.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO CONFER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 22.—(UP).—A conference of Arkansas prohibitionists to meet here and take steps "to protect and preserve the 18th Amendment and all the state and federal laws enacted for its enforcement," has been called for July 19, it was announced today.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Workers Cooperative Clothiers, Inc.
WORKERS CO-OPERATIVE CLOTHIERS INC.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2222

Dividends Paid From the First of July
CONSUMERS FINANCE CORPORATION
Subsidiary of the United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
6% dividends are being paid from the first day of deposit on gold bonds in denominations of $100, $300, $500 and $1,000 secured by the second mortgage of the second block of houses in the Co-operative Workers' Colony.
Offices: 69—5th Ave., New York, N. Y.
TELEPHONE: ALGONQUIN 6900.
2700 Bronx Park East (Co-operative Workers' Colony)

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

National Biscuit Company Officials Try to Break Up Communist Election Meeting

BOSSES' ACTION ROUSES ANGER OF WORKERS

Clanging Locomotive Used By Firm

The officials of the National Biscuit Company, at 15th St. and Tenth Ave., tried yesterday to stop a noonday election meeting of Section 2 of the Workers (Communist) Party by shuttling a locomotive with bell ringing wildly back and forth across the tracks in front of the meeting.

After last week's meeting, the first one to be held in front of the National Biscuit Company, the bosses were prepared for this meeting. Knowing that workers would crowd around the platform of the Workers (Communist) Party as soon as it was set up, they tried to "kill" the effects of the meeting by drowning it out in noise. The workers who listened to the speakers resented the action of their bosses and told the chairman later that he knew it was all prearranged.

The speakers were Joseph Magliacano, who spoke in Italian; H. Gordon and Jack Brustein of the Young Workers League and Lawrence Ross, chairman of the meeting.

These meetings will be continued weekly. A committee is now scouting for a more suitable corner on which to conduct them.

YOUNG WORKERS EXPOSE YIPSELS

Basic Industries Are Well Represented

At a meeting arranged by the Young Workers (Communist) League of Brownsville in their headquarters there were more than 100 persons present. Among these was a large delegation of yipsels, about 25 in number. The reason for the turnout of the entire yipsel membership in Brownsville was the fact that Philip Frankfeld, acting district organizer of the League, had been announced to speak on the Fields case and the Young People's Socialist League.

Frankfeld said in part: "The Fields case, insofar as the League is concerned, is an expression of the petty-bourgeois degeneration of the yipsels. We are not interested in the Fields case for its own sake.

The young Communists, however, see in it a sign of the fact that the young socialist movement has certainly reached the bottom of the ladder, when members of its national committee can in any way be connected with such practices."

Frankfeld went on to say that the Communist youth league is not interested in helping in any shape or form the prosecution of Field. The Communist youth has nothing in common with any of the capitalist institutions, and it is the mission of the Communists to destroy them all. He pointed out many instances where the socialist party used the forces of the capitalist government against the revolutionary workers, both in this country and in other parts of the world. He showed that the fundamental differences between the young socialists and young Communists were irreconcilable.

When the floor was thrown open for questions and discussion it became evident that the Yipsels would attempt to monopolize the floor and would attempt to create disturbances and disorder. They were granted the floor and asked all the questions they wished, which were promptly answered. The floor was then given over to discussion. The yipsels objected to a ruling of the membership that there be a five minute limit for discussion. One after the other they spoke. League members answered them.

The arguments of the yipsels ranged from appeals "to the militant young Communists, that after all we are all brethren, we are all working for the same goal" to a vivid description of a hypothetical Communist in Prospect Park with "a pretty damsel." This by the educational director of the Brownsville circle, "Comrade" Plotkin. At the close of the discussion, when a large group of young Negro workers came into the hall, and when Frankfeld began to sum up, the yipsels marched out of the hall.

The League clarified its position on the Fields case. The League helped to show very concretely the methods and arguments to many young League members. The arguments of the yipsels were fully brought out and thoroly exposed. The League members in Brownsville, as a result of this discussion, became more determined than ever to go out and fight and expose the yipsels as a petty-bourgeois, student organization that is opposed to the interests of the toiling youth—and an enemy of the working class.

DIVORCES TOO EASY.

PARIS, July 22 (UP).—Judges representing the Paris courts, sitting as a superior council, decided today that there was sufficient evidence of laxity in granting divorces to Americans to justify punishment of those alleged to be concerned.

Bait for Suckers Trains for Champ Bout

Photo shows Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, training at Speculator, N. Y., training for his battle on Thursday with Tom Heeney, challenger for the heavyweight crown. The sparring partner is Harold Mays. He leads a dog's life.

PIECE WORK FOR MILLINERY BOSS

Imposed on Workers in Spite of Protests

The next organized step for imposing upon the members of the Cloth Hat, Cap and Millinery Workers Union the hated system of piece work was taken by the Zaritsky machine, in control of the millinery union recently, according to the workers of the shop of Teitler Bros., 648 Broadway.

This employer had asked the union officialdom to grant him the privilege of operating under the piece work system. Not daring to grant it outright, the union oficials advised the boss to take his demand for "arbitration" to Dr. Abelson, despite the non-existence of a collective agreement in the industry.

The workers immediately informed their officials that they object to piece work, but to na avail. When the case came for a ruling to Abelson, he recommended that the system be given a four weeks' trial. As a result of the ruing, and with the threat of incurring the employers' and officials' persecution, the workers were bludgeoned into accepting the so-called trial period.

• • •

Arrested and Fined

For conversing with a scab working in the shop of Rothstein and Hershson, 63 West 36th St., in an effort to get her to join the milliners' strike, Silvia Rosen was arrested yesterday and later fined $10 by Magistrate Sore! in Jefferson Market Court.

The arrested milliner was not a striker herself, but because of working nearby had tried to talk to those refusing to strike.

Police in the millinery manufacturing district are beginning to exhibit a brutality against the striking girls not yet seen since the struggle of the workers against their international officials and the employers first began many weeks ago. The workers are nevertheless determined to fight the attempt to destroy their Local 43 at all costs, and see the intensified police terror as proof of the desperate situation of the Zaritsky crew.

33 GIRL WORKERS INJURED IN FIRE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 20. (UP).—Thirty-three girls were injured, several seriously, when a fuse exploded in the Duerler candy factory here late today.

More than 100 girls, at work in the factory at the time of the explosion, were thrown into a panic and rushed for the doors. Fire broke out and burned several of the girls before they could make their escape from the building.

Quaker City Workers' Club to Stage Play

The West Philadelphia Workers' Club is arranging for a special performance at the Hedgerow Theatre to be held on Sat. July 28, 4 p. m "The Hairy Ape," by Eugene O'Neill will be staged. Not many have possibly heard much about this theatre nor does the capitalist press give it much publicity since the theatre does not follow in the steps of the rest to give to the public bourgeois propaganda stuff. Class-conscious workers, nevertheless, are beginning to pay more attention to it.

Tickets for this play may be obtained from The DAILY WORKER office in Philadelphia, 1214 Spring Garden St., and from every member of the club. Prices are very moderate. Following are the directions to reach the Hedgerow Theatre: Take the elevated car to 69th St., then change for the Media surface car Walk from Media to Rose Valley (only a few blocks.)

JAPS FIRE ON CHINESE TROOPS

Invaders Plan to Stay Ten Years

SHANGHAI, China, July 20.—Japanese imperialist troops fired on Chinese regulars near Tsinafu today according to a report which eminated from Japanese sources. The Japanese troops were sent to disarm Chinese troops who it was charged were infringing on the railway zone set up by the invading Japanese army

• • •

PEKING, July 20.—The Japanese Consul at Nanking notified the Japanese Legation of Peking today that the Chinese Nationalists had presented a note proclaiming the lapse of the Sino-Japanese Treaty. The note made clear that the Japanese therefore were subject to Chinese jurisdiction.

The Consul refused to receive the note, but agreed to unofficially transmit the terms to the Legation

The spokesman for the Legation said that Japan was willing to discuss treaty revision when the Nanking Nationalists showed an amicable spirit. He considered the present action to be discourteous.

He said that the Japanese intend to maintain the attitude that the treaty was not revised within the set period and therefore the treaty was automatically renewed for another term of ten years.

• • •

WASHINGTON, July 20.—In a statement tonight Representative Porter of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, urges early action by the United States in the negotiations of new treaties with China.

JEWISH LABOR TO AID PARTY DRIVE

Pledges Support to Red Candidates

Forty-six Jewish labor and fraternal organizations of New York City at a conference called by the Jewish Bureau of the Workerr (Communist) Party, voted unanimously to endorse the Workers Party ticket, and drew up a comprehensive program to rally the Jewish working masses for the Communist program and candidates in the coming elections.

Among the organizations represented were 18 branches of the Workmen's Circle, 5 branches of the Independent Workmen's Circle, 7 Workers' Clubs, and 13 parents' organizations of the Non-Partisan Workers' Schools. The Progressive Delicatessen Clerks' Union, Local 302, also sent delegates.

Communist Program Stressed.

The conference was addressed by Boris Lifshitz, secretary of the Jewish Bureau of the Workers Party, and candidate for the assembly in the 6th Assembly District, Manhattan. He spoke on the program of the Workers (Communist) Party exposing the role of the republican and democratic parties, emphasizing especially the degeneration of the socialist party and its open betrayal of the interests of the working class Rebecca Grecht, New York campaign manager and candidate for assembly in the 5th Assembly District Bronx, also spoke on the tasks of the left wing in the political campaign.

Campaign Committee Chosen.

The conference elected a campaign committee of 21 to coordinate the work of the various organizations and mobilize the greatest support possible for the campaign Every organization present pledged itself to work for a voluntary tax of $1 per member for the $100,000 election campaign fund of the Workers Party, and agreed to enlist its membership in the signature drive to put the Workers Party candidates on the ballot.

A resolution endorsing the Workers Party, and calling upon all Jewish workers to support the Communist election campaign, was adopted unanimously. The conference decided to call a second conference in the middle of August and to double the number of organziations represented.

TO FILM PARADE AT MINE AFFAIR ON AUGUST 5TH

N. Y. Workers to Show Solidarity

On August 5 Pleasant Bay Park will be the scene of a huge solidarity parade in which militant slogans and banners will be carried by New York workers as a demonstration of their solidarity with the striking miners and their families. This will be one feature of a highly diverse and entertaining program of events at the Miners Solidarity Fair, to be held at Pleasant Bay Park by the National Relief Miners Committee, 799 Broadway. Moving pictures of the solidarity parade will be taken, the pictures to be later added to the film taken in Pennsylvania and Ohio of the miners' strike, showing scenes of picketing, police clubbings and arrests.

Other features of the affair will be games and sports, mass choir singing and dancing in native costume, fads of many nationalities and fine dance music. A special platform for dancing is now under process of construction.

Tickets at the price of 35 cents are now on sale at the office of the National Miners Relief Committee, 799 Broadway, Room 237. Organizations are asked to purchase tickets in blocks of 100 or more, paying for them 20 cents each. Such organizations will then be enabled to not only help the cause of the striking miners by contributing to the relief funds, but contribute to its own treasury.

The program committee is now at work enlarging the program to be presented on August 5 to the solidarity demonstrators. A highly diverse list of entertaining events is promised.

BLAME CHURCH IN OBREGON DEATH

Quis of Assassin Nears End

MEXICO CITY, July 20 (UP).—Police investigation of the murder of General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, was near an end tonight and the assassin, young Jose De Leon Toral, a religious fanatic, was being questioned probably for the last time before his execution.

In addition to Toral, ten others have been arrested and are held for investigation in connection with the assassination, which it is officially charged was due to catholic clergy action.

Presumably the authorities hope by a public trial to definitely establish the fanatical character of Toral and his alleged connection with catholic clerical dissidents.

Chief of Police Rios Zertuche blamed the catholic church for the assassination.

"Police headquarters now is in a position to make public the fact that responsibility for the crime rests with the catholic clergy," his statement said.

200 CHILDREN ARE POISONED

WASHINGTON, July 20 (UP).—A holiday excursion down the Potomac River turned into tragedy today when about two hundred children, taken for a picnic by Central Union Mission, were stricken with food poisoning.

Fifty were hurried back on the first boat fifteen miles to Washington. A second boatload was due in later tonight. Meanwhile, a squad of physicians and nurses had been sent to the scene and had given first aid treatment to some 50 children left at the picnic grounds.

Up until 7 p. m. more than 35 had been treated at emergency hospital. Most of the cases were reported serious.

LABOR SPORTS UNION ACTIVE IN CHICAGO

(By Labor Sports Press Service.)

CHICAGO, July 20.—With 13 clubs as a basis on which to build, the Chicago district of the Labor Sports Union has been established on a firm basis. These 13 clubs have a total membership of about 450, active in every branch of sports. Dan Ellman, of the Larks Athletic Club, is the district secretary. The Chicago district is going ahead with plans for a local track and field meet, with the organization of a workers' soccer league and the sending of a large delegation of athletes to the National Labor Sports Union track and field meet in New York August 25-26.

Workers Calender

All announcements for this column must reach The DAILY WORKER several days before the event in question to make the announcement effective. Many announcements arrive at the office too late for publication owing to the additional time needed for the delivery of the paper.

• • •

League Picnic in Philadelphia.

A picnic, the proceeds of which will go to the Young Worker, will be held on Sunday, August 5, at the Burlhome Park. A splendid time is assured to all who come. Sports, games and songs will be had. Admission free. Direction: Take No. 50 car and go as far as 7500 north. A committee will wait for you there.

• • •

Philadelphia Workers Stage Play.

The West Philadelphia Workers Club is arranging for a special performance at the Hederow Theatre, to be held on Saturday, July 28, at 4 p. m. The "Hairy Ape," by Eugene O'Neill will be staged. Tickets for this play may be obtained from The DAILY WORKER office in Philadelphia, 1214 Spring Garden St., and from every member of the club. Prices are very moderate. Directions to Hedgerow Theatre: Take elevated car to 69th St., and change for the Media surface car. Walk from Media to Rose Valley (only a few blocks).

• • •

Philadelphia Miners' Relief.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Philadelphia Miners' Relief Conference here has arranged a picnic for July 29 at Maple Grove Park.

• • •

Philadelphia T. U. E. L. Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Trade Union Educational League of Philadelphia will hold a Grand Picnic at Maple Park Grove on August 4, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 2 a. m. the next morning. Sports, dancing, and musical programs will be added to the speeches of prominent members returned from the U. S. S. R. All are invited to attend.

• • •

Philadelphia Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Workers (Communist) Party here has arranged a picnic to be held August 19 at Burholme Park. Al workers are invited to attend.

• • •

Chicago Picnic.

CHICAGO, Ill.—A picnic for the benefit of the Northwestern Shop News of Chicago will be held on July 29, under the ausices of Section 6, District 8, of the Workers (Communist) Party. In order to reach the picnic grounds, take Grand Ave. car to Sayre (7100 block), walk north to 3100 block, then one block west to 3101 North Nordica.

• • •

Scranton Y. W. L. Picnic.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A picnic will be held under the auspices of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Scranton, Pa., at Runo Farm, Hollow Ave., on August 5, at 10 A. M. All young workers are welcome. A very interesting program has been arranged.

• • •

Chicago Sacco-Vanzetti Meet.

CHICAGO, Ill.—All workers here are expected to come to the Sacco-Vanzetti memorial meeting on August 22, 8 P. M., at Temple Hall, Van Buren and Marshfield. The speakers will be Ralph Chaplin, M. Schulman, Guido Serio and others. A musical program has been prepared.

BOSSES VIOLATE CHILD LABOR LAW

Over 4,000 Children Illegally Employed

ALBANY, N. Y., July 22.—More than 4,000 children were illegally employed in New York State during the last year, according to figures that have just been released by the state Labor Department.

Of the total number, 1,168 were under 14 years of age; 2,055 were working without certificates of employment; 237 were working illegal hours, and 407 were working illegal hours and had no certificates. In 1917 there were 606 children in tenements employed in home work.

2 Coast Guardsmen Drown; Boat Is Sunk

CAPE MAY, N. J., July 20 (UP)—Two coast guardsmen were drowned and five others were rescued today when coast guard patrol boat No. 113 was rammed and sunk by the freighter Culbertson near the entrance to Delaware Bay. The accident occurred in a dense fog.

The dead: John F. Haines, machinist's mate, of Pleasantville, N J., and De Willt T. Hale, machinist's mate, of Washington, Ga.

TURKEY TURNS WEST

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 19.—The Turkish government, to compete with its military rivals and westernize itself at least in form, has decided to change the name "Pasha," which was the highest official title, to "General."

Mustapha Kemal Pasha will now be known as General Ghazi Mustapha Kemal.

BIG ELECTION DRIVE PLANNED IN PHILADELPHIA

Active in Drive for $100,000

In a circular letter to all local unions, workers fraternal, educational, social and sports organizations of Philadelphia, inviting them to send delegates to an enlarged "Foster and Gitlow Campaign Committee," the Workers (Communist) Party of District Three, with headquarters in the Quaker City, issued a statement calling attention to the chief issues that confront the American working class today and the program drawn up by the Workers (Communist) Party to meet them.

The statement declares that the 1928 presidential elections afford the workers an opportunity to manifest their resentment and demonstrate their determination to fight against the capitalist class policies of the government under the direction and domination of the big business interests, the bankers, manufacturers, and public utility corporations, and the misery and suffering of the workers and poor farmers.

Unemployment.

The growth of unemployment—five million workers now being totally unemployed and many millions on part time—finds the republican party boasting about "prosperity" and turning a blind eye on the unemployed. And the democratic party does not even promise to do more than "investigate" the cause of unemployment.

The document stresses the active preparations now being made by the great imperialist powers—particularly the rivals, Great Britain and the United States—for another orgy of imperialist butchery in which millions of workers and poor farmers will be slaughtered.

It declares that the ruling class of this country, believing that the workers are incapable of further resistance, are becoming more arrogant in the exploitation and oppression of the masses and will not hesitate to consign millions of proletarian lives to the inferno of another war.

Demands.

Pointing out that it is the duty of every working-class organization to help mobilize the workers for their defense, the statement urges a mass fight for government unemployment and relief insurance, a five-day, forty-hour work-week, for the right to organize into a bona-fide union and the right to strike, for the enforcement and extension of social legislation, such as old-age and maternity pensions, workmens compensation, child labor, etc., for abolition of all discrimination against Negro and foreign-born workers, for the recognition and defense of the first workers' republic, the Soviet Union, and for a workers and farmers government in the United States.

"The Workers (Communist) Party is the only party that fights militantly and uncompromisingly for these and all other demands and needs of the working class," the statement continues. "The standard-bearers of the Workers (Communist) Party have proven through long years of courageous, militant struggle and by loyal service to the cause of the working class that they are worthy spokesmen of the working class. The candidates of the Workers (Communist) Party are in fact the candidates of the entire working class.

Meeting August 3.

"We consider it the duty of every loyal working-class organization to help rally the support of the greatest possible number of workers for the platform and candidates of the working class in this presidential campaign."

The first meeting of the enlarged "Foster-Gitlow Campaign Committee" will be held Friday, August 3, in the local headquarters of the Workers (Communist) Party, 1214 Spring Garden St.

The Philadelphia comrades are active in the Communist campaign fund drive for $100,000, of which Alexander Trachtenberg, with headquarters at 43 East 125th St., New York City, is treasurer. All contributions should be thus addressed.

Arnold Workers Hold Mine Relief Meeting

ARNOLD, Pa., July 22.—The National Miners Relief Committee of New Kensington and the International Labor Defense branch of Arnold held a joint conference meeting here recently to prepare for an intensive drive for relief for the starving miners. No definite plans for relief work were adopted, and it was decided to hold another joint meeting in a few days.

The International Labor Defense branch elected eleven members to represent them on the joint committee.

SOVIET AVIATOR IN NEW REPORT

Chuknovsky Says 3 on Ice Flow

KNGS BAY, July 20 (UP).—The Russian aviator, Chukhnovsky, who first sighted the Polar explorers in the Malmgren walking party, said today he was convinced there were three men in the group at that time and expressed surprise that only two had been rescued.

Chukhnovsky, who was rescued by the Russian icebreaker Krassin after his plane was forced down when returning from the rescue trip, said there was a possibility of a mistake in his observations, but that pictures taken at the time would reveal the situation.

Two members of the wrecked Italia's crew, Captain Filippo Zappi and Captain Alberto Mariano, have been rescued by the Krassin. They reported Dr. Finn Malmgren had been left on the ice in a dying condition.

"We were convinced we saw three persons," Chukhnovsky said. The aviator was accompanied by three aides. "The first was standing erect, the second was tottering and the third man was stretched on the ice.

"All three were tied together by ropes to prevent falling from the tiny icefloe, which was only 20 meters square and was surrounded by open water. We were greatly surprised to learn that only two men were rescued.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 22 (UP).—Corporal L. W. Bryant and Private E. D. Schutt of the marine corps were killed yesterday when their plane crashed near here.

DRESSMAKERS ENDORSE MINE RELIEF MEET

Conference to be Held on Thursday

At a meeting held at the Stuyvesant Casino Thursday evening the members of Local 22, International Ladies Garment Union endorsed the Shop Delegates Conference for Miners Relief, to be held at Bryant Hall at 6 p. m. on Thursday, July 26.

S. Zimmerman, chairman of the meeting, spoke for ten minutes on the extreme importance of the miners' struggle to needleworkers in New York and pointed out that the most effective weapon in the hands of the striking miners and their families is food.

Every member present received a conference call, addressed to all shop and factory workers who are employed between 14th and 39th Sts., urging them to elect delegates to the Miners Relief Conference of July 26. Individual workers employed in shops where for some reason it is impossible to elect delegates are urged to attend the conference as individual representatives of their shops.

The conference, which has already been endorsed by furriers, cloakmakers and dressmakers, is expected to mobilize hundreds of workers who see in the miners' strike and the disintegration of the miners' union a direct menace to their own standards of living and organization.

CHICAGO
PLAYHOUSE
410 So. Michigan Blvd
Children Under 16—25c ALL DAY
Performance continuous—noon to midnight
Week Beginning Sunday, JULY 22
First Time At Popular Prices!
ART BRAND Productions Presents
"The Raider Emden"
THRILLING EXPLOITS OF THE GERMAN TERROR OF THE SEAS!
Added Attraction DARK ANGEL With Ronald Colman & Vilma Banky
From JULY 29th to AUGUST 5th
The "Tragedy of the Unborn"
The Bear's Wedding, by Lunacharsky

DETROIT
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1967 CEDAR RIVER AVE.
SARA VICTOR, Mgr.
PHONE: RANDOLPH 9309
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.

Los Angeles, Calif.
DR. M. KOMPANIEZ
DENTIST
1630½ Brooklyn Ave., Cor. Mott St.
Open Evenings Till 9 P. M.
Phone: Angelus 9067

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1214 SPRING GARDEN ST.
A. SOKOLOV, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: POPLAR 0837

SCHUETZEN PARK
83rd and Tinicum Ave.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Beautiful nature spot. Splendid picnic ground with a dance hall of 1,000 capacity. Will accommodate any labor organization.
DIRECTIONS: Take trolley car south-bound to Moyamensing Ave. then Southwestern car going westward. Also Subway line No. 37.

CAMP HULIET
(Over the Delaware)
LUMBERVILLE, PA.
JUST THE PLACE FOR A WORKER'S VACATION.
Directions—By Bus or Trolley to Doylestown and then by Camp Bus to the Camp.
By Train—To Raven Rock, N. J., on the Penna R. R.
Form New York—By Train to Raven Rock, N. J.
For further information and registration apply to:
Workers' Co-operative Assn.
317 So. 5th St. PHILA, PA.

Philadelphia, Pa.
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISER
MARKET RESTAURANT
1228 Spring Garden St.
DELICIOUS FOOD.
Have Your Dinner and Supper With Us—Telehone Poplar 4971

CAPITAL BEVERAGE COMPANY
Will take care of your entertainments and supply.
SODA WATER AND BEER
2434 WEST YORK ST.
Telephone: Columbia 6255.

PHILADELPHIA
The work we make is good. Organisations' work—our speciality.
Spruce Printing Co.
153 N. SEVENTH ST., PHILA., PA.
Bell—Market 6383
Keystone—Main 7040.
Union Printers.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.
Fine Musical Program
SUNDAY NIGHT, JULY 29th
A Hunger Banquet
WILL BE HELD AT THE COOPERATIVE CENTER
2706 BROOKLYN AVE.
ADMISSION, 10c
All Proceeds to the National Miners' Relief Committee
611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Red Cartoons 1928
Sixty-four pages of the choice work of the best proletarian artists in America, including:
FRED ELLIS, M. BECKER, HAY BALES, WM. GROPPER, JACOB BURCK, K. A. SUVANTO, HUGO GELLERT, DON BROWN, WM. SIEGEL
Introduction by Robert Minor
FREE WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION
($6.00) to the Daily Worker
THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First St., New York, N. Y.
RATES
$6.00 a year
[illegible] 6 months
[illegible] 3 months
Enclosed $........... for .... sub to the Daily Worker. Send me the premium "Red Cartoons of 1928" (only with a year's sub).
NAME ....
STREET ....
CITY .... STATE ....

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor.........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Long Live New Miners' Union

From a once powerful organization, the hopeless wreck beyond resurrection—this is the hopeless wreck beyond resurrection—ths is the history of the United Mine Workers' Union during the period in which John L. Lewis held the reins of power.

The destruction of the union is the result of a policy so treasonable in character as hardly to have been matched in the records of the labor lieutenants of American capitalism.

The last blow of Lewis is a death thrust aimed at the whole organized section of the American working class.

Events of the past show plainly that the decision disclosed last Wednesday by the high salaried bureaucracy to abandon the Jacksonville scale and forever to give up all pretenses of a national agreement was a last deliberate act in a cold-blooded, treasonable conspiracy with the union smashing operators. Even these operators, in their own journal, "The Coal Age," say so. In the March issue we find the following bold admission of that fact. Speaking of the views of "certain of the best informed operators," it says:

> ". . . In the event of the failure of the Senatorial investigation to benefit the union's position it is expected that the miners' officials will permit the next move to come from the rank and file of the Illinois membership. . . ."
>
> "It is considered the only way out for the union leaders. If the miners demand employment a conference of the policy committee of the Mine Workers' Union can be called and informed that the miners of Illinois wish a reduction. Such a move would eliminate the stigma of the 'no backward step' of the union officials, it is declared."

While this language is sufficiently adroit to fool the "public," to make them believe that the rank and file and not the officals want a wage cut, the meaning of this statement is nevertheless unmistakable.

Yet deeds speak louder than words. It is not necessary to recite the whole history of the Lewis betrayal. The prof is conclusive in his strike-breaking during the last fifteen months.

On April 1, last year, the operators, following closely the policy of American capitalism, got ready to administer the death blow to the United Mine Workers. The strike began. The part that their flunkeys, the Lewis machine had to play took form simultaneously. On the [illegible]th of March, the eve of the strike, the policy committee authorized the officers of the various districts to enter into negotiations for separate district agreements. To a union functioning in an industry of such national scope as the coal industry the separate agreement policy means inevitable destruction. It was a direct striking-breaking act.

The operators had picked Pennsylvania and Ohio as the first battling ground. There they had their coal and iron police, their grip on the local and state governmental apparatus was firm. Hell again broke loose in Pennsylvania while Lewis performed his dastardly sell-out and left the union to be crushed section by section. But this also gave new life to the great militant movement finally to do away with the traitors.

The abandonment of the Jacksonville scale will not create more employment for the coal miners. It holds nothing in store but a continuous reduction of wages, a slashing of wages to the very bone, a continuous growth of misery and privation. While separate agreements may be signed in the name of the now decrepit United Mine Workers' of America they will at best be company union agreements including all the ugly features of the speed-up system of exploitation and the abandonment of all rights of the miners.

Yet the militant traditions of the past still live among the coal miners. While the Lewis bureaucracy tries to cover up its crimes the rank and file leadership, represented by the National Miners' Convention Arrangements Committee, makes the truth ring throughout the fields. The rank and file leaders show that Lewis and his henchmen have completed their treacherous work, that the Pennsylvania and Ohio strike is now definitely lost, the union is destroyed. They call upon all the local unions to stop maintaining the Lewis parasites with any further dues payments and to join in with the new Miners' Union.

Undoubtedly this situation will be a test of courage to the coal miners of Pennsylvania and Ohio, who have struggled so valiantly for fifteen months. They are now compelled by Lewis' treason to return to work under "open-shop" conditions and terms arbitrarily dictated.

Yet we are confident these heroic workers will continue the struggle in its changed form.

The New Miners' Union holds out for men of courage, a splendid hope. Throwing their whole energy, courage and resourcefulness into building the new union, the mine workers will have no cause for despondency. To this all coal miners must now bend their efforts. This is of equal importance to the miners in the anthracite and bituminous fields. It deserves and must receive the support of the whole American working class.

What the coal miners are experiencng is—the class struggle. This latest experience of the breaking of a strike and the destruction of a great trade union by the capitalists acting through the "union" officials, is a bitter lesson in the methods of the oppressors in ruling over the oppressed. Ths struggle will continue, with a new and more powerful union, with a real proletarian leadership and with a militant policy. The rank and file coal miners face battles ahead, but look to the future with confidence.

"Their Negroes"

> "The Asheville conference, while not large in numbers, is bulging with important personalities in the Methodist and Baptist organizations and with Dry workers. Its consequences may be serious. But no more serious consequence—in the Southern point of view—could come than enfranchising the Negroes, for in many Southern States they hold the balance of power. Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, the Carolinas, Texas and Virginia—ten great states—would face a condition far more momentous than prohibition if the Dry split should bring their Negroes to the polls.
>
> "For this reason anti-democratic movements in the South have always failed, and this is the chief bar to the effectiveness of the conference engineered by Bishop Cannon and the Rev. Dr. Barton. How close to the surface the menace lies is shown by the fact that the conference was just gathering at Asheville when the Negro question instantly arose."

The above golden words from our esteemed contemporary, the New York Times, throw a peculiarly interesting light on the attitude of the capitalist class of the United States toward the enslaved Negro masses in the South and toward all questions of "democracy" and "constitutional rights" when it comes to any portion of the exploited masses that slave to make the capitalists rich.

We say the attitude of the capitalist class, North and South. For the fact is that the ruling class located in the Northern states is as much responsible for the disenfranchisement of the Negro workers and farmers of the South as is the Southern ruling class. It is by the action of the capitalist class as a whole, through the capitalist federal government, senate, house of representatives, president and judiciary—republican and democratic parties alike—that the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution are nullified so as to rob the Negro of the South of all civil rights.

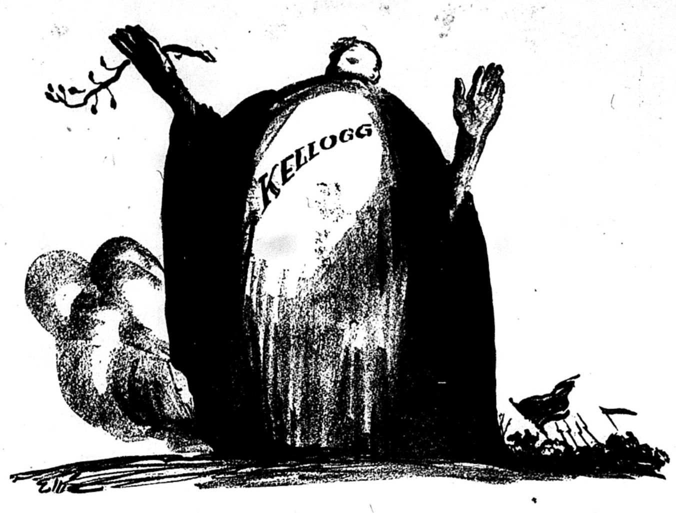
The Asheville conference of holy men, opposed to anti-prohibition candidate of the classic "Southern" political party, are mortally fearful of the prospect of any controversy that might result in civil rights for the masses of Enslaved Negro laborers and tenant farmers on whose labor these holy men and their parishioners grow fat.

These parasites would not only give up 39 articles of faith, but would swallow the saloon, liquid contents, bar-room pictures and all, rather than give one inch of freedom.

Civil rights for the Negro of the North and South, full political and social equality, will come to the Negro masses only through the program of the Workers (Communist) Party.

"A CLOAK FOR ARMIES"

By Fred Ellis



Communists Lead Against War

Workers Must Fight to End the Threatened Attack on U. S. S. R.

AFTER the VIII Plenum of the Executive Committee of the Communist International, at which the question of war was dealt with thoroughly and which must therefore be looked upon as one of the most important stages of the anti-war work of the Comintern, several successful campaigns were conducted against war and militarism. The spontaneous movement of the reservists in France in the summer of 1927 was successful. The slogan of the Party, "Transformation of the imperialist reservist maneuvers into anti-militarist reservist maneuvers" was turned into reality. The reserve maneuvers which were to have been part of the new military law suffered a complete fiasco because they transformed themselves into a mighty anti-imperialist and anti-militarist demonstration. This year the French government has dropped the reservist maneuvers under the pretext of "bad weather" which may be looked upon as a direct result of the reservists' demonstrations. It must be admitted, however, that the campaign was very weakly prepared organizationally by the French Party and not taken hold of sufficiently.

Work of American Party.

The American Party also succeeded in developing demonstrations in connection with the transport of American troops to Nicaragua and China. Although these demonstrations were not particularly big with respect to the number of participants and while they did not lead to any immediate results (e. g., prevention of the transports) they are nevertheless a sign of the increased activity of the American Party.

The Swedish Party had initiated a large-scale "naval campaign" already prior to the VIII Plenum and this was carried further after the Plenum. The impetus to this campaign, which became very successful and which contributed considerably to the big growth of the popularity of the Party, was given by the intensified war preparations of the Swedish bourgeoisie as expressed in a new naval program. According to this program, in the formulation of which representatives of the Swedish Social Democratic Party took an active part, the Swedish fleet was to be strengthened considerably in agreement with Great Britain. On the part of the Communist Party of Sweden, this program was branded as a preparation for war against the Soviet Union and in this connection the role of the Swedish Social-Democracy was especially emphasized. A dramatic review "Armored Cruiser 'Per Albin'," named after the former war minister of the Social-Democratic government, Per Albin Hanson, who had specially distinguished himself by his active collaboration in the war preparations of the Swedish bourgeoisie, proved a peculiar and especially successful means in this anti-war campaign.

In the Baltic countries, the Communist Party energetically championed the acceptance of the proposals of the Soviet Union for a guarantee pact. In a thorough and convincing manner the Finnish Party exposed the role of the Social-Democratic government which was overthrown in December of last year, as the henchman of British imperialism. The Lithuanian Party at the end of January 1927 and beginning of 1928, when Pilsudski prepared to occupy Lithuania, resolutely called upon the masses for struggle against Polish imperialism and for the overthrow of the fascist dictatorship in Lithuania.

Although in addition to the above-mentioned successes and good examples, some others might be listed, we must take good care not to exaggerate their importance. Among the great masses of workers and peasants there still prevails much unclearness and illusion. Thus, for example, in Germany, a questionnaire circulated in a number of large factories showed that a large part of the workers, even into the ranks of the Communists, are in favor of a refusal of military service in case of war, as advocated by the Social-Democratic "conscientious objectors." Another section does not believe there can be a war and is entirely unconcerned. The number of those who realize the necessity of a revolutionary combatting of war is relatively small.

Underestimate of War Danger.

THE greatest deficiency in our anti-war work in many cases is an abstract and altogether schematic attitude towards the question of war. This shortcoming is expressed primarily in the incapability of correctly appraising practical phenomena and concrete forms of war preparations, and of taking a stand on concrete questions of war and military policy. They are quick to make general charges regarding the war preparations of capitalist countries against the Soviet Union, without proving these charges on the basis of concrete facts; this does not carry conviction with the masses who feel it to be exaggeration, nervousness, and false alarm, thus destroying the credibility of our anti-war propaganda.

Again, consistent measures in preparation of war are not recognized in time, or overlooked entirely and given no attention, sometimes there is no reaction whatever (or it comes altogether belatedly) to the "anti-militarist" swindles of the Social-Democrats which very often find vigorous response among the masses. Sometimes concrete military-political problems involving practical questions are evaded with general doctrinaire phrases, decision on practical questions is replaced by a repetition of abstract propaganda slogans.

There were many examples of insufficiently concrete and consequently unconvincing "exposure" of war preparations. It can by no means be maintained, however, that the war danger is being exaggerated; on the contrary, the unproven charges which often give the impression of "shouting for to convince ourselves" go hand in hand with the under-estimation of the war danger, with the failure to recognize concrete facts and forms of war preparations.

The French comrades have admitted that they did not immediately appraise correctly the fact of the recall of Rakovsky, but only realized later that this represented a determined step in the enrollment of France in the general anti-Soviet front with Great Britain, and consequently a stage in the war preparations against the Soviet Union.

Likewise, in the theses of a C. C Plenum of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia, it was admitted that the war danger "was not even kept in mind sufficiently when it was directly sharpened" (i. e., during the Italian-Yuogslavic conflict.).

(To Be Continued.)

TWO AIRMEN HURT.

CROTON, Conn., July 22 (UP).—Two aviators were injured today when three airplanes—one of them piloted by Governor John H. Trumbull of Connecticut—attempted to land together at Trumbull Field during national guard manoeuvers.

"Peaceful" Manifestations of American Imperialism

By I. AMTER.

Bomb in Hand, Wall Street Government Talks Piously of "Ending War"

Nicaragua is in another quandary. The conservative party is having difficulty in selecting its presidential candidate. It was so easy the last time—American bankers "assisted" them. This time, the feat cannot be repeated in the same form—and it is not necessary.

It is known to everybody that not only American marines and warships are in Nicaragua, but there is also an American commission to supervise and control the elections.

The head of the American commission has been asked to break the deadlock in the conservative party, which means that this American major will select the future president of Nicaragua. You can be sure he will not be opposed to American interests. On the contrary, he will be selected on the basis of his being favorable and subservient to the interests of American bankers.

Simple—very simple. Why go to the trouble of putting in a questionable man. Select the proper man, who knows what he is there for, and then there will be peace. American marines are in Nicaragua at the "request of the Nicaraguan government"—to be sure. And American marines will remain in Nicaragua "at the request of the new president" selected by an American major.

Just like in the United States: Mellon looked over the field; he kept the fellows guessing a little while, and then he decided that Hoover is to be the next president of the United States. Of course, the "people" will have the privilege and right of voting for him—just as they do in Nicaragua. But both of us — American and Nicaraguan workers and farmers—will get the presidents that American finance gives us.

More "Peaceful" Feats.

And some more "peaceful" feats of American imperialism. The Bolivian and Peruvian governments have decided officially to celebrate the Fourth of July. How nice of them—what perfect faith they have. "Our" Fourth of July is "their" Fourth of July. The only trouble is that the Fourth of July, 1776, is being used to crush the Peruvian and Bolivian people, and makes them the tools of American imperialism.

And even further abroad: The Hungarian government has also decided to celebrate the Fourth of July. Strange—and yet not strange. The Hungarian government has borrowed and wishes to borrow many hundreds of millions of dollars from American bankers.

This Fourth of July was the bloody Fourth of American imperialisms, with marines in all parts of the world, with the largest budget that the country has ever known—more than $800,000,000; with 15,000 commercial airplanes being built which can be converted into bombing planes in 24 to 48 hours; with CMTCs and ROTCs and military training in the schools and colleges pushed to the limit; with unlimited preparation of the minds of the American workers through the movies by means of innumerable war films, etc., with war propaganda in all forms.

And at the same time, Kellogg's "treaty of peace"—with its endless reservations—the Monroe Doctrine for the U. S.; a Monroe Doctrine for England (protection of the Suez Canal, right to exploit Egypt, India, Palestine, etc., a Monroe Doctrine for France (right to crush Indo-China, Morrocco, etc.); a Monroe Doctrine for Italy (right to rob and grind down Tripoli); a Monroe Doctrine for Japan (right to exploit Korea, Manchuria, etc.).

Peace With Bombs.

Peace—and endless preparations for war. While Kellogg, Briand, Stresemann, Mussolini, Baldwin talk peace, President Doumergue of France blurts out the truth:

"Our only ambition is to maintain peace. (How familiar this sounds. They all say it. I. A.) Construction of this fleet was indispensable to our national dignity and safety. (Sounds like the American war fiends. I. A.) We will continue methodically to construct ships."

So will they all. They are all "peaceful"—but the other fellow is the most treacherous and ferocious. Central and South America belong to "us"; Egypt, India and perhaps China to England; the other imperialists claim theirs. But the unruly natives and peoples of these colonies don't like the whole lot of them.

And finally who is to have China? Who gave the U. S. the sole right to exploit Central and South America? Who said so? American guns said and will say so. Yes, we want peace, but "our dignity and safety" demand a big navy and air fleet.

"Peaceful" they call it. It is the sheerest hypocrisy, and is intended to blind and disarm the workers. The conference for adopting the non-war pact will be held in December—and then the whole world will see what intelligent men see and know today, viz., that we are steering fast into a world war with the most devastating consequences. "Our" puppets will rule in South and Central American states, so that "we" will be free to fight Great Britain or Japan—or all of us fight the Soviet Union.

Workers Call the Bluff.

Don't be so sure, Uncle Sam. The workers and peasants of South and Central America are not your subservient tools. All the American workers will not obey your will. The Communist Party and the Communist International are here—and you will have to face also the revolutionary workers.

But at any rate, stop your twaddle about peace. "Your" candidate in Nicaragua, the joint celebrations in Peru and Bolivia mean nothing. Doumergue talked too much, your military budget speaks too loud, your 15,000 commercial airplanes fool nobody.

You are out for war—not peace—and all your conferences are sham.

Told You So

AL SMITH is no respector of the language that is supposed to be used in the vicinity of the Tammany headquarters on Park Ave. When asked to pose in the act of laying a brick the other day by a group of photographers, he refused and uttered that vulgar expression "boloney." It's a toss-up whether Al will get more votes out of "boloney" than he would by posing as a bricklayer. Now that Tammany has adopted General Motors, or vice versa, perhaps the head of the ticket does not want to insist so much on his early association with fish peddlers and bricklayers.

• • •

REFERENCE was made recently in this column to the division in the ranks of the British Labor Party, which under MacDonald has completely lost its proletarian character and is but the servile tool of British imperialism. Papers like the Forward of Glasgow, once, and not so long ago, looked upon as the expression of the radical wing of the Scottish I. L. P., is strongly opposed to Maxton, chairman of the I. L. P.; to Arthur Cook, secretary of the British Miners Federation, and to John Wheatley, minister of health in the MacDonald government, who favor a conference of all left wing elements, including the Communists, to fight the right wing leadership of the Labor Party.

• • •

GEORGE LANSBURG, until recently regarded a radical by those that did not understand that he was simply a Christian preacher in the wrong pulpit, is lined up with MacDonald. That things are moving leftward in Great Britain is proven by the vote cast at the annual conference of the South Wales Miners Federation in favor of the affiliation of the Communist Party with the Labor Party.

• • •

WHILE this is taking place in England the leaders of the American Federation of Labor prattle the old gag about non-partisan political action. The socialists continue to beef about capitalist corruption and hardly anything else, as if they regarded their function in society as political scavengers, a party ordained by the capitalist god to fumigate the capitalist stables. It makes no attempt to organize the workers, either for their immediate tasks or their future emancipation. It's out to get a big vote for Doctor Thomas.

• • •

THE Workers (Communist) Party, with Foster and Gitlow, two proletarian revolutionary leaders at the head of its ticket, participates in the textile strike in New Bedford as well as in the coal strike in Pennsylvania and Ohio, in anti-imperialist demonstrations against the occupation of Nicaragua and in every other aspect of the class struggle. It is the duty of every worker to support the Communist Party in this campaign and to contribute to the Communist Campaign Fund, of which Alexander Trachtenberg is treasurer, with headquarters at 43 E. 125th St., New York City.

• • •

HERBERT HOOVER has been doing a lot of thinking over his election campaign and the strain is showing its effect. Calvin Coolidge who is recuperating at a summer resort after several years of service to American imperialism warns Herbert to take care of himself; that he is too useful a fellow to kill himself thinking in this hot weather. Hoover, apologetically blamed the hot weather and the stress of transacting immediate tasks for his appearance. This perspiring columnist would think that if he had a special train and an electric fan, enough cold borscht and sour cream and traveling over the Rocky Mountains, he would snap his fingers at Old Sol.

• • •

"EIGHT more nations answer Kellogg" a headline reads. This means that the cabinets of so many powers have accepted the fake anti-war treaty submitted to the world by secretary of state, Kellogg. Workers who understand the rivalries between imperialist powers and who realize the inevitablity of war as long as this economic system exists will laugh this off. There are other gullible workers however who will take it seriously. But it's a fake, designed to fool the imperialist rivals of the United States, particularly Great Britain, and to lull the workingclass of all countries into a sense of false security from the dangers of imperialist war.

Tom O'Flaherty

Mass Production Cheats Children

WASHINGTON, July 22 (FP.)—When huge industrial plants are built, for the sake of modern mass-production, children as well as adults are cheated of easy access to playground, says a report on county and municipal park systems which appears in the July issue of the Monthly Labor Review of the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Too many people have been drawn into small areas, in order that they may work in the big plants. Cities and counties, assisted in some cases by employers, have in general recognized the danger in this crowding, and have bought large tracts for park purposes. But they have not caught up with the need. Children are victims of the mass-production factory even when they never enter its gates.

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

FINAL CITY EDITION

Vol. V., No. 174.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

POLICE ATTACK TEXTILE STRIKERS

Kellogg Calls Parley to Aid China Counter-Revolution

RESCUED FASCIST WORE CLOTHING OF MALMGREN

Krassin Heroes to Visit United States

MOSCOW, July 23 (UP).—Foreign Minister Tchitcherin, in a letter to the Russian-American Chamber of Commerce of New York, today accepted its invitation for Aviator Chukhnovsky and Prof. Samoilovich, of the rescue ice-breaker Krassin, to visit the United States. The two rescuers, Tchitcherin said, would go as soon as rescue work was completed.

• • •

MOSCOW, July 23.—Capt. Filippo Zappi, one of the survivors of

Continued on Page Five

'RED ESSEX' GETS A BIG WELCOME

Burke and Pearlman Speak to Hundreds

By DONALD BURKE.
(Special to the Daily Worker)

ALBANY, July 23.—One of the outstanding lessons we have learned from the tour of the "Red Essex" is the ridiculousness and at the same time the viciousness of the election laws of New York State.

If a tiny county (like Greene or Putnam County) should decide to oppose the placing of the Workers (Communist) Party on the ballot, it could do so. Just as many petitioners are needed for these counties as for Albany County or New York County.

This fact struck us most forcibly when we spent three days going back and forth through the Catskill Mountains, seeking voters who could be classed as proletarians. The few farmers to be found would not sign.

One incident will illustrate their extreme backwardness. When reminded of the farmer demonstra-

Continued on Page Five

WOMEN TO TALK ON WAR DANGER

Many Expected at Big Federation Meeting

The New York Working Women's Federation, which has as one of its planks the fight against the war danger, has arranged a delegate conference for August 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the Labor Temple, 14th St. and 2nd Ave., in the auditorium. At this conference the causes of war and what working women can do to fight the war danger will be discussed by prominent women of the labor movement.

Stress War Danger

In a statement sent out to women workers of New York the federation stressed the growing danger of imperialist war. The statement reads, in part, as follows:

"Although our memories are still fresh with the horrors of 1914, the imperialists of the world, and particularly the imperialists of the United States, are preparing feverishly for a new world slaughter. Appropriations, battleships, artillery and instruments of destruction have reached an unheard of proportion. Millions are being spent for the production of huge quantities of poison gas and airplanes. Draft laws are being prepared in order to chain the entire working population to the military machine in time of war. Through the institution of military training in the schools, the establishment of citizens' training camps, the course of capitalist mili-

Continued on Page Five

MORE PHILLIPS WEALTH FOUND

$800,000 Was Hidden By Sewer Grafter

Existence of another cache, where $800,000 of the missing millions of John M. Phillips, sewer pipe grafter, have ben disposed of, was revealed for the first time yesterday. In the newest disclosures, the late sewer pipe king and power behind the corrupt Tammany administration in Queens is involved as the alleged backer of a chain of gambling houses.

Involved with him in the charges are a prominent contractor, who is alleged to have shared with Phillips profits of the Queens sewer contracts, and a gambler well known among "fashionable circles."

Workers Give Greetings To Steel Helmets

PIRMASENS, Germany, July 23—Steel Helmets who attempted to arouse militant shoe workers in the factories during a parade here, succeeded beyond their wildest intentions with the result that a score or more of the fascists are in hospitals suffering from minor injuries. A smaller number of the shoe workers were also injured, tho most of them declined hospital assistance.

The shoe workers, many of them Communists, were openly tantalized by the boos and insults of a parade of Steel Helmets, the German fascist organization. When they had stood this treatment until their patience was exhausted, they issued from the factory and commanded the fascists to keep quiet. The Steel Helmets persisted in shouting insults and the shoe workers quieted them this time so effectively that numbers were satisfied to relinquish the parade altogether.

The shoe workers are well organized and it is not believed that there will be immediate police reprisals.

STAMP CAMPAIGN IN FULL SWING

Money Needed to Rally Workers, Farmers

The Central Executive Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party has issued a campaign assessment stamp for sale to the membership of the fourteen districts in the party that is expected to bring several thousand dollars immediaely into the treasury of the National Election Campaign Committee, it was announced yesterday.

In a letter to the party membership, the Central Executive Committee stated that it is incumbent on every party member to purchase one of these stamps—just as obligatory as the paying of dues.

$7,000 Expected Soon.

At least seven thousand dollars is expected to be realized on the stamp sales and this money should be in the National Election Campaign Committee treasury in two weeks' time.

The fourteen districts are engaged in a friendly rivalry as to which one shall come in under the wire first with its allotment sold and the cash forwarded.

The quotas for the districts are: 1,000 for District 1, 4,000 for District 2, 800 for District 3, 400 for District 4, 1,000 for District 5, 800

Continued on Page Two

TAMMANY TOOL GETS HIS REWARD

Harris Given Post on Milk Corporation

Dr. Louis I. Harris, commissioner of health of New York City, yesterday announced his resignation from his city post to accept a position with a milk corporation.

Harris has been given his reward, that of the post of "health consultant and sanitary administrator" of the National Dairy Products Corporation, of 120 Broadway. He will assume his new duties immediately upon the arrival in New York City of Jimmie Walker, who is at present taking his "vacation" in California.

Harris at the same time will receive from the city for the rest of his life a pension of $5,000 a year, in recognition of his 20 years' "service to the public welfare."

Harris very recently allowed the corporation whose product caused almost 40 deaths and 1,000 cases of septic sore throat poisoning in Lee, Mass., to sell its product in New York City.

REACTIONARIES ARE MASTERS IN MEXICAN CRISIS

Probable Arrest of Ex-Labor Minister

MEXICO CITY, July 23.—It was announced by General Zertuche, chief of police of the federal district, that Louis W. Morones, former minister of labor, whose resignation was forced by the reactionary so-called "Agrarians," is in hiding and that the police are investigating reports of his whereabouts in Mexico City.

Morones Under Arrest?

The indication that Marones may even be arrested on charge of participation in the assassination of General Obregon, is part of today's developments indicating the victory of the reactionary elements and the Catholic clergy.

In the first days after the assassination, and up to yesterday, Chief of Police Zertuche announced that the assassin confessed that he had killed Obregon for religious motives so that "Christ the King might reign supreme." Now, the Calles government has reversed its policy and today the chief of police announced that the Catholic clergy, exposed as responsible for the killing of Obregon, are "co-operating with the police in the investigation of the assassination."

Morones Anti-Clerical

It is significant that Morones, who has been active in the struggle against the church, has been accused by the leaders of the "Agrarians" as "intellectually responsible" for the killing of Obregon by a religious fanatic.

Morones has opposed the church because of the pressure of the working class of Mexico, but is in no sense a real leader of the masses. The fact that Morones has been selected as the victim of the landowners and clergy indicates that they regard him merely as a shining mark symbolizing "labor" in the eyes of the reactionary masses, and that the attack upon him is a first step in the suppression of the labor movement in Mexico.

Calles Bows to Clergy

President Calles, in his efforts to remain in power, accepts the dictation of the landowners and the capitalist interests of the United States, which are utilizing the chaotic situation of the present to entrench their power more firmly than ever.

It was indicated today by Col. Topete, the wealthy leader of the reactionary "Agrarians," that Calles will be retained in office for two more years as "provisional president."

INVOLVE MELLON IN GAS MERGER

Al Smith Connection Also Seen

Opponents of the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger between the Consolidated Gas Company of New York and the Brooklyn Edison Company, who were denied a hearing at the last session of the Public Service Commission, are planning to renew their attack tomorrow, when the application of the Consolidated comes up for further hearing.

The Power Committee, composed of a group of liberals, charges that the merger is part of a combination of power development along the northeastern states, controlled by interests foreign to the state. The committee expects to submit evidence that the Koppers Gas and Coke Company of Philadelphia, a Mellon interest, has bought heavily into both the Consolidated and the Brooklyn Edison Companies and would control these companies as part of a gigantic tie-up of electric and gas properties in these states.

One of the heavy stockholders in both companies is Wm. F. Kenny, chief supporter of Al Smith, a fact which lends further evidence to the charge that the republican and democratic forces are united "at the top."

BOSSES WANT NEW "CAL"

Mill Barons Call Mayor to Break Strike

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., (FP) July 23.—Textile mill bosses have deserted their policy of sullen silence. After three months of surly "nothing to say" statements, the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers Assn. at last has consented to place its program before the public.

Get the cops on the job. That is the gist of the association's demands. What are cops for if not to club strikers and protect scabs, summarizes President John Sullivan's broadcasts.

Strikebreaker Calvin Coolidge is John Sullivan's hero. Playfully lecturing the mayor, Sullivan said he has an opportunity very much like Coolidge's in the Boston police strike.

Coolidge the Strikebreaker.

"At the time Coolidge was called upon to act in the Boston police

Continued on Page Two

RECOGNITION OF NANKING CALLED OBJECT OF MEET

5,000 Mutiny in Army of Reaction

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The first step of what is believed here to be a gradual process of recognition of the Nanking government, with the purpose of strengthening the reaction to crush the Chinese revolution, will be taken when Secretary of State Kellogg issues his call for a so-called Sino-American council for treaty revision tomorrow. It is the plan of the secretary of state to widen this council, after the American diplomats have established their control, to include other powers.

It is understood that the conference will be called following receipt of a detailed report from the American minister in China, MacMurray.

Recognize Counter-Revolutionists

While de jure recognition will necessarily be the price of concessions to the foreign powers in the questions of extra-territoriality, taxation and tariff, foreign concessions and settlements, redress to foreigners and damages to property, the

Continued on Page Five

MILLINERS FIGHT ZARITSKY AGENT

Chicago Board Says No Expulsions

CHICAGO, July 23.—The campaign of expulsion of militant members from the International Cap and Millinery Workers Union, now being carried on by the officialdom in many cities, met a setback here when the membership of the Blockers Local and the Joint Board delegates recently passed resolutions demanding a halt to Zaritsky's union wrecking, despite the exercise of an intense terror by the right wing and the employers. The methods employed by the right wing in electing themselves to office were also brought to light when the workers showed the letters they received calling them to the "election" meeting.

Despite threats by the Zaritsky agent, J. Roberts, that he would refuse to permit one of the largest employers here to deal with the Blockers Local, made by him at a members' meeting July 19, the membership condemned Roberts and his union wrecking activities in a resolution passed in spite of the threats.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, attended by Roberts in his capacity as general board agent on July 18, the Joint Board made the following demands in a resolution, despite Roberts' attempt to browbeat the delegates into refusing passage to the resolution:

(1) To demand the G. E. B. of the International to start an organization campaign in Chicago for the coming season in conformity with the decisions of the 1927 convention.

(2) In order to make the organization work possible the G. E. B. resume the subsidy of $50 a week which they have hitherto supplied to the Joint Board and which Roberts has now cut off.

(3) That the General Executive Board immediately cease its expulsion policies of individuals and locals, now prevalent in the International.

(4) The Joint Board of Chicago demands of the G. E. B. that the above be carried through, that the Joint Board will consider no task too great to assist the G. E. B. representatives who will come to Chicago to further the organization work among the millinery workers of this city.

In the fake elections called by the Zaritsky gang for functionaries of Capmakers Local 5 the members were notified of the meeting by letters informing them that their jobs were in danger of being lost if they did not support the disruptive tactics of the International clique. In addition to this a fine was also threatened. The meeting, scheduled as an ordinary local meeting, was not announced as an election meeting in right wing press advertisements. The reactionaries then had no trouble electing themselves.

Mill Strikers Give Labor Leader Rousing Welcome on Jail Release

Hundreds of New Bedford strikers waited at the gates of the House of Correction and gave Fred E. Beale, one of the leaders of the textile strike, a great ovation on his release after serving a 30-day sentence for militant strike activities. Photo shows Beale, surrounded by enthusiastic workers, with a copy of the Daily Worker in his hand.

CONFER ON NEW TEXTILE UNION

More Regional Parleys to Be Held

Delegates from New York City and numerous adjacent industrial towns, including cities in New Jersey and Connecticut gathered for a preliminary conference Saturday afternoon to work out plans for furthering the success of the great national convention of textile workers, being called for September 22 and 23 by the Textile Mill Committees. The conference was held in the Progressive Labor Center, 101 E. 14th St.

First of Series.

This is the first of a series of conferences to be held by the T. M. C. in preparation for the national convention. The delegates will form a new nation-wide textile workers' union.

The second preliminary conference will be held Sunday morning, July 29, at 10 a. m., at 38 Causeway St., Boston, at the district headquarters of the Workers' International

Continued on Page Five

USE WAR TACTICS AGAINST NEGROES

Tammany Cops Stage Insulting Scene

An indication of the racial prejudice of the Tammany Hall machine, and its determination to "keep the Negro in his place," was seen yesterday when fire trucks, and even machine gun squads of police were called out in Lenox Ave. and 139th St. when a few friends of an arrested Negro tried to defend him from brutal treatment by the police.

The police attack on the friends of the arrested Negro drew crowds of people to the scene which, being in the heart of Harlem, is always quite busy. It was after the police began to fire recklessly into the crowd that the people, infuriated at the treatment, gathered closely around the officers.

In a short time more than 150 policemen, fully armed with riot guns and armored motorcycles, arrived on the scene. The "riot" was quelled when the police motorcycles plowed through the crowd of Negroes, injuring scores of them. More than an hour elapsed before the tactics of the police finally dispelled the unarmed protesting crowd.

VOTE BUYING DUE TO BREAK ALL RECORDS

Preliminary preparation of the "public mind" for the greatest election campaign slush funds yet to be raised in the United States, it is believed, is the motive for the brazen publicity now being given by both old political parties to their vote-buying campaigns now getting under way. According to announcements made yesterday, $10,000,000 is to be accepted a sort of starting off figure for the national campaign committees.

Merely a Beginning.

That this figure is merely a beginning, it was pointed out by well informed politicians, may be seen in the fact that nearly seven millions was expended by both major parties in 1920 according to figures which they themselves were willing to make public. Harding was pushed over by a slush fund of $5,319,729 and Cox was helped along to the extent of $1,318,347. There was no great doubt of the republican chances that year such as there may develop this year. Everyone knows that the figures given out are only

Continued on Page Five

MORGAN ORDERS GO TO COOLIDGE

Lay Down Law on Nicaragua

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 23.—Naval Secretary Wilbur, accompanied by Thomas Cochran, a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., arrived here today, en route for Coolidge's summer residence where they are to hold a conference on the Nicaraguan situation with the president.

Wilbur intimated that recent reports from Nicaragua made an immediate conference necessary.

ARRESTS HALT PANAMA REVOLT

U. S. Influence Seen In Situation

PANAMA CITY, July 23.—An uprising believed to be supported by the United States against the administration party reached a critical stage here today when 116 members of the Porras (opposition) party were arrested to halt alleged threats of a revolution. A number of prominent Porristas leaders were jailed.

The action was the result of mounting criticism of the government of liberal party which was charged with election frauds and irregularities.

The climax came Saturday at a Porras party rally where the opposition leaders demanded "American supervision of the November election or revolution." The Porristas had repeatedly sought American aid in eliminating alleged conspiracies and Dr. Jorge Boyd, Porras presidential nominee, is in Washington at present, said to seeking American intervention

Among those arrested in the nation-wide drive to prevent serious disturbances, were: Assemblyman Domingo Turner; Dr. Alejandro Tapia, prominent attorney, and editors of the opposition newspaper El Heraldo; Demetrio Porras, youngest son of Dr. Belisario Porras, thrice president of Panama; and Juan B. Polo, president of the Porras Club.

• • •

Call For Revolt.

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, July 23.—The leader of the Porras National Coalition party of Panama, Dr. Alejandro Tapia, called upon the United States to supervise the elections, at a political rally held here last night on the Cathedral Plaza.

JOKES IN PRISON CELL

Young Communist Girl Full of Spirit

WARSAW, Poland, (By Mail).—Wjera is one of the 133 who are waiting for trial in a Polish prison. She has against her six years from an earlier trial and the coming process will bring her at least eight years more.

She is a member of the Communist Youth League of Poland and was very active in the underground movement, was much sought for by the police until she was finally caught in the mass raids of the fall of 1925. She has already been in jail for three years.

And in spite of this she finds the strength, altho somewhat bitter, to joke. She writes to her comrades:

"How I hope to set eyes upon all you again. The time will come when we will again be together. I dream of that time and jump with joy, but then a hidden thought comes

Continued on Page Two

BOSSES' AGENTS OUTLAW PICKETS AT MILL GATES

Police Head Carries Out Barons' Orders

(Special To the Daily Worker.)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 23.—Obeying the signal given by John Sullivan, mill boss official, to start an immediate violent suppression of picket lines, a large force of police under Sergeant Jacobs made a vicious onslaught on an orderly picket line at the Sharp Mill, 7:30 a. m. this morning, smashed the line, arrested six and brutally beat up Manuel Mario for protecting a woman striker.

Without even waiting for some one to "define a legal picket line" as he hypocritically requested recently, Chief of Police McLeod issued an ultimatum yesterday limiting picket lines at all gates of a mill to 50 and ordering the dispersal of spectators.

Pinto Arrested.

At the Sharp Mill gates this morning, the police detail there commanded the picket line to double on themselves when they reached the mill gate, not permitting passage of the entrances. Refusal of the strikers to have their rights as citizens abrogated by police was followed by an immediate attack, which resulted in the arrest of four women, two men and in the severe injury of one.

Augusto G. Pinto, the much arrested popular Textile Mills Committees' picket leader, heard the police order to keep away from the gates just as he was coming up on his bicycle rounds, called to the picket line to march on despite the police order. He and other leaders of the line were immediately arrested, this being the sixth arrest for Pinto.

The pickets immediately went in to prevent the illegal arrest of their leaders and were met by the swinging clubs of the police.

Ellen Dawson, T. M. C. organizer, then called on the workers to continue with the picketing. When a policeman lunged forward to grab her, Manuel Mario, a picket, put his arm protectively on her shoulder and protested against her arrest. For this Sergeant Jacobs hit Mario a smashing blow in the eye and continued to beat him while four police thugs held him to the ground.

Police "Impartiality."

Of the four women arrested, one was Sadie Reison, organizer for the U. T. W. Textile Council. When the prisoners were arraigned in court later, she was charged only with parading without a permit, while each of the others had three or more charges stacked up against them. They were "assaulting police," "disturbing the peace," etc.

That this assault is not what the city government heretofore termed "an accident," but is the beginning of an official strikebreaking terror, is proved by the fact that the pickets were charged with "parading without a permit." The filing of such a charge is admittedly a deliberate step towards carrying out the mill bosses' demand to outlaw picketing at the textile plants.

Calls For Picketing.

The New Bedford Textile Workers' Union, in a statement issued today assailing the city government as the bosses' strikebreaking tools, calls upon the masses of strikers to rally to huge picket demonstrations at the mill gates this evening and hereafter.

INDIA RAILROAD STRIKE SPREADS

MADRAS, India, July 23.—Increasing militancy of strikers on railway lines of southern India has resulted in numerous clashes between the police and the strikers, it was reported here today. Trains run by incompetent strikebreakers have been wrecked and general confusion is spreading over the struck sections.

Employers have consistently refused to deal with the unions. Yesterday police fired on strikers at Mayavuram and at Tuticorin. Several are reported to have been killed and a number were wounded. Many arrests have been made.

The strike arose from an announcement by employers that they would drastically reduce their forces, and institute a speed-up system.

Workers Thruout Country Sending Contributions to Communist Campaign Fund

TING MASSES PPORT GREAT 0,000 DRIVE

Many Buy Communist Election Stamps

Frank R. Kent, writing in the American Mercury, declares that all American presidents are elected by money and that the unpurchased American voter who thinks he is a determining factor in the election of Wall Street's executives in Washington is not only stupid but a [illegible] fool.

There are two kinds of campaign funds according to Kent. There is the bally-hoo fund that is used for publicity and corruption during the campaign and there is the election day fund which is used to purchase the necessary number of votes in each precinct on election day to bring the victory to the political gang with the most portly money bag.

As if determined to bear out Kent's contention, Smith and Hoover are openly declaring that more money will be needed in this campaign than in any previous one. Smith's managers say that there will be no limit to contributions. Hoover's treasurer demands four million dollars.

That's money for you.

If the workers and farmers did not expect to gain control of the United States and establish their own government until they were able to beat the capitalists' game of vote-buying and win the elections their future would be dark indeed. But the workers and exploited farmers, the class-conscious sections that understand the Communist position do not expect that the capitalist system will be overthrown at the ballot box. It will be overthrown by the mass struggles of the exploited masses under the leadership of the Communist Party.

And the Workers (Communist) Party is raising a $100,000 campaign fund to mobilize the masses for a real fight against the capitalists and their system.

The election campaign is proving an excellent opportunity to reach the masses with the Communist message and the Communist program. They are in a receptive mood. The ballyhoo of the capitalists gets them thinking of political matters. The capitalists find it more difficult than in other times to shut off rival parties from propagating their views. Therefore, the Communists have an opportunity—if only a limited one under the iron fist of capitalist democracy—to get their message to the masses.

Workers, Farmers Understand.

Thousands of workers and poor farmers thruout the United States understand this fact. So they are contributing to the Communist Campaign Fund.

It is possible here to give only a few of the many letters that are coming in with contributions to the headquarters of the National Election Campaign Committee.

Steve Morasky of Caldwell, Ohio writes:

"Please send me two books of the Communist stamps and also five Foster-Gitlow campaign buttons. I am also sending $2.50 as my contribution to the Communist Campaign Fund. Enclosed you will find [illegible]."

From Toledo, Ohio, Hannah Tuebner writes:

"Accept this amount $5.00. Will contribute again."

Harry A. Battle writes from Orange, Mass.:

"Enclosed find two dollars to be used for the campaign fund."

Branch 246 of the Workmen's Circle, New York, sends in a five-dollar contribution.

And so the dollars and five dollars are pouring in.

From now on as the Communists and their sympathizers get the collecting machinery into high speed. the flood of contributions will increase steadily.

Communist assessment stamps being sold to the Party membership will bring in thousands of dollars.

If each Communist and each sympathizer considers that the success of this drive for $100,000 rests on HIS or HER shoulders, then success is assured. And this is the way every devoted Communist will regard the drive.

Cash Aided U. S. S. R.

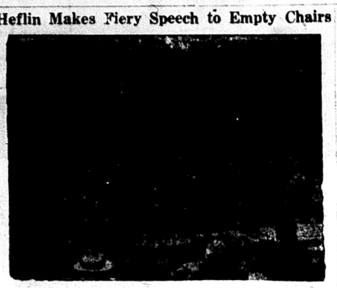
Financial contributions enabled the Bolsheviki of Russia to flood the country with literature in the dark days before the workers and peasants toppled the czar's throne, drove out the traitorous Mensheviki, and established a Soviet government. The harrassed workers and peasants gave their rubles to enable the Bolshevik agitators to write and speak and travel from place to place spreading the revolutionary message. This financial sacrifice bore fruit.

The workers and exploited farmers of the United States, poor as they are, can afford better than the workers and peasants in Czarist Russia to contribute to a fund destined to help emancipate themselves from the thralldom of capitalism.

One hundred thousand dollars to mobilize the masses for struggle against the capitalist system and to pave the road for the organization of a Workers' and Farmers' government in the United States!

Send all contributions to Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, National Election Campaign Committee, 43 E. 125th St., New York.

Heflin Makes Fiery Speech to Empty Chairs



Senator Heflin of Alabama, elected with the money and support of the Ku Klux Klan, is still traveling around the country calling for a war on the pope and incidentally searching for publicity. Photo shows the Klan senator making an open-air speech in New Jersey at which 67 weary persons turned out.

MINERS GETTING RELIEF

Campaign Speakers Tour the Country

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 23.—More than 2,500 collection lists are in circulation today, raising for the National Miners' Relief and Defense Week drive which the National Miners' Relief Committee and the International Labor Defense are jointly conducting. Requests for speakers are pouring into the relief headquarters at 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Anthony Minerich, secretary of the committee, has his first speaking engagement this afternoon in Erie, Pa. Mass meetings will be held throughout the week in every large city where mass mobilizations for the campaign are being made.

"Hunger Banquets," Feature.

"Hunger banquets" are scheduled for the latter part of this week everywhere. Hundreds of organizations are participating and all proceeds will immediately buy food for hungry miners' families, and furnish defense for jailed pickets and strike leaders.

In factories, department stores, oil fields, automobile plants, etc., shop committees are making collections. Hundreds of thousands of workers will participate in the house to house collections and tag days.

Fight Blacklist.

Now that the union policy committee has abandoned its demand for the Jacksonville scale of wages, and are instructing the districts to make separate agreements, the strikers are banding together to fight the black-list and open shop conditions which the operators are attempting to force upon them. The militant coal diggers will not allow the operators to victimize those who fought in the front ranks of the strike, declaring they will go back to the mines in organized fashion as they left them in April, 1927. They are appealing to their fellow workers in other industries to stand by them until this is effected, by warding off starvation.

Appeal For Aid For Arrested Leaders.

The struggling coal diggers especially appeal for defense for their arrested leaders. "The International Labor Defense has been called upon repeatedly for aid, and it has not been found wanting in a single instance," is the answer of James Cannon, secretary of the defense organization, makes to the miners.

To the workers, Cannon says, "Every worker must respond to the appeal of the men and women behind the bars, whose hands are outstretched for aid. Just because the resources of our enemy are great, our work of solidarity must be generous and swift.

Must Have Funds.

"We must not fail the courageous fighters in the jails," he declares. "Every dollar counts. The money in now counts doubly. They will help us strengthen our arms to tear away the prison bars and prison walls that keep our fighters from the firing line. Every organization, every worker, must volunteer to assist in the most far-reaching relief and defense campaign ever made for the striking miners. The operators must not be allowed to bury the miners in the living grave of their prisons."

Nobile Sent Home In Camouflaged Car

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 23 (UP).—General Umberto Nobile, who sailed north two months ago, proud in his command of the dirigible Italia and determined to make new history in polar exploration, is expected back in continental Europe Tuesday, a sick man, his nerves shattered and his body wounded.

Instead of leading a triumphant march back to Rome, he will be placed aboard a special car chartered by the Italian government, probably the car will be sealed, and the train will steam southward. Only necessary stops will be made. The train will not even pass thru Stockholm or any of the large cities which are not on the direct route. None will be permitted to see Nobile and he will talk with no one.

STAMP CAMPAIGN IN FULL SWING

$7,000 Must Come in Within 2 Weeks

Continued from Page One

for District 6, 800 for District 7 1,800 for District 8, 1,000 for District 9, 400 for District 10, 700 for District 12, 700 for District 13, 300 for District 15, and 200 for the agrarian regions.

Quick Action Urged.

The members of the Party are urged to consider the necessity of quick sales and quick returns to the National Election Campaign Treasury. The election campaign is now getting up steam. The newspapers are giving more and more space daily to the statements and movements of the capitalists.

Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer of the National Election Campaign Committee, said in urging the membership to speed up the sale of the stamps:

"The campaign funds of the capitalist parties this year will surpass all previous treasure chests. For the first time in the history of the United States both parties are on practically even terms in the matter of campaign funds. Millionaires are flocking daily to the Smith banner, and the head of his national committee is none other than John J. Raskob, the finance chairman of the gigantic automobile trust, dominated by the House of Morgan, General Motors.

Fight Wall Street.

"Hoover will have the millions of other capitalist groups, not the least of which is the Mellon group. This is a millionaire election campaign Those millions will be used to corrupt and befuddle the workers and farmers of the United States between now and November. After then whichever set of capitalists win, the exploitation of the workers and farmers will go on with greater intensity than ever.

"Against the billions of Wall Street our drive to raise the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund would be futile but for the fact that our Party stands for the interests of the millions of exploited workers and farmers, and if we only can raise enough funds to print literature and route speakers, so that the message of Communism can be brought home to them, tho corrupting money of Wall Street will be wasted like seed scattered in a desert."

The money realized on the sale of the Communist Campaign Assessment stamps should be forwarded immediately to the National Election Campaign Committee, Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, 43 E. 125th St., New York City.

FLIER TURNS WRITER

DRESDEN, Saxony, July 23.—Baron von Huenefeld's first dramatic effort, a trite and blatant eulogy of the former Emperor Wilhelm, was played here last night and applauded by the monarchists who filled the theatre.

The dramatic critics agreed in denouncing the play as extremely weak and trivial and having nothing original in it, except, perhaps, the out-of-date praise of the monarchy.

HIT FAKE MILL STRIKE RELIEF OF POLITICIANS

Passaic Gathers Funds for Real Aid

PASSAIC, N. J., July 23.—The New Bedford Strike Relief Conference of Passaic yesterday issued a statement referring to the uses to which the money being collected by the Passaic Central Trades Council in a tag day here, is being put. It criticises the manner in which the A. F. of L. in New Bedford has allowed the relief funds collected for the strikers to be controlled by politicians who are enemies of the union. The statement says:

"Mr. Fuller and the Central Trades Council are holding a tag day today for the New Bedford strikers. We would like to know whether this money collected will be sent to help the thousands of striking men, women and children, or if Mr. Fuller will send this money to the strikebreaking Citizens' Committee headed by the mayor of New Bedford, the man responsible for calling out the militia to break the strike—this Citizens' Committee composed of business men, and agents of the bosses in the guise of friends of the workers.

Strikebreaking Committee.

"This committee is similar to the strikebreaking citizens' committee that made an attempt to break our strike in Passaic, by opening relief stores and handing out relief with propaganda against the union. This citizens' committee in New Bedford is a strikebreaking committee. It is not a labor body, and does not give any relief to the thousands of unskilled workers that have joined the New Bedford Textile Union, the union that is leading the militant fight against the bosses, under the leadership of capable organizers such as Albert Weisbord, Eli Keller, Ellan Dawson and John Peletzer, all from Passaic.

Attempt to Break Union.

"The money sent by Mr. Fuller will be used for propaganda against the union, and relief will be given to the two thousand skilled workers that are members of the United Textile Workers only.

"The Workers' International Relief, which carried on a prominent part in the Passaic strike, is feeding the New Bedford strikers, and is the only workers' relief committee. It is headed by such well known men as: Bishop Wm. M. Brown, Roger N. Baldwin, Elizabeth G. Flynn, Scott Nearing, Ellan Hayes, Edgar Owens, Upton Sinclair, C. Anita Whitney and all money should be sent to the Workers' International Relief, 49 William St., New Bedford, Mass. The local relief committee is preparing to hold a mass meeting in Passaic, where the leaders of the New Bedford strikers will speak.

FREE BILLINGS AND MOONEY, IS LABOR DEMAND

Many Join in Asking Immediate Release

In the 12th year of the imprisonment and frame-up of Tom Mooney and Warren Billings, the labor and liberal movement is raising its voice in protest at their continued incarceration. John Haynes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church in New York City, in a letter to the national office of International Labor Defense, 80 East 11th St., endorses the campaign initiated by International Labor Defense for their release. Holmes declares:

"I am greatly interested to hear that a new movement is under way to secure the release of Tom Mooney and Warren Billings from their California prison. The case of which these two men are the victims ranks with the Sacco-Vanzetti case and the Dreyfus case, as one of the most terrible and iniquitous miscarriages of justice in modern times.

"It seems now incredible that Tom Mooney and Warren Billings should ever have been convicted. Still more incredible it is, that, 12 years after this frame-up of innocent men, they should still be behind the bars. In the name not of mercy but of simple justice they should be released. It cannot be that the present effort on their behalf will fail."

From within prison walls themselves reechoes the interest on behalf of Mooney and Billings. Leo Ellis, himself a class-war prisoner at Represa, Cal., where Warren Billings is imprisoned, writes to the International Labor Defense as follows:

"I wish to compliment the International Labor Defense for the excellent work you are doing in behalf of the Mooney-Billings case.

"Hoping you will meet with success in your undertaking, I remain

"LEO ELLIS,
"Box 14388, Folsom Prison,
"Represa, California."

From Liberals, writers, doctors, etc., roll in storms of protest and demands for the release of Mooney and Billings. But labor's strength, emphasizes International Labor Defense in its statement, is the chief reliance and guarantee that Mooney and Billings will finally emerge as free men from San Quentin and Folsom prisons and take their place in the ranks of the labor movement.

Resolutions are now being adopted in trade unions throughout the country demanding that the open-shop governor of California. Richardson, release Mooney and Billings. They were railroaded because they were active union organizers and now the solidarity and protest of the working class can and must free Mooney and Billings.

MILL BOSS ASKS FOR NEW "CAL"

Employers Call Mayor to Break Strike

Continued from Page One

strike," writes Sullivan, "he was subjected to the same political pressure that exists with our mayor today. He had the courage to handle the situation firmly even though he was told that his action meant the ending of his political career. He was not so sure himself, at the time, but this was true, and that he was killing his own political future in taking the stand that he did, but he saw it was the right thing to do and he had the courage to do it in spite of any consequences it might have so far as he was concerned."

The big issue in New Bedford, as Sullivan sees it, is not the slashing of a $19 average wage to $17.10 but whether "labor organizations shall run the mills" instead of bosses. In good employers' language, he says the way to stop disorder is to anticipate it. The police should be "ready for an emergency of any kind" and "tolerate no fooling." The mass picketing must be broken up and strikers' parades forbidden.

Many Pickets Arrested.

"There must be no temporizing" with the workers led by the left wing Textile Workers Union, Sullivan tells the mayor. "Gatherings should be limited to the smallest possible numbers."

Numerous arrests of pickets and harsh sentences have marked the fourth month of the strike of 27,000 cotton mill workers. Judge Gardiner was challenged as a former attorney. for the manufacturers association Gardiner steadfastly refused to admit he was swayed by having received money from the mill owners and proceeded to sentence the arrested workers.

One, Augusto Gonsalves Pinto, pictureque Portuguese figure on a bicycle, was given five months for "obstructing policemen" and "disturbing the peace," familiar charges in New Bedford courts Pinto was dispatch runner for the Textile Workers Union, speeding from mill to mill on, his bicycle during all picketing hours.

Daily Worker Agents Hold Concert Tonight

The Daily Worker agents of Section 2 have prepared a concert which will be held tonight at 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All unit and subsection Daily Worker agents have been invited to attend.

The meeting will be one of the most important held up to now. Future activities for the aid of the Daily Worker will be planned and assigned. No agent should fail to be present.

A Worker's Tour to Soviet Russia
TO WITNESS THE CELEBRATION OF THE NOVEMBER REVOLUTION
"EVERY WORKER SHOULD PARTICIPATE"
The Group Sails October 17th on the Cunard Express Steamer "MAURETANIA"
VIA LONDON COPENHAGEN HELSINGFORS
7 DAYS of Interesting Sightseeing in LENINGRAD and MOSCOW
RETURN WARSAW BERLIN PARIS
$375.00
May Be Paid in Monthly Installments. First Payment $25.00.
(FREE VISES—EXTENSIONS ARRANGED FOR TO VISIT ANY PART OF U. S. S. R.)
WORLD TOURISTS, INC.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900

Crippled Flyer Plans Publicity Ocean Flight

The latest in aviation publicity stunts is the plan of Morris R. Dougherty, one armed, legless flyer, to fly the Atlantic. Dougherty is shown above with his plane, on his arrival at Roosevelt Field, Long Island.

ITALIAN CLOAK WORKERS ACTIVE

Draw Latin Workers in to Build Union

The drawing of Italian workers into active participation in the struggle to build a real cloak and dressamkers' union, was the subject for which plans were discussed and formulated at the first meeting of the executive board of the Italian branch, Joint Board Cloak and Dressmakers' Union. The meeting was held in the union headquarters, 16 W. 21st St., last night.

After a report was delivered by Charles S. Zimmerman, head of the Organization Department of the National Organization Committee, the board members held a thorough discussion and decided as their first step the issuance of circulars and leaflets to keep the Italian workers acquainted with the fight against the right wing Sigman gang and the bosses.

The most strenuous efforts will be made to build up the circulation of the Italian paper of the branch, "Unita Operia." E. Oswaldo, paid organizer of the branch, also delivered a report of the work accomplished up to and since the last meeting of the Italian Branch, held last Thursday.

WOMEN TO TALK ON WAR DANGER

Many Expected at Big Federation Meeting

Continued from Page One

tarism is throughout the country."

Other Meets Successful

The New York Working Women's Federation during its short period of existence has held two previous conferences where problems of great importance to working women and the labor movement in general were considered. These conferences have aroused great interest among working women and have helped arouse women workers to participate in labor struggles

The federation's anti-imperialist-war conference of August 2 is of particular importance to women. The call urges the women to act in the shops and other organizations with which they are connected and send delegates to take part in the conference.

The interest and activity of the members have made the previous conferences of the New York Working Women's Federation great successes. An excellent program is being prepared for this meeting, and all women have been urged to invite their friends and shopmates to attend the coming conference.

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION
Co-operative Workers
Camp Nitgedaiget
Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731

MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.

A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.

Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.

REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:
OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)
Rates: $17.00 Per Week
TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR.
BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

International Outing
To Aid Class War Prisoners and Their Families
Saturday, August 11, 1928
PLEASANT BAY PARK, BRONX.
ATHLETICS—JAZZ BAND—OPEN AIR DANCING
GAMES—TORCH LIGHT PARADE—MASS
SCENE—REFRESHMENTS.
Movies Will Be Taken at the Park.
Admission 35 cents
Auspices: International Labor Defense New York Section
DIRECTIONS: Take Bronx Park Subway or L to 177th St., then take Union Port Car to end of line. Free busses to park.
TICKETS on sale at: Workers' Center and I.L.D., Room 422, 799 Broadway.

GREEK PREMIER MAKES NEW MOVE TO WIN SUPPORT

Bids for Aid of Fascist Balkan States

ATHENS, Greece, July 23.—A bid for the support of the reactionary governments of Bulgaria and Turkey was made by Premier Venizelos of Greece in a speech last night. Lavish in his promises, the premier, who feels the uncertainty of his tenure of office, announced that he would be happy to sign a treaty of friendship with the Angora government. To Bulgaria and Jugo-Slavia he offered an outlet to the sea via Saloniki as an inducement.

Jokes In Prison Cell

Continued from Page One

to me: By that time you will all have sideboards and beards. Old—but not young Communists will you be. Oh, how dreadful! It hurts me when I think that I will not see you again so young, as young as I remember you and as I love you. That is silly—but it hurts! Very well and good, show yourselves with your beards. But I will see you all again!"

NO FLOWERS, POINCARE.

PARIS, July 23 (UP).—Premier Poincare today celebrated by working throughout the day on the next budget the second anniversary of his assumption of the premiership in the dark days of 1926 when the franc slumped to 51 to the dollar.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $2

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months/weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

ATTENTION
Party Units, Sub-sections, Sections, Workmen's Circle Branches, Women's Councils, Trade Union Educational Leagues, Workers' Clubs, etc.
You Can Get
500 Tickets for $20
with the Name of Your Organization on Your Tickets.
Make $100.00 Profit
By Participating in the
FREIHEIT PICNIC
SATURDAY, JULY 28
ULMER PARK
Brooklyn
Send your Check, Money Order, or bring your cash to the
"FREIHEIT"
30 Union Square, N. Y. C.

French and Spanish Authorities Cooperate in Campaign Against Militant Labor

NINE ARRESTS IN FRANCE MAY BEGIN DRIVE

More to Go to Jail in Few Hours

PARIS, July 23.—Collaboration between the French and the Spanish authorities in a campaign against labor which is to embrace two countries was revealed yesterday with the arrest of nine workers for participation in an alleged plot against the life of King Alfonso. The men were arrested in south France and more arrests are threatened at once.

The seizure of the workers was made at the instigation of the Spanish authorities, reports from Bordeaux reveal.

According to the outline of the "conspiracy" given the French by the Spanish police, Alfonso was to have been assassinated as he was crossing the French frontier to open the new tunnel under the Pyrenees.

That the development of revolutionary disturbances within Spain have alarmed the Spanish authorities was disclosed with the announcement that plans had been made to have troops virtually equivalent to an army accompany Alfonso on his trip north. It was not known here at that time, however, that the French authorities were actively cooperating with the Spanish in crushing the outbreaks in Spain. Labor leaders here now express themselves as satisfied that the present arrests reveal a concerted movement of both governments to jail militant workers, particularly in southern France and in the northern districts of Spain.

Sentence of Don Plotters

MOSCOW, USSR., (By Mail).—From early morning a crowd of some hundreds had collected round the doors of the "Dom" Soyouzov waiting to receive passes to enter. By nightfall it had swelled to many thousands and the long line stretched many hundreds of yards away into the darkness of the side pereulok (alley). A company of foot and mounted militia kept order continually having to clear the thoroughfare that at every few minutes swarmed with new contingents of workers eager to see the last episode of one of the greatest dramas ever enacted within the halls of this former club of tzarist nobility.

Doors Open.

At 9 o'clock in the evening the doors of the Halls of Columns were thrown open and in the space of half-an-hour it was crowded from top to bottom. Every inch of sitting and standing space was occupied and a good part of the corridor running round the hall. The number of correspondents' seats seemed to have swelled to thrice its usual number and the box given to the use (during the trial) of the diplomatic corps was full.

At 10 o'clock the state prosecutors take their places on the tribune to be followed a little later by the counsels of the defense.

After 15 minutes the accused are brought in under escort, they are immediately surrounded by their counsels with whom they enter into earnest conversation.

Excitement.

The air is becoming increasingly warm and is filled with a continuous hum like the flight of an army of bees, but gradually, however, it dies away and at midnight sharp enters the court. . .

"The special sitting of the high court is declared open," says its president, Vishinsky, who after a brief pause proceeds to read out the sentence. . .

The sentence is divided into two parts: the first gives a short historical review of the beginnings of the counter-revolutionary organizations and its general characteristics This, fully upholds the main theses of the state prosecutor, as follows: The court recognizes as fully proved that fact that the anti-Soviet counter-revolutionary inclinations of a section of the technical (engineers, technicians) intelligentsia, during the first years of the existence of the Soviet State, brought them into contact with the ex-owners, from whom they received instructions and money and to whom they supplied valuable and secret information concerning the situation in the Donetz coal area.

Continuing further, the sentence describes the activities of the Kharkov and Moscow sections of the organization, the sabotage and destructive work that was carried out Finally, it characterizes in stern terms the contact of the organization with foreign groups outlining the channels through which the various sums of money were sent in.

Vishinsky then proceeded to the second part of the sentence.

In accordance with Article 58-2 58-7, 58-11, of the Criminal Code of R. S. F. S. R. (1) Gorletsky, (2) Beruzovsky, (3) Shadlun, (4) Karzarinov, (5) Boyarshinov, (6) Matov (7) Bratanovsky, (8) Boyarinov (9) Krahinovsky, (10) Usevitch and (11) Budnovo, are sentenced to the highest measure of social defense—to be shot with confiscation of property.

Where Vienna Workers Waged Heroic Barricade Battle

Crowds watching the barricade fighting during the July revolt in Vienna, the anniversary of which was celebrated recently, are shown in the picture. Smoke from the burning Hall of Justice can be seen swelling in the distance. Almost on the anniversary of this heroic struggle of the Vienna working class, Bela Kun, Hungarian Communist leader, was sentenced to prison in the same city. Special article on Page 6 of today's issue of the Daily Worker. (Photo by courtesy of "Labor Defender.")

Communists Lead Against War Danger

(Continued.)

Lettish comrades admit as a shortcoming of the Party that they did not react in any way to the first negotiations of Latvia with Great Britain, or to the signing of a previous treaty for a customs union with Esthonia, and did not recognize in time that this customs union with Esthonia, which is under the unlimited influence of Great Britain, represented a step towards the formation of an anti-Soviet bloc of Baltic countries.

It would be an exaggeration to designate all the above-mentioned mistakes, which were admitted and later corrected by the Parties, as the results of a frivolous attitude towards the war danger. The above-mentioned examples, however, are good illustrations of how big and actual is the danger of allowing outspoken measures in preparation for war to pass unnoticed, and how necessary it is to be at all times on guard, to follow up at all times the concrete forms and phenomena of the war danger in order to avoid fatal omissions.

However, one may observe also this phenomenon; that after the VIII Plenum an intensive anti-war work was begun in many sections but that it subsided later as if there had come a realization that in the beginning the war danger had been greatly exaggerated.

Superficial and expressly opportunist is a conception which looks upon anti-war and anti-militarist work as the task only of a special department and not of the entire Party and its leading organs. This conception is hardly to be found in the official Party documents, but it is prevalent here and there. It is expressed, for example, in such statements as hold that one cannot enter upon the most elementary questions of Communist anti-war tactics because one is "not an expert."

Must Have "Toilers' Militia."

THE slogan for "Toilers' Militia" has come into application since the VIII Plenum practically not at all. Even in the theoretical organs this question has been given little notice. One of the few cases in which this slogan was discussed was the answer of the Pol-Bureau of the Communist Party of Germany to the "Program of Action" of Comrade Brandler. Here also the question was only touched on in passing without going into the connection of this slogan with the partial demands and with the practical problems of the disintegration of the bourgeois army and the arming of the proletariat. And it is precisely on this point that a clarification of this slogan is urgently necessary. The circumstances that so little use has been made of the slogan for the "Toilers' Militia" is in our opinion to be accounted for to a great extent in that this side of the question has been insufficiently clarified.

Not From Bourgeois Parliaments.

According to unconfirmed reports one of the Communist Parties is said to have introduced in parliament a proposal demanding the Workers' and Peasants' Army. If the demand for a Workers' and Peasants' army is in its actual content to be considered identical with the "Toilers' Militia," then it is surely a misunderstanding to demand such a thing from the bourgeois parliament.

The slogan of a People's Militia has come into practical application in a few cases. In the cases known to us, this application is unquestionably correct with regard to the actual content of this slogan. But in practice it is not unimportant to differentiate between the actual political content of the slogan and its expression. It is not clear without special investigation as to whether the slogan of People's Militia in this mode of expression is sufficiently concrete everywhere as a practical slogan, viz., whether the use of the expression "People's Militia" can be recognized by the masses as their own demand or whether it should not be replaced by another slogan actually meaning the same thing, but adapted to the specific local conditions.

In many countries (Belgium, Poland, Finland, Latvia, etc.) the Communist Parties have raised the demand for the reduction of the service period to six months. Fears have arisen as to whether the reduction of the service period, which is planned or carried out in connection with the new military reforms by the capitalist governments themselves in many cases, would not mean a strengthening of militarism. These misgivings are not well-founded however. It is correct that the new military reforms in their totality lead to a strengthening of militarism, but the reduction of the service period in itself is always a point weakening the military system of the respective capitalist country It is a fact that the military specialists everywhere re[illegible] the reduction of the term of military service.

Only when there is involved such a hired army as the German Reichswehr, where the service period under the term of the Versailles Treaty lasts a total of 12 years, the reduction, e. g., to six years would double the possible numbers in the thoroughly trained, politically reliable military cadres and would thereby mean the indirect strengthening of the military system. But also in this case, the point of the reduction of the service period, taken by itself, in no way signifies the strengthening of the military system, because in 12 years the soldier can be trained much more thoroughly and more manifoldly in military crafts, and can be much more completely alienated from the working masses, than in six years.

The reduction of the service period in countries with universal military service is in itself not to be looked upon as a means of strengthening militarism, but as a concession which the capitalist governments will enter upon because the disadvantage of the reduction of the service period is made up by other great advantages in the new military reforms, such as the militarization of the schools and social organizations and above all, in the creation of a powerful cadre of politically reliable and expertly high-skilled professional soldiers, support and governmentalization of the fascist organizations, etc That is why side by side with the demand for the reduction of the service period we must resolutely combat all these reactionary measures which actually lead to a strengthening of militarism.

League Corrected "Boycott" Slogan

THE slogan for the boycott of the American Citizens' Military Training Camps was corrected as a mistake by the Central Committee of the Young Communist League itself because such a boycott would have meant refraining from the disintegration of this organization and thereby a strengthening of imperialism.

The War Theses of the VIII Plenum put, as a concrete task for the combatting of war, the "concentration of the attention of the Communist Parties upon activity in the trade unions, especially among the metal workers, miners, transport workers and the workers in chemical industries."

Must Concretize Work.

The more concretely one approaches the practical forms of combatting war, the more clearly is shown the importance of this demand. But the practical work in combatting war makes necessary an even furthergoing concretization in the same direction. What is involved here is to transfer our attention to certain factories and definite geographical points.

Many examples in the experiences in anti-militarist work show how important it is to have organs of the Party at certain geographical points. This anti-militarist work is relatively much weaker in the French navy than in the army, which is quite correctly ascribed to the fact that the French Party is very weak in the respective harbor towns

American League Difficulty.

IN a report on the anti-militarist work of the American Y. C. L., it is stated that the campaign against the sending of troops to China was unsuccessful on the western coast of America, because the league had no members in San Diego, the naval base.

It is time that the leading organs of the Parties concerned themselves not only with the numerical strengthening of the Party and its influences, but that, much more than heretofore, they are influenced by the territorial viewpoint. This viewpoint plays an important role not only in the struggle against the war but in every revolutionary struggle

Work Among Soldiers and Sailors

The Communist Parties are active everywhere, where there are toilers; in workers' quarters, in factories and villages. They have no reason to make an exception with respect to the barracks and warships where workers and peasants in uniform live under extremely difficult conditions, subjected to the tyranny and all sorts of chicanery of the officers It would be strange and unpardonable for a Party of the revolutionary class struggle to desert workers living under such conditions, without enlightenment, leadership and support. Therefore this work is to be carried on everywhere, also where it is "prohibited" by the enemies of the workers and soldiers. Even some left Social-Democrats, as e. g., Paul Levi, speak about the necessity for "education of the members of the army" although in this respect they do nothing in practice.

For the above-mentioned reasons they work among the soldiers and sailors is a permanent task of the Parties. This work attains special importance from the viewpoint of combatting war and militarism.

However, the work is relatively weak in certain countries which are important from the point of view of the war danger and war preparations. In certain countries this work still bears an episodical character and at best is confined to the recruits before their entrance into the barracks, without the development of a systematic work and the establishment of organizational points of support inside the army. In other countries again the work does not bear the character of mass work but it is confined to a small circle of people inside the army and is not based upon a broad anti-militarist activity among the toiling youth.

Party Must Do Anti-Work.

There is still observable here and there a lack of understanding or an insufficiency of interest among Party members themselves with respect to this work. Such expressions applied to anti-militarist work as "criminal politics," "military espionage," "plotters," etc., argue that a thorough enlightenment on the meaning and character of this work is necessary even among the leading cadres of many parties.

DENOUNCE FUAD MOVE TO FORM DICTATORSHIP

Wafd Issues Bitter Manifesto

CAIRO, Egypt, July 23.—Nation-wide indignation at the action of King Fuad in dissolving the Egyptian parliament for the period of three years found expression today in a manifesto issued by the Wafd party and denouncing the king's action.

Declaring that the dissolution of parliament is a deliberate move to placate British resentment, and intimating that it is for the purpose of maintaining his own position of power by King Fuad, the manifesto denounces the "attempt to defy the constitution and satisfy the ambitions of foreigners."

The dissolution of parliament which would leave Egypt virtually the prey of a dictator for an indefinite time, since no circles here even profess to believe that Fuad intends to surrender his powr at the end of three years, has caused extreme agitation far beyond the nationalist Wafd groups.

Labor leaders thruout Egypt are alive to the peril to Egyptian workers and peasants which the continuance of British domination and Fuad's subservience entails. The length of the Nile there is a stir of apprehension and anger in the Egyptian villages which is only somewhat less than that which shook them a number of years ago and made the British authorities see their power slipping.

The feeling against the dissolution of parliament is especially strong in the cities, however, where the workers are denouncing Fuad's action while they eagerly watch whatever counter-action the Wafd may develop.

JAPAN PLANNING NEW CHINA GRAB

LONDON, July 23 (UP).—Japan has decided to offer to negotiate a new treaty with the Nanking government, but to decline to permit China to cancel the present treaty as the Kuomintang desires, an Exchange Telegraph Tokio dispatch said today.

* * *

SHANGHAI, July 23—That Japan is preparing to strike in China in the near future was intimated by statements in the Japanese press in which Premier Tanaka is quoted as saying that Japan is preparing to take measures against the Nanking government should that government jeopardize Japanese treaty rights.

Taking measures is generally accepted as meaning following up the Tsinan advance with seizures of new territory north and west of the present encroachments.

DEPRESSION HITS FASCIST ROUMANIA

THE severe economic depression in Rumania which has become practically chronic in character, and is being shouldered entirely by the proletariat and the peasantry, is causing wide-spread dissatisfaction and resentment. This has been amply shown by several strikes and demonstrations held in many industrial districts of Rumania. With the aid of the Siguaranza and military authorities, the bourgeois government is doing its utmost to crush the labor movement by increasing its terrorist measures. One of these measures which is militating especially against working-ing-class interests and capable of severely jeopardising the whole labor movement, is the government's intention to close the unitary trade unions. Should it be borne in mind that these unions are the only legal labor organizations upholding the class struggle, then the absolute necessity, not only of preserving them, but of strengthening and developing them, becomes very plain.

The Executive Bureau of the Red International of Labor Unions, having studied the position of the trade union movement in Rumania and all its defects, adopted a resolution, which in fact points out the basic tasks confronting the trade union organizations of Rumania.

Its Tasks.

1. The struggle to legalize the trade unions is directly bound up with the struggle to increase wages in conformity with the rise in the cost-of-living index. To struggle for the 7-hour day, and for social insurance, etc.
2. Centralization of trade union organizations, and their reconstruction on the industrial principle.
3. To set up the united front at the enterprises to struggle for the everyday demands of the workers, utilizing as a basis the factory committees and committees of agricultural workers.
4. Organization and guidance of revolutionary elements inside the reformist unions.
5. Organization of unemployed committees and organization of agricultural workers in separate trade unions.

Urges Workers to Protest.

The creation and training of a broad contingent of active trade-union workers for the locals.

To carry out a campaign to recruit new members for the unions.

The organization of educational activities among trade unionists, to struggle against government cultural organizations and attempts to establish them among the workers. To set up youth sections, trade union papers to be published; to set up firm connections with the Red International of Labor Unions; to propagate and put into execution the decisions of the Fourth Congress and former Congresses.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Pay Last Respects to Murdered President

Photo shows the funeral procession of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Mexican president-elect, who was murdered by a religious fanatic, passing down Juarez Ave., in Mexico City. Obregon was elected July 1 and was to have assumed office in September.

SIGNIFICANT DECLINES IN 1928 EMPLOYMENT

By LELAND OLDS.
(Federated Press)

For the first time since 1923 Illinois factory employment increased in June, according to the state department of labor. A 2.4 per cent increase over the number of factory workers employed in May casts an amusing light on Coolidge prosperity. Industry may be breathing a sigh of relief at the assurance that Cal is slated for the discard.

The June increase in employment is not sufficient to bring the level up to a year ago. The number of factory employes in the state still falls 2.7 per cent short of June, 1927 and 17.4 per cent under June, 1923. The span of Coolidge prosperity has seen a sixth of the factory workers in Illinois lose their jobs.

The improvement over May is generally distributed over the major industries. But all the major industries except that including machinery, metals and conveyances report fewer employes than in June, 1927. The figures reveal declines compared with a year ago in a majority of industries manufacturing consumer goods usually sold on the installment plan.

Iron and Steel Increase.

Outstanding increases in employment compared with June, 1927, were iron and steel .6 per cent, autos and accessories 30.6 per cent, agricultural implements 18 per cent, women's clothing 9.7 per cent, women's underwear 3.7 per cent, women's hats 20.8 per cent and dairy products 6.5 per cent. There was a slight increase in workers making machinery. Practically all other industries reported fewer workers than a year ago.

Some of the declines, compared with June, 1927, are hard to explain except on the basis of improved machinery. Although building construction is running ahead of last year practically all manufacturers of building materials report considerable reductions in working forces as follows: stone products a decline of 8.8 per cent, lime, cement and plaster 25 per cent, brick, tile and plaster 7.1 per cent, sheet metal and hardware 6 per cent, saw and planing mills 14.4 per cent.

Significant declines, compared with a year ago, among industries producing consumer goods were cooking and heating apparatus 5.1 per cent, electrical apparatus 2.4 per cent, watches and jewelry 3.4 per cent, furniture 14.1 per cent, pianos and musical instruments 30.5 per cent, household furnishings 10.3 per cent, furs and fur goods 26.8 per cent, cotton and woolen goods 10.5 per cent, knit goods and hosiery 19.8 per cent, mens clothing 7 per cent, mens shirts and furnishings 9.2 per cent, men's hats, caps 9.5 per cent. Except for dairy products all the industries grouped under food beverages and tobacco show employment considerably reduced from a year ago, and even the manufacturers of drugs have cut their forces 4 per cent.

Mine Jobs Decrease.

Trade, including department stores, wholesale and mail order establishments, shows a decline of 3.1 per cent in employment compared with June, 1927, public utilities a slight increase and coal mining a big increase since the strike of a year ago. But there are still only a third as many miners employed as in 1922. Building construction afforded about 8 per cent more jobs than a year ago.

The June report of the Illinois department of mines reflects accurately the situation in the coal industry. The report shows 114 mines operating out of about 400 in the state. These 114 mines worked an average of 14.1 days during the month, or about half time. A total of 34,232 miners were employed out of an estimated total of 75,000 in the state. At one time there were more than 100,000 coal miners in Illinois.

The situation in the mines is an improvement over May when 105 mines operated an average of 13.9 days and employed 29,779.

UNEMPLOYMENT RISES IN ENGLAND

LONDON, July 23.—Official figures on British unemployment show an increase during the last month and is even greater than February 1927, shortly after the termination of the coal strike.

The percentage of unemployed among the 11,800,000 registered workers on June 25 was 10.8 as against 9.9 a month earlier and 8.8 a year ago.

Since the month of June there has been a further increase in unemployment, the number on July 9 being 1,242,000 which was 24,922 more than the week before.

Nearly more than half of the increased unemployment occurred in the mining industry. The number of miners employed at present is the lowest at any time since the coal strike.

LISBON REVOLT IS SPREADING THRU NEW DISTRICTS

Fighting Continues in Spite of Setback

LISBON, Portugal, July 23.—Government troops continued thru the night to attack and whenever possible to disarm armed bodies of Portuguese workers who had joined the revolt of seventh regiment and other forces at the Castello Sao Jerge here.

The utmost brutality is reported to have been used by the government detachments in subduing the outbreak. The number of slain and injured cannot as yet be estimated but it is confidently believed that it runs into the hundreds.

All attempts of the authorities to minimize the extent and seriousness of the disturbance have been frustrated by the persistence with which the fighting between the government troops and the untrained and badly armed civilians aiding the revolting soldiers in the Castello, has persisted.

Thruout the country disturbances among the peasantry and the soldiers have led to the belief that the immediate setback to the revolt in Lisbon might not mean the end of the outbreak. Outbreaks are reported from Barreiro, Entroncamento and Setubal.

International Press Correspondence
The most reliable and complete reorts of current events in the International labor movement.
Report of proceedings of the Sixth World Congress of the Communist International now in session.
Subscription Rates:
One Yr. $6.00; 6 Mos., $3.50
Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Vote Communist
W. Z. FOSTER for President
BEN GITLOW for Vice-President

Order a Bundle!
Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.
Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.
Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.
$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).
Enclosed find $.........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

Reading Textile Strikers Walk-Out Grows; Local "Socialists" Give Police "Aid"

HANDOUTS

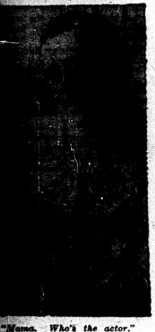
When I. Cohen, manager of the Fifth Avenue Theatre, accused of hanging nude pictures in his lobby asked John S. Sumner, secretary of the Society for the Suppression of Vice whether he had ever been in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Sumner answered, "Yes, I think so." He apparently couldn't just be sure. It might have been Gimbel Brother's department store.

• • •

The children of the poor develop their young bodies the way nature intended, pouring out into the spacious streets shared only by a certain amount of metropolitan traffic. They wallow in God's life-giving sunshine which breaks its way to them through a few skyscrapers and elevated railway tracks. They breathe the fresh salt sea air perfumed by a few thousand exhaust pipes. They are even occasionally given a sand hole behind a bill board which is hilariously referred to by the city fathers as a playground. But now the reason for playgrounds is disclosed in the report to the Regional Plan of New York. They increase realty values.

• • •

Royal Valet



"Mama. Who's the actor."

"That's Mr. Alexander, King of Jugoslavia."

"Is that a moving picture?"

"No, he's a real king."

"I thought they didn't make 'em any more."

"Oh, yes, the capitalists use them along with preachers, judges and senators to make the worker think he isn't very important."

"Why?"

"So he won't think he ought to have anything to say about ruling."

"He can vote, can't he?"

"For whether he will work 12 hours a day by the alarm clock or the sun dial."

"Well, kings have to work, don't they."

"Oh, yes. This one gets $1,000,000 a year. He has to work hard to get it spent or pretty soon another million comes along and first thing he knows his house is all cluttered up."

• • •

The Rumanian government has just given Henry Ford the Grand Cross of the Order of the Crown. There is just cause for this mutual admiration. Rumania tortures its workers on the rack. Henry Ford on the belt.

• • •

Feng Yu-hsiang has just shown his gratitude to 20,000 Nationalist soldiers who were killed a year ago at Nankow Pass by reading them a very thoughtful letter. These dead soldiers have no reason not to feel well rewarded now.

• • •

At Your Own Risk

The principles of physical culture disseminated by that great benefactor of the human race, Bernarr MacFadden, have set thousands of workers on the road to health. The following few simple rules will be found invaluable to workers:

Go through the above exercises as often as your husband will allow, on arising.

Play croquet, dominoes and golf during the morning.

Lie on the beach with plenty of sunshine during the afternoon.

Sleep in a large airy room away from the noise of street cars, etc.

Take plenty of auto rides in the country.

It is absurd for any textile worker earning $11 a week to be without health when plenty of advice such as the above can be obtained in any capitalist newspaper for two cents.

DAY SHIFT MEN JOIN NOE-EQUL NIGHT WORKERS

"Join the Union" Men Urge Aid for Strikers

(By a Worker Correspondent.)

READING, Pa. (By Mail).—The strike of full fashioned knitters against the Noe-Equl Textile Mills, Inc., which was precipitated a week ago by the "walk-out" of the entire night shift of knitters, consisting of twenty men, has been strengthened by the accession to their ranks of almost the entire day shift, until now the plant is in practically enforced idleness and only a pretense of operating is being made. While the "two machine" system is a source of great dissatisfaction to the knitters, it appears not to have become sufficient of an issue to suggest to the Noe-Equl strikers or the Full Fashioned Knitters' Union the necessity for a more widespread or even a city-wide strike of knitters in order to combat this evil, tho it is said that some of the smaller shops in the city are nearly 100 per cent organized (in secret).

More Walk Out.

Strikers claim that approximately seventy knitters and knitters' helpers are now out and that only two knitters are "scabbing it." They say that two new men who came in as strikebreakers, have already quit. At the time of the "walk out" the girls had been asked to go out also (altho no promise to organize them or to guarantee them strike benefits was made) and many of the girls responded. They returned to work subsequently, however, but were sent home again for the reason that there was no work to do since the knitters were not working.

Officials Neglect Girls.

Pretty raw deal for the girls on the part of the Knitters' Union, it seems to your correspondent, as the union might have organized them and guaranteed them a part of the strike relief, as a consequence receiving their active moral support and their assistance on the picket line, whereas, as things now are, one need not be surprised if the girls left now without either work or an income on which to maintain themselves for the duration of the strike, develop a feeling of bitterness toward the strikers for leaving them "out in the cold."

Protest Speed-up.

The original "walk-out" of the twenty men occurred as a result of the "firing" of two of their members for having refused to operate two instead of one machine. After being out in protest for three days the men were sent back to work by the Knitters' Union (the American Federation of Full Fashioned Hosiery Workers) in the hope that further negotiations with the bosses would result in an arrangement satisfactory to the knitters and thus avoid a formal strike. On the return of men to work, however, the bosses took advantage of the situation to discharge a large number of the workers whom they had singled out as "trouble makers" and responsible for the "walk-out." Faced with this situation the union leaders had no choice but to call the strike short of a downright betrayal of the knitters, including many union members. In the meantime and subsequent to the call, about fifty more knitters and helpers have joined their ranks. The mill is being picketed regularly thruout the working hours.

Strike Supported.

The strike is receiving widespread support, as is seen by statements made by Mayor Stump (socialist) and others prominent in the Reading Federated Trade Council and by representatives of the various unions (from outside the city) who are participating in the six-weeks "Joint the Union" drive being conducted by the Trades Council.

Mayor Stump is quoted as follows: "The city administration is frankly and wholeheartedly in sympathy with any group of workers attempting to improve their conditions or to establish an organization by legal and orderly methods. Instructions will be given to police to see that order is maintained but neither strikebreakers nor strikers will be favored in protection. You strikers have a perfect right to talk to anyone going into that mill that will talk and you have every right to explain to the world why you are on strike. I sincerely hope that you will stick solidly and revive enough spirit among hosiery workers to give them courage to firmly establish a responsible union here."

"Join the Union."

"Reading's duty is to stick to the Noe-Equl strikers. Those Noe-Equl boys are putting up a splendid fight for the entire industry," said Jeff Davis, "King of the Hoboes," one of the "Join the Union" speakers.

It is apparent that the bosses are trying to put over on the strikers a new trick by inserting in the Reading papers a "help wanted" advertisement for the Noe-Equl Textile Mills, Inc.

SHIP SINKS AFTER COLLISION

LISBON, July 22 (UP).—The Spanish steamer Serafino Ballesteros was rammed and sunk by the English steamer Delta in a fog three miles off Cape Roca early yesterday. The French steamer Elese rescued the crew of the Serafino Ballesteros.

Necessity Mother of Invention for Poor Kids

Children of the poor cannot go to the country or beach to escape the intense summer heat. These children in New York City streets improvised a novel shower bath by placing a barrel over a fire hydrant, with the above results.

COOPERATION HURT BY TENANT FARMING

By ESTHER LOWELL.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 20 (FP).—Co-operative marketing of cotton in North Carolina is not due for expansion in the 1928-'29 season. The North Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association will handle a little less than its usual 10 to 15 per cent of the state's crop.

Not that Carolina cotton farmers do not need cooperative action to help increase their yearly income From cotton, the farmers have averaged under $500 a year. But the average conceals the fact that three-fourths of the cotton farmers are tenants who give up one-third to one-half of their crop for rent. The rest of their yearly incomes goes for food, clothing, fertilizer, interest on borrowed money, too often leaving the farm tenant actually in debt—by the landlord's figures.

Movement Weakened.

Collapse of the Tri-State Tobacco Assn. two years ago weakened co-op sentiment in Virginia and the Carolina, where it operated. Many Carolina tobacco growers are also cotton growers, and belonged to marketing co-ops for both crops None of the farmers' suits against the North Carolina cotton co-op, attempted after the Tri-State debacle came to court however, and the cotton organization's standing is generally recognized as good.

The co-op is not staging any big membership drive. Its energies under Manager U. B. Blalock are devoted to making the association a "business organization of business farmers." As Blalock sees it, the co-op must satisfy not only its members that it serves, but must do the same for the cotton-buying manufacturers and for the financing bankers.

A Trick.

Membership is nearly 10 per cent less this season in the co-op because of a new agreement, permitting members to withdraw. Most of the growers who quit raise comparatively few bales and wanted to see if the newly inserted withdrawal clause really works, believes Blalock. Membership in the co-op is open to all cotton growers of the state—white or black, landlord or tenant.

This year for the first time all the co-op's bales have been sold to Carolina textile manufacturers. The co-op's carrying charges and operating costs have steadily lessened in its six years' existence to below $4.30 a bale. Since the organization is non-stock, non-profit, 1 per cent of each member's return is put into a reserve fund. This provides advances to members on their first delivery of cotton each season, besides giving assurance of the organization's financial rating. The co-op gets its members credit at 4½ per cent instead of the 10 to 30 per cent interest that non-members are charged.

Cotton farm children begin work when they are young and often miss several months of the 6 or 8-month school term. The mothers work in the fields as well as in the home And withal the family has a poor enough living, raising little of its own foodstuffs in order to have more land for cotton—the money crop, or debt crop that it is for many tenants. Health is neglected and digestive and dental disorders are common.

RANK AND FILE HIT OFFICIALS

Unemployed Unaided By Union Heads

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, (By Mail).—At a special meeting held by local 86 of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, on June 28, the members practically rebelled against the Amalgamated officials of New York. Member after member took the floor and spoke against the policies of the officials, against the expulsions, speed-up system, reduction in wages. Some of the members pointed out that in the time that thousands of Amalgamated members are unemployed and starving, the officials are going into the real estate business, building up houses for themselves and building up banking houses.

The meeting condemned the convention in Cincinatti as useless and held only as a good time for the delegates and privileged visitors. The meeting in voting the referendum of the convention voted down Hillman and Schlossberg received only eight votes, all the others were against them. The general executive board received about seven votes.

8-HOUR DAY FOR WOMEN DEFEATED

Big Exploiters Combine Against Workers

NEW ORLEANS (FP).—With the aid of the New Orleans press and the civic associations the 8-hour day for women was killed in the Louisiana senate by almost unanimous vote. Arguments used by the newspapers were that the measure would scare new enterprises from locating in the state. Employers can work their help up to 60 hours a week.

Employment of convict labor by the Louisiana highway commission was legalized though 30 per cent of free labor is unemployed. It was stated that there are 1,200 able-bodied men on the state penal farm and only enough work for 400 of them.

Chinese University Denounces Japanese

WASHINGTON, July 22 (FP).—Copies of a pamphlet issued May 20 by the faculty and students of Tsing Hua University, at Peking, denouncing the Japanese massacre of Chinese Nationalist soldiers, officials and civilians at Tsinanfu, reached all Washington press writers on July 20. The statements contained in this document are similar to those made at the time, in the first week of May, that the Tsinanfu conflict occurred. Japan's government is pictured as militaristic, ruthless toward China, and a danger to the peace of the Orient.

Freiheit Orchestra Needs More Members

The Freiheit Symphony Orchestra of Branch 458 of the Women's Circle will hold their first meeting Tuesday at 1472 Boston Road. All workers who play string, brass, or woodwind instruments or drums and tympani are invited to join the orchestra, which will serve the left wing of the labor movement.

Prospective members are urged to come in time for their examinations.

POWDER BLAST—NONE HURT

CARLSTADT, N. J., July 22 (UP).—Residents in four adjoining counties were awakened this morning by the shock of an explosion that was seen for about 20 miles and which wrecked a fireworks store house near here. No one was injured. Buildings within a radius of six or eight miles were shaken by the blast, but its great effect was [illegible]

Young Workers League Forms New N. J. Unit

PLAINFIELD, N. J., July 20.—The Plainfield branch of the Young Workers (Communist) League is glad to announce that it has been organized. Its first regular meeting was held on July 13.

The first meeting was attended by an enthusiastic group of young workers. A successful and strong unit is expected as a result of this

THOMAS ASSAILS RASKOB.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 20 (FP).—Norman Thomas, socialist presidential nominee, tore John J. Raskob new democratic national boss, to shreds at the socialist party's state convention.

"Not only is John J. Raskob chairman of the open-shop General Motors," he said, "he is bound up with the duPont interests which grow rich on wars, big and little. He is part of the group which made a determined effort to get the St Lawrence water power for private development."

BOOST INITIATION FEE.

Unions affiliated with Painters' District Councils in Greater New York have boosted initiation feer from $75 to $200. Only one union German Painters' Local [illegible] voted to retain the old fee.

PRINTING PLANT SPEEDS UP MEN TO EXHAUSTION

Former Soldier Tells of Work Dangers

(By a Worker Correspondent)

I am taking this means of Workers' Correspondence in bringing out the conditions that prevail on the job I am on, in a large paper bag concern in Brooklyn, which owns its own mills in Vermont. They do business all over the United States and their profits are increasing by leaps and bounds.

I have been with this concern ever since I left the Army, where I learned my present trade—printing. Of course I was fortunate in learning the printing trade in the Army where I served two terms—six years. but do not misunderstand me, my love for the Army isn't any to great to rave about. Ever since I left the Army I have learned quite a bit what the army is for, thanks to the daily worker.

The firm I work for manufactures various sorts of paper bags—candy millinery, potato chips, haberdashers and many others, too numerous to mention. My job is to print on those bags the various business names and advertisements for the customers.

Originally I used to print about ten thousand a day on a Gordon job press, then the foreman began hounding me to turn out more work and, of course, I taxed all my energy to comply with his wishes and so the foreman had his wishes granted.

There is the danger of getting a hand caught in the press in the act of feeding. It occurs very often amongst us printers. I was laid up at one time for six weeks with a crushed hand and all I got was a measly few dollars compensation after the usual red tape I had to go through.

The bosses do not tolerate any worker speaking unionism in the plant and anyone that does, is fired off the job with the usual ceremonies.

The scale of wages prevailing in this slave driving institute is as low as $22.00 and as high as $32.00 per week for 50 hours per week when a full weeks work is to be had. It is a common occurrence for the printing department to run two and three days a wek less, that means so much less in the pay envelope at the end of the week. Of course this is due to the terrific speed-up system that prevails.

'NERVOUS NELLIE' FEARS ASSASSIN

Wants to be Thought A Great Man

WASHINGTON, (FP). — Secretary of State Kellogg, known to the "irreverent" as "Nervous Nellie," is now guarded day and night by a policeman of the district metropolitan force. Since the assassination of Gen. Obregon, Kellogg has seen fit to have a policeman in uniform stationed in the corridor outside his door, where press correspondents enter to attend daily conferences Another "copper" stands guard outside the Kellogg residence.

Macy's Stockholders Receive Big Rake-Off

The board of directors of R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., at an adjourned meeting held today voted to recommend an increase in the number of shares from 750,000 to 2,500,000, and to tender to each stockholder of record on August 20th, 1928, the right to subscribe for two shares for each share standing in his name, at $10 per share for each new share.

It is expected that the corporation will pay dividends at the annual rate of $2 per share on the increased number of shares. It is anticipated that the 5 per cent stock dividend paid in 1928 will be continued as a policy, on the total number of shares outstanding.

John Golden's New Production "Intruder" at Biltmore July 30

JOHN GOLDEN launched two of his new productions this week. The first, a new play by Kenyon Nicholson titled "Eva the Fifth," opened in Asbury Park. Early this spring the script was seen as "Fly-By-Night" in the nearby circuit and received favorable mention.

The other play is the new comedy by Philip Dunning under the title of "Night Hostess," which began rehearsals this week.

• • •

The Macauley Company has arranged for the immediate publication of "The Intruder," by Paul Eldridge, the play which Edward Sargeant Brown is presenting at the Biltmore Theatre next Monday night. "Another Salome," by the same author, which is to follow "The Intruder" at the Biltmore, is being published simultaneously. Mr. Eldridge's novel, "My First Two Thousand Years," upon which he collaborated with George Sylvester Viereck, is also to be brought out at the same time by the publishers.

• • •

George Olsen and his band will remain a feature of "Good News" at the Chanin 46th St. Theatre till October 1.

• • •

Max Marcin has placed into rehearsal "Trapped," which he wrote in collaboration with Samuel Shipman. The cast includes Felix Krembs, John Miltern, Frank Monroe, Calvin Thomas, Linda Watkins, Mary Robinson, Alf Helton and Ralph Locke.

• • •

Hilda Vaughan has been engaged for an important role in Bartlett Cormack's dramatization of Joseph Hergesheimer's novel, "Tampico." The show, which goes into rehearsal in August, will be the first Jones and Green production of the season.

• • •

Luna Park's red-headed bathing beauty contest will be held August 10. More than three hundred entries have been received to date.

GEORGES RENAVENT

Who has been engaged by Brock Pemberton for his new production, "Going Home," a play by Ransom Rideout, due here early this season.

A U. F. A. production, "The Love Pirate," directed by Dr. Arthur Robinson, with Paul Richter (known here for his "Siegfried"), Rudolph Kleine-Rogge (the mad inventor of "Metropolis,") and Aud Egede Nissem in the cast, will be shown at the 55th St. Playhouse beginning today

"Forbidden Hours," Metro's new picture starring Ramon Novarro, with Renee Adoree, comes to the Capitol Theatre this Saturday.

GUILTY VERDICT AGAINST AMTER

Conviction Follows Police Attack

CLEVELAND, July 22.—Israel Amter, district secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party, was found guilty of disorderly conduct at the "Peace" Conference, held here recently, but the costs were suspended.

The city produced but one witness, the officer who was ordered by a plain clothes man to arrest Amter, ostensibly for disturbing the meeting and preventing the officers from arresting another person.

The officer did not even know where Amter had been standing during the dispute. He admitted that when dragging Amter out of the meeting "somebody," whom he did not know, smashed Amter in the face. All of which was perfectly proper.

Amter told the whole story of the event, but good Judge Mylan found him guilty but remitted the costs. This much was to be expected. Prosecuting Attorney Levin, the posing prosecutor, did not attempt much cross-questioning, for Amter openly accused the detective department of shielding the detective who struck him in the face. The detective department pretends not to be able to ascertain the identity of this "hero," and dares not disclose his name, for the liberal press assailed the authorities for the methods employed at the Peace Conference.

FARM VALUES SHRINK.

GALESBURG, Ill., July 22.—Farm land in Knox county, Illinois has shrunk in value more than $32,000,000 since the war-time peak, according to census figures cited by the county farm bureau.

FISH WORKERS ORGANIZE.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 22.—Workers of the pickled and dried fish industries have organized themselves into a union here recently.

FAKERS PERMIT NON-UNION WORK IN MARBLE FIRM

Protest Does Not Bring Any Action

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Time and again many workers have said that our present craft unions are incapable of solving the workers' problems.

The following example is an instance: On the north side of Taylor Ave., between Archer St. and Wood Ave., Bronx, seven three family brick houses are being erected.

The tile-setting was done by the Murray Hill Tile and Marble Co. of 2713 East Tremont Ave., Bronx.

Union tile-setters worked on the kitchen and bathroom walls. The kitchen floors and the bathroom floors were done by non-union labor.

One day the union tile-setters came for the job and found the non-union help there. They told all the other workers employed in these buildings of this fact.

None of the other workers could do anything for the union tilesetters without the permission of their respective business agents. Nothing was done and the non-union tile-setters finished their work while the other union men had to look on.

This is a typical instance which occurs in the building trades at present.

It is about time that union conditions were enforced on the jobs. If there ever was a time it is right now

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:30
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S
MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied
With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family
in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way
Wis. 1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT"

FARMER RUNS AMUCK.

SYDNEY, Australia, July 20 (UP).—Thomas Walker, retired farmer of Bendigo, ran amuck today and shot and killed his wife and two other persons, set fire to his farm house and committed suicide.

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

Vacation-Reading
SUGGESTIONS
LENINISM—By J. Stalin $2.50
FOUNDATIONS OF IMPERIALIST POLICY—By M. Pavlovitch 1.10
DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY—By Ognyov 2.50
HISTORY OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL—By G. M. Stekloff 3.50
ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION 2.50
MISLEADERS OF LABOR—By Wm. Z. Foster 1.25
REPORT OF THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE C. P. S. U. .... .60
ORGANIZATION OF A WORLD PARTY—By Osip Piatnitsky .... .15
WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th Street, NEW YORK CITY

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

Milliners Pledge Their Support to Big Shop Canference Relief of Striking Miners

CHAIRWOMEN OF LOCAL 43 TO AID THURSDAY MEET

Militant N. Y. Workers Rally to Call

At a meeting held late last week at the Stuyvesant Casino the shop chairwomen of Local 43, Millinery Workers Union, heartily endorsed the shop delegates conference for miners relief to be held Thursday at 6 o'clock at Bryant Hall, 42nd St. and 6th Ave., and pledged the support of their shops to the extent of taking immediate charge of the election of delegates.

Progressive workers throughout the city are rallying more strongly than ever to the support of the striking miners and their families. With the abject and spineless surrender of Lewis and his district corruptionists logically following his fifteen months of do-nothing policy of constant retreat and the militant call for the formation of a new union rising spontaneously from tens of thousands of miners completely disillusioned with the decadent United Mine Workers, the furnishing of food, tents and medical aid become of even more importance than heretofore. The formation of a new miners' union is of the utmost importance to the whole labor movement, it presenting an unbroken front at the front line of the bosses' open-shop drive. Only if the miners and their families are fed and sheltered, if medical aid is provided, will they march on to victory under the banner of militant unionism.

The shop and factory workers from 14th to 59th St., realizing the grave import of the new union call, will respond by the hundreds to the Miners' Relief Conference of July 26. Already milliners, dressmakers, furriers and cloakmakers have endorsed the action of the Provisional Committee in calling the conference. All shops and factories are urged to elect delegates for this urgent conference, which will convene to consider ways and means on how best to support the army of miners and their families on the front of the open-shop war.

N. Y. YOUTH AIDS MILL WORKERS

Send $175 to Textile Strikers

The Youth Conference for Miners' and Textile Relief has sent along with its representative P. Frankfeld to New Bedford, Mass., a check for $175 for relief to the striking textile workers. This is the first contribution made to the striking textile workers. The Youth Relief Conference expects to send many more hundreds of dollars in the immediate future.

Frankfeld, in presenting the check to the textile workers, brought greetings from the 55 young worker and student organizations affiliated with the Youth Conference. He spoke briefly to the strikers at both their mass meetings Sunday, July 22nd. His speech was interspersed with applause. When he handed over the check to the chairman the strikers cheered.

The Youth Conference has sent in over $5,500 for relief to the striking miners. The Youth Conference has made its first contribution to the support of the textile workers and will hold a tag day this coming Saturday, July 28th, for the miners and textile workers.

This sign of solidarity on the part of the New York working youth will be followed up with many and more generous contributions for the relief of the textile workers.

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Harlem I. L. D.

The Harlem I. L. D. will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. at 143 E. 103rd St. Subject, campaign to release Mooney and Billings.

• • •

Working Women's Council.

The regular meeting of the Central Body of the United Council of Working Women will be held on Thursday evening, July 26th, at the Workers Center, 6th floor, Room 3, at [illegible] p. m.

• • •

[illegible] Bronze Workers Meet.

[illegible] quarterly meeting of the union will be held this evening, at 7 East 15th Street, at 8 p. m.

• • •

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at [illegible] 30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the [illegible] of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send [illegible], and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

• • •

Volunteers For I. L. D.

Volunteers are wanted at the National Office of the International Defense, 80 East 11th St., Room 403, [illegible] between 9:30 a. m. and 6 p. m.

I. L. D. Outing.

[illegible] outing will be held on Saturday, [illegible] 11 at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay [illegible] Bronx, under the auspices of [illegible] New York Section, International [illegible] Defense. Take Bronx Park [illegible] or "L" to 177th St., then take [illegible] car to end of line. Free [illegible] to park.

Former Champion in Ballyhoo Act for Heavyweight Challenger

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, has joined the publicity staff which is helping to build a reputation for Tom Heeney, New Zealand boxer, who will meet Gene Tunney for the title in the Yankee Stadium Thursday night. Heeney has been little better than a mediocrity in the past, but thousands of suckers will pay fancy prices to see him perform Thursday. Photo shows the ex-champion on the left and Heeney on the right at the challenger's training camp.

'RED ESSEX' GETS A BIG WELCOME

Continued from Page One

tion for relief at the republican convention, a group of them declared that no farmers had taken part in the demonstration. They denounced farmers co-operatives, union for workers and labor parties. The solution of the labor problem was for them just a matter of individual effort on the part of each farmer.

When we had finally obtained our quota, we had talked with probably about 90 per cent of all proletarians in the county. And we certainly had to use all of our persuasive abilities on them.

As for the small merchants—though the summer resort business has fallen off tremendously this year on account of the unemployment in New York—they were still unable to see their growing community of interest with the working class.

Italians, Negroes, Give Support

Thus far we have found the greatest support coming from the Italians and Negroes. Thus we are demonstrating that the basis of a Workers Party is among the most exploited class of workers.

Unemployment is to be found in every city of the state. The plank in the platform of the Workers (Communist) Party demanding unemployment relief has ben of great help in obtaining signatures.

The extreme weakness of the unions has also been a detriment to us. When we mention the desire of the Workers (Communist) Party to organize unions, workers are often repelled. They have been disillusioned by the American-Federation-of-Labor kind of unionism. Many declare that they would never join another union. Such was the case in Troy, where an unorganized strike of collar workers was won in three days. After the strike was over, none of them would listen to proposals to form a union.

Propose Workers' Council

Instead, we proposed in a Daily Worker story that a factory workers 'council be formed. Members of the Workers (Communist) Party in Troy will continue this agitation.

VOTE BUYING TO BREAK RECORDS

$30,000,000 to Be Spent By Old Parties

Continued from Page One

a portion of what is really expended. The reported total, moreover, does not include the millions spent throughout the country in the various state fights for the election of congressmen and other officials.

$3,000,000 In All.

Informed observers are willing to wager that fully $30,000,000 will be expended this year by both old parties. The contributions as in the past will undoubtedly be made by the same large corporations to both old parties, their purpose being to maintain control of both political machines.

• • •

May Name "Socialist."

The Executive Committee of the Democratic Party of New York State met yesterday afternoon and decided to hold its state convention in Rochester, October 1 and 2.

Rumers are current that George R. Lunn, former socialist and now a member of the up-state corrupt public service commission, will be pushed for the nomination for governor on the Tammany ticket.

Raskob to Turn "Democrat."

It was disclosed yesterday that John J. Raskob, open-ship, Morgan-connected, chairman of the Al Smith election campaign committee will become a "democrat" by being voted into the National Democratic Club. Raskob is now a member of the National Republican Club. The change will no taffect his politics, a witty politician was overheard to remark.

Raskob was proposed to the Democratic Club by George J. Atwell, its president and seconded by William F. Kenny, an old crony of Al Smith who is also a large holder of traction and power stocks. Another seconder was John F. Gilchrist, chairman of the New York State Transit Commission, and likewise an immediate follower the Tammany governor

YANKS LOSE DESPITE BABE RUTH'S 40TH

(By United Press)

Babe Ruth hit his fortieth home run of the season in the Yankee-Red Sox game yesterday, but the Yanks were unable to overcome an early lead. The Red Sox won, 8 to 3. Huggins used three pitchers in attempting to silence the Boston artillery.

Philadelphia's winning streak was halted when Milt Gaston let the Athletics down with six hits. The Washington Senators won by hitting Rommel and Grove freely. The score was 5 to 0.

• • •

The National League schedule allowed six teams to take a day off Monday, and the Pittsburgh-Brooklyn battle for the leadership of the second division occupied the spotlight.

Fussell and McWeeney waged a pitchers' duel, the Pirates winning, 2 to 1. Fussell gave Brooklyn six hits. McWeeney yielded five. The victory put the Pirates within five percentage points of Brooklyn.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

National League
Pitsburgh, 2; Brooklyn, 1.
No others scheduled.

American League
Boston, 8; New York, 3.
Washington, 5; Philadelphia, 0.
St. Louis, 10; Cleveland, 0.
No other games scheduled.

• • •

U. S. OLYMPIC COACH PESSIMISTIC

After clocking the sprinters and distance men, Lawson Robertson, head coach of the American Olympic team, grew pessimistic over the chances of breaking any records when the Olympic Games open. Robertson blames the climate, the muggy atmosphere, which is caused by the fact that Amsterdam is almost level with the sea, which is affecting the American team.

FASCISTS WORE MATE'S CLOTHES

Krassin Heroes to Visit United States

Continued from Page One

Krassin, wore clothes belonging to Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meterologist, who was left to die on the ice by Zappi and Capt. Albert Mariano.

This was revealed today by the correspondent of Tass, the Soviet news agency, aboard the Krassin. Zappi wore two pairs of trousers, two suits of underwear and three pairs of socks when he was taken aboard the Krassin, the Tass correspondent states. He also had with him a compass belonging to Dr. Malmgren. Mariano, Zappi's companion, wore only one pair of pants, one suit of underwear and two pairs of socks.

Zappi also refused to turn over letters entrusted to Malmgren by Prof. F. Behounek, Czecho-Slovakian meterologist, before the walking party of Malmgren and the two Italians started over the ice to bring aid to the others.

the fascist Nobile expedition rescued by the Soviet ice-breaker

CONFER ON NEW TEXTILE UNION

More Regional Parleys to Be Held

Continued from Page One

Relief. Textile militants from New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island, representing centers such as Manchester, Nachua, Concord, Fitchburg, Maynard, Lowell, Lawrence, Adams, North Adams, Salem, Waltham, New Bedford, Fall River, Providence, Pawtucket, Woonsocket, Arctic, Natio, Taunton, and the Connecticut Valley and Blackstone Valley districts will attend this conference.

Weisbord To Report.

The third preliminary conference will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., August 5 in Philadelphia, 531 North 7th Street, the meeting place of the district Trade Union Educational League. Active textile workers from Wilmington, Chester, Kensington, Allentown, Bethlehem, Easton, Phillipsburg, Trenton, and from the anthracite counties of Pennsylvania will be present.

In all of these conferences there will be a report by Albert Weisbord, national secretary of the Textile Mill Committees and following a discussion on this report, the conference will work out the immediate steps to be taken to insure the success of the national convention to build a new textile union.

U. S. WILL AID NANKING GOV'T.

Recognition Soon Is Seen

Continued from Page One

conference will be a virtual recognition of the Nanking government, since the powers will unite in dealing with it as the official government of China.

Intimations are that the United States has a program of its demands which it will submit to the proposed conference ahead of the other powers.

• • •

Northern Troops Mutiny

SHANGHAI, July 23.—Five thousand soldiers, former troops of Chang-Tsun-Chang, military governor of Shantung, who had recently been incorporated into the Nanking armies, mutinied yesterday in a battle which lasted 18 hours.

During the fighting foreign powers seized on the opportunity to land patrols from their battleships.

Driving out the Nanking commander, who took refuge aboard a British vessel, the troops rapidly gained control of Cheffo and hauled down the Nanking banner.

The first act of the new authorities was to close the Bank of Communications which handles the commercial relations of the port. The manager of the bank was arrested.

Chang-Tsun-Chang ie believed to be on his way to Chefoo aboard a gunboat flying the northern flag.

• • •

U. S. Sailor Wounded

SHANGHAI, July 23—One American sailor was wounded accidentally during fighting last night between the nationalists and forces of General Chang-Chung-Chang, reports from Chefoo said today.

STRIKE FILM TO BE SHOWN AT BIG MINE AID AFFAIR

Solidarity Parade to Feature Aug. 5 Fair

The first showing of the moving pictures taken of scenes of the miners' strike in Pennsylvania and Ohio will be made at Pleasant Bay Park on August 5th, at the Miners' Solidarity Fair being conducted by the National Miners' Relief Committee of 799 Broadway. There, the release of the film will be one of the outstanding features of an evening's entertainment destined to be unique among picnics.

As soon as evening falls, a huge Solidarity Parade will form at one end of the wide green with banners and slogans expressing the unflinching solidarity of New York workers with their striking brothers and sisters of the mine fields. Various workers' clubs and trade unions will line up en masse in the parade, among them the Working Women's Federation and Councils of Workingclass Women. As the parade will get under way, a moving picture operator will "shoot" the march. The film will then be added to the movies of the miners' strike, making a complete picture for national release.

The program will be made extremely colorful by the mass singing in native costumes by Hungarian, Lithuanian and Ukrainian workers, and also native dances, such as the popular Polish national dance by eight dancers. The affair will be international in more than one aspect, it including the foods of many nationalities. "Schachlik" will be served a la carte.

The solidarity of all progressive New York workers with the striking miners has, if possible, increased tremendously since the call for the convention to form a new miners' union, and an attendance of at least 20,000 workers is expected. Tickets may be bought for 35 cents each at the office of the National Miners' Relief Committee, 799 Broadway, Room 237. To all organizations buying blocks of 100 tickets or more, a special price of 20 cents each is being charged.

HEADS SELL OUT SHIRT STRIKE IN PERTH AMBOY

Partial Victory Won In Spite of This

(Special to the Daily Worker)

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 23.—The young shirt workers of the Jaco Co., on strike against a wage-cut and speed-up here for two weeks today, won a partial victory over the bosses this morning, in spite of the betrayal on the part of the Amalgamated organizers. On Friday 32 girls returned to work after a secret conference between Mr. Stern, an official of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and the operator, Schwartz. This conference was not authorized by the strike committee and met with great disapproval from the strikers.

Because of the insistence of the returned strikers, Veronica Kovacs, militant strike leader, was given back her job. For the same reason other girls were given back their jobs. These were originally eliminated by the readjustments made Friday. For those girls who were least militant the owner of Jaco Co. gave a "party."

All the girls are angry, nevertheless, at the action and attitude of the Amalgamated officials. The girls declare the strike a sell-out. Mr. Stern of the Amalgamated said Friday that he would do as he pleased and not listen to the strike committee. It is known that the same Mr. Stern told the boss to take the girls back and pay the old wage-scale, miserable as it was, and that at the end of two weeks to effect the wage-cut he had originally intended to put over. The wages ranged from $4 to $12 and, in few instances, reaching $18 and $20 per week.

Mr. Stern and Mr. Monas, both of the Amalgamated, did not show up to a meting that was planned with the strike committee, although they had promised to be there.

The girls are ready to fight on despite the treacherous sell-out by the Amalgamated officials. The Young Workers (Communist) League stands ready to aid them at any time.

Explosion in Grocery Injures Three Persons

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 23 (UP).—Six persons were seriously injured when a gas explosion wrecked the John Nick grocery store here late today.

Three of the injured were water-works employes who were working in the basement. They were buried undr debris but were rascued alive.

German Employment On Steady Decrease

BERLIN, July 23.—The number of unemployed in Germany is steadily increasing. The increase in the number of partly unemployed is especially great.

At present the partly paid members of the textile labor unions amounts to 22 per cent of the total membership; among the leather workers 22 per cent; in footwear trades 53 per cent; and in clothing 15 per cent of the total membership.

Negro Radical Patents a New Lock Invention

Henry Charlemagne, a Negro worker living in Anse-A-Vieux, Haiti, and a member of the Haitian Patriotic Union of America, one of the best known Negro radical and anti-imperialist organizations in the world, has just received from Washington the patent on his most recent invention.

It is a combination lock, that is listed in Washington as Serial No. 1,673,411.

British Cable Merger Extends Round World

LONDON, July 23.—A merger, just completed, has enlarged the British cable monopoly by an additional 8,000 miles of lines with 22 stations.

Workers Party Activities

Section 7 Meeting.

The campaign committee of Section 7 will meet Thursday, 8 p. m. at campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn. All chairmen of committees representing organizations in the campaign should not fail to attend.

• • •

Unit 4 Section 7.

Unit 4 Section 7 meets tomorrow at 8 p. m. at 1940 Benson Ave. The election campaign will be discussed.

• • •

International Branch 1.

International Branch 1 will hold an educational meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at 60 St. Marks Place, N. Y. All members are urged to be present.

• • •

Executive Subsection 3C.

The executive committee of Sub-Section 3C will hold a meeting tomorrow at 101 W. 27th St. at 6:30 p. m.

• • •

Sections 2 & 3.

The speakers class arranged by Sections 2 and 3 will start today at 3 p. m. at 101 West 27th Street. Ray Ragozin will be the instructor. All comrades who wish to join the class must report Tuesday.

• • •

Unit 3E 1F.

A very important meeting will be held of Unit 3E 1F today at 6:15 p. m., at 101 W. 27th St. Every comrade must be present. The roll call will be taken.

• • •

Unit 3E 2F.

The Unit 3E 2F will have a very important meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p. m., at 101 W. 27th St. All comrades must be present and on time. Roll call will be taken.

• • •

Campaign Discussion, B. 1, Sec. 5.

Everyone interested in the issues of the election campaign should attend the discussion at the headquarters of Branch 1, Section 5 today at 715 East 138th St., at 8:00 p. m. Prominent speakers will address the meeting. Discussion will follow from the floor.

• • •

Brooklyn Speakers Class.

The speakers class being held by Section 7 of the Workers (Communist) Party will hold its first session today at the section headquarters, 764 40th St., Boro Park. The class starts at 8 p. m., but all who wish to attend regularly should be at the meeting room at 7:45 p. m. promptly.

• • •

Daily Worker Agents, Section 7.

A conference of unit and subsection Daily Worker agents will be held today at 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th St.

• • •

Joint Industrial Conference of Sections 2 & 3.

A joint industrial conference of Sections 2 and 3 will be held today at 6 p. m. at 101 West 27th Street. All unit and subsection industrial organizers as well as representatives of the leading committees of the Party fractions of the I. L. G. W. U., Furriers, Millinery, Fancy Leather Goods and Office Workers must attend. A district representative will be present.

• • •

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

• • •

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

THE DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY

What does a boy of twelve think about in the land where workers rule?

This simple diary of a schoolboy in Soviet Russia has puzzled many a wise bourgeois critic. New standards, new ideas, a new life—richer and more creative. Such things seem at first unlikely and fantastic to a dusty brain.

But the "Diary" speaks for itself.

Price, $2.50

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

National Miners' Relief and Defense Week
JULY 22 to JULY 29 (Inclusive)

The Most Far-Reaching Drive for Funds Ever Undertaken to

HELP the STRIKING COAL MINERS

All workers' organizations—EVERYBODY—from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Canada to Mexico—MUST LEND A HAND!

Hunger haunts the mining camps. Strikers' children beg daily for just a slice of bread. Evictions continue. The terrorism of the police goes on day by day. The arrested miners, their wives and children must be defended, protected. Large shipments of food must be sent to the mining camps so that the miners will have strength to struggle on!

Mobilize All Forces for This Big Campaign! Collect Money Everywhere and From Everybody!

In Unions and Lodges; in shops and factories; in your neighborhood; from everyone you know and meet.

Enlist At Once!

Go to your city National Miners' Relief Committee or your local International Labor Defense and offer your services. Interest all organizations you are a member of. Organize Tag Days and House-to-House Collections. Write for further information.

Under the Joint Auspices of National Miners' Relief Committee, International Labor Defense. Forward All Funds to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation, Automobile, Accident, Health.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Telephone Stagg 5356
Dr. J. C. HOFFER
Surgeon Dentist
287 South 5th St., near Marcy Ave.
Brooklyn, N. Y.
Proletarian prices for proletarians

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

THE ARCHITECTURAL IRON, BRONZE & STRUCTURAL WORKERS UNION meets every second and fourth Tuesday of the month, at Rand School, 7 East 15th St., City. Headquarters: 7 East 15th St., City. Telephone: Stuyvesant 0144 and 2194.
A. Rosenfeld, Secretary.

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor..........ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor..........WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!
For the Workers!

Mexican Workers! On Guard!

No amount of capitalist newspaper ink and no amount of credulity on the part of unwary workers can make Luis N. Morones a representative of the Mexican working class. Mr. Morones, as a "leader" of the Mexican workers, represents the influence of the Mexican petty-bourgeoisie over the unripe sections of the workers, and represents Mr. Morones' own political career in delivering Mexican workers' support to causes other than that of the Mexican working class.

Morones—an outright careerist and a typical yellow trade union bureaucrat—is as much a tool of United States imperialism as any man who could be found in Mexico—if this does not entirely appear at present, it is only because of his limited opportunities.

But the resignation of Morones from the cabinet of President Calles, where he sat as minister of industry, commerce and labor as a reward for his reactionary influence in the labor movement, is a result of pressure from the clerical reaction on the Calles administration.

Was there ever a stranger political anomaly than this? Clerical reaction murdered Obregon. Now, the same clerical reaction succeeds in mobilizing the strongest forces in its own support with the cry of vengeance for the murder of Obregon! The fact that Morones had a political careerist quarrel with Obregon and that Obregon had refused, it is said, to include Morones in the new cabinet to be formed, is not enough to explain it. No amount of hysterical lying by the reactionary press can cover up the fact that the clerical and landlord reaction inspired and carried through the assassination of Obregon. The confession of the assassin was the confession of a religious fanatic in trying to justify an assassination for political purposes. For months the open threats of murder made by clerical leaders against Obregon had filled the press, and after the assassination, boasts came from the same source. The statements of Zertuche, chief of police in charge of the case, showed step by step the trail of the black robe of the clerical party in the murder. If Mr. Zertuche is later terrified into contrary statements, he will have a hard time making a plausible story. The church-and-landlord reaction murdered Obregon.

Now the church-and-landlord reaction is having its own way in stirring up the man-hunt for its political enemies on the basis of pretended vengeance for the murder. It is absolutely certain that some extraordinary power is lending assistance to this reaction. This reaction, a few months ago, defeated in bloody counter-revolution and in wild flight, is today apparently the strongest force in Mexican politics. Calles, plainly showing in the beginning that he knew the clerical forces committed the assassination, appears now afraid or unwilling to touch the Catholic reaction, but ready to obey its demand for a smashing drive against the forces of the working class. Already he has given in to the clerical demand for the ousting of what are called "labor men" from office.

It is not difficult to discern what force it is that gives the church-and-landlord reaction its strange forcefulness in this situation. The United States bankers during these several months have been putting pressure upon both Obregon and Calles to "make peace" with the church and to break up the relationship of forces in which Calles and Obregon were forced to fall back upon the arms of the working class and peasantry. The pressure of Ambassador Morrow had already made big headway with Obregon. Already the United States ambassador was assuming the right to dictate policy to Calles and to the incoming president-elect, before the assassination. Dispatches indicate that Morrow assumed a more arrogant attitude than ever after Obregon's death.

Now, under the influence of Morrow, the assassination of Obregon is being made the long looked for excuse for an exterminating drive against the labor movement and the peasantry. Morones, insignificant instrument of stronger men, is not the real object of attack, but only a convenient scapegoat. Can anyone imagine the United States bankers, in assuming control of Mexico, letting the clerical and landlord elements be sacrificed to the advantage of the working class and peasants? No, the workers and peasants of Mexico are the coveted slaves whom the United States bankers want to render helpless for exploitation. The church and the reactionary landlords, having also the lust to exploit these same workers and peasants, are too valuable allies of United States imperialism to be sacrificed. Under the new "friendship" of the Mexican politicians with the Wall Street bankers, the church is to be white-washed—and probably we are on the eve of a blood-bath for the working class.

The working class and peasants of Mexico are probably in for one of the severest trials of their history.

The revolution of Mexico can only be a revolution in so far as it is directed to driving the United States imperialists out of that country and at the same time to crush the power of the clergy and landlords. This is essentially the task of the workers and peasants. Other class elements that have had an interest in smashing up the power of the landlords and clargy, now show themselves completely suborned to the Yankee imperialists. The diplomatic art of Morrow has succeeded in subverting all other elements and isolating the working class and the poorest peasants.

The Mexican working class must prepare for the task of taking over the revolution into its own proletarian hands. Only the exploited peasants can travel the present road with the Mexican workers. The Communist Party of Mexico has big work ahead of it. It must undertake to shape the alliance of workers and peasants that will become the all-dominating force of the revolution and sweep away the parasites.

United States imperialism is and will remain its most powerful as well as its most deadly enemy.

The workers of the United States must be the readiest to help the Mexican workers and peasants to defeat the colossus of the North, which is in the act of swallowing Mexico.

CAMPAIGN CORNER

(Address all communications to Editor, Campaign Corner, 43 E. 125th St., New York.)

• • •

Comrade B. H. Lauderdale sends word from Texas that preparations for the state convention soon to be held are being completed. Under the Texas law parties go on the ballot by holding state conventions.

• • •

The fastest job getting out petitions anywhere was that of Comrade Oehler in Arkansas. Arriving in Little Rock Thursday, he had secured full details of the requirements of the law and had his petitions in circulation by Saturday.

Looks as though we will be on the ballot in Arkansas with our presidential electors and a full state ticket. The law requires petitions signed by 50 to 1,000 voters for each candidate.

• • •

We note that Smith is still on the front page of the World, although it must be admitted that he has sunk pretty low. This time he has resorted to lay bricks as a publicity stunt. Wonder how high up on the page he would have been had he laid a—no, not an egg—a brick. Although Al may be from the sidewalks of New York, who ever heard of him as a bricklayer anyway.

As a bricklayer Smith certainly makes a good president of any trucking corporation. It isn't every trucking corporation president who can boast that during his administration the city of New York conveniently decided to abolish several of its public markets, thus giving the trucking corporation an opportunity to extend its public service facilities without increasing the price of fresh foods too sharply.

• • •

Seems as though Al knows the game better than Herbert. While Herb is wasting time and money fooling around with expensive publicity agents who don't get much results, Al has organied a private menagerie which furnishes him much food for publicity. Besides this Al has a whole bag of other little tricks. Just watch and enjoy the fun, too.

• • •

The Workers (Communist) Party is in this election campaign to mobilize the working class for a fight against the capitalist class and their government.

• • •

If matters continue to go from bad to worse in Flint and more workers commence to go out on strike Mr. Raskob may find himself too busy strikebreaking to bother with campaign managing. Smith, being a man of the people, might disown Raskob and appoint a new campaign manager. This would be a striking piece of publicity, sure to land him on the front page of every paper in the country, but then what would happen to that $3,000,000 campaign fund that Wall Street must supply.

• • •

The honor of sending in the first donation to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund from the state of Massachusetts falls to Harry Batle of Orange, who forwarded a two-dollar bill together with a two-cent stamp for postage on his receipt.

• • •

The first lot of buttons is going so fast that the National Committee is considering an order for another quarter million. Any suggestions or drawings showing an improvement in design over the first button will be gratefully received.

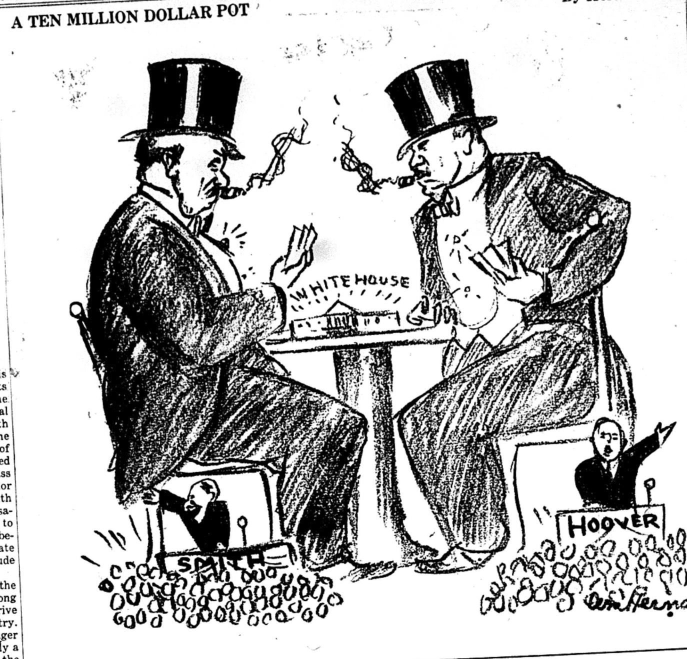
• • •

Comrade Starr sends word from Bismarck, North Dakota, that a mass meeting of the membership of the agricultural district, comprising the states of North and South Dakota and Montana, has been called for July 22.

Petitions for North Dakota are already in circulation, and Starr hopes to have the South Dakota petitions out without a few days more.

A TEN MILLION DOLLAR POT

By Hermandez



Slaughter of Vienna Workers

(Photo on Page 3)

When the Social Democracy of Austria Proved An Ally of the Fascists

On the 15th of July, 1927, armed police in Vienna slaughtered 86 unarmed working men, women and children. Added to this horrifying figure, many hundreds were wounded by the dum-dum soft-nosed bullets used by the police which inflicted horrible wounds.

The July events in Vienna and the great victory of armed police over unarmed demonstrators are of great significance for the proletarian movement. A year after the events which caused a sensation in the whole world, it is possible to review the political significance of those few hectic days which to optimists seemed to be the beginning of new revolutionary uprisings.

Social Traitors.

The social democracy of Austria was considered to be a strong bulwark against the counter-revolution. It was powerful in the army, had arms at its disposal, controlled a republican guard in the shape of the Scutzbund, the social democratic workers' defense league, and it controlled the town parliament. Further it had a decisive influence in the National Council. But the reformism of Renner stifled these forces in the heavy atmosphere of parliamentarism. The social democracy entered the coalition and sacrificed its influence over the army. Organizations of reactionary ex-soldiers and fascists took the initiative and the weak and vacillating attitude of the social democracy strengthened them morally in the eyes of their backers and brought them also organizational success. The results were not long in showing themselves. The employers commenced to use the nationalist organizations as strike-breaking reserves. The factories were cleaned as far as possible from social democrats and individual social democrats and members of the Scutzbund were beaten to an ever increasing extent on the streets, etc., by members of the fascist and nationalist organiations. Such phenomena show themselves everywhere where the proletariat, infected by bourgeois - democratic illusions, leaves the straight line of the class struggle.

In this atmosphere came the Schattendorf murders. The social democrats had arranged a party meeting in Schattendorf. The fascists arranged a meeting for the same day in the same place and called in reinforcements from Vienna and the surrounding neighborhood. A collision occurred between the social democrats and the fascists. The victors were the fascists who were armed.

A war invalid and a little boy were killed by a volley fired unexpectedly from ambush into the rear of the social democratic meeting. Five seriously injured workers had to be carried to the hospital. Not one single fascist was injured. That was in January, 1927.

The brutal and unprovoked murders (both the killed were shot in mendous wave of indignation, strikes and mass - demonstrations occurred. Three of the fascists were arrested and put on trial. The public prosecutor asked the court to condemn the accused, but declared very emphatically that the greater part of the responsibility must rest on the shoulders of the social democrats who, according to the prosecutor, had provoked the collision (the murdered are of course guilty). The jury acquitted the accused completely with 7 votes against 5 on the ground that they had acted in self defense.

This incredible provocation drove the masses onto the streets. A tremendous demonstration took place in Vienna. The police attacked the demonstrators with bare sabres and took advantage of the ensuing confusion to fire on the demonstrators. Flying women and children were shot down like mad dogs on the streets. There was no resistance worthy of the name, for the workers were unarmed against the fierce volleys of the police. It is true the Palace of Justice and one police station were burned out, but what the incendiaries were is unknown to this day. One thing is certain however, the police had commenced to fire on the masses and had even routed the republican Schutzbund which appeared on the streets to "restore order," long before the Palace of Justice was set on fire.

Mass Arrests.

The bloody day's harvest was 86 dead and hundreds of wounded, the number of the wounded cannot be given with exactitude for many of the wounded were treated privately. When the storm had subsided bourgeois class justice commenced to glean. Mass arrests were made, but despite zealous spying and reckless building up of indictments, most of the arrested had to be released sooner or later without having been brought to trail.

The authorities corrected the jury lists and managed in this way to obtain a number of verdicts against the arrested. Before the Vienna juries it was light work for the defense to prove that the statements of the police were lying and perjured and that the protocols put forward as evidence had been manufactured by the police, so that in all cases the accused were acquitted.

The political attitude of the social democracy in the whole affair was lamentable. When the fury of the workers was at its height the social democratic leaders assured them that the police would not be permitted to slaughter unarmed men, women and children with impunity. They promised to overthrow the government, set up a committee of investigation and form a republican security service to take over the maintenanc of order out of the hands of the police.

As is usual with social democratic promises, nothing at all of these brave words was ever put into action. In order to hold the masses in their parliamentary-democratic illusions the social democratic leaders compromised at the first opportunity, righteously rejected all non-parliamentary means and energetically attacked—the Communists!

This attitude completed the victory of the fascists and nationalists. Today the leaders of the social democratic party of Austria are sorrowing that the Austrian army is completely reactionary and that the fascists and nationalists dominate the streets.

That is the irony of the situation. The social democratic leaders wanted law and order on the streets, because they were afraid of the masses, who for the most part are their own supporters. Only in parliament the social democracy wanted to fight victoriously. And the bourgeoisie, the traditional protagonists of parliamentarism who theoretically reject the class struggle, formed illegal organizations, armed them, and now control the streets. At the conferences of the fascist and nationalist organizations the use of armed force against something which is termed "Marxism" is openly advocated. The traditional right of asylum no longer exists in Austria today, and in the last few days the Austrian prime minister the priest Seipel has openly concluded a pact with Mussolini.

The lessons of the blood bath in Vienna on the 15th of July, 1927, are clear enough today. Reformism in policy and tactics was the prelude to the Schattendorf murders and to the acquittal of the accused, and the same attitude of the social democracy towards the murderous beastliness of the police on the 15th of July paved the way for the growth and strengthening of fascism in Austria.

Wrong Way to Organize Reading Circles

By A. GUSAKOFF.

Mistakes Frequently Made in This Important Branch of Party Work

SINCE the plan for the organization of reading circles has already been adopted, after a thorough discussion at a joint meeting of the agitprops and literature agents, held some time ago, and we are at present confronted with the practical task of actually putting this plan into life. We should expect some confusion as well as certain difficulties in the practical application of this plan, since after all, this is a new plan, and it takes some time until there is a clear understanding of it. But what is surprising is the fact that the difficulties are mostly of a technical nature, and not because of disagreement, or misunderstanding of policy. It is therefore important that the difficulties with which certain units and sections are confronted in their attempt to organize such circles be taken up and pointed out, so that there be more clarity and understanding of the steps to be taken in the organization of circles. And that certain dangers be avoided. It is important to take up these errors, which are most frequently repeated, and which at the same time touch upon the main basis of their foundation, endangering their existence right at the beginning of their organization We must point out how not to organize reading circles.

Our Mistakes.

One of the mistakes so frequently repeated by our comrades in variour sections, is the tendency to substitute the unit educational meetings with reading circles, the plan to organize the reading of certain pamphlets, as soon as the "business part" of the meeting is over. Such a tendency shows a misconception and a lack of understanding of the entire plan and purpose of reading circles and tends to overlook many dangers as for instance the danger of tending too much towards the study of a certain pamphlet, or subject, at the same time neglecting entirely the discussion of current events, party campaigns, problems and issues of the labor movement etc. That means divorcing the comrades from the every day activities and life of the party, and taking on more and more a form of a "study circle" of the old type caliber against which the party fought so much. Reading circles are not to interfere with regular educational meetings of the units. The meeting of the members of such circles should take place on a different night, and not on the meeting night of the party unit. Reading, study and discussion circles, are not to be considered a part of our inner party activity only, but is to be considered as a part of our every day work in reaching many workers and bringing them into the movement should be considered as an important method of making workers better fighters for the working class movement by combining theoretical knowledge with practical work.

• • •

THE other error which is at present being made, by almost all of our sections, which began to organize such circles, consists in the fact that they limit them to party members only. This is altogether wrong. Such narrow limitations are entirely against the entire plan and purpose of such circles. Such a basis does not justify the organization of these circles. I believe, that if our comrades would read the bulletin on the organization of reading circles carefully, they would avoid many errors be aware of all the dangers, and would learn how to avoid them. I will just quote the passage in the bulletin dealing with this particular point, since I believe that the bulletin gives it in a very clear and definite form. In paragraph 3 of the bulletin we find the following: "As broad masses of workers as possible should be reathed and included in circles. Non-party workers should make up a big majority of circles though party members should be drawn into the greatest possible extent." This I believe makes the entire issue clear. There are a few more errors which are being made now and then. Errors, which are of great importance, since they can be detrimental to the growth and development of the circles. Errors not only of technicalities, but also of orientation and conception of the entire plan. As for instance theories propounded by some of our comrades that we should not organize Reading Circles, since we are no underground party, etc. All these errors can be avoided, if our comrades will follow the instructions and confer with the agitprop and literature departments before undertaking the formation of such circles We must be very careful, and try to avoid many unnecessary complications, which will only be a hindrance to our progress.

More attention to the formation of reading circles should be our slogan. More clarity on this question. Units, sub-sections and sections should organize discussions on this question. We must try to link up the organization of reading circles with the election campaign. And utilize the election campaign for the formation of circles, as well as utilize the circles for the election campaign. We must know how not to organize Reading Circles!

Told You So

THAT Al Smith has no monopoly on corporation magnates as financial directors was proven by the selection of Jeremiah Milbank as the Eastern treasurer to raise dough for Hoover's vote-buying campaign. Milbank is a director in as many corporations and trusts as John J. Raskob. This should be a big year for fellows with blocks of votes to sell. The notoriety that Illinois and Pennsylvania shared in the last senatorial elections will be spread out all over the country this year.

• • •

AMERICAN citizens who are accustomed to making an honest ten dollar bill in elections may decide to organize this year and raise the price of their ballots. The capitalist political industry was never in a more prosperous condition. There is nothing that helps honest business as much as keeping money in circulation. Soon selling votes may be as lucrative a business as selling fire crackers on the Fourth of July. Brokerage houses may be established that will make a specialty of buying votes in advance from indignant citizens and make the politicians pay through the nose on election days. In the near future we may see headlines in the papers relating to some "former newsboy who used to sell papers on Park Row, corners vote market and can name president." Nothing is impossible in this free country.

• • •

IT'S the flivver against the Chevrolet in this election campaign. Smith's campaign headquarters have been moved into the General Motors building and soon we may hear that Hoover has transferred his to the Ford factory in Detroit. Ford backs Hoover; General Motors backs Smith. With Ford's belt system in operation in the campaign soon the Hoover "workers" may be coming home after a day's work as weary as the slaves of the Ford factory do now.

• • •

THIS is not such a heartless world after all. Ask G. Maurice Heckscher? He Knows. G. M. H. is the son of old man August, who recently collected considerable notoriety over a lawsuit brought against him by a diva, who tried to dive into his pocket for the neat honorarium of $40,000 for the rest of her life, in return for an occasional warble. The diva presumably caught the old fellow off his guard on a moonlight night while crossing the Atlantic. But that's another story.

• • •

HIS son, being one of those business men with imagination, went into bankruptcy leaving $3,000,000 worth of creditors shedding tears. The creditors took various legal steps to have something from the wreckage. It might look to the average scissorbill who owes a week's room rent that living would be impossible for a fellow who owes three million. But this is only one of the many proletarian delusions that keeps the working class where they are. As a matter of fact the bankrupt was only slightly inconvenienced and he did not deny himself a single frankfurter because of his financial miscarriage.

• • •

NOW comes the creditors' lawyers to court seeking relief for his clients and demands that all but $12,000 of the income from a trust fund goes to his clients. He figured that Heckscher could live comfortably on $12,000 a year. Supreme Court Justice Frankenthaler was highly indignant. He said: "The court would be extremely hesitant to grant the plaintiff relief which will deprive the defendant of a so substantial portion of an income established for him by a third party and compel him to reduce his scale of living to fit an arbitrary estimate." Mr. Heckscher formerly lived at the rate of $150,000 a year. Figure out for yourself how much is that per diem.

Tom O'Flaherty

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol V., No. 175.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

VIOLENT REACTION NOW THREATENS MEXICAN WORKERS

World Congress of Communist International Discusses Bucharin's Thesis

NEGRO DELEGATE SAYS SOCIALIST PARTY BETRAYS

French Delegates Tell of Work in Army

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 24.—Under the chairmanship of Carlton, the sixth session of the World Congress of the Communist International opened here today with the continuance of Nikolai Bukharin's discussion.

French Imperialism.

Semard declared that the French delegation was in agreement with Bukharin's report and theses but would like to see more emphasis placed on the role of French imperialism. He pointed out that the main aim of French imperialism is to extend its colonial possessions thus intensifying the antagonism with the other imperialist powers Simultaneously it is oppressing the French working class.

The French social democracy is supporting colonial oppression abroad and capitalist rationalization at home.

Semard drew attention to the successful anti-war propaganda which the French Communist Party is conducting among the troops and in the factories so that, when war comes, the imperialist conflict can be turned into a civil war and proletarian revolution.

De Visser of Holland, next declared that the Executive Committee of the Communist International had in several instances failed to act quickly enough. He cited as examples, the British General Strike the Sacco-Vanzetti campaign, etc.

Rogitch, of Yugo-Slavia, declared that his delegation was completely in agreement with Bukharin and was very thankful for the liquidation of anti-Party factional struggles.

Negro Work.

Ford, the Negro delegate of the American delegation, asserted that the American Party was not yet paying sufficient attention to work among the Negroes. In spite of the intolerable exploitation of millions of Negroes, he pointed out that nothing had been done to bring these workers closer to the Party.

"The American socialist party has organized reactionary trade unions in which we are without influence," Ford declared. He further maintained that race prejudices are found even among Party members and that there were not sufficient good directors of Negro work on the

Continued on Page Three

KEEP UP SEARCH, FASCISTS PLEAD

No Ban on Krassin Visit, U. S. Says

MOSCOW, July 24 (UP).—A request that Russia continue her search for the six men who disappeared with the wrecked gas bag of the dirigible Italia was received from the Italian government today, along with an offer of two big seaplanes to assist in the search.

U. S. Not To Welcome.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (UP).—The federal government will not stand in the way of the contemplated visit to the United States of Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian relief expedition aboard the Krassin, and Chukhnovsky, Russian air pilot, who assisted in the rescue work following the dirigible Italia's polar flight, it was said in official circles here today.

They must, however, comply with all immigration regulations concerning Russian visitors to this country before they will be granted visas.

Authorities displayed little interest in dispatches saying that arrangements were being made in New York to fete the Russians here. Federal officials can take no part in the welcoming program.

* * *

Start New Search For Amundsen.

OSLO, July 24.—A new search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions, who have been lost since they set out to seek the fascist Nobile expedition June 18, is being organized.

The probable whereabouts of the Amundsen plane has been calculated by the director of the Meteorological Institute at Tromsoe

Helped to Make Workingclass History

A group of delegates to the National Nominating Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party, standing in front of the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square, New York City, and displaying a copy of the Daily Worker announcing the nomination of William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow as the standard-bearers of the workers in the coming elections. This convention launched the greatest political campaign that the American working class has ever undertaken. (Photo by George Elson, Cleveland.)

CLAIM OF SANDINO'S 'DEFEAT' NOW EXPOSED

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 24.—The recent claims of Secretary of Navy Wilbur that Sandino has been "defeated" were exposed today by the admission of Wilbur himself that the thousands of marines now in Nicaragua will remain there. This information was given to Coolidge today by the Secretray of the Navy.

Some time ago, the Navy Department denied that Sandino had an army of more than 200 soldiers. Recently, they have reported the "surrender" of about 500 Nicaraguan These claims were shown to be false by the re-enforcements of marines The latest claim of Sandino's "defeat" is shown to be equally false.

When Wilbur annouced the "defeat" of Sandino, he refused to give any details.

It is evident that serious consideration is being given to the real situation in Nicaragua, which is not revealed to the public. Of considerable significance is the fact that Thomas Cochran, partner of J. P Morgan, was present at the conference of Wilbur and President Coolidge.

REPORT POLISH BORDER CLASH

WARSAW, Poland, July 24.—Newspaper accounts report that one Polish soldier was killed and another wounded in a struggle with Lithuanians near the frontier today. The engagement is said to have taken place at Neutroki.

Coming immediately after marshal Pilsudski's review and overt encouragement of his legion during the anniversary exercises at Vilna, the rumored clash on the border is causing intense excitement here, and confirmation of the report is eagerly being awaited.

The government has not as yet issued an official statement and will not until the receipt of further details from the border. It is expected, however, in view of the present administration's attitude towards Lithuania, that relations between the two government's may be seriously strained within the next forty-eight hours.

* * *

Lithuania Aroused.

KOENIGSBERG, East Prussia July 24.—A wholly unconfirmed rumor from Kovno states that a clash between Polish and Lithuania detachments took place near the frontier today.

Details are lacking but reports of tremendous excitement thruout the country have been received.

MILL BOSSES IN NEW FAKE MOVE

State Board, Boss Tool, Calls "Peace Meet"

(Special To The Daily Worker.)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 24.—Warrants were issued by the local police against seven of the striking textile workers for their part in a mass picketing demonstration today on the charge of parading without a permit. Over two thousand pickets and spectators answered the attempt of the mill bosses' association to prevent picketing by threats of a new reign of terror. All are held on $300 bail.

* * *

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 24.—Announcement that Edward Fisher, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, is addressing letters to the mill owners' association and to the heads of the Textile Council for a conference Friday, July 27, indicate that new steps are being taken by that instrument of the mill barons to end the strike of the 28,000 textile workers whose walkout more than 15 weeks ago completely silenced 70,000 looms.

As before the steps being taken by them, show that they are making another effort to pave the way for a betrayal of the tens of thousands of workers by refusing to call to the proposed negotiations the real representatives of the workers,—the Textile Workers Union of the Textile Mill Committees.

Edward Fisher, chairman of the State Board said that letters were being addressed to the mill owners' association and to the heads of the Textile Council for a conference Friday, July 27, 11 a. m. in the forenoon in the New Bedford City Hall

No Replies Yet.

Neither the employers nor Batty's union have as yet given official replies to the conference invitation but it is almost a certainty that they will both accept. The Textile Mill Committees, it is believed, will again follow the same procedure of demanding representation on the grounds of safeguarding against a betrayal of the workers interests.

The discussion at the last conference was entirely around the question of rescinding the 10 per cent wage cut,—the textile council fakers completely disregarding the demands of the workers for a wage increase and a lessening of hours, as are the

Continued on Page Three

TO PROTEST SENTENCE

Meetings to Demand Porter's Release

Superior, Wis., July 24.—A large number of mass meetings protesting against the two and a half year court-martial sentence of John Porter, textile strike leader of New Bedford, will be held in Wisconsin and Minnesota during the next two weeks.

The meetings, arranged by the Young Workers (Communist) League, will be utilized to show the purpose of Porter's sentence, and the real nature of th capitalist militarism which sent Porter to prison for his activities in the labor movement. Speakers will discuss the Porter sentence and the war danger

WORKERS PARTY HAILS TRIUMPH OF USSR RESCUE SHIP

Central Executive Committee Contrasts Fascist Cowardice With Communist Courage

Pointing to the wide political significance of the achievements of the Arctic rescue expedition of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics in saving many members of the lost crew of the Fascist polar junket, the Workers (Communist) Party of America issued yesterday from its national office at New York a statement contrasting these achievements with the miserable failure of the fascist "exploration" gesture with its exposure of cowardice on the part of Mussolini's agents.

As the importance of events concerning the ill-fated fascist gesture at polar exploration are not diminishing, but promise to increase from day to day because of remarkable social significance the statement published here is of much importance. The American masses will have their opportunity, in all probability, to greet the heroic Soviet aviators, Chukhnovsky and his comrades, in the near future, since Foreign Minister Chicherin has stated that the invitation to the aviators to visit the United States will be accepted.

The statement of the Workers (Communist) Party follows:

A Triumph of the Soviet Union.

Fascism, the militant dictatorship of the bourgeoisie, and Sovietism, the militant workers' rule under Communist leadership, have shown their mettle in the Arctic ice-fields.

For years the American bourgeoisie has worshiped at the shrine of fascism. Not only capitalists and their newspaper henchmen, but even a section of the so-called liberal intelligentsia were captivated by the spectacle of the "strong arm" that knew how to keep the workers and the poor peasants downtrodden and deprived of the most elementary rights. In Mussolini's white terror the ruling classes and their satellites admired what they called "efficiency," "discipline," "order." On the other hand, while forced on the whole to admit the gigantic successes of the Soviet Union, the same classes and groups kept on denouncing the workers' rule as "tyrannical," "corrupt" and "morally degrading."

Imperialism and Communism—a Contrast.

The outstanding facts of the Nobile expedition and the rescue activities of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin's crew have manifested even to the bourgeoisie the true nature of Fascism on the one hand, Communism on the other.

Nobile's expedition was a link in the chain of imperialist ventures. Even when the representatives of finance capital are not engaged in direct plunder, they have to keep the annexationist-militarist spirit alive. Even when they cannot send troops to occupy foreign lands, they at least undertake actions symbolizing military occupation. Such a symbol was the Italia's flight to the pole, accompanied by all the bombastic phrase-mongering and flamboyant self-aggrandizement of which the blood-reeking demagogue Mussolini is past master.

The Nobile expedition pursued no scientific aims; it was not intended to make new discoveries; it used exploration as a convenient pretext; it was to remind the powers engaged in a frantic race for air domination that Italy was a great aerial power; it was to plant a cross blessed by the Pope and a flag consecrated by Mussolini on the "roof of the world"; it was to divert the attention of the masses at home from their intolerable conditions and from the sentencing of large numbers of Communist and other militant workers to long years of prison; it was to convey to an astounded world the glory of Fascism.

Failure of Expedition.

The expedition, like war, like any other severe crisis, only proved the inner decay of the system of which it is an expression. The fate of the Italia and its crew is by no means an accident, as there is no accident in the collapse of a disease-corroded body. The expedition was ill-equipped, ill-organized. Its commander, "General" Nobile, was not fit to lead. He had no scientific standing. He knew more about champagne parties than about polar flights. Like his lord and master Mussolini he knew only how to throw dust in the eyes of the world without gaining the confidence of his fellow fliers, and without establishing between himself and the crew a spirit of co-operation so essential in hazardous undertakings.

Nobile's Cowardly Desertion.

When the dirigible collapsed and rescue came in the person of the Swedish flier Lundborg, Mussolini's "air ambassador" committed an act of cowardice and treachery. He left his five companions on the ice pack. He flew to safety alone, abandoning his co-workers to their bitter fate. His superiors in Rome hastened to explain his action as prompted by a desire to lead rescue activities; but empty words could not cover up the shame of the Fascisti. The Fascist "General" has not lead any rescue activities. He saved his own skin. He stands revealed as a dastardly coward in the eyes of even his own class. He reveals the moral fibre of the regime of which he is the exponent.

In trying to white-wash Nobile's cowardice, Mussolini and his Fascist government identify themselves with the coward and traitor. No more lurid light could have been thrown on the blood-stained dictatorship of the bourgeoisie.

Deserted Malmgren to Die.

Like master, like man. Even the capitalist world shuddered on hearing that two Fascist officers, Captain Mariano and Captain Zappi, left the young Swedish scientiest, Dr. Malmgren, to die in the frozen wastes. Malmgren was one of those heroic men who attempted to rescue the stranded Fascists. Malmgren was trying to lead the two captains to firm land. When his wound and exhaustion made it impossible for him to proceed, the men he tried to rescue left him to die, taking with them all the provisions. The example of the chief was repeated by his subordinates in a more hideous manner.

By ordering Mariano and Zappi to keep quiet about Malmgren, Mussolini identified himself also with this blood-curdling crime. Fascsim showed its real face.

The Soviet Rescue Ship.

Into this picture of inefficiency, corruption, cowardice and treachery come, like a refreshing breeze, the activities of our comrades of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. The Soviet rescue mission had no political aims in view. Moreover, it was not animated by particular love for the personnel of the Italian dirigible, who it knew to be Fascists. It plowed its difficult way to the ice-bound Arctic because it deemed it its duty to rescue fellow human beings. But what a revelation was its appearance on the frozen scene to a breathless world!

A Triumph of Soviet Science.

Unlike the Italia, the Krassin proved excellently equipped with all that modern science can offer, thus bearing witness not only to the economic strength of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, but also to the eagerness of the ruling proletariat to make science its greatest weapon in the construction of socialism. Unlike the Italia, the Krassin was headed not by bluffing "Generals," but by an earnest scientist, Professor Samoilovich. And unlike the crew of the Italia, the Russian flier, Comrade Chukhnovsky, when forced down on the ice, thought first of the Italians who he had sighted, and although in peril himself, radioed to the Krassin the position of the stranded

Continued on Page Three

Ammunition to Fight Mine Bosses, Betrayers

Provisions for fighting Miners and families

Photo shows a truck of food, sent by the Chicago branch of the National Miners' Relief Committee, ready to leave for the Illinois mine fields. It is the food and clothing contributed by workers thruout the country that is keeping the striking miners fighting against the united front of the bosses and the bureaucrats. Send more ammunition to the heroic miners by contributing thru the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh.

GREATER GRAFT INQUIRY LOOMS

Queens Workers Are Burdened

A new Queens graft investigation of wider scope than the recent sewer scandal inquiry loomed as a possibility yesterday, as a result of an interview given by William L. Leonard, foreman of the Brooklyn Federal Grand Jury, which is probing the income tax status of the late John L. Phillips, head Tammany grafter who swindled millions of dollars in his city contracts.

Criticizes Officials

Implied criticism was aimed at Buckner and his associates when Leonard expressed regret that the grand jury, to which the sewer pipe evidence had been presented, voted only misdemeanor indictments against former Borough President Maurice E. Connolly.

The declaration was made after the Federal Grand Jury had heard the testimony of Mrs. Thompson, mother-in-law of Frances Phillips, co-heir to the missing millions of the dead sewer contractor.

Workers Hit

It was revealed that workers who purchased homes in Queens, paying from $500 to $750 down, face the loss of their little homes because they cannot pay the huge taxes and the exorbitant sewer levies there.

WOMEN WORKERS WILL MEET SOON

Federation to Mobilize Against War Danger

The New York Working Women's Federation call to the Second Delegate Conference scheduled for Thursday, August 2, has been sent to unions, fraternal bodies, and working class organizations thruout the city in an effort to arouse women to the need for combatting war propaganda.

A special appeal has been made to women who are working in industries, factories and shops where there is no union organization.

The conference, which is to be held Thursday evening, August 4th at Labor Temple, 14th Street and Second Ave. at 7:30, is another step in the direction of organizing the fighting spirit of working women to struggle against the war menace which threatens the world. The call to the delegate conference urges that every effort be made at this time to bring unorganized women into the Federation.

MEETING OUSTS NEGRO DELEGATE

Republicans Would Not "Embarrass Leaders"

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Mrs. Mary C. Booze, a Negro delegate to the Republican National Committee from Mississippi, was today ousted from the meeting place in which sixteen other women delegates had met, all on invitation, in order that her removal might "save republican leaders and especially Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, embarrassment."

Work, now the official manipulator for the Hoover candidacy, was scheduled as the principal speaker at the meeting.

Moral issues are involved in the campaign to elect Hoover, Work told the conference. Immediately following the speech Mrs. Booze was tricked with the help of a photographer from attending a luncheon which the women had arranged.

Republicans have at times pretended to be the friends of the Negroes.

1,350 U.S. MARINES TO LEAVE CHINA

Use "New Diplomacy" for Chinese Masses

WASHINGTON, July 24 (UP).—Acting Secretary of Navy Theodore D. Robinson, approved today immediate withdrawal of 1,350 officers and men of the marine corps and 13 airplanes from the Tientsin area in China.

The exact date of the sailing from China of the transport Henderson, which will convey the marines to San Diego, will be determined by Admiral Bristol, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet. The withdrawal was recommended by Admiral Bristol and concurred in by the state department.

The departure of the 1,350 marines will leave 48 American officers and 2,467 men in China.

* * *

WASHINGTON, July 24. — The withdrawal of some of the American marines from China, following close upon Kellogg's call for a Sino-American conference, is looked upon here as a definite step towards the recognition of the Nanking regime.

Although government officials here would not commit themselves definitely on the recognition of the counter-revolutionary government, they indicated that recognition would be very likely to follow the proposed conference.

MORE PHOTOS WANTED

"Daily" Makes Appeal for Pictures

On pages 1 and 4 of today's Daily Worker appear two interesting pictures taken by George Elson, a worker-photographer of Cleveland. These two photos are excellent illustrations of the type of pictures that the "Daily" wants to receive from its readers.

We want more like them. We also want pictures of picket-lines, open-air meetings and demonstrations, working class athletic activities, etc. It is not necessary to have complicated photographic apparatus. Camera snapshots that are clear will do—preferably of the

Continued on Page Three

CHURCH TO SAVE KILLER; SMASH LABORMOVEMENT

Congressmen May Be Expelled

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Indications that the hold of the church hierarchy over the Calles government may save Jose De Leon Toral, assassin of General Obregon, and that the whole force of the government may be employed against the labor movement, was revealed in a statement today by Aurelio Manrique, spokesman for the reactionary land owners who now dominate the political situation.

"We regard Obregon's assassin as a personage who was controlled by superior outside forces," said Manrique. "We do not demand his death, but we do demand justice and we believe this can be achieved most quickly by removal from the government of those labor leaders whose anti-Obregon activities created the atmosphere for the mad act of the assassin. The influence wielded by those labor leaders must be wiped out of Mexican public affairs."

The assassin of Obregon recently confessed that he killed Obregon for religious motives. It appears that pressure is being made by the church, in alliance with the "Agrarians," to save Toral.

It is expected that an official statement will be issued by the government withdrawing the assertion that the church is responsible for the assassination.

The new "confession" of Toral is being kept secret. It is possible that he may repudiate his statement that the crime is due to religious influence, on acount of the dominance of the church in the political situation and the fact that his life might be spared.

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 24 (UP).—Demand for removal of labor party men from all government offices throughout the country was made today by the powerful union of revolutionary parties.

The union has accused the labor party of "psychological authorship" of the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon.

Luis N. Morones, head of the labor party, already had resigned his post of minister of commerce, industry and labor in the cabinet, along with two fellow-officials, at the demand of the party. The demand now would mean removal of labor men from posts as governors of states, municipal officials and as senators and deputies in the legislature—a complete political ouster.

[Editor's Note: The term "revolutionary parties" really means "reactionary parties."]

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Following the forced resignation of Luis N. Morones and other so-called "labor" leaders from the cabinet, the reactionary "Agrarians" and the Catholic clergy took steps today to restore the power of the church and to crush all workers' organizations.

The reactionary parties today announced that they will not be satisfied with the resignation of Morones, Gasca and Moneda and made demands upon the government for the expulsion of every member of the "Labor Party" from both houses of congress.

"We do not counsel disorder," Manrique, reactionary leader of the "Agrarians," stated today. "We see no cause to seek war until all other resources have been exhausted." This is regarded as a threat at civil war unless the supremacy of the wealthy landlords, clergy and American capitalists is accepted submissively.

In spite of the fact that the assassin of Obregon has confessed that the killing was caused by the church, the Catholic clergy, in alliance with the rich land owners of the "Agrarian" party, is using the opportunity to return to power and charge the "Labor" party, which has been anti-church on account of the pressure of the masses, with "responsibility" for the assassination.

It is evident that the clergy and reactionaries are preparing a persecution of the militant workers of Mexico, with new attacks against the peasantry and reaction in the land question.

FIND ROMAN COINS

BENEVENTO, July 24 (UP).—Gold and silver coins, believed to belong to the Roman age, were discovered at the Commune of Pannarano when an old building was demolished.

Communist Party Issues Call to National Biscuit Workers to Fight Speed-Up

HUGE PROFITS FOR FIRM; WAGES OF WORKERS ARE LOW

Participation in Party Campaign Urged

At the same time that workers in the National Biscuit Company plants are fighting for a wage sufficient for the bare necessities of life, and for better conditions in their work, an issue of the Wall Street Journal carries the following statement:

"National Biscuit Company continues to expand its operations and consequently its earnings, and for the quarter ended June 30 showed a net profit of $4,559,941. Net profit for the first six months of this year aggregated $8,355,072."

Another Statement Issued

Parallel in time with the statement in the Wall Street Journal concerning the welfare of the owners of the National Biscuit Company comes the statement of the Workers (Communist) Party, addressed to the workers in the huge open-shop plants. The statement reads, in part, as follows:

"Fellow workers of the National Biscuit Company: For about 4 weeks now we have been distributing the Daily Worker free to thousands of you. In the Daily Worker, the paper of the Workers (Communist) Party, there have been articles written by workers in your factory about your problems; about the speed-up, the bad conditions of work, the low wages, the lay-offs, etc. The articles point out that we workers in the factory must become conscious of the problems we face in the shop, the necessity of organization and other steps that must be taken if we are to improve our conditions.

Old Parties Against Workers

"As you know, this year is a presidential election campaign year. The republican and democratic parties—the parties of Wall Street and Big Business—will ask you for your votes and support. The Workers (Communist) Party of America, the only party that fights for the interests of the workers in this country, that is battling for the striking miners of Pennsylvania and Ohio and the striking textile workers of New Bedford, that is fighting against unemployment and for unemployment relief, that is mobilizing the workers against the war danger—this party is in the present election campaign, not on the side of the bosses, but against the bosses and for the workers. Just as it is with you in your factory, so the Workers (Communist) Party raises the standard of the working class throughout the entire country.

Plan Open-Air Meetings

During the election campaign, the Workers (Communist) Party will hold open-air meetings one day a week (now on Fridays) during the noon hour, at 15th St. and Tenth Ave. At these meetings the issues of the election campaign will be explained. The problems of the workers of the National Biscuit Company and of the whole country will be analyzed. Come to these meetings. Buy the pamphlets that will be sold there for 5 and 10 cents and read them carefully.

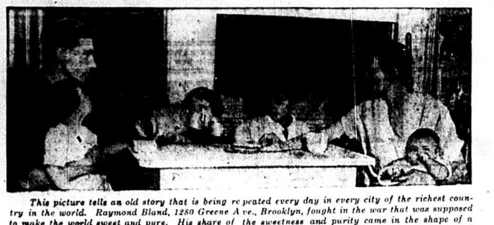
Will Distribute "Daily"

"The Daily Worker will be distributed on Wednesdays, as usual. Write to the Daily Worker, 26-28 Union Square, about your problems. Your name will not be published. Buy the Daily Worker at the news stands every day and read the paper that fights the battles of the workers.

"On election day show your boss that you intend fighting for better conditions and for the abolition of this capitalist system that gives you only slavery, oppression, poverty, unemployment and wars, and that you will help in building up a powerful working-class movement that will drive out the bosses, by voting the Workers (Communist) Party ticket for William Z. Foster for president and for Benjamin Gitlow for vice-president.

"Join the Workers (Communist Party!"

Unemployed Worker and Family of Five Facing Starvation



This picture tells an old story that is being repeated every day in every city of the richest country in the world. Raymond Bland, 1280 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, fought in the war that was supposed to make the world sweet and pure. His share of the sweetness and purity came in the shape of a wound that disabled him for life. In addition, the bosses for whom he risked his life have decided that they no longer need his services. Bland and his family are starving. Photo shows him with his wife and four children eating the last crusts in the house.

CLOAK MEET IN PASSAIC TONIGHT

To Begin Drive for a Jersey Union

As a climax to the preliminary organization work done in New Jersey by the National Organization Committee of the Cloak and Dressmakers, a mass meeting of all workers in Passaic, Garfield and Lodi factories is to be held tonight at the Workers' Hall, 781 Main Ave., Passaic.

This meeting will be the first official step taken to organize a union for the workers in the ladies garment manufacturing industry there There will be speakers in Yiddish Italian and English.

A circular distributed among the workers in the shops of the three towns, declares that the meeting is part of the N. O. C. to build a union thruout the entire country. Over the signature of Louis Hyman, chairman of the N. O. C. and Rose Wortis, secretary, the call declares:

"Through all the years that the clique of the International has maintained the out of town department with its offices and staffs in all centers where ladies garments are produced, they have accomplished nothing save the draining of money from the workers. This they squandered for their personal use. They did not organize the trade; they did not improve working conditions in the least.

"Instead of organizing the unions in the small towns they have broken up the union in such centers as Boston and Chicago. They have united with the bosses and are serving as their agents. Your misery is of no concern to them. All they are interested in is to maintain themselves in ease and comfort at the expense of the workers.

Must organize.

"You must not endure these conditions any longer. You canot permit yourselves to be at the mercy of the bosses. You must organize! You must have a union that will defend your interests and fight for better conditions. Everyone of you knows now miserable your situation is. Everyone of you is dissatisfied But thus far you have done little to remedy and improve conditions and to see to it that you work shorter hours and receive better wages.

"It is the duty of every worker to come to this meeting without fail and to tell your fellow workers about it," the leaflet concludes.

MINE STRIKERS ARRIVE FOR BIG RELIEF MEETING

Shop Workers Urged to Send Delegates

Arrangements for the huge Shop Delegates Conference for Miners' Relief to be held at Bryant Hall at 6 p. m. tomorrow are now completed with the arrival of Alex Weary a striking miner from Washington County, Pennsylvania, to attend as an emissary from the strike fields

Weary, one of the unorganized miners who responded to the strike call of the Save-the-Union Committee on April 16th, will make an appeal for solidarity between New York workers and their striking brothers at the conference, stressing the miners' surge toward the formation of a new union, which will fight militantly for the rights of the progressives and repudiate the backward policies of the decaying United Mine Workers and its misleaders.

Conference calls have been widely distributed between 14th and 59th Streets, addressed to all shop and factory workers employed in that district, urging them to attend the conference as a means of self-protection. In a statement issued last night by Rina Epstein, Secretary of the provisional committee, the sharpening need for relief now was emphasized. The statement read in part as follows:

"The formation of a new union in the mine fields, a union of and for progressive miners, would mean the advancement of the standing of workers in this country. Will they form that union? That question can best be answered by workers in other industries, for it is up to them.

CUT TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION WITH ROSARIO

Tie-up of Argentine City Complete

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 24.—Traffic isolation of this city was complete today with every means of communication in control of the strikers. The attempts of the owners and city authorities to import strikebreakers have met a decisive defeat.

The severance of telephone communication following the walk-out of the telephone operators has virtually created a general strike here.

Attempts of the owners to run strikebreaking trains into the city have been easily frustrated by the strikers in the suburbs. A number of cars are reported to have been overturned across the tracks, completely blocking communication.

Cordens of pickets continue to surround the wharves and the sacks of grain, part of the annual Argentine export to Europe, are lying piled up on the wharves, where they have been for weeks.

Feeling that some action must be taken immediately to crush the power of the unions, the owners are continuing their efforts to importune the government to crush the strike by force. The municipal authorities, after the first few days of attempted police action, have shown no disposition to interfere in the strike.

Drastic Injunction—Not Against Strikers!

MARION, Ill., July 23 (UP).—Miss Ruth Aikman, whose unwelcome lover, Edward Fosse, was restrained by injunctions last fall from making love to her, was married yesterday to Rev. O. H. Swetzer pastor of the Methodist Church here

The injunction against Fosse was granted after 16 years unrewarded attentions to Miss Aikman. Since the injunction he has refrained from any love-making.

"If I can do without her thirty days," he said, "I can do without her all my life."

Health Restaurant Helps Election Funds

Unit 1, Section 4 of the Workers (Communist) Party has devised a method of raising money for the $100,000 election campaign fund for the coming elections. It has procured the Health Food Restaurant at 1600 Madison Ave., between 107th and 108th Sts., for Thursday and Friday of this week.

The owner of this restaurant, who recently contributed 25 per cent of his total income of two days to the striking miners, will contribute 20 per cent of these two days to the election campaign fund of the Workers (Communist) Party.

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

Who Wins When You Read Your Bosses Paper?

Your Boss Owns a Car—But You Can't Ride In It; Your Boss Owns a Home—But You Can't Live In It; Your Boss Possesses Wealth—But You Can't Share It—The Bosses Own the Earthh—They Mark If Off and Divide It Up Among Themselves!

WHY ARE THEY SO READY TO LET YOU ENJOY THEIR NEWSPAPERS?

1. There is only one daily newspaper in the English language that really belongs to the workers—The DAILY WORKER.

2. Do you know that when you read another paper you are really scabbing on yourself? You help your boss maintain the greatest single weapon he can fight you with.

3. You let him lie to you and take your courage away; you let him confuse the real issues of your struggles; you let him divide your ranks and defeat you singly; you let him set worker against worker for his own purposes; white against black, foreign against native born. . . .

4. The bosses laugh to themselves. They speak of you as the "poor fish"—He swallows everything we give him, they say—the poor fish.

5. They fill up their papers with attractively made up—swill. You absorb this gutter trash and poison. And the bosses win!

6. They get you drunk with fool ideas. They cover over the slavery in which they hold you. They intoxicate you with notions of your great opportunities. They pay their kept word-slingers high salaries to flatter you and sooth your rebellion. And always the bosses win!

You Deliver a Double Blow---When You Buy The

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

If you want the real facts in the coming election campaign; if you want to read the exposure of the Wall Street candidates; if you want to know why the socialist party is also a bosses' party

Buy--Read--Support--The Daily Worker

For the Workers---Against the Bosses

The DAILY WORKER can be built up, its influence extended, its circulation increased—only if its readers and the members of the Workers (Communist) Party and its sympathizers get behind this most important task. Other papers can spend thousands in advertising, in offering large prizes, in running various expensive schemes to increase their circulation.

The DAILY WORKER obviously cannot do these things. It must depend on its readers. Every reader must do double duty. Buy, read, talk about, but above all, distribute The DAILY WORKER.

Become a regular Worker correspondent for your paper.

Why You Should Read The Daily Worker

Because No Other Paper Gives Your Side of Labor's Struggles; Because No other Paper Fights Enemies 24 Hours Every Day; Because The DAILY WORKER Shows the Way Out of Your Difficulties.

1. Because, The DAILY WORKER fights for higher wages, shorter hours, better conditions, not merely in words, but with acts. It goes into the factory with you, it enters the fleet owner's garage, it goes down into the coal mines—everywhere the bosses fear it.

2. Because this paper is now a power in the labor movement. It has helped to defeat scores of labor fakers; it has exposed the bosses' agents in the ranks of the workers; it has shown the way in all of labor's struggles.

3. Because The DAILY WORKER fights against the old political parties, the republican party of biggest boss exploitation of the workers, the democratic party of Tammany graft, the socialist party of little business and united front with the labor fakers—because it fights for a real workers' party, a Communist Party.

4. Because The DAILY WORKER has been the active supporter of the great struggles in which labor has engaged in the last four years. It has thrown all its energies and resources into the great mine strike; it is organ pointing the way to the textile strikers; it is with the needle trades workers in their fight on two fronts; it is in all the fights. For the workers—against the bosses.

5. Because The DAILY WORKER gives you the only reliable news of the Soviet Union, the fatherland of all workers, the country in which the workers have already taken power and are building up a new world fit to live in for those who toil.

6. Because The DAILY WORKER is the official organ of the Workers (Communist) Party, the only Party of the Working Class in America; because the Communists alone have the right policies for the workers and the courage to fight for these policies in the factories, in the mines, in the offices, on the political field.

Terrorism Sweeps Over Egypt as Fuad Government Is Afraid of Strength of Protest

CALL OUTBREAKS LIKELY; POLICE PATROL HARBOR

Act to Crush Youth by Drastic Measures

CAIRO, Egypt, July 24.—All the forces of the present Egyptian administration were being brought into play yesterday against the growing power of a nationwide protest movement resulting from King Fuad's dissolution of parliament for three years.

Police Massed.

The return of Mme. Gaghlul from Europe was made the occasion for a show of strength by the administration who massed police and troops along the quays and streets of Alexandria in an effort to overawe the crowds who filled the city to see the widow of the former leader.

Following the Wafdist manifesto denouncing Fuad's action, the speech of Nahas Pasha threatening civil war has rung thru Egypt. The possibilities of an outbreak are openly conjectured.

Alarmed by the impending struggle, the administration has acted to crush the three-day strike of lawyers in Alexandria by an order from the ministry of justice forbidding any court adjournments. The strike was in protest against Fuad's action

Terrorize Youth.

Participation of the youth in political agitation, which has repeatedly proved embarrassing to the government, has been met by proposal of the ministry of education that all youths indulging in political activities be suspended from their educational institutions and excluded from examinations for one year. Leaders are to be expelled from schools and colleges for an indefinite period.

Foreseeing that the majority of students will in this way be banished from the schools, the administration has made plans for reducing the teaching staffs in the same ratio.

Thruout the country the feeling that the action of Fuad in dissolving parliament was effected at the bidding of the British government is growing. Determination to be free of foreign interference in Egyptian affairs is freely voiced in spite of the system of secret agents which the government is developing in the Nile towns and villages. Threats of revolt are constantly heard.

* * *

Chamberlain Knows Nothing.

LONDON, July 24.—Denying that the British government has taken any part in the suspension of the Egyptian parliament by King Fuad Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, yesterday told the house of commons that his majesty's government has not received any advices concerning the present situation said to exist in Egypt.

ROSARIO PICKETS AT POWER PLANT

Argentine Strike Grows as Demands Refused

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 24.—New developments in the Rosario strike indicate that a general strike is maturing. Strikers picketed the power station here today, threatening to shut off the power and were only disbanded when the police force was called out.

The strike which started with the strike of the dock workers and succeeded in closing the two main ports of Argentina, was soon followed by a strike of transporation workers and teamsters.

The strikers' ranks are holding steadily. The cooperative spirit of the strikers is indicated by the action of the workers in attempting to shut off the power to prevent the few scab-manned trolleys from running.

The directors of the trolley companies cabled from Brummels refusing to grant the demands of the workers.

Canadians Hold Liquor Parleys From Public

TORONTO, Ont., July 24 (UP). —Investigations are being made by the liquor control board into the situation regarding the liquor docks on the Ontario-United States border, Sir Henry Drayton, chairman, told the United Press today. He would not reveal whether any steps are being taken, saying: "If there were any, I could not say anything about them."

General V. A. S. Williams, commissioner of provincial police, had a conference with Drayton but would glossy finish type. Above all, all worker-photographers should remember to give the necessary data with each picture.

"Daily" Needs Photos

Continued from Page One

More worker-photographers are wanted by the Daily Worker. Here is an opportunity for all workers who own cameras to help in improving their "Daily."

Sent Workers to Slaughter—Gets Monument

Government officials from several countries, including the United States, attended the unveiling in Prague, Czechoslovakia, of a monument to Woodrow Wilson, favorite saint of Big Business, who made millions for his masters in addition to sending thousands of workers to the slaughter in the last war to end war.

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF WORKERS PARTY HAILS "KRASSIN"

(Continued from Page One)

and gave directions for their rescue. Where everybody failed, the Amundsen party, the Swedish and Norwegian fliers, the Italian Alpinists—the Krassin succeeded.

Calmly, but irresistibly, with that doggedness that characterizes the activities of the proletariat, with that perfectly comradely discipline which makes everybody feel the responsibility for the whole and each work in harmony with the others, the Soviet ice-breaker has rescued all whom science, combined with brave effort, could discover in the bleak Northern wilderness. It rescued not only the Italians, but also many rescuers from other countries (whose governments had rejected the Soviet proposal concerning a joint rescue expedition.)

Vitality and Decay Contrasted.

The Italia and Krassin expeditions, while directly having to do with the geographical explorations and humanitarian activities, have tremendous political implications.

Fascism stands demasked through the very undertaking that was to add to its glory.

Proletarian dictatorship is revealed in all its strength and moral power through circumstances which, to the Soviet Union, were purely accidental.

Fascism proved its organizational weakness. Communism proved its organizational strength. Fascism, so beloved by the bourgeoisie for its show of discipline, is exposed as breeding meanness, cowardice and treachery. Communism, decried by the capitalist class as ruthless and inhuman, is revealed as a great force elevating the workers to a high level of generous self-denial and self-sacrifice. Fascism, in capitalist eyes, the symbol of efficiency, has been shown as criminally negligent and barbarously ill-prepared for emergencies. Communism, which the bourgeois theoreticians of the world in unison with all the "practical" business men assert, without the initiative of private property, is doomed to failure—Communism whose collapse has been heralded innumerable times in the capitalist and social-democratic press of the world, has through the Krassin activities impressed itself even upon the bourgeoisie, in a language the bourgeoisie can understand, as an economic and social entity of gigantic might.

Here, a class that has just ascended to power, full of indomitable energy and creative endeavor. There, a class that has outlived its usefulness and leads a parasitic life of decay. Here, a picture of what the world will be when the proletariat will have established its rule everywhere. There, a picture of what the workers must overthrow and destroy, of what they must rid the world, if humanity is to progress economically, politically, socially and culturally.

Lessons of the Event.

The Nobile and Krassin enterprises have a tremendous political significance vastly exceeding those of the conferences of the League of Nations and other international talk-feasts about which the bourgeoisie makes so much ado. The Nobile disaster is a shameful defeat of imperialism. The Krassin successes are a great victory for the Soviet peace proposals. The Nobile indignities could grow only out of a soil sown with the seed of imperialist oppression, lust and greed. The real nobility of the Krassin comrades is the spirit of a social revolution that does away with oppression of nations, exploitation of man by man, private property and private accumulation.

The workers of this country must learn the lesson of those great events. They must remember that while the dictatorship of the capitalists in this country differs from the Italian in form, it is practically of the same substance. The workers of America must remember that the "great" air conquests, the daring aerial expeditions of the capitalists of the United Seates, while more efficient and more successful, due to the greater wealth and technique of this country, are nevertheless imperialist ventures of the same kind as Mussolini's. And not for one moment must the workers forget that while sections of the bourgeoisie are so impressed with the Soviet rescue work that they sing the praise of the "Russians." Nevertheless, the great powers of the world, including the United States, are planning and preparing war against the Soviet Union as the stronghold of proletarian power and the beacon light of world proletarian hope.

Defend Soviet Union!

In sending, therefore, our brotherly greetings to the proletariat of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics on the occasion of the Krassin activities, and in expressing our pride in those activities, the workers must redouble their struggle against American imperialism, against American Fascism, against Italian Fascism, against Fascist rule in every other country and for the recognition of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

Now, while a part of the bourgeoisie is paying lip service to the Soviet achievements, the time is particularly opportune for advancing the slogans:

Down with Fascism in Italy and everywhere!
Release the political prisoners captured by Fascism!
Long live the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics!
Long live Workers' rule the world over!
We demand the recognition of the Soviet Union!

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY.

New York, July 21, 1928.

NEW PEACE MOVE IN MILL STRIKE

Continued from Page One

slogans raised by the T. M. C.

An official statement from the T M. C. denouncing the conference as a fake and calling on the workers to disregard it, is expected momentarily.

Police reports made public almost daily of the number of people entering the 56 factories tied up by the strike stated yesterday that only 384 entered which is about 100 less than last week. Last week's police count was the largest.

Remarkable as is the insignificant ratio of strikebreakers after 14 weeks of struggle, it becomes more so when it is shown that most of those entering as scabs are petty foremen and other mill officials.

The statement declares that New Bedford will see the greatest labor demonstration ever staged here when the workers begin to march. Yesterday's appeal to the U. T. W. members to participate in the parade is being received with the greatest enthusiasm. Fraternization between the adherents of the two organizations is increasing at a tremendous rate, it is reported.

DISCUSS THESIS OF BUKHARIN AT WORLD CONGRESS

Ask More Attention to Negro Work

Continued from Page One

Executive Committee of the Communist International.

Vassilyev, of the Soviet Union then declared that in spite of the leftward swing of the masses the disproportion was growing between the political and organizaional influence of sections of the Communist International. The reasons for this are not only of an objective nature. The Communist Parties have neglected many things, he asserted In spite of the great electoral successes of the French and German Communist Parties there has been no increase in membership.

Young Communist International.

The Young Communist International is one of the best sections of the Comintern, but outside of the Soviet Union it has made no numerical progress in the last few years. The important task before all sections therefore is to work to win the youth.

Murphy, of Great Britain, declared that in describing the first post-war period, Bukharin stated that it had ended with defeats but had failed to mention that in this same period the Communist International had developed and the Communist Parties had won ground everywhere.

In describing the second period Bukharin had also failed to set off the development of the revolutionary movement in the colonies and the growth of the Communist Party of China against the stabilization of capitalism.

Further, he said, it is impossible to generalize about the development of technique which marked the third period. The transformation of capitalism from the second to the third period was not uniform, for example the British coal and steel industries are declining and rationalization means limiting production, not developing productive forces.

War Danger.

The British delegation regrets that Bukharin's theses fail to treat the League of National question sufficiently since it is today the central question in capitalist war preparations and for creating pacifist illusions. The Kellogg peace treaties which is part of the war preparations is not sufficiently stressed.

Furthermore, the speaker pointed out, the theses do not mention the co-operative question and treat the trade union question insufficiently altho this is an important question today, owing to the strong left wing movement which is fighting war preparations against the Soviet Union.

The theses also fail to mention Ireland despite its important role in the fight against British imperialism. The Communist International must finally treat the Irish question and the tasks of the Irish Communists.

Approve Attack.

The British delegation approves Bukharin's attack on fractionalism and demands that the Communist International finally liquidate fractionalism in the American Party.

Moreover, the question of the leadership of the Communist International must be carefully examined in order to form a strong leadership, uniform and capable of leading all sections.

MacDonald, of Canada, declared that Canada was playing an important part in Anglo-American antagonism and demanded that the Communist International treat the Canadian question because the Canadian bourgeoisie would support war against the Soviet Union.

The Communist Party of Canada would organize trade union delegations to the Soviet Union and had founded the committees of friends of the Soviet Union.

Bunting, of South America, demanded that the Communist International pay more attention to South Africa. He asserted that recently the connection between the Executive Committee of the Communist International and the South African Party had been very bad.

Continuation of the discussion was then adjourned until tomorrow.

Raskob, Open-Shopper 'Resigns' From Firm

John J. Raskob, Morgan controlled open-shopper and chairman of the Democratic National Committee has resigned his position as chairman of the finance committee and as a member of the executive committee of the General Motors Corporation, it was announced today. The reaction of Wall Street was a slight decline in General Motors stock.

The reasons given for his resignation were the stress of campaign duties and the fact that "it is desirable for the public to know that the corporation is not and in the nature of things cannot be in politics The corporation must not be put in the light of taking sides for or against political parties, personages or questions." Rascob will however retain his post as vice-president of the corporation. Edward P. Sloan president of the corporation admits that the resignation is regarded as but temporary.

British Unemployed Urged to "Exertion"

LONDON, July 24.—The unemployment situation in England is so bad that the Industrial Transference Board was forced into a statement that declared that 200,000 of the unemployed workers will die of starvation and privation unless drastic action is immediately taken.

The Board suggested that these 200,000 be removed from the area in which they live and be placed in other areas where their services are needed more. It further calls upon the unemployed to exert themselves more in looking for jobs.

With over a million and a half unemployed in all industries and in all sections, and in view of the general economic depression in England, it is hardly likely that these 200,000 will be able to find jobs no matter how much they "exert" themselves

DIPLOMATS HOLD SECRET PARLEY

Soviet Union Said to Be Subject

BERLIN, July 24.—Under the pretext of building their health about a dozen European diplomats, including Stresemann, Benes, the Czechoslovakian premier, Rumanian foreign minister Titulescu and representatives from the other Balkan countries, have collected at Karlsbad, the watering place in Czechoslovakia.

They are expected to settle some minor questions between themselves that would build up a stronger little entente and form stronger alliances under cover of the Kellogg "peace" plan and strengthen the bloc against the Soviet Union.

W. G. Klasgye, Dead

CLEVELAND, July 24.—On Wednesday William G. Klasgye local secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party, of East Liverpool, Ohio, was drowned in an effort to save his stepdaughter.

Comrade Klasgye was a tireless, devoted member of the Party. His work for relief and support of the miners in the vicinity of East Liverpool, showed that Comrade Klasgye was made of the stuff that builds up the movement and the Party.

In the death of Comrade Klasgye, the Party and the district loses a good comrade, an indefatigable worker—a revolutionist.

District Executive Committee, Ohio district, I. Amter, secretary

INT'L FOOD AND DRINK WORKERS MEET IN VIENNA

USSR Delegates Score Traitorous Policy

VIENNA, (By Mail).—Today the congress of the International Food and Drink Workers' Unions was opened here. The international represents almost 700,000 food and drink workers in various countries including the Soviet Union. The international secretary, Schiffertstein made a detailed report in which he also dealt with the question of night-baking and declared that in all countries where an official prohibition of night-baking existed, the employers were conducting a furious campaign to secure the withdrawal of the prohibition.

Russians Condemn IFTU.

Today's session of the congress of the International Food Workers' Unions was characterized by sharp disagreements between the Russian delegates and the executive of the union. A Russian delegate made a speech in which he sharply condemned the policy of the International Federation of Trades Unions and declared that the IFTU was disrupting the labor movement in all countries and sabotaging the labor struggles of the organized workers

Another Russian delegate, Spotnikov, made a speech in which he proved on the basis of facts and figures that the increase in wages in the food and drink industry was limping far behind the increase in the cost of living. He accused the International Union of having no fighting policy and pointed out in corroboration of his accusation that of 96,000 Swiss francs which had been expended by the international union in the past year, 2,000 only had been expended for fighting purposes and the rest for administrative expenses, salaries, etc.

Forest Fire Raging in Pacific Northwesi

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24 (UP). —A serious forest fire hazard today was added to the heat wave now gripping the Pacific northwest.

Eight hundred men were fighting a blaze that threatened valuable timber land. The fire was burning unchecked east of Castle Rock.

Lumber, grain, a lumber mill, and farm buildings already have been consumed by the fire.

More than 200,000 feet of lumber was destroyed and damage estimated at $50,000 was done when the mill of the Maple Creek Lumber Co., near White Salmon, Wash., was swept by forest fire.

Three hundred acres of standing timber and a logging camp east of Moclips, Wash., also was destroyed.

A. F. OF L. LABOR MISLEADER DIES

Evans, Member of Green Machine "Ousted"

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—Edward J. Evans, 57, a member of the Green machine and a leader in the railway employment division of the American Federation of Labor, died suddenly at his home here today of a heart attack.

Evans before serving as vice-president of the railroad employment division, was a member of the Civil Service Commission in Chicago. A relationship between the labor officials and goverment bodies is now common.

He attended every meeting of the federation during the last few years and was planning on attending the coming meeting at Atlantic City July 31.

Evans also was called upon to attend hearings of various disputes of railway men in the United States and Canada. He was a member of the electrical workers union in Chicago He was connected with the notorious "umbrella" Mike Boyle gang in that city.

POLISH MINERS TO WALK OUT ON GENERAL STRIKE

Starvation Wages are Immediate Cause

WARSAW, Poland, July 24.—Thousands of Polish coal miners will tie up the entire mining industry thruout the country when a one day general strike set for July 25 goes into effect.

Striking against starvation wages, the miners announce that they intend the general walk-out as a threat of what they will do unless the intolerable conditions existing in the industry at present are immediately corrected.

The immediate demands of the striking men are a wholesale increase in the existing starvation wages. It is impossible to sustain life longer on the present wage scale of the Polish miners, their leaders declare.

The owners who have announced their intention of shutting down the mines for the summer are using the strike to demand a subsidy from the government. The coal owners are representing the strike as a danger to the Pilsudski government and are urging the use of force if the general strike is declared for a longer period than one day.

Sixth Victim of Sewer Pipe Explosion Dead

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 24 (UP) —The secnod victim of a sewer explosion here yesterday which injured five workmen died today in a hospital.

The death of Tony Zolar, 25, followed by a few hours that of John Poliacek, 17. The other three injured men were reported in a critical condition.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES
BACKACHES from KIDNEY or BLADDER CATARRH in the Aged
Soon eased by the genuine
Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR
Freiheit Picnic
Saturday, July 28
Ulmer Park, Brooklyn
THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.
THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More
Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS
The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.
The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Slaved for De Laval Company 4 Years, Now Earns $1093.30, Correspondent Says

BLACKLISTING FINE ART IN POUGHKEEPSIE

Telephone Plays Part In System

(By a Worker Correspondent)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 24.—The article exposing the conditions in the De Laval Separator Company, which was published a few weeks ago in the Daily Worker, has been the principal object of conversation among us ever since.

Conditions Miserable

While conditions of labor in our town are on the lowest level, our daily press and the so-called labor paper, Truth, published weekly by our labor fakers, never give much thought to real labor conditions here. It was the Daily Worker that made us think. We are going to continue to read it and tell others to read it.

Things here are really worse than one certain correspondent mentioned. I am working in the De Laval for four years and here is what I make for 12 months: $1,093.39. How can a man keep up his family with that miserable pay? The U. S. labor statistics say that $2,900 is the minimum.

Wife Must Work

My wife has to neglect our children and go to work in a factory for $12 a week. Working conditions for her are no better, if not worse, than in the De Laval plant. She works in a clothing factory.

The average earnings of an operator or a presser is about $20 a week. There are quite a number of clothing factories in our town where a few thousand workers are employed, as Cohn and Goldman (called "Garter"), Regents Coat Company, Rosenthal, etc. There are also many cloak, dress, shirt and necktie factories, in which many young girls—many under age—and women are employed.

Many Sweat Shops

The sweat-shop system is in full bloom here. After a day's work clothing is brought home, where little children help their mothers. In some of these houses the sanitary conditions are awful.

Blacklist Widespread

To cap all this, we have a system of blacklisting in this town. If one gives up his job in one of these hell-holes the telephone begins to ring in a special office kept up by the local manufacturers, informing them that employment must not be given to so-and-so and in this way shut off all avenues of work in this town for that worker.

Lately the mayor of the town, who happens to be a sort of decent fellow, brought the matter before the grand jury. But nothing came out of this, as the telephone receiver cannot tell and the guilty party denied his guilt.

I will write next time about how the Italian Roman Catholic "padre" helps the Jewish manufacturers and Free Mason managers to exploit the Italian workers.

A DE LAVAL WORKMAN.

Lady 'Liberal' Leaves Millions to Family

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 24. (UP).—The will of the late Mrs. Fanny Garrison Villard, wife of Henry Villard, railroad magnate, who died at her home at Dobbs Ferry, July 5, was filed for probate in Surrogate's Court today.

The entire estate, thought to approximate several million dollars was left to two relatives and friends, four servants and four institutions. The residuary estate goes to two sons, Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, and Harold G. Villard, of New York.

"AGAINST" WHITE SLAVERS.

GENEVA, July 24.—The League of Nations has declared that by September it will be ready to issue a statement calling on the nations of the world to suppress the white slave traffic.

Last year the League of Nations suppressed the report of the white slavery commission and accomplished nothing in spite of all its promises. Now it again promises to pass a "model law" which it will urge all nations to adopt.

For Glory of Imperialism and MacFadden

Bernarr MacFadden, tabloid publisher and physical culture faker, has decided that he ought not to be left out in the cold in this flight publicity. So he has bought himself a monoplane and dispatched it with "good-will" letters from himself to President Calles of Mexico. In addition, Bernarr has the satisfaction of doing a good service to American imperialism.

PROTESTS GROW IN I. W. W. CASE

Plan Big Conference in Washington

Protests against the continued imprisonment of the Centralia prisoners in Walla Walla, Wash., and demands for their unconditional pardon continue to pour in upon Governor Roland H. Hartley and H. B. Clausen, chairman of the Parole Board, from labor organizations and prominent individuals.

Robert Whitaker, author and formerly a minister of the First Baptist Church of Seattle, and Professor David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford University, California, are among those who have added their protests, according to letters received by the national office of International Labor Defense, 80 East 11th St., New York.

Whitaker's Letter

Whitaker, in his letter to Governor Hartley, declares:

"The continued imprisonment in Walla Walla of the eight members of the I. W. W. by reason of the hysteria of the after-war period is a heavy handicap upon the reputation of Washington. . . . Particularly at this time the United States is in a special need of every possible exhibit of the spirit of tolerance and good will. . . . May I urge that your boards release these men immediately and unconditionally."

Professor David Starr Jordan writes:

"I understand that the eight members of the I. W. W. sent to the penitentiary from Centralia are applying for pardon. It is certain that the treatment of the Centralia affair has come as a disgrace to the State of Washington. I sincerely hope that the proper authorities of the State of Washington can see their way to grant an unconditional pardon to these people. I am not personally acquainted with any of them."

International Labor Defense points out that the actions on the part of Professor Jordan and Robert Whitaker are evidences of the depth of the mass pressure exerted by the workers against the continued imprisonment of the framed-up Centralia workers. Only organized mass protest of the workers in the unions, the shops and factories will, however, bring the necessary pressure on the lumber-trust owned State of Washington to free Eugene Barnett, McInerny and the others, the organization declares.

A state-wide conference of labor unions, farm organizations and other bodies in the State of Washington is planned in the near future to crystalize the protest of the workers, writes Charlotte Todes, Seattle I. L. D. secretary, and also secretary of the Centralia Liberation Committee.

MAYOR NEAR DEATH

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 24 (UP).—L. D. Taylor, 72-year-old mayor of Vancouver, was reported near death in a hospital here today from a fractured skull sustained by an airplane propellor yesterday.

Mayor Taylor was knocked unconscious when he walked into the whirling propellor which had just carried him on the initial trip of a passenger line between Sattle, Victoria and Vancouver.

COMMUNISTS IN GAS RATE FIGHT

Cleveland District In Lead of Issue

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

CLEVELAND, July 24.—The city of Cleveland is now in the midst of a gas fight. In the month of May the contract with the East Ohio Gas Company expired, and the question of rates came up.

The East Ohio Gas Company gets its gas from the Hope Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. The East Ohio Co. demanded an increase in rates of the small consumers, but allowed a reduction of rates to the big consumers.

Communists Protest.

An open session of the city council was held at that time, at which a representative of the Workers (Communist) Party was present. I. Amter, District Secretary of the Party, called the attention of the Council to the injustice of the proposals. There were tens of thousands of unemployed at the time and the prospect was that the coming winter would be even harder on the workers.

But aside from the immediate hardships to be imposed, Amter asked the reason for putting the burden on the shoulders of the workers, and lightening the load on the big consumers?

Amter was supported by Kennedy an independent member of the council, but the council tentatively accepted the proposals of the East Ohio Company, although it also drew the city manager into the controversy.

City Manager Hopkins proceeded to investigate, and was forced to adopt the position of the Communist Party, that the small consumers were being compelled to bear more than their share—that the rates proposed by the East Ohio Gas Co. not only should not be raised to the small consumers, but should be lowered all round.

Huge Profits.

According to his figures and analysis, the East Ohio Co. has more than duplicated its investment in its dividends, and has applied $8,000,000 of the profits to the extension of its plant.

The fight is now on between the city manager and the manager of the East Ohio Gas Co. But it is to be noted that the position taken by the Communists has become a basis for the "negotiations."

Three Divorce Lawyers Suspended In Paris

PARIS, July 24. — Suspension from practice for terms of two to eight months was decreed today against three of the seven French lawyers tried last week on charges of irregularities in the foreign divorce mill in Paris. Three other lawyers and one process server were "scolded severely." The seventh lawyer and a second process server were aquitted.

THREE DROWNED IN HEAT

TURIN, July 24 (UP).—Three persons were drowned in the River Po today while seeking relief from intense heat.

SPIES EXPELLED BY MORE UNIONS IN NEW CLEANUP

Much of 'Information' Is Not Secret

WASHINGTON, July 24. Chauncey Peterson, one of the labor spies employed by the steel trust and exposed by Frank L. Palmer in his book "Spies in Steel," has been expelled from the Intl. Brotherhood of Electrical Workers by President Noonan of that organization. Peterson operated in Duluth. He was not only active in the Electrical Workers but he had been elected to the state legislature by the Farmer-Labor Party, when Palmer's investigation led to his being thrown out of the union and suspended from the party.

Did Not Appeal.

Noonan, at I. B. E. W. headquarters in Washington, told a representative of the press on July 23 that he had received copies of reports made in handwriting by Peterson to the Silver Mining Co., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel, showing beyond doubt that the man was regularly reporting the names of men attending building trades meetings, names of union members and alleged action taken in meetings. Upon getting evidence, he ordered "permanent suspension" of Peterson's card notifying him that he would have the right to appeal before formal expulsion was made. Peterson did not appeal. Inquiry in Duluth showed that he had gone into the meat business.

"This is merely one of many such cases, occurring at intervals in many industries," said an electrical official. "The industrial concern pays an agency so much per day—about a journeyman's wage—to be paid extra to the man on the job who is to do the spying. In point of fact, the company was gypped of the money it paid Peterson, because none of the information he supplied it was really secret. And that is true of most of this spying—the information could be had for the asking. We do not know whether he caused any union men to be dismissed."

Another of Same Breed.

Cletus L. McMillian, formerly recording secretary of Machinists' Lodge No. 274, who played spy while in that job, has been expelled by his lodge since the expose appeared. McMillan had been a foreman after getting out of his job as union secretary, but he kept his union card and watched the men who came into the organization.

Another member of the machinists recently caught red-handed as a betrayer of his fellow-unionists was a man named Mears, operating in Wisconsin. He was expelled Davison stated, without loss of time.

Palmer, in his book—published at 50c by the Labor Press, 312 Interstate Trust Bldg., Denver, Colo.—mentions Vergilio Bertone, president of the Chisholm Musicians' Union as drawing $125 a month as a spy for steel. Luke Healy, clerk of the Hibbing Hotel at Hibbing, Minn., is described as one of the busy members of the sneaking-and-eavesdropping squad. Others include a barber, a letter carrier, etc.

Who furnished Palmer with the documents from the safe of the steel trust secret service in Duluth, thereby upsetting the spy system for a while, has not been disclosed. As the leak occurred several months ago, it is assumed by the Electrical Workers and the Machinists that a new spying staff has been employed with new code numbers, new methods of approach and new humbug as to trade union secrets.

FRENCH POETESS INJURED.

PARIS, July 24.—France's woman poet-laureate, the Countess de Noailles, badly sprained her right arm yesterday when she slipped on a wax floor and fell. She was forced to cancel all engagements for a fortnight, and is unable to write.

Chicago I. L. D. to Aid Relief for Coal Miners

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—General mobilization order has been issued to all International Labor Defense branches by the local office for active participation in the week's drive for miners' relief and defense, July 29-August 5.

All arrangements have already been made between I. L. D. and Miners' Relief for the joint drive. The I. L. D. expects to mobilize every member to take part in the drive.

NEW JERSEY AIDS IN MINE RELIEF

Meetings Being Held in Many Cities

A mass meeting which crowded the Workers Hall at 308 Elm St., Perth Amboy, gave Miners Relief and Defense Week a flying start in the state of New Jersey last Saturday night. A. Wear, a striking miner, told of the heroic struggle the miners are making in the face of tremendous obstacles. He stressed the necessity of supporting their struggle now that Lewis and the United Mine Workers of America bureaucracy have come out in the open as betrayers of the miners' strike.

All the workers present pledged their active support in helping the miners build a rank and file union. They showed their pledge was not an empty one by contributing generously to a collection. Edward S. Stanley, relief organizer of New Jersey, said that American workers must answer Lewis. They must support the Save-the-Union Committee until the new miners' union is organized and Lewis is thrown out.

New Brunswick followed close on the heels of Perth Amboy. Stanley also spoke at an outing of the Hungarian Workers Club Sunday. Similar pledges were made and a large collection was taken. Workers all over New Jersey are mobilizing this week for house to house collections and other activities to support the miners. Newark plans a mass meeting on Friday.

To Pass Kellogg Pact

WASHINGTON, July 24.—That the Kellogg multilateral peace pact will pass congress with only the minimum of political opposition is confidently promised here by representatives of both the big powers.

Both parties see in the much-heralded peace treaty the opportunity for the United States to arm at a rate never dreamed of before and under an undreamed of cloak of peace.

It is believed that the treaty will be accepted shortly after it is submitted to congress.

GREAT INCREASE OF UNEMPLOYED IN GREAT BRITAIN

Permanent Crisis is Gov't. Report

LONDON, July 24 (UP).—An official report on the British unemployment situation, in which the flat statement is made that there is a labor surplus and groups of workers must be transferred in mass to other labor fields, was returned yesterday by the government's industrial transference board.

There are about 1,200,000 unemployed persons in Great Britain, and the figure is growin larger. Many of them have dependents.

Growing Surplus.

In some heavy industries, and particularly in coal mining, there was a real surplus of labor, the board reported.

"The urgent and sympathetic attention of the entire country is needed, to deal with the problem," it was said.

Sir Warren Fisher is head of the board. It was appointed by the minister of labor to facilitate the transfer of workers, particularly miners, to areas where employment could be obtained for them.

"It is no longer a question merely of tiding over unemployment in these areas until a crisis passes," the report said. "A new policy is needed, directed at the permanent removal of as many workers as possible away from depressed industries and areas to other areas where the prospect of employment is more favorable."

"It is a hard thing," the report states, "to tell numbers of men—whole communities—that unless they leave all their familiar surroundings they will not be able to earn a living.

"But we should be shirking every inference from the facts if we did not emphasize this as the first and strongest of the lessons our work has provided."

The report expressed astonishment at the "disappointing slowness" of the rate of settlement of British workers in Canada and Australia. It urged radical simplification of the government's migrating policy, and reduction of steamship passage rates to a point nearer the pre-war level to facilitate overseas settlement, in addition to the existing empire settlement schemes.

2 RESCUED ON ATLANTIC.

Two men who had been adrift in the Atlantic Ocean without food or water for a week were rescued by a boat crew of the Panama-Pacific liner Manchuria and will be brought to New York today, according to a radio message received here today by the line's offices, at 1 Broadway, from the captain of the Manchuria.

Rural Theatres Popular With Peasants in the Soviet Union

By S. Malinovskaya.

ONE of the distinctive features of the village in the USSR is its extreme remoteness from the cultural centers owing to the weak development of railways in the country, in comparison with other countries. In many parts of the Soviet Union, particularly in the north, the village is cut off from the rest of the world during the winter and autumn seasons.

Hence the great importance attached to the penetration of culture among the masses of rural inhabitants, and to the organization of the peasants' theatre in the U. S. S. R. In this article we deal only with the development of the village theatre in the rural districts of the province of Moscow. In other parts of the Soviet Union, particularly in the Ukraine, there is also constant development in the activity of organizing rural theatrical performances. But this will form the subject of another article.

In the province of Moscow at the present time, with a population of 2,300,000, there are over 5,000 dramatic circles in the villages. On the money realized from the performances the circles purchase newspapers for the villages, organize reading rooms, etc. There were cases when the rural dramatic circles were among the first promoters and investors of rural societies for the purpose of purchasing agricultural machinery.

Needless to say the circles are as yet poorly equipped in regard to theatrical means. The majority of them have no special stage, the scenery is mostly home made and of the most primitive kind. The performances are generally got up without any expert professional guidance.

In localities with an experienced guide, the activity of the dramatic circles is conducted upon a proper plan: the play is chosen, a general study is made of the characters in the play, and only then the production is undertaken.

The preparations for the production of a play in a rural locality are more in the nature of educational work, in which part is taken both by the producers of the play and by their prospective patrons. The great drawback in art activity in the rural districts is the lack of experienced leadership, and in recent years there were steps taken to raise a sufficient body of experienced rural leaders in the pursuit of the arts. Great work in this direction is being accomplished by the "Polenov Memorial Association" attached to the Peasants' Home of Moscow.

The essential aim in the activity of the Peasants' Home is to supply art instruction to the village. For this purpose it maintains a model theatre and a body of experienced theatrical instructors. It also undertakes to select suitable plays for production by village amateurs. The Peasants' Home arranges also from time to time special training courses for rural theatrical workers.

Considerable activity is also carried on by the journal "The Rural Theatre," which enjoys popularity among rural dramatic circles thruout the Soviet Union. Written in plain and popular language, it deals with various problems of interest to rural dramatic circles and publishes articles on various practical aspects of theatrical activity, hints as to sceneries, make up, the study of dramatic characters and types, and so on.

An experiment in the direction of affording the means of visual training to rural dramatic circles was made by the organization of the Rural Itinerant Theatre in 1927 by the Moscow Theatrical Administration. Before establishing this Itinerant Theatre the actors who promoted this experiment had given over 50 performance in 40 villages in the various districts of the province of Moscow. The performances of the Itinerant Theatre are usually associated with educational work. Before the raising of the curtain an address is delivered giving an analysis of the play, and after the conclusion of the performance an address is given on the rendering of the play. Usually a lively discussion ensues, in the course of which the actors take stock of the views and opinions expressed by the audience. The actors then acquaint themselves with the activity of the local dramatic circle, imparting their experiences to the members, advising them on technical matters, and so on. Sometimes the actors rehearse with the rural amateurs the play which they have in hand for presentation by the circle.

The visits of the Puppet Theatre to villages in the province of Moscow were everywhere welcomed with intense enthusiasm, contributing to the general activity for the spreading of culture in the outlying villages.

The theatrical activity in the rural districts is considered by the Soviet authorities as an essential item in the great Cultural Revolution which is going on through the length and breadth of the Soviet Union.

OLIVE BERTRAND

Plays an important part in "The Connecticut Yankee," the musical show based on Mark Twain's clever satire at the Vanderbilt Theatre.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:35
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S
MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied
With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family
in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis..1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT"

REFUSE TO TESTIFY

BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 24 (UP).—Two men, sentenced to death for the killing of C. A. Perry, cashier of the Bank of Kingsland, refused today to testify against Ernest Waller, an alleged accomplice.

GOOD printing of all description at a fair price.
Let us estimate on your work.

Telephone
ORCHARD
4744

ACTIVE PRESS
INCORPORATED
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK

HOW DOES YOUR NUCLEUS WORK?
What problems is it confronted with?
What questions would you like answered?
The Communist Nucleus
What It Is
How It Works
By M. JENKS
Just off the press!
Deals with and solves the problems of your nucleus.
A real manual for work in your nucleus.
Secure Your Copy NOW!
15 Cents
Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th St.
New York City

Be a Solidarity Demonstrator!
Miners Solidarity Fair
PLEASANT BAY PARK
SUNDAY, AUGUST 5th, 1928
"The Most Unique Affair of Its Kind!"
FILM OF MINE STRIKE SHOW—MOVIES TAKEN of 'SOLIDARITY PARADE"—OTHER ATTRACTIONS GALORE
NATIONAL MINERS' RELIEF COMMITTEE—799 BROADWAY—(Stuyvesant 888)—ROOM 237

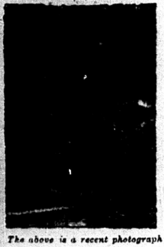
New Bedford Youth Demands $15 Minimum for Young Workers, No Child Labor

HANdOuTS

One thousand million dollars, familiarly known as a billion was represented by four men who recently left on the Majestic to do a little grouse shooting in Normandy. They were J. P. Morgan, Charles Steele, partner of Morgan, Andy Mellon and Wm. L. Mellon. The workers who produced this billion were left in the United States where they will probably remain during the summer.

* * *

Odd Job



The above is a recent photograph of D. Bird of King's Oak, England, shown working at his trade. He's a motorcycle racer. Under capitalism any number of workers are willing to risk their lives to win a few extra pennies to support their families. The so-called cultured classes attend the races for the thrill and go home quite irritated if some poor worker isn't killed.

* * *

Gems of Learning

Thomas B. Love, candidate for lieutenant-governor of Texas: "As between chronic corruption and acute corruption I prefer the acute. I want strongly to turn the rascals out, but I am just as strongly opposed to turning Tammany Hall in. I intend definitely to vote against Smith. . ." It would never occur to Democrat Love to eliminate corruption with a workers' and farmers' government.

Governor Moody of Texas: "I am a democrat. I do not believe in bolting the party." If the democratic platform maintained that the moon was made of Philadelphia cream cheese Moody wouldn't bolt. He's a democrat.

Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, wife of British prime minister: "A woman labor leader at Bournemouth declared, the other day, that the socialist party is out for power. I fancy that we conservative women want something which is higher than power. We want peace and good-will, and we shall never get it from a party that preaches power and warfare." Good-will such as that displayed toward the Germans in the great war. Imperialist peace fatal to millions of workers each year.

Lord Birkenhead: "Even a feminist must be aware that the reason, and the sole reason, why women have retained any hold on such posts is economic. They are permitted to do a man's work because they do it more cheaply." Frank capitalist. Most capitalists maintain they hire women for purely philanthropic reasons. To allow them to earn a little money to better support their families.

Prominent Valet

The anatomy of capitalist society can sometimes best be studied by an examination of the mold. Above is a large green chunk named Cal. At the present time he is sojourning, on income mulcted from the working class, at Brule, Wisconsin, where he is studying science at the church of John Taylor (right). Cal has just learned that Jonah spent three days in the whale's belly and was then expectorated before mastication set in. Cal regards the story as quite probable. Cal, who for several years has been emptying spitoons for Wall Street as president of the United States, has spread the belief that his silence indicates intellectual depth. Inside his unique head his brain was supposed to be too busy to bother with speech. Today practically everybody admits the great head is silent for the same reason a head of cheese is.

WILL FIGHT FOR SEVEN-HOUR DAY, FIVE-DAY WEEK

Textile Mill Committee to Back Them

The New Bedford Textile Workers' Union (Textile Mill Committee) in recognition of the importance of the young workers, has adopted a list of special youth demands as follows:

1. Minimum wage of $15 a week for all young workers. 2. Equal pay for equal work. 3. Complete abolition of child labor, state maintenance for those now working. 4 No night work for young workers under 21. No overtime for young workers under 18. 5. Two 15 minute rest periods a day for all young workers. 6. 7-hour day, 5-day week for young workers under 18. 7. One hour for lunch and washing up on company time. 8. Work schools for young workers under 15 and 18 on working time under union and young worker control.

PLAN SERIES OF YOUTH SCHOOLS

Industrial Centers to be Pivots

Preparations for a series of League Summer Schools thruout the country this summer are going ahead full speed. The Waino School (Wisconsin)—which has an elementary and an advanced course—has already opened. There are twenty-five students from important sections of the district—from the Iron Range, the Michigan copper country from the Twin Cities, and from the Head of the Lakes section. The elementary school will take place somewhat later.

The Northwest School covering the northwest region (Washington Oregon) as well as California has already started.

The New England School opened immediately after July 4. The students include a number of young strikers from New Bedford.

The Ohio School, at Ashtabula, is opening in August. Young workers from the mining regions of Pennsylvania and Ohio, young steel workers, and the youth of other industries will be represented among the students.

Definite information is not yet forthcoming as to the New York and the Chicago schools but they are expected to take place in August.

All of the above schools are full-time schools covering a period from four to six weeks. The value of such schools in developing new forces for youth work and new functionaries for the League has been proven by the schools of last year and the year before and we expect that this year's schools will be even more successful.

Contributions From Workers Wanted

This section will appear regularly in the Saturday and Wednesday issues of the Daily Worker. All young workers are invited to contribute. Send all articles about your shop, your league, etc., to Editor Young Worker Section, care of Young Workers League, 43 E. 125th St. New York City, N. Y.

EVANSTON, Ill., (UP) July 24—Officers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union have issued a call for a national convention of the organization to be held in Boston Mass., November 14, to 22, it was announced today.

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

ARBEITER BUND, Manhattan & Bronx; German Workers' Club.
Meets every 4th Thursday in the month at Labor Temple, 243 E. 84th St. New members accepted at regular meetings. German and English library. Sunday lectures. Social entertainments. All German speaking workers are welcome.

BUTCHERS' UNION
Local 174, A.M.C. & B.W. of N.A.
Office and Headquarters:
Labor Temple, 243 E. 84th St., Room 12
Regular meetings every first and third Sunday, 10 A. M.
Employment Bureau open every day at 6 P. M.

Window Cleaners' Protective Union—Local 8
Affiliated with the A. F. of L.
15 E. 3rd St., New York
Meets each 1st and 3rd Thursday of each month at 7 P. M. at Manhattan Lyceum.
Window Cleaners, Join Your Union!

UNION LABEL AFW
AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 164
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3468 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

Wall St. Field-Marshall Takes Up Duties

Hubert Work has resigned as secretary of the interior in order to hunt bigger game—votes in large enough numbers to put Herbert Hoover into Wall Street's White House. Hubert is now secretary of the republican national committee, and if Hoover is elected, he will probably reap a fat reward. Photo shows Work at right, talking it over with his successor in the cabinet, Roy O. West, Chicago businessman, an ardent Coolidge supporter.

DISTRICTS HOLD LEAGUE MEETS

New Members Active in Conferences

By MORRIS YUSEM.

All the districts of the Young Workers Communist League are holding conferences, entirely devoted to the consideration of the steps necessary to build the league in the factories. At no time in the history of the league has so much attention been given to the building of the league on the basis of shop groups. Practically all districts have already set the dates for the conferences, four have already been held and by Aug. 5 every district will have had its conference.

In the course of the preparations for the conferences the league membership is going thru an intense education on the building of shop nuclei, factory activity, the issuing of factory papers and the recruiting of members in the factories.

Enthusiastic Response.

The conferences already held give evidence that they will affect the league's activity in the period following. The Pittsburgh, New York and Philadelphia conferences show that the membership is responding very enthusiastically. New York had almost 100 delegates, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia each had about 40, representing all units of the league.

An outstanding fact in the composition of the delegates is that the most active participants were the members that came into the league recently during the miners' struggle and such others in which the league took an active part. A majority of the Pittsburgh delegates, for instance, were such new members. It was clearly demonstrated that our league is making good headway in penetrating into the basic industries and large factories.

PROTECTS OWN WIFE

BERLIN, July 24 (UP).—Martin Van Halder, 28, a Milwaukee mechanic, was critically injured today in a gallant and successful fight to protect his wife from her former husband, a criminal just escaped from Brandenburg prison.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Scandinavians To Hold Sports Meet.

Scandinavian Workers' Athletic Club will hold a festival in Ulmer Park, Brooklyn, July 29. Among the features will be two soccer games, one between the Swedish S. C. and the Norwegian team Klippen; another between Scandinavian Workers A. C. and Hungarian Workers A. C.

* * *

This Friday, July 27, the Bronx Hungarian Workers' Club will unveil the first Lenin corner in the United States at 753 E. Tremont Ave., Bronx. Workers of New York are asked to be present at this reception. A good Hungarian and English program will be given.

* * *

Harlem I. L. D.

The Harlem branch of the I. L. D. will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at 143 E. 103rd St. Louis A. Baum, secretary of the Photographic Workers' Union, will speak on the subject, "What we can do to free Mooney and Billings."

* * *

Harlem I. L. D.

The Harlem I. L. D. will meet today at 8 p. m. at 143 East 103rd St. Subject, campaign to release Mooney and Billings.

* * *

Working Women's Council.

The regular meeting of the Central Body of the United Council of Working Women will be held tomorrow evening, July 26th, at the Workers' Center, 6th floor, Room 3, at 8:30 p. m.

* * *

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

* * *

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

Workers Cooperative Clothiers, Inc.
WORKERS CO-OPERATIVE CLOTHIERS INC.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2223

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony. Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Patronize
LERMAN BROS.
Stationers and Printers
29 EAST 14th STREET N. Y.
Corner Union Square
Tel. Algonquin 3356, 8843.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 187 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

Party Activities

Section 7 Drive.

The concentration week of the signature drive of Section 7 to place the names of the Workers (Communist) Party candidates on the ballot in New York State will begin on Sunday and last throughout the week until the following Sunday. All functionaries are especially instructed to lead this drive by reporting at the headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn, at 10 a. m. The section executive committee is at present preparing a prize award for the member who succeeds in collecting the greatest amount of signatures. Members of Section 2 and 3 are also instructed to report at the Section 7 headquarters.

* * *

Section 7 Meeting.

The campaign committee of Section 7 will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. at campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn. All chairmen of committees representing organizations in the campaign should not fail to attend.

* * *

Unit 4 Section 7.

Unit 4, Section 7 meets today at 8 p. m. at 1940 Benson Ave. The election campaign will be discussed.

* * *

International Branch 1.

International Branch 1 will hold an educational meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at 60 St. Marks Place, N. Y. All members are urged to be present.

* * *

Executive Subsection 3C.

The executive committee of Sub-Section 3C will hold a meeting today at 101 West 27th Street at 6:30 p. m.

* * *

Unit 3E 2F.

The Unit 3E 2F will have a very important meeting today at 6:15 p. m. at 101 W. 27th St. All comrades must be present and on time. Roll call will be taken.

* * *

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

* * *

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

Young Pioneers Hold Important Meet Thurs.

All Young Pioneer agit-prop directors, organizers, and members of the District Executive Committee have been called to a meeting which will be held at the Workers' Center, 26-28 Union Square, Room 205, on Thursday.

The present election campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party and the anti-war campaign will be fully discussed.

YANKEES WIN IN 9TH OTT WINS FOR GIANTS

A four-run rally in the ninth inning enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 3, yesterday. After a bad first inning, in which he gave three runs, Herb Pennock pitched well for the Yankees. He was relieved in the eighth by Campbell, who was followed by Moore and Hoyt.

No other clubs were scheduled.

* * *

A home run by Mel Ott helped the New York Giants defeat Pittsburgh, 6 to 3. Larry Benton was hit hard by the Pirates, but was never in danger, except in the eighth inning, when Pittsburgh scored two runs.

Willie Sherdel had the better of Jess Petty in a pitching duel and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Brooklyn, 2 to 1. Sherdel gave six hits and Petty seven.

* * *

YESTERDAY'S SCORES

National League
New York, 6; Pittsburgh, 3.
St. Louis, 2; Brooklyn, 1.
Cincinnati, 5; Philadelphia, 1.
American League
New York, 5; Boston, 3.

* * *

GENARO AND ROCCO MAY BE REMATCHED

TORONTO, Ont., July 24 (UP).—Frankie Genaro and Steve Rocco, who fought a draw here last night, are likely to be rematched for the world's flyweight championship here shortly.

* * *

NURMI TO COMPETE IN ONLY 2 OLYMPIC EVENTS

AMSTERDAM, July 24 (UP).—Paavo Nurmi of Finland will compete only in the 5,000 and 10,000 metres, it was announced today, because two other Finns can better his time in the 1,500.

* * *

ELKINS TO CHALLENGE DECATHLON WINNER

PARIS, July 24 (UP).—Major William Kennelly of the New York Athletic Club, said today that Fait Elkins, American decathlon star who was left off the Olympic team, would challenge the winner of the decathlon at the Olympic games.

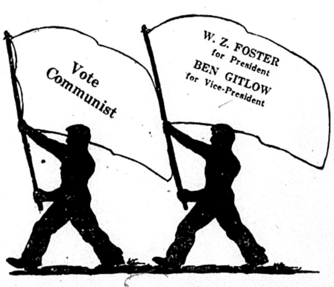
Worker Badly Burned In Yacht Explosion

GREENWICH, Conn., July 23.—Sydney R. Coles, a worker on the yacht Ariona III, owned by Arthur T. Murray of Greenwich, Conn., was badly burned on the face and hands yesterday when gas exploded in the boat, which was anchored off the Indian Harbor Yacht Club.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.



Order a Bundle!

Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.

Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.

Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.

$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).

Enclosed find $.........for.......Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

LABOR DEFENSE OUTING AUG. 11

To Be Demonstration of Left Wing

Plans are going forward for the annual outing of the New York section of the International Labor Defense, to be held in Pleasant Bay Park, Saturday, August 11. This outing, originally scheduled for last Saturday, was postponed in order not to interfere with the concert at Coney Island Stadium arranged by the Daily Worker and Freiheit.

This outing will be a demonstration of the left wing movement against the "justice" of the capitalist courts and for the release of all class war prisoners. An elaborate program is being arranged, including games and sports, a torch-light parade, open-air dancing, refreshments, a mass scene and moving pictures of the outing.

All the proceeds of the outing will go for the defense of workers under attack by the capitalist courts. The necessity of raising immediate funds for this purpose makes this affair of particular importance, it is pointed out. The defense of the workers arrested at the anti-imperialist demonstration in Wall Street, one of whom is still to come up for grand jury hearing, as well as other cases recently handled by the I. L. D. has involved so much expense that the organization has been left without funds to carry on its future work. All workers are therefore urged to express their solidarity with their comrades who are being victimized by the courts by supporting the I. L. D. outing to the utmost.

Baker, Scab Coal Operator, Resigns

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 23.—Horace F. Baker, open shop banker and scab coal operator, resigned as president and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation, it was announced from his office here today.

The announcement said ill health had caused Baker's resignation. He has been away from Pittsburgh for several days.

WILHELM HAS HOPES.

AMSTERDAM, July 23.—According to a newspaper here, "Het Volk," the German government has complained to the Netherlands government against former emperor Wilhelm's "abuse of Dutch hospitality...by publicly voicing designs for the restoration of the German monarchy."

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. ABRAHAM MARKOFF
SURGEON DENTIST
Office Hours: 9:30-12 a.m., 2-8 p.m.
Daily Except Friday and Sunday
249 EAST 115th STREET
Cor. Second Ave. New York
Telephone Lehigh 6022

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

Dividends Paid From the First of July
CONSUMERS FINANCE CORPORATION
Subsidiary of the United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
6% dividends are being paid from the first day of deposit on gold bonds in denominations of $100, $300, $500 and $1,000 secured by the second mortgage of the second block of houses in the Co-operative Workers' Colony.
Offices: 69—5th Ave., New York, N. Y.
TELEPHONE: ALGONQUIN 6900.
2700 Bronx Park East (Co-operative Workers' Colony)

Vacation-Reading
SUGGESTIONS
LENINISM—By J. Stalin $2.50
FOUNDATIONS OF IMPERIALIST POLICY—By M. Pavlovitch 1.10
DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY—By Ognyov 2.50
HISTORY OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL—By G. M. Stekloff 3.50
ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION 2.50
MISLEADERS OF LABOR—By Wm. Z. Foster 1.25
REPORT OF THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE C. P. S. U. .... .60
ORGANIZATION OF A WORLD PARTY—By Osip Piatnitsky .... .15
WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th Street, NEW YORK CITY

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
[illegible] Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): [illegible] per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Take Your Whelps, Mussolini!

As the facts come out, one by one, the almost unbelievable cowardliness and general vileness of the crew that Mussolini sent to drop a fascist flag and the pope's cross at the North Pole astonishes even those who thought they knew the foulness of fascism.

It is established that the commander of the expedition whiningly deserted his crew to save himself. Then that two of his subordinate officers deserted the scientist Malmgren to die, leaving him alive inside of a grave they had dug for him in the ice, after taking all of his share of food and even taking off his pants so as to give added warmth to the fascists' legs.

Startling as is this picture, it is nevertheless not in the least out of keeping with general facts well known to men and women of the labor movement who have experienced in less dramatic setting the habitual ways of those reactionary social elements typified by the three fascist officers, Nobile, Zappi and Mariano.

The difference is in the setting. Numberless workers who have gone through the class struggle, not only in such severe form as the civil war in the old czarist empire, but even in the plainest strike in an American coal field, are fully aware that the beastly cruelty, greed and cowardice of a Zappi stealing the food and clothes off the body of a dying comrade is the normal spirit of the class of Zappi whenever put to the test.

But the situation of men in a world-heralded polar expedition—fixed in universal view "at the top of the world"—would usually put men, however mean, into at least the pretense of social behavior and comradeship. However, the dirty fascist arrogance which has become a systematic culture seems to have motivated the canaille even when the spot-light of the world attention was upon them.

Let Mussolini defend his breed. Let us agree with Mussolini that Nobile, Zappi and Mariano are well within the rules of fascist "honor" in stealing the food and clothing of a dying comrade. Didn't they do him the kindness of digging a grave for him in the ice?

Take your whelps, Mussolni, as they crawl back to you. You may be proud of them.

But you and your kind are now better known to the millions of the working class of the world that must settle accounts once and for all with the Nobiles, Zappis and Marianos, not as Arctic explorers, but as the fascist thugs defending capitalism in the suppression and exploitation of the working class.

Take your whelps, Mussolini.

Flunkeys Pose as Peace Angels

The "socialist" government of Germany has decided that the annual maneuvers of the army and navy of the German bourgeoisie shall be omitted this year.

But wait a minute. The German social-democratic party has not suddenly begun to disarm the capitalist state. The purpose of omitting the maneuvers is—to save money for the capitalist state this year, so that there will be more money with which to strengthen the armed forces later. And also to kid the German working class along with pacifist illusions while the party of social treason puts on the guise of the "peace maker."

The workers must not forget that on every occasion in which the workers have come into conflict with the capitalist state the social-democratic party has defeated the working class by throwing against it the full armed power of the state and by mobilizing all extra-legal fascist organizations of murder against the workers. The "socialist" party of Germany is the enemy of the German workers' splendid organization, the "Red Front Fighters." The party of Noske, Scheidemann and Mueller does everything in its power to keep the working class disarmed and the capitalist class armed to the teeth, and the omission of army and navy maneuvers this year fits in with that policy.

In the United States the Reverend Norman Thomas' socialist party stands for the same thing, but hasn't had its chance yet. If the working class is sufficiently vigilant, it never will.

The working class party in all countries is the Communist Party, whose program will make the working class the ruling class. The Communist Party is busy everywhere strengthening the fighting power of the workers and opposing everything that strengthens the capitalist state.

You should vote Communist this year.

And join the Workers (Communist) Party, American section of the Communist International.

Coast Furriers Demand Conference

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 24.—A special meeting of the recently organized Furriers' Union here, held July 18, unanimously endorsed the resolution proposed by the Boston Local 30 of the International Fur Workers' Union. This resolution demands that the general executive board of the International to call a conference of all locals for the purpose of halting the internal union fight in New York.

The membership here decided without a dissenting vote to notify Boston, which initiated the movement for a conference, that they too agree that all the other locals have been destroyed or are being destroyed by the bosses as long as the struggle against the New York Joint Board continues. Even tho they are not chartered by the International, the local joins in the movement.

In the letter drafted for Boston the Los Angeles unionists tell of their own experiences with the G. E. B. and of their struggle to build an organization in this open shop city. They describe them as follows:

"We have tried our utmost since November 26th, 1926, to organize a union in this city. There are about three hundred fur workers, that can and want to be organized; but this brings us to the main question in this organization and that is the charter from the International.

"On July 1, 1927, we sought the help of the Needle Trades Council and sent $25.00 to the International Fur Workers' Union as the initial payment on the charter. Several months have passed without word, then we requested the Needle Trades Council to intercede for us. After a few more months of waiting they finally replied that there was some technical error in filing the application and asked us through the Needle Trades Council to make a correction of these mistakes. After complying with this request we waited some more. The delay was getting rather lengthy, then after 12 months of agitating them, they finally returned the money to the Trades and Labor Council giving no satisfactory explanation, so far as we know, even going so far as to ignore these fur workers and not wanting to deal with us. It was only because we threatened to expose them that the Trades and Labor Council, through the Needle Trades Council, was forced to act and it was then a question of either returning the money or granting the charter."

Many Features at Big Mine Affair

Among the many features that will contribute to make the Miners Solidarity Fair unique among picnics will be the athletic contests held by members of the proletarian [illegible] Sports Club, among which will be wrestling, high jump, short dashes and longer runs. The keen rivalry between contesting teams will add much to the enjoyment of the affair.

A huge platform is under process of construction, which will furnish ample room for dancers to the syncopated tunes of a first-rate jazz band. Besides the popular dancing there will be special numbers of national dances on the program, done in costume by a mass of choristers.

But none of the various contests and events on the program of the evening will the rivalry between contestants be more keen than that between the makers of "schaschlik," the favorite American diet, and those of spaghetti, a long favorite with Italians. It is rumored that some Chinese workers will enter the arena, armed with chop suey and various brands of chow mien.

Tickets may be obtained at the National Miners Relief Committee, Room 237, 799 Broadway. The price per ticket is 35 cents, but they may be bought by organizations at 20 cents each, if purchased in blocks of 100 or more.

Workers' clubs are busily preparing the various signs and slogans they will use in the Solidarity Parade, of which movies will be taken, after the showing of the strike film.

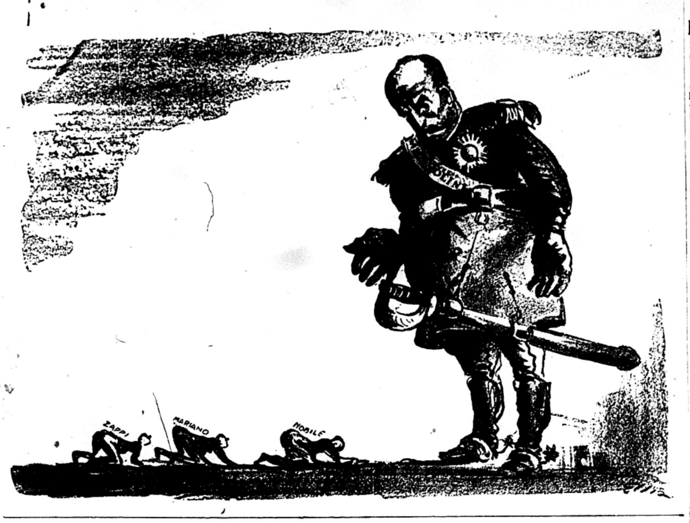
Labor M. P.'s Think Kellogg Sincere

LONDON, July 24.—The labor members in the House of Commons today sharply criticized Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, for declaring in a speech that the United States was enlarging its navy while urging other nations to join in outlawing war.

Labor M. P. Commander Kenworthy informed the Commons that the United States was in fact "redusing" its navy and that Sir Joynson-Hicks did not know what he was talking about.

Premier Baldwin, while not censuring the Home Secretary for the contents of his remarks said that he might have used "a better choice of words in expressing his opinion."

MUSSOLINI'S BREED By Fred Ellis



Working Youth Conference

By PHILIP FRANKFELD.

The Talkfest at Brookwood and Plans in Action by Young Workers League

In the past six months, we have witnessed the coming and going of two musty youth conferences. These conferences did not even cause a ripple on the surface of the labor movement; not to say on the masses of exploited unorganized young workers. Like postum — there's a reason.

The Musty Mr. Muste.

The Muste youth conferences, those arranged by Brookwood, did nothing more than discuss and rediscuss the question of the young workers. All talk and no action was bound to end in failure as regards the efforts of Brookwood to take a part in the organization of the unorganized youth.

The Brookwooders exposed their complete bankruptcy to do anything along the lines of organization. Mr. Muste and his friends showed themselves in their true role at this conference—that of being more interested in the "friendship" of the representative of the A. F. of L. than in the practical proposals made by the delegates from the Young Workers (Communist) League, who incidentally were not seated.

Youth conferences are no longer a novelty in the labor movement. The first working class youth conferences were organized, and pushed by the Communist youth organization. The first youth conference in New York took place 2 years ago June. That conference was a real step forward insofar as quite a number of large factories were actually represented by young workers, and insofar as the message of unionization was actually brought to hundreds of young workers. The League profited from this campaign in the sense that the Young Workers Communist League was popularized among the masses of youth, and the League was able to recruit many new members into its ranks.

Lacked Publicity.

The shortcoming of that attempt to do organiation work was that it was not brought to the attention of the entire labor movement, that the left wing and progressives were not sufficiently drawn into the work of the conference.

Since that time the work amongst the young workers has not ceased. The League has made several attempts to organize the young workers, and in some instances, like the International Handkerchief Co., a shop committee of 40 young workers was organized. The League continued to issue leaflets and bulletins in Sunshine Biscuit, in Auto-Strop, in Eagle Pencil, in Park & Tilford, and in many more factories in New York. But the one big shortcoming was that there was no central campaign, no intensified drive, no mobilization of the left wing forces, for a general drive to help organize the young workers.

June Conference.

On June 22nd, in the Labor Temple, a group of 11 organizations gathered to hold a provisional conference. Eight of these were local unions, two were working youth organizations, and one a shop committee of young workers. This provisional conference was not a hot air fest.

It was a business meeting of a group of serious minded organizations interested in organizing the unorganized young workers. It comprised organizations that knew what they wanted, and came together for the purpose of mapping out concrete plans of how to do it.

The president of the Plumbers' Helpers' Union gave the main report. He spoke on the purposes of the provisional conference. He outlined briefly the conditions of the young workers; he spoke briefly on the role of the youth in industry today; he pointed out and illustrated (his own union's case as an example) on the necessity of solidarity between the young and adult workers. He gave simple, direct, reasons for the need of organizing the young workers.

Plan General Conference.

The discussion was very much to the point. There were no phrases bandied around at this conference. The speeches were short and instructive. At the conclusion of this point on the agenda, the question of preparations for the General Working Youth Conference was discussed. Briefly the following was decided upon:

1. That a General Working Youth Conference be held sometime in September.
2. That there would be three delegates from every local union; 1 delegate from each working youth club; 1 delegate for every 10 organized workers and 1 delegate for every 5 unorganized young workers in the shop committee.
3. That a resolution be drawn up and sent to every labor union in New York on the question of the unorganized young workers.
4. That a leaflet addressed to all unorganized youth be printed.
5. That a speakers' bureau be elected to visit local unions and working youth clubs asking for endorsements of the General Working Youth Conference.
6. That an Executive Committee be elected consisting of one representative from each organization.

Work Proceeds.

The Executive Committee held its first meeting, a resolution was drawn up, discussed and corrected, and will now be sent out.

Twenty-five thousand leaflets have been printed and are now being distributed to unorganized young workers in candy factories, shoe factories, knitgoods, department stores, biscuit-making, radio, pencil factories, needle - trades building trades, and many other factories and trades.

Money has already been donated for the work of the working youth conference.

The following unions and youth organizations were represented at the Provisional Conference: the Plumbers' Helpers' Union; the Bakers' Union Local 164, of the Amalgamated Food Workers; the Brownsville Working Youth Center; the Independent Shoe Workers of Greater New York; the Knitgoods Workers' Union, Local 55, United Textile Workers of America; Local 41, Hemstitchers and Tuckers; Local 43, Millinery Workers' Union; the Office Workers' Union; the Phillip-Jones Shop Committee; the United Umbrella and Handle Makers' Union; and the Young Workers (Communist) League. This group of local unions and youth organizations has succeeded in establishing a base of operations among the unorganized young workers.

It is easily discernible that most of the unions on the Provisional Conference are from trades and industries which include a large number of young workers in them.

Good Beginning Made.

The General Working Youth Conference has received a very good start. It is entirely free from those elements who persist in talking about their good intentions but in reality cover up the labor fakirs on whose good graces they are dependent for the continued existence of their institution. It is free from those elements who hesitate and delay before they get down to the actual work of organizing.

The Working Youth Conference has the perspective of being able to lead the young workers into struggle for the betterment of their conditions and for unionization. The Working Youth Conference has no illusions about being able to organize all of the unorganized young workers in the city. But some start will be made; many contacts will be developed; the message of militant unionism will be brought to the attention of tens of thousands of young workers.

Told You So

IN view of the Tammany candidate's association with the Knights of Columbus and his high standing with the vatican it would be quite inconsiderate of Calles to proceed with the cleaning up process during an election year. Millions of normally democratic voters would not have much interest in aiding the Catholic church in its assassination policy in Mexico. It is feared, however, that Calles is so tied to the money strings of Wall Street that he will do as Ambassador Morrow tells him. Since the House of Morgan is the financial agent for the vatican in the United States and since Morrow is a member of the House of Morgan, Morrow is not only the American representative in Mexico, but the agent of the vatican as well.

* * *

HOW many of our readers noticed the item in at least one of last week's New York papers that Calvin Coolidge appointed William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to some commission or other? Of course, Coolidge sometimes appoints democrats on important commissions, but since this election campaign in many respects is a factional fight within the ranks of the capitalists and since during factional fights both sides fight for every point of vantage, it is not outside the bounds of possibility that Green, the former democrat, has decided to throw in his lot in the elections with Herbert Hoover. And if I remember correctly there are only two on the commission, it is also possible that there is a salary attached.

* * *

AT the rate the industrial magnates are taking the management of election campaigns out of the hands of the old politicians, it is possible that the good old days when a president of a fictitious organization could get away with a bluff and a bunch of money in return for the promise to "throw" his organization to a candidate are gone forever. The same fellow may in the near future have to don overalls and go from house to house distributing photographs.

* * *

THE powers will sign the Kellogg "anti-war" treatry in August, according to a news dispatch. The Soviet Union was not invited, which we dare say causes little worry in the Kremlin. In the meantime, Kellogg continues Wall Street's war against Nicaragua. Should the powers sign Kellogg's treaty it will only mean that the danger of war is more imminent than ever.

* * *

THE New York World deftly warns President Calles of Mexico that a resumption of the struggle against the feudal Catholic church in that country as a result of the assassination of President-elect Obregon would be looked at askance by the American people. Calles declared that the clerical reactionaries were back of the deed. There is no doubt about that. For every American who takes the viewpoint of Al Smith's official organ, there are ten thousand who will wish the Mexican government luck provided it goes ahead with the task of cleaning out the reactionary clerical elements.

The task of organizing the exploited workers and farmers for the final struggle is reserved by history for the Workers (Communist) Party under the leadership of the Communist International. There is no solution of the social evils that grow in capitalist soil, for the slavery and misery of the workers short of the complete overthrow of the capitalist system and the establishment of a Workers' and Farmers' Government, a Soviet Government, that would set about to reconstruct society on a socialist basis, the producers only reaping the fruits of the products of the industrial machines and the farms.

* * *

In this election campaign the Workers (Communist) Party will be the only one that will indicate the correct road the workers must follow in order to fight for the best possible living conditions now and for their ultimate emancipation. The socialist party candidates will chiefly confine themselves to attacking capitalist functionaries for non-attention to duty and because of their predeliction for graft. They will hang around the manholes and wail about the odors. While anything that will help to show up the political agents of the enemy is our meat, we are mostly concerned with the capitalist politicians as strikebreakers and policemen used to crush the workers under the slogan of "Law and Order."

Tom O'Flaherty

Foreign Investments and Foreign Policy

Wall Street Dollars Bring Slavery to Natives of Many Countries

THERE is certainly nothing novel in the statement that the flow of American capital to foreign countries has run parallel with the growth of the United States as a world imperialist power. Although this country ever since its unjust and aggressive war against Mexico had manifested strong annexationist tendencies it has been only during the period of the export of capital both to the relatively backward countries of Latin America and, more recently, to European countries that it has assumed the role of the world's dominant financial empire.

Development of U. S. Imperialism.

The Spanish-American War made America "accept the burden thrust upon us unsought"—to use the words of President McKinley—of protecting Cuba and creating dependencies out of Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines. A vigorous president "took" Panama, from Colombia, after, as he put it, making "every effort to persuade Colombia to allow herself to be benefited" by the act. Since then this country has established what even the history text books describe as virtual protectorates over Haiti, Liberia, Nicaragua and Santo Domingo, and has brought several other formerly independent and sovereign states under its control. It has intervened by force at least thirty times in the internal affairs of nine sovereign Latin American countries.

What has driven the United States into this relationship toward these countries? Is it, to use the words of the late President Harding, "the lure of the waters, or the march of empire, or the call of commerce, or inscrutable destiny?" Perhaps a little of each, if you will. But I should be inclined to lay much the greater emphasis on such tangible factors on the investments of American bankers and industrialists in the securities and properties of these countries. Military and diplomatic reasons have always had their roots firmly gripping economic soil although this fact has not always been too apparent to the average citizen.

* * *

THE owning class in the United States has amassed surplus wealth that it has greatly profited it to invest abroad. Whether our bankers have been able to secure a return on their money greater than their forerunners—the British finance capitalists who are undoubtedly past masters in the art of foreign investment—is of no great concern to the common man. The fact is that they have ben able to make investments overseas that yield somewhat higher than those made in comparable enterprises at home. Therefore the money has gone abroad and will continue to do so. And the search for extra-territorial business opportunities is bound to continue not only in the form of investments in government and corporate securities but also in enterprises that are a part of the American quest for certain raw materials.

No Loan for U. S. S. R.

It should be noted, incidentally, that American dollars will go anywhere they can discern a prospect of profit no matter what type of native government may be involved, so long as the borrowing country is essentially capitalistic in its economic system. To be sure the Soviet Union, which operated a system abhorrent to the rulers of the United States will not be the recipient of long-term loans until she consents to mend her ways to comply with the standards of Mr. Kellogg. But all other countries will be able to secure capital from Wall Street no matter what their political forms.

Our bankers, with the aid of the state department, and the state department, assisted by the bankers—the relationship is generally reciprocal—will continue to lend dollars to such dictatorships as those now prevailing in Italy, Hungary, Haiti, Chile, Venezuela and Peru. Indeed it is now to the advantage of the American investors to see that these dictatorships are maintained; otherwise American loans and investments might be placed in jeopardy. United States foreign policy will continue to be shaped not by any reference to the essential democracy or lack of democracy of the borrowing state but purely by the ability of the native government and the native industry to function along normal capitalistic lines.

* * *

Capital and Foreign Policy

HOW does this export of capital, this financial penetration, effect American foreign policy? In various ways, depending upon the strength of the borrowing country, the form in which the capital is invested, the influence of the capital exporter and a number of other factors. But basically the policy of the United States is, to use the words of President Coolidge, that "the person and property of a citizen are a part of the general domain of a nation, even when abroad." Its policy is to use whatever force is necessary to protect that person and that property. This policy has already led your government into wars, interventions, the extortion of treaties, the occupation of territory, the declaration of "neutral zones," embargoes on arms, violation of the rights of foreign peoples, seizures of customs houses, the support of revolutions in one country, or at one period, and their suppression in another country or at another period in the same country, depending solely upon the extent to which American economic interests were advanced by the action.

This policy is bound to lead to similar participation in the "white man's burden" in the future. More than that, the American concessionaire abroad has been able to use your state department to assist him in securing his original concession or economic claim in the backward country. At other times he has used it to prevent the cancellation of his concession through a change in the native government.

(To Be Continued.)

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

NATIONAL EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year.
Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

Vol V., No. 175.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1928

VIOLENT REACTION NOW THREATENS MEXICAN WORKERS

World Congress of Communist International Discusses Bucharin's Thesis

NEGRO DELEGATE SAYS SOCIALIST PARTY BETRAYS

French Delegates Tell of Work in Army

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 24.—Under the chairmanship of Carlton, the sixth session of the World Congress of the Communist International opened here today with the continuance of Nikolai Bukharin's discussion.

French Imperialism.

Semard declared that the French delegation was in agreement with Bukharin's report and theses but would like to see more emphasis placed on the role of French imperialism. He pointed out that the main aim of French imperialism is to extend its colonial possessions thus intensifying the antagonism with the other imperialist powers Simultaneously it is oppressing the French working class.

The French social democracy is supporting colonial oppression abroad and capitalist rationalization at home.

Semard drew attention to the successful anti-war propaganda which the French Communist Party is conducting among the troops and in the factories so that, when war comes, the imperialist conflict can be turned into a civil war and proletarian revolution.

De Visser of Holland, next declared that the Executive Committee of the Communist International had in several instances failed to act quickly enough. He cited as examples, the British General Strike the Sacco-Vanzetti campaign, etc.

Rogitch, of Yugo-Slavia, declared that his delegation was completely in agreement with Bukharin and was very thankful for the liquidation of anti-Party factional struggles.

Negro Work.

Ford, the Negro delegate of the American delegation, asserted that the American Party was not yet paying sufficient attention to work among the Negroes. In spite of the intolerable exploitation of millions of Negroes, he pointed out that nothing had been done to bring these workers closer to the Party.

"The American socialist party has organized reactionary trade unions in which we are without influence," Ford declared. He further maintained that race prejudices are found even among Party members and that there were not sufficient good directors of Negro work on the

Continued on Page Three

KEEP UP SEARCH, FASCISTS PLEAD

No Ban on Krassin Visit, U. S. Says

MOSCOW, July 24 (UP).—A request that Russia continue her search for the six men who disappeared with the wrecked gas bag of the dirigible Italia was received from the Italian government today, along with an offer of two big seaplanes to assist in the search.

* * *

U. S. Not To Welcome.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (UP).—The federal government will not stand in the way of the contemplated visit to the United States of Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian relief expedition aboard the Krassin, and Chukhnovsky, Russian air pilot, who assisted in the rescue work following the dirigible Italia's polar flight, it was said in official circles here today.

They must, however, comply with all immigration regulations concerning Russian visitors to this country before they will be granted visas.

Authorities displayed little interest in dispatches saying that arrangements were being made in New York to fete the Russians there. Federal officials can take no part in the welcoming program.

* * *

Start New Search For Amundsen.

OSLO, July 24.—A new search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions, who have been lost since they set out to seek the fascist Nobile expedition June 18, is being organized.

The probable whereabouts of the Amundsen plane has been calculated by the director of the Meteorological Institute at Tromsoe.

Helped to Make Workingclass History

A group of delegates to the National Nominating Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party, standing in front of the Workers Center. 26-28 Union Square, New York City, and displaying a copy of the Daily Worker announcing the nomination of William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow as the standard-bearers of the workers in the coming elections. This convention launched the greatest political campaign that the American working class has ever undertaken. (Photo by George Elson, Cleveland.)

CLAIM OF SANDINO'S 'DEFEAT' NOW EXPOSED

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 24.—The recent claims of Secretary of Navy Wilbur that Sandino has been "defeated" were exposed today by the admission of Wilbur himself that the thousands of marines now in Nicaragua will remain there. This information was given to Coolidge today by the Secretray of the Navy.

Some time ago, the Navy Department denied that Sandino had an army of more than 200 soldiers. Recently, they have reported the "surrender" of about 500 Nicaraguan These claims were shown to be false by the re-enforcements of marines The latest claim of Sandino's "defeat" is shown to be equally false.

When Wilbur annouced the "defeat" of Sandino, he refused to give any details.

It is evident that serious consideration is being given to the real situation in Nicaragua, which is not revealed to the public. Of considerable significance is the fact that Thomas Cochran, partner of J. P. Morgan, was present at the conference of Wilbur and President Coolidge.

REPORT POLISH BORDER CLASH

Pilsudski Soldier Killed Is Rumor

WARSAW. Poland. July 24.—Newspaper accounts report that one Polish soldier was killed and another wounded in a struggle with Lithuanians near the frontier today. The engagement is said to have taken place at Neutroki.

Coming immediately after marshal Pilsudski's review and overt encouragement of his legion during the anniversary exercises at Vilna, the rumored clash on the border is causing intense excitement here, and confirmation of the report is eagerly being awaited.

The government has not as yet issued an official statement and will not until the receipt of further details from the border. It is expected, however, in view of the present administration's attitude towards Lithuania, that relations between the two government's may be seriously strained within the next forty-eight hours.

* * *

Lithuania Aroused.

KOENIGSBERG, East Prussia. July 24.—A wholly unconfirmed rumor from Kovno states that a clash between Polish and Lithuania detachments took place near the frontier today.

Details are lacking but reports of tremendous excitement thruout the country have been received.

MILL BOSSES IN NEW FAKE MOVE

State Board, Boss Tool, Calls "Peace Meet"

(Special To The Daily Worker.)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 24.—Warrants were issued by the local police against seven of the striking textile workers for their part in a mass picketing demonstration today on the charge of parading without a permit. Over two thousand pickets and spectators answered the attempt of the mill bosses' association to prevent picketing by threats of a new reign of terror. All are held on $300 bail.

* * *

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 24—Announcement that Edward Fisher, chairman of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, is addressing letters to the mill owners' association and to the heads of the Textile Council for a conference Friday, July 27, indicate that new steps are being taken by that instrument of the mill barons to end the strike of the 28,000 textile workers whose walkout more than 15 weeks ago completely silenced 70,000 looms.

As before the steps being taken by them, show that they are making another effort to pave the way for a betrayal of the tens of thousands of workers by refusing to call to the proposed negotiations the real representatives of the workers,—the Textile Workers Union of the Textile Mill Committees.

Edward Fisher, chairman of the State Board said that letters were being addressed to the mill owners' association and to the heads of the Textile Council for a conference Friday, July 27, 11 a. m. in the forenoon in the New Bedford City Hall

At a previous conference held by the same parties, a delegation from the strike committee of the T. M. C was refused permission to enter when they were sent there by the union with a demand to participate in any settlement negotiations.

No Replies Yet.

Neither the employers nor Batty's union have as yet given official replies to the conference invitation but it is almost a certainty that they will both accept. The Textile Mill Committees, it is believed, will again follow the same procedure of demanding representation on the grounds of safeguarding against a betrayal of the workers interests.

The discussion at the last conference was entirely around the question of rescinding the 10 per cent wage cut,—the textile council fakers completely disregarding the demands of the workers for a wage increase and a lessening of hours, as are the

Continued on Page Three

TO PROTEST SENTENCE

Meetings to Demand Porter's Release

Superior, Wis., July 24.—A large number of mass meetings protesting against the two and a half year court-martial sentence of John Porter, textile strike leader of New Bedford, will be held in Wisconsin and Minnesota during the next two weeks.

The meetings, arranged by the Young Workers (Communist) League, will be utilized to show the purpose of Porter's sentence, and the real nature of th capitalist militarism which sent Porter to prison for his activities in the labor movement. Speakers will discuss the Porter sentence and the war danger.

WORKERS PARTY HAILS TRIUMPH OF USSR RESCUE SHIP

Central Executive Committee Contrasts Fascist Cowardice With Communist Courage

Pointing to the wide political significance of the achievements of the Arctic rescue expedition of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics in saving many members of the lost crew of the Fascist polar junket, the Workers (Communist) Party of America issued yesterday from its national office at New York a statement contrasting these achievements with the miserable failure of the fascist "exploration" gesture with its exposure of cowardice on the part of Mussolini's agents.

As the importance of events concerning the ill-fated fascist gesture at polar exploration are not diminishing, but promise to increase from day to day because of remarkable social significance the statement published here is of much importance. The American masses will have their opportunity, in all probability, to greet the heroic Soviet aviators, Chukhnovsky and his comrades, in the near future, since Foreign Minister Chicherin has stated that the invitation to the aviators to visit the United States will be accepted.

The statement of the Workers (Communist) Party follows:

Fascism, the militant dictatorship of the bourgeoisie, and Sovietism, the militant workers' rule under Communist leadership, have shown their mettle in the Arctic ice-fields.

For years the American bourgeoisie has worshiped at the shrine of fascism. Not only capitalists and their newspaper henchmen, but even a section of the so-called liberal intelligentsia were captivated by the spectacle of the "strong arm" that knew how to keep the workers and the poor peasants downtrodden and deprived of the most elementary rights. In Mussolini's white terror the ruling classes and their satellites admired what they called "efficiency," "discipline," "order." On the other hand, while forced on the whole to admit the gigantic successes of the Soviet Union, the same classes and groups kept on denouncing the workers' rule as "tyrannical," "corrupt" and "morally degrading."

Imperialism and Communism—a Contrast.

The outstanding facts of the Nobile expedition and the rescue activities of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin's crew have manifested even to the bourgeoisie the true nature of Fascism on the one hand, Communism on the other.

Nobile's expedition was a link in the chain of imperialist ventures. Even when the representatives of finance capital are not engaged in direct plunder, they have to keep the annexationist-militarist spirit alive. Even when they cannot send troops to occupy foreign lands, they at least undertake actions symbolizing military occupation. Such a symbol was the Italia's flight to the pole, accompanied by all the bombastic phrase-mongering and flamboyant self-aggrandizement of which the blood-reeking demagogue Mussolini is past master.

Reactionary Aims.

The Nobile expedition pursued no scientific aims; it was not intended to make new discoveries; it used exploration as a convenient pretext; it was to remind the powers engaged in a frantic race for air domination that Italy was a great aerial power; it was to plant a cross blessed by the Pope and a flag consecrated by Mussolini on the "roof of the world"; it was to divert the attention of the masses at home from their intolerable conditions and from the sentencing of large numbers of Communist and other militant workers to long years of prison; it was to convey to an astounded world the glory of Fascism.

Failure of Expedition.

The expedition, like war, like any other severe crisis, only proved the inner decay of the system of which it is an expression. The fate of the Italia and its crew is by no means an accident, as there is no accident in the collapse of a disease-corroded body. The expedition was ill-equipped, ill-organized. Its commander, "General" Nobile, was not fit to lead. He had no scientific standing. He knew more about champagne parties than about polar flights. Like his lord and master Mussolini he knew only how to throw dust in the eyes of the world without gaining the confidence of his fellow fliers, and without establishing between himself and the crew a spirit of co-operation so essential in hazardous undertakings.

Nobile's Cowardly Desertion.

When the dirigible collapsed and rescue came in the person of the Swedish flier Lundborg, Mussolini's "air ambassador" committed an act of cowardice and treachery. He left his five companions on the ice pack. He flew to safety alone, abandoning his co-workers to their bitter fate. His superiors in Rome hastened to explain his action as prompted by a desire to lead rescue activities; but empty words could not cover up the shame of the Fascisti. The Fascist "General" has not lead any rescue activities. He saved his own skin. He stands revealed as a dastardly coward in the eyes of even his own class. He reveals the moral fibre of the regime of which he is the exponent.

In trying to white-wash Nobile's cowardice, Mussolini and his Fascist government identify themselves with the coward and traitor. No more lurid light could have been thrown on the blood-stained dictatorship of the bourgeoisie.

Deserted Malmgren to Die.

Like master, like man. Even the capitalist world shuddered on hearing that two Fascist officers, Captain Mariano and Captain Zappi, left the young Swedish scientiest, Dr. Malmgren, to die in the frozen wastes. Malmgren was one of those heroic men who attempted to rescue the stranded Fascists. Malmgren was trying to lead the two captains to firm land. When his wound and exhaustion made it impossible for him to proceed, the men he tried to rescue left him to die, taking with them all the provisions. The example of the chief was repeated by his subordinates in a more hideous manner.

By ordering Mariano and Zappi to keep quiet about Malmgren, Mussolini identified himself also with this blood-curdling crime. Fascsim showed its real face.

The Soviet Rescue Ship.

Into this picture of inefficiency, corruption, cowardice and treachery come, like a refreshing breeze, the activities of our comrades of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. The Soviet rescue mission had no political aims in view. Moreover, it was not animated by particular love for the personnel of the Italian dirigible, who it knew to be Fascists. It plowed its difficult way to the ice-bound Arctic because it deemed it its duty to rescue fellow human beings. But what a revelation was its appearance on the frozen scene to a breathless world!

A Triumph of Soviet Science.

Unlike the Italia, the Krassin proved excellently equipped with all that modern science can offer, thus bearing witness not only to the economic strength of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, but also to the eagerness of the ruling proletariat to make science its greatest weapon in the construction of socialism. Unlike the Italia, the Krassin was headed not by bluffing "Generals," but by an earnest scientist, Professor Samoilovich. And unlike the crew of the Italia, the Russian flier, Comrade Chukhnovsky, when forced down on the ice, thought first of the Italians who he had sighted, and although in peril himself, radioed to the Krassin the position of the stranded

Continued on Page Three

Ammunition to Fight Mine Bosses, Betrayers

Provisions for fighting Miners and families

Photo shows a truck of food, sent by the Chicago branch of the National Miners' Relief Committee, ready to leave for the Illinois mine fields. It is the food and clothing contributed by workers thruout the country that is keeping the striking miners fighting against the united front of the bosses and the bureaucrats. Send more ammunition to the heroic miners by contributing thru the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh.

WEISBORD NAILS LIES OF TEXTILE MILL BOSSES

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 24.—Meeting the textile barons' "publicity ofensive" as brilliantly as the Textile Mill Committees picket lines are meeting the police offensive, Albert Weisbord, national leader of the Textile Mill Committees, yesterday issued an answer to the published statements of John Sullivan, president of the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' Association.

The employers' organization head had recently announced that they will end their silence and carry on a "publicity offensive" to gain sympathy, and "get some action" to halt the strikers' effective picketing.

Weisbord's statement says:

"We are glad to note that Mr. Sullivan is now going to run the strike for the New Bedford Cotton Manufacturers' Association. This will make it all the easier for the strikers to win. The exaggerated statements of Mr. Sullivan are such as to make him appear in a very ridiculous light, indeed.

"(1) Mr. Sullivan would make it appear that the mills of New Bedford were in a terrible financial state, forcing the mill owners to hand down a ten per cent cut. Has Mr. Sullivan forgotten the many melons that were sliced by the mill owners during the past few years, the extra stock dividends handed out to parasitical beneficiaries, the steady and high rate of dividends squeezed from the workers, the outrageous tax exemption secured from the state by the high-powered legislative lobby of the New Bedford mill owners?

"If Mr. Sullivan has forgotten these things we have not and we will bring them to his attention.

Refutation on Wages

"(2) Mr. Sullivan states that the wages of the textile workers in New Bedford are the highest in the world. Even the New Bedford Times placed on its front page at the beginning of the strike a chart showing that the wages in New Bedford are lower than in any other fine cotton goods center in New England.

"But we would like to go beyond the charts of the New Bedford Times. We would like to point out to Mr. Sullivan that we are fighting not only against the 10 per cent reduction, but for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

"We say that an average wage of $16 to $17 a week may be fit for Mr. Sullivan's pigs, but not for us; and we would welcome Mr. Sullivan giving us a demonstration of how to live on such a wage himself.

"Further, Mr. Sullivan knows that New Bedford is the very center for fine goods in America, that the rest of the mills producing fine goods follow New Bedford with its 60,000 fine goods looms, not New Bedford, Taftville, Connecticut or any other mill village where some fine goods may be produced.

Speed-Up

"(3) Mr. Sullivan complains that the workers are not working hard enough in the mills; that they were slowing down on the job. It is really too bad about Mr. Sullivan, that he should so conveniently forget that in New Bedford one of the worst speed-up systems in the world is in operation, and that the figures show that here the workers are producing twice as much as a few years ago.

"(4) Finally, Mr. Sullivan makes the truly asinine statement that the mills are going to move south. Mr. Sullivan well knows, or should know if he is going to run the works for the Manufacturers' Association, that it is no accident that of the 130,000 fine goods looms in America, only 10,000 are in the south, and as the best argument of all, we tell Mr. Sullivan that he will find the Textile Mill Committees on the job fighting it out with him there.

"The statements of Mr. Sullivan will have a very provocative effect on the workers. Mr. Sullivan threatens the workers with a still greater speed-up and still worse conditions in the mills. This will only make the workers realize more than before that to deal with a fellow like Sullivan a good strong stick is necessary—the stick of the union.

1,350 U.S. MARINES TO LEAVE CHINA

Use "New Diplomacy" for Chinese Masses

WASHINGTON, July 24 (UP).—Acting Secretary of Navy Theodore D. Robinson, approved today immediate withdrawal of 1,350 officers and men of the marine corps and 13 airplanes from the Tientsin area in China.

The eact date of the sailing from China of the transport Henderson, which will convey the marines to San Diego, will be determined by Admiral Bristol, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet. The withdrawal was recommended by Admiral Bristol and concurred in by the state department.

The departure of the 1,350 marines will leave 48 American officers and 2,467 men in China.

* * *

WASHINGTON, July 24. — The withdrawal of some of the American marines from China, following close upon Kellogg's call for a Sino-American conference, is ooked upon here as a definite step towards the recognition of the Nanking regime.

Although government officials here would not commit themselves definitely on the recognition of the counter-revolutionary government, they indicated that recognition would be very likely to follow the proposed conference.

MORE PHOTOS WANTED

"Daily" Makes Appeal for Pictures

On pages 1 and 4 of today's Daily Worker appears two interesting pictures taken by George Elson, a worker-photographer of Cleveland. These two photos are excellent illustrations of the type of pictures that the "Daily" wants to receive from its readers.

We want more like them. We also want pictures of picket-lines, open-air meetings and demonstrations, working class athletic activities, etc. It is not necessary to have complicated photographic apparatus. Camera snapshots that are clear will do—preferably of the

Continued on Page Three

CHURCH TO SAVE KILLER; SMASH LABORMOVEMENT

Congressmen May Be Expelled

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Indications that the hold of the church hierarchy over the Calles government may save Jose De Leon Toral, assassin of General Obregon, and that the whole force of the government may be employed against the labor movement, was revealed in a statement today by Aurelio Manrique, spokesman for the reactionary land owners who now dominate the political situation.

"We regard Obregon's assassin as a personage who was controlled by superior outside forces," said Manrique. "We do not demand his death, but we do demand justice and we believe this can be achieved most quickly by removal from the government of those labor leaders whose anti-Obregon activities created the atmosphere for the mad act of the assassin. The influence wielded by those labor leaders must be wiped out of Mexican public affairs."

The assassin of Obregon recently confessed that he killed Obregon for religious motives. It appears that pressure is being made by the church, in alliance with the "Agrarians," to save Toral.

It is expected that an official statement will be issued by the government withdrawing the assertion that the church is responsible for the assassination.

The new "confession" of Toral is being kept secret. It is possible that he may repudiate his statement that the crime is due to religious influence, on acount of the dominance of the church in the political situation and the fact that his life might be spared.

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 24 (UP).—Demand for removal of labor party men from all government offices throughout the country was made today by the powerful union of revolutionary parties.

The union has accused the labor party of "psychological authorship" of the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon.

Luis N. Morones, head of the labor party, already had resigned his post of minister of commerce, industry and labor in the cabinet, along with two fellow-officials, at the demand of the party. The demand now would mean removal of labor men from posts as governors of states, municipal officials and as senators and deputies in the legislature—a complete political ouster.

[Editor's Note: The term "revolutionary parties" really means "reactionary parties."]

* * *

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Following the forced resignation of Luis N. Morones and other so-cal' "labor" leaders from the cabi the reactionary "Agrarians" and Catholic clergy took steps today restore the power of the church to crush all workers' organizations.

The reactionary parties today announced that they will not be satisfied with the resignation of M rones, Gasca and Moneda and ma demands upon the government f the expulsion of every member the "Labor Party" from bot houses of congress.

"We do not counsel disorder Manrique, reactionary leader of th "Agrarians," stated today. " see no cause, to seek war until other resources have been e hausted." This is regarded as threat at civil war unless the premacy of the wealthy landlords clergy and American capitalists accepted submissively.

In spite of the fact that the assassin of Obregon has confessed that the killing was caused by the church, the Catholic clergy, in alliance with the rich land owners of the "Agrarian" party, is using the opportunity to return to power and charge the "Labor" party, which has been anti-church on account of the pressure of the masses, with "responsibility" for the assassination.

It is evident that the clergy and reactionaries are preparing a persecution of the militant workers of Mexico, with new attacks against the peasantry and reaction in the land question.

FIND ROMAN COINS

BENEVENTO, July 24 (UP).—Gold and silver coins, believed to belong to the Roman age, were discovered at the Commune of Pa rano when an old building was demolished.

Milliners Pledge Their Support to Big Shop Conference Relief of Striking Miners

CHAIRWOMEN OF LOCAL 43 TO AID THURSDAY MEET

Militant N. Y. Workers Rally to Call

At a meeting held late last week at the Stuyvesant Casino the shop chairwomen of Local 43, Millinery Workers Union, heartily endorsed the shop delegates conference for miners relief to be held Thursday at 6 o'clock at Bryant Hall, 42nd St. and 6th Ave., and pledged the support of their shops to the extent of taking immediate charge of the election of delegates.

Progressive workers throughout the city are rallying more strongly than ever to the support of the striking miners and their families. With the abject and spineless surrender of Lewis and his district corruptionists logically following his fifteen months of do-nothing policy of constant retreat and the militant call for the formation of a new union rising spontaneously from tens of thousands of miners completely disillusioned with the decadent United Mine Workers, the furnishing of food, tents and medical aid become of even more importance than heretofore. The formation of a new miners' union is of the utmost importance to the whole labor movement, it presenting an unbroken front at the front line of the bosses' open-shop drive. Only if the miners and their families are fed and sheltered, if medical aid is provided, will they march on to victory under the banner of militant unionism.

The shop and factory workers from 14th to 59th St., realizing the grave import of the new union call, will respond by the hundreds to the Miners' Relief Conference of July 26. Already milliners, dressmakers, furriers and cloakmakers have endorsed the action of the Provisional Committee in calling the conference. All shops and factories are urged to elect delegates for this urgent conference, which will convene to consider ways and means on how best to support the army of miners and their families on the front of the open-shop war.

Bricklayers Win in British Embassy Row

WASHINGTON, July 24 (FP).—Members of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Union are now working on the new British embassy building job in Washington Their union, after a 25-year fight with Harry Wardman, leading anti-union building contractor in the District of Columbia, who has this job has reached an agreement with him.

On the other hand, the building trades council, backed by the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, has not made peace with the contractor. The bricklayers, now outside the department, say that their original break with Wardman was due to their striking in sympathy with other trades, whose officials finally left them to wage the war alone.

CHINESE SILK STRIKE GROWS

Factories Guarded by Military

SHANGHAI (By Mail). — The strike in the silk spinning mills here is still going on. Over 11,000 workers are participating in the strike. On the 30th of June the striking workers elected delegates to present their demands to the employers.

During the negotiations with the employers the workers' delegates came to an understanding with the former according to which work would be resumed upon condition that the question of fulfilling the demands of the workers would be examined after work has been resumed. The overwhelming majority of the strikers refused to go back to work under such conditions. About 2,000 working women returned to work, but went on strike again a few hours afterwards.

In six factories the work was being continued with a skeleton staff but the striking workers forced their way into these factories and persuaded the women to join the strike Under the excuse that "incidents" might occur the employers announced the closing down of the factories and appealed to the garrison commander to "take measures to protect the factories."

USE WAR TACTICS AGAINST NEGROES

Tammany Cops Stage Insulting Scene

An indication of the racial prejudice of the Tammany Hall machine, and its determination to "keep the Negro in his place," was seen yesterday when fire trucks, and even machine gun squads of police were called out in Lenox Ave. and 139th St. when a few friends of an arrested Negro tried to defend him from brutal treatment by the police.

The police attack on the friends of the arrested Negro drew crowds of people to the scene which, being in the heart of Harlem, is always quite busy. It was after the police began to fire recklessly into the crowd that the people, infuriated at the treatment, gathered closely around the officers.

In a short time more than 150 policemen, fully armed with riot guns and armored motorcycles, arrived on the scene. The "riot" was quelled when the police motorcycles plowed through the crowd of Negroes, injuring scores of them. More than an hour elapsed before the tactics of the police finally dispelled the unarmed protesting crowd.

Mooney-Billings Meets Called in Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—The Chicago local of I. L. D. has issued instructions to all branches and affiliated bodies to hold a special meeting devoted to a review of the Mooney-Billings case.

The twelfth anniversary of the radical frame-up against the two workers in bringing on a renewed effort on the part of International Labor Defense and the radical labor movement for their release.

LONDON, July 24 (UP).—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sir Oliver Lodge, leaders in three respective fields of literature and science, appeared as voluntary witnesses in Westminster police court today to defend spiritualism against the cynical charge that it is fortune telling for money and therefore il-

Fascists Object to Italia Investigation

ROME, July 24.—Premier Mussolini today, in reply to charges of experts of many countries that the Nobile expedition was poorly prepared and doomed from the start and also that the Swedish explorer Malmgren, had been left alive on the ice, announced that no investigation by other countries will be permitted

At the same time, Mussolini stated that the Fascist government will hold its own "investigation."

REVOLUTIONISTS MEET IN INDIA

Call Masses to Fight Imperialism

CALCUTTA, (By Mail).—In Nagpore, in the south of India, a conference of the representatives of the organizations of the workers and peasants block in the Central Provinces of India took place.

The conference was dominated by a fighting spirit against imperialism. The speakers pointed to the strike movement which is at present going on all over India and declared that the strikes were a sign that the workers of India were awakening and were prepared to fight for a new and better life.

The conference adopted a number of resolutions appealing to the Indian workers and peasants to fight against imperialism and to boycott the Simon commission. Various demands of an economic nature were set up. A resolution was adopted protesting against the sentencing of the British workers' leader, Spratt by the Indian authorities.

ITALIAN CLOAK WORKERS ACTIVE

Draw Latin Workers in to Build Union

The drawing of Italian workers into active participation in the struggle to build a real cloak and dressamkers' union, was the subject for which plans were discussed and formulated at the first meeting of the executive board of the Italian branch, Joint Board Cloak and Dressmakers' Union. The meeting was held in the union headquarters, 16 W. 21st St., last night.

After a report was delivered by Charles S. Zimmerman, head of the Organization Department of the National Organization Committee, the board members held a thorough discussion and decided as their first step the issuance of circulars and leaflets to keep the Italian workers acquainted with the fight against the right wing Sigman gang and the bosses.

The most strenuous efforts will be made to build up the circulation of the Italian paper of the branch, "Unita Operia." E. Oswaldo, paid organizer of the branch, also delivered a report of the work accomplished up to and since the last meeting of the Italian Branch, held last Thursday.

HIDES FOREIGN CONTROL

BERLIN, July 24.—The Mueller cabinet, the new German cabinet, refusing to assume responsibility for the raise in railroad fares proposed by S. Parker Gilbert, reparation commissioner, has shifted the responsibility to the court of arbitration.

Johnson, 'Independent' Will Support Hoover

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 24 (UP).—Senator Hiram Johnson, the independent republican of California, announced after a conference with Herbert Hoover here this afternoon that he would support the republican presidential nominee because "I am a republican candidate for United States senator in this state."

CARRANZA MOURNED

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—The body of Carranza was received here in state at the ministry of war by President Calles, Ambassador Morrow and United States and Moxican army officers.

TRANSYLVANIA DISPUTE

BUDAPEST, Rumania, July 24.—The Hungarian government sent the Rumanian government a note today rejecting the proposals of the latter for the settlement of the Transylvania property dispute.

Rumania had confiscated the property that belonged to Hungarians living in Transylvania and had suggested that Chamberlain arbitrate the dispute. The Hungarian note demanded that an arbitrator of a country that had remained neutral during the war be chosen.

FIRE CAUSES DAMAGE

MILAN, July 24 (UP).—Fire today destroyed a great suburban warehouse stored with waterproof cloths. Damage was estimated at 2,000,000 lire.

Envoy Avoided Parade

VIENNA, July 24.—The French ambassador absented himself from yesterday's demonstration in memory of Franz Schubert, the Austrian composer, having had some warning that efforts were to be made to turn the event into a demonstration for union with Germany. The ambassador was acting on instructions from his government which is desirous of preventing the union.

FOREIGN PUBLISHER DEAD

MILAN, Italy, July 24 (UP)—Edoardo La Croix Andrivet, 75, well-known publisher, is dead here.

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)
TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA
COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP
SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — — Aug. 10
Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS
World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates:
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $3

Enclosed find $..........
for ..... months/weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

Who Wins When You Read Your Bosses Paper?

Your Boss Owns a Car—But You Can't Ride In It; Your Boss Owns a Home—But You Can't Live In It; Your Boss Possesses Wealth—But You Can't Share It—The Bosses Own the Earthh—They Mark If Off and Divide It Up Among Themselves!

WHY ARE THEY SO READY TO LET YOU ENJOY THEIR NEWSPAPERS?

1. There is only one daily newspaper in the English language that really belongs to the workers—The DAILY WORKER.

2. Do you know that when you read another paper you are really scabbing on yourself? You help your boss maintain the greatest single weapon he can fight you with.

3. You let him lie to you and take your courage away; you let him confuse the real issues of your struggles; you let him divide your ranks and defeat you singly; you let him set worker against worker for his own purposes; white against black, foreign against native born. . . .

4. The bosses laugh to themselves. They speak of you as the "poor fish"—He swallows everything we give him, they say—the poor fish.

5. They fill up their papers with attractively made up—swill. You absorb this gutter trash and poison. And the bosses win!

6. They get you drunk with fool ideas. They cover over the slavery in which they hold you. They intoxicate you with notions of your great opportunities. They pay their kept word-slingers high salaries to flatter you and sooth your rebellion. And always the bosses win!

You Deliver a Double Blow—— When You Buy The

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

If you want the real facts in the coming election campaign; if you want to read the exposure of the Wall Street candidates; if you want to know why the socialist party is also a bosses' party

Buy--Read--Support--The Daily Worker

For the Workers---Against the Bosses

The DAILY WORKER can be built up, its influence extended, its circulation increased—only if its readers and the members of the Workers (Communist) Party and its sympathizers get behind this most important task. Other papers can spend thousands in advertising, in offering large prizes, in running various expensive schemes to increase their circulation.

The DAILY WORKER obviously cannot do these things. It must depend on its readers. Every reader must do double duty. Buy, read, talk about, but above all, distribute The DAILY WORKER.

Become a regular Worker correspondent for your paper.

Why You Should Read The Daily Worker

Because No Other Paper Gives Your Side of Labor's Struggles; Because No other Paper Fights Enemies 24 Hours Every Day; Because The DAILY WORKER Shows the Way Out of Your Difficulties.

1. Because, The DAILY WORKER fights for higher wages, shorter hours, better conditions, not merely in words, but with acts. It goes into the factory with you, it enters the fleet owner's garage, it goes down into the coal mines—everywhere the bosses fear it.

2. Because this paper is now a power in the labor movement. It has helped to defeat scores of labor fakers; it has exposed the bosses' agents in the ranks of the workers; it has shown the way in all of labor's struggles.

3. Because The DAILY WORKER fights against the old political parties, the republican party of biggest boss exploitation of the workers, the democratic party of Tammany graft, the socialist party of little business and united front with the labor fakers—because it fights for a real workers' party, a Communist Party.

4. Because The DAILY WORKER has been the active supporter of the great struggles in which labor has engaged in the last four years. It has thrown all its energies and resources into the great mine strike; it is organ pointing the way to the textile strikers; it is with the needle trades workers in their fight on two fronts; it is in all the fights. For the workers—against the bosses.

5. Because The DAILY WORKER gives you the only reliable news of the Soviet Union, the fatherland of all workers, the country in which the workers have already taken power and are building up a new world fit to live in for those who toil.

6. Because The DAILY WORKER is the official organ of the Workers (Communist) Party, the only Party of the Working Class in America; because the Communists alone have the right policies for the workers and the courage to fight for these policies in the factories, in the mines, in the offices, on the political field.

Terrorism Sweeps Over Egypt as Fuad Government Is Afraid of Strength of Protest

ALL OUTBREAKS ELY; POLICE PATROL HARBOR

Act to Crush Youth by Drastic Measures

CAIRO, Egypt, July 24.—All the forces of the present Egyptian administration were being brought into play yesterday against the growing power of a nationwide protest movement resulting from King Fuad's dissolution of parliament for three years.

Police Massed.

The return of Mme. Gaghlul from Europe was made the occasion for a show of strength by the administration who massed police and troops along the quays and streets of Alexandria in an effort to overawe the crowds who filled the city to see the widow of the former leader.

Following the Wafdist manifesto denouncing Fuad's action, the speech of Nahas Pasha threatening civil war has rung thru Egypt. The possibilities of an outbreak are openly conjectured.

Alarmed by the impending struggle the administration has acted to crush the three-day strike of lawyers in Alexandria by an order from the ministry of justice forbidding any court adjournments. The strike was in protest against Fuad's action

Terrorize Youth.

Participation of the youth in political agitation, which has repeatedly proved embarrassing to the government, has been met by proposal of the ministry of education that all youths indulging in political activities be suspended from their educational institutions and excluded from examinations for one year. Leaders are to be expelled from schools and colleges for an indefinite period.

Foreseeing that the majority of students will in this way be banished from the schools, the administration has made plans for reducing the teaching staffs in the same ratio.

Thruout the country the feeling that the action of Fuad in dissolving parliament was effected at the bidding of the British government is growing. Determination to be free of foreign interference in Egyptian affairs is freely voiced in spite of the system of secret agents which the government is developing in the little towns and villages. Threats of revolt are constantly heard.

• • •

Chamberlain Knows Nothing.

LONDON, July 24.—Denying that the British government has taken any part in the suspension of the Egyptian parliament by King Fuad Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs, yesterday told the house of commons that his majesty's government has not received any advices concerning the present situation said to exist in Egypt.

ROSARIO PICKETS AT POWER PLANT

ArgentineStrikeGrows as Demands Refused

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 24.—New developments in the Rosario strike indicate that a general strike is maturing. Strikers picketed the power station here today, threatening to shut off the power and were only disbanded when the police force was called out.

The strike which started with the strike of the dock workers and succeeded in closing the two main ports of Argentina, was soon followed by a strike of transporation workers and teamsters.

The strikers' ranks are holding steadily. The ecoperative spirit of the strikers is indicated by the action of the workers in attempting to shut off the power to prevent the scab-manned trolleys from running.

The directors of the trolley companies cabled from Brummels refusing to grant the demands of the workers.

Canadians Hold Liquor Parleys From Public

TORONTO, Ont., July 24 (UP). Investigations are being made by the liquor control board into the situation regarding the liquor docks on the Ontario-United States border, Sir Henry Drayton, chairman, told the United Press today. He would not reveal whether any steps are being taken, saying: "If there were any, I could not say anything about them."

General V. A. S. Williams, commissioner of provincial police, had a conference with Drayton but would

"Daily" Needs Photos

Continued from Page One

[illegible] finish type. Above all, all worker-photographers should remember to give the necessary data with each picture.

[illegible] worker-photographers are [illegible] by the Daily Worker. Here is an opportunity for all workers with cameras to help in improving the "Daily."

Sent Workers to Slaughter—Gets Monument

Government officials from several countries, including the United States, attended the unveiling in Prague, Czechoslovakia, of a monument to Woodrow Wilson, favorite saint of Big Business, who made millions for his masters in addition to sending thousands of workers to the slaughter in the last war to end war.

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF WORKERS PARTY HAILS "KRASSIN"

(Continued from Page One)

and gave directions for their rescue. Where everybody failed, the Amundsen party, the Swedish and Norwegian fliers, the Italian Alpinists—the Krassin succeeded.

Calmly, but irresistibly, with that doggedness that characterizes the activities of the proletariat, with that perfectly comradely discipline which makes everybody feel the responsibility for the whole and each work in harmony with the others, the Soviet ice-breaker has rescued all whom science, combined with brave effort, could discover in the bleak Northern wilderness. It rescued not only the Italians, but also many rescuers from other countries (whose governments had rejected the Soviet proposal concerning a joint rescue expedition.)

Vitality and Decay Contrasted.

The Italia and Krassin expeditions, while directly having to do with the geographical explorations and humanitarian activities, have tremendous political implications.

Fascism stands demasked through the very undertaking that was to add to its glory.

Proletarian dictatorship is revealed in all its strength and moral power through circumstances which, to the Soviet Union, were purely accidental.

Fascism proved its organizational weakness. Communism proved its organizational strength. Fascism, so beloved by the bourgeoisie for its show of discipline, is exposed as breeding meanness, cowardice and treachery. Communism, decried by the capitalist class as ruthless and inhuman, is revealed as a great force elevating the workers to a high level of generous self-denial and self-sacrifice. Fascism, in capitalist eyes, the symbol of efficiency, has been shown as criminally negligent and barbarously ill-prepared for emergencies. Communism, which the bourgeois theoreticians of the world in unison with all the "practical" business men assert, without the initiative of private property, is doomed to failure—Communism whose collapse has been heralded innumerable times in the capitalist and social-democratic press of the world, has through the Krassin activities impressed itself even upon the bourgeoisie, in a language the bourgeoisie can understand, as an economic and social entity of gigantic might.

Here, a class that has just ascended to power, full of indomitable energy and creative endeavor. There, a class that has outlived its usefulness and leads a parasitic life of decay. Here, a picture of what the world will be when the proletariat will have established its rule everywhere. There, a picture of what the workers must overthrow and destroy, of what they must rid the world, if humanity is to progress economically, politically, socially and culturally.

Lessons of the Event.

The Nobile and Krassin enterprises have a tremendous political significance vastly exceeding those of the conferences of the League of Nations and other international talk-feasts about which the bourgeoisie makes so much ado. The Nobile disaster is a shameful defeat of imperialism. The Krassin successes are a great victory for the Soviet peace proposals. The Nobile indignities could grow only out of a soil sown with the seed of imperialist oppression, lust and greed. The real nobility of the Krassin comrades is the spirit of a social revolution that does away with oppression of nations, exploitation of man by man, private property and private accumulation.

The workers of this country must learn the lesson of those great events. They must remember that while the dictatorship of the capitalists in this country differs from the Italian in form, it is practically of the same substance. The workers of America must remember that the "great" air conquests, the daring aerial expeditions of the capitalists of the United Seates, while more efficient and more successful, due to the greater wealth and technique of this country, are nevertheless imperialist ventures of the same kind as Mussolini's. And not for one moment must the workers forget that while sections of the bourgeoisie are so impressed with the Soviet rescue work that they sing the praise of the "Russians." Nevertheless, the great powers of the world, including the United States, are planning and preparing war against the Soviet Union as the stronghold of proletarian power and the beacon light of world proletarian hope.

Defend Soviet Union!

In sending, therefore, our brotherly greetings to the proletariat of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics on the occasion of the Krassin activities, and in expressing our pride in those activities, the workers must redouble their struggle against American imperialism, against American Fascism, against Italian Fascism, against Fascist rule in every other country and for the recognition of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.

Now, while a part of the bourgeoisie is paying lip service to the Soviet achievements, the time is particularly opportune for advancing the slogans:

Down with Fascism in Italy and everywhere!
Release the political prisoners captured by Fascism!
Long live the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics!
Long live Workers' rule the world over!
We demand the recognition of the Soviet Union!

CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY.

New York, July 21, 1928.

NEW PEACE MOVE IN MILL STRIKE

Continued from Page One

slogans raised by the T. M. C.

An official statement from the T M. C. denouncing the conference as a fake and calling on the workers to disregard it, is expected momentarily.

Police reports made public almost daily of the number of people entering the 56 factories tied up by the strike stated yesterday that only 384 entered which is about 100 less than last week. Last week's police count was the largest.

Remarkable as is the insignificant ratio of strikebreakers after 14 weeks of struggle, it becomes more so when it is shown that most of those entering as scabs are petty foremen and other mill officials.

The statement declares that New Bedford will see the greatest labor demonstration ever staged here when the workers begin to march. Yesterday's appeal to the U. T. W. members to participate in the parade, is being received with the greatest enthusiasm. Fraternization between the adherents of the two organizations is increasing at a tremendous rate, it is reported.

DISCUSS THESIS OF BUKHARIN AT WORLD CONGRESS

Ask More Attention to Negro Work

Continued from Page One

Executive Committee of the Communist International.

Vassilyev, of the Soviet Union then declared that in spite of the leftward swing of the masses the disproportion was growing between the political and organizaional influence of sections of the Communist International. The reasons for this are not only of an objective nature. The Communist Parties have neglected many things, he asserted In spite of the great electoral successes of the French and German Communist Parties there has been no increase in membership.

Young Communist International.

The Young Communist International is one of the best sections of the Comintern, but outside of the Soviet Union it has made no numerical progress in the last few years. The important task before all sections therefore is to work to win the youth.

Murphy, of Great Britain, declared that in describing the first post-war period, Bukharin stated that it had ended with defeats but had failed to mention that in this same period the Communist International had developed and the Communist Parties had won ground everywhere.

In describing the second period Bukharin had also failed to set off the development of the revolutionary movement in the colonies and the growth of the Communist Party of China against the stabilization of capitalism.

Further, he said, it is impossible to generalize about the development of technique which marked the third period. The transformation of capitalism from the second to the third period was not uniform, for example the British coal and steel industries are declining and rationalization means limiting production, not developing productive forces.

War Danger.

The British delegation regrets that Bukharin's theses fail to treat the League of National question sufficiently since it is today the central question in capitalist war preparations and for creating pacifist illusions. The Kellogg peace treaties which is part of the war preparations is not sufficiently stressed.

Furthermore, the speaker pointed out, the theses do not mention the co-operative question and treat the trade union question insufficiently altho this is an important question today, owing to the strong left wing movement which is fighting war preparations against the Soviet Union.

The theses also fail to mention Ireland despite its important role in the fight against British imperialism. The Communist International must finally treat the Irish question and the tasks of the Irish Communists.

Approve Attack.

The British delegation approves Bukharin's attack on fractionalism and demands that the Communist International finally liquidate fractionalism in the American Party.

Moreover, the question of the leadership of the Communist International must be carefully examined in order to form a strong leadership, uniform and capable of leading all sections.

MacDonald, of Canada, declared that Canada was playing an important part in Anglo-American antagonism and demanded that the Communist International treat the Canadian question because the Canadian bourgeoisie would support war against the Soviet Union.

The Communist Party of Canada would organize trade union delegations to the Soviet Union and had founded the committees of friends of the Soviet Union.

Bunting, of South America, demanded that the Communist International pay more attention to South Africa. He asserted that recently the connection between the Executive Committee of the Communist International and the South African Party had been very bad.

Continuation of the discussion was then adjourned until tomorrow.

Raskob, Open-Shopper 'Resigns' From Firm

John J. Raskob, Morgan controlled open-shopper and chairman of the Democratic National Committee has resigned his position as chairman of the finance committee and as a member of the executive committee of the General Motors Corporation, it was announced today. The reaction of Wall Street was a slight decline in General Motors stock.

The reasons given for his resignation were the stress of campaign duties and the fact that "it is desirable for the public to know that the corporation is not and in the nature of things cannot be in politics The corporation must not be put in the light of taking sides for or against political parties, personages or questions." Rascob will however retain his post as vice-president of the corporation. Edward P. Sloan president of the corporation admits that the resignation is regarded as but temporary.

British Unemployed Urged to "Exertion"

LONDON, July 24.—The unemployment situation in England is so bad that the Industrial Transference Board was forced into a statement that declared that 200,000 of the unemployed workers will die of starvation and privation unless drastic action is immediately taken.

The Board suggested that these 200,000 be removed from the area in which they live and be placed in other areas where their services are needed more. It further calls upon the unemployed to exert themselves more in looking for jobs.

With over a million and a half unemployed in all industries and in all sections, and in view of the general economic depression in England, it is hardly likely that these 200,000 will be able to find jobs no matter how much they "exert" themselves

DIPLOMATS HOLD SECRET PARLEY

Soviet Union Said to Be Subject

BERLIN, July 24.—Under the pretext of building their health about a dozen European diplomats, including Stresemann, Benes, the Czechoslovakian premier, Rumanian foreign minister Titulescu and representatives from the other Balkan countries, have collected at Karlsbad, the watering place in Czechoslovakia.

They are expected to settle some minor questions between themselves that would build up a stronger little entente and form stronger alliances under cover of the Kellogg "peace" plan and strengthen the bloc against the Soviet Union.

W. G. Klasgye, Dead

CLEVELAND, July 24.—On Wednesday William G. Klasgye. local secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party, of East Liverpool, Ohio, was drowned in an effort to save his stepdaughter.

Comrade Klasgye was a tireless, devoted member of the Party. His work for relief and support of the miners in the vicinity of East Liverpool, showed that Comrade Klasgye was made of the stuff that builds up the movement and the Party.

In the death of Comrade Klasgye, the Party and the district loses a good comrade, an indefatigable worker—a revolutionist.

District Executive Committee,
Ohio district, I. Amter, secretary

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

SANTAL MIDY
BACKACHES from KIDNEY or BLADDER CATARRH in the Aged
Soon eased by the genuine Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless

INT'L FOOD AND DRINK WORKERS MEET IN VIENNA

USSR Delegates Score Traitorous Policy

VIENNA, (By Mail).—Today the congress of the International Food and Drink Workers' Unions was opened here. The international represents almost 700,000 food and drink workers in various countries including the Soviet Union. The international secretary, Schiffertstein made a detailed report in which he also dealt with the question of night-baking and declared that in all countries where an official prohibition of night-baking existed, the employers were conducting a furious campaign to secure the withdrawal of the prohibition.

Russians Condemn IFTU.

Today's session of the congress of the International Food Workers' Unions was characterized by sharp disagreements between the Russian delegates and the executive of the union. A Russian delegate made a speech in which he sharply condemned the policy of the International Federation of Trades Unions and declared that the IFTU was disrupting the labor movement in all countries and sabotaging the labor struggles of the organized workers

Another Russian delegate, Spotnikov, made a speech in which he proved on the basis of facts and figures that the increase in wages in the food and drink industry was limping far behind the increase in the cost of living. He accused the International Union of having no fighting policy and pointed out in corroboration of his accusation that of 96,000 Swiss francs which had been expended by the international union in the past year, 2,000 only had been expended for fighting purposes and the rest for administrative expenses, salaries, etc.

Forest Fire Raging in Pacific Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24 (UP). —A serious forest fire hazard today was added to the heat wave now gripping the Pacific northwest.

Eight hundred men were fighting a blaze that threatened valuable timber land. The fire was burning unchecked east of Castle Rock.

Lumber, grain, a lumber mill, and farm buildings already have been consumed by the fire.

More than 200,000 feet of lumber was destroyed and damage estimated at $50,000 was done when the mill of the Maple Creek Lumber Co., near White Salmon, Wash., was swept by forest fire.

Three hundred acres of standing timber and a logging camp east of Moclips, Wash., also was destroyed.

A. F. OF L. LABOR MISLEADER DIES

Evans,MemberofGreen Machine "Ousted"

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—Edward J. Evans, 57, a member of the Green machine and a leader in the railway employment division of the American Federation of Labor, died suddenly at his home here today of a heart attack.

Evans before serving as vice-president of the railroad employment division, was a member of the Civil Service Commission in Chicago. A relationship between the labor officials and goverment bodies is now common.

He attended every meeting of the federation during the last few years and was planning on attending the coming meeting at Atlantic City July 31.

Evans also was called upon to attend hearings of various disputes of railway men in the United States and Canada. He was a member of the electrical workers union in Chicago He was connected with the notorious "umbrella" Mike Boyle gang in that city.

POLISH MINERS TO WALK OUT ON GENERAL STRIKE

Starvation Wages are Immediate Cause

WARSAW, Poland, July 24.—Thousands of Polish coal miners will tie up the entire mining industry thruout the country when a one day general strike set for July 25 goes into effect.

Striking against starvation wages the miners announce that they intend the general walk-out as a threat of what they will do unless the intolerable conditions existing in the industry at present are immediately corrected.

The immediate demands of the striking men are a wholesale increase in the existing starvation wages. It is impossible to sustain life longer on the present wage scale of the Polish miners, their leaders declare.

The owners who have announced their intention of shutting down the mines for the summer are using the strike to demand a subsidy from the government. The coal owners are representing the strike as a danger to the Pilsudski government and are urging the use of force if the general strike is declared for a longer period than one day.

Sixth Victim of Sewer Pipe Explosion Dead

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 24 (UP) —The second victim of a sewer explosion here yesterday which injured five workmen died today in a hospital.

The death of Tony Zolar, 25, followed by a few hours that of John Poliacek, 17. The other three injured men were reported in a critical condition.

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR
Freiheit Picnic
Saturday, July 28
Ulmer Park, Brooklyn
THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.
THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More
Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS
The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.
The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Slaved for De Laval Company 4 Years, Now Earns $1093.30, Correspondent Says

BLACKLISTING FINE ART IN POUGHKEEPSIE

Telephone Plays Part In System

(By a Worker Correspondent)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 24.—The article exposing the conditions in the De Laval Separator Company, which was published a few weeks ago in the Daily Worker, has ben the principal object of conversation among us ever since.

Conditions Miserable

While conditions of labor in our town are on the lowest level, our daily press and the so-called labor paper, Truth, published weekly by our labor fakers, never give much thought to real labor conditions here. It was the Daily Worker that made us think. We are going to continue to read it and tell others to read it.

Things here are really worse than one certain correspondent mentioned. I am working in the De Laval for four years and here is what I make for 12 months: $1,093.39. How can a man keep up his family with that miserable pay? The U. S. labor statistics say that $2,800 is the minimum.

Wife Must Work

My wife has to neglect our children and go to work in a factory for $12 a week. Working conditions for her are no better, if not worse, than in the De Laval plant. She works in a clothing factory.

The average earnings of an operator or a presser is about $20 a week. There are quite a number of clothing factories in our town where a few thousand workers are employed, as Cohn and Goldman (called "Garter"), Regents Coat Company, Rosenthal, etc. There are also many cloak, dress, shirt and necktie factories, in which many young girls—many under age—and women are employed.

Many Sweat Shops

The sweat-shop system is in full bloom here. After a day's work clothing is brought home, where little children help their mothers. In some of these houses the sanitary conditions are awful.

Blacklist Widespread

To cap all this, we have a system of blacklisting in this town. If one gives up his job in one of these hell-holes the telephone begins to ring in a special office kept up by the local manufacturers, informing them that employment must not be given to so-and-so and in this way shut off all avenues of work in this town for that worker.

Lately the mayor of the town, who happens to be a sort of decent fellow, brought the matter before the grand jury. But nothing came out of this, as the telephone receiver cannot tell and the guilty party denied his guilt.

I will write next time about how the Italian Roman Catholic "padre" helps the Jewish manufacturers and Free Mason managers to exploit the Italian workers.

A DE LAVAL WORKMAN.

Lady 'Liberal' Leaves Millions to Family

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 24. (UP)—The will of the late Mrs. Fanny Garrison Villard, wife of Henry Villard, railroad magnate, who died at her home at Dobbs Ferry, July 5, was filed for probate in Surrogate's Court today.

The entire estate, thought to approximate several million dollars was left to two relatives and friends four servants and four institutions. The residuary estate goes to two sons, Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, and Harold G. Villard, of New York.

"AGAINST" WHITE SLAVERS.

GENEVA, July 24.—The League of Nations has declared that by September it will be ready to issue a statement calling on the nations of the world to suppress the white slave traffic.

Last year the League of Nations suppressed the report of the white slavery commission and accomplished nothing in spite of all its promises. Now it again promises to pass a "model law" which it will urge all nations to adopt.

For Glory of Imperialism and MacFadden

Bernarr MacFadden, tabloid publisher and physical culture faker, has decided that he ought not to be left out in the cold in this flight publicity. So he has bought himself a monoplane and dispatched it with "good-will" letters from himself to President Calles of Mexico. In addition, Bernarr has the satisfaction of doing a good service to American imperialism.

PROTESTS GROW IN I. W. W. CASE

Plan Big Conference in Washington

Protests against the continued imprisonment of the Centralia prisoners in Walla Walla, Wash., and demands for their unconditional pardon continue to pour in upon Governor Roland H. Hartley and H. B. Clausen, chairman of the Parole Board, from labor organizations and prominent individuals.

Robert Whitaker, author and formerly a minister of the First Baptist Church of Seattle, and Professor David Starr Jordan, president emeritus of Leland Stanford University, California, are among those who have added their protests, according to letters received by the national office of International Labor Defense, 80 East 11th St., New York.

Whitaker's Letter

Whitaker, in his letter to Governor Hartley, declares:

"The continued imprisonment in Walla Walla of the eight members of the I. W. W. by reason of the hysteria of the after-war period is a heavy handicap upon the reputation of Washington. . . . Particularly at this time the United States is in a special need of every possible exhibit of the spirit of tolerance and good will. . . . May I urge that your boards release these men immediately and unconditionally."

Professor David Starr Jordan writes:

"I understand that the eight members of the I. W. W. sent to the penitentiary from Centralia are applying for pardon. It is certain that the treatment of the Centralia affair has come as a disgrace to the State of Washington. I sincerely hope that the proper authorities of the State of Washington can see their way to grant an unconditional pardon to these people. I am not personally acquainted with any of them."

International Labor Defense points out that the actions on the part of Professor Jordan and Robert Whitaker are evidences of the depth of the mass pressure exerted by the workers against the continued imprisonment of the framed-up Centralia workers. Only organized mass protest of the workers in the unions, the shops and factories will, however, bring the necessary pressure on the lumber-trust owned State of Washington to free Eugene Barnett, McInerny and the others, the organization declares.

A state-wide conference of labor unions, farm organizations and other bodies in the State of Washington is planned in the near future to crystalize the protest of the workers, writes Charlotte Todes, Seattle I. L. D. secretary, and also secretary of the Centralia Liberation Committee.

MAYOR NEAR DEATH

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 24 (UP).—L. D. Taylor, 72-year-old mayor of Vancouver, was reported near death in a hospital here today from a fractured skull sustained by an airplane propellor yesterday.

Mayor Taylor was knocked unconscious when he walked into the whirling propellor which had just carried him on the initial trip of a passenger line between Sattle Victoria and Vancouver.

COMMUNISTS IN GAS RATE FIGHT

Cleveland District In Lead of Issue

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

CLEVELAND, July 24.—The city of Cleveland is now in the midst of a gas fight. In the month of May, the contract with the East Ohio Gas Company expired, and the question of rates came up.

The East Ohio Gas Company gets its gas from the Hope Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co The East Ohio Co. demanded an increase in rates of the small consumers, but allowed a reduction of rates to the big consumers.

Communists Protest.

An open session of the city council was held at that time, at which a representative of the Workers (Communist) Party was present. I Amter, District Secretary of the Party, called the attention of the Council to the injustice of the proposals. There were tens of thousands of unemployed at the time and the prospect was that the coming winter would be even harder on the workers.

But aside from the immediate hardships to be imposed, Amter asked the reason for putting the burden on the shoulders of the workers, and lightening the load on the big consumers?

Amter was supported by Kennedy an independent member of the council, but the council tentatively accepted the proposals of the East Ohio Company, although it also drew the city manager into the controversy.

City Manager Hopkins proceeded to investigate, and was forced to adopt the position of the Communist Party, that the small consumers were being compelled to bear more than their share—that the rates proposed by the East Ohio Gas Co. not only should not be raised to the small consumers, but should be lowered all round.

Huge Profits.

According to his figures and analysis, the East Ohio Co. has more than duplicated its investment in its dividends, and has applied $8,000,000 of the profits to the extension of its plant.

The fight is now on between the city manager and the manager of the East Ohio Gas Co. But it is to be noted that the position taken by the Communists has become a basis for the "negotiations."

Three Divorce Lawyers Suspended In Paris

PARIS, July 24. — Suspension from practice for terms of two to eight months was decreed today against three of the seven French lawyers tried last week on charges of irregularities in the foreign divorce mill in Paris. Three other lawyers and one process server were "scolded severely." The seventh lawyer and a second process server were aquitted.

THREE DROWNED IN HEAT

TURIN, July 24 (UP).—Three persons were drowned in the River Po today while seeking relief from intense heat.

HOW DOES YOUR NUCLEUS WORK?

What problems is it confronted with?

What questions would you like answered?

The Communist Nucleus

What It Is
How It Works

By M. JENKS

Just off the press!

Deals with and solves the problems of your nucleus.

A real manual for work in your nucleus.

Secure Your Copy NOW!

15 Cents

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th St.
New York City

SPIES EXPELLED BY MORE UNIONS IN NEW CLEANUP

Much of 'Information' Is Not Secret

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Chauncey Peterson, one of the labor spies employed by the steel trust and exposed by Frank L. Palmer in his book "Spies in Steel," has been expelled from the Intl. Brotherhood of Electrical Workers by President Noonan of that organization. Peterson operated in Duluth. He was not only active in the Electrical Workers but he had been elected to the state legislature by the Farmer-Labor Party, when Palmer's investigation led to his being thrown out of the union and suspended from the party.

Did Not Appeal.

Noonan, at I. B. E. W. headquarters in Washington, told a representative of the press on July 23 that he had received copies of reports made in handwriting by Peterson to the Silver Mining Co., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel, showing beyond doubt that the man was regularly reporting the names of men attending building trades meetings, names of union members and alleged action taken in meetings. Upon getting evidence, he ordered "permanent suspension" of Peterson's card notifying him that he would have the right to appeal before formal expulsion was made. Peterson did not appeal. Inquiry in Duluth showed that he had gone into the meat business.

"This is merely one of many such cases, occurring at intervals in many industries," said an electrical official. "The industrial concern pays an agency so much per day—about a journeyman's wage—to be paid extra to the man on the job who is to do the spying. In point of fact, the company was gypped of the money it paid Peterson, because none of the information he supplied it was really secret. And that is true of most of this spying—the information could be had for the asking. We do not know whether he caused any union men to be dismissed."

Another of Same Breed.

Cletus L. McMillian, formerly recording secretary of Machinists' Lodge No. 274, who played spy while in that job, has been expelled by his lodge since the expose appeared McMillan had been a foreman after getting out of his job as union secretary, but he kept his union card and watched the men who came into the organization.

Another member of the machinists recently caught red-handed as a betrayer of his fellow-unionists was a man named Mears, operating in Wisconsin. He was expelled. Davison stated, without loss of time

Palmer, in his book—published at 50c by the Labor Press, 312 Interstate Trust Bldg., Denver, Colo.—mentions Vergilio Bertone, president of the Chisholm Musicians' Union as drawing $125 a month as a spy for steel. Luke Healy, clerk of the Hibbing Hotel at Hibbing, Minn., is described as one of the busy members of the sneaking-and-eavesdropping squad. Others include a barber, a letter carrier, etc.

Who furnished Palmer with the documents from the safe of the steel trust secret service in Duluth, thereby upsetting the spy system for a while, has not been disclosed. As the leak occurred several months ago, it is assumed by the Electrical Workers and the Machinists that a new spying staff has been employed with new code numbers, new methods of approach and new humbug as to trade union secrets.

FRENCH POETESS INJURED.

PARIS, July 24.—France's woman poet-laureate, the Countess de Noailles, badly sprained her right arm yesterday when she slipped on a wax floor and fell. She was forced to cancel all engagements for a fortnight, and is unable to write.

Chicago I. L. D. to Aid Relief for Coal Miners

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—General mobilization order has been issued to all International Labor Defense branches by the local office for active participation in the week's drive for miners' relief and defense, July 29-August 5.

All arrangements have already been made between I. L. D. and Miners' Relief for the joint drive. The I. L. D. expects to mobilize every member to take part in the drive.

NEW JERSEY AIDS IN MINE RELIEF

Meetings Being Held in Many Cities

A mass meeting which crowded the Workers Hall at 308 Elm St., Perth Amboy, gave Miners Relief and Defense Week a flying start in the state of New Jersey last Saturday night. A. Weary, a striking miner, told of the heroic struggle the miners are making in the face of tremendous obstacles. He stressed the necessity of supporting their struggle now that Lewis and the United Mine Workers of America bureaucracy have come out in the open as betrayers of the miners' strike.

All the workers present pledged their active support in helping the miners build a rank and file union. They showed their pledge was not an empty one by contributing generously to a collection. Edward S. Stanley, relief organizer of New Jersey, said that American workers must answer Lewis. They must support the Save-the-Union Committee until the new miners' union is organized and Lewis is thrown out.

New Brunswick followed close on the heels of Perth Amboy. Stanley also spoke at an outing of the Hungarian Workers Club Sunday. Similar pledges were made and a large collection was taken. Workers all over New Jersey are mobilizing this week for house to house collections and other activities to support the miners. Newark plans a mass meeting on Friday.

To Pass Kellogg Pact

WASHINGTON, July 24.—That the Kellogg multilateral peace pact will pass congress with only the minimum of political opposition is confidently promised here by representatives of both the big powers

Both parties see in the much-heralded peace treaty the opportunity for the United States to arm at a rate never dreamed of before and under an undreamed of cloak of peace.

It is believed that the treaty will be accepted shortly after it is submitted to congress.

GREAT INCREASE OF UNEMPLOYED IN GREAT BRITAIN

Permanent Crisis is Gov't. Report

LONDON, July 24 (UP).—An official report on the British unemployment situation, in which the flat statement is made that there is a labor surplus and groups of workers must be transferred in mass to other labor fields, was returned yesterday by the government's industrial transference board.

There are about 1,200,000 unemployed persons in Great Britain, and the figure is growin larger. Many of them have dependents.

Growing Surplus.

In some heavy industries, and particularly in coal mining, there was a real surplus of labor, the board reported.

"The urgent and sympathetic attention of the entire country is needed to deal with the problem," it was said.

Sir Warren Fisher is head of the board. It was appointed by the minister of labor to facilitate the transfer of workers, particularly miners, to areas where employment could be obtained for them.

"It is no longer a question merely of tiding over unemployment in these areas until a crisis passes," the report said. "A new policy is needed, directed at the permanent removal of as many workers as possible away from depressed industries and areas to other areas where the prospect of employment is more favorable."

"It is a hard thing," the report states, "to tell numbers of men—whole communities—that unless they leave all their familiar surroundings they will not be able to earn a living.

"But we should be shirking every inference from the facts if we did not emphasize this as the first and strongest of the lessons our work has provided."

The report expressed astonishment at the "disappointing slowness" of the rate of settlement of British workers in Canada and Australia It urged radical simplification of the government's migrating policy, and reduction of steamship passage rates to a point nearer the pre-war level to facilitate overseas settlement, in addition to the existing empire settlement schemes.

2 RESCUED ON ATLANTIC.

Two men who had been adrift in the Atlantic Ocean without food or water for a week were rescued by a boat crew of the Panama-Pacific liner Manchuria and will be brought to New York today, according to a radio message received here today by the line's offices, at 1 Broadway, from the captain of the Manchuria.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Rural Theatres Popular With Peasants in the Soviet Union

By S. Malinovskaya.

OLIVE BERTRAND

Plays an important part in "The Connecticut Yankee," the musical show based on Mark Twain's clever satire at the Vanderbilt Theatre.

ONE of the distinctive features of the village in the USSR is its extreme remoteness from the cultural centers owing to the weak development of railways in the country, in comparison with other countries. In many parts of the Soviet Union, particularly in the north, the village is cut off from the rest of the world during the winter and autumn seasons.

Hence the great importance attached to the penetration of culture among the masses of rural inhabitants, and to the organization of the peasants' theatre in the U. S. S. R. In this article we deal only with the development of the village theatre in the rural districts of the province of Moscow. In other parts of the Soviet Union, particularly in the Ukraine, there is also constant development in the activity of organizing rural theatrical performances. But this will form the subject of another article.

In the province of Moscow at the present time, with a population of 2,300,000, there are over 5,000 dramatic circles in the villages. On the money realized from the performances the circles purchase newspapers for the villages, organize reading rooms, etc. There were cases when the rural dramatic circles were among the first promoters and investors of rural societies for the purpose of purchasing agricultural machinery.

Needless to say the circles are as yet poorly equipped in regard to theatrical means. The majority of them have no special stage, the scenery is mostly home made and of the most primitive kind. The performances are generally got up without any expert professional guidance.

In localities with an experienced guide, the activity of the dramatic circles is conducted upon a proper plan: the play is chosen, a general study is made of the characters in the play, and only then the production is undertaken.

The preparations for the production of a play in a rural locality are more in the nature of educational work, in which part is taken both by the producers of the play and by their prospective patrons. The great drawback in art activity in the rural districts is the lack of experienced leadership, and in recent years there were steps taken to raise a sufficient body of experienced rural leaders in the pursuit of the arts. Great work in this direction is being accomplished by the "Polenov Memorial Association" attached to the Peasants' Home of Moscow.

The essential aim in the activity of the Peasants' Home is to supply art instruction to the village. For this purpose it maintains a model theatre and a body of experienced theatrical instructors. It also undertakes to select suitable plays for production by village amateurs. The Peasants' Home arranges also from time to time special training courses for rural theatrical workers.

Considerable activity is also carried on by the journal "The Rura Theatre," which enjoys popularity among rural dramatic circles thru out the Soviet Union. Written i plain and popular language, it deal with various problems of interes to rural dramatic circles and publishes articles on various practica aspects of theatrical activity, hint as to sceneries, make up, the study of dramatic characters and types and so on.

An experiment in the direction o affording the means of visua training to rural dramatic circle was made by the organization of th Rural Itinerant Theatre in 192 by the Moscow Theatrical Administration. Before establishing th Itinerant Theatre the actors wh promoted this experiment had given over 50 performance in 40 villages in the various districts of th province of Moscow. The performances of the Itinerant Theatre ar usually associated with educationa work. Before the raising of th curtain an address is delivere giving an analysis of the play, an after the conclusion of the performance an address is given on th rendering of the play. Usually lively discussion ensues, in th course of which the actors tak stock of the views and opinions expressed by the audience. The actors then acquaint themselves wit the activity of the local dramati circle, imparting their experience to the members, advising them o technical matters, and so on. Sometimes the actors rehearse with th rural amateurs the play which the have in hand for presentation b the circle.

The visits of the Puppet Theatr to villages in the province of Moscow were everywhere welcomed wit intense enthusiasm, contributing t the general activity for the spreading of culture in the outlying villages.

The theatrical activity in th rural districts is considered by th Soviet authorities as an essentia item in the great Cultural Revolution which is going on through th length and breadth of the Sovie Union.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S
MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied
With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Islan
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family
in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Po
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'wa
Wis. 1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BI GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL.
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT

REFUSE TO TESTIFY

BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 24 (UP —Two men, sentenced to death fo the killing of C. A. Perry, cashie of the Bank of Kingsland, refuse today to testify against Ernest Wa ler, an alleged accomplice.

Be a Solidarity Demonstrator!
Miners Solidarity Fair
PLEASANT BAY PARK
SUNDAY, AUGUST 5th, 1928
"The Most Unique Affair of Its Kind!"
FILM OF MINE STRIKE SHOW—MOVIES TAKEN of 'SOLIDARITY PARADE"—OTHER ATTRACTIONS GALOR
NATIONAL MINERS' RELIEF COMMITTEE—799 BROADWAY—(Stuyvesant 888)—ROOM 237

GOOD printing of all description at a fair price.
Let us estimate on your work.
Telephone ORCHARD 4744
ACTIVE PRESS INCORPORATED
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK

New Bedford Youth Demands $15 Minimum for Young Workers, No Child Labor

WILL FIGHT FOR SEVEN-HOUR DAY, FIVE-DAY WEEK

Textile Mill Committee to Back Them

The New Bedford Textile Workers' Union (Textile Mill Committee) in recognition of the importance of the young workers, has adopted a list of special youth demands as follows:

1. Minimum wage of $15 a week for all young workers. 2. Equal pay for equal work. 3. Complete abolition of child labor, state maintenance for those now working. 4 No night work for young workers under 21. No overtime for young workers under 18. 5. Two 15 minute rest periods a day for all young workers. 6. 7-hour day, 5-day week for young workers under 18. 7. One hour for lunch and washing up on company time. 8. Work schools for young workers under 15 and 18 on working time under union and young worker control.

TO HOLD YOUTH WORK PARLEYS

District 10 Meetings July 29, Aug. 5

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 24.—For the first time since its organization will District 10, Young Workers League, hold conventions for election of its committees and for the discussion of the problems before the league.

The main point on the agenda will be nucleus work. In the district there are at least 20 plants employing more than 2,000 workers each. Besides these there are many employing more than 4,000. The district includes six coal fields and is the center of the packing house industry.

In view of the size of the district two conferences will be held. One will be held in Colorado July 29 and the second in Kansas City August 5 for the states of Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas. At both these conferences the problem of organizing nuclei in the mines will be among the most important to be considered.

Representatives of the shop nuclei of the Workers (Communist) Party have been invited to attend the conventions and to co-operate in working out plans for building shop nuclei of the league wherever the party nuclei exist.

PLAN SERIES OF YOUTH SCHOOLS

Industrial Centers to be Pivots

Preparations for a series of League Summer Schools thruout the country this summer are going ahead full speed. The Waino School (Wisconsin)—which has an elementary and an advanced course—has already opened. There are twenty-five students from important sections of the district—from the Iron Range, the Michigan copper country from the Twin Cities, and from the Head of the Lakes section. The elementary school will take place somewhat later.

The Northwest School covering the northwest region (Washington Oregon) as well as California has already started.

The New England School opened immediately after July 4. The students include a number of young strikers from New Bedford.

The Ohio School, at Ashtabula, is opening in August. Young workers from the mining regions of Pennsylvania and Ohio, young steel workers, and the youth of other industries will be represented among the students.

Definite information is not yet forthcoming as to the New York and the Chicago schools but they are expected to take place in August.

All of the above schools are full-time schools covering a period from four to six weeks. The value of such schools in developing new forces for youth work and new functionaries for the League has been proven by the schools of last year and the year before and we expect that this year's schools will be even more successful.

MORGAN ORDERS GO TO COOLIDGE

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 24.—Naval Secretary Wilbur, accompanied by Thomas Cochran, a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., arrived here today, en route for Coolidge's summer residence where they are to hold a conference on the Nicaraguan situation with the president.

Wilbur intimated that recent reports from Nicaragua made an immediate conference necessary.

Wall St. Field-Marshall Takes Up Duties

Hubert Work has resigned as secretary of the interior in order to hunt bigger game—votes in large enough numbers to put Herbert Hoover into Wall Street's White House. Hubert is now secretary of the republican national committee, and if Hoover is elected, he will probably reap a fat reward. Photo shows Work at right, talking it over with his successor in the cabinet, Roy O. West, Chicago businessman, an ardent Coolidge supporter.

MILLINERS FIGHT ZARITSKY AGENT

Chicago Board Says No Expulsions

CHICAGO, July 24.—The campaign of expulsion of militant members from the International Cap and Millinery Workers Union, now being carried on by the officialdom in many cities, met a setback here when the membership of the Blockers Local and the Joint Board delegates recently passed resolutions demanding a halt to Zaritsky's union wrecking, despite the exercise of an intense terror by the right wing and the employers. The methods employed by the right wing in electing themselves to office were also brought to light when the workers showed the letters they received calling them to the "election" meeting.

Despite threats by the Zaritsky agent, J. Roberts, that he would refuse to permit one of the largest employers here to deal with the Blockers Local, made by him at a members' meeting July 19, the membership condemned Roberts and his union wrecking activities in a resolution passed in spite of the threats.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, attended by Roberts in his capacity as general board agent on July 18, the Joint Board made the following demands in a resolution, despite Roberts' attempt to browbeat the delegates into refusing passage to the resolution:

(1) To demand the G. E. B. of the International to start an organization campaign in Chicago for the coming season in conformity with the decisions of the 1927 convention.

(2) In order to make the organization work possible the G. E. B. resume the subsidy of $50 a week which they have hitherto supplied to the Joint Board and which Roberts has now cut off.

(3) That the General Executive Board immediately cease its expulsion policies of individuals and locals, now prevalent in the International.

(4) The Joint Board of Chicago demands of the G. E. B. that the above be carried through, that the Joint Board will consider no task too great to assist the G. E. B. representatives who will come to Chicago to further the organization work among the millinery workers of this city.

In the fake elections called by the Zaritsky gang for functionaries of Capmakers Local 5 the members were notified of the meeting by letters informing them that their jobs were in danger of being lost if they did not support the disruptive tactics of the International clique. In addition to this a fine was also threatened. The meeting, scheduled as an ordinary local meeting, was not announced as an election meeting in right wing press advertisements. The reactionaries then had no trouble electing themselves.

TAMMANY TOOL GETS HIS REWARD

Dr. Louis I. Harris, commissioner of health of New York City, yesterday announced his resignation from his city post to accept a position with a milk corporation.

Harris has been given his reward, that of the post of "health consultant and sanitary administrator" of the National Dairy Products Corporation, of 120 Broadway. He will assume his new duties immediately upon the arrival in New York City of Jimmie Walker, who is at present taking his "vacation" in California.

Harris at the same time will receive from the city for the rest of his life a pension of $5,000 a year, in recognition of his 20 years' "service to the public welfare."

Harris very recently allowed the corporation whose product caused almost 40 deaths and 1,000 cases of septic sore throat poisoning in Lee, Mass., to sell its product in New York City.

WOMEN TO TALK ON WAR DANGER

Many Expected at Big Federation Meeting

The New York Working Women's Federation, which has as one of its planks the fight against the war danger, has arranged a delegate conference for August 2 at 7:30 p. m. at the Labor Temple, 14th St. and 2nd Ave., in the auditorium. At this conference the causes of war and what working women can do to fight the war danger will be discussed by prominent women of the labor movement.

Stress War Danger

In a statement sent out to women workers of New York the federation stressed the growing danger of imperialist war. The statement reads, in part, as follows:

"Although our memories are still fresh with the horrors of 1914, the imperialists of the world, and particularly the imperialists of the United States, are preparing feverishly for a new world slaughter. Appropriations, battleships, artillery and instruments of destruction have reached an unheard of proportion. Millions are being spent for the production of huge quantities of poison gas and airplanes. Draft laws are being prepared in order to chain the entire working population to the military machine in time of war. Through the institution of military training in the schools, the establishment of citizens' training camps, the course of capitalist militarism is throughout the country."

Other Meets Successful

The New York Working Women's Federation during its short period of existence has held two previous conferences where problems of great importance to working women and the labor movement in general were considered. These conferences have aroused great interest among working women and have helped arouse women workers to participate in labor struggles.

The federation's anti-imperialist-war conference of August 2 is of particular importance to women. The call urges the women to act in the shops and other organizations with which they are connected and send delegates to take part in the conference.

The interest and activity of the members have made the previous conferences of the New York Working Women's Federation great successes. An excellent program is being prepared for this meeting, and all women have been urged to invite their friends and shopmates to attend the coming conference.

N. Y. YOUTH AIDS MILL WORKERS

The Youth Conference for Miners' and Textile Relief has sent along with its representative P. Frankfeld to New Bedford, Mass. a check for $175 for relief to the striking textile workers. This is the first contribution made to the striking textile workers. The Youth Relief Conference expects to send many more hundreds of dollars in the immediate future.

Frankfeld, in presenting the check to the textile workers, brought greetings from the 55 young worker and student organizations affiliated with the Youth Conference. He spoke briefly to the strikers at both their mass meetings Sunday, July 22nd. His speech was interspersed with applause. When he handed over the check to the chairman the strikers cheered.

The Youth Conference has sent in over $5,500 for relief to the striking miners. The Youth Conference has made its first contribution to the support of the textile workers and will hold a tag day this coming Saturday, July 28th, for the miners and textile workers.

This sign of solidarity on the part of the New York working youth will be followed up with many and more generous contributions for the relief of the textile workers.

STRIKE FILM TO BE SHOWN AT BIG MINE AID AFFAIR

Solidarity Parade to Feature Aug. 5 Fair

The first showing of the moving pictures taken of scenes of the miners' strike in Pennsylvania and Ohio will be made at Pleasant Bay Park on August 5th, at the Miners' Solidarity Fair being conducted by the National Miners' Relief Committee of 799 Broadway. There, the release of the film will be one of the outstanding features of an evening's entertainment destined to be unique among picnics.

As soon as evening falls, a huge Solidarity Parade will form at one end of the wide green with banners and slogans expressing the unflinching solidarity of New York workers with their striking brothers and sisters of the mine fields. Various workers' clubs and trade unions will line up en masse in the parade, among them the Working Women's Federation and Councils of Workingclass Women. As the parade will get under way, a moving picture operator will "shoot" the march. The film will then be added to the movies of the miners' strike, making a complete picture for national release.

The program will be made extremely colorful by the mass singing in native costumes by Hungarian, Lithuanian and Ukrainian workers, and also native dances, such as the popular Polish national dance by eight dancers. The affair will be international in more than one aspect, it including the foods of many nationalities. "Schachlik" will be served a la carte.

The solidarity of all progressive New York workers with the striking miners has, if possible, increased tremendously since the call for the convention to form a new miners' union, and an attendance of at least 20,000 workers is expected. Tickets may be bought for 35 cents each at the office of the National Miners' Relief Committee, 799 Broadway, Room 237. To all organizations buying blocks of 100 tickets or more, a special price of 20 cents each is being charged.

ARRESTS HALT PANAMA REVOLT

U. S. Influence Seen In Situation

PANAMA CITY, July 23.—An uprising believed to be supported by the United States against the administration party reached a critical stage here today when 116 members of the Porras (opposition) party were arrested to halt alleged threats of a revolution. A number of prominent Porristas leaders were jailed.

The action was the result of mounting criticism of the government of liberal party which was charged with election frauds and irregularities.

The climax came Saturday at a Porras party rally where the opposition leaders demanded "American supervision of the November election or revolution." The Porristas had repeatedly sought American aid in eliminating alleged conspiracies and Dr. Jorge Boyd, Porras presidential nominee, is in Washington at present, said to be seeking American intervention.

Among those arrested in the nation-wide drive to prevent serious disturbances, were: Assemblyman Domingo Turner; Dr. Alejandro Tapia, prominent attorney, and editors of the opposition newspaper El Heraldo; Demetrio Porras, youngest son of Dr. Belisario Porras, thrice president of Panama; and Juan B. Polo, president of the Porras Club.

• • •

Call For Revolt.

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, July 23.—The leader of the Porras National Coalition party of Panama, Dr. Alejandro Tapia, called upon the United States to supervise the elections, at a political rally held here last night on the Cathedral Plaza.

Kaiser's Letter Hints Monarchist Restoration

AMSTERDAM, July 24 (UP).—Publication in the newspaper Het-Volk, of a telegram sent by the former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany referring to the coming of a time for "restoring the Fatherland under the Kaiser and the hereditary princes" has drawn attention once more to the fact that, although in exile, the former Kaiser has not given up hope of a return of the Hohenzollerns.

The former Kaiser sent a telegram to an association composed of members of a former Bavarian regiment praising their fighting spirit. He added an expression of hope that this same fighting spirit would "again show when the time comes for restoring the Fatherland under the Kaiser and the hereditary princes."

WORKERS CALENDAR

All announcements for this column must reach The DAILY WORKER several days before the event in question to make the announcement effective. Many announcements arrive at the office too late for publication owing to the additional time needed for the delivery of the paer.

League Picnic in Philadelphia.

A picnic, the proceeds of which will go to the Young Worker, will be held on Sunday, August 5, at the Burlhome Park. A splendid time is assured to all who come. Sports, games and songs will be had. Admission free. Direction: Take No. 50 car and go as far as 7500 north. A committee will wait for you there.

• • •

Philadelphia Miners' Relief.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Philadelphia Miners' Relief Conference here has arranged a picnic for July 29 at Maple Grove Park.

Philadelphia T. U. E. L. Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Trade Union Educational League of Philadelphia will hold a Grand Picnic at Maple Park Grove on August 4, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 2 a. m. the next morning. Sports, dancing and musical programs will be added to the speeches of prominent members returned from the U. S. S. R. All are invited to attend.

• • •

Philadelphia Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Workers (Communist) Party here has arranged a picnic to be held August 19 at Burholme Park. All workers are invited to attend.

• • •

Chicago Picnic.

CHICAGO, Ill.—A picnic for the benefit of the Northwestern Shop News of Chicago will be held on July 29, under the auspices of Section 6, District 8, of the Workers (Communist) Party. In order to reach the picnic grounds, take Grand Ave. car to Sayre (1700 block), walk north to 3100 block, then one block west to 3101 North Nordica.

Scranton Y. W. L. Picnic.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A picnic will be held under the auspices of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Scranton, Pa., at Runo Farm, Hollow Ave., on August 5, a t10 A. M. All young workers are welcome. A very interesting program has been arranged.

• • •

Anthracite Election Rallies.

Several mass meetings have been arranged for Herbert Benjamin, organizer District No. 3 in the anthracite sub-district. The topic of the meetings is the Election Campaign, with special reference to the problems facing the hard-coal miners. The dates are as follows:

July 24, Tuesday, 7 p. m.—Nanticoke, 128 W. Ridge St.
July 25, Wednesday, 7 p. m.—McAdoo, 47 W. Blaine St.
July 26, Thursday, 7 p. m.—Luzarne, Italian Hall, 206 Oliver St.
July 27, Friday, 7 p. m.—Scranton, Hulbert's Hall, 117 Wyoming Ave.
July 28, Saturday, 7 p. m.—Old Forge, open-air meeting, Main St.

Chicago Functionary Meeting.

Max Bedacht, district organizer Workers (Communist) Party, District No. 8, will address a meeting of women functionaries on Friday, July 27th, 1928, at 2021 West Division St., at 8 p. m. Bedacht will outline the party policy for work among women. The agenda will include reports by Anna E. David, women's work director, District No. 8, Presidential Election Campaign, Miners' Relief. All functionaries from sections, nuclei, and fractions are obligated to attend.

Chicago Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial Conference, Chicago, will hold a memorial meeting in honor of the murdered worker martyrs, Sacco and Vanzetti, on Wednesday, August 22, at 8 p. m., at Temple Hall, Van Buren and Marshfield. Ralph Chaplin, orator and poet; Mordecai Shulman, attorney Guido Serio of the Anti-Fascist Alliance, and others, will address the meeting. A beautiful musical program will be had.

Philadelphia Workers Stage Play.

The West Philadelphia Workers' Club will present the "Hairy Ape," by Eugene O'Neill at the Hedgerow Theatre, Saturday, July 28, at 4 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from The DAILY WORKER office, 1214 Spring Garden St., and from every member of the club. Prices moderate. Directions: Take elevated to 69th St., and change for the Media surface car. Walk from Media to Rose Valley.

• • •

Philadelphia Open-air Meetings.

Workers Party will hold the following open-air meetings:

Thursday, July 26th, at 40th and Lancaster, 8 p. m.; 32nd and Cumberland, 8 p. m.; 11th and Poplar, 8 p. m.

Friday, July 27th, at Wylie and Ridge, 8 p. m.; 7th and Ritner, 8 p. m.

Saturday, July 28th, at Kensington and Orleans, 8 p. m.; 7th and Snyder, 8 p. m.

Noon-hour meetings this week: Wednesday, July 25th, at 69th and Elmwood, 12 p. m.; Thursday, July 26th, at 7th and Lehigh, 12 p. m.; Monday, July 30th, at 25th and Huntington Park, 12 p. m.; Monday, July 30th, at Marshall & Girard; Tuesday, July 31st, at 13th & Reed; Wednesday, Aug. 1st, at 40th & Lancaster; Thursday, Aug. 2nd, 53rd & Girard Ave.

• • •

Notice Texas Communists.

You are called to meet on County Convention day, August 4, (law does not specify number so meet whether few or many) and elect a delegate to the State Nominating Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party called for the 14th day of August in the city of Houston at 304½ Main St. Those taking part in conventions must be qualified voters, the qualifications for candidates are the same.

INVOLVE MELLON IN GAS MERGER

Al Smith Connection Also Seen

Opponents of the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger between the Consolidated Gas Company of New York and the Brooklyn Edison Company, who were denied a hearing at the last session of the Public Service Commission, are planning to renew their attack tomorrow, when the application of the Consolidated comes up for further hearing.

The Power Committee, composed of a group of liberals, charges that the merger is part of a combination of power development along the northeastern states, controlled by interests foreign to the state. The committee expects to submit evidence that the Koppers Gas and Coke Company of Philadelphia, a Mellon interest, has bought heavily into both the Consolidated and the Brooklyn Edison Companier and would control these companies as part of a gigantic tie-up of electric and gas properties in these states.

One of the heavy stockholders in both companies is Wm. F. Kenny, chief supporter of Al Smith, a fact which lends further evidence to the charge that the republican and democratic forces are united "at the top."

GEOLOGISTS SAFE.

KEOKUK, Iowa, July 24 (UP).—Fears for the safety of four university of Iowa geologists on an exploring trip in northern Saskatchewan, Canada, were minimized today by Dr. Frank Fuller, father of John Fuller, a member of the party.

INDIA RAILROAD STRIKE SPREADS

MADRAS, India, July 24.—Increasing militancy of strikers on railway lines of southern India has resulted in numerous clashes between the police and the strikers, it was reported here today. Trains run by incompetent strikebreakers have been wrecked and general confusion is spreading over the struck sections.

Employers have consistently refused to deal with the unions. Yesterday police fired on strikers at Mayavuram and at Tuticorin. Several are reported to have been killed and a number were wounded. Many arrests have been made.

The strike arose from an announcement by employers that they would drastically reduce their forces, and institute a speed-up system.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1214 SPRING GARDEN ST.
A. SOKOLOV, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: POPLAR 0837

SCHUETZEN PARK
83rd and Tinicum Ave.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Beautiful nature spot. Splendid picnic ground with a dance hall of 1,000 capacity. Will accommodate any labor organization.
DIRECTIONS: Take trolley car south-bound to Moyamensing Ave., then Southwestern car going westward. Also Subway line No. 37.

CAMP HULIET
(Over the Delaware)
LUMBERVILLE, PA.
JUST THE PLACE FOR A WORKER'S VACATION.
Directions—By Bus or Trolley to Doylestoa and then by Camp Bus to the Camp.
By Train—To Raven Rock, N. J., on the Penna R. R.
Form New York—By Train to Raven Rock, N. J.
For further information and registration apply to:
Workers' Co-operative Assn.
317 So. 5th St. PHILA, PA.

Philadelphia, Pa.
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISER
MARKET RESTAURANT
1228 Spring Garden St.
DELICIOUS FOOD
Have Your Dinner and Supper With Us—Telehone Poplar 4971

CAPITAL BEVERAGE COMPANY
Will take care of your entertainments and supply.
SODA WATER AND BEER
2434 WEST YORK ST.
Telephone: Columbia 6255.

PHILADELPHIA
The work we make is good. Organizations' work—our speciality.
Spruce Printing Co.
152 N. SEVENTH ST., PHILA., PA.
Bell—Market 6383
Keystone—Main 7040.
Union Printers.

HEDGEROW THEATRE
MOYLAN-ROSE VALLEY
SATURDAY, JULY 28, 4 P. M.
Special performance for the West Philadelphia Workers' Club
"THE HAIRY APE"
By Eugene O'Neill
VERY POPULAR PRICES
Tickets: Daily Worker, 1214 Sring Garden St., and all members of the West Philadelphia Workers' Club.
Directions: By elevated to 69th & Market, then take train to Media, and walk over short distance to Rose Valley.

HEADS SELL OUT SHIRT STRIKE IN PERTH AMBOY

Partial Victory Won In Spite of This

(Special to the Daily Worker)

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., July 24—The young shirt workers of the Jaco Co., on strike against a wage-cut and speed-up here for two weeks today, won a partial victory over the bosses this morning, in spite of the betrayal on the part of the Amalgamated organizers. On Friday 32 girls returned to work after a secret conference between Mr. Stern, an official of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and the operator Schwartz. This conference was not authorized by the strike committee and met with great disapproval from the strikers.

Because of the insistence of the returned strikers, Veronica Kovacs, militant strike leader, was given back her job. For the same reason other girls were given back their jobs. These were originally eliminated by the readjustments made Friday. For those girls who were least militant the owner of Jaco Co. gave a "party."

All the girls are angry, nevertheless, at the action and attitude of the Amalgamated officials. The girls declare the strike a sell-out. Mr. Stern of the Amalgamated said Friday that he would do as he pleased and not listen to the strike committee. It is known that the same Mr. Stern told the boss to take the girls back and pay the old wage-scale, miserable as it was, and that at the end of two weeks to effect the wage-cut he had originally intended to put over. The wages ranged from $4 to $12 and, in few instances, reaching $18 and $20 per week.

Mr. Stern and Mr. Monas, both of the Amalgamated, did not show up to a meting that was planned with the strike committee, although they had promised to be there.

The girls are ready to fight on despite the treacherous sell-out by the Amalgamated officials.

Nobile Sent Home In Camouflaged Car

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 24 (UP).—General Umberto Nobile, who sailed north two months ago, proud in his command of the dirigible Italia and determined to make new history in polar exploration, is expected back in continental Europe Tuesday, a sick man, his nerves shattered and his body wounded.

Instead of leading a triumphant march back to Rome, he will be placed aboard a special car chartered by the Italian government, probably the car will be sealed, and the train will steam southward. Only necessary stops will be made. The train will not even pass thru Stockholm or any of the large cities which are not on the direct route. None will be permitted to see Nobile and he will talk with no one.

MORE PHILLIPS WEALTH FOUND

Existence of another cache, where $800,000 of the missing millions of John M. Phillips, sewer pipe grafter, have ben disposed of, was revealed for the first time yesterday. In the newest disclosures, the late sewer pipe king and power behind the corrupt Tammany administration in Queens is involved as the alleged backer of a chain of gambling houses.

Involved with him in the charges are a prominent contractor, who is alleged to have shared with Phillips profits of the Queens sewer contracts, and a gambler well known among "fashionable circles."

BOSTON, MASS.
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
38 Causeway St.
ELSIE PULTUR, Mgr.
Phone: Haymarket 6098
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders

CHICAGO, ILL.
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
2021 West Division St.
SAM HAMMERSMARK, Mgr.
Phone: Armitage 4088
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders

DETROIT
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1967 CEDAR RIVER AVE.
SARA VICTOR, Mgr.
PHONE: RANDOLPH 9309
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.

Los Angeles, Calif.
DR. M. KOMPANIEZ
DENTIST
2630½ Brooklyn Ave., Cor. Mott St.
Open Evenings Till 9 P. M.
Phone: Angelus 9057

PITTSBURGH, PA.

PITTSBURGH
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
805 JAMES ST., NS.
JOHN KASPER, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: CEDAR 8819

PITTSBURGH, PA.
NATIONAL MINERS' RELIEF DEFENSE WEEK
JULY 22 to JULY 29 (Inclusive)
The Most Far-Reaching Drive for Funds Ever Undertaken to HELP the STRIKING COAL MINERS
All Workers' Organizations, EVERYBODY, must lend a hand—Collect money everywhere—all the time—in unions, shops and factories.
Enlist in the committee for house-to-house collections on Sunday, July 29
FOR DETAILS CALL ATLANTIC 7091
Joint Auspices: National Miners' Relief of Pittsburgh, Fred Careno, Secretary; International Labor Defense, District 5, Wm. J. White, Secretary.
807 McGeagh Bldg., Pittsburgh Pa.

Red Cartoons 1928
Sixty-four pages of the choice work of the best proletarian artists in America, including:
FRED ELLIS
M. BECKER
HAY BALES
WM. GROPPER
JACOB BURCK
K. A. SUVANTO
HUGO GELLERT
DON BROWN
WM. SIEGEL
Introduction by Robert Minor
FREE WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION
($6.00) to the Daily Worker

THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First St., New York, N. Y.
RATES
$6.00 a year
$3.50 6 months
$2.00 3 months
Enclosed $.......... for .... sub to the Daily Worker. Send me the premium "Red Cartoons of 1928" (only with a year's sub).
NAME ....
STREET ....
CITY .... STATE ....

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday

[illegible] Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Mail (in New York only): [illegible] per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months

By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor........................ROBERT MINOR

Assistant Editor...............WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!

For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Selling Hoover to the Masses.

A Washington news dispatch tells us that Hoover is going to have the most elaborate publicity bureau in history.

Herbert Hoover, capitalist efficiency engineer, has long been bought and paid for by American imperialism. But in order to serve his class better he wants to become chairman of the executive committee of American imperialism with the title of President of the United States. So he must "sell" himself (in the slang sense) to the voting masses of the United States.

It would be much simpler for Wall Street to send its hired president to Washington every four years by open appointment just as an ambassador is appointed to foreign countries, than to waste a lot of time and money electing somebody. But capitalist democracy gives the ballot to the workers and farmers, with so many restrictions, of course, that it is absolutely impossible for all the workers to make any real change in the social system with their ballots on election day. And so the ruling classes must go thru the farce every four years of giving the great American voter the privilege of electing one of Wall Street's candidates.

Al Smith is a better salesman than Hoover, with a publicity apparatus that is large and busy. The press, the movies, and every other avenue of publicity and propaganda are utilized to make Al as popular in the alfalfa regions as he is on the sidewalks of New York.

Hoover has more editors on his staff than George Creel had liars in his propaganda bureau during the world war. Those fellows on Hoover's staff are trained liars as all good capitalist newspapermen must be. Ditto for Smith's horntooters.

They will get columns of news in the press, special stories in the magazines, pictures on the screen showing Hoover in various poses, with his wife, shaking a farmer's hand, kissing a child, or laying the corner-stone of a church. These publicity experts will not lay much stress on the Hoover program. They want to make the masses interested in personalities and not in platforms. There is a much more effective way of getting the voters excited and interested.

That the Workers (Communist) Party is fundamentally different from the capitalist parties (democratic, republican and socialist parties) is generally admitted.

Unlike its capitalist enemies the Workers (Communist) Party lays emphasis on its aims and the means by which it intends to carry them out rather than on the individuals it selects to head its national and state tickets in the election campaign. It does not seek to confuse the masses but to enlighten them. It does not engage corps of specialists in the art of propaganda. It develops the art of mass propaganda thru its disciplined organization of workingmen and women, crusaders for a better order of society, a socialist society where the producer will be the honored citizen and the parasite a pariah.

The Workers (Communist) Party is a powerful publicity machine—a voluntary machine. Its members distribute leaflets in millions, sell literature, make arrangements for mass meetings and raise funds, so that the program, the aims and objects of the party can be explained and made clear to the masses.

At the present time this is a most important task for the members of the Workers (Communist) Party. The National Election Campaign Committee has called for the raising of a $100,000 campaign fund. Every dollar, every ten dollar bill, every one hundred dollars that will be contributed to this fund will help to tear the tinsels off the candidates of the capitalist parties and to remove the halos from their heads that have been placed there by their publicity apparatus.

Foster and Gitlow, the proletarian candidates, the representatives of the revolutionary working class—against Hoover, Curtis, Smith and Robinson, the servants of the capitalist class, and against Thomas and Maurer, also servants of the capitalist class who specialize as betrayers of labor.

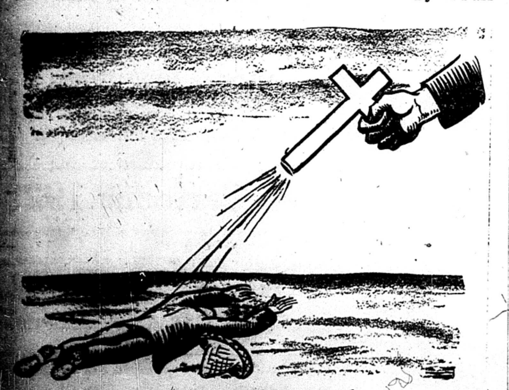
Foster and Gitlow are the banner-bearers of Communism, the agitators for a Workers' and Farmers' Government.

The funds to wage a nation-wide campaign must be raised. $100,000 is little enough

Send in your contribution immediately to the National Election Campaign Committee, Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, 43 East 125th St., New York City.

"IN THE NAME OF CHRIST, THE KING"

By M. Pass



Clerical reaction murdered Gen. Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico.

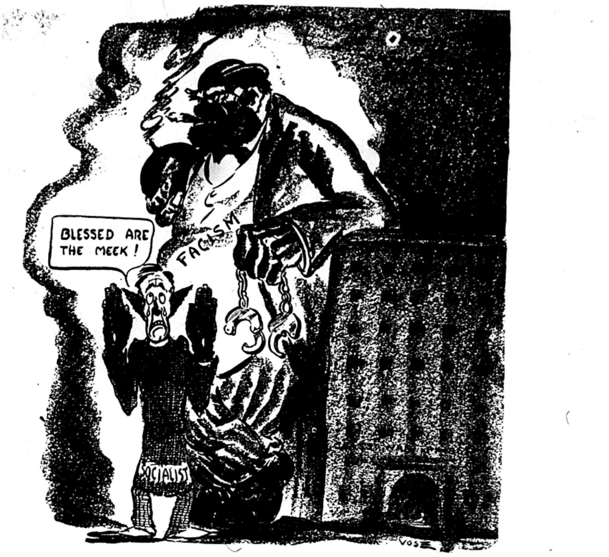
[illegible]-Japan Jingoist Is Up to Old Tricks

[illegible]INGTON, July 24 (FP).—[illegible] McClatchy of Sacramento, on [illegible] of the California joint immi[illegible] committee of which he is secretary, has filed with the senate committee on immigration a new argument against granting an immigration quota to Japan. If such a quota were granted, less than 200 Japanese immigrants could come into the United States, legally, in any one year.

If Japanese are to be admitted while Chinese, Hindus and other races in Asia are barred as at present, McClatchy says, the American congress will merely have substituted one discrimination for another. Indeed, he claims, the present law is not a real discrimination against the Japanese because it does not mention them, but forbids entry of people who are not eligible to become naturalized.

FASCISM: "HE ALSO WORKS FOR ME"

By Vose



A Small Reward for the Farmer

$200 a Year Is the Average Return for His Hard Work

By LELAND OLDS,
(Federated Press).

How much cash income can the average American farmer expect with which to pay his living expenses, take care of his debts and make improvements? On the basis of reports from 13,859 farms for the year 1927 the U. S. department of commerce answers $1,048. This is all the average farmer got for owning, managing and working with the help of his family an average farm of 275 acres.

The farmer's return for his labor and for that of his family shrinks almost to nothing if he is allowed any return on his investment which averaged $15,445. On the basis of the fair return of 5½% demanded by the railroads he should have received $850 as investment income quite aside from the wages paid for his work in producing the country's food. Deducting this the farmer's tireless labor brought him a cash return of about $200 for the year.

The gross receipts of this average 275-acre farm in 1927 were $2,505. This figure includes $978 from the sale of crops, $851 from live-stock $638 from live-stock products and $38 from miscellaneous items. On the other hand cash expenses in 1927 amounted to $1,457 including $397 for hired labor, $238 for the purchase of live-stock, $243 for feed bought, $64 for fertilizer, $49 for seed, $189 for taxes on farm property, $129 for machinery and tools and $157 for miscellaneous items.

The farmers reporting to the department indicated an average increase of $242 in inventory values during the year. This added to the farmer's $1,048 cash balance brings his net return to $1,290. This compares with $1,133 in 1926; $1,297 in 1925; $1,205 in 1924; $1,021 in 1923 and $917 in 1922.

$1,544 a Year.

Certain other figures are necessary to complete the picture of the average farmer's financial position in 1927. He used home-grown food products valued at an average of $273, a real addition to his income. In addition we might assume that his house rent was worth about $300 a year to him. But, on the other hand, he paid out an average of $201 as interest on his indebtedness and $128 for improvements.

Taking into account these additional credits and debits it appears that the average farmer in 1927 had the equivalent of about $1,544 with which to provide his family with all the essentials and comforts of life. After allowing him a 5½% return on his investment this leaves him a little less than $700 as wages for the labor of himself and his family.

A recent bulletin from the Canadian Pacific Railway makes possible certain comparisons between these figures for farms in the United States and similar figures from the prairie provinces of Canada.

The average farm in western Canada consists of 358 acres of which 198 acres have been improved, the remainder being wood-land, pasture, etc. This average farm has a value of $14,451 which includes $7,000 for land, $1,800 for building, $1,380 for implements, $1,170 for live-stock and $3,090 for the year's agricultural production. Deducting the value of the year's production the capital value of the average farm in 1927 was $11,361.

The Northwest Farmer figures the average value of the 1927 output of these farms in the Canadian northwest at $3,233 made up as follows: wheat $1,640; other grains $765; dairy products $235; fodder crops $260; live-stock $165; poultry and poultry products $113; and miscellaneous products $55. Deducting the proportion of this output consumed on the farm or retained for various purposes the average Canadian farmer is estimated to have received a cash income of $2,469 for products actually marketed.

Analyzing census figures the Canadian Pacific bulletin brings out the fact that there are 92 chances out of 100 that the average farmer in western Canada is sole owner as against being only a tenant or part owner of his farm.

How the Communist Party Nucleus Works

Pamphlet by M. Jenks Fills a Long-Felt Want for Party Members

"The Communist Nucleus, What It Is and How It Works." By M. Jenks. Price 15 cents.
(For Wholesale prices, write to Workers Library Publishers, 39 E. 125th St.)—Reviewed By J. S.

A LONG felt need by the party has been filled with the publication of an excellent pamphlet dealing with the work of our party nuclei. "The Communist Nucleus, What it is and How it Works," by M. Jenks.

This 64-page pamphlet which is in pocket size so that it can be carried comfortably in the pockets of the comrades for everyday use, is written by a comrade who has had extensive experience in organizational work.

This pamphlet which is published by the Workers Library Publishers for the organization department of the Workers (Communist) Party of America, deals in the most detailed manner with the various problems that confront our party nuclei.

Since the reorganization of our party and the formation of factory nuclei, we have felt the need of such a pamphlet that will be able to take up the various problems confronting a nucleus. There is no doubt that most of our nuclei at the present time still do not carry on their organization work in the proper manner and certainly do not yet actually function politically as basic units of the party in many respects. This pamphlet is designed therefore, to take up these detailed problems and we believe that it will be a tremendous help in mobilizing the membership of our party for work in the nuclei, for the formation of new factory nuclei, for regulating the work of the nuclei and assisting them in broadening their activities and politicalizing the party units.

* * *

The following are the subjects treated in this pamphlet:

1. What is a Political Party? A definition of a Communist Party and a definition of a political party in general?
2. The nucleus as the basic organization of the party.
3. How to organize a nucleus.
4. The leading organs of the nuclei and their function. This takes up the question of the executive committees of the nuclei and the opposite; the function of the executive. This has been a very great deficiency in our work in the past, the failure to organize executive committees in all of the nuclei.
5. Systematizing the work of the nucleus.
6. How to call and conduct a meeting of the nucleus.
7. The order of business of the general meetings of the nucleus.
8. Planning the work of the nucleus.
9. Division of work among the members of the nucleus.
10. How to establish regular contact between the members of the nucleus and the executive.
11. Personal and written contact between the nuclei and the local Party Committee, such as section city, and district, etc.
12. Party discipline.
13. How a nucleus should organize its own newspaper.
14. How to carry on work among women.
15. How to carry on work among Negroes.
16. How to carry on work among the youth.
17. How to carry on work among the rank and file members of the socialist party.
18. What is a Communist fraction and how must it function.

All these subjects are treated briefly, but at the same time in a manner which gives the comrades the important phases that they must know about each of these subjects.

In the appendix to this pamphlet there is a section outlining how the nuclei must make their reports to the district, city and section, giving a list of questions which should be covered, as for example: 1. Political ripeness of the workers, farmers, their attitude towards the Workers Party. 2. Economic condition of the workers where there are any strikes or lockouts for a given period. 3. State of discipline for a given period. Were there any conflicts, refusing to carry out the decisions, fights with the agents, etc. Give percentage of members attending party meetings. Are dues being regularly paid, assessments. Point 12, for example, deals with what was done by the unit in a neighboring factory where there is not a union organized yet.

These questions are designed to bring out all the important subjects which the nucleus should have in its report. There are also forms which every nucleus must use to keep a register of its membership as to age, nationality, citizenship, work union activity, etc. Also a table for dues payments and a statistical report of the unit dealing with the composition of party membership as it changes, every three months or from any given period the nucleus may decide to make its report, and also a statistical report of the unit activity, giving in figures of the sale of literature, shop papers, etc. This pamphlet must be placed in the hands of every party member.

It would be worth-while for the various district and local committees to have a comrade prepare a report of this pamphlet and for the district committee and local committees to discuss it. Particularly do we urge upon the city, section, and nucleus executive to discuss this pamphlet. The pamphlet should then be well advertised in the district and placed on sale in every nucleus, and we urge upon every member to get one and we will not stop in this work until we are certain that every member has a pamphlet.

Also every effort must be made to get every new member who joins the party to buy this pamphlet and study it as we have no doubt that this will help a great deal to decrease the turnover in our present membership, by giving the new members an opportunity to acquaint themselves, immediately upon joining the party, with its tasks and how to conduct the party activities.

Sidelights on the Workers Party Election Campaign

Organizational preparations are already commencing for the first National Campaign Tag Days to be held August 18 to 26 for the benefit of the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund.

* * *

Another letter!

"Dear Comrade Campaign Corner Editor:

"Keep up the good work. This election campaign makes us begin to see that our party is really an American Party and not just an organization in New York and Chicago. I certainly was surprised to see so many delegates from all over the country at the National Nominating Convention, and I could hardly believe it until I commenced to read the Campaign Corner with its little stories about the work of our comrades in Oklahoma, Texas the Dakotas, the southern states Arizona and other places.

"Please send me a book of Vote Communist stamps for the enclosed dollar, and oblige.

"Yours for the Cause, HARRY JACKSON."

* * *

Roy Stephens, at Omaha, Nebraska, reports 250 signatures already collected in the first week of the campaign to put the party on the ballot. A thousand signatures are needed. He also sends an order for 50 party platforms C. O. D.

* * *

The Vote Communist stamp in three colors has already proved itself one of the best, if not the best mediums of propaganda ever gotten out by the party in printed form. This stamp in addition to its bueaty This stamp in addition to its beauty that it can be used on everything gotten out either by the party or privately, and so cheap—80 stamps for a dollar.

The book has the added advantage that it can be resold in the shop or factory at 10 cents per sheet of eight stamps. Every party member and every sympathizer will surely need at least two books, and hundreds are expected to use as many as five or ten books before the campaign is over.

Told You So

The G. O. P. is now busily engaged broadcasting its quadrennial prosperity report. Andrew Mellon claims that he saved several hundred thousand dollars in taxes for the "people," reduced the national debt, and arrived at the political winning post with a tremendous surplus in the treasury. That this means nothing at all to the average worker goes without saying.

* * *

James J. Davis, who as secretary of labor handles the labor end of the business of the G. O. P. administration, took a look around the industrial landscape and saw prosperity everywhere. He did not notice the 5,000,000 workers who are unemployed and the hundreds of thousands that are working only part time. His Bureau of Labor statistics took good care to leave the textile and mining industries alone. They "selected" their industries with care.

* * *

Davis declares that the "maintenance of employment indicated by the report shows a confidence on the part of employers as to business conditions in summer and fall and the outlook for employer and employee is distinctly favorable." This remarkable secretary finds that for the first time in six years the payroll totals were greater in June than in May. Then he draws the conclusion from this alleged fact that "the country has become converted to the idea that good wages mean prosperity." He might tell that to his friend Andrew Mellon, whose union miners have been on strike for almost two years, or to the textile barons of New England.

* * *

"No limit to gifts in the Smith campaign." How this announcement made by the finance director of the National Democratic Committee must gladden the heart of every democratic spoilsman. The millionaire friends closest to Al Smith almost wept when a rumor swept the city that individual contributions over $20,000 would be scornfully rejected. Contractors and other altruistic persons interested in Al's success, because he raised himself from the proletariat to among the high and mighty, would contribute their millions to his campaign chest just because they loved the fellow.

* * *

Hoover is busy out west getting a line on Cal Coolidge's tricks and showing his face to the farmers. The newspapers faithfully record his movements, the illness of his father, and other details designed by his campaign managers to show that the G. O. P. nominee is a human being and is not a mechanical man turned out by one of the engineering factories that he is interested in.

* * *

Hoover, it is reported, will point out that the handling of international problems by the G. O. P. is one of the chief and most valuable legacies from Calvin Coolidge. That the Coolidge administration helped to fasten the yoke of American imperialism on more people than suffered from it previous to his induction into office is undoubtedly true. Hoover is assuring any "doubting Thomases" in Wall Street that he will continue this "good" work at the expense of the peoples of Nicaragua, Porto Rica, China, and the Philippines.

* * *

The Farmer-Labor Party convention that met recently in Chicago ended its futile labors with one faction wanting to hitch its fortunes to the waning and dusty star of the prohibition party and the other fighting—if such a vigorous term can be employed in describing anything that took place there—to have it support the socialist party. The boys just wanted to hitch on to something, particularly if that something had a campaign chest. And the candidate this outfit nominated, the aged Senator Norris of Nebraska, did not choose to run. He was in bed when opportunity knocked at his door but he did not hear the call.

* * *

When a labor party is organized in this country, it will be with the millions of industrial workers supported by the exploited workers in agriculture as a base and thru the activities of revolutionists who would organize such a party with the object of breaking them away from the old capitalist parties, thus giving them a class outlook on life. The organization of a labor party would be a great step in the development and sharpening of the class struggle in America. But it would be no more capable of emancipating the workers than is the British Labor Party, which is as imperialistic at the top as the tory and liberal parties.

Tom O'Flaherty

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 176.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

MEXICAN COMMUNISTS ISSUE CALL

125 Jailed in Assault On Textile Strike Pickets

USSR SENDS 3RD ICE-BREAKER TO SEEK LOST MEN

Chukhnovsky Saw 3 Figures on Floe

MOSCOW, July 25.—The Tass News Agency correspondent aboard the icebreaker Krassin radioed at 8:20 p. m. today that the Krassin was hearing SOS calls from the German steamer Monte Cervantes, with 1,500 passengers aboard.

• • •

MOSCOW, July 25.—Continuing its efforts to save the six members of the Amundsen party and the six of the fascist Nobile expedition who are still lost in the Arctic wastes, the Soviet Rescue Commission today ordered the ice-breaker Sebov to explore the region around Franz Josef Land and to search in a northwesterly direction for the lost men.

The Sebov is the third Soviet ice-breaker to be dispatched to search for members of the missing groups. The ice-breaker, which has an airplane attached to it, is now in Arctic waters.

Krassin To Be Repaired.

The Krassin, Soviet ice-breaker, which rescued a total of 16 men, is now on its way to Stavanger, where it will be overhauled and repaired. The rescue commission will send by airplane from Leningrad spare parts to repair the plane of Chukhnovsky, the aviator who first sighted the survivors of the Nobile party. After the completion of repairs, the Krassin will resume its search.

The second Soviet ice-breaker, the Maligin, arrived this morning at Archangel, after an unsuccessful search for the missing men.

• • •

Chukhnovsky Saw 3 Men.

MOSCOW, July 25 (UP).—Aviator Chukhnovsky, in an official report to the relief committee today, said that when he sighted Capt. Adalberto Mariano and Capt. Filippo Zappi of the Italia on an ice floe, there was a third figure, looking like a human form with outstretched arms, lying on the ice. Chukhnovsky confirmed that he took a picture of the group. Zappi and Mariano had reported that they left Prof. Finn Malmgren, who had started with them from the Italia ice camp, to die alone.

• • •

Prepare To Renew Search.

MOSCOW, July 25 (UP). — —As eight members of the crew of the dirigible Italia, rescued after weeks of suffering on desolate ice isles, prepared to return to their homes, relief measures were under way to search for six other members of the polar craft and six lost rescue flyers.

There are 12 men still lost and unaccounted for in the great space

Continued on Page Five

DEMONSTRATOR IS UP IN COURT

Nathan Kaplan Being Framed-up

Nathan Kaplan, fur worker, who was arrested in connection with the anti-imperialist demonstration in Wall Street, July 3 and charged with first, second and third degree assault on the testimony of two officers, appeared yestaday in General Sessions Court, Part 1, before Judge Otto Rosalsky and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

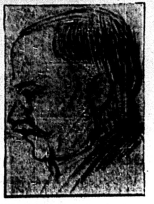
Kaplan is being accused of biting the finger of a policeman, despite the fact that a number of witnesses have testified that the policeman's finger was cut when he smashed Kaplan in the face.

He is being defended by Jacques Buitenkant, representing the New York section of the International Labor Defense. The I. L. D. has issued an appeal to all class-conscious workers to help smash the frame-up of Kaplan by sending immediate funds for his defense and also by attending the I. L. D. Outing at Pleasant Bay Park, Aug. 11, the proceeds of which will be used to defend him.

Speakers and Agitprop Conference Saturday

All speakers of the Workers (Communist) Party in District 2, section, subsection and unit agitprop directors and members of section speakers' classes have been invited to attend a conference to be held Saturday, at 2 p. m. at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square. The meeting will be held on the fifth [illegible]

Obregon Death Sketch



The sketch reproduced above is that which Jose de Leon Toral, murderer of President-elect Obregon, of Mexico, used to gain admittance to his victim. It was while Obregon was examining this sketch that the assassin, a young tool of the clerical reaction, fired the shot which killed the president-elect.

AIRPLANES BOMB SANDINO CAMP

U. S. General Denies Leaders' Flight

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 25.—A virtual massacre of Nicaraguans occurred today when a squadron of marine planes bombed a camp of soldiers under command of Augustino Sandino, leader of the army of independence. The planes were subjected to heavy machine gun and rifle fire but the defense lacked anti-aircraft guns.

The squadron of planes circled the camp situated about 50 miles northeast of Mura on the Honduran frontier, dropping bombs. The marine planes kept out of range of the rifle fire and continued to attack the camp of General Sandino.

YOUNG WORKERS DEFY MILITARY OFFICERS

CAMP DEVENS, Mass., July 25.—Four members of the Young Workers (Communist) League were arrested by authorities and held for some time, the officers making threats of throwing them in the military guard house, for distribution of letters and copies of the Young Workers to members of the CMTC and National Guard here.

60 Copies Confiscated.

Hundreds of copies of the Young Worker, with letters to the servicemen calling on them not to become tools of the bosses and pointing out the use of the National Guard in New Bedford were distributed before the officers discovered the fact and confiscated 60 copies. Four of the six League members who took part in the distribution were held for some time.

Defy Officers.

When threatened with imprisonment in the guard house, the young workers replied that they were members of the Young Workers (Communist) League and that the organization would protect them against the military authorities. Also, they told the officers that the Young Worker is a legal publication and that they will continue to distribute it to the servicemen.

The young workers were set at liberty when the officers failed to frighten and intimidate them.

• • •

Try To Frame Communists.

FT. HOYLE, Md., July 25.—Every effort is being made by the authorities here to discredit the Communists.

Letters were sent to the boys at the Citizen's Military Training Camp here by the Young Workers (Communist) League, calling their attention to the real purposes of the camp, pointing out the war danger, and calling on the young workers at the camp to use their military knowledge for their own class and not for the bosses.

The authorities took the names of all at the camp who received the letters and began an anti-Communist campaign.

Recently, tear gas was turned loose on the camp at 11:30 p. m. This evidently was done by the officers, who charged the Communists with responsibility.

• • •

Communist Papers for Soldiers.

Hundreds of copies of the Daily Worker and the Young Worker were distributed to soldiers from Ft. Jay, Governor's Island, at the Battery Park ferry by members of the Young Workers (Communist) League. The papers were eagerly received by the servicemen.

Efforts of the officers to stop servicemen from reading the Daily Worker and the Young Worker have been completely unsuccessful.

AMERICANS VISIT U.S.S.R.

Expect 700 This Year, 5,000 In 1929

Six American companies have been accredited to send tourists to Russia it was stated yesterday at the Amtorg Trading Corporation. These organizations which have special agreements with the Travel Bureau of the Soviet Merchant Fleet Company, Stovtorgflot, are expected to send this summer to the Soviet Union about 700 American tourists four times the number of last year Other visitors will bring the total to over 1,000 Americans to visit Russia this year.

This is the first time since the revolution that large numbers of tourists from the United States and other countries are visiting the Soviet Union, it was explained at the Amtorg. Vises for one month are being freely issued to American citizens and extensions can be obtained Arrangements have been made to

Continued on Page Three

WORLD CONGRESS DEBATES THESES IN NEW SESSION

Urge Aid for Indian Mass Party

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 25.—The Sixth World Congress of the Communist International continued its sessions yesterday with a further discussion of Bukharin's speech.

Tederan, of Denmark, reported that the Danish delegation agreed with Bukharin's theses. The social democrats are again preparing to undertake the government of Denmark. The Danish Communist Party is making progress under its new leadership and the party membership has been doubled.

Sikander, of India, declared that the situation of the Indian workers is steadily growing worse as a result of the joint pressure of the English and the Indian capitalists, but the workers are commencing to resist. The Communist International must work out a program in order to assist the Indian Communist Party to become a mass party

Bodeman, of Switzerland, stated that the Communist International should pay more attention to the smaller parties. He declared that the Comintern's apparatus was deficient in this respect and must be improved. He further stated that the united front tactic should be made more precise in Bukharin's theses.

Koplenig, of Austria, declared that, in the course of its capitalist stabilization, Austria was meeting difficulties which were forcing the bourgeoisie to adopt fascist methods. The Austrian Communists consider the insurrection as the beginning of the decline of Austrian "Marxism." The Austrian Communist Party has suffered severe reverses, but is now attempting to make good by more intensive work among the masses.

FRANCHISE KING SUPPORTS SMITH

Woodin. Bus Baron. Pays Tammany Debt

With the announcement by John J. Raskob, open shop manager of the Al Smith campaign that the goal set for the democratic drive this year will total $3,500,000, a record for the party, there was made public the fact that William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry Company and chief figure in the Equitable Bus Company which recently obtained a city bus franchise, will support Al Smith.

Woodin, who is a prominent republican and a director in a dozen large corporations, announced that he would not only support Smith but that he would campaign for the Tammany governor. The news was not thought surprising in view of the fact that within a year the Equitable Bus Corporation secured a franchise from the city commonly reported to be worth $150,000,000

DRASTIC RULING OUTLAWS MILL GATE PICKETING

Labor Defends Selves, 7 Police Injured

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 25.—Armed with a decision outlawing picketing made at a trial of 18 pickets earlier in the day by Judge Milliken in district court, Raymond Chase, New Bedford deputy chief, a deputy chief imported from Fall River, led a combined police squadron against the evening's picket demonstration at the Sharp Mill and arrested 125 strikers and bystanders who refused to disperse when the "Riot Act" was read to them.

Most of those arrested were members of the Textile Mills Committees, but since 50 of those arrested were bystanders it is believed that many United Textile Union members were also taken in.

When Judge Milliken rasped out in court that "picketing is a nuisance," Chief of Police McLeod was provided with the legal excuse to begin a wholesale terror against the workers. When the police arrived at the mill the deputies shouted to them, "each one get your man!"

• • •

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 25.—Handing down to the mill barons' city police the ruling they asked for, Judge Milliken in the District Court here to-day outlawed picketing by labelling it as "parading without a permit." Eighteen strikers, arrested in the last two days on this charge as well as charges of assaulting policemen, inciting to riot, disturbing the peace, etc., had their cases postponed till next Tuesday.

Bringing his fist down with a bang, Milliken, who has already sent many workers to jail for long months, shouted: "Picketing in New Bedford has got to stop.'"

The strikers, however, according to statements made later, intend to ignore the order for them to relinquish their only weapon against the employers.

• • •

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 25—With planned viciousness, as developments later showed, the New Bedford police force last night launched the most vicious assault on picketing textile strikers yet seen

Continued on Page Three

INSURANCE PLAN SHOWN AS FRAUD

General Motors Will Profit

Two group insurance policies totaling approximately a half million dollars were reported in New York financial circles yesterday, as the most recent and largest attempt by open-shop employers to put over "welfare" instead of paying decent wages.

One was a policy signed by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, for the 200,000 employes of that company. It was taken out with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and totals about $400,000,000.

The General Motors' policy is "co-operative" and available to all employes who have been in employ of the company three months. It provides $2,000 life insurance and $15 weekly for illness or accident.

The other policy was one announced by the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company for the 15,000 employes of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

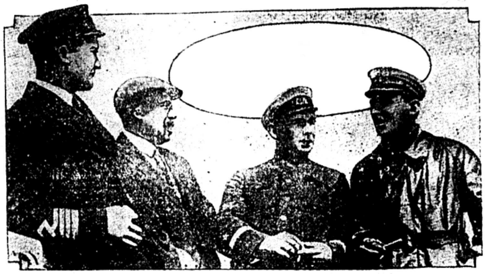
In both cases the workers themselves are forced to pay the premium costs, which are believed to be about three times the actual cost of the insurance.

Conceal Joker

In the publicity sent out by the open-shop, Morgan-controlled General Motors Corporation, the fact is carefully concealed that workers are entitled to the insurance only as long as they remain in the employ of the union hating, low-wage concern. An employe who leaves his job forfeits what he has paid in, no matter how long he has been paying.

Continued on Page Five

Heroic Soviet Arctic Rescuers to Visit United States



Above is the first picture of members of the rescue expedition of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin, which rescued 16 men lost in the Arctic ice-deserts. They are, left to right, Capt. Egge, commander of the Krassin, Prof. Samoilovich, head of the expedition, one of the Krassin officers, and Chukhnovsky, the heroic aviator who first sighted the members of the fascist Nobile expedition. Members of the Krassin expedition have been invited to visit the United States.

HOLD FUNERAL OF SOVIET AVIATOR

Impressive Rites for Alexis Pavloff

MOSCOW, July 25 (UP).—Impressive funeral services were held today for Alexis Pavloff, army aviator who heroically crashed his plane Sunday in order to avoid running down a crowd of spectators.

Pavloff was looping the loop before a big crowd when his engine stalled. Seeing that he was about to go into the crowd, he nose-dived when close to the ground. His machine was crushed to pieces and he was killed instantly.

Pavloff's plane was one of 20 in an exhibition. All were paid for by a popular fund called "Russia's reply to Chamberlain."

MINERS' LEADERS ANNOUNCE PLANS

Stop Paying Dues to Lewis Machine

(Special to The Daily Worker)

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—By a unanimous vote the National Miners' Convention Arrangement Committee, meeting here yesterday and today, decided to call upon all the local unions throughout the mine fields completely to break with the Lewis machine; to pay no more dues to these corrupt officials but to affiliate with the committee and send their delegates to the national convention to be held in this city Sept. 9 to 16.

New Situation.

"Today we face again a new situation," said Chairman Watt in opening the session, "the union once existing in the coal industry, the United Mine Workers of America, is destroyed by the action of its leadership and what confront us now is the building of a union which can take up the battles of the miners. The unorganized miners are ready for organization into a union which can give real leadership and be controlled by the rank and file."

In making a review of the situation existing after the latest betrayal by the Lewis machine in completely abandoning the Jacksonville scale, Chairman Watt stated that "the Pennsylvania and Ohio miners now know that the strike is lost and that in returning to work they must do so in organized manner to maintain their locals in order to build the new union; one in which both the anthracite and soft coal miners join not on the basis of division as that created by Lewis but on the basis of common interests."

Wide Representation.

The members of the national committee had been summoned from the various districts. Many miners from the Pittsburgh district attended to see for themselves that this new union leadership transacts its business on the basis of the interests of the rank and file.

Among the main items discussed and acted upon were the general policy proposed, a statement of which has already been printed in

Continued on Page Five

SAYS CENTRALIA JURY FIRST VOTED ACQUITTAL

COLLECT $1,045 FOR SOVIET WORK

World Tourists Help USSR Colonization

Joseph Brodsky, New York labor attorney and president of World Tourists, raised more than $1,000 from fellow-passengers for the Jewish colonies in the Soviet Union, while on board the S. S. Acquitania, enroute to Russia, according to a cablegram received yesterday by Milton Goodman, manager of the New York office of World Tourists, Inc., 69 Fifth Ave. Brodsky was one of a group of 75 tourists bound for Russia who left New York a few weeks ago.

According to the cablegram, the night before the boat docked at Southampton the tourists gave a party in the second-class saloon. Many passengers attended and as the party was drawing to a close Brodsky made a spirited appeal for funds for the Jewish farm colonies in the U. S. S. R. A tally showed that $1,045 had been collected.

The party has spent five days of thrilling sight-seeing in Moscow, a similar amount of time in Leningrad and are now about to tour through the Crimea and other sister Soviet Republics.

While in Moscow the tourists secured extensions of their visas entitling each one to visit any part of the Soviet Union. These extensions, Mr. Goodman states, have been granted regularly to World Tourists groups.

Metal Uions' Outing in Akron, O., Saturday

CLEVELAND, July 25. — The Metal Trades Council of Cleveland will hold an outing at Summerbeach Park, Akron, Ohio, on Saturday This affair includes all unions of the metal industry of all towns in Northern Ohio.

Several thousand tickets have been distributed in all shops in Cleveland and Northern Ohio. Two stoves and other articles will be given away. Special busses have been chartered to run from Cleveland to the picnic grounds.

FARM WAGES LOWER.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Farm wages are markedly lower this year than last, it is reported by the Department of agriculture.

E. E. Torpen, one of the jurors in the Centralia case, who helped to sentence Eugene Barnett, John Lamb, Bert Bland and five other Centralia prisoners, from 20 to 40 years in the penitentiary, now declares that the Centralia prisoners should never have been convicted of the crime charged, and that their radicalism and the hysteria of the period caused their conviction.

Voted for Acquittal

The following are excerpts from an affidavit subscribed and sworn to by Torpen:

". . . When the jury retired to the jury room to deliberate upon their verdict, it was suggested by one of the jurors, whose name I am now unable to recollect, that the jury take a trial ballot to ascertain the sentiment of each juror before any discussion was had; a ballot was then taken and it was unanimous in favor of acquitting the defendants in the case."

"That the jury finally decided on the verdict as rendered because of the understanding the jurors had with one another that they would recommend extreme leniency to the court in rendering his sentence upon the defendants, and this was agreed to by all the jurors, and the verdict would not have been agreed to but for that understanding.

Class "Justice"

"I verily believe, also, that if these men had not been affiliated with the I. W. W. organization, they would never have been convicted of the crime as charged. . . . "

Martin Abern, assistant national secretary of International Labor Defense, 80 East 11th St., New York City, who today released the above statement of the juror, stated that the statement of Torpen was but another evidence of the ghastly frame-up perpetrated by the lumber barons of Washington, the American Legion and the courts against these workers whose only crime was their activity in organizing the lumber workers into a union.

The labor movement is now insisting upon the unconditional release of the Centralia prisoners. International Labor Defense calls upon the workers everywhere to protest for the Walla Walla prisoners and to demand their release by Governor Roland H. Hartley, Olympia, Wash.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24 (UP). —Tammany Governor Alfred E. Smith announced today that he had selected August 22 as the date on which he will be notified of his nomination as the democratic presidential candidate.

CONVICTS WORK IN MINES

Carolina Sends Prisoners to Coal Pits

By ESTHER LOWELL.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 23 (FP).—As Alabama is being hailed for withdrawing its last convict-miner from the coal pits, North Carolina has sent 52 Negro prisoners to one of its two mines. Organized labor's protesting letter, sent by the Piedmont Organizing Council, was not given the courtesy of a reply by the state authorities.

Although Democratic Gov. Angus McLean declares that North Carolina does not lease its convicts, word-technicalities do not hide the actual fact. The state leases its convicts' labor, providing its own housing, clothing, food and disciplinary supervision. The private contractor, however, supplies work-foremen who have practical charge of the convict-workers in place of the low-type guard usually sent by

Continued on Page Three

URGE MASSES TO RALLY TO FIGHT ON ALL REACTION

Peasants' League Tells Demands

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

MEXICO CITY, July 25.—The Mexican Communist Party today issued a manifesto to the masses calling for a united workers and peasants organization against the efforts of clerical and other reaction

At the same time the National Peasants League, an organization of militant and progressive peasants distinct from the bulk of the Obregonist followers, issued a similar call to the workers and peasants demanding a struggle against the same reactionary forces.

Both organizations call for the organization of the masses for the preservation of the achievements of the revolution. The statement of the Peasants' League prints the oath of the Knights of Columbus in Mexico which pledges its members to violence and assassination against the government. The league calls for the arrest of all officials of the Knights of Columbus.

The manifesto of the Mexican Communist Party begins with a further denunciation of the assassination of Obregon and demands:

(1) A united workers organization to fight for repartition of all lands to the peasants and the abolition of the white guardists.

(2) The effective nationalization of subsoil rights through workers' control of production and distribution.

(3) The extermination of clerical revolt by arming the workers and peasants.

(4) The application of all gains thus far achieved by the revolution.

(5) The struggle against imperialism by an international bloc of workers and peasants in North, Central and South America.

Blames Clergy for Murder.

The manifesto of the National Peasants League is careful to indicate its differences with the bulk of the Obregonists and gives specifically the fact that it does not denounce Louis Marones, former minister of labor in the Calles government for the assassination of Obregon, but on the contrary that it blames the catholics for the deed.

The manifesto calls upon all elements of the country to rally around Calles, the present president. It demands the immediate confiscation of

Continued on Page Five

ATTACK PICKETS OF FRUIT UNION

Boss Hired Gangsters Run Amuck Again

Anti-union owners of the fruit stores on aBthgate Ave., and the thugs they hired made a new and vicious assault against the picketing members of the Retail Grocery, Fruit and Dairy Clerks Union striking for recognition of their union.

The cases of the four workers arrested after they were beaten up in the attack Tuesday evening were postponed till July 30 by Judge Vitalie in the West Farms Court yesterday afternoon.

In defending themselves against the onslaught of the thugs, some of who mused fruit box hatchets, David Vacker, union organizer, and Jack Goldberg were arrested. Hyman Kovarsky and Sam Shapiro were injured severely; one of them was treated in a hospital after the assault and took five stitches to close the hatchet wound in his head.

The union has been conducting a bitter unionization struggle against the Bathgate Avenue bosses for many months, and is determined, according to union statements made later, to continue the struggle till the employers capitulate and agree to recognie the workers organization.

POLAR FLIGHT PLANNED.

OMAHA, Nebr., July 25 (UP).—Captain Sir George Wilkins and Carl Ben Eilson, arctic explorers, expect to start preparations for a south pole flight in about a month, they said here.

Marvin, Dollar Patriot Who Aided Attack on 'Daily', Flees $17,000 Libel Judgment

FASCIST, HEAD 'KEYMEN,' RUNS OUT ON VERDICT

Lost in Court to Rosika Schwimmer

Fred R. Marvin, patriot for pay has fled New York State to escape paying a $17,000 libel judgment directed against him by a jury in the Rosika-Schwimmer case. Marvin, whose professional patriotic Keymen of America sponsor his daily data sheets on progressives and radicals, slipped away from the state soon after the verdict had been returned confirming charges that he libeled Mme. Schwimmer when he called her a German spy. Marvin and his organization, the Keymen of America, were instrumental in attempts to suppress the Daily Worker.

Arthur Garfield Hays, victor in a battle of legal wits over Joseph Cashman, counsel for Marvin and a professional patriot himself, is waiting for Marvin to return to New York to serve a body attachment on him for the $17,000. The master keyman is out in El Paso, Texas filling profitable lecture engagements before semi-military societies on the Red Menace.

Thoughtfully Marvin passed ownership of his property in New York to his wife. He lives at Pelham, a stockbrokers' suburb. Professional patrioteering isn't the paying game it used to be during the war and immediately after, Hays believes. He has been unable to discover evidences of appreciable worldly gain accumulated by Marvin.

Marvin is back in his old stamping grounds in the west. He started out as a newspaper reporter on the Spokane, Wash. Spokesman-Review specializing in mining news. This brought him into close contact with the labor movement in the Coeur d'Alene strike of the Western Federation of Miners and the metal digger struggles preceding the famous Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone trial.

Reporting miners' strikes for employers proved profitable for the young newspaper man. Later he became editor of mining journals and daily newspapers, passing from one to the other in quick succession. He complained during the Schwimmer case, that at Pueblo, Colo., he was kicked out of town by indignant citizens who ruined him and his paper.

When the metal miners' movement in the west subsided after the war, Marvin looked to lusher fields of anti-labor activity and came to New York to work on a small Wall St. daily. Here he had ample scope for publishing accumulated bile directed against radicals and liberals. All forward-looking people he lumped together through a spider web chart showing Jane Addams' connections with Moscow.

When his Wall St. paper sickened and died, as so many of his other ventures had done, he continued with his Keymen of America and Daily Data Sheets, heaping abuse on Mme. Schwimmer and hundreds of pacifists, liberals, labor men and preachers. When Hays hauled him into court on the Schwimmer libel charges, Marvin was forced to admit for the first time that his so-called information service was founded on rumors, suspicions and imagination.

KELLOGG SENDS NANKING NOTE

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Secretary of State Kellogg, in a note to the Nanking foreign minister, offers to begin at once negotiations for a new tariff treaty which would give full expression to the principle of national tariff autonomy with the provisio that there shall be no discrimination against the United States in favor of other powers.

This means the United States is ready to abandon its treaty restrictions over Chinese customs revenues but requires other powers to do likewise before the new provisions shall become effective.

* * *

Fleet To Remain.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Further details concerning the anticipated withdrawal of American marines from China revealed today that the sixty American naval vessels now in Chinese waters will not be ordered home nor will any reduction in the number of American seamen now on Chinese territory be made.

It has further been learned, however, that thirteen planes and the [illegible]-five officers and men of the marine flying forces have been ordered from Tientsin to Guam, the United States naval depot in the mid-Pacific.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson, who issued the order for withdrawal after consultation with the state department yesterday, refused to specify the reason for the withdrawal, but left the impression that the state department feels that the Nanking government is now strong enough and willing to do its [illegible] for it.

Where Lives of Workers Were Imperilled

The half million dollar blaze in the tanks of the White Rose Gasoline Company's refinery at Hartford, Ill., endangered the lives of scores of workers employed by the corporation. Blazing oil and smoke fumes from it have imperilled hundreds of lives of oil workers yearly.

ADVERTISERS TO BE 'INVESTIGATED'

Government Charges Monopoly

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A gesture to break an alleged national monopoly on the outdoor advertising industry was made by the government today when the Justice Department filed suit in the U. S. District Court for Southern New York against five firms and several individuals, charging violation of anti-trust laws.

The General Outdoor Advertising Company, Inc., National Outdoor Advertising Bureau, Inc., Outdoor Advertising Association of America Inc., Foster and Kleizer Company Foster and Kleizer Investment Company, Kerwin H. Fulton, George Johnson, and George Armsby, all of New York, and George W. Kleiser of San Francisco, were named.

The government charges an illegal monopoly was created in organization of the General Outdoor Advertising Company in 1925 by the merger of the former Thomas Cusack Company and a large group of companies called the Fulton group of companies. These companies, headed by Kerwin H. Fulton, were formerly engaged in operation of outdoor advertising display plants in competition with the Cusack Company.

Fulton, according to the government's petition, is now president of the General Outdoor Company and chairman of the Outdoor Advertising Association, the latter composed of practically all of the owners or operators of Outdoor Advertising Displays throughout the country.

ILLINOIS MINERS FACE STARVATION

Welcome Relief Sent From Chicago

CHICAGO, July 25.—Thousands of Illinois miners and their families are starving and their only hope is the food sent to them by the National Miners' Relief Committee, with Chicago headquarters at 23 S. Lincoln St., declared Steve Rubicki, director of the food drive in the Chicago area, today. Rubicki has just returned from Springfield, Staunton, Belleville and other sections of the Illinois mining regions, where he took charge of the first distribution of tons of food sent down from Chicago, gathered under his direction.

"Contrary to the lies of Fishwick and Lewis," he said, "more than 50,000 miners in Illinois are out of work and thousands of them are starving.

On Strike Over 16 Months.

"In Pocahontas the men have been out for more than 16 months. The miners and their families are in great need and they gladly welcomed the shipment of foodstuffs.

"In Springfield about 50 families have received shares of provisions. In the Staunton district a load of food was delivered to be distributed among needy miners' families. This distribution will be in charge of Joe Polka and D. Morgan.

Must Intensify Efforts.

"In Belleville the food shipment was greeted by a committee of progressive miners. Dan Slinger has charge of distribution in Belleville. Miners and their families from Pocahontas, O'Fallon and other points around Belleville will get their provisions from the Belleville relief office. Provisions to feed a number of families were also unloaded in Belleville, which will go to Orient.

"The welcome of this shipment of food means that we must intensify our efforts for miners' relief and after the week's drive, July 29 to Aug. 5, we must again begin a new food drive."

A BONE FOR HEART BALM.

TRENTON, N. J. (UP) July 25.—As a reward for their good behavior, convicts of the state prison will hear the radio account of the Tunney-Heeney fight broadcast from the ringside Thursday night.

WORKERS AIDING CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Contributions from All Parts of Country

The masses are rallying to raise the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund, with contributions of five-dollar bills and one-dollar bills, as the capitalist parties are raising the ante on campaign contributions.

A few weeks ago the figure set for the expenditures of the Democratic and republican parties in this election was $3,000,000 each.

The hangers-on of both parties got scared over the prospect of a hard winter, and Al Smith's gasoline manager Raskob came out with the assurance that there would be no limit to contributions.

Then Herbert Hoover's finance director raised it to $4,000,000, and frantic bidding became the order of the day.

Our latest report from Washington is that the figure has now reached the enormous sum of $10,000,000, the largest sum ever officially expended in an election campaign, even in the days of Mark Hanna.

Masses Helping Communists.

But the workers and farmers are going ahead making their contributions to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund, realizing that the the billions are on the side of the capitalists, the interests of the masses and history are on the side of the Workers (Communist) Party

Men and women and not money make revolutions after all, tho money is extremely useful to prepare the masses ideologically for the great social change, thru agitation, education, and organization.

Mobilize Masses.

And those proletarian men and women who realize that the main purpose of the Communists in the present campaign is to mobilize the masses for the struggle against capitalism are sending in their contributions with appropriate comment.

Here is a letter from a poor farmer from Elko, Nevada:

"Comrades:

"Please find in this letter my proletarian donation of five dollars for our Communist Election Campaign

"Fraternally, George Rupert."

George Rupert takes no stock in the new-found interest of Herbert Hoover in the needs of the farmers What Hoover wants is the farmers' votes. Rupert knows that the Communists do not come to the poor farmers in the role of saviors, but with a program around which they can organize in common with the exploited workers in the factories.

Steve Morasky writes from Caldwell, Ohio:

"Please send me two books of "Vote Communist" stamps and also five Foster-Gitlow campaign buttons. I am also sending $2.50 as my contribution to the Communist Campaign Fund."

Caldwell is in the striking mine area of Ohio where the miners have been battling against the operators and their own corrupt labor leaders for over twelve months. Mrasky knows what the Workers (Communist) Party has done to help out during this strike.

From Tomolen, Mississippi, R. E. Peele writes:

"Find enclosed check for five dollars for my part in campaign fund of Workers (Communist) Party."

Former Socialist Aids Party.

And writes Harry Rutland, of Caspar, California: "I enclose one dollar for stamps to boost the Communist Party. I was in former days a socialist, but dropped out when it deserted the class struggle. I would like to se my letter come with one of those stamps on it."

Yes, Comrade Rutland, you will see a "Vote Communist" stamp on your letter all right. No letter can leave the National Office without one of those stamps pasted on the envelope.

Funds Urgently Needed.

Five dollars from every member and sympathizer of the Workers (Communist) Party would bring in the $100,000 we are driving for in a short time. Money is urgently needed. Dig down and send us whatever you can. Remember that the National Election Campaign Committee needs funds badly to print literature, route speakers, and collect signatures to put the party ticket on the ballot.

It is now $100,000 against $10,000,000, but the odds don't frighten us.

Forward all contributions to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City.

WORKERS AIDING IN GREAT DRIVE FOR MINE RELIEF

New York City Still Leads in Funds

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 25.—As the National Miners Relief and Defense Week campaign is sweeping the continent from Canada to Mexico, the first receipts of the week's drive are arriving in quick succession at the headquarters of the National Miners Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

More than $1,000 was sent from Canada during the past few days. From the Woman's Labor League of Montreal comes a preliminary contribution of $104.50, from the Toronto Relief Committee, $225, the Canmore local of the Mine Workers Union of Canada sends $250, from Ford, Ontario, $100; Long Lac, Winnipeg, Sudbury and Fort Williams all rushed their preliminary contributions to the Pennsylvania strike fields. More than 1,000 families received flour and potatoes this week as a result of Canada's solidarity.

New York Leads

New York City is still leading in relief-raising activity. In addition to the $2,000 check forwarded last week by the relief committee, 799 Broadway, another contribution of $750 and a promise of much more to come by the end of the relief and defense week, was received from Fanny Rudd, secretary. From the Youth Relief Conference of New York comes $325 and the National Children's Relief sent $150.

Empty Treasuries

To the appeal for bread from thousands of hungry strikers' families, workers' organizations are responding by emptying their treasuries. The Finnish Working Women's Club of Astoria, Oregon, sent $80.85. The Young Workers School of Wheeling, W. Va., sent $10, all they had. The Ladies Auxiliary of Duluth, Minn., wrote that $15.25 is all they could afford. A fraternal organization of Bessemer, Pa., sent $143.85, special delivery, to the Pittsburgh headquarters.

From every corner of the country, Seattle, Washington; Vinalhaven, Maine; Witheo, Wis.; Muskegan, Mich.; Globe, Arizona, New London, Conn.; San Francisco, Calif.; Hood River, Oregon; these are a few of the hundreds of cities where mass meetings, house to house collections and tag days have already produced many hundreds of dollars for relief and defense. But thousands are needed to buy even one meager meal a day for the hungry strikers' families in the bituminous coal fields. To defend the hundreds of mine leaders who are jailed or held under heavy bond, and save them from long prison terms, lawyers' bills must be paid International Labor Defense units are rallying to the National Miners Relief and Defense Week drive and proving that they are fulfilling their function as defenders of labor prisoners. All funds are forwarded to the relief headquarters at 611 Penn Ave.

CZECH MILITARY DICTATOR SEEN

Croat Peasants Oppose Parliament

BELGRADE, July 24.—With the failure of General Hadzitch to form a new cabinet in Czechoslovakia, and the continued refusal of the Croatian Peasant Party to enter into a coalition government, the formation of a military cabinet and a virtual dictatorship is seen here as inevitable.

Hadzitch was called upon by the King to form a cabinet of non-party elements, after M. Raditch, the Croat Leader, refused to enter a cabinet charging the present parliament as being responsible for the assassinations last month.

The unrest due to the demands of the nationals and the dissentions between the leaders of the Serbian and Croat parties makes it very unlikely that a political cabinet, favorable to the Croatian peasants will be formed. It is thought here that a military cabinet, accompanied by military rule which will amount to a dictatorship will be the outcome of the present situation.

ARREST AGENT FOR FRAUD

Daniel J. Kelly, special agent for the Underwriters Salvage Company of Newark, N. J., pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of fraud in connection with the adjustment of a fire loss at the warehouse of the Miravelli brothers, Elizabeth, N. J., February 28. He was released in $5,000 bail pending sentence.

ONE IN FOUR ARE NOW OUT OF WORK IN NEW ENGLAND

Five Million are Idle in Country

BOSTON, Mass., July 25.—The issue of the full dinner pail injected into the present election campaign by Hubert Work, chairman of the National Republican Committee may become more vital than the party of big business expected.

Reports of a survey made in New England, the section of the country in which President Coolidge himself resides, disclose that one out of every four workers there are idle and many of the others are working part time.

Explodes Myth.

In some industries the unemployment figures are still more explosive of the full dinner pail myth. In foundries and machine shops, 35 per cent of the workers are idle. In the shoe factories 43 per cent and in the cotton mills 56 per cent or more than half the workers are now unemployed.

These figures compiled by the Massachusetts State Department and Industry indicate that employment conditions have steadily become worse during the past five years.

One Million Affected.

The employment index taking the year 1919 as a base of 100 now stands at 73.6 or that over one-fourth of the workers are idle. Over 350,000 workers are jobless in this section, which means that over a million persons, men women and children are suffering in this section alone from the greatest evil which strikes the wage earning class.

Figures for the country as a whole indicate that 5,000,000 workers are unemployed. At the same time there is taking place a nation-wide and ruthless drive against the existing wage scales and a lengthening of working hours.

WILL HOLD HUGE ANTI-WAR MEET

Workers Party Issues Call

A giant anti-war mass meeting, under the auspices of District 2, Workers (Communist) Party, will be staged by the workers of New York in Union Square on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the declaration of the imperialist World War. The following call has been issued to the workers:

August 4, 1928, marks the fourteenth year since the beginning of the World War, which cost the workers of the world millions of lives and most horrible agony and suffering. The devastating effects of this world catastrophe are still felt today.

Although our memories are still fresh with the horrors of 1914, the imperialists of the world, and particularly the United States, are preparing feverishly for a new world slaughter. Appropriations, battleships, artillery and instruments of destruction have reached an unheard of proportion. Millions are being spent for the production of hugo quantities of poison gas and airplanes. Draft laws are being prepared in order to chain the entire working population to the military machine in time of war. Through the institution of military training in the schools, the establishment of many citizens' military training camps, the curse of capitalist militarism is spreading throughout the country.

The sharpening commercial rivalry between the United States and Great Britain, the attack of thousands of American marines upon the people of Nicaragua, the American battleships and marines now threatening the workers and peasants of China and the growing menace of an attack upon the Soviet Union by the combined forces of the imperialist nations—all these are indications of the immediate danger of another and more terrible world war.

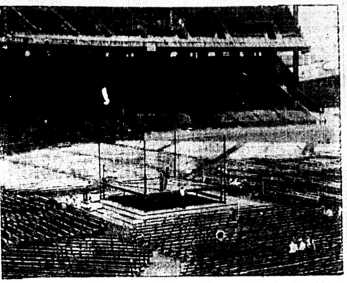
The working masses must take note of these dangerous preparations threatening their very existence. Only through determined agitation and the organization of the workers can this menace be fought. For this purpose the Workers (Communist) Party invites all workers and working class organizations to participate in a great open-air "no more imperialist war" rally to be held in Union Square, New York City, August 4, 1928, promptly at 1 p. m. You are urged to enlist all workers with whom you have any influence in this important demonstration.

We shall be glad to arrange that speakers from your organization participate in this affair if you will notify us who they are. You are also urged to have your delegation come with appropriate banners suitable for the occasion.

Yours against all capitalist wars,
WORKERS (COMMUNIST)
PARTY, DISTRICT TWO.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 25 (UP).—Four prisoners escaped from Auburn prison camps today. Only one was captured.

"The Flop of the Century"; $40 a Seat



The picture shows seats being erected around the ring in which Tunney and Heeney will tonight stage what is frequently called "the flop of the century." The big business of pugilism, which is the profit device of a small group of promoters, demands that Tunney have an opponent to draw money from the pockets of fight fans. Heeney, who is generally alleged to be a set-up has been chosen. The seats cost $40 apiece which wealthy boosters are willing to pay.

CHICAGO LABOR TO AID MINERS

The Chicago headquarters for the great Miners' Relief and Defense drive, from July 29 to August 5, announce intensive preparation to mobilize the entire progressive labor movement for a factory and house to house collection to feed, clothe and defend from cossack persecution the fighting miners of this country and their families.

The branches of the International Labor Defense are working to put over this great campaign and are calling special mobilization meetings of their membership. Committees of women workers have also been formed for the purpose of making the work a success.

Stations have been established at th following places:

West Side: 23 S. Lincoln St., 3301 W. Roosevelt Rd., Freiheit; 1510 W. 18th St., Rovnost Ludu; 1823 S. Loomise St., Radnik.

Northwest Side: 2021 W. Division St.; 2736 W. Davidson St.

North Side: 2409 N. Halsted St., Imperial Hall; 453 W. North Ave., Hungarian Hall.

Albany Park: 4021 N. Drake Ave.

Cicero: 5100 W. 23rd St.

Maywood: 410 S. 9th St.

South Side: 3116 S. Halsted St., Vilnis; 3035 W. 51st St., Workers' Home; 3201 S. Wabash Ave., Community House.

Woodlawn: 647 E. 61st St.

Pullman: 2954 E. 94th St.

Workers, will be sent out from these stations into surrounding territory with boxes and collection lists.

The Joint Committee asks all workers who have any time to spare to call at 23 S. Lincoln St. for assignment of work.

23 Workers Injured in Railroad Crash

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 25. — Twenty-three persons were injured when a picnic train, carrying more than 1,000 employes of the railroad and their families from the annual outing at Canton, Ohio, was sideswiped by a box car in the Manchester Yards. The box car had been derailed from a parallel track. Most of the injured persons were cut by flying glass.

ADMIRAL SAYS NO SANDINO DEFEAT

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP).—The navy department revealed today General Feeland, in command in Nicaragua, had forwarded an unconfirmed report that Sandino, rebel leader, had fled Nicaragua. Ad. Hughes, chief of operations, told the press the department places no official credence in the rumor and will not modify its anti-Sandino campaign.

* * *

Airplanes Turned Back

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 25 (UP).—American marines, with marine airplanes in support, hoped to gain contact today with the revolutionary force under General Augustino Sandino, who is believed to be at or near the Honduran border.

Airplanes have been turned back by wind and rain from two attempts definitely to locate Sandino's men.

ARREST WORKERS IN LOS ANGELES

Were Collecting Funds for Miners' Relief

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 25.—Ten workers were arrested today in Los Angeles while collecting money in the Joint Miners' Relief and Defense Drive being conducted by the International Labor Defense and the Miners' Relief Committee.

They are charged with violation of a city ordinance, and the prosecution is threatening to sentence each worker to 50 days' in jail and $50 fine. "This brazen arrest and prosecution of workers aiding in the relief and defense of the thousands of miners in Pennsylvania and Ohio is resented bitterly by the progressive workers in Los Angeles," the International Labor Defense announced today thru Martin Abern, assistant national secretary.

Abern declared that these recent arrests make it more imperative than ever for the workers throughout the country to rally for the Relief and Defense Drive this week.

UNEMPLOYED MEN FORCE ATTENTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

British Politicians "Debate"

LONDON, July 25.—Reacting, it is believed to the pressure of unemployed workers, Ramsay McDonald, former Prime Minister of England, today delivered a "formal attack" on the government's failure to lesson, or even to check the fast-growing number of unemployed. His speech was delivered in the House of Commons, in which he demanded a vote of censure of the government.

The government's failure to relieve many poverty-stricken areas, and its complete lack of interest in the unemployment situation has caused great resentment among the army of 1,500,000 workers who are at present unemployed.

Within the last three and one-half years, the number of paupers in Great Britain has increased by 225,000.

Baldwin Offers "Solution."

Prime Minister Baldwin, in defending the government, said that unemployment was concentrated largely within certain sections while the country as a whole was "moderately prosperous." As a "solution" he offered the suggestion that unemployed persons be transferred either to prosperous sections and others to dominions.

Since the last week, the number of persons registered with the Ministry of Labor has been increased by almost 5,000.

Secretary of War to Visit Army in Hawaii

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Secretary of War Davis left New York today for Honolulu. It is announced that Davis is going to attend the celebration of the sesquicentennial anniversary of the discovery of the Hawaiian Islands.

It is known, however, that the real purpose of Davis' visit is to study the military forces on the islands and the preparations for war in the Pacific.

Stops enroute will be made in Chicago, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver, Colo. On the Pacific Coast, Davis will visit the naval base at San Diego, sailing for Honolulu in August.

Dead Bodies o f2 Boys Found on Train Tracks

NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 25 (UP)—The bodies of two boys, tentatively identified as those of George Buchko, 16, and Joseph Dudick, 18, of Cleveland, were found along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks south of here today.

The boys had fallen from the train or were killed as they walked along the tracks, police said after an inquiry.

Officers said they believed the boys were making their way east when they were killed.

Railroad Worker Gives Life in Saving Others

CHICAGO, July 25 (UP).—An aged railroad flagman gave his life here today in attempting to save a motor car from a crossing crash.

The flagman, Gottlieb Steek, 56, was hurled 40 feet and instantly killed by a fast freight train when he stepped into its path to warn the auto party. Disregarding his signals, the car speeded up and crossed safely.

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR

Freiheit Picnic
Saturday, July 28

Ulmer Park, Brooklyn

THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.

THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.

ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Expect Terrorism of Workers May Follow Enactment of Portuguese Repressive Measure

REVOLT SERVES AS PRETEXT FOR STRINGENT LAW

Prisoners from Revolt To Be First Victims

LISBON, Portugal, July 25.—A punitive measure which when enacted will enable the present administration to begin a systematic terror against the Portuguese working class was passed by the council of ministers yesterday.

Using as a pretext the recent armed uprising of the Seventeenth Regiment and other sections of the army cooperating with armed civilians, the council of ministers has succeeded in passing a law which will give them dictatorial powers in crushing any further disturbances in the country.

While the 240 soldier and civilian prisoners from the late revolt are to be the first to feel the stringency of the new measure, the growing discontent among the Portuguese workers is believed to have been a dominating factor in securing the passage of the measure.

Leaders among the Portuguese workers are pointing to the effectiveness with which the new measure may be used in crushing strikes and demonstrations and point out the series of arrests which have already taken place as indication of what interpretation the government will place upon the act.

POLICE ASSAULT TEXTILE PICKETS

Ruling Outlaws Mill Gate Picketing

Continued from Page One

since the big strike started April 16.

Armed with warrants, a large police squadron, under the hated Sargent McCarthy, marched to the picket line at the Sharp Mill yesterday and immediately began to arrest the Textile Workers' Union picket leaders, Augusto Pinto, Casmiero Lamleras and Maria Botelho, for parading without a permit Monday.

Workers Slugged.

When the thousands of workers including large numbers of women and children, began to shout their objections to the arrests, the police thug McCarthy led his men in a brutal head-on charge at the line of men, women and children, splitting the heads of many workers with clubs and blackjacks, and arresting eight strikers.

Manuel Pitta, chairman of the New Bedford Workers International Relief station, had a vein in his head torn open which soaked his clothing with blood before the flow was stopped.

Deeply embittered by the deliberate arrests of their strike leaders this being Pinto's eighth jailing, the workers defended themselves against the police onslaught. Sven policemen, including McCarthy, were injured in the battle.

Member of the United Textile Workers' Union on picket duty at the same time near the Sharp Mill tried to go to the aid of the T. M C. workers, but were prevented from doing so by their leaders, Riviere Sadie Reisch and Manning. Many members of the U. T. W. were bitter in their criticism of their officialdom.

Hold Mass Meeting.

After the eight strikers had been jailed, thousands of workers were led to a mass meeting on Saulniers' lot. Tremendous applause greeted the demands of Albrt eWisbord and Portuguese speakers for far greater turnouts on the picket lines next morning.

Denied Medical Aid.

Antone Ries, a striker injured by the police attack, asked for water while he was confined without medical aid in the police cell. Reply of the police official in charge to the keeper who brought this request was: "Don't give the s—— b—— anything."

The Pawn and His Master Pose Together

Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee, and John J. Raskob, democratic campaign manager, who has just made a gesture of resigning his position with the General Motors Corporation, are shown together in the picture. The choice of Raskob to manage the democratic campaign definitely revealed the Wall Street address of the democratic party and the empty gesture of resignation only emphasizes the connection.

N. C. CONVICTS SENT TO MINES

Confesses "Surrender News" Was Rumor

Continued from Page One

prison authorities.

Tenant Farmers Starve.

Free labor has been scarce for Carolina's two coal mines. Pay has been half or a third of the Jacksonville scale, and conditions are uninviting. Accidents have been too disastrous. So tenant farmers, starved off the surrounding countryside, go to the cities instead of to the mines, swelling the surplus of unemployed in the state. In the late summer of 1925 a terrible explosion killed 53 workers in the very pit where the convict-miners have been sent. The 38 widows and 79 orphans left without support had no workmen's compensation law to aid them, for North Carolina still lacks this legislation.

Prisoners are paid nothing for their labor, unless they make enough over their task at the mine to earn the small bonus offered. The state is paid for their work on a tonnage basis, says George Ross Pou, prison superintendent. North Carolina prison labor is supposed to be devoted primarily to "state use." Most of the 1,906 prisoners (only 72 are women) work on the two farms, in 16 road camps and quarries, in the concrete culvert shop, small print shop, garment, mattress and chair-caning shops, and laundry.

Surplus products of the garment and mattress shop, run by white women and a few prisoners, are sold outside by a private agency. The laundry does work for the executive management and for the Confederate Veterans' Home. Net operating profit shown by the prison for all work of the convicts was $67,898 in 1927.

Outbreaks of Prisoners.

Several "mutinous outbreaks" have occurred during the year at Caledonia prison farm. Young white convicts led the demands for shorter hours, less work and more recreation. (Prisoners are worked 10 hours or more.) The prison paper sarcastically captions its reprinted story, blaming the inmates —"Maybe They Want Valets And Evening Clothes." So-called incorrigibles and rebellious prisoners are sent to Stokedale quarry.

Whipping was announced as discarded for state prisoners several years ago. The law permits prison trustees to use the lash 24 hours after notification of disobedience, if the whipping is done in the presence of the prison doctor or chaplain. State use of the dungeon is also said to be abandoned. County convict camps have not generally followed suit. In several such camps, scandalous abuses—even killing of convicts—have brought county gang captains to court, usually without conviction after trial. Capt. Rhem at Lenoir was merely reprimanded and fined $1, last month, for cruel treatment of prisoners.

HUNDREDS VISIT SOVIET UNION

Many Tourist Groups in U. S. A.

Continued from Page One

accommodate the tourists with first class travel and hotel facilities, food and entertainment.

Next year the Soviet Travel Bureau expects to add stopovers in Crimean, Caucasian and other resorts to the regular tours. Before the war Russian resorts, some of which are open all the year round were attracting considerable numbers of visitors from various European countries and the United States. The rates at the best resort hotels and sanitariums range from $150 to $200 a month.

Tourists visiting the Soviet Union are permitted to take with them duty-free a liberal supply of clothing and other necessaries.

The companies in the United States having arrangements with the Sovtorgflot to send American tourists to the Soviet Union are the Cunard Steamship Co., the French Lines, the Amalagamated Bank World Tourists, Open Road and American-European Travel Bureau These and other organizations to be added shortly are expected to send next year to the Soviet Union about 5,000 tourists.

RED FIGHTERS REACH U.S.S.R.

LENINGRAD, U. S. S. R., July 25.—The steamer Prussia arrived here yesterday bringing a number of Red Front Fighters, who have been invited to the Soviet Union by the District Labor Council.

The Red Front Fighters will travel in the Northern Caucasus where they will recuperate after their struggles and varying periods of confinement in Germany.

CANADIAN FIRE RAGES.

WINNIPEG, July 25.—The forest fires in Northern Manitoba are still raging and the dense smoke has been blown more than 400 miles from the fires.

MADRAS RAILWAY WALK-OUT STIRE INDIA WORKERS

Solidarity Messages Sent From Bombay

MADRAS, India., July 25.—Strike of the railway workers in this city and vicinity is continuing in spite of the government's effort to force the men to return to work.

Attempts of the British authorities to break the strike by force have so far failed and leaders of the railway strikers state that such efforts will continue to fail.

Strikebreakers which the government attempted to import into the district have met the same failure Trains bearing the men have been held up and the strikebreakers hauled off the cars in spite of the efforts of the guards to protect them.

Not only the railway workers, but the entire working class population of the city, which is also one of the largest Indian textile centers, has been aroused by the present struggle.

Sympathy with the striking workers is widespread and their fight has found an echo thruout the peninsula, expressions of sympathy and solidarity having been received from Bombay and Sholapur, centers of a textile struggle which has involved thousands of Indian workers and kept scores of mills idle for months

• • •

SHANGHAI, China, July 26.—Conditions on the American freight steamship Olympia, due here tonight from Tacoma, Wash., were so bad that the crew would not endure them any longer. A radio from the captain states that the crew cannot be ruled by the customary, iron hand of ship masters.

The captain requests that a squad of police be present when the ship arrives here to place the workers under arrest. The American Vice-Consul and the United States Marshal will be present to receive the captain's "story."

ASK HOELTZ TO REST IN U.S.S.R.

Wireless to The DAILY WORKER

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 25.—A message of greetings following his release from a German jail has been sent Max Hoeltz, German Communist leader and class war prisoner, by the workers of Vyatka

The message accompanies an invitation to Hoeltz to come to Vyatka to recuperate after his long confinement in the prison.

It is believed that the invitation of the Soviet workers will be accepted by the recently-freed Communist.

1,500-FOOT FALL KILLS

TRENTO, July 24 (UP).—Francesco and Diego Nardelli, brothers, were killed when they fell over a 1,650-foot precipice while climbing Mount Catenaccio. They were university students.

Two other mountain climbers were killed in a similar fall in the Dolomiti Mountains.

FRENCH POLICE ARREST 4 MORE FOR ALFONSO

Workers Seized At Spain's Reáuest

PARIS, July 25.—Continuing their collaboration with the Spanish authorities in running down alleged participants in a plot against the life of King Alfonso, Paris police yesterday arrested four more workers at Narbonne, according to reports from that city.

The victims, three men and a woman, were seized in what is believed to be a systematic and persistent, police campaign, involving the workers of the two countries.

The police claim to have extorted from their victims the names of aids and the part the prisoners were to have played in the alleged attack on the king's life, and an extended search has begun for the individuals implicated.

House to house search was being carried on yesterday in the Paris working-class districts by the police, but had remained fruitless up to a late hour yesterday.

Meanwhile reports from Spain, reaching this city by way of Bordeaux, state that the Spanish police are carrying on extended raids throughout the country, although the severe censorship makes information from Spain extremely unreliable.

LEWIS MACHINE SPEEDS SELLOUT

Moves for Wage Slash In Illinois

CHICAGO, Ill., July 24.—A move to establish the expected lower wage scale and possibly even a sort of company union among the Illinois coal miners was seen here in the announcement that coal operators are planning on a joint conference with the Lewis-Fishwick machine to discuss wage levels and other conditions in the industry.

The decision was reached at a morning session of the operators, after which W. D. Jenkins, president of the operators' association, telephoned to Harry Fishwick, ousted Lewis Henchman, asking him to fix a conference date.

The joint meeting was made possible after Fishwick, following an eight-day meeting at Indianapolis, asked Jenkins to consider the proposition.

The operators said they were willing to meet with the miners at any timo when the mine workers would not be bound by the old Jacksonville wage scale, which was put aside at the meeting in Indianapolis, called by Lewis and his policy committee as the final act of betraying the mine workers.

PROHIBITION AGENTS FIRED.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 25 (UP)—Matthew G. Rice and Ernest Braswell, prohibition agents attached to the Elmira enforcement staff, accused of having thrown Mrs. Ruth Lathrope, a "decoy," from their automobile after she had aided them in securing evidence, were dismissed from the service today.

SHIPPING BIDS ANNOUNCED.

WASHINGTON, July 24 (UP).—Bids for the sale of the United States lines which includes the Leviathan, will be opened by the United States Shipping Board, Oct. 1, it was announced today.

Training for Future Imperialist Wars

The navy dirigible Los Angeles and the two smaller airships, shown in the picture, were phitographed during a recent trip over New York and Connecticut. The air vessels train constantly in all parts of the country for the imperialist war which the American militarists are busily preparing for.

PANAMA PUPPETS AWAIT RELEASE

U. S. Intervention Is Custom. Lawyer Says

PANAMA CITY, July 25.—Five leaders of the Porras coalition party arrested here when they called for United States intervention in the coming elections, a demand believed to be instigated by the United States, are still in prison awaiting release on habeas corpus proceedings.

The lawyers for the prisoners cite the fact that the United States intervened in the elections of 1908 1912 and 1916 and point out that it is a customary procedure and should not lead to arrest for those who ask for it.

The defendants also point out that four years ago ministers of the present cabinet went to Washington and were accorded military intervention which resulted in the present president, Chiari.

GERMANY BUILDS PLANES FOR WAR

BERLIN, July 25.—It has become a matter of public knowledge here that the Heinkel Airplane Company is building eight monster planes and making experiments for the construction of more efficient smaller planes.

The large planes will carry twelve motors designed to lift fifty tons into the air and will be three times the size of any other plane ever built. They are especially designed for trans-oceanic flights and will be able to attain a speed of 200 miles per hour, for twenty hours at a stretch, carrying a load one and one-half times its own weight.

NICARAGUA VOTE CALLED ASSURED

U. S. Choice to Win as Others Withdraw

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 25—The Conservative Party failed today to propose its candidate for president following a similar failure during the two day conference ended yesterday.

Carlos Cuadra Pasos, for some time considered as the possible candidate, has withdrawn due to the refusal of Chamorro, the Conservative leader, to support his candidacy.

Due to the fact that the Conservatives announced their intentions of refraining from voting in the coming elections if they could not choose a candidate, the field is practically left open to the "liberal" candidate Moncada.

Since the Moncada candidacy has been approved by the United States he is considered to be the United States choice, and the elections are looked upon as a farce.

NATIVES FIGHT IMPERIALISTS IN DUTCH ISLE

Clash in Sumatra Jungle Battle

SINGAPORE, July 25.—Revival of the struggle of the Sumatran natives against their Dutch overmasters was indicated here today following the announcement from Kutaradja, Sumatra, that a troop of insurgents had met and fought a Dutch brigade.

Four Sumatrans and three Dutch soldiers are reported to have been killed or wounded in the battle, including the commander of the Dutch brigade.

Report of the engagement follows rumors of growing discontent among the natives not only of Sumatra, but of Java, Celebes and other Dutch Polynesian possessions.

Following the defeat of the uprising last year, the Dutch authorities enacted a series of oppressive measures regulating the lives and labor of the natives, many of whom have taken to the jungle to elude the brutality of the officials.

SUBSCRIBE
to International Press Correspondence
and
The Communist International

First Hand Reports and Editorials on the Sixth World Congress of the Communist Internatonal

RATES:
One Year $6.00
Six Months $3.50
Single Copies ..... .10

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

Season 1928 Season 1928

Camp Kinderland

Hopewell Junction, N.Y.—Phone: Hopewell Junction 174
Under Auspices of N. Y. Non-Partisan Workers Children's Schools

Situated in the Heart of Dutchess County on Beautiful Sylvan Lake

BATHING
SWIMMING
ROWING
LECTURES
ENTERTAINMENTS
CHILDREN'S PERFORMANCES

Modern Washrooms with Hot and Cold Showers
New, Spacious and Airy Bungalows
Tents If Desired

$20 Per Week Write or Telephone Your Reservations $20 Per Week

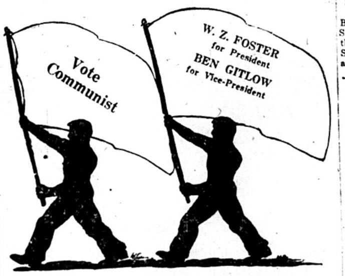
Direction: Via boat—Hudson River Day Line from Debrosses St., 42nd St. or 129th St. pier to Newburgh; ferry to Beacon; Warner Bros. Taxi to Camp Kinderland. Via train—New York Central either at 42nd St. or 125th St. Via automobile—Through Yonkers, Peekskill and Fishkill (new state road No. 9E).

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Vacation-Reading
SUGGESTIONS

LENINISM—By J. Stalin $2.50
FOUNDATIONS OF IMPERIALIST POLICY—By M. Pavlovitch 1.10
DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY—By Ognyov 2.50
HISTORY OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL—By G. M. Stekloff 3.50
ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION 2.50
MISLEADERS OF LABOR—By Wm. Z. Foster 1.25
REPORT OF THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE C. P. S. U. .... .60
ORGANIZATION OF A WORLD PARTY—By Osip Piatnitsky .... .15

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th Street, NEW YORK CITY



Order a Bundle!

Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.

Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.

Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.

$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).

Enclosed find $ .... for .... Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More

Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS

The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.

The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

Lewis Piled Up Huge Fortune While Strikers Starved, Mine Correspondent Reveals

HANdOuTS

Postmaster Peterson of Douglas, Ga., committed suicide because he went broke paying politicians to keep his job. Postmistress Esther McCollum of Conyers, Ga., told the senate investigating committee she always understood she was supposed to pay 5 per cent of her income to hold her position. Now comes G. F. Flanders, republican boss of Georgia's twelfth district, with the statement that he could sell every postmastership if he wanted to, which he didn't. He added: "I am not a grafter." He might pass for an honest man in capitalist America, but in Russia his hide wouldn't be worth ten kopeks.

* * *

Rides, at Times

Here's Dave, Prince of Wales, who has been thrown from practically every horse in the British Empire. He has gone head first into more ponds, and been dragged out of more ditches than any other one man in the history of royalty. Princes, along with snake charmers, aviators, evangelists, senators and hypnotists are used by the capitalists to put on a show for the workers to keep their minds off the odd fact that they produce everything and have nothing. The Prince of Wales wouldn't want to resist being used in this way because he makes a good living at it, it's all he knows, and he doesn't have to take in washing. He wouldn't be bright enough to resist if he wanted to. Any person who has been thrown off as many horses as the Prince of Wales and doesn't know enough to take a fast car, isn't right smart.

* * *

John O'Connell, who recently died after working 72 years for the Consolidated Gas Company, was given a small bag of gold a couple of years ago in recognition of his services. If a young worker starting out into life wishes a bag of gold that's how to get it.

In Evening Clothes

The above gentleman all dressed up in his best clothes has nowhere to go. He expected to attend the Klan demonstration in Jamaica which proved a flop when Senator Heflin, the chief mouth manipulator for the hooded order, failed to appear. The Klan is anxious to protect the interests of the workers by preventing the election of a Catholic, Al Smith, to the presidency. The Klan demands a protestant for chief slave-driver of the American nation.

Work Quits State Post For GOP Chairmanship

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 25 (UP). —The resignation of Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work has been accepted by the president, it was announced at the Summer White House today. Work resigned to take up the work of National Chairman of the Republican Party.

RELIEF IS NOW VITAL NEED OF HEROIC DIGGERS

Houses, Cows, Cars, Sold for Food

(By a Worker Correspondent)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (By Mail). —In January, 1927, Lewis' organ, the United Mine Workers' Journal, stated that the two best citizens in the United States are, first, Andrew Mellon, secretary of the U. S. treasury, and, second, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America. Mellon said no back step from the European debts and Lewis, said no back step from the Jacksonville agreement. Oh, no!

Ruin

When the delegates returned from the national convention in 1927 they reported to us that a national policy committee had been appointed by Lewis and that everything would be all right. All we had to do was to stay out until victory, should be ours. Well, we did what was asked of us. We spent every penny we had saved. Some of us had property which we mortgaged. Some had their life insurance policies turned into as much cash as they could get. Some had cows or automobiles which they sold. As a consequence of all this we were thrown out of our houses, our furniture was sold in order to pay the rent.

We have been hungry because we sacrificed practically everything and in order not to take a back step we did not return. After a period of 16 months our dear President Lewis calls his hand-picked so-called policy committee and abolishes the Jacksonville scale and tells us to go to work for whatever we can get. If that is not one of the greatest treacheries in the labor history of the United States, I do not know what is.

Lewis' Pile

Lewis made a fortune during this strike relatively as large as the one Morgan and others made out of the last World War. Many locals were expelled and their charters revoked for no other reason than that Lewis wished to pocket more money for himself and his henchmen, although these locals deserved to remain in the union. A statement of finances was issued and we found that the international treasury received $24,104,000. But we strikers did not see more than $2,000,000. Where is the rest of the money?

When we sent a committee to Pittsburgh to see P. T. Egan, president of District 5, to give us some relief because we cannot live on $1 per man, 25 cents per woman and 20 cents per child, P. T. Egan told our committee that they had no money, and that they had not been notified by the international that the hard coal miners had not paid any assessments and that they could do nothing to pay anyone anything more.

Finds Out Facts

When we were not able to stand such living any longer, a few locals decided to send me to District 1, to the hard coal district, to raise some funds for us starving miners and our families. When I arrived I found, to my surprise, that the brothers in the hard coal have been paying their assessments, some of them for ten months consecutively. They also said that they pay $2 per month each for assessments. And that is the truth.

We figured the entire thing out and found that hard coal miners had already paid Thomas Kennedy $2,844,000; the Illinois miners paid from October 1, 1927, to April 1, 1928, the amount of $960,000; the American Federation of Labor from November, 1927, until July, 1928, $1 per month for 2,600,000 members, paid the United Mine Workers' treasury the sum of $20,800,000. The grand total is $24,104,000.

Many Officials

Everybody should learn what has been done with all that money. Part of it went to the striking miners, part to keep up the offices of Districts 2, 3, 6, 11, 12, 14, 17 and 29, for salaries of officials who are in much greater quantities now than ever before in the history of the United Mine Workers, especially in District 5, where there are 31 international organizers, all receiving $11 per day, plus expenses.

Do not be frightened, my dear brothers of the hard coal fields, your assessments have been "well taken care of." But we soft coal strikers have to go hungry and naked. We appeal to you hard coal workers to please help us in our great need. If you give us enough bread and coffee we will not go back to work, but will stay out until a successful finish. Remember that the Jacksonville scale has been abolished and that relief has been cut off from the Lewis clique, and send everything you can to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Pennsylvania Ave., Pittsburgh.

SOFT COAL BEGGAR.

Young Fighters for Workers' Cause

The Young Pioneers are not only the future fighters in the class struggle, but they are doing their share now in winning over to the side of the revolution the working class children. Above is a group of girl Pioneers at a picnic held by the Cleveland International Labor Defense. (Photo by George Elson, Cleveland.)

SOVIET SKIES BEAM AN EARLY DAWN

By SOL AUERBACH.

SLOWLY the International Express pulls out of Stolpce, the Polish border town. Cross-tie by cross-tie it creeps towards the border of the U. S. S. R., seemingly afraid to make the plunge into the land of the Workers' and Peasants' Soviets Thru the meagerly plowed land of the Polish peasant, kept in bondage by the rule of the Pilsudski fascists. Carefully it feels its way, guarded by the bayonets of Polish soldiers

The ride is endless and impatience gnaws at one's throat. Two hours more to the border and then another two hours to Nigorelye, the Russian border town. On the platform of our coach stands the commander of the Polish guard. His uniform is immaculate, decorated with medals displaying the important looking officer's braid coiled about the shoulder. He smokes cigarettes and looks into the distance. "The Devil!" he mutters in French.

Football in America.

He is one of the many Frenchmen who officer the Polish Army, financed by French gold. I strike up a conversation with him in French As soon as he learns that we come from America he takes it for granted that we are football players

"But why the deuce do you want to go to Russia?" he wants to know and then answers his own question: "Ah, I see—to play football."

"But tell me, Mr. Officer," I ask "What are you doing here on the Russian border, so far away from France?"

He smiles in a superior fashion, as one smiles at the silly question of a child.

"Ah, I see, that you in America don't know what's going on here. Those rotten Bolsheviks over there on the other side of the border have thrown their country into ruin and havoc. We are here to prevent those brutes from coming into Europe Our task is important—we are protecting Western civilization."

A Superior Intelligence.

This is certainly a naive specimen! The European militarists have done their work well and placed their most refined products in a strategic position.

"But what have you got against the people of the Soviet Union?" I ask him.

"Listen to me. They don't know what's good for them. They allow the Bolsheviks to do as they please Next year we are going into that country and change the government for them. They'll welcome us with open arms."

I LEAVE the imperialist ignoramus to watch the landscape and to imagine himself enthroned in the Kremlin, and join my companions who are on the lookout for the Soviet Star. It is already dark. But in the direction of the U.S.S.R. there is a gentle light in the sky which gradually grows brighter and throws everything into half light. It is the early dawn! The light sweeps up from the Soviet horizon, crushing mountains of darkness before it as it comes to take possession of Europe. The darkness recedes before the marching dawn, like a barrier giving way before the impetus of masses. Columns of light-brigades swarm over the sky, in massed formation to conquer the European night. They seem to be led by a group of three—the soldier, the peasant and the worker covered with the crimson reflection of their flag. This is a mirage thrown into the sky from the U.S.S.R., overshadowing Europe like a storm cloud. We are traveling towards these brigades of hope, towards the Fatherland of the Proletariat, towards the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics!

The train almost comes to a standstill. We rumble slowly over a small wooden bridge. In the half light we can make out two grey clad figures carrying guns, one on each side of the stream. The one on the left is a Polish sentinel. The one on the right. . . .

"Russkii, Russkii?" we shout at him.

"Da, da," he answers, waving his arm to us.

We are in the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics!

A few paces from the Soviet sentinel there stands an archway, marking the border line. In the light of the early dawn two legions are visible:

"Workers of The World Unite!"

"Communism Sweeps Away All Borders!"

Splendid Clubs For Workers of U. S. S. R.

MOSCOW, July 25 (ES).—The railroad workers club, "Kuhmisterov," now ten years old, has 5,000 members, 2,000 club circles, reading rooms and a library of 60,000 volumes. The main hall of the club seats more than 2,000 persons. The club is visited by many foreign workers.

Take the

DAILY WORKER

With You on Your

Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $2

Enclosed find $..........

for ..... months / weeks subscription

to The DAILY WORKER.

Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

TO ALL OUR READERS:

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS

Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.

Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....

Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

PHILA. OFFICIALS FORCED TO JAIL 2 CORRUPT JUDGES

Bribes, Extortion All in Day's "Work"

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, (By Mail).—Corruption of the judiciary, particularly the judges, known locally as magistrates, has reached such a degree that it has become necessary for the "higher" officials of the system to take cognizance of conditions and make an effort to do something.

Even if Diogenes were living at present in Philadelphia, he'd have to use the most powerful searchlight ever built to find anyone among these officials who is even remotely "pure," let us say cream-colored instead of white, yet only two magistrates have thus far been singled out for trial.

Judges Brought to "Justice."

These magistrates are Joseph Perri and Robert Patton. Indictments were also returned and used against Samuel Wonsosky, a professional hanger-on at the courts. Patton and Rubenstein are out on $10,000 bail apiece, and Perri and Wonsonsky are at liberty on $5,000 bail each.

The indictments cover 210 pages and are so numerous that the total is unknown.

The indictments against the judges, prepared by the district attorney and alleging misdemeanor in office, include taking fraudulent bail unlawful release of prisoners, neglecting to administer oaths to bondsmen, extortion, bribery and conspiracy.

Many of the cases of bribery and extortion were practised against poor workers, usually arrested for some minor offense and mulcted by the "judges" who took advantage of their lack of legal knowledge.

Bribery and Extortion.

This condition is general today in Philadelphia, and it should not be supposed by any worker that merely because two out of many judges are to be tried on these charges that this condition will end Not at all, for bribry and extortion are a part of the system.

But every worker should remember that he has it in his power to change conditions and that this can be accomplished by the organization of the workers into unions and by the organization of a strong Workers (Communist) Party to which every class-conscious worker should belong, work and vote for.

—C. RABIN.

DAILY WORKER

ANNUAL PICNIC

SUNDAY, AUGUST 19

10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT

PLEASANT BAY PARK

ADMISSION 35 CENTS

10 Days
MOSCOW—LENINGRAD
Free Visés
(Extensions Arranged for to Visit Any Part of U. S. S. R.)

TOURS TO SOVIET RUSSIA

COMPLETE TOUR
$450.
AND UP

SAILINGS:
S. S. "ROTTERDAM" — Aug. 4
S. S. "PARIS" — — — — — Aug. 10

Via: LONDON — COPENHAGEN — HELSINGFORS
Return: WARSAW — BERLIN — PARIS

World Tourists, Inc.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY
Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

Eight New Plays Scheduled by H. Harris for Coming Season

EIGHT new productions are listed by Sam H. Harris the present season, according to announcement sent out by his office.

Jeanne Eagels will be starred in one of the new plays, says Harris, despite the fact that Equity has banned the appearance of this actress this and next season. A committee from Equity is again considering her case.

Other stars who will be seen under the Harris banner are the Marx Brothers George Jessel John Halliday Helen Menken and Jack Dempsey and his wife Estelle Taylor.

Estelle Taylor

The Jack Dempsey-Estelle piece, called "The Big Fight," will have its premiere at the Majestic Theatre on Sept. 17. "The Big Fight," a melodrama dealing with the prize ring by Milton Herbert Gropper and Max Marchin, will be staged by David Belasco. Associated with Harris in the presentation will be Belasco and Albert Lewis.

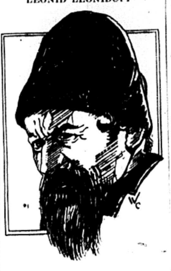
The Marx Brothers' attraction, entitled "Animal Crackers," is scheduled to open on Sept. 24 at a theatre yet to be announced. "Animal Crackers" is described as a "musical bouffe," and is the work of George S. Kaufman and Morrie Ryskind. Harry Ruby and Bert Kalmar will supply the score and lyrics.

Jessel will be seen in a play by Bella Cohen, Samuel Spewack and himself. After an out-of-town opening on Labor Day, Jessel's production will come to New York late in September.

Helen Menken will be starred in "Congai," adapted by Harry Hervey and Carleton Hildreth from Hervey's novel, "Congai," and will be presented early in October in Philadelphia. John Halliday has been engaged by the producer for a comedy, tentatively called "Women." The authors are Edith and Edward Ellis and their play will have its out-of-town opning in Philadelphia on Sept. 10. Harris will sponsor "Women" in association with Lewis

Other plays will include "The Autumn Violin" and "Dont Count Your Chickens." The former is described as an "idyllio drama" from the Russian, which has been translated by Isadore Fried and adapted for the American stage by Eugene Leontovich and Elizabeth Serber Fried. "Dont Count Your Chickens," by Edith Fitzgerald and Robert Riskin, was tried out early this year with Mary Boland in the chief part. Rouben Mamoulian, who staged "Porgy" and "Marco Millions," will direct several of the aforementioned plays.

LEONID LEONIDOFF



In the role of the mad Czar which he plays with perfection in "Czar Ivan the Terrible." The Sovkino film will return to the Cameo Theatre this Saturday, showing in connection with the other Soviet masterpiece, "Potemkin."

Chicago Workers Plan Big Drive for Miners

CHICAGO, July 25.—The Chicago headquarters for the great Miners' Relief and Defense drive from July 29 to August 5 announce intensive preparation to mobilize the entire progressive labor movement for a factory and house to house collection to feed, clothe and defend from cossack persecution the fighting miners of this country and their families.

The branches of the International Labor Defense are working to put over this great campaign and are callinb special mobilization meetings of their membership. Committees of women workers have also been formed for the purpose of making the work a success.

Stations have been established at the following places:

West Side: 23 S. Lincoln St.; 3301 W. Roosevelt Rd., Freiheit; 1510 W. 18th St., Rovnost Ludu; 1823 S. Loomis St., Radnik.

Northwest Side: 2021 W. Davidson St., 2736 W. Davidson St.

North Side: 2409 N. Halstead St., Imperial Hall; 453 W. North Ave., Hungaria nHall.

Albany Park: 4021 N. Drake Ave

Cicero: 5100 W. 23rd St.

Maywood: 4210 S. 9th St.

South Side: 3116 S. Halsted St. Vilnis; 3035 W. 51st St., Workers' Home; 3201 S. Wabash Ave., Community House.

Woodlawn: 547 1. 61st St.

Pullman: 2954 E. 94th St.

Workers will be sent out from these stations into surrounding territory with boxes and collection lists.

The Joint Committee asks all workers who have an ytime to spare to call at 23 S. Lincoln St., for assignment of work.

STATE WELFARE WIZARD REALLY WAS DETECTIVE

"Service Club" Was His Game

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Last winter a fellow by the name of Dalton operated a club known as the Dalton Service League, at 113 E. 14th Street.

Recently I heard a fellow who knows Dalton well. He said that he Dalton was an agent of the Burns detective agency.

Any one can clearly see the aims of an organization which has an agent of the aforementioned strikebreaking outfit.

Keep away from Dalton and his kind.

Have nothing to do with their "service clubs" or "welfare clubs."

—MAIN.

WAYMEN WIN INCREASE.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Maintenance of way workers on the New Orleans Northwestern, N. O. G. N., C. N. O & T. P. and A. G. S railroads have won an increase in wages, it is reported. There increases follow on the winning of wage increases by the workers on the Southern railroad companies.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT"

FLIGHT ABANDONED.

PARIS, July 25.—The ministry of the marine announced today that the round the world fight of the French seaplane Frigate will be abandoned due to engine trouble.

Read This First!

1. We say "read this first," because this requires action!
2. This is the big week. Every man, woman and child in sympathy with the struggling coal miners will co-operate fully in our National Miners' Relief and Defense Week.
3. Every subscriber of this paper must take the contribution list sent him and collect funds in shop and factory, in union and lodge, from friends and neighbors.
4. Every subscriber of this paper must register with the National Miners' Relief Secretary or the International Labor Defense Secretary of his city at once, and take part in the big house-to-house collections on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29.
5. If you have not received a contribution list for this special drive for funds then write us this minute and we will send you one by special delivery mail. Everybody must help just a little more at this most critical period.

If the Coal Miners and Their Families Ever Needed Assistance—

They Need It Now!

National Miners' Relief and Defense Week

Conducted Jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee, International Labor Defense

Address all mail and make all remittances to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Penna.

Staten Island Shipbuilding Strikers Determined to Fight Wage Slash to End

WORKERS FORM COMMITTEE TO BUILD A UNION

Unorganized, Enter 5th Day of Fight

(By a Shipworker Correspondent)

The workers of the Staten Island Shipbuilding Company, for the most part unorganized and entering on the fifth day of their strike against a wage cut, held a meeting this afternoon at the corner of Railroad and Stuyvesant Avenue at which there was a large and enthusiastic turnout.

The strikers expressed their determination not to go back to work under the new wage scale which has been slashed, and demanded the wage scale inforced before March 15. The spirit at the meeting was high and the strikers pledged themselves to stick together.

Deceive Workers.

According to the promise of the company, the new wage scale was intended to apply only to workers employed after March 15, but the company has used it as a means to reduce the wages of the old workers. When a worker does not report at his job for three days, (illness is no excuse); he is re-hired as a new man on the reduced wage scale.

Drastic cuts were made in the wages of the workers of all departments. Iron workers were cut from 83 cents per hour to 72 cents; carpenters from 90 cents per hour to 80 cents and overtime was reduced from double and a half to double.

The treachery of the company bosses in thus fooling the employees has angered the workers. The walkout of the iron workers on last Friday was almost immediately followed by a walkout of all departments. The 650 men employed in the plant are almost all out on strike and refuse to return to work until their demands are granted.

Picket Regularly.

The strikers picket the plant regularly bearing signs calling upon the few workers still employed to join the strike. Mornings and evenings a caravan of automobiles display signs informing the men looking for work that the plant is on strike.

The strikers feel the need for a strong union and realize that it is necessary to organize in order to win the strike and to prevent any such company action in the future. The sentiment among the strikers is strong for the formation of a shop committee, which they realize is the only means to safeguard their interests and fight the bosses.

The company has tried to bulldoze the workers back into the plant by telling them that the ships will be taken off the drydocks and transported to Newport News. But the workers only laugh at the crude methods of the bosses because they know that the ships still need thousands of rivets and that they cannot be put out into the water.

ASK 4 MILITANT MINERS BE FREED

Delegation to Visit Illinois Governor

Petitions and resolutions from the coal miners in Southern Illinois and labor organizations throughout the state of Illinois demanding the release of Henry Corbishley, Steve Mesnovich, Ignatz Simich and Eddie Moleski from imprisonment, are pouring in upon Governor Small. These four militant miners were framed and imprisoned on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder, as a result of a fight which occurred at a meeting of Local 992, United Mine Workers of America. The ones who incited the riot, it has been established, were two reactionary union officials, Cobb and Fox, henchmen of the corrupt Lewis and Farrington machines. Corbishley and the others convicted were active supporters of the Save-the-Union movement in the U. M. W. A. and today are supporters of the movement to build a new National Miners' Union.

The coal operators, the reactionary U. M. W. A. officialdom, Fishwick, Fox and others, however, together with the courts, and through lying witnesses, intimidation, etc., got these militants convicted, according to the International Labor Defense.

According to reports received by the national office of the I. L. D., at 80 E. 11th St., New York, which defended the militant Zeigler miners, a delegation of trade unionists, liberals and prominent individuals will shortly visit Governor Small with a demand for the release of Corbishley and the other three miners.

The I. L. D. calls upon the workers everywhere to intensify their activities for these men. Corbishley, Mesnovich and Simich are imprisoned in Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard, Illinois, and Moleski at the Illinois state reformatory at Pontiac, Ill., since December,

YANKS LOSE 2 GAMES; GIANT BEAT PIRATES

(By United Press)

Four double-headers in the American League found the New York Yankees in the unusual position of losing two games in one day. Detroit beat them, 3 to 2 and 10 to 7. Both Pipgras and Stoner were taken out in the eighth inning of the first game. Johnson, Thomas and Campbell failed to halt the Tigers in the second game.

Philadelphia pounded four Chicago pitchers for 19 hits to take the first game of a double-header, 16 to 0. Ehmke gave the White Sox only six hits. The Athletics continued to hit hard in the second game and won again, 8 to 7.

• • •

The New York Giants continued their comeback Wednesday after a disastrous series with the Chicago Cubs and defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5. Walker and Genewich gave the Pirates eight hits. The Giants hit Hill hard.

Jumbo Elliott pitched a careful game for Brooklyn, enabling the Dodgers to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8 to 1. Errors behind Frankhouse and Reinhart hurt the Cards.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

American League.

Detroit, 3; New York, 2 (1st).
Detroit, 10; New York, 7 (2nd).
Philadelphia, 16; Chicago 0 (1st).
Philadelphia, 8; Chicago, 7 (2nd).
Cleveland, 10; Boston, 2 (1st).
Cleveland, 15; Boston, 5 (2nd).
St. Louis, 12; Washington 8 (1st).
St. Louis, 6; Washington, 5 (2nd).

National League

New York, 6; Pittsburgh, 5.
Brooklyn, 8; St. Louis, 1.
Boston, 3; Chicago, 1.
Cincinnati 16; Phila., 1 (1st).
Phila., 7; Cincinnati, 6 (2nd).

DEMPSEY TO BE HEENEY'S SECOND

(By United Press)

Jack Dempsey probably will be Tom Heeney's cheif second when the New Zealander meets Gene Tunney for the heavyweight championship at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

TILDEN REINSTATED IN "AMATEUR" SPORTS COMEDY

PARIS, July 25 (UP).—William T. Tilden today received a cablegram from American tennis authorities saying that he had been reinstated as a member of the United States Davis Cup tennis team for the challenge round against the French cupholders.

• • •

The reinstatement of William T. Tilden, premier American tennis player, as a member of the United States Davis Cup team, rounds out another scene in the comedy called "American Amateur Sports."

Tilden was supposedly dropped for violating the amateur rule that a player must not write newspaper articles about a tournament in which he is appearing. He mal write articles about other tournaments, corral the cash, and still remain an "amateur." The reason for the change of front by American tennis authorities has not been dissolved. bue even so-called amateur rules must not be allowed to stand in the way of winning a tournament.

DECIDE ON SYSTEM OF OLYMPIC SCORING

AMSTERDAM, July 5 (UP).—American newspaper correspondents today agreed upon the following unofficial system of scoring points in next week's sixth Olympic games: First, place, 10 points; second, 5; third, 4; fourth, 3; fifth, 2; sixth, 1. Europeans, it is understood, have agreed to use 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1 points for the first six places.

REDUCES RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYED

Discriminate Against Girls In England

LONDON, July 24 (ES).—In spite of the fact that conditions are becoming worse and that it is becoming more impossible for a young worker to find employment, the government has announced a reduction of unemployment relief for the young workers.

At present, unemployed young workers receive 17 shillings per week ($4.00), on which they are expected to live. The new rate for young workers is 10 shillings for boys of 18 ($2.40 per week), 8 shillings for girls ($1.90); for 19 years of age, 12 shillings for boys and 10 shillings for girls; and for 20, boys 17 and girls 12 shillings per week.

No explanation for the lower rate for girls is made.

If the reduction of unemployment relief is continued, the young workers fear that they will find themselves in the situation of American youth, where no relief of any kind is given the unemployed.

INSURANCE PLAN SHOWN AS FRAUD

General Motors Will Profit

Continued from Page One

The labor turnover in the General Motors Company is said to be between 10 and 12 per cent per year. This means that an almost completely new force is taken in about every eight or nine years.

In other words, practically speaking, little insurance payments will actually be made, since the workers will have left, but the Morgan firm will actually rake in a huge profit for the transaction.

Only those workers who die within a few years of their employment by the concern will derive any "benefit," for, according to the average, they will have left the firm and have lost their insurance after about eight years.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which issues the insurance, is likewise a Morgan-controlled concern. Its vice-president, Frederick H. Ecker, who was intrumental in putting over the scheme, is active in the traction and power gang which operates in New York State. He is a director of both the Interborough and the B.-M. T. railroads.

Daily Worker, Freiheit Picnic in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 25.—The biggest affair of the season the Daily Worker and Freiheit Carnival, will be held at Maple Grove Park on August 26. Speeches sports events, dancing and musical entertainment will, together with the refreshments, make up the program.

Later announcements will disclose the definite plans that the members of the arrangement committee have been preparing for the last two months.

FURRIERS DRIVE GUNMEN AWAY

Sorkin Bloc in Cooper Union Meet Tonight

The maneuver of sending hired thugs into the fur market to intimidate the fur workers, used as a last resort to bolster up the collapsing structure of of the Joint Council, A. F. of L. company union, met its Waterloo yesterday afternoon when the furriers revolted and drove a squad of gangsters out of the "market."

Teach Right Wing a Lesson.

In a free-for-all battle, which the furriers decided to make conclusive despite the squad of police and reserves, who were attempting to halt it, the squad of right wing hirelings were taught that the workers will defend themselves against any attempt to browbeat them into submission to the thug and boss ruled Council.

Nat Yacker, who has an odorous reputation among the furriers, leading a gang of cutthroats, strutted up to 30th St. and Sixth Ave., where the workers gather for dinner hour, and with bludgeons, began to assault those too militant in their denunciation of the McGrady-Stetsky clique, who with the bosses have destroyed the former good working standards in the trade.

Drubbing Effective.

The week-old voyages of the gangster squad thru the market suddenly hit a reef when in yesterday's adventure, the workers turned on them and drubbed them out of all ambition to continue their campaign of organized terror.

When the police arrived they began to arrest the workers, most of whom were members of the Joint Board. It was only after the determined protests of the workers that the police were forced to take into custody two of the gangsters. They are Glassman and a hireling strange to the fur district called "Phinney."

Sadie Mondell and Celia Rabinowitz were the two women out of the four workers arrested. Meyer Fineman and Mark Boeurum were the men. Three of these were charged with disorderly conduct when arraigned in Jefferson Market Court later. Fineman, it was learned, was chosen by the thugs as a victim in a frame-up attempt. They are pressing felonious assault charges against him. Bonds of $500 were put up by the Joint Board for the appearance of the first three. Increased bail, the amount not yet learned, was demanded by the judge for Fineman.

• • •

Progressive Bloc To Meet.

The Progressive Bloc of the Joint Council, a section of right wingers whose leaders were recently suspended because they began an open fight for the reestablishment of one union, are to hold a mass meeting in Cooper Union tonight immediately after work.

According to the expressed sentiments of the masses of workers in the market for the past few days, the meeting will be crowded.

GITLOW EXPOSES CORRUPTION ROLE OF BOTH PARTIES

Urges Workers to Vote Communist

That the money lords of the United States, the open shop manufacturers, and the labor-hating capitalist class in general are brazenly proceeding with their intention to corrupt the American voting masses on a scale never equalled before, is the comment made by Benjamin Gitlow, Communist vice presidential candidate on the Workers (Communist) Party ticket, who served a term of three years in New York penitentiaries for violation of the criminal anarchy law of the state.

Gitlow, a former assemblyman, made the statement after reading a Washington dispatch in one of the New York dailies which stated that the cost of this year's campaign to the two capitalist parties would be $10,000,000.

Gitlow's Statement.

Gitlow's statement reads:

"Despite slush fund investigations held after the result of the 1926 senatorial elections showed that the elections of Senators Vare in Pennsylvania and Smith in Illinois were brought about by the use of enormous sums of money expended for the purpose of purchasing politicians and corrupting voters, both capitalist parties are setting about the task of raising the largest campaign funds in the history of American presidential election campaigns. It is significant that Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the senatorial slush fund investigation, was ignominiously defeated for the presidential nomination at the Houston convention of the democratic party.

"A Washington dispatch dated July 22, that appeared in one of the New York dailies of Monday the 23rd, declares that the cost of the campaign to both parties and their auxiliaries will be $10,000,000 this year.

"This enormous sum of money will be used to blind the workers and poor farmers to their own real interests by means of poisonous propaganda in the capitalist press, from the pulpit, the radio, and the motion pictures.

"It will be used to purchase venal politicians and blocks of votes on election day.

"It will be used by the democratic and republican parties to hire gangsters in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, and other large cities, who will see to it that the unterrified American voter will vote as he is told at peril of his life. This is what this tremendous corruption fund is intended for.

"The use of such enormous sums of money to debauch the elections is typical of the corruption that is indigenous to the capitalist system—a system that exploits the workers and poor farmers for the benefit of a parasite class.

Wall Street Controls Both Parties.

"Both capitalist parties are now controlled by Wall Street, and there is no fundamental difference between the platforms of the two parties or between the economic interests that are supporting both.

"The giant automobile industry has divided over the two parties. The two great rivals, the Ford Motor Company and General Motors, have taken under their wings one of the two Wall Street presidential candidates—Ford becoming fairy godfather for Hoover and General Motors, thru its man Raskob, becoming the angel of Al Smith.

"Both the Ford and Raskob organizations are among the most bitter enemies of organized labor in the United States. Both of them are protagonists of the open shop. Both of them believe that one of the chief functions of government is to break strikes.

"The workers and poor farmers cannot expect help from either of these two parties—the Gold Dust twins of Wall Street.

"The only party in this election campaign that stands for the real interests of the workers is the Workers (Communist) Party, whose candidates have a long record of struggle in behalf of the workers, whose platform calls for the organization of the workers in their own behalf to fight the mighty power of Wall Street, to organize the workers in the mining, automobile, textile, and rubber industries into powerful militant industrial unions, and to eventually take over the reigns of government and build a government that will serve the interests of those who labor and not those who live on the labor of others—a Workers' and Farmers' Government.

"The Workers (Communist) Party, that represents the interests of millions of wage-earners and exploited farmers, persecuted Negroes, and the colonial slaves of Wall St., is raising a fund of $100,000 to carry the message of Communism to every corner of the United States.

"The Workers (Communist) Party calls on the industrial and agricultural workers to support the Communist candidates and contribute their dollars to help emancipate themselves from the system of wage slavery represented by Ford, Raskob, and the other multi-millionaire and millionaire open shoppers who are supporting the candidacies of Hoover and Smith."

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Scandinavians To Hold Sports Meet.

Scandinavian Workers' Athletic Club will hold a festival in Ulmer Park, Brooklyn, July 29. Among the features will be two soccer games, one between the Swedish S. C. and the Norwegian team Klippen; another between Scandinavian Workers A. C. and Hungarian Workers A. C.

• • •

Tomorrow the Bronx Hungarian Workers' Club will unveil the first Lenin corner in the United States at 753 E. Tremont Ave., Bronx. Workers of New York are asked to be present at this reception. A good Hungarian and English program will be given.

• • •

Working Women's Council.

The regular meeting of the Central Body of the United Council of Working Women will be held this evening, July 26th, at the Workers' Center, 6th floor, Room 3, at 8:30 p. m.

• • •

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

• • •

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

• • •

I. L. D. Open Air Meet.

The Sacco-Vanzetti branch of the International Labor Defense will hold an open air meeting at Wilkins and Intervale Aves., the Bronx, on Friday at 8:30 p. m. The speakers, I. Zimmerman and S. LeRoy will discuss "Capitalist Justice in the United States," emphasizing the Mooney-Billings case.

INVENTS NEW FILM PROCESS

BERLIN, July 25 (UP).—The newspaper Zeitung Am Mittag reported today that an unnamed Berlin engineer had invented a process for manufacturing camera films from paper. It is claimed that the film possesses the same sensitiveness to light as a celluloid film and that it costs much less and is fireproof.

USSR SENDS 3RD ICE-BREAKER TO SEEK LOST MEN

Chukhnovsky Saw 3 Figures on Floe

Continued from Page One

below the North Pole—a space in which the waterways now are filled with great chunks of broken ice. These 12 men include the Alessandrini group—the six men who floated away with the envelope of the polar craft—and the Roald Amundsen rescue party.

The Italian government has requested the Soviet relief committee to continue searches for the Alessandini group and has offered to place two Italian seaplanes at the disposal of the Soviet committee. The Naval Scientific Institute has applied for permission to send their ship, Persey, to Franz Joseph Land to search for Roald Amundsen's party. The society believes Amundsen's plane landed near Spitzbergen.

The ice breakers Krassin and Maligin now are at northern ports being refueled and the Krassin is undergoing repairs on her prow. Both probably will proceed back into the north next month on a search for the 12 men now lost. Both will carry aviators who will make reconnoitering flights, Chukhnovsky being on the Krassin and Babushkin on the Maligin.

MINERS' LEADERS ANNOUNCE PLANS

Stop Paying Dues to Lewis Machine

Continued from Page One

the labor press; the coming national convention, problems of the various districts, the Coal Digger and continued support for relief and defense for the thousands of victimized miners.

How complete the wrecking crew has accomplished its work was brought out in the discussion.

Freeman Thompson from Illinois gave a graphic picture of the mine workers' union in the past and at present in a number of districts. "In Wyoming, for example," he said, "the miners work three shifts in 24 hours. Oklahoma in 1922 was 100 per cent organized. Today the union is wiped out, the miners work under the 1917 scale, similar conditions exist in practically all the southwestern states. Kansas miners are working for whatever scale the operators will pay. Western Kentucky had 25,000 members in 1922, now there are scarcely any. Eastern Kentucky had 216 local unions, the last report issued by John L. Lewis claimed only 15 and by now they have been practically wiped out."

Party Activities

Section 7 Drive.

The concentration week of the signature drive of Section 7 to place the names of the Workers (Communist) Party candidates on the ballot in New York State will begin on Sunday and last throughout the week until the following Sunday. All functionaries are especially instructed to lead this drive by reporting at the headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn, at 10 a. m. The section executive committee is at present preparing a prize award for the member who succeeds in collecting the greatest amount of signatures. Members of Section 2 and 3 are also instructed to report at the Section 7 headquarters.

• • •

Section 7 Meeting.

The campaign committee of Section 7 will meet today at 8 p. m. at campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn. All chairmen of committees representing organizations in the campaign should not fail to attend.

• • •

International Branch 1.

International Branch 1 will hold an educational meeting today at 7.30 p. m. at 60 St. Marks Place, N. Y. All members are urged to be present.

• • •

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign and to place themselves in good standing. Section and unit executives are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

• • •

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

• • •

Speakers Class, Section 1.

The speakers class of Section 1 will meet today at 6 p. m. at 60 St. Marks Place. All those who have registered for the class are asked to appear on time.

• • •

Note For Literature Agents.

The National Party platform is out. All section literature agents are urged to procure bundles of them at the Workers Book Shop, 26-28 Union Square. Additional copies of the "Communist" for July are also available.

• • •

Subsection 3E.

Subsection 3E will hold a membership meeting on Tuesday, 6:15 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All members must come on time, because action will be taken against members who fail to answer at the roll call.

URGE MASSES TO RALLY TO FIGHT ON ALL REACTION

Peasants' League Tells Demands

Continued from Page One

all church property and the utilization of these properties for schools and hospitals. It emphatically demands the arrest of all officials of the Knights of Columbus.

Besides the support being given the Calles government by the labor and peasant forces, the governors of several provinces are understood to be backing the president.

"El Machete," the official organ of the Mexican Communist Party, has voluntarily suspended publication for a week in solidarity with the printers strike called by the Crom. (Mexican Federation of Labor).

• • •

Clergy Returning to Power

MEXICO CITY, July 25.—The "confession" of Jose De Leon Toral, assassin of General Obregon, reveals the success of the alliance between the church hierarchy and the landowners of the "Agrarians" in using the religious inspired murder to restore the Catholic clergy to power and as a pretext for persecution of the Mexican workers.

Frame-Up Against "Laborites."

Toral, in his "confession" as given out by the authorities today, is quoted as saying that his "religious feelings" were played upon by "Manuel Trejo," a mysterious person who is reported to have gone to the United States. If "Trejo" is an actual person, it is probable that he is a member of the "Labor" party and a victim of the frame-up, with the purpose of charging that the labor unions are responsible for the assassination.

Toral May Not Be Executed

No announcement of the date of Toral's trial has been made. The Catholic Church is trying to save him, and the announcement of the "Agrarians" that they do not seek his execution indicates that Toral may be released or at least his life spared in return for his valuable services to the reactionary forces.

Special Membership Meeting

United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.

FRIDAY, JULY 27th, 8:30 Sharp

Hunts Point Palace

163rd St. and Southern Blvd., Bronx

Every Member Must Attend This Meeting

Board of Directors, U. W. C. A.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8443

РУССКИИ ЗУБНОИ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

CARPENTERS' UNION
LOCAL 2090
Meets every Thursday, 8 P. M., at Labor Temple, 243 East 84th St. Office and headquarters are in the Labor Temple.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational Vegetarian Restaurant
19. SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

RADICAL HOME WANTED
I am looking for a home for a ten-weeks-old baby with some radical people who will take good care of it. I want to board the baby out.
Apply to Morris Baer, in care of Richman, 12-14 East 107th St.

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 187 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION
Co-operative Workers
Camp Nitgedaiget
Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731

MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.

A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.

Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.

REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:
OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900.
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)
Rates: $17.00 Per Week
TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR.
BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor....ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor....WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Workers!
For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!

Counter-Revolution in Mexico

Dwight W. Morrow is well launched in the role of hangman of Mexico. This partner of the classic imperialist banking house of Wall Street went to Mexico in order by intrigue to prepare the way for the conquest and occupation of Mexico by the United States.

From the moment of the arrival of Morrow, who combined in his one person the function of representative of the United States government with the function of representative of the financiers investing in Mexican exploitation, the affairs of Mexico have moved rapidly toward direct control of that country from New York City.

Morrow went to conquer what was called "Bolshevism" in Mexico. That is, to conquer anything that interfered with the seizure of Mexican resources, oil lands, mining rights, etc., and with the super-exploitation of Mexican workers and peasants by the Wall Street finance-capitalists who sent him. With almost unlimited power of reward and punishment in his hands, Morrow made long strides toward his goal. Both the Calles government and the prospective government of Obregon were already eating out of the hand of Morgan's ambassador at the time of the assassination of Obregon by a religious fanatic.

It had long been openly stated in the press that Morrow, among other things, was working for a reconciliation of the Mexican government with the church. In this he was at the [illegible] of success. Certainly churches are not instruments of workers' and peasants' revolutions, and equally, the imperialists valued the church as an ally for the demoralization and control of the weaker elements of the peasantry. Boasts of the success of Morrow in forcing Obregon to ally himself with the clergy against the masses of Mexico, compelled Obregon to make what was considered a partial but ambiguous denial. His assassination followed almost immediately at the hands of more or less "wild" elements of the clerical party. The religious fanatic was an instrument of the clergy, and certainly not an instrument of the anti-clerical movement as the capitalist press now pretends. The assassin only put into action what had been repeatedly threatened by countless pronouncements of the clerical spokesmen in the United States and Mexico. It may be that the subornation of Obregon by Morrow had already reached the success which would have made the president-elect acceptable to Morrow as Wall Street's policeman over Mexico; but his assassination nevertheless was a direct and clear result of the clerical-landlord movement and in revenge for the executions of priests and others involved in the recent reactionary priest-led revolt.

Whether or not Morrow had before the assassination attained complete success in the corruption of Obregon to his purposes, it is certain that he has now succeeded in imposing his dictation in the present situation after the assassination. Could there be anything more weird than the "Obregonista" party demanding that the murderer of Obregon shall not be executed? After a murder by a clerical, can there be a more ironical turn of history than the punishment of the anti-clerical elements for the clerical crime?

The entire imperialist press of the United States is now trying to make the masses accept the version sent broadcast that although it is admitted that a religious fanatic, dominated by the priesthood, committed the murder, nevertheless the anti-clerical "labor" leaders were the "intellectual authors" of the murder. The capitalist press is even shamelessly trying to put over a cock-and-bull story of an anti-clerical agent posing as religious so as to inspire the religious assassin to kill Obregon.

There is method in the madness of this.

The United States imperialists want an extermination of the labor movement of Mexico, the disarming of the poorer peasants and the passing of power completely into the hands of reactionary landlord and clerical instruments of United States capital. Where the church was openly shown to have been the direct inspirer of the crime, Morrow has performed the legerdemain of transferring the "guilt" to what is called "labor" in the persons of Luis N. Morones and his fellow leaders of the CROM.

The fact that Luis N. Morones is as big a traitor to labor as can be found in Mexico, and as subservient as any to Wall Street, must not be allowed to confuse the question. Morones [illegible] the "leader" of the labor movement and as such for the moment he becomes [illegible] the reaction. But the target is not Morones, but the labor movement itself, [illegible] merely a parasite. The United States government, which is very busy "assisting Mexico in her trouble," is not so foolish as to concern itself with insignificant persons, such as Morones. It aims straight at the destruction of an enemy social force, a force antagonistic to the aims of Wall Street in Mexico. This social force is the labor movement—more or less crippled by ~~such~~ parasites as Morones, it is true—but nevertheless potentially the destroyer of the hopes of Wall Street in Mexico.

The sublime courage which the Mexican workers and peasants have shown time and again in open battle is called now to its highest test. The struggle of life and death for a great people is on. The capitalist-imperialist United States is the enemy of which all other forces of reaction in Mexico are the tools.

Mexican workers and peasants! Crush the counter-revolution!

China In the Fight for Its Unity.

(Editorial Reprinted from the "Pravda" of June 8, 1928)

A short time ago the defeat of Chang Tso Lin and the capture of Peking by the Southern troops was—according to the official Kuomintang Press—to bring about the unity of China and would mean almost the completion of the national revolution.

The long-desired moment seemed to have come.

Chang Tso-Lin fled into Manchuria and Peking appeared red under the Kuomintang flags. How is it, however, with the notorious "unity," with the "unification" of China?

For the present one only hears that the Nanking government has extended its power to the provinces of Kiangsu, Chekiang, Kiangsi, Anhwei; the Kwangsi group rules the provinces of Hupei, Hunan, Kwangtung and Kwangsi; Feng Yu Hsiang obtains possession of the provinces of Kiangsu, Shensi and Honan, with the prospect of obtaining Shantung; the Yen Si-Shan group will, it is assumed, control the provinces of Shansi, Chili and the adjoining districts of Mongolia; for the Mukden group there remain only three Eastern provinces or Manchuria.

In the official declaration of the Kuomintang this lack of unity is masked as "the division of China in six political areas with the towns of Nanking, Canton, Peking, Hankow, Kaifeng, and Mukden as centres, which recognize the power of the Supreme Council of Nanking which is the capital of China."

Such a masking is hardly likely to mislead anybody.

Between the existence of a "Supreme Council in the capital of China, Nanking" and the recognition of this Council by the political areas, and the "unity" of the China there lies a vast difference. It is generally known that the existence of the League of Nations at Geneva and its recognition by various European powers does not by any means signify the unity of Europe.

To bring proofs of this would be trying to force an open door; for many Kuomintang people already openly recognize the failure of their "unity policy." One of these Kuomintang people, in his article on the lessons of the Japanese intervention, cites the example of America, Germany and Japan herself, and maintains that only a victorious foreign war could accelerate the unification of China and help the cause of national defense to victory.

> "We are convinced that only after a new peace treaty will all the present problems of the relations betwen Japan and the nationalists be solved and peace in the Far East be secured . . . The Chinese have now learned that a foreign war not only can expedite the unification of China, but is also the only means in order to better the international situation of China."

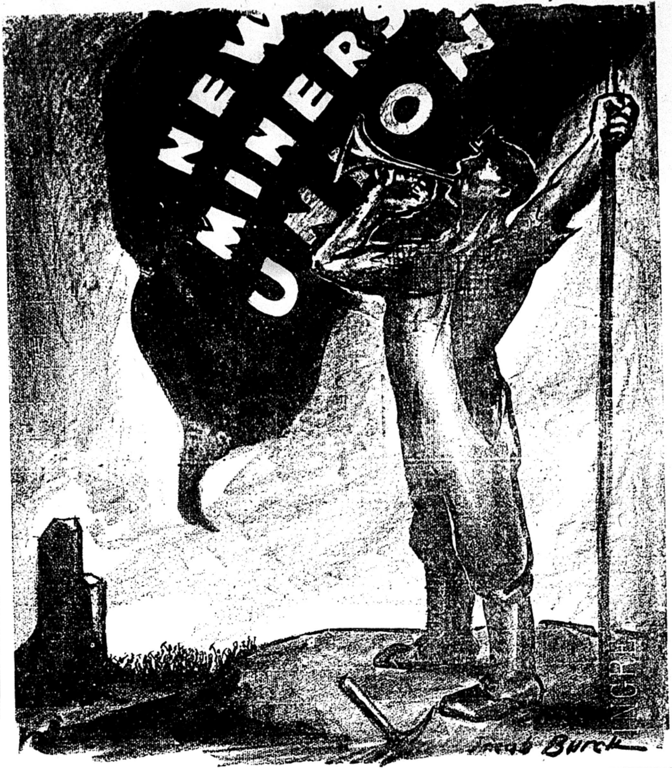
Thus the nationalist-minded Kuomintang see the only means of salvation in a foreign war, as is to be seen from the above quotation. To bring about a foreign war is of course not difficult; the only question is how to lead it to victory.

The victorious fight for the real unification of China was begun, but not by the Kuomintang people who betrayed the Chinese Resolution, who capitulated to the imperialists and, along with the latter, shot down the working and peasant masses. The real unification of China means mobilizing the million-fold masses of workers and peasants who will in the first place settle with the agents of the imperialists and drive out the imperialists themselves. These tasks will be solved by the workers and peasants of China under the leadership of the Communist Party and against the Kuomintang which has become the flag of counter-revolution.

REVEILLE!

By Jacob Burck



Our Party's Election Campaign

American Communists Engaged In Most Active Campaign In U. S. Labor History

By JAY LOVESTONE.

This year will see the American Communists participating in a parliamentary campaign more intensively and on a greater scale than in any previous year. For a number of months, the Workers (Communist) Party has been engaged in direct preparations for putting the Party on the ballot in its own name in as many of the 48 states as possible.

Leaflets and pamphlets have been issued. Election conventions have already been held in over 20 states.

A highly successful national nominating convention was held at the close of May for the adoption of an election platform and the selection of Comrades Foster and Gitlow as the presidential standard bearers of our Party in the November elections.

Hundreds of Communist mass meetings are being arranged thruout the country. Scores of thousands of copies of the election platform are being distributed.

Several organizers to reach new industrial centers where the Party organization is weak or non-existent have been put into the field. For the first time in the history of the Party an organized intensive effort is being made to pierce the Solid South—the most reactionary tier of states in the country, notorious for their disfranchising and severe oppression and lynching of the Negro masses.

Increased attention is being paid to the exploited farmers, the Negro masses, the youth and the working women.

The entire election campaign has as its keynote, the class struggle, and is based on such activities of the Party as the great miners' strike, the textile workers' fight and the long drawn out struggle of the needle trades workers.

The Present Situation in the United States.

Before proceeding to analyse the election campaign policy and activities of our Party, it is necessary to sketch briefly the economic and political situation in the country. The economic recession which set in about a year ago has developed into an acute depression. "Business is irregular." There still persists "a lack of bouyancy" among the major industries. There are not many confident expectations. The bourgeoisie speak of "extreme spottiness in trade, crop and industrial reports." But there is not sufficient evidence at hand to indicate that we are immediately approaching an economic crisis as severe in character as in 1921. Certainly the depression is acute, with at least four million still out of work, but it would be utterly wrong to conclude that American capitalism now has its basic crisis and is already on the downgrade.

Big capitalist reaction continues in the saddle. There are no fundamental issues sharply dividing the two big bourgeois parties. Whatever issues have developed are largely within these parties rather than between them. The extent of reaction is marked by such events as the brazen acquittal of the multi-millionaire Sinclair, one of the principal heroes in the Teapot Dome scandal; the arrogance characterising Coolidge's use of his executive power in vetoing the McNary-Haugen bill; the granting of a huge subsidy to American shipping magnates; the decision of the supreme court legalising wire tapping; the increasingly aggressive role of American imperialism as shown by the war on Nicaragua; the big naval budget and the attack on China; the widespread use of the injunction in the continued aggressive campaign by the biggest capitalists to smash the organizations of labor and wipe out such elementary rights as the right to organize and strike.

The nomination of Hoover by the republican party, which is the dominant party of big business, is only another index of the strength of capitalist reaction and the growth in power of the executive department of the government. Hoover has been director-general of American Big Business for seven years. His nomination for the presidency marks for the first time in the history of the country the significant fact that someone is put up for the highest position in capitalist politics without previously having held a single elective office in his life. It is only additional striking evidence of the growing fusion of big business with the highest government officers.

The democratic party has nominated Al Smith, New York State governor, for president. The attitude of Wall Street towards Hoover and Smith is instructively summed up by the "Magazine of Wall Street" for May 19, 1928. When discussing the "business qualifications of the leading presidential candidates" it said:

> "It is not an exaggeration to say that he (Hoover) has considered himself and has actually been director-general of American business. Never before here, or anywhere else, has a governmental department been so completely fused with business. He respects big business and admires big business men....There can be no doubt that Hoover as president would be without precedent. He would be a dynamic business president, even as Coolidge has been a static business president. He would be the first business, as distinguished from political, president the country has had.
>
> "Al Smith's record in politics is the best possible pledge that he will make a successful administrator of the biggest business of all...that of managing the political business organizations of the United States. But what about the Smith policies? They are just the reverse of Hoover's in relation to business. Hoover emphasizes economics, Smith, politics. Hoover would serve the public by serving business; Smith would serve business by serving the public."

American imperialism, because of the narrowing of the domestic market which has been one of its main sources of strength, and the increasing competition by other imperialist powers is waging an evermore aggressive imperialist policy.

Wall Street's frontiers are being thrown out ever further. The export of capital continues apace. Yankee imperialism is strangling Nicaragua, securing a tighter grip on the Philippines, making further inroads towards complete domination of Latin America, waging a ruthless imperialist policy in the Pacific against China, beating back decisively British imperialism on every front, winning a new hold on the financial resources of such European countries as Germany, Poland and Italy, and continuously at work preparing the most devastating weapons for the impending imperialist war. This hostility of the American government towards the Soviet Union remains vigorous.

The labor movement is in a crisis. Such basic organizations of the trade union movement as the United Mine Workers of America are being wiped out. This has narrowed the best proletarian base of the American Federation of Labor considerably so that today it is primarily a movement of the labor aristocracy though it still has hundreds of thousands of semi-skilled and unskilled workers. The trade union bureaucracy is becoming evermore reactionary and is bound up integrally with the employers and government in their fight to determine the standards of living and the organizations of the working class.

Politically, the American labor movement is very backward. President Green of the American Federation of Labor drew up a program of five planks which he had presented for the republican and democratic conventions in the usual formal routine manner without even the slightest pretense on the part of the capitalist politicians to heed these demands. The policy of "non-partisan political action," which in effect means selling out the great mass of workers to the republican and democratic parties, continues. The railroad brotherhoods which formerly were the champions of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, have moved so far to the right that they recently gave a blanket endorsement to Hoover. The entire labor party movement is at a low ebb today organizationally.

What is left of what was once the socialist party—a membership of less than 5,000—is organically tied up with the reactionary trade union bureaucracy. At its last convention it has moved even further to the right and has taken decisive steps to break with whatever remnants of working class ideology there might have been in its ranks.

But because of the economic depression and particularly the acute crisis in certain industries, like coal, there is today a greater volume of radicalization in the United States than at any time since the LaFollette movement of 1924. The masses are showing increasing readiness to resist the attacks of the capitalists on their organizations and their standards. This radicalization is not yet national nor general. It is primarily limited to specific sections and industries of the country.

Our Party has responded promptly and effectively to this increased readiness of the masses to struggle and has taken the initiative and leadership in such great class fights as the miners, textile workers and needle trades as well as in the general campaign of organizing the unorganized workers. We have likewise been most actively engaged in fighting American imperialist policies and for the development of an independent mass political party of the workers as the next big step in their political development as a class—for the organization of a labor party.

Our Party has, through these struggles, grown in influence and numbers. Today, it is the only organization of the workers consciously, persistently and energetically fighting against capitalist reaction.

(To be continued.)

Investments and Foreign Policy of U.S.

By ROBERT W. DUNN.

(Continued.)

IN connection with loans made by American financial interests to these foreign governments of the weaker sort we find your state department of the president of the United States playing a rather important role. For insuring the payment of loans and to facilitate their collection we find, for example, in the Dominican Republic an American general receiver named by the president of the United States. In Nicaragua we find an American collector, acting on order of a high commission of three, one appointed by the American bankers and another by the United States department of state. There is, also, to be sure, in more recent days, Brigadier General McCoy and his staff conducting their "free and fair elections." In Haiti the control is still more complete. An American receiver general and an American financial advisor are nominated by the president of the United States and appointed by a marionette native president. They have control of the entire revenue system of the country. An American High Commissioner and the marines complete the Haitian picture of American domination. In Salvador the loans of the American bankers are served by an American official who collects the customs. He is chosen by an American corporation with the approval of the American state department. Even in Bolivia, a stronger country, the service of loans of the American bankers involves a permanent fiscal commission consisting of three members, two of them appointed by the president of Bolivia upon recommendation of the bankers. One of these two is chairman of the commission which virtually holds the key to the economic life of the country. In Peru, Ecuador and other countries American financial advisors and agents have played their part in directing financial policies in conformity with the desires of the American investing class.

Armed Forces Protect Investments

Not only has your department of state acted as business solicitor and loan guarantor for American capitalists. The navy and the marines have upon occasions been used to protect American property interests especially in the weaker countries where effective resistance is quite impossible. Indeed, the United States navy, in one of its reports entitled "The United States Navy as an Industrial Asset" boasts of its services rendered in this connection. This aggressive use of the military and naval forces has been illustrated in Haiti, Santo Domingo, Mexico and Nicaragua. And it goes without saying that both republican and democratic administrations have resorted to this practice. However, forgetful politicians, like President Harding, have attacked the other party for acts identical with the ones they themselves have committed while in office. Mr. Bryan and other professing pacifists were particularly active in their use of the armed forces of the United States in certain Latin American countries during the Wilson administration.

What are the effects of these investments and the accompanying foreign policy upon the underlying population of the countries where the investments are made? This ought to be of some concern to those who formulate American foreign policy. The effects, of course, vary with the size, strength and character of the country involved. Defenders of imperialism have made much of the benefits derived through the application of foreign capital—good roads, sanitation and other evidences of civilization. Some of these benefits are undeniable. Over against them, however, is the crushing effect upon the economic and political liberty of these peoples, and in many cases also their material status and welfare.

• • •

Firestone Colonial Slavery

THE American investor in a mining or rubber enterprise abroad is naturally eager to hire his labor at the lowest possible price. The result in the case of Liberia, for example, is that the Firestone Plantation Company is now establishing a system of colonial slavery that bears more heavily on the natives than the colonial regimes of even the more frankly imperialist countries of Europe. In Cuba and in the Dominican Republic American economic penetration has resulted in throwing thousands of farmers off their lands and making them virtual peons of large sugar companies. The same tendency is observable in Haiti under new legislation now being decreed with the approval of the American authorities.

As for the civil liberties of these backward peoples they weigh very lightly in the balance against the forces of the advancing dollar dominion. Native presidents who must come to New York for loans may be as ruthless as they please so long as they pay their interest regularly. Native training in self-government is thus out of the question in countries where the American marines, and American corporations, unite to keep a local tyrant in power. This is particularly true of Haiti, where the government offices are filled either by Americans or by the political friends of the American-controlled president.

(To Be Continued.)

Berry, Foremost Labor Traitor, Drafted by Raskob to Help Put Over Smith

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 177.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

SOVIET SHIP, KRASSIN, RESCUES 1,500 ON GERMAN LINER

DISCUSSION ON WORKERS PARTY AT WORLD MEET

Pepper States American Delegation's Stand

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 26.—Chairman Jilek opened the seventh session of the World Congress of the Communist International yesterday. The session continued with the discussion of the theses of Nikolai Bukharin.

Dunne, of the United States, declared that Bukharin's theses need supplementing with regards to the United States. He pointed out that the internal contraditions in the United States are growing sharper and that the working masses are becoming increasingly radical.

The right wing policy of the Central Committee must be corrected and work among the Negroes intensified, was the view expressed by the speaker. Agitation for the formation of a labor party he characterized as not permissible. The formation of a labor party is only a propaganda slogan.

Various speeches and greetings were then presented. The chairman read a telegram from Max Hoeltz amidst applause.

Rasa, of India, next declared that the theses must concern themselves more with agrarian policy of British imperialism in India. The Indian Communists must not repeat the mistakes of the Chinese Party.

Balkan Problems.

Kolarov, of Bulgaria, declared that in general his delegation is in agreement with Bukharin, but that an analysis of the world agricultural situation is necessary. The rich peasants are again allied with the bourgeoisie, he pointed out, but the poor peasants are going to the left. This question demands the special attention of the Communist International, because the peasants

Continued on Page Three

BOSS LAWYER 'ASSISTS' JUDGE

Markewich Gives Some Advice on Bail

What appeared obvious to many as a crude and yet a most brutally frank frame-up was cynically perpetrated by Magistrate Dryer in Jefferson Market Court yesterday afternoon, when he set bail in the hearing of the four fur workers arrested Wednesday in connection with the fight in the fur district provoked by right wing Joint Council thugs. The workers had then defended themselves against the sluggers by driving them out of the district.

After the four defendants appeared in court yesterday, the attorney of the Joint Board, Oberman, was surprised to see Sam Markewitz right-wing lawyer, in extremely chummy conversation with the judge. Markewitz afterward brazenly stood beside Assistant District Attorney Volp to coach him in conducting the hearing.

Lawyer Prompts Judge.

The first case to be called was that of Meyer Fineman, who is charged by one of the thugs with having "feloniously assaulted" him. Fineman mounting the stand was greeted by the judge with a sly remark to his pal Markewitz, "He makes himself useful Sam, doesn't he?" And Sam remarked casually, "Oh, about $2,500 will do for him."

Then the prosecutor turned to Markewitz, and Markewitz said to him in a voice loud enough to be heard clearly, "You make it $5,000." This was done. And only after the strenuous protests of the Joint Board did the judge agree to keep the bail at his pal's original "bid." $2,500 bail was asked for Fineman's freedom.

More "Justice."

This, however, by no means ended the performance. When the two women arrested, Celia Rabinowitz and Sadie Mondell, came to the stand, the right wing provocateur, Markewitz, boisterously proposed that prosecutor Volk ask the unheard of bail of $2,500 for each. This despite the fact that the women were only charged with disorderly conduct, while Fineman's charge was felonious assault.

Directed Rescues

The latest rescue feat of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin, which answered an S. O. S. call and saved 1,500 people on the steamship Monte Cervantes, has again astonished the world. Above is Prof. Samoilovich, director of the Krassin rescue expedition.

REACTION MARKS TIME IN MEXICO

Saenz Pledges Support to Calles

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—Civil war in Mexico hangs in the balance while reactionary and clerical leaders ae playing for time to deliver a vital thrust against the Calles government and the forces of the labor movement which President Calles has indicated he will, for the time, at least, refuse to abandon.

The latest maneuver worked out by the reactionary forces is an announcement of support promised to President Calles "in maintaining order and national harmony until congress can untangle the confusing problem of the succession to the presidency."

This pledge made in a statement by a former foreign minister, Aaron Saenz, head of the Obregonistas, expressed confidence in the police investigation of the assassination of Obregon. This was taken to be a maneuver to indicate temporary support of Calles probably for the reason that Saenz, who is himself seeking power, does not at this moment feel certain of his ability to force his demands.

Yesterday Saenz made what was considered a bold declaration against Calles by announcing that he would himself accept appointment as provisional president after December 1, when President Calles' term expires. At the same time the reactionary forces have expressed their opposition to the position taken by Calles in his speech to the army last night when he definitely blamed the Catholic party for the assassination and rejected the clerical charge that the labor for-

Continued on Page Five

POLICE FIRE ON CROWD IN INDIA

TRICHINOPOLY, Madras, July 26.—Police, obeying the orders of the English officers, fired into a large crowd which had collected at the scene of a railroad crash, wounding four persons.

The police, fearing the general sympathy felt all over India for the railroad strikers, fired on the crowd to prevent, as they said, "any further disturbances."

MEXICAN MASSES GIVE OVATION TO SANDINO OFFICIAL

Machado Reports That Many Marines Killed

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

MEXICO CITY, (By Mail).—Declaring that the Nicaraguan masses will continue their struggle against American imperialism in spite of the false claims being spread by the United States government officials that the fight is ending, Dr. Gustavo Machado, newly appointed representative of General Sandino to Mexico, yesterday made public the details of his visit to the camp of the Nicaraguan rebel chief and patriot.

Big Welcome.

Both Machado and Socrates Sandino, brother of the Nicaraguan general, arrived here yesterday and were met at the railway station by a very large crowd which enthusiastically cheered them. Sandino came from New York where he had spent two years engaged in an extensive propaganda work and from Gen. Sandino's headquarters at El Chipoton, located in the very heart of the Nueva Segovia range.

Machado was appointed to represent Gen. Sandino following his personal visit to the rebel chief's camp after a hazardous trip, in order to make delivery to Sandino the relief fund raised in Mexico by the "Hands Off Nicaragua Committee."

Known to U. S.

"Nearly 1,800 American marines have been killed by Gen. Sandino's troops during the course of the operations being conducted in Nicaragua by American imperialism," Machado declared. "These facts are known to the American state department," he asserted.

The great crowd gave Socrates Sandino and Machado a wild welcome. We were able to notice among the welcomers the delegates of "Mafuenic," the All-American Anti-Imperialist League, the Central American and Antillian Union, the Proletarian Children and the Red Pioneers; also Messrs. J. A. Mella, Prof. R. Ramos Pedrueza, Dr. C. Leon, Don J. Hurwitz, Dr. P. J. Zepeda, S. del Mar, M. Vazquez Diaz, C. M. Coz, all of whom are prominent in the associations which in Mexico oppose North American imperialism.

We quote Mr. Sandino as saying: "The people of the United States agree that the action taken by their government is absurd and consider it as an abuse of power; on such people we rely to go on with our campaign against Wall Street."

"What if the democrats succeed?" the correspondent asked.

"Both Alike.

"It does not matter whichever party comes into control in the American government," Sandino replied. "The policy of interference with Latin-American countries' internal affairs will continue. The democrats have declared they would rectify their opponents' policy, but it is a certainty that the Canal will be held as a pretext to continue the occupation of our soil."

The correspondent then interviewed Dr. Machada with the idea of securing some of his experiences in his endeavor to reach Gen. Sandino's camp. "The soldiers of the government of Honduras, as well as the Yankees, were decidedly hostile to me and tried their utmost to stop me from joining the rebels. My trip lastd four months and was entirely fruitful," he answered.

"President Paz Barona of Honduras, a vile servant of the Ameri-

Continued on Page Three

WILL FIGHT FRAME-UP

New Evidence in the Centralia Case

Elmer Smith, the Northwest defense attorney of the I. W. W. victims of the Centralia frame-up, who had lost not only his law practice, but his health as well for his action tells of the history of the case and the new steps taken to free the frame-up victims in the new August issue of the "Labor Defender."

In a brief article, illustrated by photographs of some of the figures in the case he writes:

"During more than three long years a mountain of evidence showing the unjust conviction of the Centralia defendants has been piled up before the governor and the Parole Board. Never was a matter more thoroughly presented to any governor or any Parole Board. They have been told and retold of the action of the trial jurors; of the paying of ex-service men $4.00 per

Continued on Page Three

Mexican Militants Greet Representative of Nicaraguan General

The above photograph was taken on the return to Mexico of Licenciado Gustavo Machado, official representative of Geneal Sandino, from a visit to the camp of the great Nicaraguan leader, now fighting the invading marines of United States imperialism.

Machado's trip, which was made under the greatest hardship and at the risk of his life, during the course of a score of adventures, was undertaken for the purpose of conveying medicines and funds—gathered by the "Hands Off Nicaragua" Committee in Mexico.

In the photograph (left foregound, with mustache) is Machado; at his right is Diego Divera, celebrated Mexican painter, a member of the Continental Committee of the All-America Anti-Imperialist League; Socrates Sandino, brother of the Nicaraguan general, well known in the United States for his propaganda activities in connection with the work done by the All-America Anti-Impeialist League. Standing left to right are Gomez, Mellan and Rivera Bertrand of the local "Hands Off Nicaragua" Committee and Fritz Bach of the International Workers Relief.

BERRY DRAFTED TO BETRAY LABOR VOTE

The country's biggest open shop employer has drafted the country's bigger labor faker for the purpose of organizing the workers' vote in the attempt to put over the country's biggest political hypocrite The three actors in the drama are John J. Raskob, Major George L Berry and Alfred F. Smith.

Announcement was made public yesterday that Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee has appointed Major Berry, president of the International Printing Pressmen's Union, as director of the National Organization's Labor Bureau. Berry will begin immediately it was announced, the work of organizing a campaign among the trade unions in support of Al Smith.

Open Shop Boss.

Raskob is now admittedly the ruling figure in the open shop industrial world. He is said to have taken over the scab mantle laid down by Elbert H. Gary, late president of the United States Steel Corporation. In a hundred industries and in a score

Continued on Page Five

2,000 FURRIERS AT UNION MEET

Sorkin Bloc to Fight for New Union

Approximately 2,000 registered fur workers came to the meeting held last night by the Progressive Bloc of the right wing Joint Council in Cooper Union. The bloc is a group of functionaries in the A. F. of L. union, who have come out in an open fight against the McGrady gang in control there, in order to help the furriers fight their way through to the establishment of one union in the industry.

Applaud Slogan.

Enthusiastic applause greeted every mention any of the speakers made of the slogan, "One Union." A long and sustained ovation greeted the casual mention of the name of Gold by the chairman, who opened the meeting, A. Wexier. Ben Gold is manager of the left wing Joint Board. But when the spokesman of the bloc declared that all the Joint Council functionaries in the bloc would join forces with all elements in the trade to build a new furriers' union if the A. F. of L. refused to heed their demand for a "unity conference," the meeting burst out in a thunderous demonstration. The reason for this is found in the resolution unanimously passed later.

Ridicules McGrady Clique.

J. Winnick, one of the bloc leaders, spoke in the capacity of a vice-president of the international union. He ridiculed the action of the McGrady clique in suspending him from his position as business agent of the council because of his activities in behalf of the one union campaign. He pointed out that McGrady's fake peace negotiations with the bloc were merely a ruse to cut the ground from under the one union movement in the right wing union. Winnick showed that this maneuver failed completely when the bloc refused to sign a public statement condemning the left wing Joint Board.

Hyman Sorkin, the other of the chief figures in the bloc leadership, exposed the betrayal of the workers' interests, which were and still are being put through by Statsky and McGrady. He cited instances of how the workers had been sold out in order to get the employer to recognize the right wing union.

The resolution unanimously carried declares:

"Whereas, the union standards of the workers have been wiped out and the fur industry plunged into chaos and demoralization by the influx of hundreds of small non-union shops, contractors and section contractors and by the abnormal development of jobbing; and

"Whereas, the forty-hour week, together with all other union conditions that were won through hard-fought struggles have been destroyed and the wages reduced to the point of starvation and the fur workers subjected to the worst kind of explcitation, oppression and unemployment; and Strife Basis of Evils.

"Whereas, these trade evils and the suffering endured by the fur workers are directly the result of the bitter internal struggle in the Furriers Union and the division in the ranks of the workers which have weakened the union to the extent of reducing it to powerlessness and transforming the organization into a toy of the bosses; and

"Whereas, the officers of the A. F. of L., through the chairman of the special furriers' A. P. of L committee, Matthew Woll, have recognized the gravity of the present situation to the extent of declaring that 'if the present state of affairs continue the Furriers Union will be a thing of the past; and

"Whereas, the A. F. of L. and the Joint Council have ignored the demands for one union that have been made by the mass of the fur workers in New York as well as by the fur workers of the out-of-town localities, and by the Furriers Progressive Bloc;

"Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the fur workers, assembled at Cooper Union on Thursday, July 26, under the auspices of the Progressive Bloc, which is composed of good standing members of the Joint Council, the International Fur Workers Union and the A. F. of L., hereby call upon the A. F. of L., the International and the Joint Council to call together a conference of all sides involved in the internal struggle for the purpose of uniting all forces to build one union, to restore the union conditions and the union wages to the fur workers;

"Be it further resolved, that in the event the A. F. of L. will ignore this resolution, the Progressive Bloc of the Joint Council is hereby authorized to join forces with those elements that are striving for one union and jointly issue a call to all fur workers to build one union of all fur workers in the fur trade."

PORTER'S WRIST FOUND SLASHED

Officers Try to Break Spirit of Youth

FORT ADAMS, R. I., July 25.—The greatest efforts are being made by the military authorities here to break down the militant attitude of John Porter, New Bedford strike leader, and to force him to repudiate the labor movement.

Terms of Officers

Army officers have given Porter the "confidential" information that he would have been released or given a short sentence if it had not been for his militant stand at the court-martial, and that "even now it is not too late" for release if he would accept the terms of the authorities, intimating that they would free him if he would repudiate his Communist principle. The authorities have been trying to prevent Porter from communicating with the organizations working for his release and to make him believe that he is deserted by the workers on the "outside."

Mysterious Circumstances

Porter at present is in the hospital, with his wrists slashed under very mysterious circumstances. He writes that he woke up in the hospital and was told by the officers that he had cut his own wrists. It seems that this "explanation" is a part of the systematic attempt to remove Porter from the labor movement by all means, and to use every method of terror to break the spirit of this young worker.

RED CROSS "CHARITY"

Scabbing, Price of Aid to Miner's Child

PORTAGE, Pa., July 26.—"Why don't you go to work?" is the strike-breaking answer the Red Cross of Cambria County makes to striking miners who ask for medical aid.

When an abscess developed on the leg of two-yera-old Rose-Marie, George Killinger appealed to doctor after doctor to take care of his daughter. But unless money is paid in advance, the striking miner was told, there would be no medical aid. Mrs. Killinger tried home remedies, but the festering only became worse.

As a last resort, Killinger carried the child to the Red Cross station in Portage, Pa. Again the question: "Why don't you go to work?" was asked. Killinger replied that although his six children were living on barely one meal a day, he would not become a scab, pointing out that the children would suffer far more in the long run if the strikers did not stick together.

ANSWERS HASTILY TO S. O. S. CALL OF DAMAGED VESSEL

Divers Descend to Repair Leak; Big Ovation As All Hands Are Saved

HAMBURG, July 26 (UP).—The Russian Arctic relief ship Krassin, with a record of rescues of survivors of the dirigible Italia and lost rescuers, today had added one more achievement to its notable list of operations since it steamed into the ice floes of the north.

Although damaged by ice, the Krassin, proceeding to harbor for repairs, answered a distress call from the Hamburg South American excursion steamer, Monte Cervantes, with 1,500 tourists aboard, and by its quick arrival calmed passengers who were alarmed by a leak the Monte Cervantes had sprung after collision with an ice floe.

The storage room in the bow of the Monte Cervantes was filled with water. The Krassin arrived at midnight Wednesday, made ready to take off the tourists if it were necessary, then sent down divers to examine the damage to the vessel.

* * *

MOSCOW, July 26 (UP).—Professor Samoilovitch, Commander of the Krassin, sent a wireless message saying the ship was received with cheers from passengers and crew crowded on the deck of the Monte Cervantes when the Soviet vessel reached the crippled tourist liner.

The Krassin was instructed to proceed to Stavanger for repairs and then resume the search for lost exployers and rescue workers.

* * *

MOSCOW, July 26 (UP).—Jubilant over its latest rescue feat, the ice-breaker Krassin radioed today that passengers and crew of the steamship Monte Cervantes crowded the decks to welcome its prompt response to an S. O. S. call today.

The Krassin was cheered repeatedly, the message said. It added that the Krassin immediately began rescue work.

After completing its task of helping the Monte Cervantes, the ship's

Continued on Page Five

U. S. PLANES HIT BY SANDINO FIRE

Marines Drop Tons of Bombs

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26.—Marine airplanes yesterday carried out one of the most vicious bombing attacks on the military and civil forces of Nicaragua yet to be conducted according to a report which came here today. General Sandino's troops returned the attack from hiding, it is stated, and a number of the marine planes were hit by the fire of the Nicaraguan defenders of their country.

The marine aviators dropped seventeen eighteen-puond demolition bombs and eight fifty-pound bombs. They also fired 5,000 rounds from machine guns.

The attack which took place along the Portca River in northeastern Neuva Segovia, was reported to the state department at Washington by Minister Charles G. Eberhardt.

The casualties are unknown. Estimates of deaths of American marines in the imperialist war which the United States is conducting in Nicaragua place the figure many hundreds over those reported by the U. S. State Department.

* * *

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26.—Further penetration of Nicaraguan industry by American investors, following in the wake of the army of marines was revealed here today with the announcement that the Central American Power Corporation has purchased the electric light, ice and water systems of this city.

The Central American Power Corporation is organized for the purpose of Nicaraguan investment by the W. B. Foshay Co. of New York City.

TUNNEY VICTOR IN BLOODY BOUT

Referee Stops Fight in 11th Round

Gene Tunney last night defended successfully his heavyweight championship of the world by scoring a technical knockout over Tom Heeney of New Zealand.

Boxing experts tonight described the bout as one of the bloodiest in the history of the ring, with Heeney getting by far the worst of it.

After two minutes and 52 seconds of fighting in the eleventh round of the scheduled 15-round bout, referee Eddie Forbes stepped between the men and led Heeney, who was almost cut to pieces by the terrible mauling that Tunney had given him, to his corner.

85 JAILED MILL PICKETS BAILED

Great T. M. C. Strike Parade Tomorrow

(Special to the Daily Worker)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 26.—Bail totaling $54,100 was ordered in District Court here today in the cases of the 85 men and women arrested last night when the combined forces of New Bedford and Fall River police, aided by deputy sheriffs who read the riot act, broke up the mass picketing demonstrations of the textile strikers at the Sharp Mill.

Eighty-two were arrested last night when the mill barons' police here continued their announced plans of completely prohibiting mass picketing on the grounds of a recent court ruling, which used the hypocritical expedient of outlawing picketing by terming it "parading without a permit." The other three were arrested later on warrants sworn out by police. The "warrant" manoeuver provides the police with a weapon they use in arresting and rearresting leaders of the Textile Workers Union subsidiary of the Textile Mill Committees.

Trial Tuesday.

All defendants pleaded not guilty and after bail had been provided by many local volunteers, were ordered to come up for trial Tuesday.

Augusto C. C. Pinto was in the prisoners dock again when the workers appeared before the judge. This in Pinto's ninth arrest for strike activities, having so far collected five months in jail terms. Jackson Wales, Virginia Zodra and John Motta and Pinto are out on bonds of from $1,100 to $1,500, bail for the others being set at $600 each.

Most of Leaders Arrested.

Most of the leaders of the T.M.C. were arrested in last night's arrests.

Continued on Page Five

PLAN WORLD FLIGHT

CADIZ, Spain, July 26 (UP).—Commander Ramon Franco was prepared to start at the first favorable opportunity on a seaplane flight around the world, after the launching of his big plane here today.

illman 'Union' Drive In Philadelphia Aids Only Bosses, Says Italian Organizer

IVORCES SELF OM SELL-OUT CTICS OF A.C.W.

ps Guest Speaker of Union, Fascist Judge

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Appointed as organizer in the so-called organization drive now being carried on by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union in this city, Dominic Flaiani, leader of Italian workers in this city, has sent an open letter to President Sidney Hillman, denouncing the methods used by him and his machine in carrying on the drive. The reason for the letter, the writer states, is to announce to the workers that he disassociates himself completely with the Hillman policy of convincing the open-shop bosses that they will have direct benefits from unionization, instead of conducting a militant struggle of the workers to force union recognition. The letter follows, in part:

July 21, 1928.

"To Mr. Hillman, Mr. Blumberg and to the General Executive Board, Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union:

"Prompted by a desire to help improve the conditions of the clothing workers of Philadelphia and the hope that I would be better able to exert influence upon the organizing staff in favor of the militant policies which are the sole means by which an organization capable of improving the conditions of the workers can be established, I accepted some four weeks ago appointment to the organizing staff which is conducting the campaign in this city.

"As one who has worked for many years in the industry and who has been an active member of my local union and joint board, I was fully aware of the miserable, intolerable conditions under which the workers in this city are forced to work in consequence of the absence of a powerful, militant union that can effectively improve and defend wage standards and working conditions. I also was acquainted with the extent to which the G. E. B. of the Amalgamated is responsible for this situation. I knew very well that the absence of a union in this city is to a very large extent the fault of the G. E. B., which, time and again (in 1923, 1924 and 1925), launched organizing campaigns, stirred up hope among the workers that they would finally be organized and then left the field without accomplishing anything else than to further demoralize and depress the workers and to undermine their faith in unionism.

"After the meeting of last Tuesday it became evident that not even the pretense of waging a determined struggle against the bosses would be kept up.

"The statements of Mr. Hillman in the meeting which, it was believed, would issue the call for a strike, together with my experience as a member of the organizing staff during the past four weeks have convinced me that the G. E. B. is pursuing a policy which, if continued, will again result in preventing rather than achieving organization and improved working conditions for the clothing workers. I have attempted to present my views to the staff, the local membership and to the joint board. I find, however, that it is both impossible and useless to present any proposals to the staff. Your deliberate policy of practically suspending the local and joint board during the period of the campaign in order to facilitate the one-man dictatorship which you have set up in this city, prevents my appearance before the membership which has thus been excluded from all participation and jurisdiction over the campaign as well as all other business of the organization.

"Under the circumstances, it becomes necessary for me to take this means of recording my views in order to warn the membership and the workers generally against a policy which threatens to again blast the hope of organizing the Philadelphia market.

"The workers would not approve the policies which are pursued by Mr. Blumberg with the consent of the G. E. B. Mr. Hillman voices and Mr. Blumberg translates into action a policy which leads to direct betrayal of the clothing workers. Mr. Hillman has made clear that he came to Philadelphia not for the purpose of rallying the workers for struggle against the open-shop, but to induce the bosses to abandon the open-shop policy. Mr. Hillman bases himself not upon the original power of the workers, but upon his persuasive power; upon his ability to convince the bosses that they would allow the Amalgamated to become partners in their enterprises. Mr. Hillman does not inspire the workers to fight for their right to organize and wrest better conditions from the greedy bosses, but seeks to convince them that strikes and struggles are an uncivilized method."

Piloted Ship Which Made Great Rescue

Capt. Egge, commander of the Krassin, the Soviet ice-breaker that saved 16 men lost in the Arctic north in one of the most heroic rescues ever recorded. The Krassin is now on its way to port for overhauling, after which it will renew its search for the 12 men still missing.

LABOR PARTY IS FORMED IN OHIO

Miners Set Up Ticket and Platform

(Special to the Daily Worker)

MARTINS FERRY, O., July 26.—The convention called by the sub-district convention of the miners, held in Ballaire on May 22-23 for the formation of a Labor Party, was held in this city on Sunday, July 22, and was marked by wonderful enthusiasm.

A full county slate and a real labor platform was adopted; a pledge was given that all the power of the delegates and their organizations will be put at the service of the executive council elected to put through the ticket.

The convention was opened by Frank Sepich, vice-chairman of the sub-district of the miners, the gavel then being handed over to Robert Sivert as permanent chairman, and Charles Guynn as secretary.

Large Attendance

Andy Plechaty, secretary-treasurer of the sub-district of the miners, then made the opening speech before the 53 delegates representing 28 unions, fraternal lodges, women's auxiliaries, etc. In a well-balanced speech, Plechaty said, among other things:

"The republican party of Abraham Lincoln is now the party of Andrew Mellon and other big industrial magnates." The farmers went to the republican convention and were thrown out; William Green was given five minutes to place the grievances and demands of organized labor before the platform committee of the same convention.

"There was so much democracy at the democratic convention that at its very doors a Negro was lynched. The A. F. of L. slogan of 'reward your friends' really means 'reward your enemies.'"

Workers Now Divided.

Plechaty showed how the workers are continually divided, endorsing the candidates of the enemy parties—as, for instance, Lewis declaring that Hoover was "highly satisfactory" to him, and Mellon, the worst enemy of organized labor, saying the same. He explained that there had been a good farmer-labor movement before 1924, but it was completely disrupted by Bob LaFollette, who refused to accept the platform of the Farmer-Labor Party.

"We are not going into the elections in order to protest against Sheriff Hardesty, who had jailed so many workers, or against the county commissioners, who have bankrupted the county in supplying guards free of charge to the operators. We are going into the elections with the intention of electing our men."

Scabs and Police.

It was brought out by Robert Matusek, president of the sub-district, that one of the candidates for sheriff on the republican ticket, Cy Thomas, was a scab in the steel strike. Bill Knight is a guard at the Bellaire steel mills, and, if elected, will have to work under the orders of the U. S. Steel Corporation."

Joe Weber explained the importance of the Labor Party in organizing the unorganized workers in the country, and called upon the workers not to allow the employers further to employ prejudice against the Negro workers, not to allow the bosses to divide them on religious, racial or other lines.

Sadie Van Veen emphasized the importance of the Labor Party for the woman worker and housewife and called upon the delegation to make a vigorous campaign to enlist the active support of the women in the county for the Labor Party.

Labor Ticket.

For sheriff: Frank Guynn, Lansing.

For state senator: Robert Matusek, Bellaire.

For state assemblyman: Robert Sivert, Lansing.

For county treasurer: Joe Truax, Shadyside.

For county clerk: Martin Spanner, Bellaire.

For county commissioners: George Klamut, Maynard: Bruno Bitker, Lansing; John Barto, Lansing.

For probate judge: Roy Wallace, Dilles Bottom.

For coroner: D. E. Deughty, Martins Ferry.

The executive committee was empowered to select candidates for prosecuting attorney and surveyor. The executive committee consists of Robert Sivert, Charles Guynn, Frank Sepich, Joe Kosteshka, Dominic Sambuco, Adolf Rattay and Robert Bazrak. A campaign and publicity committee was elected.

The platform analyzes conditions in the United States and the county and state, and puts forth the following planks:

Labor's Demands.

Unemployment insurance, old age compensation, the right to organize without interference, abolition of the yellow dog contract, the right to strike and picket without interference, abolition of the vagrancy laws, against court injunctions, full guarantee of the right of free speech and free assemblage, against the state constabulary. The platform further provides for a maximum 8-hour day, 5-day week, no night work for women, equal pay for equal work for women, 6-hour day for young workers, for protection of the foreign-born; equal rights for the Negroes, abolition of the criminal syndicalist law, immediate release of all victims of the labor struggle, for free hospitals and free clinics, which is an issue in the county, for there is no help for workers in need; for factory and mining boards, to be composed in part of trade unionists; better roads for the farmers and lower taxes, immediate withdrawal of marines and warships from Nicaragua, Haiti and China and immediate independence for the Philippines, against war and against military training of the youth in the schools, against the C. M. T. C., for a state and national Labor Party, for a Labor government in the United States.

Earnest Debate.

The resolutions, which were earnestly debated and brought out many incidents of the labor struggles in the county in recent years, comprised organization of the unorganized workers, the International Labor Defense, importation of scabs into strike areas, against Sheriff Hardesty and Governor Donehy, recognition of the Soviet Union, great stress being laid upon the heroic deed of the Russian aviators in saving the fascist Arctic explorers, for a real labor press, for the Young Pioneers, state and national Labor Party.

The Workers (Communist) Party was represented at the convention by Frank Sepich, who is a candidate for the U. S. congress on the party ticket from the 20th congressional district. Sepich explained the relation of the Communist Party to the Labor Party, the difference in its organization and character, but assuring the convention that in the present campaign the Communist Party will support the Labor Party of Belmont County whole-heartedly, pointing out its limitations.

Big Job Ahead.

The convention was one of the most enthusiastic ever held in this part of the state. Robert Sivert, in closing the convention, and each of the speakers, emphasized that the convention now has a big job before it. The delegates must each become a "campaign-manager." In the union, fraternal lodge, on doorsteps, in the pool room, the Labor Party, its platform and candidates must be discussed. If this is done, the Labor Party will go across in Belmont County.

HOLD ELECTION DRIVE TAG DAYS AUGUST 18 - 26

Sell "Vote Communist" Buttons, Stamps

Tag Days to raise funds for the Workers (Communist) Party Election Campaign will be held in large cities thruout the United States from August 18 to August 26. Interest in the elections have now been stimulated to such an extent that all affairs will be successful if properly organized.

The "Vote Communist Stamp" and the "Vote Communist Button" are now selling in large quantities.

Candidates' Photos.

The stamp is printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in. These can be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers bulletins.

The sale of stamps and buttons will add materially to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund in addition to being excellent propaganda.

A book of eighty stamps sells for $1.00. They can be resold at 10 cents per page of eight stamps. In quantity lots they can be secured at 55 books for $50; 90 for $75; 125 for $100.

Designed by Ellis.

On the "Vote Communist" button is a beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield. They can be sold anywhere for a dime. They can be secured in lots up to 100 for 5 cents each to 2 cents each in lots of 5,000 or over.

The stamp and the button were designed by the noted proletarian artist, Fred Ellis.

With unemployment severe, the poor farmers being crucified by the bankers and mulcted by the railroads in excessive freight rates, the textile workers receiving cuts in wages and the miners' strike betrayed by the Lewis machine, the opportunity for Communist propaganda was never brighter.

It will be simple matter to make the workers understand that Al Smith, backed by the House of Morgan and the Du Pont Powder Company, as well as other great financial and industrial barons, cannot be a friend of the working class. He will serve the interests of those who provide his campaign funds.

Thomas Straddling.

Likewise Hoover, who is backed by the strikebreaker Mellon and the slave-driver Ford as well as by another big chunk of the American bourgeoisie.

The candidate of the socialist party, Thomas is trying to straddle the burning issues of the day.

The only party in the field that stands for the workers is the Workers (Communist) Party. Its message will fall on fertile soil during this election campaign, if the National Election Campaign Committee has the funds to tour speakers and print tons of literature.

Workers and Farmers! Collect money from your associates in field and factory. Sell "Vote Communist" stamps and "Vote Communist" buttons. Participate in Tag Days Make this the greatest fight to spread Communism ever undertaken in the the United States. The workers must be mobilized for the struggle against capitalism.

Help in this work by contributing to the Communist Campaign Fund. Address all contributions to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer, 43 E. 125th St., New York.

STRIKE FILMS AT RELIEF AFFAIR

Solidarity Parade Will Be Feature

The Miners' Solidarity Fair, which will take place on August 5 at Pleasant Bay Park, is expected to be one of the biggest relief affairs ever held in New York. The arrangement committee of the National Miners' Relief Conference which has been continually at work on the program for the past several weeks, has announced a program of excellent features, including many that have not been performed or shown before the workers in America before.

Miners' Strike Movies.

Foremost among the features that will make up the program will be the Miners' Strike Movies, which were taken on the strike areas during the struggles of the striking workers. Scenes from strike conflicts, the home life of the miners their parades and mass meetings—all will be shown on the screen. The five-reel drama will be produced here for the first time.

Other Features.

Other features of the Solidarity Fair will be the Solidarity Parade in which thousands of workers will participate, all carrying slogans and banners with the strikers' sentiments engraved on them. Motion pictures will be taken of this parade, and will afterward be added as part of the strike film, which will be routed nationally.

Workers Have Narrow Escape From Death at Union Square

Subway workers had a narrow escape from death yesterday when a big derrick used on the construction job at Union Square crashed thru the timbers of the roof. The accident happened across the square from the Daily Worker's offices. The wreck of the big crane is shown in the picture.

RECOGNITION OF NANKING SOON

Begin Negotiations for Trade Treaty

PEKING, July 26 (UP).—American Minister MacMurray prepared today to begin negotiations immediately with the Nationalist Government for a new Chinese-American trade treaty, granting China freedom to assess tariffs on American goods, as directed by Secretary of State Kellogg.

* * *

Recognition of Nanking.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The note sent yesterday by Kellogg to the Nanking government, virtually recognizing it as the responsible government of China, has led to the belief here that de jure recognition will be forthcoming shortly.

The note was very cordial in tone and is looked upon as clearing the way for a separate agreement between the United States and Nanking which is now considered capable of taking care of American interests in China.

Secretary Kellogg made it clear today that the United States wished to negotiate with Nanking, although he intimated that their would be no opposition to joint negotiations after the United States had obtained its terms.

Copies of the note were also transmitted to the embassies of Belgium, Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan the Netherlands, Portugal, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Spain because of their "general interests in China."

RED BANQUET IN NEWARK PLANNED

Will Usher In Jersey Election Campaign

To welcome the delegates to the New Jersey State Ratification Convention, a huge Red Proletarian Newark, N. J.

The banquet will be the largest affair of its kind ever held in New Jersey, and besides being an occasion for festivity, will serve a double purpose. The date of the Red Banquet is the 14th anniversary of the opening of the last World War, in which millions of workers were slaughtered in the redistribution of capitalist markets, and the banquet will be turned into a tremendous demonstration against the danger of a new world war and against the menace of American imperialism.

Nearing, Weisbord to Speak.

Among the speakers at the banquet will be Scott Nearing, noted authority on American imperialism and Communist candidate for Governor of New Jersey and Albert Weisbord, leader of the Passaic strike and Communist candidate for Senator.

All delegates to the Ratification Convention which will be held the next day will be present at the Red Banquet, as well as many other workers. All workers' clubs, labor and fraternal organizations are invited to send delegates to the Red Proletarian Banquet, as well as to the Ratification Convention.

There is no perturbation on the part of workers who will attend the Red Banquet for fear of the day of the banquet turning out to be hot and sultry, for if the weather should be torrid, the banquet will be held on the roof garden of the Workers Progressive Center.

All workers' organizations which have not yet elected delegates to the banquet are urged to do so at once.

Washington Heights Club Meets Monday

The second meeting of the club which is being organized in Washington Heights will take place Monday at 100 Northern Ave., corner of 181st St., apartment 33 at 8 p. m. Everybody interested in building up a strong and active club in Washington Heights, and all residing in that section of the city are invited to attend.

Big Freiheit Picnic to Be Held Tomorrow

Thousands of workers are expected to be present at the annual Freiheit picnic, to be held tomorrow at Ulmer Park, Brooklyn.

A program of unusual interest has been arranged, including games and athletics of all sorts. The Freiheit Sport Club will have all its star athletes at the picnic and three soccer teams will play against the Hebrew American League, the Harlem Progressive Soccer Club and the Co-operative Sport Club.

POLICE FAIL TO BREAK RED MEET

(Special to the Daily Worker)

Police failed in their attempt to break up an open-air meeting held last night by the Workers (Communist) Party at Second Ave. and 10th St.

At first one policeman tried to stop the meeting. As he could not, and according to law he should not have tried to stop it, more policemen were sent to the scene. Three came.

Speakers from the platform spoke about these actions of the police. They showed that their actions proved that the capitalists use the state power to prevent the working class from awakening from its oppressed position in society. The applause from the workers at the words of the speakers was so prolonged and enthusiastic that in the face of it the police were helpless. The meeting then went on until its originally intended close.

ARMED

(By a Worker Correspondent)

CALGARY, Alberta, (By Mail)—The warm cloudy weather of this summer has brought a bumper crop of straw which is hell to stock and very hard on the backs of the workers. You will do well to stay away from this place and not allow yourself to be bunked by transportation companies, as you will be obliged to compete with slavish conditions imposed upon thousands and thousands of poor middle Europe immigrants who have been shipped here and starving since last August.

It is a well known fact, and will bear repeating, that at this time of the year English speaking migratory workers are in big demand in Western Canada penetentiaries where they gather the harvest in a radius of fifty miles of the jail, with insufficient food and under the nose of an armed guard, when a few days before Christmas they are turned loose to shift for themselves, and generally at 40 below zero. So be wise and stay away.

—M. B. B.

ANSCHLUSS TOUR BRINGS THREATS

Little Entente Talks Armed Opposition

VIENNA, July 26.—Anschlussers, campaigning for a union of Germany and Austria, headed by Reichstag President Loebe, toured Austrian cities yesterday and today. Loebe declares that the movement is not engineered by the North Germans.

* * *

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 26—The project for the unification of Germany and Austria is being met here with strong opposition and threats of military occupation of Austria.

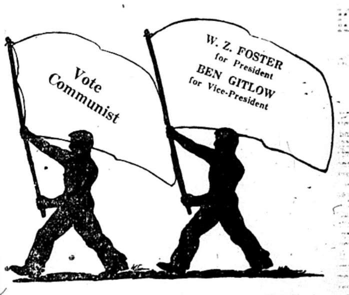
YOUTH TO MEET SATURDAY TO AID TEXTILE STRIKE

To Hold Tag Day for Miners, Mill Workers

The Youth Conference for Miners' and Textile Relief will hold a one-day Tag Day Saturday. The money collected will be sent to the striking textile workers and the miners.

"We have sent over $5,500 for the relief of the striking miners," the statement of the Youth Conference reads, "but not yet enough for the textile workers. We are going out big now in the drive to help the New Bedford strikers. We are going to help the rank and file workers organized in the Textile Mill Committees, and not the fakers like Batty and his socialistic crew who are dividing and splitting up the workers there. We know that the textile workers are putting up a stiff fight; they are struggling for militant unionism, against the speedup system, aainst the wage cut—and at the same time against the misleaders and betrayers of the workers, Batty and Manning."

The statement concludes with: "the Young Peoples Socialist League, which at one time was affiliated with the Youth Conference, but later on sneaked out of affiliation and organized a dual youth relief body with some pacifist and liberal clubs, has tried hard to pose as the sole supporter of the textile workers. The Youth Conference has already sent in as much as any youth relief committee—and sent in this money to the real representatives of the workers.



Order a Bundle!

Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.

Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.

Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.

$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).

Enclosed find $.........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR

Freiheit Picnic

Saturday, July 28

Ulmer Park, Brooklyn

THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.

THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.

ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Polish Miners' Walk-Out Ties Up Coal Districts as Thousands Down Tools for a Day

DOMBROWA AND CRACOW FIELDS ARE PARALYZED

Men Demand Living Wages

WARSAW, Poland, July 26.—While tension grew between the Lithuanian and Polish governments, thousands of Polish coal miners yesterday walked out on a one-day general strike in protest against conditions existing in their industry.

The strike, which comes out of rank and file agitation in the form of a decision of the Executive Committee of the miners' union, was announced several days ago.

By noon yesterday the walk-out was complete in the Cracow and Dombrowa districts, where the enthusiasm of the men for the general walk-out was great. In Upper Silesia the walk-out was nearly complete.

The miners have warned the operators that the present strike is only a foretaste of what will happen, provided conditions in the coal mining industry are not remedied at once. At present the men are earning as low as 50 cents a day.

Using the strike as a threat to frighten the government, the coal operators are attempting to bully the Polish government to give them a subsidy in the form of cheaper freight rates on export coal. The railroad officials in the government have not done this to date.

NEW EVIDENCE IN CENTRALIA CASES

Committee to Fight for Liberation

Continued from Page One

day to sit in the court-room in their uniforms and intimidate witnesses and jurors; of the thirty or more affidavits showing a raid on the hall before any shooting; of the scandal school for witnesses at Montesano during the trial where each witness for the prosecution was schooled in preparation for his false testimony; of the lynching and mutilation of at least one who dared to oppose; and so on in an endless chain of treachery, tyranny and injustice that would make Nero blush for shame."

He tells of the formation of a new committee for liberation in the Northwest; of a visit to the parole board with a group including the secretary of the Tacoma Central Labor Council, a vice-president of the Washington State Federation representing the Spokane Labor Council, and of Charlotte Todes, Seattle secretary of the International Labor Defense, who also heads the Centralia Liberation Committee.

Appealing to all workers to join in the fight for the freedom of the Centralia men, he concludes: "Let's do this one thing well; let's bring together all the power at our command to force the release of our noble brothers who have stood the brunt of the fight to organize the timber industry."

BIG OVATION FOR SANDINO OFFICIAL

Mexicans Demonstrate Solidarity

Continued from Page One

can minister in Tegucigalpa, has at the country's eastern harbor a professional murderer, Ramon Mondragon, from whom I had to flee in order not to become a new victim."

"What about Sandino's malaria?" the correspondent inquired. "That is a fairy tale to divert the American people's attention from the fact that an unprecedented outrage is being committed in Nicaragua and to hide from them the numerous casualties that have resulted from it. The rumor of Sandino's ailment is similar to the prophecy of the chief officer of the marines relative to the extermination of Sandino and his followers before the beginning of the rainy season.

"Gen. Sandino and his men are in [illegible] moral condition and I am able now to state, quoting him, that the enemies' casualties amount to very near 1,800 men, and that the arms with which they are fighting for their liberty were and are being taken from the American head marines. A battle was fought some time ago out of which not one marine came out alive, although nothing of this was reported by Secretary of Navy Wilbur. The mere nomination of Cancada to the presidency will not be the signal to end the fighting, as Sandino has set as the imperative condition the immediate evacuation of the Nicaraguan soil by the North American imperialist marines."

[illegible] carried with him the [illegible] given him by Gen. Sandino [illegible] him to represent the [illegible] government.

Obregon, Victim of Clericals, Is Buried

Standing with heads uncovered at the bier of Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, recently assassinated by Jose de Leon Toral, a tool of the clericals, many of his associates paid their last respects to the dead. President Calles is indicated by arrow. Obregon was buried in the mountains in his native state of Sonora. By the wish of Obregon, no religious ceremony was permitted at his funeral.

APPEAL AGAINST POLICE CONTROL

Fight for Free Speech In Philadelphia

An appeal to the Superior Court at Philadelphia will be taken from the recent decision of Judge Alessandroni of the Court of Common Pleas upholding police control over public meetings in private halls, according to an announcement made yesterday by the American Civil Liberties Union. The decision, handed down July 16, involves 16 men arrested for "disorderly conduct" on February 12 when the Philadelphia Council of Unemployed attempted to hold a Lincoln's Birthday meeting in a private hall, despite police refusal to grant a permit.

The police, acting under orders from Superintendent Mills, according to the Union, blocked entrance to the hall where the meeting was scheduled, and when some 500 men went to another hall, lined up and barred the door to that also. When speakers within the second hall attempted to speak from the windows, the police entered the building and made arrests.

Although Judge Alessandroni's ruling releases 10 of the 16 defendants because of insufficient evidence, it affirms the $10 fines imposed on the other six by the magistrate's court, and holds that the police have supervisory power over meetings, and that no meeting may be held if they prohibit it. The Civil Liberties Union contends that the police have no legal right to censor meetings in private halls. Repeated efforts to get a court ruling were unavailing until this case arose. David Wallerstein, Philadelphia attorney who has conducted the cases in the lower courts, will represent the Union in the appeal.

Chemists Produce Synthetic Rubber

EVANSTON, Ill., July 25 (UP).—A synthetic lumber has been produced by chemists as another item in their farm relief program, it was brought out at the institute of chemistry at Northwestern University here today.

The chemists are bringing before the farmers new methods as to how their supposed useless articles may be turned to profit. They have emphasized the use of corn stalks and straw in development of new material, and O. R. Sweeney of Iowa State College today added this new industry to the list.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

CONTINUE FIGHT FOR GAS HEARING

Injunction Is Planned Against Commission

Adhering to its ruling of a week ago, the big-business controlled upstate Public Service Commission refused again yesterday to allow opponents of the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York and the Brooklyn Edison Company to present their case in the interest of gas and light consumers in New York City.

The official stand taken was that no person not owning stock in either of the companies was entitled to any consideration in the matter.

Grafters Head Commission.

Chairman Prendergast, who in 1911 was the city comptroller of New York and who together with Mayor William J. Gainor and the entire city board of estimate and apportionment, were bought up by the traction trust, and George R Van Namee, Tammany politician who led the Smith pre-convention activities, were the only members of the commission on the bench at yesterday's hearing.

The Public Committee on Power may seek to enjoin the commission from proceeding to a decision on the ground that a proper hearing has not yet been held, it was announced.

Huge Merger.

It was recently revealed that the Koppits Gas and Coke Company of Philadelphia, a Mellon concern, has bought deeply into the stocks of both the Consolidated and the Edison companies, and that the proposed merger will be merely a final step in the formation of a huge, single-controlled light and gas trust extending from Philadelphia to Boston with its pivot point in New York.

Arkansas to Vote On Anti-Evolution

The first state-wide anti-evolution referendum ever held will take place in Arkansas, Nov. 6.

At the last session of the Arkansas legislature, 1927, the Rotenberry Anti-Evolution bill passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 51 to 46, but was defeated in the senate by a vote of 16 to 14. Adopting a new strategy, which they threaten to employ in every state having the initiative and referendum, the fundamentalists have filed a petition for a state referendum.

The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism will take the field against the fundamentalists. Its president, Charles Smith, a native of Arkansas, will leave within six weeks for Little Rock to establish a campaign base there, and will return there early in October to aid in the fight against the anti-evolutionists.

WORLD CONGRESS HEARS WORKERS PARTY PROBLEMS

Balkan Situation Also Discussed

Continued from Page One

supply most of the cannon fodder during wars.

Stabilization is very shaky in the Balkans, he said, and the bourgeoisie is not able to find a stable foundation.

It is impossible to solve the differences between Italy and Jugo-Slavia peacefully hence the danger of war. The social democrats in the Balkans are assisting the terror against the revolutionary workers, this fast must therefore determine the Communist attitude to the social democrats. The Communist Parties of the Balkans have overcome severe crises.

Pepper Speaks.

Pepper then declared that Dunne, of the United States, had spoken only for himself, whereas the rest of the American delegation agreed with Bukharin. American imperialism is not exhausted, he said. The growth of capitalism does not exclude the growth of internal contradictions. On the contrary, the rapid growth of the economic and political power of American capitalism has caused severe internal and external conflicts.

The increasing radicalization of the American masses is present only in certain industries and does not embrace all the decisive sections of the proletariat. On the contrary, a tendency toward "becoming respectable" is still presen in cerain sections.

The Central Committee of the Workers Party has corrected the opportunist errors of former party leaders, who are now accusing the Central Committee of opportunism.

Youth Movement.

Blenkle, of the German Young Communist League, declared the organizational situation of the Young Communist Leagues unsatisfactory, though not stagnant. There has been a falling off in membership in the Communist Children's Leagues, whereas the social democratic children's leagues are growing. The Communist Parties must support the Young Communist Leagues, he declared.

Hannington, of Great Britain, then asserted that Bukharin's analysis failed sufficiently to treat the unemployment problem, which is one of the greatest questions of the day. The Communist International will make a mistake if it neglects the unemployment question, as the unemployed workers represent a great factor against capitalism.

Prague Police Arrest 150 Workers Red Day

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (By Mail).—In Prague 150 workers were arrested because of the Red Day (July 5). Many of the arrested were put in chains because they shouted revolutionary slogans.

At the intervention of the Representatives Hruska and Landa-Stychov in the name of the Red Aid some of the prisoners were freed.

Raids have been made on the numerous local workers' organizations and on the homes of Communist functionaries.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c
1 month $1
2 months $1.50
3 months $2

Enclosed find $...........
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

Militarist Propaganda Keeps Air Victims Mounting

By every means at the command of its publicity and propaganda experts, the United States war department is preaching air consciousness in order to prepare the ground for the coming imperialist war. Ill-trained pilots and novices who are carried away by the exhilaration of flying itself have been the Principal victims of the government's propaganda. The picture shows the end of one such tragedy where two occupants of what was once a plane, crashed to earth at Jersey City.

'BOMBS FAIL' TO DISRUPT RELIEF

Washington Meeting Is Big Success

WOODLAND, Wash., July 26.—Students of the Woodland Workers' School were refused a hall here yesterday in which to meet for the purpose of raising some funds to aid the starving miners. Undaunted by the efforts on the part of local authorities to prevent any gathering, the worker-students held an outdoor meeting.

The meeting was greeted with outbursts of enthusiasm on the part of the workers gathered to listen to the speakers. It is probably the first open-air meeting at which so much as $17 was collected.

The local business interests, which in the first instance had urged the authorities here to refuse a hall for the miners' relief meeting were angered by the success of the meeting and threw stink bombs among the throng. The meeting, however, continued with the same high spirit until its end, notwithstanding the attempts to break it up on the part of business interests.

CHORUS GIRLS FORM A UNION

CHICAGO, July 26.—A mass meeting of chorus girls, held here recently, decided to organize into a union and affiliate themselves with the Actors' Equity Association an A. F. of L. union. The meeting was called by Ann Lord and Loretta Clevinger.

The latter stated that there 2,400 chorus girls in Chicago and that they all are underpaid and must work any number of hours their employers demand. The new union will demand a minimum wage of $35 per week for city girls and $45 per week for girls on the road. They will also demand a regulated work day.

RESTS WEARY BONES—Paris (UP)—President Doumergue has left to spend his vacation at the official summer capital at Rambouillet.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Police Beat; Objective Court Punishes Worker

BERLIN (By Mail).—In the Tempelhof court three workers were tried on June 27. Ten witnesses were called. The story of their crime is as follows: At the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Soviet Union the "Leunalied" was sung, and the police felt themselves to be insulted. One of the accused, Max Kube, was beaten down by a policeman's club. Unconscious and covered with blood, Kube was dragged into a auto, taken to the police station, treated there for eight weeks, and until today is disabled.

Now he sits on the accused bench, together with Hertwig and Henschel, who attempted to protect him from further mistreatment by the police.

The charge is: resistance to the state power. Kube was also charged with hitting an officer from behind.

Witnesses swear that Kube neither sang nor did anything, but without much ado was beaten by the police. The sluggers, however, told another story. And the court decided energetic use of the police had prevented a heavy slaughter. Kube was sentenced to 75 marks fine and 15 days in prison.

Russian Fraction to Hold Meeting Tonight

An important meeting of the Russian fraction of the Workers (Communist) Party in New York will be held tonight at 8 p. m. in the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Squae, on the 6th floor.

Important matters are on the agenda, and all members are urged to be present.

GOOD-WILL MAN GUARDED

BUENOS AYRES, July 26.—President-elect Guggiari of Paraguay, who is making a "good-will" tour of a number of South American republics, had to be escorted to the train by a squadron of armed guards. He was present at the funeral ceremonies of the vice-president-elect of Brazil, Biero.

RENEW TERROR IN BULGARIA

Working Class Editors in Prison

SOFIA, July 26.—The fascist regime has renewed its persecution of the workers' and peasants' organizations. The first victims of the offensive are the editors of the working class press.

The following were put in prison: Two editors of the "Novini," the editor of the "Natschalo," the editor of the trade union paper "Edinstwi." The editors were so mishandled in prison that the editor of the Natschalo, who was thrown into a dark cell, went on a hunger strike.

ROSARIO STRIKE GROWS AS PEACE BID IS REJECTED

Power Plant Workers Back Carmen

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 26.—The water works workers, whose early participation in the big Rosario walk-out formed one of the links which made the strike virtually a general strike, even in its early stages, have refused an offer of the owners to return to their jobs on terms that grant them more than they originally demanded. Their refusal to return to work is an expression of solidarity with the other trades now out in the city.

The move on the part of the power plant officials to break the strike of the carmen, dockers and transportation workers was met with a united resistance on the part of the workers.

The solidarity of the electric plant workers with the rest of the strikers has left the impression among hundreds of strikers that the general strike movement is gaining impetus.

In the meantime the harbor traffic of Rosario, the second largest port in Argentina and one of the grain centers of the world, is completely paralyzed. Shipping agents here adopted a resolution unanimously declaring their intention of continuing the boycott of the port.

All shipments of grain have ceased and 300,000 tons of grain are lying on the wharves awaiting export.

HEADS STRIKEBREAKERS

GARDEN CITY, L. I., July 26 (UP).—Elvin Wheeler of Elmira was elected president of the New York State Association of Police Chiefs today. He had served as vice-president last year.

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
83 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

A Worker's Tour to Soviet Russia
TO WITNESS THE CELEBRATION OF THE NOVEMBER REVOLUTION
"EVERY WORKER SHOULD PARTICIPATE"
The Group Sails October 17th on the Cunard Express Steamer "MAURETANIA"
VIA LONDON COPENHAGEN HELSINGFORS
7 DAYS of Interesting Sightseeing in LENINGRAD and MOSCOW
RETURN WARSAW BERLIN PARIS
$375.00
May Be Paid in Monthly Installments. First Payment $25.00.
(FREE VISES—EXTENSIONS ARRANGED FOR TO VISIT ANY PART OF U. S. S. R.)
WORLD TOURISTS, INC.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent Discount in Lots of 100 or More
Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS
The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.
The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

NORTH DAKOTA RESTAURANT WORKERS' GLORIOUS WAGES TOTAL AS HIGH AS $7 A WEEK---SOMETIMES

(By a Worker Correspondent)

BISMARCK, N. D. (By Mail).—In this state of North Dakota where wages for waiters, waitresses and restaurant workers are considered high, the waitresses are working for seven dollars ($7) per week. These girls are working seven days a week and ten hours a day in order to get their full salary. If they are absent or not on time they do not receive full pay and find that at the end of the week their pay-check has been lowered.

These workers, like almost all other workers here, have no union to help them in their struggles for higher wages and better working conditions. One of the waitresses in making a statement in answer to a question asked her in regard to a union said: "I cannot see what a union could do for us as the bosses are all organized and they would fight against us, and there are so many unemployed restaurant workers at this time that we would have no chance at all to win out. Just a short time ago I told my boss that I couldn't live on seven dollars a week and he replied that it was not his fault and that if I didn't like it I could quit."

However, this is not any particular case as the conditions of these workers are terrible. They are not allowed to sit down once during the entire day as long as they are on duty and do not get a minute off to themselves during their working time.

Talk about exploitation, we have it here in North Dakota as developed as in any other state in these United (capitalist) States. —J.

Trufood Workers Picket in Rain and Heat; Force Cafe Closure, Correspondent Says

HANdOuTS

It is now announced that the "lively and impressive impromptu ovations" which greeted Hoover's train on its trip to the coast were organized by C. Blascom Slemp, national committeeman.

• • •

Under capitalism the law is supposed to apply to rich and poor alike. But if you have a bank account with five or six figures it doesn't apply quite so vigorously to you. The rich have never had the slightest respect for the law except when they use it as a weapon to keep the workers enslaved. The men who are supposed to enforce the law have even less respect for it. This can be seen from the following words of District Attorney Stuart Culbertson of Meadville, Pa., describing the convention of the Pennsylvania State Sheriffs' Association in a hotel at Conneaut Lake, Pa.:

"When we got there we could hear them cursing. I broke into the place and found them reeling about like a lot of drunken hogs. It was the worst mess I ever saw. Bottles were being hurled about, men were fighting and two of them attacked me. We arrested the bellhop as he was serving liquor [They] destroyed a whole bathtub of bottled liquor which was packed on ice.

"They were all in a bad way. I told them who I was, and they asked me to free the bellhop, but I refused. There were at least 40 men in the room, and all of them were drunk."

• • •

If a worker thinks it's all a mistake and that the sheriffs really administer the law impartially instead of only where the graft is thickest he should listen to the following words of Thomas Garfield Sherrett, president of the Pennsylvania State Sheriffs' Association:

"To hell with the District Attorney of Crawford County and Prohibition, too!"

• • •

"We Are Lost"

If a poor working class mother manages to save up sufficient carfare to take her family to Coney Island on a hot afternoon she can console herself, leisurely, with such reveries as "I wonder if John is out past his depth? I do hope Mary doesn't fall off the scenic railway." Also, if she has six children, she is lucky if she gets through the afternoon without losing more than two. In fact, dozens of children misplace their parents at Coney Island every day. Above is a group waiting to be called for at the police station. No such problems trouble a rich woman if she is so indiscreet as to have a couple of children. Her children are sent out to bathe surrounded with so many governesses that at the end of the day you are more liable to be shy a governess than a child.

Gems of Learning

John J. Raskob, Catholic Democratic National Chairman:—"There comes a time in the life of a nation when men not in politics feel called upon to take an active instead of a passive interest in government." If you wonder who calls them, remember money talks.

Restaurant to Donate to Election Fund Drive

The Health Food Restaurant, at 1600 Madison Ave., between 107th and 108th Sts., will donate 20 per cent of its income of today and tomorrow to the Workers (Communist) Party election campaign fund. This has been procured by the members of Unit 1, Section 4 of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Some time ago, the Health Food Restaurant contributed 25 per cent of its proceeds for two days to the striking miners. All workers in New York City are urged to patronize this restaurant for the purpose of aiding in their own drive.

DEMAND UNION RECOGNITION; PAY INCREASES

Open Shop Scheme Is Checked

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Owners of the Trufood Vegetarian Restaurants are vainly trying their best to break down the spirit of the striking waiters and waitresses. While the strike is entering its fourth week the pickets are doing their duty in the sweltering heat as well as in the rainstorms.

"Close or Sign Up!"

The slogan of the workers is the same as it was the first day of the walk-out: "Close up the stores or sign up with the union."

Patrons of the Trufood Restaurants walk down to the picket line and assure the strikers of their sympathy. "Don't give up, kids, we won't go in to eat unless the bosses give you union conditions."

The result of this wide sympathy on the part of the patrons was that the Trufood bosses were forced to close up one of their restaurants on 40th St., between Broadway and 6th Ave.

The bosses tried to use this event as a maneuver for their ends and called a conference with the strikers. Then they invited them to go back to work without recognizing the union. "Otherwise the Trufood will be closed and will be transformed into a cafeteria," they threatened.

Won't Give Up

But the strikers will never give up their just demands. Those who were freed from picket line duty as a result of having their restaurant closed were sent to work on union jobs with the understanding that as soon as the Trufood reopens, they would be placed back on the picket line.

The closing up of a restaurant is looked upon by the strikers as a partial victory. It shows them how strong they are with their determination to win better working conditions, shorter hours and higher wages. H. S.

CIVIL SERVICE LABOR GAGGED

Must Not Take Part in Electioneering

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP).—The U. S. Civil Service Commission issued a formal warning to all federal employes today against participating in political campaigns this fall.

The commission stated that government employes under its jurisdiction who violated the edict would be dismissed.

• • •

WASHINGTON, July 25.—In spite of the warning issued by the Civil Service Commission, issued for the purpose of intimidating the thousands of workers holding down low-salaried government posts, the higher post-office officials and the leaders of the Civil Service Commission have every year been identified with the campaigns of their parties in organizing and agitating on behalf of their parties in power.

The white collar slaves employed by the government are among the most exploited and intimidated in the country.

PROTEST HALTED ON GAS MERGER

Prendergast Rejects Liberal's Appeal

William A. Prendergast, chairman of the Public Service Commission, announced yesterday that he has telegraphed Morris L. Ernst, attorney for the Public Committee on Power in New York State, confirming an earlier rumor that the commission does not consider his clients a "proper party" to the proceedings growing out of the petition of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York to acquire the stock of the Brooklyn Edison Company.

Prendergast has been exposed before this as the city comptroller of New York, who in 1911, together with Mayor William J. Gaines and the entire city Board of Estimate and Apportionment, was bought up by the traction interests.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., July 26.—A union of federal employes has been organized here. The organization has 50 charter members.

Future Fighters for the Working Class

The picture shows a group of young Pioneers who participated in a drill at a recent meeting of the International Labor Defense at Cleveland, Ohio. These future fighters for the working class are preparing themselves physically as well as mentally to join in the struggle against the capitalist system.

(Photo by George Elson, Cleveland)

PLUMBER OFFICIAL GIVES OUT FAVORS

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Many plumbers of Local 463, Bronx and Manhattan, are of the opinion that their president, "Bill" Doran, is a "good" man. "What does his goodness to the plumbers consist in?" I once asked a member of Local 463.

Gets Boss Favors

"Well, you know, 'Bill' can get more favors from the boss for us than any other man in the local," he replied.

"Do you think that the bosses are fools, that they give favors for nothing? Don't you think they demand something in return?"

"You're all wrong; 'Bill' is a good guy," and that ended the argument.

Halt Employment

Many plumbers are out of work now. While they are walking the streets others are working overtime on week days and Saturdays. This is a violation of the rules of Local 463, which says that no one may work overtime unless he gets the permission of the union. In some places work is also being done on Sundays. Of course "Bill" Doran and the other officials of Local 463 do nothing to stop these evils.

Now we understand why "Bill" Doran can get favors from the bosses. Not only do not these favors help the workers but they prevent a good many of them from being able to earn a few extra cents in order to make an appearance that they are living.

CASSELL.

WORKERS PARTY IN MINE MEET

Anthracite Subdistrict Active

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 26.—Delegates from the Workers Party nuclei in the anthracite sub-district will meet this Sunday, July 29, to discuss the present situation, to work out plans for the future and to mobilize the Party for the carrying out of these plans.

During the past months, the anthracite sub-district has showed definite progress in its work, as proven by the gaining of about 70 new members, the improved activity of the membership and the formation of new units, including 5 mine-nuclei. The organization of mine-nuclei is especially important.

Experience has proven that the turning of the Party's attention towards the place of work does not only put an end to the remnants of a language branch spirit, but it means increased activity in the mine and the union. More mine-nuclei will lead to a bigger Party and a bigger left wing.

The conditions today are favorable for this work. The situation in the tri-district with the bankruptcy of the fake opposition leaders, the sell-out of the soft-coal miners by Lewis, and the increase in unemployment, together with the attack of the operators, is opening the eyes of many miners. They are answering with strikes to the offensive against the union conditions. They are beginning to realize that after the destruction of the union in the bituminous fields, the anthracite will follow. They are becoming more and more receptive to the message of the Party and the left wing.

$18,000 SHORT IN TAMMANY GRAFT

Glee Club Does Its Bit to Uphold Tradition

A shortage of $18,000 in the books of the Police Glee Club was revealed yesterday after an inquiry conducted by Police Inspector Lewis J. Valentine. Tammany police Commissioner Warren, whose attention was called to the shortage, refused to declare himself on the issue before he communicated with Mayor Walker, who is now cavorting with the pretty ladies of filmland in Hollywood.

The findings of Inspector Valentine disclosed the sale of "benefit" tickets by certain members of the Glee Club to owners of night clubs and speakeasies and to others thruout the city. These tickets, it is asserted, were sold "over and over again."

STEAMFITTERS WIN UNION.

DETROIT, July 26.—Steamfitters here won a union-shop and better working conditions.

MACHADO TERROR CLAIMS VICTIM

HAVANA, Cuba, July 25.—Continued terrorist activity of the Cuban police in their campaign against the workers came to light today with the announcement of the discovery of a new "plot" to assassinate President Machado.

The report, which resulted in the immediate arrest of Miguel Gonzales at Santiago de Cuba, was made by Chief of Judicial Police Alfonso L. Fors.

Cuban police have engaged in a campaign of persecution since their conference with Machado, when plans for the present activities are alleged to have been laid.

HOW DOES YOUR NUCLEUS WORK?

What problems is it confronted with?

What questions would you like answered?

The Communist Nucleus
What It Is
How It Works
By M. JENKS

Just off the press!

Deals with and solves the problems of your nucleus.

A real manual for work in your nucleus.

Secure Your Copy NOW!
15 Cents

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th St.
New York City

RIGHT WING IN CAPMAKERS WIN GANG VICTORY

But Militants Expose Jobless Fund Fraud

(By a Worker Correspondent)

A ridiculous comedy was staged by the right wing officialdom at the meeting of the Capmakers Local 1 last Saturday night, which was to have been held for elections of a new executive board.

Rank and File Stay Home.

The worst elements in the organization, the proud possessors of "life-jobs," these working bootleg overtime with the consent of the officialdom at a time when hundreds of capmakers are walking the streets jobless, were mobilized to come to the meeting. But the great majority of the capmakers, those compelled to come to the bureaucrats for a job, remained at home.

When it comes to permitting balloting, so that all the membership can have an opportunity to participate in the elections for union functionaries, that is out of the question. Zaritsky and his club-controlled locals will never permit secret elections and can maintain control only so long as they know that the members would fear to be seen registering their vote against the administration.

At the meeting it was seen that no one, not a member of Zaritsky's club had any chance to be elected. Even those openly speaking against the left wing, but not members of his clique, lost out when the gang vote was "counted."

The cynical railroading thru of Zaritsky's hand-picked executive board was in no way delayed by the left wing speakers' exposure of the union wrecking activities of the Zaritsky gang. J. Schogel, S. Boerum, Abe Jonas and others assailed the "reelected" right wing executive board for supporting Zaritsky in his campaign to force piece-work and the return of the 44-hour week upon the membership, and also his deliberate destruction of the organization by expulsion of all progressive elements opposed to his sellout policies.

"Regular Boys," Exposed.

The militants speaking also expose the officialdom's criminal neglect in collecting the three per cent unemployment insurance fund from the manufacturers. This was consciously done in order not to irritate the friends of the right wing, the employers, it was explained. As a result of this the employment fund which provided the jobless with a dole enabling them to carry on, was completely shut down.

At the so-called vote count, the chairman, one of the regular boys concluded with a vote total far larger than the entire attendance at the meeting. These are the details of how the right wing of Local 1 achieved a great victory for themselves. —M. M.

Film Record of a Scientific Expedition at the Cameo

CAPTAIN SNOW'S picture story, "Hunting Big Game in Africa," now being shown at the Cameo Theatre, is one of the films that merit revival. Originally shown on Broadway a few years ago it still stands as one of the best of its kind.

It is a record of two years spent in the African jungles in search of specimens for the Oakland Museum of Natural History. The opening scenes allow a glimpse into the whaling industry on the African coast. From then on the pictorial records of the expedition follow systematically the progress of each step into the jungles.

Modes of travel in the different sections of the country are an interesting feature: By mule teams, to oxen, to camels, then by Ford and finally the only way possible, by foot. Meanwhile as the different stages are reached the animal life of each section is given with startling success. Since this was the purpose of the expedition, the human life of the jungles is only secondary. What there is of it in the films—the native customs and ceremonial rites—are a welcome addition to the story.

Securing specimens is a dangerous task. Leopards, rhinos, buffalo and elephants particularly are not willing to give up their hides without a battle. As a result some of the incidents of the hunt are thrilling. A charging elephant dashing into the lens is obvious danger.

The revival of films of such interest by the Film Arts Guild makes a trip to the Cameo especially worthwhile to the proletarian arm-chair traveler whose traveling must necessarily be confined between the factory and the home.

Charge Bank Official With Stealing Funds

BOSTON, July 25 (UP).—Charged with misapplication of approximately $30,000 in bank funds, Frederick Salder of Jamaica Plain, assistant treasurer of the United States Trust Company, was arraigned in federal court on a secret indictment here today.

He pleaded not guilty and was ordered held uner $5,000 bond.

The indictment, containing seven counts, charges that Slater, over a period of years, by negotiation of fictitious notes and mortgages for which cashiers' checks were obtained and negotiated, converted to his own use the proceed.

1852 THE SAME ADDRESS OVER 75 YEARS 1928
METROPOLITAN SAVINGS BANK
ASSETS EXCEEDING $29,000,000
Deposits made on or before the 3rd day of the month will draw interest from the 1st day of the month.
Last Quarterly Dividend paid on all amounts from $5.00 to $7,500.00, at the rate of 4½%
Open Mondays (all day) until 7 P. M.
Banking by Mail Society Accounts Accepted
We Sell A. B. A. Travelers Certified Checks
No 1 THIRD AVE. Cor. 7th ST.

THE DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY

N. OGNYOV

What does a boy of twelve think about in the land where workers rule?

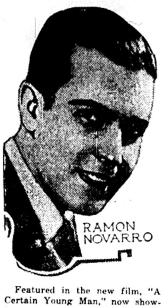
This simple diary of a schoolboy in Soviet Russia has puzzled many a wise bourgeois critic. New standards, new ideas, a new life—richer and more creative. Such things seem at first unlikely and fantastic to a dusty brain.

But the "Diary" speaks for itself.

Price, $2.50

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

RAMON NOVARRO



Featured in the new film, "A Certain Young Man," now showing at Loew's State Theatre.

NEW PRESS AGENTS' UNION HOLDS WELCOME PARTY

The recently organized Association of Theatrical Agents and Managers held a meeting last night in the Fisk building. The organization recently received a charter from the American Federation of Labor, and last night's meeting was a special gathering to welcome the co-operation of the stage unions.

Members of the American Federation present pledged the support of the organization. Edward Canavan, president of the State Hands' Union; Frank Gilmore of the Actors' Equity, and Joseph Weber of the American Federation of Musicians, were on hand to pledge their support.

MONESSEN TIN COMPANY BUYS GIRLS CHEAPER

Their Labor Costs Less Than Men's

(By a Worker Correspondent)

MONESSEN, Pa., (By Mail).—Am sending another letter about the working conditions here in Monessen. The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company is supposed to start to work Sunday nights and work till four o'clock Saturday.

The company sure can work the men as they are pleased now with plenty of men standing at the gates looking for employment.

Last winter the mill worked only part time and half of the men had to work doubled up, (doubled up means two men on one job) and when a worker works doubled up, he only receives half as much pay as he would if he worked alone. And now when the hot weather is on they make the workers work every day and also make them work on Saturday till four o'clock, where before they only worked till eight o'clock in the morning.

How long will the workers stand for the dirty work that that company plays on them year after year? In the mills here we have the insurance and safety first signs all over the mill. They have posters tacked up which read as follows: "Be a Tight Wad. Save Your Earnings. Work Steady and Save for the Rainy Day," and so forth. A fellow worker asked me the other day as we were standing and reading these posters, "How in the hell can a fellow save for the rainy day, when all he can make goes for the upkeep of his family?" The workers here are working under the most rotten conditions imaginable. We do not have washrooms or lockers where we can keep our clothes or wash. —E. E.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT"

DRAMATIC CRITIC DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 26 (UP).—Henry Tilford Parker, 45 former New York dramatic critic and prominent in newspaper and theatrical circles here, died today after an illness of 18 months.

Read This First!

1. We say "read this first," because this requires action!
2. This is the big week. Every man, woman and child in sympathy with the struggling coal miners will co-operate fully in our National Miners' Relief and Defense Week.
3. Every subscriber of this paper must take the contribution list sent him and collect funds in shop and factory, in union and lodge, from friends and neighbors.
4. Every subscriber of this paper must register with the National Miners' Relief Secretary or the International Labor Defense Secretary of his city at once, and take part in the big house-to-house collections on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29.
5. If you have not received a contribution list for this special drive for funds then write us this minute and we will send you one by special delivery mail. Everybody must help just a little more at this most critical period.

If the Coal Miners and Their Families Ever Needed Assistance--

They Need It Now!

National Miners' Relief and Defense Week

Conducted Jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee, International Labor Defense

Address all mail and make all remittances to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Penn.

KERS IN NEW RSEY PLAN FOR IG CONVENTION

Will Ratify Communist Program

In response to a call issued by the New Jersey Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party, New Jersey labor organizations and workers' fraternal clubs are electing delegates to represent them at the ratification convention of the Workers (Communist) Party, which will be held on Sunday, August 5, at 10 a. m., at the Workers Progressive Center, 93 Mercer St., Newark, N. J.

In its convention call, the New Jersey Campaign Committee lays special emphasis on the importance of the coming election to New Jersey workers. The call points out that New Jersey, the home of big corporations and special interests, notorious for its anti-labor record, is ruled by the democratic machine through Mayor Hague and by the republican machine through U. S. Senator Edge, the corporation lawyer.

Calls Upon Workers

Calling upon all workers to support the program of the Workers (Communist) Party, the Campaign Committee emphasizes the fact that the two major capitalist parties are functioning more and more openly as agents of Big Business. The role played by these parties in the everyday lives of workers is evidenced by the number of injunctions issued against workers on strike and the practices of police brutality against such workers, as in the Passaic textile strike.

The convention call reminds New Jersey workers of the practice of killing labor bills in their legislature, and goes on to stress the fact that despite constantly rising unemployment no relief has been given to the unemployed.

85 JAILED MILL PICKETS BAILED

Great T. M. C. Strike Parade Tomorrow

Continued from Page One

After the riot act had been read ordering the strikers to "disperse to their respective domiciles," and the response of the thousands of pickets and spectators had been to completely ignore the police ceremony that deprived them of their constitutional rights, the arrests began.

"Get Your Man."

"Each one get your man," the deputy chief shouted. The combined police force charged the marching lines of men, women and children with swinging clubs. Many of the police went after the spectators. Many workers on picket duty as well as on the side lines were injured. Those arrested were jammed into huge waiting police vehicles which took them to the lockup.

* * *

Workers Not Frightened.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 26.—Despite yesterday's arrests about 800 textile strikers here turned out to the picket line at the Sharp Mill this morning. They were the members of the Textile Mill Committees.

A picket line of more than a score of members of the Textile Council also put in an appearance and picketed the mill.

* * *

Preparing Parade.

Acting on the assumption that two weeks ago the mayor granted a permit for a parade to the N.B.T.W.U. and hearing nothing to the contrary yet, the N.B.T.W.U. is arranging for the biggest parade the city has ever seen to take place July 28, Saturday at 2 p. m. There is no doubt in any one's mind but that 20,000 workers and sympathizers will parade.

Fight Trust Prepares Last Details of Battle

The picture shows workers preparing the high power electric before the Tunney-Heeney fight scheduled for last night. The fight capitalists lavish huge sums on the "scenery" amidst which their picked performers box. The lumber in the back is part of the stands where a seat costs $40.

YANKS BREAK EVEN; GIANTS ARE BEATEN

The Philadelphia Athletics gained a half game on the league-leading Yankees today when they beat the Chicago White Sox 5 to 1, while the New York Yankees split a double bill with the Detroit Tigers, winning the first 2 to 1 in twelve innings and losing the second 13 to 10.

It was the third straight victory for the Athletics. Doubles by Fox and Cobb in the third inning insured the win.

The Yankees scored eleven runs in the twelfth inning of the first game to break a 1 to 1 tie.

* * *

The St. Louis Cardinals retained their lead in the penant race Thursday by beating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6 to 1. Grover Alexander pitched fine ball and Frisch, Harper and Douthit hit home runs.

Burleigh Grimes, former Giant, pitched his fourth victory for the Pittsburgh Pirates over the New York team. The score was 7 to 5. Carl Hubbell, rookie southpaw, began for New York but was replaced in the second inning by lefty Faulkner.

* * *

TODAY'S RESULTS

American League

New York 12, Detroit 1 (1st)
Detroit 13, New York 10 (2nd)
Philadelphia 5, Chicago 1
Cleveland 4, Boston 2 (1st)
Cleveland 4, Boston 3 (2nd)
St. Louis 7, Washington 5 (1st)
Washington 6, St. Louis 4 (2nd)

National League

Pittsburgh 7, New York 5
St. Louis 6, Brooklyn 1
Cincinnati 6, Philadelphia 4
Boston 7, Chicago 6

33 NEW WORLD RECORDS APPROVED

AMSTERDAM, July 26 (UP).—Thirty-three new world athletic records, of which 10 are Americans, were approved today by the Records Committee of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, and will be referred to the International Athletic Congress for ratification.

Six Finnish records and five German were approved by the records committee. The American records include the following: 100-yards—Charles Paddock, at Los Angeles, and Chester Bowman, at Lincoln, Neb.; 9.6 seconds. 220 yards—Roland Locke, at Lincoln, Neb., 20.6 seconds. Pole Vault—S. W. Carr, at Philadelphia, 14 feet. Discus Throw—Clarence L. Houser, at Palo Alto, Calif; 158 feet, 1¾ inches. 400 Metre Hurdles—Morgan Taylor, at Philadelphia; 52 seconds.

* * *

HELEN WILLS WINS WAY TO FINALS

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, Mass., July 26 (UP).—Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, Cal., Queen of American tennis, won her way into the finals of the Essex County Club's annual women's invitation tournament here today. She eliminated Miss Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, 6-2, 6-0.

KRASSIN SAVES 1,500 ON LINER

Comes to Aid German Ship

Continued from Page One

message said, the Krassin will proceed to Stavanger for repairs. Then it will continue its search for the 12 missing men involved in the Italia disaster.

* * *

MOSCOW, July 26.—This city has again been thrilled by the latest feat of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. Answering an S. O. S. received yesterday afternoon from the Hamburg-South American liner Monte Cervantes, the Krassin plowed thru the icy waters full steam ahead and accomplished the rescue of 1500 passengers and crew aboard the German ship, which had struck an iceberg and sprung a leak.

The Krassin, which was on its way for Stavanger for overhauling after saving 16 men lost in the Arctic wastes, arrived at midnight alongside the big German liner.

Divers from the Krassin descended into the icy waters and lent aid in making repairs. As a result of the quick action of the Soviet icebreaker crew, the Monte Cervantes was enabled to steam to Bell Bay, where she anchored.

* * *

Third Soviet Ship to Leave.

MOSCOW, July 26 (UP).—A third Soviet expedition to the relief of six men blown away May 25 in the envelope of the dirigible Italia and the six men lost with Roald Amundsen was being organized with great haste today.

The Russian icebreaker Sedoff, now whale hunting off the northern coast of Nova Zembla, will conduct the search off the southern section of Franz Josefland and about Cape Flora. The Sedoff carries a Junkers airplane.

Relief workers here believe Amundsen and the Italians may be in this region, which has not yet been searched by rescue workers.

The Soviet icebreaker Maligin arrived at Archangel.

* * *

Refuse to Moor Nobile Ship.

OSLO, Norway, July 26.—Dockers of this city today gave expression to their intense feeling regarding the fascist General Nobile when they refused to moor his vessel, the "Citta di Milano," when it arrived here early this morning. One of the crew of the fascist ship was compelled to jump ashore to moor the vessel.

'RED ESSEX' TOUR CONTINUES WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Collect Signatures In Election Drive

A battered automobile, discarded by its original owner, may yet be seen occupying a place of honor in an historical revolutionary museum, when the workers and farmers of the United States supplant the present capitalist government with one of their own.

And its name is sure to be the "Red Essex."

Last week Comrades George Pearlman and Donald Burke drove their panting gasoline boat up to the headquarters of the New York District Committee, wiped their perspiring foreheads, and told the story of their adventures collecting signatures for the Communist candidates to Rebecca Grecht, campaign manager for the Empire State.

Covered 14 States.

Pearlman and Burke had covered fourteen counties on both sides of the Hudson, from Yonkers to Saratoga Springs and from Saratoga Springs to Haverstraw, and during the course of their labor they ran into scenes of poverty and destitution that would equal anything witnessed in the slums of London or Paris.

In most of these small towns there is little if any industry, and the population depends on the summer hotel trade for existence. If the summer trade is brisk, they are able to exist during the winter months on what they manage to save. But this year unemployment in the cities has hit hard at the industry—if industry it may be called—and the propertyless section of the population face the coming winter with a shudder of dread.

While the plight of the white workers is bad enough, that of the Negroes is so terrible that the conditions existing during chattel slavery days in the South were ideal in comparison.

Negroes Suffer.

Negroes find it almost impossible to secure lodging or a shack to rent. This miserable territory is infested with the Ku Klux Klan, who fire cannons off the tops of hills when commencing their rites. Those befuddled people are bitterly anti-radical, and in some villages practically everybody from the grandfather to the toddling infant is a member.

Wherever the klan is dominant, life for the Negro is unbearable. In the city of Athens a Negro family lived in a one-room shack which was so small that it could not house the old second-hand installment plan piano. It had to be put outside the shanty. Negroes, as well as other workers, can only find part-time employment. When out of work, they are obliged to borrow money which they must pay back when working.

The backwoods or poor farmers are hardly any better off. Ruined by the Borden Milk Trust, the farmers are at their wits' end to make ends meet. The Borden Company, which had previously purchased milk in Putnam county, started out to corner the market and ruin the independent milk companies. They bribed inspectors to declare the cows diseased and order the cattle killed inside of 24 hours. A few farmers wiser than the others called in a state inspector, who decided that the cattle were healthy. But it was too late. The power of the milk trust was too great. Now the Bordens are purchasing their milk in Canada and getting it at a much cheaper price.

Pearlman and Burke found the railroad workers 90 per cent. for getting the party on the ballot. They remembered the 1922 strike and the activity of William Z. Foster in that strike. They knew of the great steel strike, were against the Watson-Parker law, and were discontented with their working conditions. The signature collectors only had to say that the Workers (Communist) Party was a party of labor and the signatures were forthcoming.

In Chatham they collected 55 signatures in two hours.

The poor farmers were interested as soon as they were shown the Communist emblem with the sickle representing the farmers and the hammer the industrial workers. They signed readily.

Another interesting feature of the situation is the willingness of the women to give their signatures. They are feeling the effect of the low wages their husbands are receiving and want to register their protest.

Workers Party Activities

Bronx Y. W. L. Hike.

The McKinley Square unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League will hike to Hunter Island on Sunday. Those wishing to attending should meet at West Farms depot (177th St.) at 10 a. m. A big program including sports, swimming, canoeing and a bonfire, have been arranged by the committee in charge of the hike.

* * *

Factory District 2C.

Factory district 2C will hold a regular meeting tonight at 101 West 27th St. at 6:30 p. m. All members are requested to attend.

* * *

Unit F1, Subsection 2A.

A party mobilization meeting of Unit F1, Subsection 2A will be held tonight at 26-28 Union Square, 5th floor, at 6 p. m. Every member must be present without fail regardless of other conflicting activities.

* * *

"Fight War Danger."

"Fight the War Danger" leaflets and accompanying election campaign contribution envelopes are now ready in the district office. Every campaign director must call for these at once for distribution at open-air meetings. They must be used at every meeting up to August 4th.

* * *

Greek Fraction Meeting.

The Greek Fraction of the Workers (Communist) Party will meet tonight at 8 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. Very important matters will be taken up and all members are urged to be present.

* * *

Section 7 Drive.

The concentration week of the signature drive of Section 7 to place the names of the Workers (Communist) Party candidates on the ballot in New York State will begin on Sunday and last throughout the week until the following Sunday. All functionaries are especially instructed to lead this drive by reporting at the headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn, at 10 a. m. The section executive committee is at present preparing a prize award for the member who succeeds in collecting the greatest amount of signatures. Members of Section 2 and 3 are also instructed to report at the Section 7 headquarters.

* * *

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign and to place themselves in good standing. Section and unit executives are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

* * *

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2. John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

* * *

Note For Literature Agents.

The National Party platform is out. All section literature agents are urged to procure bundles of them at the Workers Book Shop, 26-28 Union Square. Additional copies of the "Communist" for July are also available.

* * *

Subsection 3E.

Subsection 3E will hold a membership meeting on Tuesday, 6:15 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All members must come on time, because action will be taken against members who fail to answer at the roll call.

REACTION MARKS TIME IN MEXICO

Continued from Page One

ces are responsible.

In a manifesto issued yesterday by the Mexican Communist Party, a virtual, though qualified pledge of support was given the Calles government against the forces of clericalism and other reaction which are seeking to unite against the militants and the labor movement whose support Calles is now forced to seek. The National Peasants' League, composed of landless and poor peasants in a manifesto similar to that of the Communist Party, definitely pledged its support to Calles and called upon the workers and peasants to unite against the Catholic reaction. Both manifestoes were at one in pointing to the danger from the reactionary agrarian and Catholic leaders and called also for an international bloc of South, Central and North American masses against imperialism.

(UP).—Miss Mercedes Gleitze, London stenographer, abandoned at about 5 p. m. today an attempt to swim the Irish Sea to Great Britain. She was half way across when she gave up.

DRAFT BERRY TO BETRAY WORKERS FOR AL SMITH

Biggest Open Shopper Names Henchman

Continued from Page One

tions works and the numerous other industries controlled by the Morgan interests whom Raskob represents.

Berry Labor Traitor.

Berry, who has been drafted by the open shop banker, has for years been one of the blackest reactionaries in the labor movement even surpassing, if possible, John L. Lewis. Berry has broken several newspaper printers' strikes in New York City and elsewhere. He stole several hundred thousand dollars from his organization and for several years the Chicago local fought him in the courts, the case ending finally undecisively.

Berry has been one of the moving figures in the American Legion, he is the owner of newspapers and printing plants. He is the organizer of the Printers Home in Tennessee from which, through land deals and by other means, he has stolen thousands of dollars from the organization. Even Matthew Woll, philosopher of the A. F. of L. betrayal has said "confidentially," "we no longer consider Berry as being in the labor movement."

The man for whom Berry is to direct the campaign, Al Smith, is one of the most hypocritical enemies of labor in the history of the country. He has opposed workingmen's compensation, sanctioned convict labor bills, refused to intercede when asked on behalf of suppressed women workers, all under cover of a slick liberalism and pro-labor policy.

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Scandinavians To Hold Sports Meet.

Scandinavian Workers' Athletic Club will hold a festival in Ulmer Park, Brooklyn, July 29. Among the features will be two soccer games, one between the Swedish S. C. and the Norwegian team Klippen; another between Scandinavian Workers A. C. and Hungarian Workers A. C.

* * *

Today the Bronx Hungarian Workers' Club will unveil the first Lenin corner in the United States at 753 E. Tremont Ave., Bronx. Workers of New York are asked to be present at this reception. A good Hungarian and English program will be given.

* * *

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

* * *

I. L. D. Outing.

An outing will be held on Saturday, Aug. 11, at 12 noon, at Pleasant Bay Park, Bronx, under the auspices of the New York Section, International Labor Defense. Take Bronx Park Subway or "L" to 177th St., then take Unionport car to end of line. Free busses to park.

* * *

I. L. D. Open Air Meet.

The Sacco-Vanzetti branch of the International Labor Defense will hold an open air meeting at Wilkins and Intervale Aves., the Bronx, today at 8:30 p. m. The speakers, I. Zimmerman and S. LeRoy will discuss "Capitalist Justice in the United States," emphasizing the Mooney-

RUM RING PROBE—Montreal (UP)—Actions of an alleged rum ring operating in Montreal are being investigated by the customs authorities here following the arrest of William P. Cohen, wholesale fish merchant, and the seizure from a Canadian Pacific Railway freight car of 175 cases of beer consigned as "fish" to the United States.

THROWN FROM AUTO, GIVES BIRTH—Denver (UP)—Shortly after she was thrown from an auto, Carol Roberts, New York, gave birth to a daughter.

EXPERT
Stenographer Wanted
FOR IMPORTANT PARTY WORK AT ONCE.
Must be Party or League member.
CALL HARLEM 1278

Two girls are looking for a congenial companion to join them on an interesting 10-day hitch-hike thru the White and Green Mountains, commencing about August 1st. Write to R. S., 8760 20th Ave., Brooklyn, or call Edgecomb 2891.

International Outing
To Aid Class War Prisoners and Their Families
Saturday, August 11, 1928
PLEASANT BAY PARK, BRONX.
ATHLETICS—JAZZ BAND—OPEN AIR DANCING
GAMES—TORCH LIGHT PARADE—MASS SCENE—REFRESHMENTS.
Movies Will Be Taken at the Park.
Admission 35 cents
Auspices: International Labor Defense New York Section
DIRECTIONS: Take Bronx Park Subway or L to 177th St., then take Union Port Car to end of line. Free busses to park.
TICKETS on sale at: Workers' Center and I.L.D., Room 422, 799 Broadway.

THE BIGGEST EVENT of the YEAR

Special Membership Meeting
United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
FRIDAY, JULY 27th, 8:30 Sharp
Hunts Point Palace
163rd St. and Southern Blvd., Bronx
Every Member Must Attend This Meeting
Board of Directors, U. W. C. A.

ARE YOU GETTING CO-OPERATIVE
Bakery Products
(Union Made)
If not, let us know and we'll instruct our driver to call at your home.
FINCO
Co-operative Trading Association, Inc.
Tel. Windsor 9052. 4301 Eighth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
5401 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dividends Paid From the First of July
CONSUMERS FINANCE CORPORATION
Subsidiary of the United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
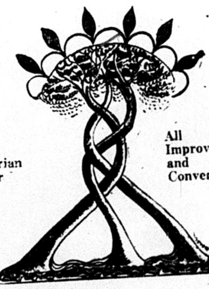
6% dividends are being paid from the first day of deposit on gold bonds in denominations of $100, $300, $500 and $1,000 secured by the second mortgage of the second block of houses in the Co-operative Workers' Colony.
Offices: 69—5th Ave., New York, N. Y.
TELEPHONE: ALGONQUIN 6900.
2700 Bronx Park East (Co-operative Workers' Colony)

Spend Your Vacation AT UNITY CAMP
WE HAVE BUNGALOW ACCOMODATIONS



Your Proletarian Summer Home
All Improvements and Conveniences
Directions: From 110th St. and 7th Ave. direct to the Camp by bus. From Grand Central or 125th St. to Wingdale and from there take our machine to the Camp. For registration inquire
1800 SEVENTH AVENUE
Corner 110th Street.
Telephone: Monument 6111
Camp Tel.: Wingdale 10-F-12
BUSSES LEAVE
1800 Seventh Ave., Corner of 110th St.
Friday .... 6:30 P. M.
Saturday .... 1:30 P. M.
Sunday .... 8:30 A. M.

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

Get Your Money's Worth!
Try the
Park Clothing Store
For Men, Young Men and Boys Clothing
93 Avenue A, Corner 6th St.
NEW YORK CITY

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770.
Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

RUSSIAN
Taught by professional teacher; university graduate; instructor in Russian at Berlitz School of Languages.
MICHAEL M. JERLITZYN
2013 Fifth Ave., N. Y. C.
Harlem 5560

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday

26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Mail (in New York only): $6 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months

By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor..........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor..................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭	☒	WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!

For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Mooney and Billings Rot in Jail Because Labor Leaders are Yellow

Twelve years ago, July 27, 1916, the San Francisco sheriff locked into five cells in the county jail the organizer of a streetcar strike, Thomas J. Mooney, an assistant in the strike, Warren K. Billings, Mooney's wife and two other men well known in the California labor movement.

The charge was murder. The frame-up was based upon the explosion of a bomb in a "preparedness" parade which had killed or mortally wounded ten persons.

Since then every civilized country in the world has felt the storm of its class struggle blow stronger by at least some degree on the issue of the "Mooney case."

The "Mooney case" became the most celebrated case in all labor history. What the Dreyfus case was for the lower middle class cause of "justice," the Mooney case became for the swelling tide of the militant labor movement which, already breaking through the chains of military restrictions in one great country, was about to overthrow the Russian Empire.

The martyrdom of Mooney and Billings is an American epic. The Mooney case, which reached the point of a death sentence for Mooney commuted to life imprisonment only because Woodrow Wilson's imperialist war plans were impeded by the wave of anger it caused, is twin to the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

The whole world knows that Mooney and Billings had nothing to do with the "preparedness day" tragedy in San Francisco—to argue on that point would be a waste of time. No one seriously claims any longer that they had anything to do with the crime of which they were convicted.

And so it is commonly said that Mooney and Billings are in the penitentiary because the capitalist class wishes to keep them there. But to leave it at that and say no more would be only an incomplete truth and therefore an indirect lie. Let us speak again the truth on this twelfth anniversary of the imprisonment of Mooney and Billings—the other half of the truth which is that Mooney and Billings are in jail because the official labor movement of the United States is foully corrupted by class collaboration and because the controlling leaders of the trade unions in the main are in a conscious alliance with the capitalist powers.

Our memory is not so short as not to recall that Mooney and his co-defendants were arrested with the direct connivance of Brouillet, president of the San Francisco Labor Council, P. H. McCarthy, the bribe enriched president of the California building trades unions, and the whole official family of California trade union bureaucracy, supported craftily by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor. We have not forgotten that, although Gene Debs defied his party to come out openly at the beginning for Mooney and Billings, the Socialist party as an organization, national and state, remained publicly non-committal and worked privately to withhold working class support for Mooney whom it characterized as an "anarchist" although he was a member of the party.

It is true that after the tide of working class support had in spite of them, reached a high point, the A. F. of L. bureaucracy and the Socialist Party bureaucracy made formal gestures in behalf of Mooney and Billings. But every man and woman familiar with the labor movement knows now and knew then that these were only formal gestures to an aroused mass sentiment. These bureaucrats knew only too well, what proved to be the fact, that every militant left wing tendency in the trade unions and in the Socialist Party would be crystallized around the Mooney-Billings defense movement. That nearly all of the older figures now in the left wing trade union movement, guided by the Trade Union Educational League, and nearly all of the older leaders of the present Communist Party, were then the leaders of the International Workers' Defense League (the Mooney-Billings defense organization of that time) goes to show that the bureaucratic instinct of the masses' power was correct.

And we tell the workers today that the way to deal with the Mooney-Billings case is to arouse the American and international working class on a class-struggle basis. The labor movement is not dead, it is only dead "at the top." Let us arouse the rank and file to get Mooney and Billings out.

The International Labor Defense is undertaking to do this in connection with the twelfth anniversary of Mooney's and Billings' arrest. Support its splendid effort! Join the International Labor Defense and fight for our class-war prisoners rotting in capitalist penitentiaries.

Capitalist Democracy's "Niggers"

Negroes as Negroes, and purely on the ground that they are Negroes, can be barred from voting in the democratic party primaries in Texas, a federal district court decides at Houston. The noble judge reaches this conclusion on the ground that the sacred liberties guaranteed by our democratic form of government must be maintained. A Negro appealed to the federal court which held:

> "The action complained of by plaintiffs, being purely party action as to which the holding is universal, that like other voluntary associations they have complete delectus personarum and may select or reject as members whom they will, it is unnecessary to decide the second point, whether, if the plaintiff's rights had been invaded, equity could grant relief, other than to say that the point is greatly in doubt, the books being full of cases declaring the doctrine that equity is concerned only with matters of property and the maintenance of civil rights and will not interfere for the protection of rights which are merely political."

And that:

> "This view finds support, not only in the law, but in the history of this country and always will find support while free institutions are maintained."

With the mighty words "delectus personarum" ringing in his ears the Negro can go off and think it over. The ruling class thinks by such methods to keep its slaves in a condition of complete subjection without civil rights of any sort.

But can anyone figure out why a Negro wants to vote for the democratic party? We do not offer this as an excuse for accepting the action of the court in its consequences. On the contrary, we say the decision is a challenge that must be met with a ringing answer. But the answer cannot be written on a ballot supporting the democratic party—the party of slavery. Nor a ballot supporting the republican party, which is of exactly the same character.

The answer of the Negro masses should be, and one day will be, to support the party of their own class, the party which will overturn the whole system of capitalist "democracy" in which the exploited masses are "democratized" out of all rights.

Some three-quarters of a century ago the United States supreme court made a little decision by which a Negro slave, Dred Scott, was returned to his master. This decision was to stand "for all time." Where is it now? But it took the most terrific class struggle the country had ever seen to overthrow the Dred Scott decision and the system it upheld.

Let the Negro masses understand that their present enslavement, exploitation and deprivation of civil rights can be upheld by a thousand courts, but will come to an end in a social upheaval bigger than that of 1861.

However, their freedom can come only with their loyal support of their own cause.

Negro workers and farmers! To hell with the democratic primaries, and the republican too!

Vote for your own working class party—the Workers (Communist) Party. With its program, through struggles mightier than those that Lincoln led, you will be freed.

Join the party of your class, not the parties of slavery.

CAMPAIGN CORNER

By HUGO OEHLER.

Some Little Rock citizens would not sign our petitions to put Foster and Gitlow on the ballot because our candidates were not born in Arkansas.

A likely reply by the well-dressed white collared slave in Arkansas to the party petition hoofers will be "What the hell we want to work that out for. Haven't we got a democrat party?"

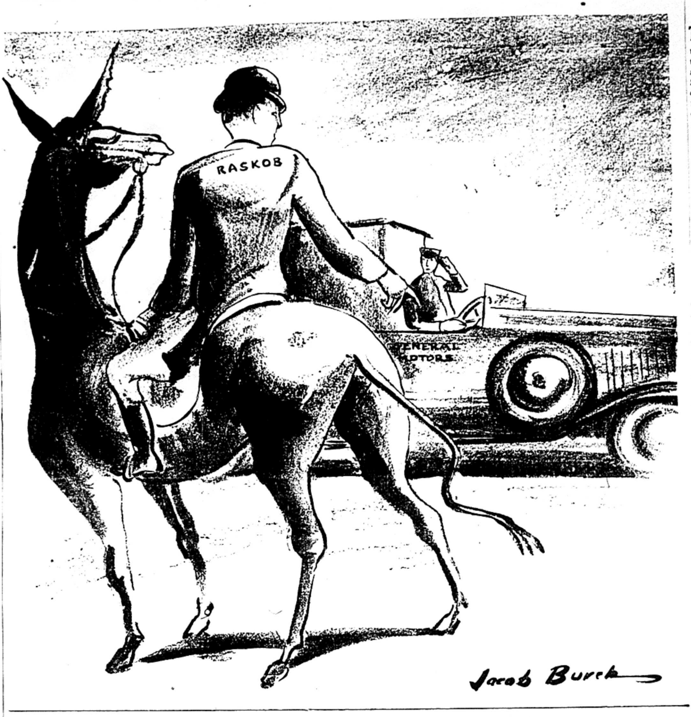
A number of parlor pinks down here deserted the ship like rats desert a sinking one when they heard of our position on Negro question.

After listening to some replies of adult Arkansas workers on the election issue and after asking many big raw-bone young bucks to sign and having these young bucks inform me that they could not vote because they were not old enough I am now in favor of having all children in Arkansas vote. I am positive the workers' condition would be better under their rule than under the present democrat dictatorship.

A well-dressed man overheard the argument with a worker on the need of the Communist in Arkansas. The well-dressed man butted in and said we don't need any Russian Dictatorship here. The worker signed the petition and said we already have a dictatorship.

"WAIT FOR ME, JAMES, I'LL BE RIGHT BACK."

By Jacob Burck



Foreign Investments and Foreign Policy

Wall Street Dollars Bring Slavery to Natives of Many Countries

By ROBERT W. DUNN.

(Continued.)

It ought to be clear to anyone who has studied American history that the imperialist course of this country is not due to any accident or to any mere "mistaken policy" on the part of the American ruling class. It is not just the result of diplomatic "blundering." On the contrary, it is the result of the natural development of our whole economic society. The World War, which resulted from the clash of rival imperialist powers, destroyed the German, the Austria-Hungarian and the Russian empires. It weakened the French and accentuated the forces making for the decline of the British empire. At the same time it opened the way for the United States to become the foremost lending nation and the world's richest power. So long as the forces of capitalist society operate in America, as they operated in Europe before they culminated in the world struggle of 1914, America must grow increasingly imperialistic. This is not therefore a fortuitous phenomenon. It has advanced step by step with the growth and consolidation of American finance capital.

It is almost trite to assert that the domestic policies of this country are dominated by the representatives of what for a better term we call big business. The same group undoubtedly shapes our foreign policies. It would be politically naive to assume that this group will not protect its interests abroad as fully and as consciously as it protects them at home. The protection of these private holdings abroad must inevitably lead to further incursions against the weaker nations and still further steps along the path of empire. Economic penetration of backward countries, financial aggrandizement there, the export of capital, are but the accompaniments of capitalism in America just as they have been during the last century in Europe.

* * *

WHAT is to be expected as the fruit of this growth. If it continues, certainly the same fruit that Europe gathered in 1914. The rivalry in trade, the expansion of political power for the protection of expanding financial interests, leads to clashes with other powers also seeking outlets for surplus goods and surplus capital. A struggle of Standard Oil against Royal Dutch Shell necessarily, and in the nature of the present order, entails the diplomatic support of the home government affected. For a time there may be a balancing of forces as between one group of nations and another. But these agreements and balances are precarious and unsteady, for they are usually based on group rivalries. And furthermore, they are usually based on the existing set-up of power between the different states. But this basis may shift just as the relative positions of Germany and Italy, for example, has shifted since the Versailles treaties. Those treaties were built on the then existing balance of political and economic forces. But those forces are already shifting, making for new sources of conflict. The nations that have the most territory and markets and fields for investment want to hold on to what they have, while the recovering and developing states are ever grasping for new opportunities for investment and trade and must resist the assumptions and claims of the great powers.

All this makes for new and larger armament programs, for as H. N. Brailsford wrote, "the backing of investments by diplomacy means inevitably an increase of the armaments which are the diplomat's last word." In spite of the continual exchange of peace notes and the disarmament conferences that have no real intention of disarming, the preparations for war are advancing at a more rapid tempo than before 1914. The armaments continue to pile up even while the air is saturated with peace talk. The situation is in some respects analagous to that prevailing in the days when Hague conferences were in the headlines and Mr. Roosevelt, Tsar Nicholas and Kaiser Wilhelm were all the graceful recipients of the various peace prizes. The cynical reception accorded the Soviet proposals for genuine disarmament at Geneva would almost lead one to the conclusion that the holding of international peace conferences was but a part of the stage-setting for another war.

It is, of course, often pointed out, as recently by the British ambassador, that war between the great nations is "unthinkable." Whether this is true or not—and it certainly is not—it may be well to consider some of the other factors that enter into the international situation arising out of imperialism. Here are the countries where your loans and investments have been made. They are beginning to get restless under the yoke, tired of being divided, of having their rulers selected for them by a foreign power, tired of being shot down when they resist the oppression of the powerful nations. They may perhaps want, like China, to have something like an equal status before the world. China wants the inequalities that the imperialist countries have established for her abolished. China has thus turned from a passive nation into one that is increasingly conscious of the fact that the only way to get rid of the foreign exploiting nations is by a display of force, a language the great powers are able to understand. At times the native capitalists in such countries may unite with the foreigners in resisting the demands of the workers and peasants. But this only makes the bitterness of these doubly exploited masses all the more intense. They fight not only as workers against the normal exploitation of their native capitalists and landowners, but against the foreigner who is taking his toll from this exploitation.

Progress of Soviet Union.

THE progress of the Soviet Union is a factor that must also be considered in this connection. The Soviet Union is an inspiring example folks in these countries. These backward peoples are beginning to learn what the Russian workers and peasants did to one of the world's powerful empires, what they are now doing for themselves under their new order of society, and how fairly minority nationalities are treated within the Soviet Union, and incidentally, how carefully the rights of the few foreign concessionaires in that country are limited. It is because of this example of the Soviet Union that the imperialist powers are eager for its destruction and for the negation of its influence. The war-like acts of the British—notably the Arcos and Peking raids of last year—were provocative measures that under ordinary circumstances would have made for war between two nations. But the strong desire of the Soviet Union for peace prevent this eventuality. Whether similar provocation will ultimately lead to war it is impossible to predict, but certainly the British empire would do its utmost to draw in the United States on its side should such a war come. Great as are the potential sources of rivalry between the United States and the British empire these two countries would unite temporarily if the opportunity came to crush the power and influence of the Soviet Union. But whatever the immediate prospects of war against the Soviet Union there can be no doubt that our present policies of protecting the investor and speculator abroad will lead this country into new interventions and finally into war with rival economic empires.

At various times during the last 50 years there have been in this country certain groups of progressives who have become alarmed at the rapid development of the United States along the imperialist road. They have raised their voices in opposition to the rabid jingoes and annexationists particularly during the Spanish-American war. There are a few remnants of such groups today who want to block the more subtle imperialism that proceeds without the necessity for territorial annexation. Such groups are attempting to register, check and regulate the flow of capital abroad by introducing legislation into congress. They would also make it illegal to use the armed forces of the country to protect private interests abroad without a formal declaration of war.

Colonials Fight Imperialism.

THE most vigorous agitation against imperialism, however, as I have suggested, comes not from this country or Great Britain, but from those subject nationalities who suffer from the effects of imperialistic conquest. These colonial and semi-colonial peoples, as the recent history of the British empire shows, will be in the forefront of the fight against imperialism. But in the imperialist home countries groups of workers will also, in time, begin to realize keenly that they are suffering under the same system and that the great industrial and financial combines that drive down wages at home are the same that seek raw materials abroad and that often take advantage of the lower labor costs in those foreign countries. Together these two groups—the more poorly paid and militant workers of the imperialist countries and the revolutionary liberation groups in the colonies and backward countries—will carry on the future struggle against imperialism both at home and abroad.

The Soviet Rescue Ship

I.

The Krassin ploughed her way
Thru endless fields of ice,
Thru blinding shrouds of fog;
Braved all the perils of the Arctic wastes,
And steered her trying course
To rescue and success.

II.

There is more than just a ship
Manned by brave men,
Who saved some human lives
In this great episode.
In this I see a symbol that transcends
Immeasurably the stirring facts,
The ice, the fog, the frost—
Greed, ignorance, reaction.
Humanity the castaways.
The rescue ship's triumphant Revolution.

By ADOLF WOLFF

Told You So

THE August number of the "Labor Defender," with a graphic picture of the New Bedford strike on the front cover and several splendid articles inside; about the murder of Sacco and Vanzetti, the Centralia case, Mooney and Billings, the lynching of a Negro at Houston, and others, seems to have succeeded in surpassing in merit previous issues—a real accomplishment. Perhaps the most interesting article in the magazine is the report of six months' activities of the International Labor Defense by Acting Secretary Abern. We learn that 70 new branches have been organized and that the "Labor Defender's" circulation is now 22,000.

* * *

IT is not surprising that the magazine should have a large circulation, because, from every point of view, typographically as well as in the character of the article appearing in it, the "Labor Defender" is the liveliest and best illustrated magazine of the class struggle ever published in this country, to my knowledge. It has a mass appearance and one can see reflected in the I. L. D. organ the grip that the organization of which it is the mouthpiece has on the class-conscious workers of this country. One dollar forwarded to the National Office of the I. L. D. at 80 E. 11th St., New York, will bring the "Labor Defender" to your door for one year. Don't fail to send in your dollar.

* * *

BENITO MUSSOLINI has again spoken, this time to warn the world and its wives that they had better stop talking in a critical way of the cowardly conduct of his General Nobile, commander of the airship Italia that flew over the North Pole and on its return became a cropper. The story is so well known that it does not have to be told again. How Nobile flew away in the first rescue plane that hove in sight, leaving his colleagues to die on the ice, and how the ships and planes of the Soviet Union covered themselves with glory in rescue work are facts well known in every part of the world.

* * *

DEEP though the prejudice against the Soviet Union was, even its most bitter enemies were forced to admit that the conduct of its representatives on ship and plane shone out in contrast to the craven conduct of the fascist boasters. Now, Mussolini wants to stifle the flood of criticism that has been pouring from the presses of the world on the head of his black shirt commander. It will take many speeches and threats from the loud-mouthed boaster to retrieve the loss of prestige he sustained in the Italia adventure.

* * *

EX-PREMIER GIOLITTI of Italy, who died last week, had the reputation of being a political fox. But, like every such character, he got caught in a trap. Giolitti used the black shirts to crush the revolutionary movement in Italy when the workers took over the factories. Once this was done he thought he could go back to his former methods of political juggling. But the fascists were organized and supported by the big industrialists who wanted a dictatorship. So Giolitti and the liberals soon found themselves out in the cold, with Mussolini sitting in the warm places. Of course much though Giolitti hated Mussolini as a successful rival, he hated and feared the revolutionary working class more. Benito would not interfere with the wealth he amassed under the capitalist system, but he knew that if the Communists seized power he would have to render some useful service to the state and get along like everybody else on enough to provide him with the necessities of life.

* * *

LUIS N. MORONES, head of the "Crom," or the Regional Confederation of Labor of Mexico, has been bounced out of the Calles cabinet through the pressure of the Obregonistas, who charge him with being the "intellectual author" of the Obregon assassination. This means that a crisis is rapidly approaching in Mexico that may wind up in civil war. Whether Calles let Morones out in order to gain time and prepare himself for a showdown with the Obregonistas, or whether he has broken with Morones, remains to be seen. Hitherto Calles and Morones were staunch allies, and, with government aid, the latter was able to build up a powerful political machine. Needless to say, the Mexican workers who went on strike under the Calles-Morones regime faced the rifles of federal troops just as they would if Obregon managed to remain alive until he assumed the presidency.

* * *

ANOTHER army revolt has come and gone in Portugal. According to dispatches, it was engineered by elements that opposed the dictatorship. Portugal is prolific in revolutions, but the only significance they have is the question of what group of grafters is going to be on the British or French payroll. Portugal is always on the auction block and the principal bidders are England and France. I forget which power at this time has Portugal's national dignity in the safe.

Tom O'Flaherty

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

NATIONAL EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 177.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

SOVIET SHIP, KRASSIN, RESCUES 1,500 ON GERMAN LINER

DISCUSSION ON WORKERS PARTY AT WORLD MEET

Pepper States American Delegation's Stand

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 26.—Chairman Jilek opened the seventh session of the World Congress of the Communist International yesterday. The session continued with the discussion of the theses of Nikolai Bukharin.

Dunne Speaks.

Dunne, of the United States, declared that Bukharin's theses need supplementing with regards to the United States. He pointed out that the internal contraditions in the United States are growing sharper and that the working masses are becoming increasingly radical.

The right wing policy of the Central Committee must be corrected and work among the Negroes intensified, was the view expressed by the speakers. Agitation for the formation of a labor party he characterised as not permissible. The formation of a labor party is only a propaganda slogan.

Various speeches and greetings were then presented. The chairman read a telegram from Max Hoeltz amidst applause.

Rasa, of India, next declared that the theses must concern themselves more with agrarian policy of British Imprialism in India. The Indian Communists must not repeat the mistakes of the Chinese Party.

Balkin Problems.

Kolarov, of Bulgaria, declared that in general his delegation is in agreement with Bukharin, but that an analysis of the world agricultural situation is necessary. The rich peasants are again allied with the bourgeoisie, he pointed out, but the poor peasants are going to the left. This question demands the specia lattention of the Communist International, because the peasants

Continued on Page Three

PORTER'S WRIST FOUND SLASHED

Officers Try to Break Spirit of Youth

FORT ADAMS, R. I., July 25.—The greatest efforts are being made by the military authorities here to break down the militant attitude of John Porter, New Bedford strike leader, and to force him to repudiate the labor movement.

Terms of Officers

Army officers have given Porter the "confidential" information that he would have been released or given a short sentence if it had not been for his militant stand at the court-martial, and that "even now it is not too late" for release if he would accept the terms of the authorities, intimating that they would free him if he would repudiate his Communist principle. The authorities have been trying to prevent Porter from communicating with the organizations working for his release and to make him believe that he is deserted by the workers on the "outside."

Mysterious Circumstances

Porter at present is in the hospital, with his wrists slashed under very mysterious circumstances. He writes that he woke up in the hospital and was told by the officers that he had cut his own wrists. It seems that this "explanation" is a part of the systematic attempt to remove Porter from the labor movement by all means, and to use every method of terror to break the spirit of this young worker.

PLAN WORLD FLIGHT

CADIZ, Spain, July 26 (UP).—Commander Ramon Franco was prepared to start at the first favorable opportunity on a seaplane flight around the world, after the launching of his big plane here today.

WRECK BLOCKS RAILROAD

PITTSTON, Pa., July 26 (UP).—Four tracks were completely blocked this morning in the mountain cut-off of the Lehigh Valley Railroad when 18 loaded cars of freight were wrecked near West Avoca. There were no injuries.

POPE HAS PAIN

ROME, July 26 (UP).—Pope Pius has cancelled immediate public audiences because of renewed pain in his foot, injured Friday as he was alighting from his automobile in the Vatican gardens.

Directed Rescues

The latest rescue feat of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin, which answered an S. O. S. call and saved 1,500 people on the steamship Monte Cervantes, has again astonished the world. Above is Prof. Samoilovich, director of the Krassin rescue expedition.

REACTION MARKS TIME IN MEXICO

Saenz Pledges Support to Calles

(Special to The Daily Worker)

MEXICO CITY, July 26.—Civil war in Mexico hangs in the balance while reactionary and clerical leaders ae playing for time to deliver a vital thrust against the Calles government and the forces of the labor movement which President Calles has indicated he will, for the time, at least, refuse to abandon.

The latest maneuver worked out by the eactionary forces is an announcement of support promised to President Calles "in maintaining order and national harmony until congress can untangle the confusing problem of the succession to the presidency."

This pledge made in a statement by a former foreign minister, Aaron Saenz, head of the Obregonistas, expressed confidence in the police investigation of the assassination of Obregon. This was taken to be a maneuver to indicate temporary support of Calles probably for the reason that Saenz who is himself seeking power, does not at this moment feel certain of his ability to force his demands.

Yesterday Saenz made what was considered a bold declaration against Calles by announcing that he would himself accept appointment as provisional president after December 1, when President Calles' term expires. At the same time the reactionary forces have expressed their opposition to the position taken by Calles in his speech to the army last night when he definitely blamed the Catholic party for the assassination and rejected the clerical charge that the labor forces are responsible.

In a manifesto issued yesterday by the Mexican Communist Party, a virtual, though qualified pleadge of support, was given the Calles government against the forces of clericalism and other reaction which are seeking to unite against the militants and the labor movement whose support Calles is now forced to seek. The National Peasants' League, composed of landless and poor peasants in a manifesto similar to that of the Communist Party, definitely pledged its support to Calles and called upon the workers and peasants to unite against the Catholic reaction. Both manifestoes were at one in pointing to the danger from the reactionary agrarian and Catholic leaders and called also for an international bloc of South, Central and North American masses against imperialism.

MEXICAN MASSES GIVE OVATION TO SANDINO OFFICIAL

Machado Reports That Many Marines Killed

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

MEXICO CITY, (By Mail).—Declaring that the Nicaraguan masses will continue their struggle against American imperialism in spite of the false claims being spread by the United States government officials that the fight is ending, Dr. Gustavo Machado, newly appointed representative of General Sandino to Mexico, yesterday made public the details of his visit to the camp of the Nicaraguan rebel chief and patriot.

Big Welcome.

Both Machado and Socrates Sandino, brother of the Nicaraguan general, arrived here yesterday and were met at the railway station by a very large crowd which enthusiastically cheered them. Sandino came from New York where he had spent two years engaged in an extensive propaganda work and from Gen. Sandino's headquarters at El Chipoton, located in the very heart of the Nueva Segovia range.

Machado was appointed to represent Gen. Sandino following his personal visit to the rebel chief's camp after a hazardous trip, in order to make delivery to Sandino the relief fund raised in Mexico by the "Hands Off Nicaragua Committee."

Known to U. S.

"Nearly 1,800 American marines have been killed by Gen. Sandino's troops during the course of the operations being conducted in Nicaragua by American imperialism," Machado declared. "These facts are known to the American state department," he asserted.

The great crowd gave Socrates Sandino and Machado a wild welcome. We were able to notice among the welcomers the delegates of "Mafuenic," the All-American Anti-Imperialist League, the Central American and Antillian Union, the Proletarian Children and the Red Pioneers; also Messrs. J. A. Mella, Prof. R. Ramos Pedrueza, Dr. C. Leon, Don J. Hurwitz, Dr. P. J. Zepeda, S. del Mar, M. Vazquez Diaz, C. M. Coz, all of whom are prominent in the associations which in Mexico oppose North American imperialism.

Upon arriving at the station, Julio Mella addressed words of enthusiastic greeting to Sandino and Machado, also showed to the crowds some of the many trophies taken from the invader, blue jackets in Nicaragua. Mella's speech ended with cheers for Mexico and Nicaragua, which were riotously echoed by the crowd.

We quote Mr. Sandino as saying: "The people of the United States agree that the action taken by their government is absurd and consider it as an abuse of power; on such people we rely to go on with our campaign against Wall Street."

"What if the democrats succeed?" the correspondent asked.

"Both Alike.

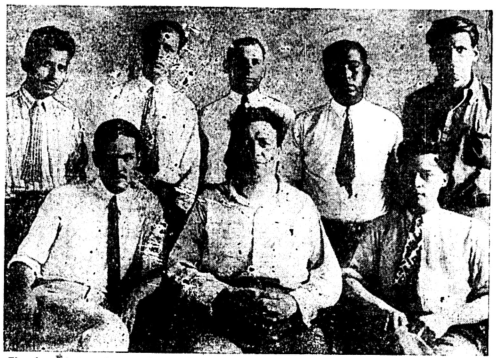
"It does not matter whichever party comes into control in the American government," Sandino replied. "The policy of interference with Latin-American countries' internal affairs will continue. The democrats have declared they would reetify their opponents' policy, but it is a certainty that the Canal will be held as a pretext to continue the occupation of our soil."

The correspondent then interviewed Dr. Machada with the idea of securing some of his experiences in his endeavor to reach Gen. Sandino's camp. "The soldiers of the government of Honduras, as well as the Yankees, were decidedly hostile to me and tried their utmost to stop me from joining the rebels. My trip lastd four months and was entirely fruitful," he answered.

"President Paz Barona of Honduras, a vile servant of the Ameri-

Continued on Page Three

Mexican Militants Greet Representative of Nicaraguan General



The above photograph was taken on the return to Mexico of Licenciado Gustavo Machado, official representative of Geneal Sandino, from a visit to the camp of the great Nicaraguan leader, now fighting the invading marines of United States imperialism.

Machado's trip, which was made under the greatest hardship and at the risk of his life, during the course of a score of adventures, was undertaken for the purpose of conveying medicines and funds—gathered by the "Hands Off Nicaragua" Committee in Mexico.

In the photograph (left foregound, with mustache) is Machado; at his right is Diego Divera, celebrated Mexican painter, a member of the Continental Committee of the All-America Anti-Imperialist League; Socrates Sandino, brother of the Nicaraguan general, well known in the United States for his propaganda activities in connection with the work done by the All-America Anti-Impcialist League. Standing left to right are Gomez, Mellan and Rivera Bertrand of the local "Hands Off Nicaragua" Committee and Fritz Bach of the International Workers Relief.

SAILOR IS PUNISHED FOR BEING INJURED

A sailor of the Pacific Fleet was forced to risk his life—to go into a lifeboat without line and with boots on—and when somebody let go the tackle, he was thrown into the water. Before he could be picked up, he was struck by the bow of the U. S. S. Arizona and his ankle broken.

Thrown in Dungeon.

The authorities, themselves responsible, punished the sailor severely for being hurt. He was thrown into the dungeon on bread and water and fined $300, which means that he will get no more pay during his enlistment. When the sailor took the matter up with the Division Admiral, he was told to "drop it."

Letter Received by "Daily."

A letter from this sailor, telling of his treatment in the service, has been received by the Daily Worker The referenc to "Crouch's Demands" refers to the official demands of the Young Workers Communist League for servicemen. An article in the Daily Worker telling of these demands was signed by Paul Crouch.

The letter from the serviceman follows:

"Editor Daily Worker:

"I have read the article by Paul Crouch in your paper and I want to say that h eis right in most cases with his demands for changes in the service.

"I am writing to tell you about my own troubles in the hope that you will be able to publish it so that others will understand better the actual conditions in the navy.

Forced to Risk Life.

About two months ago when my ship was en route to Hawaii for battle-practice we were going full speed in formation off the West Coast of Mexico. I was at work in one of the starboard lifeboats, getting the tackle in proper shape. The coxswain had ordered me in the boat without a line about me although I had protested that I might fall overboard. (You know, a lifeboat is swang from two divets that suspend it over the side of the ship). Well, somebody either purposely or accidentally let go the tackle and I was thrown into the water and narrowly missed by the divet which also fell I was wearing boots and only after a hard struggle was I able to rise to the surface again. The S. S. Arizona was next in line behind us, and although she changed her course as soon as an alarm was given, the Ariona's bow hit me, breaking an ankle and bruising me severely. I was picked up, more dead than alive and sent to the hospital (sick bay)

Seriously Injured.

"Today my ankle is twice its normal size and the bones bulge out where they shouldn't because the doctor that treated me probably had a 'pul' in Washington and got his job on friendship—he certainly did not know much about setting bones

30 Days Bread and Water.

"Eventually I was returned to my ship for trial. (As soon as I left sick bay I was put in the brig). At my trial the coxswain who sent me in the lifeboat without a line was dishonorably discharged from the service. Two other sailors, partially responsible for the accident, were given short brig sentences and lost a portion of their pay. But I— well I was sentenced to thirty days bread and water, in a rotten hole three decks below. I will lose over three hundred dollars of my pay (which means that I will not draw another cent during the duration of my enlistment) and will not be allowed shore leave for months to come besides getting all the dirty work they can hand me.

Told to "Drop It."

"I took the whole matter up with our division admiral and he told me t odrop it as my enlistment will expire at the end of the year. That's the kind of 'justice' that they hand out in this navy. Since I was not to blame for the accident at all, and since a broken ankle and thirty days bread and water seemed enough punishment I had hoped to get my pay refunded. Sometimes though I don't care much for I've learned my lesson—here's one sailor that knows when he's got enough. I'll go to jail for life before I'll put on another uniform for a country that hands out the treatment I got and calls it 'justice.'

"If you publish this letter, do not use my name—I'm not out of the service yet.

"Your for the realization of Crouch's demands,

"DISABLED SEAMAN.

"U. S. S. Battle Fleet
"Division 3."

LABOR IS ACTIVE IN DEFENSE WEEK

Miners' Relief Drive In All Cities

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—The nation-wide drive for miners' relief and defense now being conducted jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee and the International Labor Defense has stirred the interest and attention of thousands of workers in practically every large city and in scores of districts, according to an announcement issued today from the headquarters of the relief committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh.

"This is the big week," a call by the committee to the labor movement declares. "Every man, woman and child in sympathy with the struggling coal miners will co-operate fully in our national miners' relief and defense week."

The relief and defense week, which began last Sunday, will conclude on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29, with a big house to house collection campaign conducted in all cities and sections.

Communications and remittances should be made to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, the call says.

BUY INTERESTS IN NICARAGUA

Details of Bombing Reach Managua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26.—Further penetration of Nicaraguan industry by American investors, following in the wake of the army of marines was revealed here today with the announcement that the Central American Power Corporation has purchased the electric light, ice and water systems of this city.

The Central American Power Corporation is organized for the purpose of Nicaraguan investment by the W. B. Foshay Co. of New York City.

The properties in Managua were acquired after they had depreciated and are clear except for a $40,000 mortgage.

Mr. Foshay, head of the corporation expressed himself yesterday as satisfied that the "political structure of the republic is sound." He believes that political intereference with business was unlikely.

• • •

Bomb Jungle Camp.

MANAGUA, July 26.—Further details of the recent marine aerial bombing expedition against the forces of the army of independence operating under the command of General Sandino today brought a stroy of defenselessness and valor in the face of brutal odds.

Reports of the participating aviators admit that their bombs exploded over a camp which was entirely without anti-craft defenses. The bombs would have demolished the encampment. The pilots report had not the dense jungle caught them as they fell so that they burst over the camp.

The casualties cannot cannot be estimated.

• • •

Conservatives Name Grower.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26 (UP).—The conservative party today nominated adolfo Benard, wealthy Granada sugar grower, as its candidate for president of Nicaragua.

Julio Cardenal, Granada merchant, was named to run for vice-president.

WILL FIGHT FRAME-UP

New Evidence in the Centralia Case

Elmer Smith, the Northwest defense attorney of the I. W. W. victims of the Centralia frame-up, who had lost not only his law practice, but his health as well for his action tells of the history of the case and the new steps taken to free the frame-up victims in the new August issue of the "Labor Defender."

In a brief article, illustrated by photographs of some of the figures in the case he writes:

"During more than three long years a mountain of evidence showing the unjust conviction of the Centralia defendants has been piled up before the governor and the Parole Board. Never was a matter more thoroughly presented to any governor or any Parole Board. They have been told and retold of the action of the trial jurors; of the paying of ex-service men $4.00 per

Continued on Page Three

RED CROSS "CHARITY"

Scabbing, Price of Aid to Miner's Child

PORTAGE, Pa., July 26.—"Why don't you go to work?" is the strikebreaking answer the Red Cross of Cambria County makes to striking miners who ask for medical aid.

When an abscess developed on the leg of two-yera-old Rose-Marie, George Killinger appealed to doctor after doctor to take care of his daughter. But unless money is paid in advance, the striking miner was told, there would be no medical aid. Mrs. Killinger tried home remedies, but the festering only became worse.

As a last resort, Killinger carried the child to the Red Cross station in Portage, Pa. Again the question: "Why don't you go to work?" was asked. Killinger replied that, although his six children were living on barely one meal a day, he would not become a scab, pointing out that the children would suffer far more in the long run if the strikers did not stick together.

ANSWERS HASTILY TO S. O. S. CALL OF DAMAGED VESSEL

Divers Descend to Repair Leak; Big Ovation As All Hands Are Saved

HAMBURG, July 26 (UP).—The Russian Arctic relief ship Krassin, with a record of rescues of survivors of the dirigible Italia and lost rescuers, today had added one more achievement to its notable list of operations since it steamed into the ice floes of the north.

Although damaged by ice, the Krassin, proceeding to harbor for repairs, answered a distress call from the Hamburg-South American excursion steamer, Monte Cervantes, with 1,500 tourists aboard, and by its quick arrival calmed passengers who were alarmed by a leak the Monte Cervantes had sprung after collision with an ice floe.

The storage room in the bow of the Monte Cervantes was filled with water. The Krassin arrived at midnight Wednesday, made ready to take off the tourists if it were necessary, then sent down divers to examine the damage to the vessel.

• • •

MOSCOW, July 26 (UP).—Professor Samoilovitch, Commander of the Krassin, sent a wireless message saying the ship was received with cheers from passengers and crew crowded on the deck of the Monte Cervantes when the Soviet vessel reached the crippled tourist liner.

The Krassin was instructed to proceed to stavanger for repairs and then resume the search for lost exployers and rescue workers.

• • •

MOSCOW, July 26 (UP).—Jubilant over its latest rescue feat, the ice-breaker Krassin radioed today that passengers and crew of the steamship Monte Cervantes crowded the decks to welcome its prompt response to an S. O. S. call today.

The Krassin was cheered repeatedly, the message said. It added that the Krassin immediately began rescue work.

After completing its task of helping the Monte Cervantes, the ship's message said, the Krassin will proceed to Stavanger for repairs. Then it will continue its search for the 12 missing men involved in the Italia disaster.

• • •

MOSCOW, July 26.—This city has again been thrilled by the latest feat of the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. Answering an S. O. S. received yesterday afternoon from the Hamburg-South American liner Monte Cervantes, the Krassin plowed thru the icy waters full steam ahead and aided in the rescue of 1,500 passengers and crew aboard the German ship, which had struck an iceberg and sprung a leak.

The Krassin, which was on its way for Stavanger for overhauling after saving 16 men lost in the Arctic wastes, arrived at midnight alongside the big German liner.

Divers from the Krassin descended into the icy waters and lent aid in making repairs. As a result of the quick action of the Soviet ice-breaker crew, the Monte Cervantes was enabled to steam to Bell Bay, where she anchored.

85 JAILED MILL PICKETS BAILED

Great T. M. C. Strike Parade Tomorrow

(Special to the Daily Worker)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 26.—Bail totaling $54,100 was ordered in District Court here today in the cases of the 85 men and women arrested last night when the combined forces of New Bedford and Fall River police, aided by deputy sheriffs who read the riot act, broke up the mass picketing demonstrations of the textile strikers at the Sharp Mill.

82 Arrested.

Eighty-two were arrested last night when the mill barons' police here continued their announced plans of completely prohibiting mass picketing on the grounds of a recent court ruling, which used the bypocritical expedient of outlawing picketing by terming it "parading without a permit." The other three were arrested later on warrants sworn out by police. The "warrant" manoeuver provides the police with a weapon they use in arresting and rearresting leaders of the Textile Workers Union subsidiary of the Textile Mill Committees.

Trial Tuesday.

All defendants pleaded not guilty and after bail had been provided by many local volunteers, were ordered to come up for trial Tuesday.

Augusto C. C. Pinto was in the prisoners dock again when the workers appeared before the judge. This is Pinto's ninth arest for strike activities, hvaing so far collected 5 months in jail terms. Jackson Wales, Virginia Zidra and John Motta and Pinto are out on bonds of from $1,100 to $1,500 bail for the others being set at $600 each.

Most of Leaders Arrested.

Most of the leaders of the T.M.C. were arrested in last night's arrests.

After the riot act had been read ordering the strikers to "disperse to their respective domiciles," and the response of the thousands of pickets and spectators had been to completely ignore the police ceremony that deprived them of their constitutional rights the arrests began.

"Get Your Man."

"Each one get your man," the deputy chief shouted. The combined police force charged the marching lines of men, women and children with swinging clubs. Many of the police went after the spectators Many workers on picket duty as well as on the side lines were injured. Those arrested were jammed into huge waiting police vehicles which took them to the lockup.

RUM RING PROBE—Montreal (UP)—Actions of an alleged rum ring operating in Montreal are being investigated by the customs authorities here following the arrest of William P. Cohen, wholesale fish merchant, and the seizure from a Canadian Pacific Railway freight car of 175 cases of beer consigned as "fish" to the United States.

CONN. CARPET WORKERS STRIKE

Many Weavers Take Part in Walk-out

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., July 26 (UP).—Between 250 and 400 employes in the Jacquard department of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Company went on strike today.

The workers, most of them weavers, left the mill after their committee and company representatives had failed in a two hours' conference to settle differences.

ABANDONS LONG SWIM

DONAGHEE, Ireland, July 26 (UP).—Miss Mercedes Gleitze, London stenographer, abandoned at about 5 p. m. today an attempt to swim the Irish Sea to Great Britain. She was half way across when she gave up.

THROWN FROM AUTO, GIVES BIRTH — Denver (UP) — Shortly after she was thrown from an auto, Carol Roberts, New York, gave birth to a daughter.

Marvin, Dollar Patriot Who Aided Attack on 'Daily', Flees $17,000 Libel Judgment

FASCIST, HEAD 'KEYMEN,' RUNS OUT ON VERDICT

Lost in Court to Rosika Schwimmer

Fred R. Marvin, patriot for pay, has fled New York State to escape paying a $17,000 libel judgment directed against him by a jury in the Rosika-Schwimmer case. Marvin, whose professional patriotic Keymen of America sponsor his daily hate sheets on progressives and radicals, slipped away from the state soon after the verdict had been returned confirming charges that he libelled Mme. Schwimmer when he called her a German spy. Marvin and his organization, the Keymen of America, were instrumental in attempts to suppress the Daily Worker.

Arthur Garfield Hays, victor in a battle of legal wits over Joseph Cashman, counsel for Marvin and a professional patriot himself, is waiting for Marvin to return to New York to serve a body attachment on him for the $17,000. The master keyman is out in El Paso, Texas filling profitable lecture engagements before semi-military societies on the Red Menace.

Thoughtfully Marvin passed ownership of his property in New York to his wife. He lives at Pelham, a stockbrokers' suburb. Professional patrioteering isn't the paying game it used to be during the war and immediately after, Hays believes. He has been unable to discover evidences of appreciable worldly gain accumulated by Marvin.

Marvin is back in his old stamping grounds in the west. He started out as a newspaper reporter on the Spokane, Wash. Spokesman-Review specializing in mining news. This brought him into close contact with the labor movement in the Coeur D'Alene strike of the Western Federation of Miners and the metal diggers struggles preceding the famous Haywood-Moyer-Pettibone trial.

Reporting miners' strikes for employers proved profitable for the young newspaper man. Later he became editor of mining journals and daily newspapers, passing from one to the other in quick succession. He complained during the Schwimmer case, that at Pueblo, Colo., he was kicked out of town by indignant miners who ruined him and his paper.

When the metal miners' movement in the west subsided after the war, Marvin looked to lusher fields of anti-labor activity and came to New York to work on a small Wall St. daily. Here he had ample scope for publishing accumulated bile directed against radicals and liberals. All forward-looking people he lumped together through a spider web chart showing Jane Addams' connections with Moscow.

When his Wall St. paper sickened and died, as so many of his other ventures had done, he continued with his Keymen of America and Daily Data Sheets, heaping abuse on Mme. Schwimmer and hundreds of pacifists, liberals, labor men and preachers. When Hays haled him into court on the Schwimmer libel charges, Marvin was forced to admit for the first time that his compiled information service was founded on rumors, suspicions and imagination.

KELLOGG SENDS NANKING NOTE

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Secretary of State Kellogg, in a note to the Nanking foreign minister, offers to begin at once negotiations for a new tariff treaty which would give full expression to the principle of national tariff autonomy with the proviso that there shall be no discrimination against the United States in favor of other powers.

This means the United States is ready to abandon its treaty restrictions over Chinese customs revenues but requires other powers to do likewise before the new provisions shall become effective.

• • •

Fleet To Remain.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Further details concerning the anticipated withdrawal of American marines from China revealed today that the sixty American naval vessels now in Chinese waters will not be ordered home nor will any reduction in the number of American seamen now on Chinese territory be made.

It has further been learned, however, that thirteen planes and the ninety-five officers and men of the marine flying forces have been ordered from Tientsin to Guam, the United States naval depot in the mid-Pacific.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Robinson, who issued the order for withdrawal after consultation with the state department yesterday, refused to specify the reason for the withdrawal, but left the impression that the state department feels the Nanking government is now strong enough and willing to do its [illegible] for it.

Where Lives of Workers Were Imperilled

The half million dollar blaze in the tanks of the White Rose Gasoline Company's refinery at Hartford, Ill., endangered the lives of scores of workers employed by the corporation. Blazing oil and smoke fumes from it have imperilled hundreds of lives of oil workers yearly.

ADVERTISERS TO BE 'INVESTIGATED'

Government Charges Monopoly

WASHINGTON, July 26.—A gesture to break an alleged national monopoly on the outdoor advertising industry was made by the government today when the Justice Department filed suit in the U. S. District Court for Southern New York against five firms and several individuals, charging violation of anti-trust laws.

The General Outdoor Advertising Company, Inc., National Outdoor Advertising Bureau, Inc., Outdoor Advertising Association of America Inc., Foster and Kleizer Company Foster and Kleizer Investment Company, Kerwin H. Fulton, George Johnson, and George Armsby, all of New York, and George W. Kleiser of San Francisco, were named.

The government charges an illegal monopoly was created in organization of the General Outdoor Advertising Company in 1925 by the merger of the former Thomas Cusack Company and a large group of companies called the Fulton group of companies. These companies, headed by Kerwin H. Fulton, were formerly engaged in operation of outdoor advertising display plants in competition with the Cusack Company.

Fulton, according to the government's petition, is now president of the General Outdoor Company and chairman of the Outdoor Advertising Association, the latter composed of practically all of the owners of operators of Outdoor Advertising Displays throughout the country.

ILLINOIS MINERS FACE STARVATION

Welcome Relief Sent From Chicago

CHICAGO, July 26.—Thousands of Illinois miners and their families are starving and their only hope is the food sent to them by the National Miners' Relief Committee, with Chicago headquarters at 23 S. Lincoln St., declared Steve Rubicki, director of the food drive in the Chicago area, today. Rubicki has just returned from Springfield, Staunton, Belleville and other sections of the Illinois mining regions, where he took charge of the first distribution of tons of food sent down from Chicago, gathered under his direction.

"Contrary to the lies of Fishwick and Lewis," he said, "more than 60,000 miners in Illinois are out of work and thousands of them are starving.

On Strike Over 16 Months.

"In Pocahontas the men have been out for more than 16 months. The miners and their families are in great need and they gladly welcomed the shipment of foodstuffs.

"In Springfield about 50 families have received shares of provisions. In the Staunton district a load of food was delivered to be distributed among needy miners' families. This distribution will be in charge of Joe Polka and D. Morgan.

Must Intensify Efforts.

"In Belleville the food shipment was greeted by a committee of progressive miners. Dan Slinger has charge of distribution in Belleville. Miners and their families from Pocahontas, O'Fallon and other points around Belleville will get their provisions from the Belleville relief office. Provisions to feed a number of families were also unloaded in Belleville, which will go to Orient.

"The welcome of this shipment of food means that we must intensify our efforts for miners' relief and after the week's drive, July 29 to Aug. 5, we must again begin a new food drive."

A BONE FOR HEART BALM.

TRENTON, N. J., July 26 (UP). —As a reward for their good behavior, convicts of the state prison will hear the radio account of the Tunney-Heeney fight broadcast from the ringside Thursday night.

WORKERS AIDING CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Contributions from All Parts of Country

The masses are rallying to raise the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund, with contributions of five-dollar bills and one-dollar bills, as the capitalist parties are raising the ante on campaign contributions.

A few weeks ago the figure set for the expenditures of the Democratic and republican parties in this election was $3,000,000 each.

The hangers-on of both parties got scared over the prospect of a hard winter, and Al Smith's gasoline manager Raskob came out with the assurance that there would be no limit to contributions.

Then Herbert Hoover's finance director raised it to $4,000,000, and frantic bidding became the order of the day.

Our latest report from Washington is that the figure has now reached the enormous sum of $10,000,000, the largest sum ever officially expended in an election campaign, even in the days of Mark Hanna.

Masses Helping Communists.

But the workers and farmers are going ahead making their contributions to the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund, realizing that the the billions are on the side of the capitalists, the interests of the masses and history are on the side of the Workers (Communist) Party

Men and women and not money make revolutions after all, tho money is extremely useful to prepare the masses ideologically for the great social change, thru agitation, education, and organization.

Mobilize Masses.

And those proletarian men and women who realize that the main purpose of the Communists in the present campaign is to mobilize the masses for the struggle against capitalism are sending in their contributions with appropriate comment.

Here is a letter from a poor farmer from Elko, Nevada:

"Comrades:

"Please find in this letter my proletarian donation of five dollars for our Communist Election Campaign

"Fraternally, George Rupert."

George Rupert takes no stock in the new-found interest of Herbert Hoover in the needs of the farmers What Hoover wants is the farmers' votes. Rupert knows that the Communists do not come to the poor farmers in the role of saviors, but with a program around which they can organize in common with the exploited workers in the factories.

Steve Morasky writes from Caldwell, Ohio:

"Please send me two books of "Vote Communist" stamps and also five Foster-Gitlow campaign buttons. I am also sending $2.50 as my contribution to the Communist Campaign Fund."

Caldwell is in the striking mine area of Ohio where the miners have been battling against the operators and their own corrupt labor leaders for over twelve months. Mrasky knows what the Workers (Communist) Party has done to help out during this strike.

From Tomolen, Mississippi, R. E. Peele writes:

"Find enclosed check for five dollars for my part in campaign fund of Workers (Communist) Party."

Former Socialist Aids Party.

And writes Harry Rutland, of Caspar, California: "I enclose one dollar for stamps to boost the Communist Party. I was in former days a socialist, but dropped out when it deserted the class struggle. I would like to se my letter come with one of those stamps on it."

Yes, Comrade Rutland, you will see a "Vote Communist" stamp on your letter all right. No letter can leave the National Office without one of those stamps pasted on the envelope.

Funds Urgently Needed.

Five dollars from every member and sympathizer of the Workers (Communist) Party would bring in the $100,000 we are driving for in a short time. Money is urgently needed. Dig down and send us whatever you can. Remember that the National Election Campaign Committee needs funds badly to print literature, route speakers, and collect signatures to put the party ticket on the ballot.

It is now $100.000 against $10,000,000, but the odds don't frighten us.

Forward all contributions to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City.

WORKERS AIDING IN GREAT DRIVE FOR MINE RELIEF

New York City Still Leads in Funds

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 26.—As the National Miners Relief and Defense Week campaign is sweeping the continent from Canada to Mexico, the first receipts of the week's drive are arriving in quick succession at the headquarters of the National Miners Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

More than $1,000 was sent from Canada during the past few days. From the Woman's Labor League of Montreal comes a preliminary contribution of $104.50, from the Toronto Relief Committee, $225, the Canmore local of the Mine Workers Union of Canada sends $250, from Ford, Ontario, $100; Long Lac, Winnipeg, Sudbury and Fort Williams all rushed their preliminary contributions to the Pennsylvania strike fields. More than 1,000 families received flour and potatoes this week as a result of Canada's solidarity.

New York Leads

New York City is still leading in relief-raising activity. In addition to the $2,000 check forwarded last week by the relief committee, 799 Broadway, another contribution of $750 and a promise of much more to come by the end of the relief and defense week, was received from Fanny Rudd, secretary. From the Youth Relief Conference of New York comes $325 and the National Children's Relief sent $150.

Empty Treasuries

To the appeal for bread from thousands of hungry strikers' families, workers' organizations are responding by emptying their treasuries. The Finnish Working Women's Club of Astoria, Oregon, sent $80.85. The Young Workers School of Wheeling, W. Va., sent $10, all they had. The Ladies Auxiliary of Duluth, Minn., wrote that $15.25 is all they could afford. A fraternal organization of Bessemer, Pa., sent $143.85, special delivery, to the Pittsburgh headquarters.

From every corner of the country, Seattle, Washington; Vinalhaven, Maine; Witheo, Wis.; Muskegan, Mich.; Globe, Arizona, New London, Conn.; San Francisco, Calif.; Hood River, Oregon; these are a few of the hundreds of cities where mass meetings, house to house collections and tag days have already produced many hundreds of dollars for relief and defense. But thousands are needed to buy even one meager meal a day for the hungry strikers' families in the bituminous coal fields. To defend the hundreds of mine leaders who are jailed or held under heavy bond, and save them from long prison terms, lawyers' bills must be paid International Labor Defense units are rallying to the National Miners Relief and Defense Week drive and proving that they are fulfilling their function as defenders of labor prisoners. All funds are forwarded to the relief headquarters at 611 Penn Ave.

CZECH MILITARY DICTATOR SEEN

Croat Peasants Oppose Parliament

BELGRADE, July 26.—With the failure of General Hadzitch to form a new cabinet in Czechoslovakia, and the continued refusal of the Croatian Peasant Party to enter into a coalition government, the formation of a military cabinet and a virtual dictatorship is seen here as inevitable.

Hadzitch was called upon by the King to form a cabinet of non-party elements, after M. Raditch, the Croat Leader, refused to enter a cabinet charging the present parliament as being responsible for the assassinations last month.

The unrest due to the demands of the nationals and the dissentions between the leaders of the Serbian and Croat parties makes it very unlikely that a political cabinet, favorable to the Croatian peasants will be formed. It is thought here that a military cabinet, accompanied by military rule which will amount to a dictatorship will be the outcome of the present situation.

ARREST AGENT FOR FRAUD

Daniel J. Kelly, special agent for the Underwriters Salvage Company of Newark, N. J., pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of fraud in connection with the adjustment of a fire loss at the warehouse of the Miravelli brothers, Elizabeth, N. J., February 28. He was released in $5,000 bail pending sentence.

ONE IN FOUR ARE NOW OUT OF WORK IN NEW ENGLAND

Five Million are Idle in Country

BOSTON, Mass., July 26.—The issue of the full dinner pail injected into the present election campaign by Hubert Work, chairman of the National Republican Committee may become more vital than the party of big business expected.

Reports of a survey made in New England, the section of the country in which President Coolidge himself resides, disclose that one out of every four workers there are idle and many of the others are working part time.

Explodes Myth.

In some industries the unemployment figures are still more explosive of the full dinner pail myth. In foundries and machine shops, 35 per cent of the workers are idle. In the shoe factories 43 per cent and in the cotton mills 56 per cent or more than half the workers are now unemployed.

These figures compiled by the Massachusetts State Department and Industry indicate that employment conditions have steadily become worse during the past five years.

One Million Affected.

The employment index taking the year 1919 as a base of 100 now stands at 73.6 or that over one-fourth of the workers are idle. Over 350,000 workers are jobless in this section, which means that over a million persons, men women and children are suffering in this section alone from the greatest evil which strikes the wage earning class.

Figures for the country as a whole indicate that 5,000,000 workers are unemployed. At the same time there is taking place a nation-wide and ruthless drive against the existing wage scales and a lengthening of working hours.

WILL HOLD HUGE ANTI-WAR MEET

Workers Party Issues Call

A giant anti-war mass meeting, under the auspices of District 2, Workers (Communist) Party, will be staged by the workers of New York in Union Square on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the declaration of the imperialist World War. The following call has been issued to the workers:

August 4, 1928, marks the fourteenth year since the beginning of the World War, which cost the workers of the world millions of lives and most horrible agony and suffering. The devastating effects of this world catastrophe are still felt today.

Although our memories are still fresh with the horrors of 1914, the imperialists of the world, and particularly the United States, are preparing feverishly for a new world slaughter. Appropriations, battleships, artillery and instruments of destruction have reached an unheard of proportion. Millions are being spent for the production of huge quantities of poison gas and airplanes. Draft laws are being prepared in order to chain the entire working population to the military machine in time of war. Through the institution of military training in the schools, the establishment of many citizens' military training camps, the curse of capitalist militarism is spreading throughout the country.

The sharpening commercial rivalry between the United States and Great Britain, the attack of thousands of American marines upon the people of Nicaragua, the American battleships and marines now threatening the workers and peasants of China and the growing menace of an attack upon the Soviet Union by the combined forces of the imperialist nations—all these are indications of the immediate danger of another and more terrible world war.

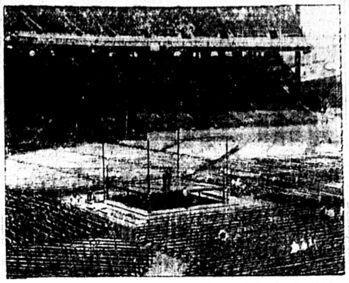
The working masses must take note of these dangerous preparations threatening their very existence. Only through determined agitation and the organization of the workers can this menace be fought. For this purpose the Workers (Communist) Party invites all workers and working class organizations to participate in a great open-air "no more imperialist war" rally to be held in Union Square, New York City, August 4, 1928, promptly at 1 p. m. You are urged to enlist all workers with whom you have any influence in this important demonstration.

We shall be glad to arrange that speakers from your organization participate in this affair if you will notify us who they are. You are also urged to have your delegation come with appropriate banners suitable for the occasion.

Yours against all capitalist wars,
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY, DISTRICT TWO.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 26 (UP). —Four prisoners escaped from Auburn prison camps today. Only one was captured.

"The Flop of the Century"; $40 a Seat



The picture shows seats being erected around the ring in which Tunney and Heeney will tonight stage what is frequently called "the flop of the century." The big business of pugilism, which is the profit device of a small group of promoters, demands that Tunney have an opponent to draw money from the pockets of fight fans. Heeney, who is generally alleged to be a set-up has been chosen. The seats cost $40 apiece which wealthy boosters are willing to pay.

CHICAGO LABOR TO AID MINERS

The Chicago headquarters for the great Miners' Relief and Defense drive, from July 29 to August 5, announce intensive preparation to mobilize the entire progressive labor movement for a factory and house to house collection to feed, clothe and defend from cossack persecution the fighting miners of this country and their families.

The branches of the International Labor Defense are working to put over this great campaign and are calling special mobilization meetings of their membership. Committees of women workers have also been formed for the purpose of making the work a success.

Stations have been established at the following places:

West Side: 23 S. Lincoln St., 3301 W. Roosevelt Rd., Freiheit; 1510 W. 18th St., Rovnost Ludu; 1823 S. Loomise St., Radnik.

Northwest Side: 2021 W. Division St.; 2736 W. Davidson St.

North Side: 2409 N. Halsted St., Imperial Hall; 453 W. North Ave., Hungarian Hall.

Albany Park: 4021 N. Drake Ave.

Cicero: 5100 W. 23rd St.

Maywood: 410 S. 9th St.

South Side: 3116 S. Halsted St., Vilnis; 3035 W. 51st St., Workers' Home; 3201 S. Wabash Ave., Community House.

Woodlawn: 647 E. 61st St.

Pullman: 2954 E. 94th St.

Workers will be sent out from these stations into surrounding territory with boxes and collection lists.

The Joint Committee asks all workers who have any time to spare to call at 23 S. Lincoln St. for assignment of work.

23 Workers Injured in Railroad Crash

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 26. — Twenty-three persons were injured when a picnic train, carrying more than 1,000 employes of the railroad and their families from the annual outing at Canton, Ohio, was sideswiped by a box car in the Manchester Yards. The box car had been derailed from a parallel track. Most of the injured persons were cut by flying glass.

ADMIRAL SAYS NO SANDINO DEFEAT

WASHINGTON, July 26 (UP)—The navy department revealed today General Feeland, in command in Nicaragua, had forwarded an unconfirmed report that Sandino, rebel leader, had fled Nicaragua. Ad. Hughes, chief of operations, told the press the department places no official credence in the rumor and will not modify its anti-Sandino campaign.

• • •

Airplanes Turned Back

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 26 (UP).—American marines, with marine airplanes in support, hoped to gain contact today with the revolutionary force under General Augustino Sandino, who is believed to be at or near the Honduran border.

Airplanes have been turned back by wind and rain from two attempts definitely to locate Sandino's men.

ARREST WORKERS IN LOS ANGELES

Were Collecting Funds for Miners' Relief

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—Ten workers were arrested today in Los Angeles while collecting money in the Joint Miners' Relief and Defense Drive being conducted by the International Labor Defense and the Miners' Relief Committee.

They are charged with violation of a city ordinance, and the prosecution is threatening to sentence each worker to 50 days' in jail and $50 fine. "This brazen arrest and prosecution of workers aiding in the relief and defense of the thousands of miners in Pennsylvania and Ohio is resented bitterly by the progressive workers in Los Angeles," the International Labor Defense announced today thru Martin Abern, assistant national secretary.

Abern declared that these recent arrests make it more imperative than ever for the workers throughout the country to rally for the Relief and Defense Drive this week.

UNEMPLOYED MEN FORCE ATTENTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

British Politicians "Debate"

LONDON, July 26.—Reacting, it is believed to the pressure of unemployed workers, Ramsay McDonald, former Prime Minister of England, today delivered a "formal attack" on the government's failure to lesson, or even to check the fast-growing number of unemployed. His speech was delivered in the House of Commons, in which he demanded a vote of censure of the government.

The government's failure to relieve many poverty-stricken areas, and its complete lack of interest in the unemployment situation has caused great resentment among the army of 1,500,000 workers who are at present unemployed.

Within the last three and one-half years, the number of paupers in Great Britain has increased by 225,000.

Baldwin Offers "Solution."

Prime Minister Baldwin, in defending the government, said that unemployment was concentrated largely within certain sections while the country as a whole was "moderately prosperous." As a "solution" he offered the suggestion that unemployed persons be transferred either to prosperous sections and others to dominions.

Since the last week, the number of persons registered with the Ministry of Labor has been increased by almost 5,000.

Secretary of War to Visit Army in Hawaii

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Secretary of War Davis left New York today for Honolulu. It is announced that Davis is going to attend the celebration of the sesquicentennial anniversary of the discovery of the Hawaiian Islands.

It is known, however, that the real purpose of Davis' visit is to study the military forces on the islands and the preparations for war in the Pacific.

Stops enroute will be made in Chicago, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Denver, Colo. On the Pacific Coast, Davis will visit the naval base at San Diego, sailing for Honolulu in August.

Dead Bodies of 2 Boys Found on Train Tracks

NEWCASTLE, Pa., July 26 (UP) —The bodies of two boys, tentatively identified as those of George Buchko, 16, and Joseph Dudick, 18, of Cleveland, were found along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks south of here today.

The boys had fallen from the train or were killed as they walked along the tracks, police said after an inquiry.

Officers said they believed the boys were making their way east when they were killed.

Railroad Worker Gives Life in Saving Others

CHICAGO, July 26 (UP).—An aged railroad flagman gave his life here today in attempting to save a motor car from a crossing crash.

The flagman, Gottlieb Steek, 56, was hurled 40 feet and instantly killed by a fast freight train when he stepped into its path to warn the auto party. Disregarding his signals, the car speeded up and crossed safely.

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR

Freiheit Picnic
Saturday, July 28

Ulmer Park, Brooklyn

THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.

THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.

ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Polish Miners' Walk-Out Ties Up Coal Districts as Thousands Down Tools for a Day

DOMBROWA AND CRACOW FIELDS ARE PARALYZED

Men Demand Living Wages

WARSAW, Poland, July 26.—While tension grew between the Lithuanian and Polish governments, thousands of Polish coal miners yesterday walked out on a one-day general strike in protest against conditions existing in their industry.

The strike, which comes out of rank and file agitation in the form of a decision of the Executive Committee of the miners' union, was announced several days ago.

By noon yesterday the walk-out was complete in the Cracow and Dombrowa districts, where the enthusiasm of the men for the general walk-out was great. In Upper Silesia the walk-out was nearly complete.

The miners have warned the operators that the present strike is only a foretaste of what will happen, provided conditions in the coal mining industry are not remedied at once. At present the men are earning as low as 50 cents a day.

Using the strike as a threat to frighten the government, the coal operators are attempting to bully the Polish government to give them a subsidy in the form of cheaper freight rates on export coal. The railroad officials in the government have not done this to date.

NEW EVIDENCE IN CENTRALIA CASES

Committee to Fight for Liberation

Continued from Page One

day to sit in the court-room in their uniforms and intimidate witnesses and jurors; of the thirty or more affidavits showing a raid on the hall before any shooting; of the scandal school for witnesses at Montesano during the trial where each witness for the prosecution was schooled in preparation for his false testimony; of the lynching and mutilation of at least one who dared to oppose; and so on in an endless chain of treachery, tyranny and injustice that would make Nero blush for shame."

He tells of the formation of a new committee for liberation in the Northwest: of a visit to the parole board with a group, including the secretary of the Tacoma Central Labor Council, a vice-president of the Washington State Federation representing the Spokane Labor Council, and of Charlotte Todes, Seattle secretary of the International Labor Defense, who also heads the Centralia Liberation Committee.

Appealing to all workers to join in the fight for the freedom of the Centralia men, he concludes: "Let's do this one thing well; let's bring together all the power at our command to force the release of our noble brothers who have stood the brunt of the fight to organize the timber industry."

BIG OVATION FOR SANDINO OFFICIAL

Mexicans Demonstrate Solidarity

Continued from Page One

can minister in Tegucigalpa, has at the country's eastern harbor a professional murderer, Ramon Mondragon, from whom I had to flee in order not to become a new victim."

"What about Sandino's malaria?" the correspondent inquired. "That is a fairy tale to divert the American people's attention from the fact that an unprecedented outrage is being committed in Nicaragua and to hide from them the numerous casualties that have resulted from it. The rumor of Sandino's ailment is similar to the prophecy of the chief officer of the marines relative to the extermination of Sandino and his followers before the beginning of the rainy season.

"Gen. Sandino and his men are in working moral condition and I am able now to state, quoting him, that the enemies' casualties amount to very near 1,800 men, and that the arms with which they are fighting for their liberty were and are being taken from the American head marines. A battle was fought some time ago out of which not one marine came out alive, although nothing of this was reported by Secretary of Navy Wilbur. The mere nomination of Cancada to the presidency will not be the signal to end the fighting, as Sandino has set as an imperative condition the immediate evacuation of the Nicaraguan soil by the North American imperialist marines."

Machado carried with him the credentials given him by Gen. Sandino authorizing him to represent the Nicaraguan government.

Obregon, Victim of Clericals, Is Buried

Standing with heads uncovered at the bier of Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of Mexico, recently assassinated by Jose de Leon Toral, a tool of the clericals, many of his associates paid their last respects to the dead. President Calles is indicated by arrow. Obregon was buried in the mountains in his native state of Sonora. By the wish of Obregon, no religious ceremony was permitted at his funeral.

APPEAL AGAINST POLICE CONTROL

Fight for Free Speech In Philadelphia

An appeal to the Superior Court at Philadelphia will be taken from the recent decision of Judge Alessandroni of the Court of Common Pleas upholding police control over public meetings in private halls, according to an announcement made yesterday by the American Civil Liberties Union. The decision, handed down July 16, involves 16 men arrested for "disorderly conduct" on February 12 when the Philadelphia Council of Unemployed attempted to hold a Lincoln's Birthday meeting in a private hall, despite police refusal to grant a permit.

The police, acting under orders from Superintendent Mills, according to the Union, blocked entrance to the hall where the meeting was scheduled, and when some 500 men went to another hall, lined up and barred the door to that also. When speakers within the second hall attempted to speak from the windows, the police entered the building and made arrests.

Although Judge Alessandroni's ruling releases 10 of the 16 defendants because of insufficient evidence, it affirms the $10 fines imposed on the other six by the magistrate's court, and holds that the police have supervisory power over meetings, and that no meeting may be held if they prohibit it. The Civil Liberties Union contends that the police have no legal right to censor meetings in private halls. Repeated efforts to get a court ruling were unavailing until this case arose. David Wallerstein, Philadelphia attorney who has conducted the cases in the lower courts, will represent the Union in the appeal.

Chemists Produce Synthetic Rubber

EVANSTON, Ill., July 25 (UP).—A synthetic lumber has been produced by chemists as another item in their farm relief program, it was brought out at the institute of chemistry at Northwestern University here today.

The chemists are bringing before the farmers new methods as to how their supposed useless articles may be turned to profit. They have emphasized the use of corn stalks and straw in development of new material, and O. R. Sweeney of Iowa State College today added this new industry to the list.

CONTINUE FIGHT FOR GAS HEARING

Injunction Is Planned Against Commission

Adhering to its ruling of a week ago, the big-business controlled upstate Public Service Commisison refused again yesterday to allow opponents of the proposed $1,000,000,000 merger of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York and the Brooklyn Edison Company to present their case in the interest of gas and light consumers in New York City

The official stand taken was that no person not owning stock in either of the companies was entitled to any consideration in the matter.

Grafters Head Commission.

Chairman Prendergast, who in 1911 was the city comptroller of New York and who together with Mayor William J. Gainor and the entire city board of estimate and apportionment, were bought up by the traction trust, and George R Van Namee, Tammany politician who led the Smith pre-convention activities, were the only members of the commission on the bench at yesterday's hearing.

The Public Committee on Power may seek to enjoin the commission from proceeding to a decision on the ground that a proper hearing has not yet been held, it was announced.

Huge Merger.

It was recently revealed that the Koppits Gas and Coke Company of Philadelphia, a Mellon concern, has bought deeply into the stocks of both the Consolidated and the Edison companies, and that the proposed merger will be merely a final step in the formation of a huge, single-controlled light and gas trust extending from Philadelphia to Boston with its pivot point in New York.

Arkansas to Vote On Anti-Evolution

The first state-wide anti-evolution referendum ever held will take place in Arkansas, Nov. 6.

At the last session of the Arkansas legislature, 1927, the Rotenberry Anti-Evolution bill passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 51 to 46, but was defeated in the senate by a vote of 16 to 14. Adopting a new strategy, which they threaten to employ in every state having the initiative and referendum, the fundamentalists have filed a petition for a state referendum.

The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism will take the field against the fundamentalists. Its president, Charles Smith, a native of Arkansas, will leave within six weeks for Little Rock to establish a campaign base there, and will return there early in October to aid in the fight against the anti-evolutionists.

WORLD CONGRESS HEARS WORKERS PARTY PROBLEMS

Balkan Situation Also Discussed

Continued from Page One

supply most of the cannon fodder during wars.

Stabilization is very shaky in the Balkans, he said, and the bourgeoisie is not able to find a stable foundation.

It is impossible to solve the differences between Italy and Jugo-Slavia peacefully hence the danger of war. The social democrats in the Balkans are assisting the terror against the revolutionary workers, this fast must therefore determine the Communist attitude to the social democrats. The Communist Parties of the Balkans have overcome severe crises.

Pepper Speaks.

Pepper then declared that Dunne, of the United States, had spoken only for himself, whereas the rest of the American delegation agreed with Bukharin. American imperialism is not exhausted, he said. The growth of capitalism does not exclude the growth of internal contradictions. On the contrary, the rapid growth of the economic and political power of American capitalism has caused severe internal and external conflicts.

The increasing radicalization of the American masses is present only in certain industries and does not embrace all the decisive sections of the proletariat. On the contrary, a tendency toward "becoming respectable" is still presen in cerain sections.

The Central Committee of the Workers Party has corrected the opportunist errors of former party leaders, who are now accusing the Central Committee of opportunism.

Youth Movement.

Blenkle, of the German Young Communist League, declared the organizational situation of the Young Communist Leagues unsatisfactory, though not stagnant. There has been a falling off in membership in the Communist Children's Leagues, whereas the social democratic children's leagues are growing. The Communist Parties must support the Young Communist Leagues, he declared.

Hannington, of Great Britain, then asserted that Bukharin's analysis failed sufficiently to treat the unemployment problem, which is one of the greatest questions of the day. The Communist International will make a mistake if it neglects the unemployment question, as the unemployed workers represent a great factor against capitalism.

Prague Police Arrest 150 Workers Red Day

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (By Mail).—In Prague 150 workers were arrested because of the Red Day (July 5). Many of the arrested were put in chains because they shouted revolutionary slogans.

At the intervention of the Representatives Hruska and Landa-Stychov in the name of the Red Aid some of the prisoners were freed.

Raids have been made on the numerous local workers' organizations and on the homes of Communist functionaries.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

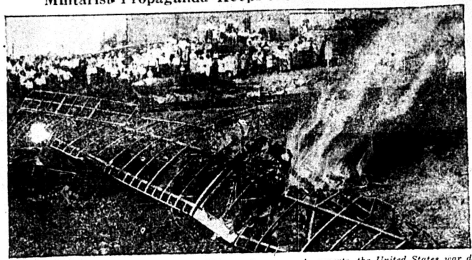
Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $2

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

Militarist Propaganda Keeps Air Victims Mounting



By every means at the command of its publicity and propaganda experts, the United States war department is preaching air consciousness in order to prepare the ground for the coming imperialist war. Ill-trained pilots and novices who are carried away by the exhilaration of flying itself have been the Principal victims of the government's propaganda. The picture shows the end of one such tragedy where two occupants of what was once a plane, crushed to earth at Jersey City.

'BOMBS FAIL' TO DISRUPT RELIEF

Washington Meeting Is Big Success

WOODLAND, Wash., July 26.—Students of the Woodland Workers' School were refused a hall here yesterday in which to meet for the purpose of raising some funds to aid the starving miners. Undaunted by the efforts on the part of local authorities to prevent any gathering, the worker-students held an outdoor meeting.

The meeting was greeted with outbursts of enthusiasm on the part of the workers gathered to listen to the speakers. It is probably the first open-air meeting at which so much as $17 was collected.

The local business interests, which in the first instance had urged the authorities here to refuse a hall for the miners' relief meeting were angered by the success of the meeting and threw stink bombs among the throng. The meeting, however, continued with the same high spirit until its end, notwithstanding the attempts to break it up on the part of business interests.

CHORUS GIRLS FORM A UNION

CHICAGO, July 26.—A mass meeting of chorus girls, held here recently, decided to organize into a union and affiliate themselves with the Actors' Equity Association an A. F. of L. union. The meeting was called by Ann Lord and Loretta Clevinger.

The latter stated that there 2,400 chorus girls in Chicago and that they all are underpaid and must work any number of hours their employers demand. The new union will demand a minimum wage of $35 per week for city girls and $45 per week for girls on the road. They will also demand a regulated work day.

RESTS WEARY BONES—Paris (UP)—President Doumergue has left to spend his vacation at the official summer capital at Rambouillet.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Police Beat; Objective Court Punishes Worker

BERLIN (By Mail).—In the Tempelhof court three workers were tried on June 27. Ten witnesses were called. The story of their crime is as follows: At the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Soviet Union the "Leunalied" was sung, and the police felt themselves to be insulted. One of the accused, Max Kube, was beaten down by a policeman's club. Unconscious and covered with blood, Kube was dragged into a auto, taken to the police station, treated there for eight weeks, and until today is disabled.

Now he sits on the accused bench, together with Hertwig and Henschel, who attempted to protect him from further mistreatment by the police.

The charge is: resistance to the state power. Kube was also charged with hitting an officer from behind.

Witnesses swear that Kube neither sang nor did anything, but without much ado was beaten by the police. The sluggers, however, told another story. And the court decided energetic use of the police had prevented a heavy slaughter. Kube was sentenced to 75 marks fine and 15 days in prison.

Russian Fraction to Hold Meeting Tonight

An important meeting of the Russian fraction of the Workers (Communist) Party in New York will be held tonight at 8 p. m. in the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Squae, on the 6th floor.

Important matters are on the agenda, and all members are urged to be present.

GOOD-WILL MAN GUARDED

BUENOS AYRES, July 26.—President-elect Guggiari of Paraguay, who is making a "good-will" tour of a number of South American republics, had to be escorted to the train by a squadron of armed guards. He was present at the funeral ceremonies of the vice-president-elect of Brazil, Biero.

RENEW TERROR IN BULGARIA

Working Class Editors in Prison

SOFIA, July 26.—The fascist regime has renewed its persecution of the workers' and peasants' organizations. The first victims of the offensive are the editors of the working class press.

The following were put in prison: Two editors of the "Novini," the editor of the "Natschalo," the editor of the trade union paper "Edinstwi." The editors were so mishandled in prison that the editor of the Natschalo, who was thrown into a dark cell, went on a hunger strike.

ROSARIO STRIKE GROWS AS PEACE BID IS REJECTED

Power Plant Workers Back Carmen

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 26.—The water works workers, whose early participation in the big Rosario walk-out formed one of the links which made the strike virtually a general strike, even in its early stages, have refused an offer of the owners to return to their jobs on terms that grant them more than they originally demanded. Their refusal to return to work is an expression of solidarity with the other trades now out in the city.

The move on the part of the power plant officials to break the strike of the carmen, dockers and transportation workers was met with a united resistance on the part of the workers.

The solidarity of the electric plant workers with the rest of the strikers has left the impression among hundreds of strikers that the general strike movement is gaining impetus.

In the meantime the harbor traffic of Rosario, the second largest port in Argentina and one of the grain centers of the world, is completely paralyzed. Shipping agents here adopted a resolution unanimously declaring their intention of continuing the boycott of the port.

All shipments of grain have ceased and 300,000 tons of grain are lying on the wharves awaiting export.

HEADS STRIKEBREAKERS

GARDEN CITY, L. I., July 26 (UP).—Elvin Wheeler of Elmira was elected president of the New York State Association of Police Chiefs today. He had served as vice-president last year.

TO ALL OUR READERS:

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS

Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.

Name of business place......................
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....

Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

A Worker's Tour to Soviet Russia
TO WITNESS THE CELEBRATION OF THE NOVEMBER REVOLUTION
"EVERY WORKER SHOULD PARTICIPATE"
The Group Sails October 17th on the Cunard Express Steamer "MAURETANIA"
VIA LONDON COPENHAGEN HELSINGFORS
7 DAYS of Interesting Sightseeing in LENINGRAD and MOSCOW
RETURN WARSAW BERLIN PARIS
$375.00
May Be Paid in Monthly Installments. First Payment $25.00.
(FREE VISES—EXTENSIONS ARRANGED FOR TO VISIT ANY PART OF U. S. S. R.)
WORLD TOURISTS, INC.
69 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK CITY Telephone: ALGONQUIN 6900.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More
Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS

The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.

The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY 43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

NORTH DAKOTA RESTAURANT WORKERS' GLORIOUS WAGES TOTAL AS HIGH AS $7 A WEEK--SOMETIMES

(By a Worker Correspondent)

BISMARCK, N. D. (By Mail).—In this state of North Dakota where wages for waiters, waitresses and restaurant workers are considered high, the waitresses are working for seven dollars ($7) per week. These girls are working seven days a week and ten hours a day in order to get their full salary. If they are absent or not on time they do not receive full pay and find that at the end of the week their pay-check has been lowered.

These workers, like almost all other workers here, have no union to help them in their struggles for higher wages and better working conditions. One of the waitresses in making a statement in answer to a question asked her in regard to a union said: "I cannot see what a union could do for us as the bosses are all organized and they would fight against us, and there are so many unemployed restaurant workers at this time that we would have no chance at all to win out. Just a short time ago I told my boss that I couldn't live on seven dollars a week and he replied that it was not his fault and that if I didn't like it I could quit."

However, this is not any particular case as the conditions of these workers are terrible. They are not allowed to sit down once during the entire day as long as they are on duty and do not get a minute off to themselves during their working time.

Talk about exploitation, we have it here in North Dakota as developed as in any other state in these United (capitalist) States. —J.

Trufood Workers Picket in Rain and Heat; Force Cafe Closure, Correspondent Says

DEMAND UNION RECOGNITION; PAY INCREASES

Open Shop Scheme Is Checked

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Owners of the Trufood Vegetarian Restaurants are vainly trying their best to break down the spirit of the striking waiters and waitresses. While the strike is entering its fourth week the pickets are doing their duty in the sweltering heat as well as in the rainstorms.

"Close or Sign Up!"

The slogan of the workers is the same as it was the first day of the walk-out: "Close up the stores or sign up with the union."

Patrons of the Trufood Restaurants walk down to the picket line and assure the strikers of their sympathy. "Don't give up, kids, we won't go in to eat unless the bosses give you union conditions."

The result of this wide sympathy on the part of the patrons was that the Trufood bosses were forced to close up one of their restaurants on 40th St., between Broadway and 6th Ave.

The bosses tried to use this event as a maneuver for their ends and called a conference with the strikers. Then they invited them to go back to work without recognizing the union. "Otherwise the Trufood will be closed and will be transformed into a cafeteria," they threatened.

Won't Give Up

But the strikers will never give up their just demands. Those who were freed from picket line duty as a result of having their restaurant closed were sent to work on union jobs with the understanding that as soon as the Trufood reopens, they would be placed back on the picket line.

The closing up of a restaurant is looked upon by the strikers as a partial victory. It shows them how strong they are with their determination to win better working conditions, shorter hours and higher wages. H. S.

HANdOuTS

It is now announced that the "lively and impressive impromptu ovations" which greeted Hoover's train on its trip to the coast were organized by C. Blascom Slemp, national committeeman.

• • •

Under capitalism the law is supposed to apply to rich and poor alike. But if you have a bank account with five or six figures it doesn't apply quite so vigorously to you. The rich have never had the slightest respect for the law except when they use it as a weapon to keep the workers enslaved. The men who are supposed to enforce the law have even less respect for it. This can be seen from the following words of District Attorney Stuart Culbertson of Meadville, Pa., describing the convention of the Pennsylvania State Sheriffs' Association in a hotel at Conneaut Lake, Pa.:

"When we got there we could hear them cursing. I broke into the place and found them reeling about like a lot of drunken hogs. It was the worst mess I ever saw. Bottles were being hurled about, men were fighting and two of them attacked me. We arrested the bellhop as he was serving liquor [They] destroyed a whole bathtub of bottled liquor which was packed on ice.

"They were all in a bad way. I told them who I was, and they asked me to free the bellhop, but I refused. There were at least 40 men in the room, and all of them were drunk."

• • •

If a worker thinks it's all a mistake and that the sheriffs really administer the law impartially instead of only where the graft is thickest he should listen to the following words of Thomas Garfield Sterrett, president of the Pennsylvania State Sheriffs' Association:

"To hell with the District Attorney of Crawford County and Prohibition, too!"

• • •

"We Are Lost"

If a poor working class mother manages to save up sufficient carfare to take her family to Coney Island on a hot afternoon she can console herself, leisurely, with such reveries as "I wonder if John is out past his depth? I do hope Mary doesn't fall off the scenic railway." Also, if she has six children, she is lucky if she gets through the afternoon without losing more than two. In fact, dozens of children misplace their parents at Coney Island every day. Above is a group waiting to be called for at the police station. No such problems trouble a rich woman if she is so indiscreet as to have a couple of children. Her children are sent out to bathe surrounded with so many governesses that at the end of the day you are more liable to be shy a governess than a child.

Gems of Learning

John J. Raskob, Catholic, Democratic National Chairman:—"There comes a time in the life of a nation when men not in politics feel called upon to take an active instead of a passive interest in government." If you wonder who calls them, remember money talks.

Restaurant to Donate to Election Fund Drive

The Health Food Restaurant, at 1690 Madison Ave., between 107th and 108th Sts., will donate 20 per cent of its income of today and tomorrow to the Workers (Communist) Party election campaign fund. This has been procured by the members of Unit 1, Section 4 of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Some time ago, the Health Food Restaurant contributed 25 per cent of its proceeds for two days to the striking miners. All workers in New York City are urged to patronize the restaurant for the purpose of aiding in their own drive.

CIVIL SERVICE LABOR GAGGED

Must Not Take Part in Electioneering

WASHINGTON, July 25 (UP).—The U. S. Civil Service Commission issued a formal warning to all federal employes today against participating in political campaigns this fall.

The commission stated that government employes under its jurisdiction who violated the edict would be dismissed.

• • •

WASHINGTON, July 25.—In spite of the warning issued by the Civil Service Commission, issued for the purpose of intimidating the thousands of workers holding down low-salaried government posts, the higher post-office officials and the leaders of the Civil Service Commission have every year been identified with the campaigns of their parties in organizing and agitating on behalf of their parties in power.

The white collar slaves employed by the government are among the most exploited and intimidated in the country.

PROTEST HALTED ON GAS MERGER

Prendergast Rejects Liberal's Appeal

William A. Prendergast, chairman of the Public Service Commission, announced yesterday that he has telegraphed Morris L. Ernst, attorney for the Public Committee on Power in New York State, confirming an earlier rumor that the commission does not consider his clients a "proper party" to the proceedings growing out of the petition of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York to acquire the stock of the Brooklyn Edison Company.

Prendergast has been exposed before this as the city comptroller of New York, who in 1911, together with Mayor William J. Gaines and the entire city Board of Estimate and Apportionment, was bought up by the traction interests.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., July 26.—A union of federal employes has been organized here. The organization has 50 charter members.

Future Fighters for the Working Class

The picture shows a group of young Pioneers who participated in a drill at a recent meeting of the International Labor Defense at Cleveland, Ohio. These future fighters for the working class are preparing themselves physically as well as mentally to join in the struggle against the capitalist system.

(Photo by George Elson, Cleveland)

WORKERS PARTY IN MINE MEET

Anthracite Subdistrict Active

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 26.—Delegates from the Workers Party nuclei in the anthracite sub-district will meet this Sunday, July 29, to discuss the present situation, to work out plans for the future and to mobilize the Party for the carrying out of these plans.

During the past months, the anthracite sub-district has showed definite progress in its work, as proven by the gaining of about 70 new members, the improved activity of the membership and the formation of new units, including 5 mine-nuclei. The organization of mine-nuclei is especially important.

Experience has proven that the turning of the Party's attention towards the place of work does not only put an end to the remnants of a language branch spirit, but it means increased activity in the mine and the union. More mine-nuclei will lead to a bigger Party and a bigger left wing.

The conditions today are favorable for this work. The situation in the tri-district with the bankruptcy of the fake opposition leaders, the sell-out of the soft-coal miners by Lewis, and the increase in unemployment, together with the attack of the operators, is opening the eyes of many miners. They are answering with strikes to the offensive against the union conditions. They are beginning to realize that after the destruction of the union in the bituminous fields, the anthracite will follow. They are becoming more and more receptive to the message of the Party and the left wing.

$18,000 SHORT IN TAMMANY GRAFT

Glee Club Does Its Bit to Uphold Tradition

A shortage of $18,000 in the books of the Police Glee Club was revealed yesterday after an inquiry conducted by Police Inspector Lewis J. Valentine. Tammany police Commissioner Warren, whose attention was called to the shortage, refused to declare himself on the issue before he communicated with Mayor Walker, who is now cavorting with the pretty ladies of filmland in Hollywood.

The findings of Inspector Valentine disclosed the sale of "benefit" tickets by certain members of the Glee Club to owners of night clubs and speakeasies and to others thruout the city. These tickets, it is asserted, were sold "over and over again."

STEAMFITTERS WIN UNION.

DETROIT, July 26.—Steamfitters here won a union-shop and better working conditions.

PLUMBER OFFICIAL GIVES OUT FAVORS

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Many plumbers of Local 463, Bronx and Manhattan, are of the opinion that their president, "Bill" Doran, is a "good" man. "What does his goodness to the plumbers consist in?" I once asked a member of Local 463.

Gets Boss Favors

"Well, you know, 'Bill' can get more favors from the boss for us than any other man in the local," he replied.

"Do you think that the bosses are fools, that they give favors for nothing? Don't you think they demand something in return?"

"You're all wrong; 'Bill' is a good guy," and that ended the argument.

Halt Employment

Many plumbers are out of work now. While they are walking the streets others are working overtime on week days and Saturdays. This is a violation of the rules of Local 463, which says that no one may work overtime unless he gets the permission of the union. In some places work is also being done on Sundays. Of course "Bill" Doran and the other officials of Local 463 do nothing to stop these evils.

Now we understand why "Bill" Doran can get favors from the bosses. Not only do not these favors help the workers but they prevent a good many of them from being able to earn a few extra cents in order to make an appearance that they are living.

CASSELL.

MACHADO TERROR CLAIMS VICTIM

HAVANA, Cuba, July 25.—Continued terrorist activity of the Cuban police in their campaign against the workers came to light today with the announcement of the discovery of a new "plot" to assassinate President Machado.

The report, which resulted in the immediate arrest of Miguel Gonzales at Santiago de Cuba, was made by Chief of Judicial Police Alfonso L. Fors.

Cuban police have engaged in a campaign of persecution since their conference with Machado, when plans for the present activities are alleged to have been laid.

HOW DOES YOUR NUCLEUS WORK?

What problems is it confronted with?

What questions would you like answered?

The Communist Nucleus

What It Is
How It Works

By M. JENKS

Just off the press!

Deals with and solves the problems of your nucleus.

A real manual for work in your nucleus.

Secure Your Copy NOW!

15 Cents

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th St.
New York City

RIGHT WING IN CAPMAKERS WIN GANG VICTORY

But Militants Expose Jobless Fund Fraud

(By a Worker Correspondent)

A ridiculous comedy was staged by the right wing officialdom at the meeting of the Capmakers Local 1 last Saturday night, which was to have been held for elections of a new executive board.

Rank and File Stay Home.

The worst elements in the organization, the proud possessors of "life-jobs," these working bootleg overtime with the consent of the officialdom at a time when hundreds of capmakers are walking the streets jobless, were mobilized to come to the meeting. But the great majority of the capmakers, those compelled to come to the bureaucrats for a job, remained at home.

When it comes to permitting balloting, so that all the membership can have an opportunity to participate in the elections for union functionaries, that is out of the question. Zaritsky and his club-controlled locals will never permit secret elections and can maintain control only so long as they know that the members would fear to be seen registering their vote against the administration.

At the meeting it was seen that no one, not a member of Zaritsky's club had any chance to be elected. Even those openly speaking against the left wing, but not members of his clique, lost out when the gang vote was "counted."

The cynical railroading thru of Zaritsky's hand-picked executive board was in no way delayed by the left wing speakers' exposure of the union wrecking activities of the Zaritsky gang. J. Schogel, S. Boerum, Abe Jonas and others assailed the "reelected" right wing executive board for supporting Zaritsky in his campaign to force piece-work and the return of the 44-hour week upon the membership, and also his deliberate destruction of the organization by expulsion of all progressive elements opposed to his sellout policies.

"Regular Boys," Exposed.

The militants speaking also expose the officialdom's criminal neglect in collecting the three per cent unemployment insurance fund from the manufacturers. This was consciously done in order not to irritate the friends of the right wing, the employers, it was explained. As a result of this the employment fund which provided the jobless with a dole enabling them to carry on, was completely shut down.

At the so-called vote count, the chairman, one of the regular boys concluded with a vote total far larger than the entire attendance at the meeting. These are the details of how the right wing of Local 1 achieved a great victory for themselves. —M. M.

Film Record of a Scientific Expedition at the Cameo

CAPTAIN SNOW'S picture story, "Hunting Big Game in Africa," now being shown at the Cameo Theatre, is one of the films that merit revival. Originally shown on Broadway a few years ago it still stands as one of the best of its kind.

It is a record of two years spent in the African jungles in search of specimens for the Oakland Museum of Natural History. The opening scenes allow a glimpse into the whaling industry on the African coast. From then on the pictorial records of the expedition follow systematically the progress of each step into the jungles.

Modes of travel in the different sections of the country are an interesting feature: By mule teams, to oxen, to camels, then by Ford and finally the only way possible, by foot. Meanwhile as the different stages are reached the animal life of each section is given with startling success. Since this was the purpose of the expedition, the human life of the jungles is only secondary. What there is of it in the films—the native customs and ceremonial rites—are a welcome addition to the story.

Securing specimens is a dangerous task. Leopards, rhinos, buffalo and elephants particularly are not willing to give up their hides without a battle. As a result some of the incidents of the hunt are thrilling. A charging elephant dashing into the lens is obvious danger.

The revival of films of such interest by the Film Arts Guild makes a trip to the Cameo especially worthwhile to the proletarian arm-chair traveler whose traveling must necessarily be confined between the factory and the home.

Charge Bank Official With Stealing Funds

BOSTON, July 25 (UP).—Charged with misapplication of approximately $30,000 in bank funds, Frederick Salder of Jamaica Plain, assistant treasurer of the United States Trust Company, was arraigned in federal court on a secret indictment here today.

He pleaded not guilty and was ordered held uner $5,000 bond.

The indictment, containing seven counts, charges that Slater, over a period of years, by negotiation of fictitious notes and mortgages for which cashiers' checks were obtained and negotiated, converted to his own use the proceed.

1852 THE SAME ADDRESS OVER 75 YEARS 1928

METROPOLITAN SAVINGS BANK

ASSETS EXCEEDING $29,000,000

Deposits made on or before the 3rd day of the month will draw interest from the 1st day of the month.

Last Quarterly Dividend paid on all amounts from $5.00 to $7,500.00, at the rate of 4½%

Open Mondays (all day) until 7 P. M.
Banking by Mail Society Accounts Accepted
We Sell A. B. A. Travelers Certified Checks

No 1 THIRD AVE. Cor 7th ST

THE DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY

N. OGNYOV

What does a boy of twelve think about in the land where workers rule?

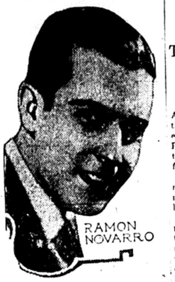
This simple diary of a schoolboy in Soviet Russia has puzzled many a wise bourgeois critic. New standards, new ideas, a new life—richer and more creative. Such things seem at first unlikely and fantastic to a dusty brain.

But the "Diary" speaks for itself.

Price, $2.50

Workers Library Publishers
39 East 125th Street
New York City

RAMON NOVARRO



Featured in the new film, "A Certain Young Man," now showing at Loew's State Theatre.

NEW PRESS AGENTS' UNION HOLDS WELCOME PARTY

The recently organized Association of Theatrical Agents and Managers held a meeting last night in the Fisk building. The organization recently received a charter from the American Federation of Labor, and last night's meeting was a special gathering to welcome the co-operation of the stage unions.

Members of the American Federation present pledged the support of the organization. Edward Canavan, president of the State Hands' Union; Frank Gilmore of the Actors' Equity, and Joseph Weber of the American Federation of Musicians, were on hand to pledge their support.

MONESSEN TIN COMPANY BUYS GIRLS CHEAPER

Their Labor Costs Less Than Men's

(By a Worker Correspondent)

MONESSEN, Pa., (By Mail).—Am sending another letter about the working conditions here in Monessen. The American Sheet and Tin Plate Company is supposed to start to work Sunday nights and work till four o'clock Saturday.

The company sure can work the men as they are pleased now with plenty of men standing at the gates looking for employment.

Last winter the mill worked only part time and half of the men had to work doubled up, (doubled up means two men on one job) and when a worker works doubled up, he only receives half as much pay as he would if he worked alone. And now when the hot weather is on they make the workers work every day and also make them work on Saturday till four o'clock, where before they only worked till eight o'clock in the morning.

How long will the workers stand for the dirty work that that company plays on them year after year? In the mills here we have the insurance and safety first signs all over the mill. They have posters tacked up which read as follows: "Be a Tight Wad. Save Your Earnings. Work Steady and Save for the Rainy Day," and so forth. A fellow worker asked me the other day as we were standing and reading these posters, "How in the hell can a fellow save for the rainy day, when all he can make goes for the upkeep of his family?" The workers here are working under the most rotten conditions imaginable. We do not have washrooms or lockers where we can keep our clothes or wash. —E. E.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:25
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

Keith-Albee CAMEO 42d & B'way Wis. 1789
CAPT. H. A. SNOW'S "HUNTING BIG GAME IN AFRICA"
THRILLING—AMAZING—REAL
and "ARCTIC SEAL HUNT"

DRAMATIC CRITIC DEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 26 (UP).—Henry Tilford Parker, 45 former New York dramatic critic and prominent in newspaper and theatrical circles here, died today after an illness of 18 months

Read This First!

1. We say "read this first," because this requires action!
2. This is the big week. Every man, woman and child in sympathy with the struggling coal miners will co-operate fully in our National Miners' Relief and Defense Week.
3. Every subscriber of this paper must take the contribution list sent him and collect funds in shop and factory, in union and lodge, from friends and neighbors.
4. Every subscriber of this paper must register with the National Miners' Relief Secretary or the International Labor Defense Secretary of his city at once, and take part in the big house-to-house collections on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29.
5. If you have not received a contribution list for this special drive for funds then write us this minute and we will send you one by special delivery mail. Everybody must help just a little more at this most critical period.

If the Coal Miners and Their Families Ever Needed Assistance--

They Need It Now!

National Miners' Relief and Defense Week

Conducted Jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee, International Labor Defense

Address all mail and make all remittances to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Penna.

Staten Island Shipbuilding Strikers Determined to Fight Wage Slash to End

WORKERS FORM COMMITTEE TO BUILD A UNION

Unorganized, Enter 5th Day of Fight

(By a Shipworker Correspondent)

The workers of the Staten Island Shipbuilding Company, for the most part unorganized and entering on the fifth day of their strike against a wage cut, held a meeting this afternoon at the corner of Railroad and Stuyvesant Avenue at which there was a large and enthusiastic turnout.

The strikers expressed their determination not to go back to work under the new wage scale which has been slashed, and demanded the wage scale inforced before March 15. The spirit at the meeting was high and the strikers pledged themselves to stick together.

Deceive Workers.

According to the promise of the company, the new wage scale was intended to apply only to workers employed after March 15, but the company has used it as a means to reduce the wages of the old workers. When a worker does not report at his job for three days, (illness is no excuse), he is re-hired as a new man on the reduced wage scale.

Drastic cuts were made in the wages of the workers of all departments. Iron workers were cut from 88 cents per hour to 72 cents; carpenters from 90 cents per hour to 80 cents and overtime was reduced from double and a half to double.

The treachery of the company bosses in thus fooling the employees has angered the workers. The walkout of the iron workers on last Friday was almost immediately followed by a walkout of all departments. The 650 men employed in the plant are almost all out on strike and refuse to return to work until their demands are granted.

Picket Regularly.

The strikers picket the plant regularly bearing signs calling upon the few workers still employed to join the strike. Mornings and evenings a caravan of automobiles display signs informing the men looking for work that the plant is on strike.

The strikers feel the need for a strong union and realize that it is necessary to organize in order to win the strike and to prevent any such company action in the future. The sentiment among the strikers is strong for the formation of a shop committee, which they realize is the only means to safeguard their interests and fight the bosses.

The company has tried to bulldoze the workers back into the plant by telling them that the ships will be taken off the drydocks and transported to Newport News. But the workers only laugh at the crude methods of the bosses because they know that the ships still need thousands of rivets and that they cannot be put out into the water.

DEMONSTRATOR IS UP IN COURT

Nathan Kaplan Being Framed-up

Nathan Kaplan, fur worker, who was arrested in connection with the anti-imperialist demonstration in Wall Street, July 3 and charged with first, second and third degree assault on the testimony of two officers, appeared yesteday in General Sessions Court, Part 1, before Judge Otto Rosalsky and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Kaplan is being accused of biting the finger of a policeman, despite the fact that a number of witnesses have testified that the policeman's finger was cut when he smashed Kaplan in the face.

He is being defended by Jacques Buitenkant, representing the New York section of the International Labor Defense. The I. L. D. has issued an appeal to all class-conscious workers to help smash the frame-up of Kaplan by sending immediate funds for his defense and also by attending the I. L. D. Outing at Pleasant Bay Park, Aug. 11, the proceeds of which will be used to defend him.

AIRPLANES BOMB SANDINO CAMP

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 25. —A virtual massacre of Nicaraguans occurred today when a squadron of marine planes bombed a camp of soldiers under command of Augustino Sandino, leader of the army of independence. The planes were subjected to heavy machine gun and rifle fire but the defense [illegible] anti-aircraft guns.

The squadron of planes circled the camp situated about 50 miles [illegible] of Mura on the Honduran border, dropping bombs. The [illegible] planes kept out of range of [illegible] fire and continued to attack the camp of Genural Sandino.

Fight Trust Prepares Last Details of Battle

The picture shows workers preparing the high power electric before the Tunney-Heeney fight scheduled for last night. The fight capitalists lavish huge sums on the "scenery" amidst which their picked performers box. The lumber in the back is part of the stands where a seat costs $40.

FURRIERS DRIVE GUNMEN AWAY

Sorkin Bloc in Cooper Union Meet Tonight

The maneuver of sending hired thugs into the fur market to intimidate the fur workers, used as a last resort to bolster up the collapsing structure of of the Joint Council, A. F. of L. company union, met its Waterloo yesterday afternoon when the furriers revolted and drove a squad of gangsters out of the "market."

In a free-for-all battle, which the furriers decided to make conclusive despite the squad of police and reserves, who were attempting to halt it, the squad of right wing hirelings were taught that the workers will defend themselves against any attempt to browbeat them into submission to the thug and boss ruled Council.

Nat Yacker, who has an odorous reputation among the furriers, leading a gang of cutthroats, strutted up to 30th St. and Sixth Ave., where the workers gather for dinner hour, and with bludgeons, began to assault those too militant in their denunciation of the McGrady-Stetsky clique, who with the bosses have destroyed the former good working standards in the trade.

The week-old voyages of the gangster squad thru the market suddenly hit a reef when in yesterday's adventure, the workers turned on them and drubbed them out of all ambition to continue their campaign of organized terror.

When the police arrived they began to arrest the workers, most of whom were members of the Joint Board. It was only after the determined protests of the workers that the police were forced to take into custody two of the gangsters. They are Glassman and a hireling strange to the fur district called "Phinney."

Sadie Mondell and Celia Rabinowitz were the two women out of the four workers arrested. Meyer Fineman and Mark Boeurum were the men. Three of these were charged with disorderly conduct when arraigned in Jefferson Market Court later. Fineman, it was learned, was chosen by the thugs as a victim in a frame-up attempt. They are pressing felonious assault charges against him. Bonds of $500 were put up by the Joint Board for the appearance of the first three. Increased bail, the amount not yet learned, was demanded by the judge for Fineman.

FRANCHISE KING SUPPORTS SMITH

With the announcement by John Raskob, open shop manager of the Al Smith campaign that the goal set for the democratic drive this year will total $3,500,000, a record for the party, there was made public the fact that William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry Company and chief figure in the Equitable Bus Company which recently obtained a city bus franchise, will support Al Smith.

Woodin, who is a prominent republican and a director in a dozen large corporations, announced that he would not only support Smith but that he would campaign for the Tammany governor. The news was not thought surprising in view of the fact that within a year the Equitable Bus Corporation secured a franchise from the city commonly reported to be worth $150,000,000.

DROWNED SAVING SON

DOWAGIAC, Mich., July 26 (UP).—Exhausted after holding his three-year-old son, Billy, above water until help came, Edward La Fountained, 25, of South Bend, Ind., sank in 20 feet of water in Birch Lake late yesterday and was drowned.

ASK 4 MILITANT MINERS BE FREED

Delegation to Visit Illinois Governor

Petitions and resolutions from the coal miners in Southern Illinois and labor organizations throughout the state of Illinois demanding the release of Henry Corbishley, Steve Meanovich, Ignatz Simich and Eddie Moleski from imprisonment, are pouring in upon Governor Small. These four militant miners were framed and imprisoned on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder, as a result of a fight which occurred at a meeting of Local 992, United Mine Workers of America. The ones who incited the riot, it has been established, were two reactionary union officials, Cobb and Fox, henchmen of the corrupt Lewis and Farrington machines. Corbishley and the others convicted were active supporters of the Save-the-Union movement in the U. M. W. A. and today are supporters of the movement to build a new National Miners' Union.

The coal operators, the reactionary U. M. W. A. officialdom, Fishwick, Fox and others, however, together with the courts, and through lying witnesses, intimidation, etc., got these militants convicted, according to the International Labor Defense.

According to reports received by the national office of the I. L. D., at 80 E. 11th St., New York, which defended the militant Zeigler miners, a delegation of trade unionists, liberals and prominent individuals will shortly visit Governor Small with a demand for the release of Corbishley and the other three workers.

The I. L. D. calls upon the workers everywhere to intensify their activities for these men. Corbishley, Meanovich and Simich are imprisoned in Southern Illinois penitentiary at Menard, Illinois, and Meliski at the Illinois state reformatory at Pontiac, Ill., since December, 1927.

ATTACK PICKETS OF FRUIT UNION

Boss Hired Gangsters Run Amuck Again

Anti-union owners of the fruit stores on aBthgate Ave., and the thugs they hired made a new and vicious assault against the picketing members of the Retail Grocery Fruit and Dairy Clerks Union striking for recognition of their union.

The cases of the four workers arrested after they were beaten up in the attack Tuesday evening were postponed till July 30 by Judge Vitalie in the West Farms Court yesterday afternoon.

In defending themselves against the onslaught of the thugs, some of who mused fruit box hatchets, David Vacker, union organizer, and Jack Goldberg were arrested. Hyman Kovarsky and Sam Shapiro were injured severely; one of them was treated in a hospital after the assault and took five stitches to close the hatchet wound in his head.

The union has been conducting a bitter unionization struggle against the Bathgate Avenue bosses for many months, and is determined, according to union statements made later, to continue the struggle til' the employers capitulate and agree to recognie the workers organization.

Speakers and Agitprop Conference Saturday

All speakers of the Workers (Communist) Party in District 2, section, subsection and unit agitprop directors and members of section speakers' classes have been invited to attend a conference to be held Saturday, at 2 p. m. at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square. The meeting will be held on the fifth floor.

'RED ESSEX' TOUR CONTINUES WITH GREAT SUCCESS

Collect Signatures In Election Drive

A battered automobile, discarded by its original owner, may yet be seen occupying a place of honor in an historical revolutionary museum, when the workers and farmers of the United States supplant the present capitalist government with one of their own.

And its name is sure to be the "Red Essex."

Last week Comrades George Pearlman and Donald Burke drove their panting gasoline boat up to the headquarters of the New York District Committee, wiped their perspiring foreheads, and told the story of their adventures collecting signatures for the Communist candidates to Rebecca Grecht, campaign manager for the Empire State.

Covered 14 States.

Pearlman and Burke had covered fourteen counties on both sides of the Hudson, from Yonkers to Saratoga Springs and from Saratoga Springs to Haverstraw, and during the course of their labor they ran into scenes of poverty and destitution that would equal anything witnessed in the slums of London or Paris.

In most of these small towns there is little if any industry, and the population depends on the summer hotel trade for existence. If the summer trade is brisk, they are able to exist during the winter months on what they manage to save. But this year unemployment in the cities has hit hard at the industry—if industry it may be called—and the propertyless section of the population face the coming winter with a shudder of dread.

While the plight of the white workers is bad enough, that of the Negroes is so terrible that the conditions existing during chattel slavery days in the South were ideal in comparison.

Negroes Suffer.

Negroes find it almost impossible to secure lodging or a shack to rent. This miserable territory is infested with the Ku Klux Klan, who fire cannons off the tops of hills when commencing their rites. Those befuddled people are bitterly anti-radical, and in some villages practically everybody from the grandfather to the toddling infant is a member.

Wherever the klan is dominant, life for the Negro is unbearable. In the city of Athens a Negro family lived in a one-room shack which was so small that it could not house the old second-hand installment plan piano. It had to be put outside the shanty. Negroes, as well as other workers, can only find part-time employment. When out of work, they are obliged to borrow money which they must pay back when working.

The backwoods or poor farmers are hardly any better off. Ruined by the Borden Milk Trust, the farmers are at their wits' end to make ends meet. The Borden Company, which had previously purchased milk in Putnam county, started out to corner the market and ruin the independent milk companies. They bribed inspectors to declare the cows diseased and order the cattle killed inside of 24 hours. A few farmers wiser than the others called in a state inspector, who decided that the cattle were healthy. But it was too late. The power of the milk trust was too great. Now the Bordens are purchasing their milk in Canada and getting it at a much cheaper price.

Pearlman and Burke found the railroad workers 90 per cent. for getting the party on the ballot. They remembered the 1922 strike and the activity of William Z. Foster in that strike. They knew of the great steel strike, were against the Watson-Parker law, and were discontented with their working conditions. The signature collectors only had to say that the Workers (Communist) Party was a party of labor and the signatures were forthcoming.

In Chatham they collected 55 signatures in two hours.

The poor farmers were interested as soon as they were shown the Communist emblem with the sickle representing the farmers and the hammer the industrial workers. They signed readily.

Another interesting feature of the situation is the willingness of the women to give their signatures. They are feeling the effect of the low wages their husbands are receiving and want to register their protest.

The two camrades in the "Red Special" reported that they collected the signatures of 1,600 American citizens and registered voters who are willing to place the party on the ballot. They found much sympathy for the party in the industrial localities, with many offering to join up.

The necessary number of signatures to put the party on the ballot have been collected in 30 counties of the 62 in New York State. The required number to put the ticket on the ballot in the entire State is expected by next week, according to campaign headquarters.

WORKERS CALENDAR

All announcements for this column must reach The DAILY WORKER several days before the event in question to make the announcement effective. Many announcements arrive at the office too late for publication owing to the additional time needed for the delivery of the paer.

• • •

League Picnic in Philadelphia.

A picnic, the proceeds of which will go to the Young Worker, will be held on Sunday, August 5, at the Burlholme Park. A splendid time is assured to all who come. Sports, games and songs will be had. Admission free. Direction: Take No. 50 car and go as far as 7300 north. A committee will wait for you there.

• • •

Philadelphia Miners' Relief.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Philadelphia Miners' Relief Conference here has arranged a picnic for July 29 at Maple Grove Park.

• • •

Philadelphia T. U. E. L. Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Trade Union Educational League of Philadelphia will hold a Grand Picnic at Maple Park Grove on August 4, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 2 a. m. the next morning. Sports, dancing and musical programs will be added to the speeches of prominent members returned from the U. S. S. R. All are invited to attend.

• • •

Philadelphia Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Workers (Communist) Party here has arranged a picnic to be held August 19 at Burholme Park. All workers are invited to attend.

• • •

Chicago Picnic.

CHICAGO, Ill.—A picnic for the benefit of the Northwestern Shop News of Chicago will be held on July 29, under the auspices of Section 6, District 8, of the Workers (Communist) Party. In order to reach the picnic grounds, take Grand Ave. car to Sayre (1700 block), walk north to 3100 block, then one block west to 3101 North Nordica.

• • •

Scranton Y. W. L. Picnic.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A picnic will be held under the auspices of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Scranton, Pa., at Runo Farm, Hollow Ave., on August 5, a t10 A. M. All young workers are welcome. A very interesting program has been arranged.

• • •

Anthracite Election Rallies.

Several mass meetings have been arranged for Herbert Benjamin, organizer District No. 3 in the anthracite sub-district. The topic of the meetings is the Election Campaign, with special reference to the problems facing the hard-coal miners. The dates are as follows:

July 27, Friday, 7 p. m.—Scranton, Hulbert's Hall, 117 Wyoming Ave.

July 28, Saturday, 7 p. m.—Old Forge, open-air meeting, Main St.

• • •

Chicago Functionary Meeting.

Max Bedacht, district organizer Workers (Communist) Party, District No. 8, will address a meeting of women functionaries on Friday, July 27th, 1928, at 2021 West Division St., at 8 p. m. Bedacht will outline the party policy for work among women. The agenda will include reports by Anna E. David, women's work director, District No. 8, Presidential Election Campaign, Miners' Relief. All functionaries from sections, nuclei, and fractions are obligated to attend.

• • •

Chicago Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial Conference, Chicago, will hold a memorial meeting in honor of the murdered worker martyrs, Sacco and Vanzetti, on Wednesday, August 22, at 8 p. m., at Temple Hall, Van Buren and Marshfield. Ralph Chaplin, orator and poet; Mordecai Shulman, attorney Guido Serio of the Anti-Fascist Alliance, and others, will address the meeting. A beautiful musical program will be had.

• • •

Philadelphia Workers Stage Play.

The West Philadelphia 'Workers' Club will present the "Hairy Ape," by Eugene O'Neill at the Hedgerow Theatre, Saturday, July 28, at 4 p. m. Tickets may be obtained from The DAILY WORKER office, 1214 Spring Garden St., and from every member of the club. Prices moderate. Directions: Take elevated to 69th St., and change for the Media surface car. Walk from Media to Rose Valley.

• • •

Philadelphia Open-air Meetings.

Workers Party will hold the following open-air meetings:

Friday, July 27th, at Wylie and Ridge, 8 p. m.; 7th and Ritner, 8 p. m.

Saturday, July 28th, at Kensington and Orleans, 8 p. m.; 7th and Snyder, 8 p. m.

• • •

Noon-hour meetings Monday, July 30th, at 5th and Huntington2 Park, 12 p. m.; Monday, July 30th, at Marshall & Girard; Tuesday, July 31st, at 13th & Reed; Wednesday, Aug. 1st, at 40th & Lancaster; Thursday, Aug. 2nd, 53rd & Girard Ave.

• • •

Notice Texas Communists.

You are called to meet on County Convention day, August 4, (law does not specify number so meet whether few or many) and elect a delegate to the State Nominating Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party called for the 14th day of August in the city of Houston at 304½ Main St. Those taking part in conventions must be qualified voters, the qualifications for candidates are the same.

Chicago Miners' Relief.

The big drive will begin July 29th. Headquarters open 8 a. m.

Mobilize for relief and defense for the fighting miners. Stations:

West Side—23 S. Lincoln St.; 3301 W. Roosevelt Rd., Freiheit; 1510 W. 18th St., Rovnost Ludu; 1823 S. Loomis St., Radnik.

Northwest Side—2021 W. Division St., 2736 W. Division St.

North Side—2409 N. Halsted St., Imperial Hall; 453 W. North Ave., Hungarian Hall

Albany Park—4021 N. Drake Ave.

Cicero—5100 W. 23rd St.

Maywood—410 S. 9th St.

South Side—3116 S. Halsted, Vilnis; 3035 W. 51st St., Workers' Home; 3201 S. Wabash Ave., Community House.

Woodlawn—647 E. 61st St.

Pullman—2954 E. 94th St.

• • •

Washington Economics Class.

The weekly class in Elementary Marxian Economics of the Workers' every Saturday at 8 o'clock at 817 13th St., N. W., "A B C of Communism" and other tet books are due in use. Non-communists are invited.

Washington Leninist Class.

The weekly class in Leninism of the Workers' School of Washington, D. C., meets at 8 o'clock every Tuesday at 817 13th St., N. W.

• • •

Canton Festival for Miners.

The Canton Branch of the National Miners' Relief will hold a huge festival for the starving miners on Aug. 14. Admission rice is only 15 cents. Cake and ice cream served free. Music, games, sports. Come one, come all, workers.

CANTON WORKERS TO AID MINERS

To Hold Huge Festival To Raise Funds

CANTON, O., July 26.—The Canton Branch of the National Miners' Relief Committee is preparing a huge town festival for the benefit of the starving miners. It will be held in Nimissilla Park on Au. 14.

The Miners' Relief Committee of Canton has set only 15 cents as the price of admission to this festival. Delicious cake and ice cream will be served without extra charge.

It is expected that thousands of Canton workers will crowd the beautiful park in order to help the miners. Features will be a union band of music, games and sports.

Members of the arrangement committee state that this fair will be the biggest the town has ever seen and of a working class nature besides. Many workers from neighboring cities are preparing to attend it.

The Jewish Culture Slub held a picnic recently and collected $25 for the miners. They are now helping to make the miners' festival here a success.

Labor Defense Week, Camp Heulit, Aug. 6

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 25. —The week of August 7 to 12 will be an International Labor Defense Week at Camp Huliet, Lumberville, Pa. The I. L. D. has invited every worker of Philadelphia and vicinity to spend his vacation at the camp during that week. Those who are unable to register for that week are urged to communicate with the I. L. D. at 1214 Spring Garden St. as soon as possible.

Special busses will leave for Camp Huliet on August 12, and workers are asked to make their reservations immediately.

Fight Wins Back Pay

CHICAGO, July 26.—Teachers here who have been illegally dropped from the payroll have won their fight for the back pay due them. The amount returned them is $220,000.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1214 SPRING GARDEN ST.
A. SOKOLOV, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: POPLAR 0837

SCHUETZEN PARK
83rd and Tinicum Ave.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Beautiful nature spot. Splendid picnic ground with a dance hall of 1,000 capacity. Will accommodate any labor organization.
DIRECTIONS: Take trolley car south-bound to Moyamensing Ave., then Southwestern car going westward. Also Subway line No. 37.

CAMP HULIET
(Over the Delaware)
LUMBERVILLE, PA.
JUST THE PLACE FOR A WORKER'S VACATION.
Directions—By Bus or Trolley to Doyleston and then by Camp Bus to the Camp.
By Train—To Raven Rock, N. J., on the Penna R. R.
Form New York—By Train to Raven Rock, N. J.
For further information and registration apply to:
Workers' Co-operative Assn.
317 So. 5th St. PHILA, PA.

Philadelphia, Pa.
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISER
MARKET RESTAURANT
1228 Spring Garden St.
DELICIOUS FOOD
Have Your Dinner and Supper With Us—Telehone Poplar 4971

CAPITAL BEVERAGE COMPANY
Will take care of your entertainments and supply.
SODA WATER AND BEER
2434 WEST YORK ST.
Telephone: Columbia 6255.

PHILADELPHIA
The work we make is good. Organizations' work—our speciality.
Spruce Printing Co.
152 N. SEVENTH ST., PHILA., PA.
Bell—Market 6383 Union
Keystone—Main 7040. Printers.

DETROIT
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1967 CEDAR RIVER AVE.
SARA VICTOR, Mgr.
PHONE: RANDOLPH 9309
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.

Los Angeles, Calif.
DR. M. KOMPANIEZ
DENTIST
2630¼ Brooklyn Ave., Cor. Mott St.
Open Evenings Till 9 P. M.
Phone: Angelus 9087

INSURANCE PLAN SHOWN AS FRAUD OF AUTO BOSSES

General Motors Will Profit

Two group insurance policies totaling approximately a half million dollars were reported in New York financial circles yesterday, as the most recent and largest attempt by open-shop employers to put over "welfare" instead of paying decent wages.

One was a policy signed by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, for the 200,000 employes of that company. It was taken out with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and totals about $400,000,000.

The General Motors' policy is "co-operative" and available to all employes who have been in employ of the company three months. It provides $2,000 life insurance and $15 weekly for illness or accident.

The other policy was one announced by the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company for the 15,000 employes of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

In both cases the workers themselves are forced to pay the premium costs, which are believed to be about three times the actual cost of the insurance.

Conceal Joker

In the publicity sent out by the open-shop, Morgan-controlled General Motors Corporation, the fact is carefully concealed that workers are entitled to the insurance only as long as they remain in the employ of the union hating, low-wage concern. An employe who leaves his job forfeits what he has paid in, no matter how long he has been paying.

The labor turnover in the General Motors Company is said to be between 10 and 12 per cent per year. This means that an almost completely new force is taken in about every eight or nine years.

In other words, practically speaking, little insurance payments will actually be made, since the workers will have left, but the Morgan firm will actually rake in a huge profit for the transaction.

Only those workers who die within a few years of their employment by the concern will derive any "benefit," for, according to the average, they will have left the firm and have lost their insurance after about eight years.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which issues the insurance, is likewise a Morgan-controlled concern. Its vice-president, Frederick H. Ecker, who was intrumental in putting over the scheme, is active in the traction and power gang which operates in New York State.

Section One, Chicago, Holds Picnic Sunday

CHICAGO, July 26.—On Sunday, at Max Bedacht's grounds, 3101 N. Nordica Ave., Section 6 of District 8, Workers (Communist) Party, will hold a picnic for the benefit of the Northwestern Shop News. There will be plenty of good food and refreshing drink, music by the Workers' Mandolin Orchestra, singing, dancing, a sports program and other features.

Among other working-lass speakers, L. M. Hawver of the Amalgamation Committee, who recently returned fr moRussia, will speak on matters of importance to the American workers. His talk will be particularly interesting to railroad workers.

To get to the picnic grounds, take Grand Ave. car to Sayre (7000 west), walk north to 3100 block, then one block west to Nordica.

HOLD FUNERAL OF SOVIET AVIATOR

Impressive Rites for Alexis Pavloff

MOSCOW, July 25 (UP).—Impressive funeral services were held today for Alexis Pavloff, army aviator who heroically crashed his plane Sunday in order to avoid running down a crowd of spectators.

Pavloff was looping the loop before a big crowd when his engine stalled. Seeing that he was about to go into the crowd, he nose-dived when close to the ground. His machine was crushed to pieces and he was killed instantly.

Pavloff's plane was one of 20 in an exhibition. All were paid for by a popular fund called "Russia's reply to Chamberlain."

AMBASSADOR RESIGNS.

PARIS, July 25 (UP).—Lord Crewe, retiring British ambassador, presented his letters of recall to President Doumergue today.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

PITTSBURGH
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
805 JAMES ST., NS.
JOHN KASPER, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: CEDAR 8819

PITTSBURGH, PA.
UNION PRINTING
At Moderate Prices
From a CARD to a NEWSPAPER.
S. & S. PRINTING CO.
207 Market St. Pittsburgh, Pa.
Court 2051.

PITTSBURGH, PA.
NATIONAL MINERS' RELIEF DEFENSE WEEK
JULY 22 to JULY 29 (Inclusive)
The Most Far-Reaching Drive for Funds Ever Undertaken to HELP the STRIKING COAL MINERS
All Workers' Organizations, EVERYBODY, must lend a hand—Collect money everywhere—all the time—in unions, shops and factories.
Enlist in the committee for house-to-house collections on Sunday, July 29
FOR DETAILS CALL ATLANTIC 7091
Joint Auspices: National Miners' Relief of Pittsburgh, Fred Careno, Secretary; International Labor Defense, District 5, Wm. J. White, Secretary.
807 McGeagh Bldg., Pittsburgh Pa.

Red Cartoons 1928
Sixty-four pages of the choice work of the best proletarian artists in America, including:
FRED ELLIS — WM. GROPPER — HUGO GELLERT
M. BECKER — JACOB BURCK — DON BROWN
HAY BALES — K. A. SUVANTO — WM. SIEGEL
Introduction by Robert Minor
FREE WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION ($6.00) to the Daily Worker
THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First St., New York, N. Y.
RATES
$6.00 a year
$3.50 6 months
$2.00 3 months
Enclosed $.......... for .... sub to the Daily Worker. Send me the premium "Red Cartoons of 1928" (only with a year's sub).
NAME ....
STREET ....
CITY .... STATE ....

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $ per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor....................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor..............WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Workers!
For the Party of the Class Struggle!
Against the Capitalists!

Counter-Revolution in Mexico

Dwight W. Morrow is well launched in the role of hangman of Mexico. This partner of the classic imperialist banking house of Wall Street went to Mexico in order by intrigue to prepare the way for the conquest and occupation of Mexico by the United States.

From the moment of the arrival of Morrow, who combined in his one person the function of representative of the United States government with the function of representative of the financiers investing in Mexican exploitation, the affairs of Mexico have moved rapidly toward direct control of that country from New York City.

Morrow went to conquer what was called "Bolshevism" in Mexico. That is, to conquer anything that interfered with the seizure of Mexican resources, oil lands, mining rights, etc., and with the super-exploitation of Mexican workers and peasants by the Wall Street finance-capitalists who sent him. With almost unlimited power of reward and punishment in his hands, Morrow made long strides toward his goal. Both the Calles government and the prospective government of Obregon were already eating out of the hand of Morgan's ambassador at the time of the assassination of Obregon by a religious fanatic.

It had long been openly stated in the press that Morrow, among other things, was working for a reconciliation of the Mexican government with the church. In this he was at the point of success. Certainly churches are not instruments of workers' and peasants' revolutions, and equally, the imperialists valued the church as an ally for the demoralization and control of the weaker elements of the peasantry. Boasts of the success of Morrow in forcing Obregon to ally himself with the clergy against the masses of Mexico, compelled Obregon to make what was considered a partial but ambiguous denial. His assassination followed almost immediately at the hands of more or less "wild" elements of the clerical party. The religious fanatic was an instrument of the clergy, and certainly not an instrument of the anti-clerical movement as the capitalist press now pretends. The assassin only put into action what had been repeatedly threatened by countless pronouncements of the clerical spokesmen in the United States and Mexico. It may be that the subornation of Obregon by Morrow had already reached the success which would have made the president-elect acceptable to Morrow as Wall Street's policeman over Mexico; but his assassination nevertheless was a direct and clear result of the clerical-landlord movement and in revenge for the executions of priests and others involved in the recent reactionary priest-led revolt.

Whether or not Morrow had before the assassination attained complete success in the corruption of Obregon to his purposes, it is certain that he has now succeeded in imposing his dictation in the present situation after the assassination. Could there be anything more weird than the "Obregonista" party demanding that the murderer of Obregon shall not be executed? After a murder by a clerical, can there be a more ironical turn of history than the punishment of the anti-clerical elements for the clerical crime?

The entire imperialist press of the United States is now trying to make the masses accept the version sent broadcast that although it is admitted that a religious fanatic, dominated by the priesthood, committed the murder, nevertheless the anti-clerical "labor" leaders were the "intellectual authors" of the murder. The capitalist press is even shamelessly trying to put over a cock-and-bull story of an anti-clerical agent posing as religious so as to inspire the religious assassin to kill Obregon.

There is method in the madness of this.

The United States imperialists want an extermination of the labor movement of Mexico, the disarming of the poorer peasants and the massing of power completely into the hands of reactionary landlord and clerical instruments of United States capital. Where the church was openly shown to have been the direct inspirer of the crime, Morrow has performed the legerdemain of transferring the "guilt" to what is called "labor" in the persons of Luis N. Morones and his fellow leaders of the CROM.

The fact that Luis N. Morones is as big a traitor to labor as can be found in Mexico, and is subservient as any to Wall Street, must not be allowed to confuse the question. Morones is officially the "leader" of the labor movement and as such for the moment he becomes [illegible] of the reaction. But the real target is not Morones, but the labor movement itself. On the [illegible] merely a parasite. The United States government, which is very busy "assisting Mexico in her trouble," is not so foolish as to concern itself with insignificant persons, such as Morones. It aims straight at the destruction of an enemy social force, a force antagonistic to the aims of Wall Street in Mexico. This social force is the labor movement—more or less crippled by such parasites as Morones, it is true—but nevertheless potentially the destroyer of the hopes of Wall Street in Mexico.

The sublime courage which the Mexican workers and peasants have shown time and again in open battle is called now to its highest test. The struggle of life and death for a great people is on. The capitalist-imperialist United States is the enemy of which all other forces of reaction in Mexico are the tools.

Mexican workers and peasants! Crush the counter-revolution!

China In the Fight for Its Unity.

(Editorial Reprinted from the "Pravda" of June 8, 1928)

A short time ago the defeat of Chang Tso Lin and the capture of Peking by the Southern troops was—according to the official Kuomintang Press—to bring about the unity of China and would mean almost the completion of the national revolution.

The long-desired moment seemed to have come.

Chang Tso-Lin fled into Manchuria and Peking appeared red under the Kuomintang flags. How is it, however, with the notorious "unity," with the "unification" of China?

For the present one only hears that the Nanking government has extended its power to the provinces of Kiangsu, Chekiang, Kiangsi, Anhwei; the Kwangsi group rules the provinces of Hupei, Hunan, Kwangtung and Kwangsi; Feng Yu Hsiang obtains possession of the provinces of Kiangsu, Shensi and Honan, with the prospect of obtaining Shantung; the Yen Si-Shan group will, it is assumed, control the provinces of Shansi, Chili and the adjoining districts of Mongolia; for the Mukden group there remain only three Eastern provinces or Manchuria.

In the official declaration of the Kuomintang this lack of unity is masked as "the division of China in six political areas with the towns of Nanking, Canton, Peking, Hankow, Kaifeng and Mukden as centres, which recognize the power of the Supreme Council of Nanking which is the capital of China."

Such a masking is hardly likely to mislead anybody.

Between the existence of a "Supreme Council in the capital of China, Nanking" and the recognition of this Council by the political areas, and the "unity" of the China there lies a vast difference. It is generally known that the existence of the League of Nations at Geneva and its recognition by various European powers does not by any means signify the unity of Europe.

To bring proofs of this would be trying to force an open door; for many Kuomintang people already openly recognize the failure of their "unity policy." One of these Kuomintang people, in his article on the lessons of the Japanese intervention, cites the example of America, Germany and Japan herself, and maintains that only a victorious foreign war could accelerate the unification of China and help the cause of national defense to victory.

> "We are convinced that only after a new peace treaty will all the present problems of the relations betwen Japan and the nationalists be solved and peace in the Far East be secured . . . The Chinese have now learned that a foreign war not only can expedite the unification of China, but is also the only means in order to better the international situation of China."

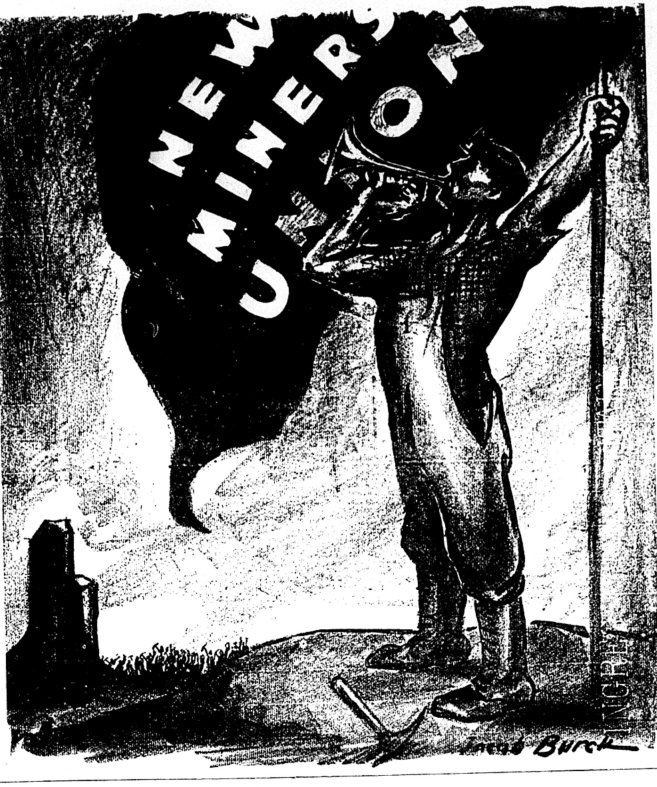
Thus the nationalist-minded Kuomintang see the only means of salvation in a foreign war, as is to be seen from the above quotation. To bring about a foreign war is of course not difficult; the only question is how to lead it to victory.

The victorious fight for the real unification of China was begun, but not by the Kuomintang people who betrayed the Chinese Resolution, who capitulated to the imperialists and, along with the latter, shot down the working and peasant masses. The real unification of China means mobilizing the million-fold masses of workers and peasants who will in the first place settle with the agents of the imperialists and drive out the imperialists themselves. These tasks will be solved by the workers and peasants of China under the leadership of the Communist Party and against the Kuomintang which has become the flag of counter-revolu-

REVEILLE!

By Jacob Burck



Our Party's Election Campaign

American Communists Engaged In Most Active Campaign In U. S. Labor History

By JAY LOVESTONE.

This year will see the American Communists participating in a parliamentary campaign more intensively and on a greater scale than in any previous year. For a number of months, the Workers (Communist) Party has been engaged in direct preparations for putting the Party on the ballot in its own name in as many of the 48 states as possible.

Leaflets and pamphlets have been issued. Election conventions have already been held in over 20 states.

A highly successful national nominating convention was held at the close of May for the adoption of an election platform and the selection of Comrades Foster and Gitlow as the presidential standard bearers of our Party in the November elections.

Hundreds of Communist mass meetings are being arranged thruout the country. Scores of thousands of copies of the election platform are being distributed.

Several organizers to reach new industrial centers where the Party organization is weak or non-existent have been put into the field. For the first time in the history of the Party an organized intensive effort is being made to pierce the Solid South—the most reactionary tier of states in the country, notorious for their disfranchising and severe oppression and lynching of the Negro masses.

Increased attention is being paid to the exploited farmers, the Negro masses, the youth and the working women.

The entire election campaign has as its keynote, the class struggle, and is based on such activities of the Party as the great miners' strike, the textile workers' fight and the long drawn out struggle of the needle trades workers.

The Present Situation in the United States.

Before proceeding to analyse the election campaign policy and activities of our Party, it is necessary to sketch briefly the economic and political situation in the country. The economic recession which set in about a year ago has developed into an acute depression. "Business is irregular." There still persists "a lack of bouyancy" among the major industries. There are not many confident expectations. The bourgeoisie speak of "extreme spottiness in trade, crop and industrial reports." But there is not sufficient evidence at hand to indicate that we are immediately approaching an economic crisis as severe in character as in 1921. Certainly the depression is acute, with at least four million still out of work, but it would be utterly wrong to conclude that American capitalism now has its basic crisis and is already on the downgrade.

Big capitalist reaction continues in the saddle. There are no fundamental issues sharply dividing the two big bourgeois parties. Whatever issues have developed are largely within these parties rather than between them. The extent of reaction is marked by such events as the brazen acquittal of the multi-millionaire Sinclair, one of the principal heroes in the Teapot Dome scandal; the arrogance characterising Coolidge's use of his executive power in vetoing the McNary-Haugen bill; the granting of a huge subsidy to American shipping magnates; the decision of the supreme court legalising wire tapping; the increasingly aggressive role of American imperialism as shown by the war on Nicaragua; the big naval budget and the attack on China; the widespread use of the injunction in the continued aggressive campaign by the biggest capitalists to smash the organizations of labor and wipe out such elementary rights as the right to organize and strike.

The nomination of Hoover by the republican party, which is the dominant party of big business, is only another index of the strength of capitalist reaction and the growth in power of the executive department of the government. Hoover has been director-general of American Big Business for seven years. His nomination for the presidency marks for the first time in the history of the country the significant fact that someone is put up for the highest position in capitalist politics without previously having held a single elective office in his life. It is only additional striking evidence of the growing fusion of big business with the highest government officers.

The democratic party has nominated Al Smith, New York State governor, for president. The attitude of Wall Street towards Hoover and Smith is instructively summed up by the "Magazine of Wall Street" for May 19, 1928. When discussing the "business qualifications of the leading presidential candidates" it said:

"It is not an exaggeration to say that he (Hoover) has considered himself and has actually been director-general of American business. Never before here, or anywhere else, has a governmental department been so completely fused with business. He respects big business and admires big business men....There can be no doubt that Hoover as president would be without precedent. He would be a dynamic business president, even as Coolidge has been a static business president. He would be the first business, as distinguished from political, president the country has had.

"Al Smith's record in politics is the best possible pledge that he will make a successful administrator of the biggest business of all...that of managing the political business organizations of the United States. But what about the Smith policies? They are just the reverse of Hoover's in relation to business. Hoover emphasizes economics, Smith, politics. Hoover would serve the public by serving business; Smith would serve business by serving the public."

American imperialism, because of the narrowing of the domestic market which has been one of its main sources of strength, and the increasing competition by other imperialist powers is waging an evermore aggressive imperialist policy.

Wall Street's frontiers are being thrown out ever further. The export of capital continues apace. Yankee imperialism is strangling Nicaragua, securing a tighter grip on the Philippines, making further inroads towards complete domination of Latin America, waging a ruthless imperialist policy in the Pacific against China, beating back decisively British imperialism on every front, winning a new hold on the financial resources of such European countries as Germany, Poland and Italy, and continuously at work preparing the most devastating weapons for the impending imperialist war. This hostility of the American government towards the Soviet Union remains vigorous.

The labor movement is in a crisis. Such basic organizations of the trade union movement as the United Mine Workers of America are being wiped out. This has narrowed the best proletarian base of the American Federation of Labor considerably so that today it is primarily a movement of the labor aristocracy though it still has hundreds of thousands of semi-skilled and unskilled workers. The trade union bureaucracy is becoming evermore reactionary and is bound up integrally with the employers and government in their fight to determine the standards of living and the organizations of the working class.

Politically, the American labor movement is very backward. President Green of the American Federation of Labor drew up a program of five planks which he had presented for the republican and democratic conventions in the usual formal routine manner without even the slightest pretense on the part of the capitalist politicians to heed these demands. The policy of "non-partisan political action," which in effect means selling out the great mass of workers to the republican and democratic parties, continues. The railroad brotherhoods which formerly were the champions of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, have moved so far to the right that they recently gave a blanket endorsement to Hoover. The entire labor party movement is at a low ebb today organizationally.

What is left of what was once the socialist party—a membership of less than 5,000—is organically tied up with the reactionary trade union bureaucracy. At its last convention it has moved even further to the right and has taken decisive steps to break with whatever remnants of working class ideology there might have been in its ranks.

But because of the economic depression and particularly the acute crisis in certain industries, like coal, there is today a greater volume of radicalization in the United States than at any time since the LaFollette movement of 1924. The masses are showing increasing readiness to resist the attacks of the capitalists on their organizations and their standards. This radicalization is not yet national nor general. It is primarily limited to specific sections and industries of the country.

Our Party has responded promptly and effectively to this increased readiness of the masses to struggle and has taken the initiative and leadership in such great class fights as the miners, textile workers and needle trades as well as in the general campaign of organizing the unorganized workers. We have likewise been most actively engaged in fighting American imperialist policies and for the development of an independent mass political party of the workers as the next big step in their political development, as a class—for the organization of a labor party.

Our Party has, through these struggles, grown in influence and numbers. Today, it is the only organization of the workers consciously, persistently and energetically fighting against capitalist reaction.

(To be continued.)

Investments and Foreign Policy of U.S.

By ROBERT W. DUNN.

(Continued.)

IN connection with loans made by American financial interests to these foreign governments of the weaker sort we find your state department of the president of the United States playing a rather important role. For insuring the payment of loans and to facilitate their collection we find, for example, in the Dominican Republic an American general receiver named by the president of the United States. In Nicaragua we find an American collector, acting on order of a high commission of three, one appointed by the American bankers and another by the United States department of state. There is, also, to be sure, in more recent days, Brigadier General McCoy and his staff conducting their "free and fair elections." In Haiti the control is still more complete. An American receiver general and an American financial advisor are nominated by the president of the United States and appointed by a marionette native president. They have control of the entire revenue system of the country. An American High Commissioner and the marines complete the Haitian picture of American domination. In Salvador the loans of the American bankers are served by an American official who collects the customs. He is chosen by an American corporation with the approval of the American state department. Even in Bolivia, a stronger country, the service of loans of the American bankers involves a permanent fiscal commission consisting of three members, two of them appointed by the president of Bolivia upon recommendation of the bankers. One of these two is chairman of the commission which virtually holds the key to the economic life of the country. In Peru, Ecuador and other countries American financial advisors and agents have played their part in directing financial policies in conformity with the desires of the American investing class.

Armed Forces Protect Investments

Not only has your department of state acted as business solicitor and loan guarantor for American capitalists. The navy and the marines have upon occasions been used to protect American property interests especially in the weaker countries where effective resistance is quite impossible. Indeed, the United States navy, in one of its reports entitled "The United States Navy as an Industrial Asset" boasts of its services rendered in this connection. This aggressive use of the military and naval forces has been illustrated in Haiti, Santo Domingo, Mexico and Nicaragua. And it goes without saying that both republican and democratic administrations have resorted to this practice. However, forgetful politicians, like President Harding, have attacked the other party for acts identical with the ones they themselves have committed while in office. Mr. Bryan and other professing pacifists were particularly active in their use of the armed forces of the United States in certain Latin American countries during the Wilson administration.

What are the effects of these investments and the accompanying foreign policy upon the underlying population of the countries where the investments are made? This ought to be of some concern to those who formulate American foreign policy. The effects, of course, vary with the size, strength and character of the country involved. Defenders of imperialism have made much of the benefits derived through the application of foreign capital—good roads, sanitation and other evidences of civilization. Some of these benefits are undeniable. Over against them, however, is the crushing effect upon the economic and political liberty of these peoples, and in many cases also their material status and welfare.

Firestone Colonial Slavery

THE American investor in a mining or rubber enterprise abroad is naturally eager to hire his labor at the lowest possible price. The result in the case of Liberia, for example, is that the Firestone Plantation Company is now establishing a system of colonial slavery that bears more heavily on the natives than the colonial regimes of even the more frankly imperialist countries of Europe. In Cuba and in the Dominican Republic American economic penetration has resulted in throwing thousands of farmers off their lands and making them virtual peons of large sugar companies. The same tendency is observable in Haiti under new legislation now being decreed with the approval of the American authorities.

As for the civil liberties of these backward peoples they weigh very lightly in the balance against the forces of the advancing dollar dominion. Native presidents who must come to New York for loans may be as ruthless as they please so long as they pay their interest regularly. Native training in self-government is thus out of the question in countries where the American marines, and American corporations, unite to keep a local tyrant in power. This is particularly true of Haiti, where the government offices are filled either by Americans or by the political friends of the American-controlled president.

(To Be Continued.)

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 178.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JULY 28, 1928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

LEADERS ATTACK FRACTIONALISM AT WORLD MEET

Urge Its Liquidation in Workers Party

(Wireless to the Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 27.—The ninth session of the Communist World Congress of the Communist International opened here on the twenty-fifth of July. Much of the session was taken up with a discussion of the problems facing the American Party.

Cannon Speaks.

Cannon, of the United States, stated that the right wing in the United States constituted a grave danger. He also declared that a majority of the Central Committee of the American Party fail to realize that the progressive radicalization of the workers and their opportunist line prevents utilization of their fighting possibilities. The same opportunism presented the application of the decision of the Red International of Trade Unions regarding the organization of the unorganized workers. The majority of the Central Committee committed serious errors in all fields, he said. The majority deny the right wing danger and seek to mask their own opportunism by misrepresenting the standpoint of the minority. He concluded by declaring that the Comintern must correct these right wing errors because the majority was unable to do so.

Bittleman, of the United States, said that the majority of the American Party has the wrong idea about the growth of American imperialism. He said that both the diminution of production and the marketing difficulties being encountered by American capitalism both at home and abroad increase the danger of war. He made a demand that the Communist International correct the American Party's policy.

Weinstone's Speech.

Weinstone, of the United States, declared that the Cannon-Bittelman opposition was artificial and characterless. He said that the minority was equally responsible for all party [illegible] for example, the open letter to the social democratic leaders. In May, he said, the minority approved the letter of the Executive Committee of the Communist International demanding political consolidation and the decision of the May Plenum of the Central Committee were unanimously adopted. He said that the minority has only altered its standpoint here. The whole party, he said, has made mistakes but the Central Committee has corrected the mistakes.

Measures have already been taken to improve the work amongst the Negroes. The Central Committee thinks it impossible now to form a Labor Party on the basis of the Trade Unions and hence the slogan is only propagandist. The organization of a Labor Party is only possible

Continued on Page Three

SECRECY HIDES RELEASE OF KUN

To Be Exiled to USSR, Reported

VIENNA, July 27.—Complete secrecy shrouds the release of Bela Kun, Hungarian Communist leader, whose liberation from an Austrian prison is due today.

Following his release, Bela Kun is to be exiled from Austria, according to the decision of the Austrian government. If he returns he is to be turned over to the Hungarian police, at whose hands a certain death is to be expected.

The Austrian government announced that he will be taken to the border in complete secrecy, and that he will be closely guarded. The guard that is to escort him has instructions to shoot if anyone attempts to approach him or if an escape is attempted.

From the frontier it is arranged that German police will escort him to a port where he is to be placed on a ship for the Soviet Union, according to the announcement of the Austrian government.

Immigrants Find No Work in Dominions

SYDNEY, Australia, July 27.—The opposition of Premier Bruce of Australia to the plan of the British Transference Board to relieve unemployment by immigration, indicates that the unemployment crisis of the British Empire is not confined to England.

Premier Bruce today said that the economic situation in Australia was too serious to allow the absorption of more workers.

He further objected to the "transfer from Britain to Australia of an unemployment problem which Britain was unable to solve."

Ousted by Clericals

Luis N. Morones, until recently Labor Secretary in the Calles cabinet, whose resignation was forced by the clerical reaction now in full swing in Mexico City. Latest dispatches reported him in hiding from the clericals. Morones, a typical "Gompers of Mexico," more noted for the wealth he has made out of the labor movement than for his courage, is only a pawn in the game.

IMPORT POLICE IN MILL STRIKE

(Special to The Daily Worker.)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 27 (UP).—Calls for outside police aid went from this city today in anticipation of trouble tomorrow when the textile workers' union plans to stage a parade despite mayor Charles Ashley's refusal to grant a parade permit.

It was learned that police from Fall River, Brockton, Cambridge, and police squads from other Eastern Massachusetts cities, would augment New Bedford's regular force of about 175 tomorrow.

• • •

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 27.—Mayor Ashley, arm of mill barons in City Hall, has again refused to grant a parade permit to the New Bedford Textile Workers' Union, subsidiery of the Textile Mills Committees, on the grounds that existing conditions art too "tense."

Leaders of the textile strikers' organization, in a statement issued last night, denounced Mayor Ashley and Chief of Police McLeod as having deliberately created this "tenseness" by a whole week of terror against picket lines in order to have an ex-

Continued on Page Five

BUS HEARING ON NEXT THURSDAY

Smith Supporter to Be Rewarded

The Equitable Bus Company which has been granted a franchise by the Tammany Hall administration to operate buses in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens, will be given its final hearing before the New York State Transit Commission next Thursday in connection with its application for a certificate of convenience and necessity which is required before the franchise becomes operative.

No opposition on the part of the commission is expected. The chairman of the body, John F. Gilchrist and another member, Leon G. Godley, are both immediate followers of Al Smith. Charles C. Lockwood, the third member of the commission though a republican, is no less amenable to the wishes of the traction and bus ring operating through the Tammany Hall administration.

The leading figure in the Equitable Bus Company is William H. Woodin, the millionaire president of the American Locomotive Company who several days ago announced his support of Al Smith for the presidency.

MEXICAN POWER HANGS FIRE IN MOVING EVENTS

Reactionary Leaders Play for Calles

MEXICO CITY, July 27.—The confederation of Obregon parties of the Republic, the "C. O. P. R.," so-called, largely under the direction of Soto y Gama and Manrique, the two agrarian leaders, who head the reactionary agrarian forces in Mexico, today adopted a program which they declared is "more radical" than that on which the recent Obregon campaign was based, but which shows its true purpose in an attack on the workers' and peasants' organizations that form the core of the revolutionary movement.

Issued with the purpose of dividing the forces of the peasants, the program includes a number of social reformist provisions on the questions of land distribution, rural education, building of roads, labor legislation, etc.

The true import of the demands made are, however, indicated in the emphasis it lays on what it calls "the necessity of purification of the revolutionary movement through relentless elimination of those elements creating the situation which has resulted in the assassination of Obregon." This description the agrarian reactionists apply to labor organizations antagonistic to them. The program seeks further to divert attention from the real meaning of its attack by declaring that "only those elements menacing genuine revolutionary labor and no other men directing the labor party" are being fought.

At the same time "El Dia," the official Obregon paper, launches a bitter attack against the National Peasants League, the militant organization of the poor peasants, and attacks also Adelberto Tejeda, liberal governor of Vera Cruz.

Calles is still playing a waiting game and refuses to issue the formal acceptance of the Morones resignation. He appears to be letting the forces develop. The general situation is still complicated. If Calles should remain as president two years longer undoubtedly the peasants' and workers' movements will be weakened through internecine attacks. Calles will in that case be obliged to base his strength on the reactionary elements which will not permit Calles to remain but will impose a provisional president on December 1. Probably either a Sonora militarist, or Saenz, the former foreign minister, will be their choice, in which case elections are to be called in less than two years.

Such new alignment would probably result in a severe struggle with proletarian forces.

The present chief obstacle to the new unification of the workers and peasants is Luis N. Morones, former minister of labor and industry. His presence also strengthens Soto y Gama and Manrique, who are leading the peasants toward the camp of reactionary Obregonism rather than toward a new unification. These elements are gaining strength through their attacks against the unpopular Morones. The situation is very complex and various tendencies not yet crystalized are in evidence.

• • •

MEXICO CITY, July 27.—Two thousand textile workers at Rio Blanco have been locked out. The payroll of these workers is seven hundred thousand pesos per month.

• • •

MEXICO CITY, July 27.—Leaders of the reactionary agrarian parties, and specifically Soto y Gama, who several days ago were predicting armed revolt unless Calles consented to the complete elimination of "labor" leaders from the government, are today, outwardly at least, seeking to find a "legal means to avoid" the threatened armed action.

Position of Saenz.

The change in their attitude was preceded yesterday by the announcement of Aaron Saenz, governor of Nuevo Leon, that he would support President Calles. Saenz, who is one of the powerful leaders in the country, was the campaign manager for the assassinated Obregon and is related to Calles. Originally Saenz had himself indicated his desire to oppose Calles by announcing his

Continued on Page Five

FIRESTONE PROSPERITY

For Which Coolidge Commends Liberia

WASHINGTON, July 27.—President King of Liberia received a message of congratulations today from President Coolidge upon the anniversary of the founding of Liberia.

"I send to your excellency cordial greetings on this auspicious anniversary and best wishes for the continued prosperity of your country to which we are bound by ties of historic friendship and understanding," said President Coolidge.

It is generally thought in official circles both in the United States and Liberia that the Firestone Rubber Company, which has virtual control of the republic, will achieve "continued prosperity" in Liberia and that the "historic friendship and understanding" between the involved parties will continue.

Brazil To Be Fordized By Expedition

DETROIT, July 27.—The Henry Ford expedition has left to take possession of the tract of valuable rubber and hardwood trees on the Amazon, purchased from the Brazil government.

The tract, comprising 5,000,000 acres of jungle land, will give an annual yield of rubber sufficient to make tires for 2,000,000 of Ford's automobiles, and will give Ford an opportunity to exploit Brazilian labor for many years to come.

In spite of the opposition raised by members of the Brazilian congress, who claimed that the government has sold out at a ridiculously low price and should have held out for more, the ships bearing the expedition are equipped to meet all emergencies for a period of two years.

The tract covers an area greater than that of the state of New Jersey and after the engineers are through developing it is expected to be a thoroughly Fordized and efficiently sped-up rubber producing center.

BIG FREIHEIT PICNIC TODAY

Unusual Program at Ulmer Park Affair

Ulmer Park, Brooklyn, will today be the scene of one of the greatest working class picnics of the year—the annual Freiheit picnic. Thousands of militant workers from New York and vicinity will be present at this picnic which will also be in the nature of a demonstration for the newspaper that has been in the forefront of so many working class battles.

The Freiheit Sport Club will occupy a leading place on a program of unusual interest. Three soccer teams representing this club will play against three other teams: the Hebrew American League, the Harlem Progressive Soccer Club and the Co-operative Sport Club.

In addition, there will be many other interesting features that promise to make this picnic a memorable affair. Tickets are selling fast and can be bought at 35 cents each at the office of the Freiheit, 30 Union Square.

CLERKS PLAN TO PICKET STORES

Union Calls Members to Demonstration

The Retail Grocery, Fruit and Dairy Clerks' Union has called upon all its members to come to the office of the union at 117 2nd Ave., at 9 o'clock this morning for a mass picketing demonstration in front of the Bathgate Avenue stores, in the Bronx, where a strike is now in progress. From the union office the workers will proceed to the Bronx, where the demonstration before the stores will take place.

In the event of workers being unable to arrive at the office of the union at 9 a. m., the union asks that they proceed directly to Bathgate Ave. open-shop stores from their homes. There they will be met by the remaining members coming from the union headquarters.

PORTER REMAINS MILITANT REBEL

Says He Will Continue Fight for Workers

In a letter to Paul Crouch, written from a prison cell at the Fort Adams Guard House, John Porter, sentenced to two and a half years by court-martial following his activities in the textile strike at New Bedford, again expresses his militant attitude, in spite of the pressure of the officers to force him to turn traitor to the working class. Porter has been given to understand that he would be released within a month if he would turn against the workers and publicly repudiate his position.

Porter's letter to Crouch follows:

"Guard House,
"Fort Adams, R. I.,
"July 25, 1928.

"Dear Comrade:

"Pardon my delay in writing to you, but I had very many letters to answer, and I haven's mush

Continued on Page Five

HOOVER FORCED SLAVE LABOR DEAL ON LIBERIAN REPUBLIC

FALL RIVER MILL MEN ASK RAISES IN NEW DEMANDS

TMC in Call Demands More Pay, Less Hours

FALL RIVER, M[illegible] July 27.—Cancellation of last January's wage cut, together with an increase of 20 per cent. above the old wage scale is among the demands announced by the Textile Mill Committees from its headquarters in this city.

The demands though not as yet formally presented to the mill owners, have been printed in circulars that have flooded the city for the past few days.

The situation here grows tenser each day as the T.M.C. builds machinery preparatory to the general strike call. This despite the police terror, headed by Chief Tansey who is also head of the reactionary union of mill workers here.

The other demands are: abolition of the speed-up system, the 40-hour five-day week, equal pay for equal work, no discrimination against union members and recognition of the union.

Thousands of workers of all nationalities, British, French, Portuguese and Polish come to almost daily mass meetings held by the T.M.C. Union speakers in all the enumerated languages address the enthusiastic gatherings.

ACW HEADS OUST ITALIAN LEADER

Had Assailed Fake Organization Drive

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—For exposing the so-called organization drive of the officialdom of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union here as a fake, Nicholas Flaiani, appointed as drive organizer by the right wing before they began the campaign, was removed from his position.

Flaiani, in an open letter to President Millman, had scathingly denounced him and his staff of drive leaders as desirous of organizing a company union instead of leading the workers in a struggle against the employers for union conditions and recognition in the open-shop market.

He was removed, it is now seen, for denouncing a leadership that invited Judge Allasandroni, a fascist judge here, as a speaker to a mass meeting of unorganized Italian workers. Allessandroni is a henchman and tool of the labor-hating Vare machine.

Flaiani had also pointed out that Hillman was trying to prove to the employers here that it would be more profitable for them to have union rather than non-union shops. Hillman had publicly stated this as his position. The Amalgamated chiefs, in coming here several weeks ago, had also issued an edict nullifying all the powers of the Philadelphia local and Joint Board, because they showed a desire to lead a real struggle for unionization.

FINE PROGRAM AT SOLIDARITY FAIR

To Demonstrate for Miners Aug. 5

The Miners' Solidarity Fair at Pleasant Bay Park Aug. 5 will be a demonstration by the entire left wing movement of solidarity with the heroic miners. The affair is being held under the auspices of the National Miners' Relief Committee, 799 Broadway.

Among the unusual features at this fair will be the first showing of a mine strike film. In addition, moving pictures will be taken of the Solidarity Parade at the fair in which workers' clubs will participate with banners and slogans.

Many other interesting numbers will be included in the program. Refreshments will be served.

WARSAW, July 27 (UP).—Semi-officially it was announced that, contrary to early reports, Polish military maneuvers will not be held in the Vilna district.

"Get Your Man!" Is New Bedford Police Slogan

Photo shows New Bedford textile pickets being arrested by local police immediately following the issuance of an edict by Judge Milliken that "picketing is a nuisance."

NANKING BOWS TO U. S. EMPIRE

Takes Treaty Without Equality

PEKING, China, July 27 (UP).—American Minister MacMurray and T. V. Soong, of the Nationalist government, signed today the new Chinese-American trade treaty of July 25, in which China is granted freedom to assess tariffs on American goods.

Japanese newspapers here attack the United States, saying the treaty represents a deliberate attempt to embarras Japan.

• • •

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Although negotiations for the signing of the tariff pact with the Nanking government had been in progress since last March, the State Department expressed "surprise" that it had actually been signed.

In view of the fact that Kellogg had expressed his willingness to have other governments participate in the negotiations, while MacMurray had conferred secretly with the

Continued on Page Five

PARIS PARLEY TO BE HELD AUG. 27

Talk of USSR Participation in Berlin

PARIS, July 27 (UP).—The French government sent out invitations today to fourteen nations to participate in the ceremony of signing Secretary Kellogg's pact to outlaw war. The ceremony is to take place at the Quasi D'Orsay, August 27th.

• • •

Views on Invitation of USSR.

BERLIN, July 27 (UP).—Adherence of Russia to the Kellogg peace plan continues a topic over which there are lively exchanges of opinion among diplomats here.

Germany, apparently acting on her own initiative, informally sounded out the United States and Soviet ambassadors with regard to their views. The ambassadors here referred the inquiry to their governments.

The Berliner Tageblatt's Washington correspondent cabled his newspaper that questions in the best informed quarters in Washington led to the conclusion that the United States would not object to Russia's participation in the pact.

HALF MILLION IN BRITISH LOCKOUT

Misleader Welcomes Low Wages as Victory

LONDON, July 27.—More than half a million textile workers were hit by a lockout effective August 11, announced today by the Master Spinners' Federation.

On every hand, the offensive against the workers is going forward, with efforts to force considerable reduction in wages.

Railroad workers were sold out by the union officials in a "settlement" today which will mean considerable wage reductions.

The settlement, reducing the wages of the railroad workers, was hailed as "a triumph for British common sense," by J. H. Thomas, "Labor" Party leader in parliament and formerly president of the National Union of Railwaymen.

NORWAY GREETS ARCTIC RESCUERS

Warm Welcome to Soviet and Swedish Flyers

NARVIK, Norway, July 27.—With the miserable failure of their "exploration expedition" now known to all the world, General Nobile and the other survivors of the Italia disaster are being carried to Italy in a closed and guarded railway coach.

The Swedish party which aided the Soviet fliers and the icebreaker Krassin in their rescue remained in Norway. The Sovet and Swedish rescuers were continually cheered as the train carrying the fascist group left the station, in marked contrast to the jeers and hisses which greeted the Nobile party upon its arrival.

Although a bit of the inimical comment has partly died down since the departure of the Italian group, the ill-feeling which the Norse people feel against the hastily-prepared Nobile publicity stunt that caused the death of Malmgren and the loss of Captain Roald Amundsen and his comrades, was still evident in most of the cities of the country.

WASHINGTON, July 26 (UP).—President Clarence Cook Little, of the University of Michigan, has been appointed a lieutenant colonel in the specialist reserve corps of the army.

WORM GATHERERS' UNION

58 Boys Strike; Win 20 Percent Raise

TORONTO, Can., July 27.—Local workers in one of the most ancient of industries, worm-gathering, have formed a union and staged the most successful strike in recent labor industry.

When 58 boys formed probably the first worm-gatherers' union in history and turned on a local bait company with a demand for a 20 per cent increase in rates per 100 worms, the company refused to consider it, thinking the grievance would blow over after a few days. The worm-workers, undismayed by the company's stand, did not appeal to the department of labor or to the mayor; they sat tight, refusing to get any more worms for the bait company.

The company's best efforts to secure supplies failed, and anglers continually demanded fresh bait from them. As a result, several days afterward, the company was forced to make a complete surrender to the strikers, granting their demands in full.

SHOWN AS TOOL OF FIRESTONE IN AFRICA VENTURE

Forced Big Loan; Set Up 25c Day Wage

GENEVA, July 27.—Indictment of Herbert Hoover, presidential nominee on the republican ticket, on charges of having conspired with the big imperialist Firestone rubber interests to strangle the Negro Republic of Liberia were made today in an official report to the Mandate Commission of the League of Nations.

Hoover Deep in Rubber Plot.

The indictment reveals that Hoover who about two years ago carried on a bitter attack against the British imperial rubber monopoly, was the instrument of forcing the Liberian Republic under the heel of American supervisors "to be designated" by future American presidents. Hoover's strong drive for the republican presidential nomination is thus disclosed as a preliminary move to benefit directly from an imperialist adventure with which he is connected and whose administrators he would appoint if he is elected next November.

Forced Labor 25 Cents a Day.

The program mapped out for the Liberian republic by Hoover, the report charges, will result in the actual confiscation of the lands of the natives so that they will be held in "forced labor," under the whip of the American capitalists. An agreement was forced upon the Negro Republic by which labor will be compelled to serve the Firestone corporation at wages of 25 cents per day.

The report which is the result of an investigation made by Raymond Buell, formerly a professor of history at Harvard University, traces the details of Hoover's connection with the Firestone Rubber interests and reveals the "inside" story of the support given by the Secretary of Commerce to the company. The report shows that the acceptance of the loan forced upon the Liberian government by the Firestone interests was put over only after Hoover exerted the pressure of his office and that of the state department against the little republic.

GERMANY GIVES UP 'CRIMINALS'

Men Who Tore French Flag Extradited

BERLIN, July 27 (UP).—The powerful united Fatherlandish associations have issued a pronouncement that August 11, anniversary of the adoption of the German constitution, should be a day of national mourning instead of celebration.

The pronouncement reflects the indignation of the nationalists regarding the extradition demanded by French authorities in the Rhineland of three Germans who were sentenced by a French court to prison terms for alleged defamation of the French colors.

May Affect "Peace" Signing.

It was charged the men tore the tricolor after which they escaped into unoccupied German territory. The German government decided to comply with the extradition request.

Compliance of the government with the demand and the consequences it entailed may cause Foreign Minister Stresemann to refrain from traveling to Paris to sign the Kellogg peace pact August 27, it was believed here tonight.

"Peasant Party" Holds Session in Rumania

VIENNA, July 27.—While Rumanian parliament composed mostly of "liberals" who are alleged to have obtained a majority in the last election by fraud, was in session, members of the peasant party and their representatives to parliament held a separate parliamentary session.

The peasant party, composed mostly of rich peasants, professionals and large land owners, was summoned to the special session by their leader, Julius Maniu.

Communist Party, Young Workers League, In Big Anti-Militarist Demonstration

GITLOW, MINOR, NEARING AMONG THE SPEAKERS

Kellogg Talks Peace, Prepares for War

As labor organizations and workers of New York are preparing to demonstrate against the imperialist war danger, at Union Square, August 4, at the fourteenth anniversary of the opening of the last world slaughter during which millions of workers were murdered in the fight for the redivision of the capitalist markets, word comes from Berlin of the building of a fleet of monster airplanes in preparation for the next imperialist war. These planes, capable of carrying a load of munitions one and a half times their own weight and specially constructed for trans-Oceanic warfare, are being built to attain a speed of 200 miles an hour.

The building of the fleet of war planes is being started simultaneously with an attack launched against the so-called anti-war pact of Secretary of State Kellogg by German jingoist newspapers. One newspaper published a statement denouncing the treaty as a dishonest gesture, thus openly admitting the war preparations.

Talk "Peace"—Prepare War.

As the Kellogg "anti-war" pact is being waved before the eyes of workers the world over in an effort to distract their attention from the feverish preparations for a new imperialist conflict, Secretary of War Davis is enroute to the Hawaiian Islands, ostensibly to attend the sesquicentennial anniversary of their discovery, but in reality to make a complete study of the military defenses on the islands in anticipation of war in the Pacific.

Aware of the universal preparations for an armed conflict which will make the last war look like a skirmish, class conscious workers of New York and vicinity will gather by the thousands in Union Square on Saturday, August 4, to lift their voices in protest against the keeping of American gunboats in China, the slaughter of Nicaraguans by American marines and the plots being hatched by capitalist countries preparatory to an attack on the Soviet Union, the first workers' and farmers' government. The huge demonstration will resolve itself into a general demonstration against the capitalist military training camps being used to hoodwink the workers with fables of patriotism and defense against "foreign aggression," against the presidential candidacies of Hoover and Smith, the puppets of the war mongers and munition barons and against capitalism itself, breeder of wars.

Many Prominent Speakers.

District 2 of the Workers' Communist Party, under whose auspices the demonstration will be held, has arranged for an imposing array of speakers, including Benjamin Gitlow, Workers' Party candidate for vice-president; Bob Minor, editor of the Daily Worker; M. J. Olgin, well known Communist editor; Richard B. Moore, organizer of Negro workers; Ray Ragozin, in charge of Women's work; Ballam, acting District Organizer of the Workers' (Communist) Party; Phil Frankfeld, District Organizer of the Young Workers' (Communist) League; Scott Nearing, noted authority on imperialism; Albert Weisbord, leader of the Passaic textile strikers and active in the New Bedford strike; Ben Gold, militant leader of the furriers; Rebecca Grecht, Campaign Manager of the Workers' (Communist) Party and active in organizing the striking miners; Bert Miller, Organization Secretary of the Workers' Party; D. Benjamin, Director of the Workers' School, and Paul Crouch, court-martialed from the U. S. Army for his Communist activities, and now active in organizing the youth against militarism.

Workers' clubs and labor organizations are invited to attend the demonstration in a body, bringing with them their own banners and slogans calling for mobilization against the imperialist war danger.

CAP WORKERS TO AID YOUTH MEET

At a large shop delegates' conference called by the TUEL section of the Cap & Millinery Workers, last Tuesday night, a representative of the Provisional Committee of the Working Youth Conference appeared.

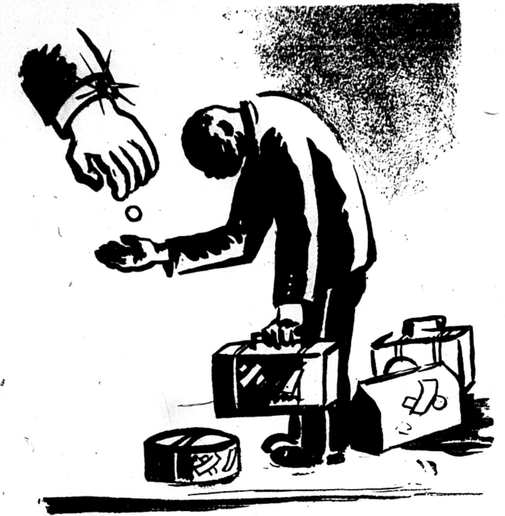
He was franted the floor. M. Helfand, of the Plumbers' Helpers' Union, spoke on the purpose and the importance of the Working Youth Conference.

He was granted the floor. M. [illegible] which is so keenly felt by the young workers. He wound up by suggesting the holding of shop meetings in all millinery shops where the youth are employed; the distribution of the special Working Youth Conference leaflet; the holding of special youth meetings, etc.

At the conclusion of Helfand's brief appeals a delegate got up and made a motion that the Working Youth Conference be endorsed. The motion carried unanimously amid applause.

THE PULLMAN PORTER

By M. Pass



UNION WRECKERS WANT INJUNCTION

Zaritsky, Socialists Use Employers Weapon

BOSTON, July 27.—This morning there appeared in the Equity Court, Mr. Zaritsky, the President of the Cloth Hat and Cap Makers International, accompanied by his socialist attorneys Bearak and Rower to give cause why an injunction should be issued by the court against Local No. 7 of Boston and its officers.

After hearing the eloquent plea for the injunction the judge refused to issue a temporary restraining order on all the complaints raised in the plea, but did order that the calling of strikes should be discontinued, but at the same time Mr. Bearak was forced to agree that no workers would be taken off their jobs for refusing to register with the Zaritsky local. Further hearing on the case was postponed to August 21.

The socialist lawyer Bearak argued that the shop strikes called by Local No. 7 to protect the workers who were thrown off the jobs for refusing to register with the Zaritsky local, were embarrassing both Zaritsky and the manufacturers who both had signed a new agreement.

The bill of complaint asked that the duly elected officials of local 7 should have no right to function as officials of the local, cannot speak in its name, that funds are not to be used for any purpose, that statements are not to be issued under the name of Local No. 7, that the local be enjoined from calling shop strikes. In short that the local cease to exist.

The effort of the Zaritsky clique to wrest power from the local left wing administration by intimidating workers, by firing them from their jobs and thus taking away their means of livelihood, his close alliance with the manufacturers which makes of the Zaritsky local a company union, his secret agreement with the manufacturers of which the members know nothing and his last act of seeking the aid of the capitalist courts in his fight against the membership has aroused deep resentment in the ranks of the Capmakers.

Before the hearings on the injunction are over many interesting facts will be brought to light. The high handed manner of the Zaritsky clique will be brought out.

The membership of the Zaritsky local who have now been tied down with an agreement which they never approved will demand to know the full text of the agreement. What conditions which were won thru hard struggle did Mr. Zaritsky give up in order to win the support of the manufacturers in his struggle against the workers? The membership has a right to know. The membership will also want an accounting from Zaritsky—why he makes use of the most powerful instruments against the workers—the injunctions.

Daily Worker Agents of Section 3 to Meet

A meeting of Daily Worker Agents of Section 3 will be held Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at 101 West 27th St. This will be one of the most important meetings held up to now. All Daily Worker agents are urged to attend the meeting, and to be prompt, because important plans for future activity will be discussed and mapped out.

Pedagog Says Karl Marx Is Terrible 'Red'

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 27.—Elliat Bates Barber, director of adult education in Danbury, Conn., and considered one of the smartest men in his town, today exposed Karl Marx before the department of adult education at Yale.

Marx, Barber said, is the real instigator of the recent criticism of the Daughters of the American Revolution and their much-discussed blacklist of radical speakers.

"He disparages all true patriotism of whatever type," Barber said. "He sneers at 100 per cent patriots, deforms and vilifies our history, great men and American life.

"Disrespect to the flag, ridicule of government action and the soldier's uniform are part of the program.

"The attack on the D. of A. R. is an instance in point—patriotism is abolished, national defense is weak, pacifism and disarmament follow. Then there is a chance to put over the world revolution, for under these circumstances it has a chance to succeed."

The department of adult education at Yale has not yet decided what steps to take in the matter.

$100,000 ELECTION DRIVE SPEEDED

Sky Is the Limit for Capitalists

With the issuance of a fifty-cent assessment stamp for sale to the party membership, the purchase of which is obligatory on every party member, the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers' (Communist) Party started on the first lap of the drive to raise $100,000 for the Communist Campaign Fund.

Simultaneously the capitalist parties announced thru their publicity departments that there is no truth in the report that their election expenditures would be confined to $3,000,000. The sky is the limit for both parties.

Fund is Vital.

The campaign assessment stamp is expected to bring several thousand dollars immediately into the treasury of the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers' (Communist) Party. Alexander Trachtenberg, with heaquarters at 43 E. 125th St., New York, is campaign fund treasurer, and all contributions should be forwarded to him at that address.

The importance of raising a fund for immediate work is the reason for issuing the assessment stamp and the Central Executive Committee of the Party in a letter to the membership stresses the importance of speed in realizing on the sale of those stamps and forwarding the proceeds at once to the campaign treasurer.

All districts of the party were given quotas corresponding to the number of members in each district. The allotments are as follows: District 1: 1,000; 2, 4,000; 3, 800; 4, 400; 5, 1,000; 6, 800; 7, 800; 8, 1,800; 9, 1,000; 10, 400; 12, 700; 13, 700; 15, 300, and 200 for the Agricultural District.

Must Speed Sales.

Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer of the National Election Campaign Committee, said in urging the membership to speed up the sale of the stamps:

"The campaign funds of the capitalist parties this year will surpass all previous treasure chests. For the first time in the history of the United States both parties are on practically even terms in the matter of campaign funds. Millionaires are flocking daily to the Smith banner, and the head of his national committee is none other than John J. Raskob, the finance chairman of the gigantic automobile trust dominated by the House of Morgan, General Motors.

Wall Street Has Millions.

"Hoover will have the millions of other capitalist groups, not the least of which is the Mellon group. This is a millionaire election campaign. Those millions will be used to corrupt and befuddle the workers and farmers of the United States between now and November. After then whichever set of capitalists win, the exploitation of the workers and farmers will go on with greater intensity than ever.

"Agianst the billions Street our drive to raise the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund would be futile but for the fact that our party stands for the interests of the millions of exploited workers and farmers, and if we only can raise enough funds to print literature and route speakers, so that the message of Communism can be brought home to them, the corrupting money of Wall Street will be wasted like seed scattered in a desert."

STRIKES GROWING AT NASH MOTOR

YoungWorkersLeague Leads Walkouts

KENOSHA, Wis., July 27.—The openshop town of Kenosha is beginning to crack. The long fight for union recognition waged by the Allen-A hosiery workers stimulated employes of the anti-union Nash Motor Co. to stage half a dozen walkouts in various departments since February, led by the Young Workers (Communist) League. Sentiment for an industrial union of auto workers is growing.

The building wreckers also asserted themselves last week and went on strike at the old Allen tannery for a 50 per cent wage raise. They picketed in spite of police and won their demands, returning to work at 60 cents an hour instead of 40 cents.

NEGRO WORKERS RESPOND TO CALL OF COMMUNISTS

Harlem Labor Starts Signature Drive

The Harlem Section of the Workers (Communist) Party, with headquarters at 143 East 103rd St., inaugurated its drive for signatures to put the Workers (Communist) Party on the ballot by calling a special meeting of the section executive committee. Unlike most section executive committee meetings, this one lasted only ten minutes, after which each member of the executive marched out of the headquarters armed with petitions, indelible pencils and Daily Workers and proceeded to finecomb an election district for signatures.

During the week there have been four open-air meetings held in Harlem on the election campaign, at each of which were sold a goodly portion of the 500 copies of the Workers (Communist) Party Platforms which Harlem confidently purchased from the district office.

The first report made by M. Moreau was a substantial one of 101 signatures for both the local and national petitions. Moreau reported that in one block, in the Negro section of Harlem, Comrade Williams obtained 30 signatures in an hour. Negro workers, according to Comrade Williams, are extremely interested in the Workers (Communist) Party and its platform, and show keen interest in the stand of the Workers Party on lynchings, Jim Crow laws and racial prejudice generally.

It begins to look as though Harlem were seriously after the scalp of the Boro Park section, which boasts that one comrade has already collected 50 signatures, and is unbeatable. The rivalry between the various sections is so keen that there is considerable agitation in the district office to establish a special district prize for the section that hits the highest mark. Boro Park is already preparing its speech of acceptance.

WORKERS MEET IN BULGARIA

Labor Party Presents Program

SOFIA, July 26.—During the present month the first general conference of the Labor Party of Bulgaria was held in Sofia. The conference, taking up the present political situation, decided:

1. The chief task of the party is to organize the proletarian masses.
2. The party makes a strong fight against the present fascist government and against the capitalist attacks on the Bulgarian proletariat.

Denounces "Agrarians."

3. The party fights against the present leadership of the Bulgarian National Agricultural Workers' Union (Agrarians), which does not work for the real needs of the people.
4. The organization of the "Labor Block" must be a task of the masses.
5. The Party fights against all opportunist tendencies in its ranks and must remain a pure Marxian class organization.

To Strengthen Unions.

6. The Workers' Youth Union must be strengthened, also there must be more support for the Independent General Workers' Trade Unions, and an increase in the participation of women in the class struggle must be one of the chief tasks of the Labor Party.—(Esperanto-Servo.)

He's On Circuit for Tammany Now

Years ago Mayor James Walker of New York used to have vaudeville connections. Now he's on circuit for Tammany and is more often on the road than in New York. The picture shows him disguised as a bull-fighter during a recent junket to Monterey, Calif.

Vivid Articles In August Issue Of New Masses

THREE things particularly are outstanding in the new August issue of the New Masses: "Comrade Juanita," a story by the noted Greek Communist writer, Petros Pikros; another of Michael Gold's splendid memoirs of New York's East Side, and "Inside the Reformatory," by David Gordon. These are fine things—each a worthy feature for a proletarian art magazine and further assurance that now the New Masses is headed in the right direction.

But add to these "Million Footed," a scenario for a workers' movie by Robert Wolf; a sketch on the Y. M. C. A. by George Jarrboe, other stories, poems, books, reviews and the interesting "Letters From America," and here is proof that the New Masses is making good in becoming a workers' art magazine.

"In Soviet Russia," writes the editor, Michael Gold, "everyone is writing. A vast network of workers' correspondents fill the newspapers with simple, direct accounts of the daily life of the workers.

"We are trying to make the New Masses a magazine of a kind of sublimated workers' correspondence.

"If some of this writing proves to be literature, so much the better. But we are willing to stand and fall by the theory that great art can only rise out of the life that everyone is leading."

• • •

WE can agree here. The aim is definite and the contents of this issue are headed that way. But the new policy, writes the editor, is also to make the New Masses "non-literary, non-pretentious, non-intellectual." What's the idea? "Comrade Juanita" and Mike Gold's own story both could easily fit into any of those categories without damage. Why not? They also happen to be darn good reading. To go a step further, both, and a good deal of the other material, does reflect some phases of the life we lead and at times does it right beautifully.

The artists in this issue of the New Masses, however, seem to have laid down on the job because of hot weather. The poets, also, do not seem especially inspired. More book reviews would perhaps add interest. There is also this thing that the New Masses of last year overdid—that insistence to spice every item with just a little sex. I don't know the answer to that one.

The heavy black rules and the tough butcher-paper the magazine is printed on give it a different and attractive appearance. By and large, the new editorial policy, and the care and ability to put it into practice, have brought it closer to the life of the worker. There's no question about it. It is becoming a magazine of workers' art. Seeing the new August issue is believing.

W. C.

RASKOB FIRM'S PROFITS TOTAL OVER $160,000,000

Thousands Still Are Unemployed

Net profits of the General Motors Corporation for the six months ended June 30, including equity in undivided profit of subsidiaries not consolidated, totaled $161,267,974, after all charges, as compared with $129,267,974 in the first half of 1927.

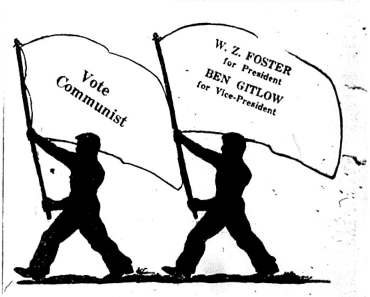
Big Morgan Concern.

This represents a profit of $32,000,000 clear over the first half year in 1927. John J. Raskob, until recently the official chairman of the finance committee of the huge Morgan firm, and now, because of his empty gesture in the Tammany Al Smith campaign, the unofficial chairman, is one of the biggest stockholders in the General Motors Corporation.

Thousands Struck Recently.

Recently thousands of workers went on strike in Flint, Mich., for better conditions and for a raise in wages that would enable them to live, against this same company which now declares a half-year's profit of over a hundred million dollars. But in spite of this, and in spite of the general unemployment situation now existing in the United States, such corporations as the General Motors, which are the biggest supporters of the reactionary democratic and republican candidates in the election campaign, are able to declare such enormous profits.

Further statements declare that the net profits for the three months ending June 30 were $91,799,398.



Order a Bundle!

Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.

Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.

Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.

$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).

Enclosed find $..........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

THE PICNIC OF THE YEAR

TODAY!
SATURDAY, JULY 28
Freiheit Picnic
Ulmer Park, Brooklyn

THE FREIHEIT SPORT CLUB has prepared an excellent program in which the entire club takes part.

THE THREE SOCCER TEAMS will play against the following organizations: 1.—Hebrew American League; 2.—Harlem Progressive S. C.; 3.—Co-operative Sport Club.

ADMISSION 35 CENTS

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION
Co-operative Workers
CampNitgedaiget
Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731

MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.

A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.

Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.

REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:
OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)
Rates: $17.00 Per Week
TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR. BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

ritish Authorities Jail Forty-Six Indian Workers in Wave of Terrorism

HTH SESSION COMMUNIST NGRESS OPENS

rga States Changes Working Class

OSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 27 ressing the eighth session of World Congress of the Com International, Samuelson, of den, declared that capitalist alization and stabilization had ressed far in Sweden and that workers were answering with struggles. Many wage strug had already been succesfully ied out by the Communist rty.

French Ask Change

Thorez, of France, then stated that the French delegation considers a tactical change necessary. In order to win the workers a correct attitude towards the social democracy must be adopted at the same time that the united front tactic is maintained from below. The French delegation further demands a special struggle against the right.

Syphisos, of Greece, declared that the delegation was in general in agreement with Bukharin and suggested the formation of a Balkan commission.

Varga States Differences.

Varga then declared that technical progress was causing changes in the working class. There are four main factors, he declared. First, unemployment is no longer temporary but permanent. Second, the industrial workers are spread over the whole country in consequence of electrification, khich permits industrial districts to spring up far away from sources of raw material. Third, the disappearance of the difference between the skilled and the unskilled workers. Fourth, the formation of a new section of privileged workers on the basis of rationalization instead of the old aristocracy of labor based on skill.

Lecords, of Brasil, next declared that American imperialism is abandoning peaceful penetration in favor of military penetration. The Pan-American Federation of Labor is the tool of American imperialism, he declared.

S. A. Parties Stronger

Carillo, of Mexico, stated that the Latin American Communist parties are growing. They have developed in the last few years from propaganda groups to fighting parties.

Salas, of Uruguay, declared that the bourgeois democratic anti-imperialist revolutions are coming in South America and the Communist Parties must prepare to lead these further. The Latin American Trade Union Congress takes place at Montevideo next year in order to form an all-South American Trade Union Federation. The Communist International must support this.

LEADERS ATTACK FRACTIONALISM

Urge Its Liquidation in Workers Party

Continued on Page Three

against labor bureaucracy and when connected with the formation of factory committees and the organization of the unorganized workers. He said that Cannon's statement that nothing had been done to carry out the decisions of the Red International of Trade Unions was untrue. He concluded by saying that the Comintern must assist to unite the whole party against those who continue fractionalism.

During the tenth session of the Congress, Wicks, of the United States, said it was ridiculous to accuse the majority of supporting American imperialism because it believed in conformity with Bukharin that American imperialism is still on the upward grade. He declared that the Communist International must liquidate the characterless fractionalism of the minority whose members disagree among themselves on many questions and only unite in opposition to the majority.

Latest Capitalist "Good Will" Flight to Mexico

Another "good will" flight backed openly this time by Gail B. Munsill, millionaire sportsman, is preparing to start for Mexico to place a wreath on the tomb of Captain Emilio Carranza. Captain Carranza was killed in a flight of a similar nature to the United States. The flight also has the blessing of a large capitalist newspaper interest.

SACCO MEMORIAL IN MANY NATIONS

Meetings to Be Held Thruout Country

Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial meetings, under the auspices of the various sections of International Red Aid, will be held throughout the world during the week of August 19 to 26, it was announced yesterday. The National Office of International Labor Defense, 80 E. 11th St., New York. N. Y., is in receipt of many communications and cables from the Red Aid (Rote Hilfe), of Germany, the Canadian Labor Defense League, the International Class War Prisoners Aid of England, the Red Aid (Mopr) of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics and many other sections, outlining plans for the commemoration of the memories of Sacco and Vanzetti, Labor's Martyrs. International Labor Defense is organizing the meetings in the United States.

Fight for Mooney.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Memorials to be held on an international scale are being linked with the frame-up against Tom Mooney and Warren Billings, the two American Class War Prisoners about to begin their thirteenth year in prisons at San Quentin and Folsom, Calif.

"The case of Sacco and Vanzetti," pointed out Martin Abern, Assistant National Secretary of International Labor Defense, "cannot be treated in an isolated manner, but it is necessary to combine it with the special occurrences of terror and class justice in each country and to demonstrate that the Sacco and Vanzetti case is only a link in the chain of class "justice" and International White Terror. Mooney and Billings were framed-up and imprisoned by the powers of the Open Shoppers in California and the consent of American Imperialism. Labor throughout the world sees this and therefore the Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial meetings will be utilized to demonstrate for and demand the freedom for Mooney and Billings."

Meetings in Canada.

The Canadian Labor Defense League, writes Florence Custance, Canadian Secretary, to the I.L.D., is organizing Sacco-Vanzetti meetings and is conducting a campaign for the Centralia prisoners and Mooney and Billings.

Protest Fuller Visit.

"When Governor Fuller of Massachusetts," writes H. B. Lovell, Secretary of the International Class War Prisoners Aid of England, "visited Braintree (Essex, England) recently, the Braintree Local Trades Council in conjunction with the I.C.W.P.A. organized a protest demonstration on June 30, at which several hundred people in such a small area attended and 100 Sacco-Vanzetti pamphlets were sold. An extremely good impression was created and we have decided to organize further protest demonstrations which will take place during the August Sacco-Vanzetti Commemoration Week throughout England, at which will be demanded the immediate release of our Comrades Mooney and Billings and other American political prisoners."

The National office of International Labor Defense announces that meetings for the Sacco-Vanzetti memorials are being arranged in cities throughout the United States. Among the meetings already scheduled are: New York. Union Square; Chicago, Temple Hall; Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston Los Angeles, San Francisco, Cleveland, Public Square; Martins Ferry Ohio; Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St Paul, Duluth, Superior, Seattle Portland, Denver, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, cities throughout the mining regions in the bituminous and anthracite regions, Tacoma, Bethlehem, Akron, Canton, Gary, South Bend, Zeigler, Newark, Paterson, Passaic, Buffalo, Rochester, Wilmington, Washington, St. Louis, Flint, Grand Rapids, New Haven Stamford, San Jose, Spokane, Astoria, Oakland and many others. A complete list of meetings, giving time and place, will be announced soon by I.L.D.

BETHLEN PLAYS SAFE

Would Have Others Fight Bolshevism

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 26.—The Hungarian premier, Bethlen, on the question of international action against the Communists, declares:

"A union of all European powers against the Communist danger, which is being called for by many Hungarian politicians, must meet great handicaps. First, such a coalition would meet with many technical difficulties that would arise out of certain rivalries and, further, political handicaps would prevent such work in many states.

"Hungary would greet with joy an understanding on this task. We will, however, call attention to this necessity whenever possible and do all in our power to cooperate.

"To take the initiative would be against the interest of our state. In that case we would have to take on ourselves all the odium and the counter-propaganda would turn against us first. It is better if we wait for an opportunity to point out the danger of Bolshevism. We will allow another country, however, to take the initiative."

Intense Heat Kills 3 In Pacific Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., July 27 (UP). —The Pacific Northwest today entered its sixth day of excessive heat confronted by a serious forest fire and with a death toll of at least three persons.

Dalles, Oregon, in the mid-Columbia region of Oregon and Washington, sweltered yesterday under a new record temperature of 115 degrees. Pendleton and Arlington, Ore., experienced 114 weather, while at Lewiston, Idaho, it was 113.

High marks in Washington included maximums of 111.7 at Walla Walla, 109 at Pasco, 107.5 at Yakima and 104.3 at Spokane.

PERU CABINET CHANGE

LIMA, Peru, July 27.—Slight changes in the cabinet occurred today when Foreign Minister Rada y Gamio resigned. It was reformed with Gamio at its head, and few changes in personnel.

MORE OF THOSE FIRES.

ROME, July 27 (UP)—Fires continue to cause great damage to fields, forests and factories near Ancona. Several buildings and a feed warehouse were destroyed today, and six firemen enroute to a fire were injured seriously when a truck collided with a taxical. Outside of Turin a factory fire caused 1,000,000 lire damage.

Vice-President Elect Of Argentina Dies

Francisco Beiro who was elected vice-president of Argentina during the May elections in which Irigoyen was elected president, died on July 23. He would have assumed the vice-presidency on October 12 for four years.

Though no decision has been made yet, it is unlikely that new elections will be called for another vice-president. It is generally believed that the parliament will elect the successor of Beiro from among the followers of Irigoyen.

MOVE TO SMASH RAILWAY STRIKE SEEN IN ARREST

Scabs Caused Accident Is Belief

BOMBAY, July 27.—Forty-six Indian workers have been arrested by the British authorities in connection with the train wreck at Horwah, Bengal, recently, according to a report from Madras.

Using the wreck as pretext with which to smash the strike of railway operatives, the British government has begun an extended campaign of terror against all Indian labor, in the opinion of the leaders of the present walk-out. It is believed that the workers will be charged with tampering with the rails.

The leaders of the striking railway men lay blame for the accident on the incompetence of strikebreakers with which the owners were attempting to keep the trains running. Eighteen persons were killed in the wreck.

Failure of the authorities to end or curb the walk-out of the railway workers is alarming the British who are making provisions to force the men back to their jobs.

Sympathy of the other sections of the Indian working class has been received by the railway strikers from Bombay and other centers and this feeling of solidarity is playing an important part in keeping up the spirit of the men. No probability of an early settlement is seen by the leaders of the strike.

"Objective" Sages Still Hate German Scientists

BERLIN, July 27. — German scientists in an explanation of their absence from the Geographical Congress opened at Cambridge, England, yesterday, state that it is due to the fact that the congress is dominated by a strong hared of Germany aroused by the late war.

The congress is entirely in the hands of Conseil de Reserches and Union Geographique, both societies being antagonistic to the Germans. They cite as a proof of this statement the Congress at Cairo in 1924 to which they were at first invited, but the invitation was later withdrawn on the demand of the two French societes.

The German scientists refuse to attend any geogrpahical congress dominated by these two war-hating organizations and demand that the congress be reorganized before they will participate.

Scene in Front of Workers Center, N. Y. City.

The sidewalks in front of the Workers Center facing Union Square, New York City, are always crowded with workers discussing problems. The "Red Square" as it is now frequently called has become the heart of mass gatherings in the city.

TIE UP HAMBURG FISHING FLEET

Expect Strike Spread When Boats Return

HAMBURG, Germany, July 27.—Tie up of the north German fisheries industry with consequent heavy losses to the owners is forecast here as a result of the strike of fishermen now paralyzing Altoona and Hamburg.

The strike is chiefly confined to the herring fishing fleet whose seamen are demanding higher wages and have refused to accept the specious promises with which the owners have attempted to quash the tie-up.

The herring fishing season is approaching and there is every prospect that the men will win their demands.

Imperialist Flunkey to Aid Hoover Racket

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 27 (UP).—Governor Horace M. Towner will sail for the United States in September to ask Hubert Work if he is to be used in the Hoover campaign in Iowa.

Dictatorship Makes Plea for Elections

QUITO, Ecuador, July 27.—Following announcement by the president of the re-establishment of a constitutional, parliamentary regime in Ecuador, which for two years was under a "liberal" (anti-clerical) semi-military dictatorship, elections were called for deputies to the constitutional assembly to be opened in Quito on September 10.

Six Injured in Blast and Fire on Vessel

MALTA, July 27 (UP).—Two officers of the Scottish steamship Aracan and four longshoremen were injured today when an explosion and fire occurred here in a cargo of Polish coal the vessel was taking from Dantzig to Venice.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

TO ALL OUR READERS:

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS

Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.

Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....

Mail to
DAILY WORKER
83 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

To Witness the Celebration of the 11th Anniversary of the NOVEMBER REVOLUTION

ACROSS

LAST TOUR THIS YEAR sails OCT. 17 on the express ship "Mauretania."

TO SOVIET RUSSIA

EUROPE

COST OF THE ENTIRE TOUR
$375
$25 First Payment, balance payable in installments.

FREE SOVIET VISAS
We Assist You to extend your stay so as to visit your relatives and friends in any part of the Soviet Union.

World Tourists, Inc.
69 Fifth Ave., New York
Tel. Algonquin 6900

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $3

Enclosed find $..........
for ..... months subscription weeks
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS

Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More

Now Ready

NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS

The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100.

The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

TODAY

THE MINERS NEED YOUR HELP

The miners have been on strike for 16 months. They have been fighting the bosses and reactionary leaders for a right to live.

They have been thrown out of their homes by the coal companies who own them.

The miners' wives and children go without food.

They are forced to live and to fight under almost unbelievable conditions.

They have been arrested on the picket lines and thrown into jail—men, women and children.

THIS WEEK

Is National Miners' Relief and Defense Week. The International Labor Defense and the National Miners' Relief have joined together to help the miners, their wives and their children. You can do this much to help:

1

Take contribution lists to collect funds in the shop, the union and in your fraternal organization. Talk to your friends and your neighbors.

2

On Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29, through August 1st, help in the house-to-house collection that will be held in every city in the country. Get in touch with your I. L. D. or N. M. R. secretary.

3

Send for contribution lists if you need them—and send your contributions.

TODAY TO NATIONAL MINERS RELIEF
611 Penn Ave.
PITTSBURGH, PA.

NATIONAL MINERS' RELIEF and DEFENSE WEEK conducted jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee, International Labor Defense.

To ....
....
....

Negro Caught Twice in White Frame-Up Net

By WILLIAM PICKENS

NOBODY who knows the south is surprised to hear that the governor of South Carolina is endeavoring to revoke the pardon of Ben Bess and so "save the face" of that state. A white woman had Bess sent to the penitentiary 13 years ago, for a term of 30 years, on a charge of "rape," although she had been living in adultery with him, under the consent of her husband, for years. Recently this woman, thinking she was about to die, confessed the truth and had Bess pardoned.

Newspapers all over the world used her confession as a fair example, indicating how innocent Negroes can be convicted on the word of white people in the south.

"Looks Bad."

But immediately the south was aroused, South Carolina in particular. It would never do to let the world know that a white woman who had sent a Negro to jail on a charge of rape later confessed that she had simply been that Negro's paramour, with the consent of her husband, and that she and her husband had decided to frame the Negro in revenge for the Negro's decision not to support the two of them any longer. No, no; it would look too bad for the "superiority" pretensions for the whites to allow a thing like that to come out.

And so the state "detectives" got busy. They no doubt threatened to put this weak woman into the penitentiary. Finally she "confessed" again; that she only meant to "forgive" Ben Bess for what he had "done" to her, not to say he was not guilty.

Pardon Revoked.

Who in thunder ever heard of any person looking up a judge and witness, and making a voluntary affidavit to "forgive" somebody for something?

This poor woman—we pity her more than we pity Bess. Perhaps the governor and the civilization of South Carolina ought to be pitied even more.

So, the governor decides to revoke a pardon—an unheard of procedure. This awful case was so much commented on by the whole world that South Carolina's face must be saved, even if this poor weak woman's soul must be damned by another lie.

No Surprise.

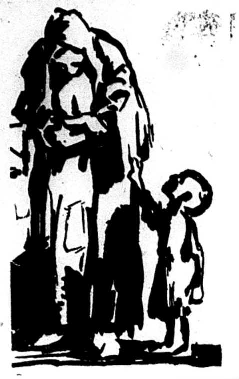
Well, we are not a bit surprised. Rather have we been looking for this. We wonder how the truth ever slipped by them in the first place. We'll bet those state "detectives" never got wind of the fact that the woman was about to confess, or she'd never have got the chance.

A few years ago in Arkansas a Negro was about to be hung for "raping" a white woman. But a few days before the execution the woman (women are superior in conscience to men) repented and went to the governor and told him that the whole charge of "rape" grew out of the fact that some white men ran across her and this colored man in the act of kissing each other, and that she had acquiesced in the charge of rape to save her own reputation—and that she and the man had been living together for 15 years and would have been married if they had lived in a civilized state.

Righteousness.

The governor tried his best to bully her out of this confession, but the woman had been wise in that case; she had gone and confessed to other prominent white and colored people first and took a delegation along when she went to confess before the governor—otherwise she might have been simply confined as an insane person—until after the execution was over. Even then the governor refused to act, and the friends of civilization had to resort to a habeas corpus in a federal court to save this innocent man's life.

"Bread!"



'Lilly Patch' is Disease Hole Where Miners Live

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., July 27.—The Lilly "patch" adjoining the Hillman Coal Company mine is perched on stilts, high above the creek. Now that the heavy rains are deluging the valley, the water rises and floods the shacks. These company houses are old, dilapidated, flimsy wooden shells. As the water seeps in thru the windows and between the boards, the rain leaks from the roof cracks.

The Lilly mine was completely closed down when the strike began sixteen months ago. The operators have not even attempted to open the mine with scab labor, so there are no picket lines there. The union ceased sending relief to this camp two weeks ago. Only the National Miners' Relief is warding off starvation.

* * *

In the center of the "patch," Jack Srader, a leading rank and file striker, lives with his family. The house is bare—even the little clothing they possess lies on newspapers, on the floor. Sixteen-year-old Margaret lies propped up against the wall. She is suffering from tubercular bones. Eight-month-old Julius is tossing about on a pillow, while his mother attempts to stop his coughing with home remedies. There is no money, so the doctors refuse to come. There are five other little children to take care of, and feed.

When Jack Srader first brought his family to West Brownsville a few months before the strike began, he bought a house-full of furniture on the installment plan from the Zimmerman Furniture Company. Then the strike came, and when the wages stopped coming in, payment had to stop. Last week the truck from the furniture company carried away the stove, chairs, beds and all. Mrs. Srader cooks her rations at a neighbor's home.

The water around the "patch" is stagnant, and offers a most productive breeding place for mosquitoes. There's no sewerage arrangements, and the stench of the creek and the swampy land adjoining the creek makes life almost unbearable in the coal mine "patch."

Hundreds of striking miners and their families live in these huts. Since the strike began, they have been unable to pay rent. Now the Hillman Coal Company is offering the shacks for sale to miners who are living for the most part on one meal a day.

* * *

"Who has the money to pay, even if we did want to be tied down to that kind of a house?" the miners ask. "If the houses belonged to us, and we had to stay here, the bosses would think they could get us to take any conditions and as low a scale they want to force on us."

Mines are opening everywhere, and attempting to draw back their former workers on an open-shop basis. The men insist that their only hope for organization, lies in returning to the mines in a body. The National Miners' Relief Committee is sending as much relief as it is able to the mining camps to save the miners from being starved into accepting open-shop conditions. Destitution and hunger is widespread; but the miners are still militant, after these months of struggle.

All funds sent to the National Miners' Relief Committee at 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. will immediately be converted into flour and potatoes and rushed to the mining camps. Dollars will fight disease. Do your share!

News Room

Newspaper men writing lurid tales of how John Jones killed his wife with a rolling pin. (Sweet revenge, reversal, reversitore.)
"Scarface Al Capone enters cleaning racket."
"Mother strangles only babe."
(Copy Boyyy, where are you hidiinng)
Waiting for the deadline, idly writing;
"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."
Dreaming of brimming steins at Al's or Petes;
Boozefighters because they see too much.
Limning today, dreaming of "mananna."
Fingers running idle over keys giving an air of acute industry,
Waiting for the deadline, idly writing:
"Now is the time—."

—JAMES A. MILLER.

GUM SHAN DING

By H. T. TSIANG.

You Gum Shan Ding!
You were born without conscience!

You spent a thousand dollars,
Appropriating to yourself
A strange father.
So willing you are to forget
The place where you were born.

When you are on the golden shore of America
You are without worry,
No longer being poor.
Your chief concern
Is to manage with all your wealth.

Don't talk about China!

"I am a rich merchant.
No more 'fatherland.'
I am an American citizen."

... there are worries.
That is too bad.
Face not so white,
Nose not so high.
When I pass by
All men call me
"Chinaman!" "Chinaman!"

You Gum Shan Ding!
You are worth not more than a penny!

You spend three dollars for a banquet ticket,
Ten dollars for railroad fare,
Just to bid farewell
To a big general,
Or the nation's ambassador.
Do you know what they are in China?
They are beasts
Consuming the blood of the toilers.
They become bloated and fat.
They murder the workers.
They are satiated.
Now they come to America,
Just for sport and play!

Why give them a feast
Instead of blows?

You Gum Shan Ding!
You have no brain!
It was Young shi-kai
Who invented the "Chinese Liberty Bond."
Ten years have passed.
This system is still in vogue
To kill the workers.

This in these generals' mouths is sweet,
In their hearts a cruel dagger.
You are looking for saviours—
But these are traitors.
Liberty Bonds?

Better throw your money into the water,
For there at least,
It will make a musical sound.
Have you a brain?
Use it!

You Gum Shan Ding!
Be not angry nor sorry.
Pardon the sarcasm.
You are not alone.
All of us are fools,
All, except, of course,
Those traitors and mercenary generals!

We are fools all the time!
Fools! Fools! Fools!
Oh, you fools, awake!
Become as a spike,
Kill all who are not fools!

* * *

Gum Shan Ding — A sarcastic nickname given in China to those Chinese who return from America. The literal meaning is "gold mountain fool."

Young shi-kai—The treacherous president of China who accepted Japan's twenty-one demands and appropriated the proceeds of the "Liberty Bond" to make himself emperor.

New York City, July 25.

Smashing Articles and Photos in 'Labor Defender'

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY.

MAX SHACHTMAN, editor of the "Labor Defender," will do it on you every time. This energetic young proletarian journalist continues to improve the official organ of the International Labor Defense each succeeding issue until one gives up wondering when he is going to get out a number only just as good as the preceding one. If I were in his brogans I would worry about the future, but then Max is not that kind of a fellow.

Be that as it may, the August number is a knockout, to use the language of Dempseyiana.

Leading off is the front cover photograph of a New Bedford strike scene with cops, strikers, banners and strikers' children.

Next comes the inimitable Hay Bales with his "Looking at the Month"—a page of sketches that go to the heart of current happenings in the class struggle with a few strokes of his pen. Bales works at the barbering trade in Salt Lake City, supports a large family out of his slim earnings and sends in sketches to the "Labor Defender" and other radical publications in his spare time. Bales is a first rate satirical artist.

* * *

ELIZABETH GURLEY FLYNN, veteran in the class struggle, has an inspiring article on the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti. "We Stand at the Grave of Two Warriors" is the title.

"We are not ashamed," she writes, "to stand at the graves of these warriors with bowed heads, weeping at their loss. But we stand there determined to vindicate them by our redoubled efforts to topple over the system of exploitation, robbery misery and murder that sent these guiltless ones to a horrible death."

Pictures of Sacco and Vanzetti, of workers viewing the bodies as they lay in state and of the thousands marching in the funeral procession go with Flynn's article.

Arne Swabeck writes about the miners' strike, which has recently been broken by Lewis after one and a half years. He urges the workers to support the National Miners Relief Committee and I.L.D. drive for funds for the relief and defense of starving miners.

A picture of Mooney with his wife and mother in the courtroom reminds us that it is now twelve years since this militant labor leader was put behind the prison bars. An article accompanying the picture states that the International Labor Defense plans a world wide campaign to free Tom Mooney.

* * *

THERE are pictures of the Anti-Imperialist demonstration in Wall Street on July 3, when several Communists were arrested for demonstrating against Wall Street's war in Nicaragua. A short article on the raid on the Communist convention in Bridgeman six years ago.

Elmer Smith writes of the eight members of the I.W.W. who have spent eight years and a half in Walla Walla prison. This is the famous Centralia case. Smith has rendered heroic service in their behalf and the I.L.D. is pushing the work of securing their release.

Albert Weisbord writes of the New Bedford strike. Splendid pictures accompany the article.

Paul Crouch, once a military prisoner, writes about the case of John Porter, who is confined in the military prison of Ft. Adams, R. I. He deserted, became vice-president of the New Bedford Textile Workers' Union, was arrested and given a prison sentence.

Charles Yale Harrison contributes an excellent story of the class struggle, entitled "Red Flag."

The lynching of a Negro at Houston, Texas, on the eve of the democratic party's convention, a story of the activities of the I.L.D. for six months by acting-secretary Martin Abern—a splendid record by the way, "Voices from Prison," and other subjects are treated adequately and readably in the August number of the "Labor Defender."

The circulation of the "Labor Defender" is now 22,000, according to Walt Carmon, business manager. It deserves to be 100,000 and I have no doubt but that it will be before many years.

A worker could not put a dollar to better use than by subscribing to the "Labor Defender." The subscription price is $1 a year. It is published at 80 E. 11th St., New York City.

CROSS AND BATTLE-AXE

Steel Helmets Must Be Led By Christ

BERLIN, (By Mail).—In Opplen it was Steel Helmet day on July 2. A leader of the Steel Helmets, Seldte, delivered a bloodthirsty war speech, thundered against the constitution and the Communists, and prophesized a hard battle for the courageous Steel Helmets. The next speaker was an evangelist leader of the religion of the next life.

Sincerely, filled with the holy spirit of evangelist confession, he told the Steel Helmets that their most glorious example is Christ, that Christ is their leader, that the Steel Helmets must wear the cross.

The Steel Helmets listened attentively with their hands on their daggers. When the imaginative preacher pictured for them what a fine figure Christ would make carrying the battle-axe on a steel helmet, they burst into applause.

Will it never occur to a religious diplomat to protest this use of religion? The members of the working class know only too well the meaning implied by the figure of Christ bearing a battle-axe!

Workers School Opens Courses In Capital

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Workers' School in this city has opened two new classes. Elementary Marxian Economics is taught every Saturday at 8 o'clock at 817 13th St., N. W. The "A B C" of Communism" and other text books are used. Those who are not Communists are also invited to attend.

A class in Leninism meets every Tuesday at the same address. All workers are urged to attend either or both of the mentioned classes.

In them they will learn how better to carry on the class struggle against their exploiters, the capitalist class.

$147,738,211 IN U. S. TREASURY

WASHINGTON, July 27 (UP).—The treasury net balance for July 24 was $147,738,211.54. Customs receipts this month to July 26 were $34,234,252.62.

SANTAL MIDY
Night Bladder Weakness or Kidney Pains of the Aged Relieved promptly with genuine
Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless

Workmen's Furniture Fire Insurance Society
(Incorporated)
—Established 1872—
Main Office:
New York and Vicinity.

Office hours: From 9 A. M. until 6 P. M. Saturday until 1 P. M.; Monday until 9 P. M. at 227 East 84th Street. Tel. Regent 4391.

Sundays and Holidays Closed.

Brooklyn: Every Monday and Thursday from 6:30 P.M. until 8:30 P.M. at the Labor Lyceum, 949 Wiloughby Avenue.

Jersey City: Every Monday between 7 and 9 at Fraternity Hall, 256 Central Ave.

Union City: Every Thursday, between 7 and 9 at the Swiss Hall, West 23d St., near Oak St.

A co-operative undertaking, established 55 years. Under the supervision of the Insurance Department of the State of New York.

The most reliable and cheapest Fire Insurance.
40,000 Members.
$700,000 Assets.
$53,000,000 Insurance in Force.
No Profits or Dividends for Stockholders!

A deposit of $1.00 for every $100 is required which is refundable in case of withdrawal.

A yearly assessment of 10c for each $100 Insurance covers all expenses.

Murdered by Fascists

GASTONE SOZZI

Gastone Sozzi, Italian Communist leader, who was murdered last spring in prison, under the orders of the Mussolini regime. This crime, like the case of Matteoti in the year before, is one of many hundreds which the International Labor Defense in this country is bringing to the attention of the American workers.

ACTORS IN WAR ON JOB SHARKS

(By Federated Press)

Actors Equity Union's next campaign for protection of theatre workers will be the outlawing of unscrupulous employment agencies preying on actors. With the U. S. Supreme Court throwing a cloak of legality about these harpies through declaring unconstitutional a New Jersey job agency law, the union has decided to make a fight on them that will center all its energy.

Employment agents have demanded 10 per cent of an actor's wages for his entire engagement, despite provisions in the New York law limiting job sharks to 5 per cent of the first 10 weeks' pay. Claiming to be "personal representatives" and "managers" of actors, they have defied the state law. Actors in "Abie's Irish Rose," which ran for years in New York, were mulcted of thousands through the 10 per cent rake-off.

Producers Involved in Graft.

Often the agency splits the 10 per cent fee with the producer for whom the actor was obtained. In this case the producer indirectly cuts the actor's pay. In at least one instance the agency and the producer turned out to be one and the same person. Others demand a bonus in addition to the 10 per cent for the duration of the engagement. These agencies point to lost lists of actors seeking jobs and hint that the bonus will get the job-seeker preference.

Equity has outlined four provisions to protect members:

1. Agencies dealing with Equity members must be licensed by Equity.
2. They must have standard contracts.
3. Agents will be limited to 5 per cent for 10 weeks.
4. The title of personal representative shall be bona fide and not merely a cloak for an ordinary job agent.

WORKMEN'S SICK & DEATH BENEFIT FUND
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
ORGANIZED 1884
60,000 MEMBERS IN 344 BRANCHES IN THE U. S. A.
Assets on December 31, 1927, over....................$2,830,000
Paid for Sick and Death Benefits, over....................$13,440,000
Benefits in case of Sickness or Accident $6, $9, or $15 per week for first 40 weeks, one-half thereof for an additional 40 weeks, or altogether $360 to $900.
Sick Benefits for Women—$9 for first 40 weeks, $4.50 for another 40 weeks, or altogether $540.
Death Benefits—in proportion to the age at initiation (Class A and B), $885 at the age of 16 to $405 at the age of 44.
Parents can insure their children up to the age of 18 years against death.
WORKERS! Protect Yourselves and Your Families!
For further information write to the Main Office: 9 Seventh St., cor. Third Ave., New York City, or to the Branch Financial Secretary of your District.

Good Books for Workers

Workers Library Publishers

We carry a full line of literature for workers: Fiction, history olitics, social studies, books on Soviet Russia, etc.

We publish the Communist — monthly theoretical organ of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Write for a list of our latest publications and watch our daily announcements in The DAILY WORKER for new books and pamphlets.

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th St., New ork City

"Czar Ivan" Back at Cameo—'Potemkin' on Same Program

THE Film Arts Guild announces a return engagement at the Cameo Theatre of "Czar Ivan the Terrible" the famous Sovkino production starting today. "Potemkin" the epic film-record of the Russian revolution of 1905, made by the same Soviet institution, has been selected as the companion film on the same program.

"Czar Ivan the Terrible" is a collection of sharply etched characterizations against a background of rather tense and gripping drama. L. M. Leonidoff who is now the chief actor of the Moscow Art Players, created the role of Czar Ivan in this remarkable Soviet film.

"In undertaking the creation of the screen portrait of "Czar Ivan the Terrible," Leonidoff said in a recent interview, "I turned to books, objects close to Ivan the Terrible, and in them I hunted for the spirit that would unite me with the character and the epoch I was to create.

"Up to the present time I know of only two recreations of that epoch—"Tzar Dedor" of the Moscow Art Theatre and the innumerable drawings of Makovsky and the stagings of Bolshoi Theatre. I had to approach the character with disregard for the theatrical stamps that had long become obsolete. In this film "Ivan the Terrible" is not an old man, as he usually is pictured in plays and drawings—[illegible] is about forty years old. Contrast between unlimited power and utter loneliness is the most striking feature in the creation of this character. Together with this, Ivan the Terrible is a far-sighted proprietor, a merchant haggling for every penny when selling flax to foreign traders. And during the whole life of Ivan the Terrible brutalized despotic power borders with the anguish of dull—and unhealthy solitude. Having made clear to myself the character of Ivan the Terrible, I had to [illegible]ce it on the screen.

"As a dramatic artist playing for the screen only the fourth time I encountered the same obstacles that every dramatic artist has to overcome. Here the motto of Stanislavsky, 'Maximum of internal, minimum of external,' was of great help to me as no doubt it has been to the majority of the Moscow Art Theatre players. It is a motto which should be adopted by every movie actor."

Beginning today the 55th Street Playhouse will present Greta Garbo and Werner Kraus in "Streets of Sorrow," directed by G. W. Pabst. This film will play on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. From Tuesday through Friday, the Playhouse will show Ernst Lubitsch's "Forbidden Paradise" with Pola Negri, Adolphe Menjou and Rod La Roque.

"Beau Broadway," a new Metro picture, co-starring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle, comes to the Capitol Theatre today. The stody was written by Malcolm St. Clair who also directed it.

IN EUGENE O'NEILL DRAMA

Judith Anderson who plays the leading role in "Strange Interlude," Eugene O'Neill's tense drama at the John Gold Theatre.

Announcement that "Trader Horn" will be filmed on the original settings of the story, the jungles of Africa, has been made by Metro. An expedition will leave California in the near future, bound for West Africa, where the picturization of this book will be made. W. S. Van Dyke will direct.

Lionel Barrymore will have a featured role in Lon Chaney's new starring vehicle, "West of Zanzibar." This film will be directed by Tod Browning. Mary Nolan, the heroine of "Sorrell and Son" will have the chief feminine role.

HUGE EARNINGS FOR STEEL TRUST

(By United Press)

Bethlehem Steel Corporation in the second quarter of this year earned $1.50 a share on common stock, compared with 94 cents a share in the preceding quarter, the company reported recently. The regular dividend of $1.75 was declared on preferred stock, payable October 1 to stockholders of record September 1. No action was taken on common stock dividends.

Net income for the quarter ended June 30 amounted to $4,529,328 after interest, federal taxes, depreciation and depletion.

FOUR WORKERS INJURED

MALTA, July 27 (UP).—An English second officer, a Scottish cadet and four shore workers were injured yesterday by an explosion aboard the Scottish steamer Arrcan, enroute from Venice to Danzig with a cargo of Polish coal.

APPOINT COMMISSIONER

WASHINGTON, July 27 (UP).—Appointment of Harvey V. Rohrer of Seattle as assistant trade commissioner at Manila was announced yesterday by the department of commerce.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE 8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:30
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

ALBEE KEITH-
REFRIGERATED CAMEO
COOL AND COMFORTABLE
42nd St. and Broadway
NOW
FILM ARTS GUILD presents
"CZAR IVAN THE TERRIBLE"
with LEONIDOFF and Moscow Art Players
AND ON THE SAME PROGRAM— "POTEMKIN" THE RUSSIAN FILM CLASSIC

BOOKS

Spend An Enjoyable and Useful Vacation
Take Along a Book!
Soviet Russia in the Second Decade—Edited by Chase, Dunn and Tugwell....................Price: 2:50
The Diary of a Communist Schoolboy—By Ognyov
Price: 2.50
Leninism—By Stalin....................Price: 2.50
Organization of a World Party—By O. Piatnitsky
Price: 15 cents
The Communist Nucleus—By M. Jenks
Price: 15 cents
Fifteenth Congress of the CPSU..........Prce: 50 cents
WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 E. 125th St., New York City

HANdOuTS

[illegible] A. Rowe, president of the [illegible] Boy Scout council, apparently forgot whom he was working for when he issued an order that each Boy Scout should accost any woman he found smoking and request her to deposit her cigarette in the nearest cuspidor as a daily kind deed. Cigarette manufacturers, who have kept out of the newspapers the slightest hostile propaganda, and whose eyes have been glistening at the prospect of the immense market offered by women smokers, stood aghast. They sent instructions to James E. West, chief of the executive board of the Boy Scouts of America. He wrote a letter of rebuke to the Cleveland scout head, pointing out that his crusade showed a "misunderstanding as to the real aims and purposes of the Boy Scout movement." The real aim is to create obedience to big business, not insubordination.

• • •

Dumb Animals

The society page of any capitalist newspaper is the real comic section. Any worker could get a kick out of these funny faces if it weren't for the reflection that he has to support them in their tomfooleries. On the steamer Rochambeau, which was off the Newfoundland Banks, Miss Elsie Ekngren (above) was a little bored as she dared her friend, Morton Hoyt, to jump into the ocean. Hoyt, who makes his living as a Washington society man and who had been brought up to be polite to ladies, was a little embarrassed. He didn't know just what to do, so he jumped overboard to show his good breeding. The steamer turned back on her course and fished him out half drowned. "Thank you very much," said Miss Ekengren. Hoyt proposed marriage. "Mercy no! I think you're all wet now!" replied Miss Ekengren.

• • •

It's pretty tough to have to work for a boss like Cal Coolidge, who is so penurious he rides a wooden horse to save the price of hay. Ernest Gilpin, his cook, couldn't worm enough out of him to take care of his wife, who has just sued him for non-support. Cal was always hanging around the kitchen, anyway, and Mrs. Gilpin thought she ought to have a change of scenery.

• • •

Thrill for Rich

Getting killed is just part of the day's work for members of the laboring class. Capitalism, so stingy to workers in all other respects, is generous in the number of ways it provides for this purpose. A worker [illegible] breath rock dust in a subway, let a roof fall on him in a coal mine or fall off the 45th floor of a new building. Above is the method selected by Cunliffe, British auto racer, who is shown the moment before he was hurled to his death to provide a luxurious thrill for the [illegible] leisure classes. After a [illegible] auto race the rich parasite [illegible] to his empty palace, casually [illegible] up the History of Rome and [illegible] in horror before the degradation of the patricians who amused themselves by watching gladiators fight. Actually the Roman sword [illegible] patched up a working agreement before they entered the lists [illegible] themselves all bloodied up and [illegible] leave the field at the end of the day in the best of health.

[illegible]DED IN PRISON FIGHT.

[illegible]TON, Pa., July 27 (UP).—[illegible] range pistol battle was [illegible] in the Saratoga County jail [illegible] today between a prisoner [illegible] deputy sheriffs. Deputy [illegible] Fred Currier was critically

WORKERS IN N. J. PREPARING FOR BIG CONVENTION

Ratification Meet on August 5

Thruout the length and breadth of New Jersey, workers' organizations and labor unions are preparing for the coming ratification convention of the Workers' (Communist) Party, to be held at 93 Mercer St., Newark, on August 5, and are preparing for the Red Proletarian Banquet which will precede the convention by one day.

New Jersey workers are girding their loins to do battle against the democratic machine of Mayor Hague, the republican machine of Senator Edge and against the democratic Governor Moore, agent of the Public Service Commission. The army of injunctions issued against workers on strike, the violation of the free speech innumerable times, the use of police brutality against workers, and widespread unemployment have all contributed toward making the coming convention of the Workers' (Communist) Party an organized mass protest against the depredations of capitalism and its playmate, corruption; a mass protest which will resolve into a militant fighting body which under the banner of the Workers' (Communist) Party will fight the capitalist parties and spread the program of the Workers' Party among all workers.

The ratification convention, which will get under way at 10 o'clock in the morning on August 5, will present a scene of solidarity of labor such as has never before been witnessed in New Jersey. Delegates will come from every city, town and village, and will represent every industry in the state. Unorganized as well as organized workers will be there to ratify the program of the only workers' party in the country.

The Red Proletarian Banquet to be held at the same address, 93 Mercer St., at 8 o'clock on Saturday, August 4, besides being the scene of much eating of good food, will also be turned into a protest meeting against the War Danger, the date of the banquet coinciding with the 14th anniversary of the outbreak of the last World War. The charge of admission to the banquet will be one dollar, this covering cost of food and permission to voice one's protest against the war mongers.

All workers' clubs which will not meet in time to elect delegates to the convention and banquet are requested to be represented by members of its Executive Committee. For those delegates coming in from outlying districts for both the banquet and convention, overnight facilities will be provided free.

NANKING PACT SIGNED BY U. S.

Continued from Page One

Nanking government for some time. indicates that the United States was anxious for a separate treaty, it is generally believed.

The note gives Nanking the right to tax American goods entering China as it deems fit providing that it does not discriminate in favor of imports from other countries.

The treaty is to become effective on January 1, 1929, if both governments ratify it by that date.

• • •

SHANGHAI, July 27.—Although official circles of the Nanking regime expressed some dissatisfaction that the pact signed by MacMurray and Soong did not mention anything about extra-territoriality they look forward to the recognition of the Nanking government in the near future.

Reports from Tokio indicate that Premier Tanaka did not receive the note of the Nanking government which claimed that the old commercial treaty between Japan and China was abrogated, with much favor.

Although no note has yet been received from the Japanese government reports from Tokio indicate that they will be unwilling to enter into equal treaties with the Nanking government.

DR. ISAAC GROSSMAN
297 E. 10TH STREET
NEW YORK
Telephone: Alg 6860

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr. JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

He Couldn't Fool All Fight Fans All the Time.

Belief that Tom Heeney was a set-up for Gene Tunney to knock down kept thousands of fight fans away from the encounter in New York two nights ago. And the fans seem to have been right, except that Heeney was too game to stay down. Rickard, shown at right in the picture talking to a newspaper man, claims that his losses were $250,000. Well informed circles state that that figure is for consumption of federal tax authorities. Besides Rickard, the wealthiest promoter in the country, has cleaned up thousands enough to cover during the last few years.

ATHLETICS GAIN ON YANKS; GIANTS WIN

The Philadelphia Athletics won a free-hitting game from the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 4, yesterday. Each team used three pitchers. Philadelphia got 16 hits off Walsh, Connally and Cox and Chicago collected ten off Quinn, Rommel and Grove. The Yankees did not play.

• • •

Dazzy Vance turned in one of his peerless pitching performances for Brooklyn and the Dodgers defeated St. Louis, 5 to 2. Vance gave the Cardinals only six hits. Mitchell, Haid and Johnson were hit hard by Brooklyn. Fussell, Pittsburgh rookie, staged a pitching duel with Fred Fitzsimmons and came out second best. The Giants defeated the Pirates, 4 to 2. Fussell gave nine hits and Fitzsimmons eight. Four errors hurt Pittsburgh.

• • •

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

American League
Philadelphia, 7; Chicago, 4.
Washington, 7; St. Louis, 4.
Only games scheduled.

National League
New York, 4; Pittsburgh, 2.
Brooklyn, 5; St. Louis, 2.
Cincinnati, 3; Philadelphia, 1.
Chicago, 2; Boston, 1.

TILDEN BEATS LACOSTE IN GREAT TENNIS MATCH

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, PARIS, July 27.—The vast, colorful, throng that jammed the stadium today saw William T. Tilden, II, reinstated captain of the United States team, stage a marvelous comeback to tennis form and defeat Rene Lacoste of France in the first singles match in the challenge round for the Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's team championship.

The score was 1—6, 6—4, 6—4, 2—6, 6—3.

Henri Cochet of France, in the other match of the day, defeated John Hennessey of the American team, 5—7, 9—7, 6—3, 6—0, and the teams ended the day at one match—all. Three victories for either team will decide who shall hold the cup time. Received the stamps and writing material from you and from someone from the Y. W. L. whose address I didn't get because they kept the letters and clippings sent to me and they only let me glance at it and I haven't as yet received it.

PORTER REMAINS MILITANT REBEL

(Continued from Page One)

"Although my sentence is heavy, my heart is light and my spirit high because I know that I have been given the maximum sentence because I have remained true to the working class. Regardless of what sentence they may yet impose on me, I will remain loyal to the working class and fight for the working class as long as there is an ounce of blood in me. Only life imprisonment could separate me.

"Received a letter from Hemming, New Mexico, from a comrade. Nothing more at present but hope to hear from you shortly, I remain

"Comradely yours,
"JOHN PORTER."

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH
RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
19[illegible] SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

MEXICAN POWER HANGING FIRE

Continued from Page One

own candidacy for the presidency. Yesterday, however, he definitely made public his support of the president.

In some quarters this is taken to mean that Calles has agreed to support Saenz for the presidency two years hence after the special term Calles is to serve will have ended.

Concessions to Reaction?

Whether or not Calles and his immediate supporters have made any basic concessions or agreements to the reactionary leaders is not yet known.

The policy of the militant labor and peasant forces and the Mexican Communist Party has been to give qualified support to the Calles government as against the extreme reaction which is threatening the country. In manifestos issued by the Mexican Communist Party and the National Peasants the workers and peasants were called upon to organize for the fight against reaction and against imperialism.

RUSSIAN
Taught by professional teacher; university graduate; instructor in Russian at Berlitz School of Languages.
MICHAEL M. JERLITZYN
2018 Fifth Ave., N. Y. C.
Harlem 5560

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony. Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 147 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

Workers Party Activities

Units, branches, nuclei, etc. of the Workers (Communist) Party and the Young Workers (Communist) League in New York City are asked to send notices of their activities to this column. There is no charge. All notices must arrive one day in advance to ensure publication.

• • •

Subsection 3C Meeting.

All units of subsection 3C will meet Monday at 6:30 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. The election of campaign directors and other important matters will take place. All members must attend.

Branch 4, Section 5.

Branch 4, Section 5 will hold a meeting to observe the 14th anniversary of the World War, Monday, July 30. Comrade Berney will lead the discussion on "Communist Tactics in the Next War."

Jugoslav Fraction.

Jugoslav Fraction will hold its first outing on Sunday at Edenwald. Games and refreshments will feature. Direction:—Take Lexington Ave. subway to East 180th St., then change for Boston & Westchester R. R. local to Dyre Avenue.

• • •

Branch 6.

Branch 6 announces the opening of Campaign Headquarters in the 6th Assembly District, Bronx at 2700 Bronx Park East, Home of the United Workers Cooperative Association. An appeal is made to all Workers Party members and sympathizers to report nightly to the above headquarters for campaign work. The immediate job on hand is the task of getting signatures on the petition to place the Workers Party on the ballot. Comrade Leo Zaencer in charge of the campaign of that district will be at the headquarters nightly to issue instructions.

• • •

Section 7, Speakers Class.

Section 7 Speakers Class will meet Tuesday at the campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn. All members of the class are asked to report promptly at 8 p. m.

• • •

Brownsville Y. W. L. Meet.

The Brownsville unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League has arranged two open air meetings which will be held on the following dates and places with the following speakers:

Monday, at Hopkinson and Pitkin Aves.—Frum, Palchik, Gudesman, M. Mellman and Lipshitz.

Tuesday at Hopkinson and Utica Aves.—Kass, Mellman and Williams.

The following open air meetings for next week have been arranged by District 2 of the Workers (Communist) Party:

Monday, July 30

Rudgers Square—Wright, Milgrom, Baum, Schalk, and I Cohen.

First Ave., and 49th St., N. Y.—Schachtman, LeRoy, Gussakoff, Reiss, and Blake.

Tuesday, July 31.

Grand St. Ext., and Havemyer, B'klyn—Bimba, Rosemond and G. Welsh.

Sutter and Williams, B'klyn—Nessin, Lipsin, Ed. Welsh, and Joe Cohen.

Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Myrtle and Prince, B'klyn—Padmore, Suskin and Napoli.

Eagle Pencil Co. (noon)—P. Crouch.

25 Dayton Ave., Passaic—Marshal, Freiman and Erdy.

Thursday, Aug. 2.

Hendrix and Sutter Ave., B'klyn—Fadgug, Silber and Pasternack.

Steinway and Jamaica, L. I.—Powers, Baum, Harfield and Heder.

138th St., and Annes Ave., Bronx—Jacobson, Wortis, Shapiro, Welch and Moore.

40th St. and 8th Ave., N. Y.—Yusem and V. Smith.

Allerton and Cruger, Ave Bronx—Bentall, Leibowitz, Peer, Wilkes and Cibulsky.

24th St. and Mermaid Ave., C. I.—Hulswood, Hendin and Ballam.

Loose Wells Biscuit Co., L. I.—B. Miller. (noon)

Friday, August 3.

National Biscuit Co (noon)—Grecht, and Ross.

Bristol and Pitkins, B'klyn—Ragozin and Lypzin.

Varet and Graham, B'klyn—Magliacno, H. Williams, Lillienstein, Taft and Severino.

5th Ave. and 110th St., N. Y.—Trachtenberg, Lyons, Codkind, Reiss and LeRoy.

Market and Plaza, Newark, N. J.—Markoff and Stanley.

Saturday, August 4.

First Ave., and 79th St.—Bentall, Auerbach, Blake and Lillienstein.

13th Ave. and 42nd St., B'klyn—Padgug, Suskin, Lustig and Magliacno.

West N. Y., N. J., 14th St. and Bergenline—Wright and Schalk.

• • •

Bronx Y. W. L. Hike.

The McKinley Square unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League will hike to Hunter Island tomorrow. Those wishing to attending should meet at West Farms depot (177th St.) at 10 a. m. A big program including sports, swimming, canoeing and a bonfire, have been arranged by the committee in charge of the hike.

• • •

"Fight War Danger."

"Fight the War Danger" leaflets and accompanying election campaign contribution envelopes are now ready in the district office. Every campaign director must call for these at once for distribution at open-air meetings. They must be used at every meeting up to August 4th.

• • •

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

• • •

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

• • •

Note For Literature Agents.

The National Party platform is out. All section literature agents are urged to procure bundles of them at the Workers Book Shop, 26-28 Union Square. Additional copies of the "Communist" for July are also available.

• • •

Subsection 3E.

Subsection 3E will hold a membership meeting on Tuesday, 6:15 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All members must come on time, because action will be taken against members who fail to answer at the roll call.

Worker Jailed, Beaten in Greek White Terror

ATHENS, (By Mail).—The worker, Papadopoulos, secretary of the Workers Bureau in Saloniki, was arrested because he carried out the mandate given him by the general mass meeting of the labor unions and declared that the mass meeting scheduled for July 2, must take place under all circumstances, legal or not.

On his arrival in prison Papadopoulos was fearfully mishandled.

EXPERT
Stenographer Wanted
FOR IMPORTANT PARTY WORK
AT ONCE.
Must be Party or League member.
CALL HARLEM 1278

Airy, Large
Meeting Rooms and Hall
TO HIRE
Suitable for Meetings, Lectures and Dances in the Czechoslovak
Workers House, Inc.
347 E. 72nd St. New York
Telephone: Rhinelander 5097

Get Your Money's Worth!
Try the
Park Clothing Store
For Men, Young Men and Boys Clothing
93 Avenue A, Corner 6th St.
NEW YORK CITY

Workers Cooperative
Clothiers, Inc.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2223

WORKMEN'S SICK AND DEATH BENEFIT FUND
UNITED BRANCHES of BROOKLYN aud QUEENS
GRAND VOLKSFEST
at Gerken's Cypress Hills Park, Cypress Ave., Evergreen, L. I.
Concert Music—Dancing and other Attractions—Games for Children
"Punch and Judy"
SUNDAY, JULY 29th, 1928
Gates Open at 10 A. M. Free Ice Cream for Children
AFTER 6 P. M., 50c
Take Cypress Avenue Car at Ridgewood to End of Line

Tomorrow--Sunday, July 29
Great Boat Excursion to Stony Point On-the-Hudson
For the Hungarian Communist Daily
UJ ELORE
Arranged by Greater New York's Workers and Fraternal Organizations
Dancing and Refreshments
On the Boat
SWIMMING POOL FREE AT STONY POINT—GAMES, ETC.
Tickets: $1.25 in advance. For sale at Uj Elore, Hungarian Daily, 26-28 Union Square. $1.50 at the pier.
Boat leaves East 91st St. pier 10 A. M. sharp.
Good Time Assured for All

STRIKERS TO DEFY LATE 'NO PERMIT' ASHLEY DECISION

Citizens' Body Petitions Signed for March

Continued from Page One

cuse to refuse the permit. They declared that the parade will be held regardless of official sanction.

Mobilize Police.

The city authorities are preparing to mobilize the greatest array of police strength yet set up in the strike situation to break up the parade tomorrow. Police forces in all neighboring towns are being liberally tapped to provide a police strength large enough to attack the tens of thousands expected to turn out.

Thousands of citizens here are signing the petition circulated by the Citizens Relief Defense and Civil Rights Committee, recently organized and under the chairmanship of Alfred Saulnier. As soon as the mayor's refusal of permit was learned of the petitions were issued for signatures. This was at 6 o'clock last night. The immediate response was tremendous. The petition demands that the mayor permit the textile strikers to exercise their constitutional right to parade.

• • •

Bar Workers' Spokesmen.

Admission was again denied the representatives of the Textile Mill Committee when they went to the "conciliation conference" held today between the Textile Council and mill bosses under State Arbitration Board auspices. The union declared, as it did after being refused admittance to the previous conferences, that no strikers will heed any decisions this fake conference, that no fake conference may arrive at.

• • •

The Textile Workers' Union of the T. M. C. has announced that its policy of mass picketing of struck mills will not be abandoned in spite of the recent mass arrests and jailings.

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Labor and fraternal organizations in New York City and vicinity are asked to send notices of their activities to this column. There is no charge. All notices must arrive one day in advance to ensure publication.

• • •

Workingclass Housewives.

Council No. 5 of Coney Island, will hold a beach party, on Tuesday afternoon, July 31st, on the 28th St., beach, near the Half Moon Hotel. The party will start at 1 p. m. Ray Ragozin will speak and Peretz Shickman will entertain. Councils of Brighton Beach and Bath Beach, also all working class women of the neighborhood are invited to participate.

• • •

Scandinavians To Hold Sports Meet.

Scandinavian Workers' Athletic Club will hold a festival in Ulmer Park, Broklyn tomorrow. Among the features will be two soccer games, one between the Swedish S. C. and the Norwegian team Klippen; another between Scandinavian Workers A. C. and Hungarian Workers A. C.

• • •

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women's organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

• • •

I. L. D. Open Air Meet.

The Sacco-Vanzetti branch of the International Labor Defense will hold an open air meeting at Wilkins and Intervale Aves., the Bronx, today at 8:30 p. m. The speakers, I. Zimmerman and S. LeRoy will discuss "Capitalist Justice in the United States," emphasizing the Mooney-

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 164
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3468 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

Spend Your Vacation
AT
UNITY CAMP
WE HAVE BUNGALOW ACCOMODATIONS
Your Proletarian Summer Home
All Improvements and Conveniences
Directions: From 110th St. and 7th Ave. direct to the Camp by bus. From Grand Central or 125th St. to Wingdale and from there take our machine to the Camp. For registration inquire
1800 SEVENTH AVENUE
Corner 110th Street.
Telephone: Monument 6111.
Camp Tel.: Wingdale 10-F-12
BUSSES LEAVE
1800 Seventh Ave., Corner of 110th St.
Friday .... 6:30 P. M.
Saturday .... 1:30 P. M.
Sunday .... 8:30 A. M.

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor ....ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor ....WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭	✕	WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

The Platform of Class Struggle

The keynote of the "Platform of the Class Struggle," the National Platform of the Workers (Communist) Party in the 1928 elections, issued yesterday by the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party, is one of relentless, uncompromising struggle against capitalist society.

The platform was adopted at the Nominating Convention of the Party held recently in New York. This is the platform on which William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for president, and Benjamin Gitlow, Communist candidate for vice president, will stand before the workers and exploited farmers of the United States in the election campaign, against the democratic and republican candidates as well as the reformist socialists, who have betrayed the workers by renouncing the class struggle and allying themselves with the reactionary bureaucracy in the American trade union movement.

Analyzing the parties of big and small business, the platform says in part:

> "With the exception of the Workers (Communist) Party all political parties and groups are defenders of the present capitalist society. The two capitalist parties, the republican and democratic, are twin brothers in the expression of the interests of the bosses.
>
> "The republican party, which in the interests of the then revolutionary capitalism conducted a war against chattel slavery, is today working in the interests of the now counter-revolutionary capitalism for the perpetuation of wage slavery. The republican party of today is nothing but the party of trusts, of finance capital, of the biggest business interests of the country.
>
> "The democratic party was in the early stages of its history the party of slavery, against northern capitalism and in the interests of the southern plantation owners. Today, though many times masked with phrases of liberalism, it stands for the perpetuation of the peonage of Negroes in the south and for the maintenance of wage slavery throughout the country.
>
> "There are no real political differences between the two big political parties. Both are parties of the enemies of the working class. The very existence of the two-party system is the most reactionary factor in American politics, is one of the factors which are responsible for the lack of an independent mass political party of the working class."

The platform brands the attitude of the so-called progressives as cowardly. It states that they have gone back meekly into the old capitalist parties. After calling attention to the support of the Smith candidacy by Wheeler, to the action of Borah in mouthing against imperialism and then supporting the Coolidge policy in Nicaragua, to Senator Shipstead posing as a farmer-laborite though actually a republican, the Communist platform states: "All these progressives and semi-progressives serve as a prop of the present capitalist society and must be combatted by all honest workers."

The platform brands the official leaders of the American Federation of Labor as "partners of the bosses" and charges them with sabotaging the work of organizing the unorganized. "They have come out openly," it states, "for a policy of common exploitation of all Latin American peoples by the capitalists and workers of the United States."

The Communist view of the socialist party expressed in the national platform summed up is as follows:

The socialist party, which still claims to be a working class party, is a party of the lower middle class, with its leadership a part of the bureaucracy of the A. F. of L. The militant spirit of Eugene V. Debs has been wiped out. In the city of Reading, Pennsylvania, the city officials of the socialist party have pledged themselves to act like capitalist officials rather than socialists.

Norman Thomas, the presidential candidate of the socialist party, is declared to be "the worst kind of a pacifist, a typical preacher, who performs the greatest service for American imperialism by creating illusions about the League of Nations, about the possibility of preventing wars by peaceful means."

The National Platform further declares that the socialist party is an advocate of the League of Nations, supports Kellogg's hypocritical gestures towards the outlawing of war, and is critical of the war against Nicaragua not because it is an imperialist war but because it is "unauthorized and unsanctioned by the people or congress."

The socialist labor party is dismissed with three lines and a half as a "fossilized" sect which plays no role in the life of the country.

The platform concludes its analysis of the political parties with the following statement on the Workers (Communist) Party:

> "The Workers (Communist) Party is today the only genuine working class party. It is the sole party which has a program for the workers and working farmers. It is the only party which conducts a relentless struggle against capitalism, against the old parties of the bosses, and against the corrupt labor bureaucracy and the treacherous socialist party.
>
> "The Workers (Communist) Party is the party of the class struggle. It is the deadly enemy of class collaboration because it is the deadly enemy of capitalism. It is the revolutionary party of the working class. The Workers (Communist) Party is the champion of the interests of the working class and the working farmers. It is the advocate of the most exploited stratum of the working class, the unskilled workers. It is the champion of the oppressed Negro race. It is the organizer of the struggle against imperialism, against imperialist wars."

The platform deals extensively with unemployment, the open shop wage-cutting offensive of the bosses, the miners' strike, colonies and imperialist war, the defense of the Soviet Union, the government in its role as a strike-breaking agency, a labor party, social legislation, tariff and taxation, the plight of the farmers, the oppression of the Negroes, the foreign-born workers, working women, youth, child labor and education, housing, prohibition, and ends by urging the workers and exploited farmers to organize for the goal of a Workers' and Farmers' Government.

Every worker loyal to his class should consider it a matter of class pride to make himself a distributor of this booklet, issued by the National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th St., New York. Since the committee has accomplished the remarkable feat of pulling the price down to ten cents, it ought to be possible to give it enormous distribution, and our class will gain by every copy that is read by a worker.

Adventures of an African Trader

Reviewed By ART SHIELDS
(Federated Press).

BOOTLEGGING tales are topical in a political season when the smugglor of illicit wares is a subject for campaign chatter. This vivid narrative of violence, bribery and humor lives up to the best bootlegging tale traditions, though the business was not in rum but in slaves.

Adventures of An African Slaver is the life story of Captain Theodore Canot, bootlegger extraordinary, as told by himself in 1854, with the aid of a Baltimore journalist, and now reissued. Canot flourished in the second quarter of the nineteenth century, running Negro captives from the Guinea coast to the western hemisphere at a time when the traffic was outlawed by America, Britain, Spain and all other northern countries but Portugal. Captured slavers risked the fate of pirates if they could not escape or bribe their way out.

* * *

The bandit-business man of this historical tale was the child of an Italian mother and French father and yet as one of the chief importers of black workers to America, he deserves a place in the labor records of this continent.

Big fortunes were reaped in this bootlegging traffic, though it was more risky than the bootlegging of today. Perdo Blanco, a Portuguese, retired with one million dollars, some say one million pounds, a sum that a Remus would not disdain. The famous Brazilian mulatto, Cha Cha, accumulated hundreds of wives in his Dahomey harems from his profits in the trade. Negroes costing $20 to $50 on the Guinea coast fetched $350 in Cuba and $1,100 laid down in New Orleans, an astonishing differential between prices f. o. b. and delivered. Canot shared in the big winnings but the risks ate up his profits. Lavishly successful at times, with barracoons bursting with slaves, and coffers filled with gold at his African headquarters, his luck would change as cruisers captured his cargo or himself, as graft ate up his cash reserve or pestilence killed his slaves, till in 1853 he was down and out, "cadging for drinks" on the wharves of Baltimore.

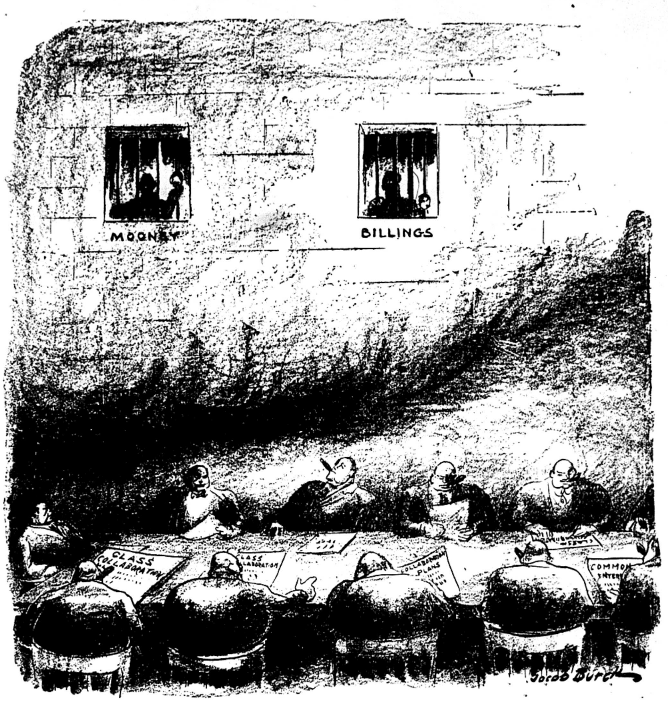
* * *

NO passengers were ever packed so tightly as the black immigrants to the west. In Canot's first slave voyage he packed 118 boys and girls under 15 in the hold of a 40-ton boat, in a space 22 inches high, each passenger lying on his right side and fitting into the lap of the one behind. On this trip three died, but the rest netted big profits. A bigger cargo on a 90-ton boat later netted $41,000. Crowding brought disease that wiped out profits sometimes. Once he lost 300 out of 800 by smallpox. Cleanliness was impossible. A British officer, quoted in the introduction, says he could smell a slaver "five miles down the wind."

Navy cruisers then corresponded to the rum chasers of today. Like the rum runners, the slavers fought back, fled or destroyed the evidence by dumping the cargo when a cruiser approached. Canot does not confess to such atrocities, but the introduction gives a grewsome story about Captain Homas of the slaver Brillante. Seeing four cruisers surrounding him, the captain brought 600 slaves to the deck, shackled them to a chain connecting with the anchor and dropped the anchor over the side with the victims trailing after, their groans going up into the night as their bodies went down.

TWO KINDS OF LABOR LEADERS

By Jacob Burck



Our Party's Election Campaign

(Continued.)

By JAY LOVESTONE.

OUR Party was born as a result of the breakup of the old socialist party in 1919. Through this split it inherited a wholesome opposition to parliamentary cretinism, to the miserable opportunism of the old socialist party parliamentary politicians.

But in this wholesome reaction, there was also carried over a dangerous syndicalist opposition to participation in parliamentary activities per se.

Thus in the 1920 presidential elections, our party's national slogan was "boycott the elections." In 1924 we had great difficulty in mobilizing our party for active participation in the election campaign. We have not yet completely shaken these syndicalist prejudices. An essential part of the present election campaign of our party has been to elevate the ideological level of the membership so as to give them an increasing understanding of Leninist, revolutionary, Communist participation in the election campaigns.

Districts On Industrial Lines.

Our party districts are organized along the line of industrial sections. We have one district, for instance, covering the Pittsburgh coal and steel territory known as the Western Pennsylvania district. We have another district consisting of the metropolitan area of New York City and neighboring New Jersey industrial cities in which are found such industries as textile, oil refining and metal products. We have other districts like the Kansas districts which include a number of states equivalent to an area of five or six of the European countries. States like New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania are included in several districts while districts like the agricultural, the Seattle, the Kansas, the Minneapolis and the south, consist of several states.

But for the election campaign, the individual state is the unit. It is therefore necessary for our party to adjust its organization and set up special election machinery.

Difficulties of "Democracy."

BESIDES, there are innumerable difficulties set up by the much-vaunted American bourgeois democracy to make it almost impossible for a revolutionary proletarian party like our own to participate effectively in parliamentary elections. Each of the forty-eight states has its own set of election laws limiting the ways and means of parties getting on the ballot.

The slightest technical error can be used to deny the Communist Party the right to be on the ballot. In 1924 the Communist Party was on the ballot in only fifteen states.

The aim of these election laws is to prevent the organization of new parties and perpetuate the so-called two-party system—republican and democratic. Comrade Lenin has thus characterized the two-party system:

Setting Up the Election Machinery; Preparing for the Campaign

"This so-called 'two-party system' reigning in America . . . has been one of the most powerful methods of preventing the foundation of an independent labor, that is, a genuine Socialist Party."

Industrial States Hardest.

In a number of industrial states where the party has the best prospects, these legal restrictions are the worst.

For example, in Ohio, our Party must secure a petition for placing it on the ballot signed by about 25,000 citizens, before it can put up its candidates.

In New York, an even larger number of signatures is required.

In California, a minimum of 30,000 signatures must be secured in order to place the party on the ballot.

These endorsements of the party's being on the ballot by citizens are not valid unless they are from all sections of a particular state. A minimum number of signatures is required from each county of the state. It oftens occurs that in a number of rural counties our party organization is either very weak or non-existent. If one ineligible person signs such a petition, then the whole list is challenged and our party is denied the right to appear on the ballot.

Then in such states like Oklahoma and other Southern states, the Secretary of State who is in charge of such work often simply refuses to recognize the Communist Party's right to appear on the ballot and doesn't even consider petitions when presented.

Mobilizing the Party.

MOBILIZATION of the membership for participation in the election campaign began rather early this year. This was occasioned by the following facts:

First of all, we have a splendid opportunity, due to the economic depression and the rising readiness of the masses for struggle against the capitalist offensive to utilize the election campaign for Communist propaganda and mobilization of the working masses for struggle. Then, there is the need to overcome the lingering indifference and even hostility in our ranks towards Party participation in parliamentary campaigns. Third is the great number of barriers put up by American Democracy against Communist participation in election campaigns.

The presidential election takes place on November 6th. Simultaneously, there are elections for the United States Senate and highest state offices in a number of states.

In the February Plenum of the Central Committee of our party it was made clear to the party that the prospects for a National Labor Party or even a United Labor Ticket in 1928 were exceedingly slight. Great emphasis was placed on the need for mobilizing the party resources to get on the ballot. Various political letters were sent to the units to counteract the indifference and hostility still pervading the attitude of certain sections of our party towards Communist participation in election campaigns, as well as to warn against opportunist errors.

As early as February 29, the Political Committee instructed all districts to prepare for putting petitions into the field for Foster and Gitlow. Immediately, special machinery was set up to help the districts overcome the technical obstacles for the Party's getting on the ballot. On March 19, all districts were instructed to put full Workers Party tickets into the field. A National Election Campaign Committee was elected and similar committees were elected on a district scale.

On March 28, the political committee appointed additional field organizers for the election campaign and announced its decision to propose Comrades Foster and Gitlow who were our standard bearers in 1924.

Special organizers were sent into the South and Southwest.

Our mobilization for the election campaign began with the preparations of the party itself, then the mobilization of sympathetic masses and their organizations.

These preparations were ideological and organizational. The party units were given material preparing them for the issues and various phases of the election campaign.

(To Be Continued)

Told You So

THERE are over a quarter of a million jobless in Great Britain at the moment, though reports say that the number of employed is greater than at any time in the history of the country. The reason for this is that owing to the ruin of a large section of the middle classes by the heavy burdens of debt and the loss of trade that followed the war they were forced into the labor market to compete with the already existing industrial population. This standing army of unemployed has its advantages to British capitalism as well as its disadvantages. It is a constant menace to the standard of living of the workers, which is steadily going down.

* * *

THERE is nothing unusual in the following story: A detective who was hired to protect a guest of the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City was arrested on a charge of having stolen a diamond ring valued at $2,300, a diamond pin valued at $700 and $30 in cash from his charge. If the guest had robbed the detective that would be news.

* * *

SENATOR GEORGE H. MOSES of New Hampshire is of the opinion that the G. O. P. is up against the hardest struggle of its career. An Al if not an Allah has come to judgment. Whether Al or Herbert wins it does not make a whit of difference to the working class, but the senator from New Hampshire fears mightily that it will take more than one Moses to keep the Tammany Tiger out of the Promised Land.

* * *

THINGS are getting so hot in criminal circles in New York City that the entire membership of the Rotary Club of the metropolis has offered itself for jury service. Should they be accepted the job of a court reporter armed with a copy of the American Mercury might not be something to sneeze at.

Tom O'Flaherty

DEDUTSCHKA

By SOL AUERBACH.

A whirl of dust, chickens skid across the road, and the Soviet four-wheel "droshka" rolls undecidedly and stops before the Soviet House at Olschan. A burly peasant sits erect at the driver's seat and holds the two heavily shanked horses at bay. We bid goodby to our village friends and mount. There is a sense of importance in the driver's squared shoulders as he snaps the whip and the horses fly off at a gallop.

Across wide stretches of steppes skinned of their harvest and exposing the black raw meat of the Ukraine. The peasant driver picks his way unerringly over mazes of unplowed earth that serve for roads. A church spire over the brim of a hill promises a village. From the hill top we see the huts, painted white or green, clustered about the golden-domed church, which has lost its luster for lack of polish. The peasant signals S-S-S-S and the horses back on their haunches to flatten the slope. Past a pond, hitting up a cloud of dust thru the one street of the village. Again the peasant talks Br-r-r—and we come to a sudden halt before the Soviet House.

We spend most of the day talking to the peasants, while they are turning their plentiful wheat into grain thru the jaws of their new harvesting machine hitched to a Fordson tractor. They take great pains to explain to us the intricate working of their new machine which they own in common. When the novelty of our visit has worn off and the peasants are again seriously turning out their next year's food supply we return to the Soviet. Our peasant driver is on the seat of his droshka where we have left him. His shoulders are drooped and his back is a bowed accusation. He mutters one word.

"Chleb" (Bread).

We had forgotten to give him food! We ourselves had eaten at the village cooperative and we stop there now on our way out to repair our serious omission. Our driver returns and bounds on to his seat with two large white rolls under his arm and a whiff of "vodka" in his breath. We go off at a gallop.

"Dedutschka, what did you do before the revolution?"

Dedutschka turns catty-cornered to us and allows the horses to find their own way. He shrugs his shoulders and points to the land about us.

"I worked for the landowner here. All this land was his. He had six hundred dessiatyns. I took care of his horses and drove his family about. The landowner lived in a beautiful house. It had large rooms and wooden floors and many large windows. In one room there was gold on the walls and ceiling and large pictures of the czar and czarina. And the floor was as smooth as the pond when it is frozen. And the revolution came and took it away. And I became driver for the Soviet. And now the peasants walk over that beautiful floor with their dirty boots.

"But, Dedutschka, now even you can go into that room."

"Ah, but those were the good old bourgeois times! Near the house there was a large white tombstone. And what did the revolution do? It tore it up—that's what the revolution did. The revolution is at an end. That beautiful large white tombstone!"

A drop of vodka has loosened his tongue and we add fire to it. This old peasant speaks of "bourgeois times" and the "proletarians," and of the revolution and of the counter-revolution. The revolution has seeped thru to the very soil of the Soviet Union and old Dedutschka has had his fill. Thru the hazy mind of this peasant, memories and words filter—words created by the revolution of the masses.

He tells us of the time when Budiken was in the country and how his landowner had promised him, now that he thought that he could regain his power, that he would hang every peasant on the estate. But, Dedutschka added with a sense of mystery and premonition, the landowner himself was killed.

Dedutschka's tongue goes on finding its own words. In his village there lives an officer of the old czarist police. He has two dessiatyns of land and he is left alone to work it the best he can. One day this officer came to the village Soviet and said:

"Wait until my time comes. I will hang you all."

The blood of Dedutschka still boils at the memory of those words. He himself was present when the officer spoke.

"Why should he be allowed to say such a thing? The president of the Soviet allowed him to say that he would hang me. Do you call this taking care of the peasantry? Is this the "link"? I would kill him on the spot!"

Dedutschka is full of complaints against the Soviet. He thinks that we come from the city and he wants us to inform the people there of what is going on in his village. For example, his son is living in a house that is falling all about his ears. When it rains there are puddles on the floor. The windows are broken and the door cannot be locked. The Soviet promised that it would repair the house but all it does is say, "Wait until we get the money."

"Well, Dedutschka, do you want the landowners to come back and fix it for you?" we ask.

"No, no, no, no. Let the Soviet do it. Let it find the money."

As night begins to fall and the steppes breathe a soft greyness Dedutschka tells us of the myths of his country-side. In the olden times, so long ago that no one can remember, a group of bandits harassed his village. The peasants say that their treasures, innumerable golden roubles and silk curtains and shirts and boots, were buried somewhere near the Black Sea under three oak trees. After the revolution some peasants from his village went on a pilgrimage to the Black Sea and hunted for the treasure. Under three large oak trees they dug up some old axes. They were sent to the museum in the city. There they said that they were thousands of years old.

Prisoners Transferred to Avoid Questions

SOFIA, July 27.—The seven political prisoners in the central prison of Sofia who have been on hunger strike because their sentence was increased by ten days, have been punished by additional sentence of one month. Besides they have been transferred to the military prison of Widin.

Other political prisoners were transfered from Schumen and Varna to Sliwen. The reason for the transfer is to separate them from their friends and relatives, so that they can be mistreated without anyone knowing of it. After that they can be announced as shot "while attempting to escape."

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

FINAL CITY EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 179.

Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, JULY 30, 2928

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year.

Price 3 Cents

TWENTY INJURED AS TRAINS CRASH ON WEST SIDE "L"

Wooden Cars Blamed for Accident

At least 20 and possibly 25 persons were injured, some of them seriously, late last night when two "L" trains collided on the Eighth Ave. Line at 69th St. and Columbus Ave.

The trains, wooden and antiquated, burst into flames and caused an immediate panic among hundreds of passengers who were returning to their homes.

Half a dozen ambulances were at once rushed to the scene of the accident.

The operation of wooden trains has been the subject of continued agitation in the city, with the result that the transit commission has been forced nominally to ban their use. Thus far, however, the traction lines have continued to violate the order with complete immunity.

A number of accidents have previously occured, the most recent one in Brooklyn.

PORTERS READY FOR STRIKE MOVE

Officials Still Hold Men Back

Announcement that the Brotherhood of Pullman Porters would join the American Federation of Labor "to get more power" was made last night by A. Philip Randolph, organizer of the Negro Porters' Union in a statement in which he likewise declared that the porters would be ready to strike to secure their demands against the Pullman Company.

The speech, made at the St. James Presbyterian Church, St. Nicholas Ave. and 141st St., before a large Negro audience by the labor officials who recently called off the strike of the porters in the face of a country-wide demand of the workers for action, was similar in tone to those previously made, in which he has declared the organization would rely on "moderation and education" rather than on the strength of the workers themselves to win their demands.

BELA KUN ON WAY TO SOVIET UNION

STETTIN, Germany, July 29—Bela Kun, former head of Communist Hungary, who was recently freed in Vienna where he faced death at the hands of the Seipel regime, was reported to have arrived here today on his way to Leningrad.

Immediately upon his arrival, Kun, whose freedom was effected by the huge world wide protest against the present reactionary state in Hungary, went on board the U. S. S. R. steamer Herzen to continue his journey to the Soviet Union.

THIRTY KILLED IN POLE BLAST

LODZ, POLAND, July 29.—(U. P.) Thirty persons were believed dead and probably 300 were injured in an explosion which wrecked several large benzine tanks, started a great fire, and threw the town into a panic today. The exact number of casualties could not be determined late tonight because of the resulting confusion.

One hundred homes were damaged by the explosion, which was heard for many miles around and shook a wide area.

BREWERY WORKERS WIN.

EDMONTON, Alta., July 29.—Increases of 2 to 15c an hour mark the new 2-year contract negotiated by the brewery workers unions of Alberta with the employers. The new scales run from 57¼ cents an hour for laborers to 81½ cents an hour for first brewhouse men. The contract covers Edmonton and Calgary and brings the scale to the level obtaining in Lethbridge since 1923. It expires March 31, 1930.

Hero of Great Rescue

Chukhnovsky, the heroic Soviet aviator, who first sighted Zappi and Mariano, two of the survivors of the fascist Nobile expedition, who were later rescued by the Soviet ice-breaker Krassin. Tho his plane crashed and he was marooned on Foyn Island, Chukhnovsky radioed to the Krassin to continue its rescue work and he would take care of himself.

CHUKNOVSKY TO GO ON KRASSIN

Foreign Aviators Are Rejected

MOSCOW, July 29 (UP).—The Russian relief committee announced today that the icebreaker Krassin will be able to carry only one airplane during the search for the missing members of the crew of the ill-fated Italia, due to technical difficulties in loading another plane.

It was stated that offers from foreign aviators to accompany the expedition have been rejected and the Russian aviator, Chukhnovsky, will be the only flyer on board the vessel.

Meanwhile, the icebreaker Sedoff has been ordered to reconnoiter along the entire northwestern section of Franz Josef Land. It is expected that the icebreaker will be in the vicinity of Franz Josef Land shortly.

* * *

MOSCOW, July 29 (UP).—Soviet circles, proud of the achievements of the Russian ice-breaker Krassin in rescuing survivors of the wrecked dirigible Italia in the Arctic, attribute the Krassin's success to the most careful preparations to meet all contingencies.

The Soviet press is confident the ship will round out its record by reaching the six men blown away in the envelop of the Italia when it crashed, as well as Roald Amundsen and his five companions who have been lost since leaving Tromsoe, June 18.

The relief committee officially approved the work of the Krassin in rushing, while still crippled by ice, to the aid of the Hamburg South American excursion liner Monte Cervantes which had sprung a leak after collision with an iceberg. Fifteen hundred passengers aboard the Monte Cervantes lined the decks and cheered the Krassin as it came alongside.

Professor Samoilovitch, commander of the Krassin, has been instructed to finish repairs as soon as possible and proceed to the search for further members of the Italia crew.

CLOAK T. U. E. L. MEETS TONIGHT

An important meeting of the Trade Union Educational League of Locals 2, 9, 22 and 35 of the Cloak and Dressmakers' Union will be held tonight at the Workers Center, 26-28 Union Square.

Questions directly affecting the fight of the cloak and dressmakers to rebuild their union will be discussed as well as the latest developments in the trade and in the T. U. E. L. All T. U. E. L. members of these locals are urged to be present.

DAYTON PAINTERS ORGANIZED

DAYTON, O., (FP) July 29.—With significant exceptions Dayton painting contractors are operating 100 per cent closed union shop.

COMMUNISTS TO HOLD ANTI-WAR DEMONSTRATION

Big Demonstrations Thruout U. S. Aug. 4

On the fourteenth anniversary of the World War, as the imperialists are preparing their machinery of death for another blood-bath, into which millions of workers in all lands will be thrown, the Workers (Communist) Party will hold a series of giant anti-war demonstrations all over the United States, for the purpose of calling to the attention of the workers the terrible dangers that confront them and to rally them for the struggle against capitalist imperialism, the fountainhead of war and war's attendant miseries.

In Union Square, New York, the scene of many historic demonstrations, a great anti-war rally will be held on August 4, with Benjamin Gitlow, Communist vice-presidential candidate, as the principal speaker.

"As the two Wall Street parties settle down to a contest over which one of them shall serve imperialism in the White House for the next four years, signs are multiplying that the increasing rivalry between the imperialist powers will soon bring on another bloody conflict," reads a statement issued today by the National Election Campaign Committee of the Workers (Communist) Party from its headquarters at 43 East 125th St., New York City.

"The last war," the statement continues, "bloody tho it was, swallowing up several millions of working class lives and maiming three times as many, was only a Quaker picnic compared to the next, the imperialist butchers having learned much in the art of murder since the last cannon boomed out its last message of death on the battlefields of Europe in 1918.

"While the imperialists prattle words of peace, draw up fake treaties to outlaw war, hold sessions of that imposition on human credulity called the League of Nations, and

Continued on Page Three

HOOVER AGREES TO RAISE TARIFF

Vies With Smith to Serve Bosses

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Upward revision of the tariff and still further reduction of taxes in the interest of big business was yesterday promised by republican Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, in the event that Hoover is elected president.

Smoot, who is known to have drafted the tariff plank in the republican platform, indicated that the republican party had made such a promise to big business. "As long as profits keep up," Smoot declared, "revenues will be more than adequate and business and taxpayers will be relieved as much as possible of taxes imposed by the war debt."

The statement by Smoot is understood to be a reply to one recently made by John J. Raskob, the Morgan manager of the Al Smith campaign, in which the General Motors executive declared that the democrats would not disturb the tariff. Hoover, it is believed, is seeking to go Smith one better in an attempt to prove that he will be the better servant of big business.

Special Meet Tonight

A special meeting of all progressive vestmakers will be held tonight immediately after work at 101 E. 14th St. All vestmakers who are interested in building a strong progressive movement are urged to attend this meeting.

BUENOS AIRES, July 29 (UP).—The constitutional committee of the senate has been authorized to investigate accusations by Senator Molinari of the Radical Party that a plot exists to assassinate President-elect Irigoyen of Argentina.

"I'M HUNGRY, DOCTOR"

Jobless Young German Dies in Bellevue

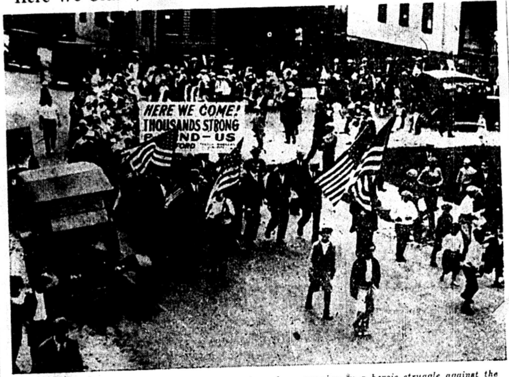
Earl Dodd, 23, came to the United States from Germany several years ago. Unskilled in any trade, Dodd worked as a day laborer, handy men and clerk. Sometime ago he got a job with the Monarch Exposition shows as a cook.

Dodd lost his job with the show several months ago while the traveling carnival was in a mid-western town. Since that time he searched vainly for work in a dozen cities.

Six weeks ago the young German walked into the cheerless "reception rooms" of dank Bellevue Hospital. He explained that he had had very little food for six weeks.

Saturday Dodd died at the hospital. The cause of his death was officially recorded as "heart disease," induced by starvation and exhaustion.

"Here We Come"; New Bedford Textile Strikers Demonstrating



New Bedford textile strikers, 30,000 strong, have been carrying on a heroic struggle against the mill bosses for months. The picture shows one of numerous demonstrations which they have carried out against the bosses. Increasing police brutality and the jailing of strike leaders has been a feature of the latter part of the strike.

BILLINGS CALLS FOR AID IN FIGHT

Workers Party to Hold Demonstrations

Warren K. Billings, who, together with Tom Mooney, has been imprisoned for 12 years, after the famous San Francisco frame-up, in a letter recently sent to the International Class War Prisoners' Aid, calls upon the workers of England to fight for the liberation of Mooney and himself.

The letter follows:

"Represa, Cal., July 18, 1928.
"International Class War Prisoners' Aid, London, England.

"Dear Comrades and Fellow Workers:

"I have been asked by the International Labor Defense of the United States to write you a letter regarding my case and I presume that what you desire most is a brief resume of the history of the case along with some few words of explanation as to who I am, and why I have become a class war prisoner.

Active in Many Strikes.

"I am a shoe worker by trade—a member of the Boot and Shoe Work-

Continued on Page Four

Women Are Victims of Nationality Laws

WASHINGTON, July 29 (FP).—Nationality of women and their children, as affected by international marriages and residence, will be the first subject to be studied by the Inter - American Commission of Women.

"The subject of women's nationality is in a completely chaotic condition," according to Miss Doris Stevens. "A woman may find herself possessed of several nationalities or none. In some countries of our Western Hemisphere, a married woman takes the nationality of her husband in all cases. In other countries, as in Ecuador, she loses her nationality on marrying a foreigner only if she goes to her husband's country to live and if that country gives her his nationality. In the Dominican Republic and Costa Rica, she loses her nationality on marrying a foreigner, provided that her husband's country gives her his nationality.

"An Englishwoman, married to an Argentine, ceases to enjoy British nationality according to British law, but does not become Argentine by Argentine law. Argentina gives the woman her passport and diplomatic facilities, but she is beyond the pale of nationality; cast off by her own country and not accepted by her husband's."

PRISONERS ARE VICTIMS OF FIRE

HOUSTON, Texas, July 29.—In a fire at the Blue Ridge State Prison farm five prisoners were probably mortally wounded and twenty others were badly burned.

The large number of casualties among the prisoners was due to the locking of both exit doors, with no guards to release the men, following an explosion of films.

The authorities are much concerned about the escape of three of the prisoners rather than the victims of the fire. Only those expected to die were taken to the hospital in ambulances.

MEXICAN GOVERNOR STOPS LABOR MEET

MEXICO CITY, July 29. — Evidences that the Calles government is moving to the right is seen here in the virtual suppression during the past two days of two labor conventions.

One of these scheduled for yesterday in the Saltillo district was called off by its leaders just as another convention scheduled several days ago at Pechuca was stopped by the governor of the state of Hidalgo with the apparent approval of the federal government.

Right Presses Calles.

Reactionary agrarian forces under the leadership of Soto y Gama Manrique and Topete have been able, it is believed, to exert pressure on the Calles government which is yielding to these influences.

The militant National Peasants' League as well as the Mexican Communist Party several days ago called upon the workers and peasant masses to organize for the struggle against clerical and other reaction and has likewise called for the formation of a bloc of South, Central and North American masses to fight imperialism.

Report on Assassination Tomorrow.

Events are expected to crystalize with the police report tomorrow or the next day on the responsibility for the assassination of Obregon by General Antonio Rios Zertuche chief of police who is investigating the shooting.

CHINESE TARIFF TREATY A FARCE

Pravda Scores U. S. Imperialism

Pravda Scores U. S. Imperialism

SHANGHAI, July 29.—Shrouded in secrecy and concluded in haste, the negotiations which have led to the signing of a treaty concluded between the governments, of the United States and Nanking have resulted in widespread questionings of American motives on the part of the British controlled and Japanese press, and to suspicion on the part of large sections of the Chinese press, which is pointing out that while the treaty appears to contain favors to the Nanking government in the way of tariff autonomy, which on the surface the treaty appears to concede, it in reality involves no concession on the part of the American state department. It is pointed out that tariff autonomy is granted on condition that there be no discrimination against the other so that any tariff increase on American goods is made contingent upon the ability of the Nanking government to secure the repeal of the existing tariff arrangement with Great Britain, the terms of which impose a maximum import duty of five percent. Until the five percent tariff fate is abolished with other governments, the United States government will be in a position to claim discrimination if a higher duty is placed on its goods under the provisions of tariff autonomy.

It is furthermore indicated that the United States while standing to lose nothing by the ambiguous clause on tariff autonomy, has gained signal advantages in the way of securing the abolition of inter-provincial tariffs on American goods.

The fact that extra-territoriality finds no mention in the treaty is already causing considerable resentment here.

* * *

Pravda Analyses Move.

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., July 29.—United States state department in negotiating the new trade treaty with the Nanking government as a

Continued on Page Three

Soviet Motor Race to Develop Auto Interest

MOSCOW, July 29.—One of the main purposes of the 3,000-mile motor race from Moscow to Tiflis and back in which almost 80 motorcycles and automobiles of different makes will participate, is to develop interest among the workers and peasants in the Soviet Union in motoring.

At the present time, the number of motor vehicles in Russia is 200,000, one for every 700 people. Some peasants in the outlying districts have never even seen automobiles. The Soviet Union desires to stimulate their interest in the machine.

RAINCOAT MAKERS.

Union raincoat makers won a 10 per cent wage increase, resisted employer demands to return to the 42-hour week and lost a fight for unemployment insurance, in their new agreement.

OPEN SHOPPERS WRITE PLATFORM

Old Parties Adopted All Demands

The platforms adopted by both the democratic and the republican parties in respect to a majority of the major issues contained in them have been written by the largest open shop association of big business, it became known yesterday. Not only the general program but the "full thought" of the open shoppers changing the crossing of a "t" or the dotting of an "i" has been incorporated into the platforms of the parties of big business.

Boast of Results.

This was the announcement made yesterday by ames A. Emery, general counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, the organization which has dictated the nom-

Continued on Page

BIG LISBON FIRE.

LISBON, July 29 (UP).—A serious fire today destroyed the post office adjacent to the palace of the counsellor of state. The damages were heavy.

RADIUM VICTIMS DYING

Totally Helpless as Disease Eats Tissues

With the time which physicians predicted would mean their death quickly approaching, the five New Jersey women whose suits against the United States Radium Corporation were betrayed by their own lawyer together with a former judge of the New Jersey court, are living their usual lives, helpless against the ravages of the radium poisoning which they contracted while they were employed by the radium corporation.

Through the activity of the corporation in continually postponing the hearing of their cases, the ultimate "award" they received was $10,000 each, a saving of over $1,000,000 for the United States Radium Corporation, and a sum which the women declared would not suffice for their living expenses, since their maladies precluded the possibility of work as a means of support.

500 TROOPS, 150 POLICE MASSED IN NEW BEDFORD TEXTILE STRIKE REGION

Rushed From Other Cities at Cost of $4,000 They Are Idle When Rain Halts Parade

Strikers' Huge Mass Meeting Overflows Fields As Soon As Weather Clears

(Special to the Daily Worker)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 29.—This whole city is laughing with the strikers today at the spectacle of 150 police from Boston, Brockton and Fall River rushed here, together with 500 guardsmen from the 241st Artillery Battery, now cooling their heels at police headquarters, to smash the proposed march of thousands of textile strikers in defiance of police orders. The demonstration was postponed because of the heavy rains.

Early yesterday, the leaders of the New Bedford Textile Union, unwilling to endanger the health of the strikers by having them march in their worn clothes and shoes, which offered insufficient protection against the weather, decided to postpone the proposed demonstration until next Saturday.

The weather, however, cleared later in the afternoon and permitted the holding of one of the largest mass meetings ever gathered together in the South End. The calling in of outside police and military reinforcements at a cost of $4,000 incensed the workers and it was in an atmosphere tense with excitement that thousands of strikers rallied to protest against the increasing police violence and the mustering of the out-of-town forces.

Saulnier's lot was too small to hold the masses who jammed the meeting and the officers of the citizens' committee were compelled to call on the mayor and, after insistent efforts, secured permission to use the immense municipal field lying along the harbor edge at Clark's Cove and adjoining the Kilburn Mill, the recent scene of all-night mass picketing.

Over six thousand strikers were present at the meeting of which

Continued on Page Five

WORLD CONGRESS HOLDS ELEVENTH, TWELFTH MEETS

Jay Lovestone Opens Session

(Wireless to the Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 29.—Under the chairmanship of Jay Lovestone, Executive Secretary of the Workers Party, the eleventh session of the World Congress of the Communist International opened here yesterday.

Dix, of the United States, declared that British - Japanese - American rivalry in the Pacific increases the danger of war. He said that the revolutionary movement is growing in the Pacific countries in spite of the efforts of the Amsterdamers to obtain leadership. He further stated that the policy of the Central Committee of the American Party is opportunist.

Hrshel, of Czecho-Slovakia, declared that Bukharin had failed to criticize the mistakes of the Czech Party.

Thaelmann, of Germany, declared that the German delegation agreed with the fundamentals of the Bukharin theses. The internal contradictions of capitalist stabilization are leading to revolution and the external contradictions to imperialist wars, he said.

The social democracy is supporting the imperialists, Thaelmann declared. He pointed out that the Socialist constructive work in the Soviet Union is developing rapidly and every difficulty is followed by a new victory.

The German elections have showed the Communist advance in the industrial districts, the speaker pointed out, but the party membership is not

Continued on Page Three

Worker and Passenger Hurt in Subway Fire

Michael Puscar, 38, of 2621 Spuyten Duyvil Road, a trackwalker employed by the Interborough Rapid Transit, was seriously bzurned yesterday when his steel-pointed paper spear touched the third rail at the 96th St. station of the I. R. T. subway.

Ruth Armstrong, a Negro woman, was injured when she was pushed from the platform by excited passengers who swa the spurt of flame which burned Puscar, which resulted in a blaze which firemen fought for more than half an hour.

Both Puscar and Miss Armstrong were taken to the Knickerbocker Hospital for treatment.

AMERICANS WIN HEATS

All of the American sprinters entered in the 100 metres won their quarter final heats. Robert McAllister, erstwhile "flying cop," and Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, Houston, Tex., won their heats in 10 4-5 seconds and are paired with Legg of South Africa, Houben of Germany, Williams of Canada, and Pina of Argentina in the first semi-final.

Frank Wykoff, Glendale (Calif) high school boy, and Henry A. Russell, of Pennsylvania A. C., also won their heats in 10 4-5 seconds and are paired with Fitzpatrick of Canada, Corts of Germany, London of England, and Lammers of Germany in the semi-final.

MISLEADERS TO ENDORSE SMITH

A. F. L. Officials Meet in Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, July 29.—Preparations for the expected endorsement of Tammany Hall and Al Smith for the presidency was seen here in the open statements by the advance guard of the American Federation of Labor leaders that Smith would make "an eminently satisfactory" declaration on the injunction issue.

The executive council of the federation is to meet here for its regular quarterly conference Tuesday and according to certain of the leaders already here Wm. Green, president of the A. F. of L. already has the assurance of the Tammany governor that he will "favor" the demand of the federation leaders on the subject of injunctions.

The executive council of the federation will hear a report of its so-called non-partisan political committee which, it is understood will recommend the endorsement of the Tammany hypocrite nothwithstanding the admittedly anti-labor platform adopted by the democrats and the ring of open shoppers who are managing the Smith campaign.

Question Police Here On Police Club Theft

Members of the police department, organized into the Police Glee Club, are being summoned to police headquarters here for the purpose of gaining evidence on the mysterious "disappearance" of $22,000 from the funds of the club.

514 KILLED BY AUTOS.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (UP)—Five hundred and fourteen persons were killed in automobile accidents in 77 large cities of the United States during the four week ending July 14, the commerce department reported. This is a decrease of 59 over a similar period last year.

SHOW THEIR COLORS.

LONDON, July 29. — The tw hundred members of the conserv tive party who recently signed a p tition to the government urging im mediate measures to "safeguard the iron and steel industry in Gre Britain are meeting at the Hou of Commons Monday to discu steps to expedite action on the proposal.

Woman Worker Is Chosen the Head of Cigarette Factory Union in North Carolina

CAMEL, PRINCE ALBERT, UNFAIR TO LABOR, CHARGE

Campaign Against the Bosses Begun

By ESTHER LOWELL.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (FP) July 29.—Josephine Joyner has been so active lining up members for the tobacco workers' union in Winston-Salem's big Camel cigarette factory that Local 145 unanimously voted her its president.

Women workers were predominant at the local meeting which elected Mrs. Joyner. But a man nominated her. The little union hall where the local met faces the steel framework of the skyscraper R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. is building. Immense profits made on the tobacco workers put up that building.

Received Only $17.95 a Week.

"Yes, I worked in the R. J. Reynolds factory for 14 years," Mrs. Joyner said. "And when I was fired for belonging to the union I was getting just $17.95 a week. But that was more than most of the 12,000 workers in the tobacco factory make.

"When I started in as a stripper I got $5 a week. Now colored girls and women do that work for as low as $2.65 and an average of $7 a week. White and colored work at the same tables, but the company is hiring more and more colored workers. They needn't think they'll beat the union with colored workers, because they join eagerly and are among our best members," says Josephine Joyner. The Negro unionists have a separate local.

Strike Shortened Hours.

Mrs. Joyner's husband was a tobacco worker for Reynolds until the 1919 strike. His activities for the union blacklisted him; so he has become a barber. The three children, the youngest 5, are cared for by a grandmother while the parents work. The 1919 strike raised wages and shortened hours to 48 instead of 60 for the Reynolds tobacco workers. Josephine Joyner's pay was $10 to $11 a week at the time of the strike. The union was recognized for about 2½ years.

Tobacco work is not the healthiest, Mrs. Joyner finds. She herself seems to have retained her youthful good looks. "But it never has agreed with my sister. And one of our union girls looks as though she were right sick with the t. b.," says Mrs. Joyner. "Tobacco dust gets all over the workers and the smell is sickening at first."

Factory Disregards Union.

"No, there isn't much else a woman can do in Winston-Salem. The Hanes knit underwear factory pays even less than Reynolds and the cotton mills still worse. Even the stores pay only $9 to $12 for clerks."

Most of the tobacco workers are organized, the union asserts, but the company flatly refuses to deal with them. It has fired over 600 white and colored workers. Now the union is beginning its campaign to advertise Camel cigarettes and Prince Albert smoking tobacco as products of a firm unfair to organized labor.

SOVKINO FILMS IN BIG DEMAND

Productions Running in Many Countries

MOSCOW, July 29.—The mass cinema which has been developed by Sovkino since the existence of the Soviet Union is being sought more and more by foreign markets, recent reports state. Sovkino recently sold a Chinese film, "The Shanghai Document," to a German firm, giving it world rights. Holland has purchased the revolutionary film, "[illegible]," and "Soroachinsk Fair," another Sovkino production," is now being shown in Austria.

In addition to these films, three others, "October," "The End of St. Petersburg" and "Forty-First," have been bought by a big South American concern, which will present them in Uruguay, Paraguay and Argentina. Many Soviet films are also reported to be enjoying great success in the Baltic States.

Other great successes are being reported in Manchuria, Australia, Siam and the Philippines.

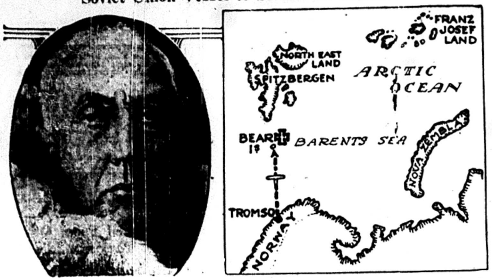
U. S. Loses Davis Cup Doubles; Chances of Victory Slim

ROLAND - GARROS STADIUM, Paris, July 29—America's hope of regaining the Davis Cup received a severe blow today when the French team of Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra prevailed over the veteran United States combination of William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter in the doubles match of the challenge round.

By the sheer brilliancy of their individual play, Cochet and Borotra defeated Tilden and Hunter, 6-4, [illegible] 7-5, [illegible] in a continuation of the match halted Saturday by rain.

The victory gave France a commanding lead of two matches to one over the United States, with two singles matches left to play Monday.

Soviet Union Vessel to Search for Amundsen



The Soviet ice-breaker Krassin, which rescued 16 survivors of the Nobile expedition recently, is undergoing repairs. When the vessel is reconditioned it will proceed with the search for Roald Amundsen, celebrated Norwegian explorer, who flew to hunt for Nobile and has been missing since then. Amundsen is shown in the picture. The map at the right shows North East Land in the neighborhood of which the Krassin rescues were made.

YOUTH IN SOVIET UNION HAS MANY ADVANTAGES

(This section appears in the Daily Worker every Monday and Thursday. News of young workers' activities should be sent to: Young Workers League, 43 East 125th Street, New York.)

• • •

Te following letter has been received at the national office of the Young Workers (Communist) League from a Komsomol nucleus in the Soviet Union:

"Dear Comrades:

"On behalf of the Y. C. L. nucleus of the "Pishchevik" (The Foodworker) Works I am writing you this first letter in order to establish a firm contact with you. This is the desire of all the young comrades in our nucleus. We trust that our contact will be a steady one, consisting in regular correspondence between us devoted to the description of the life and activity of the young workers, particularly of the young Communists. In this letter I will briefly acquaint you with the work of our nucleus in regard to the young workers and to the industry in general.

Advantages of Soviet Youth

"Our nucleus is an industrial one, nearly all the young Communists are working at the "Pishchevik" Works; altogether there are 58 members in the Y. C. organization, including pioneers transferred from our squads into the Y. C. L. Our nucleus used to be considered one of the best in this district on account of its activity. However, the effect of summer and vacations has naturally lessened the scope of our activities. Just now we are devoting a good deal of attention to cultural work. The nucleus organizes mass excursions on the Volga together with non-party young workers. At these excursions the young people enjoy sport and recreation and at the same time become intimately acquainted and closely associated with each other, whilst at the request of the young people themselves educational talks are organized. Every fortnight there are held general young Communist meetings and meetings of the bureau of the necleus are held once a week.

Meetings of Workers.

"The questions discussed at the meetings are chiefly concerned with the industry—the rationalization of production, the position of the young workers in the industry, the signing of collective agreements, etc., also questions relating to the international situation. An interest in the efficiency of industry is taken not only by the young Communists, but also by the unattached young workers. Thus, during the last few months there has been considerable reduction in the number of cases of young workers failing to report for work, whilst scamping has been entirely eliminated; the Y. C. nucleus is waging a relentless fight against scamping, and one member was recently expelled from the Y. C. L. for scamping.

"I will mention a number of facts illustrating the interest taken by the youth in the industry and in the industral conferences. Only recently the question was raised by the apprentices that the apprentices at the candy works shall be taught the manufacture of all kinds of candy, which previously was not the case. Whilst previously they used to break up and burn the old boxes, the young Communists have raised the question at the Industrial Conference to take steps towards the elimination of this wastefulness, and the administration has acted accordingly.

Youth Day in the U. S. S. R.

"There are a great many other litle facts showing the affectionate care of the young workers towards industry. At the time of writing, our young people are preparing for the festivities associated with the "International Youth Day." You probably know this festival and are preparing for it. Here it is going to be carried out under the slogan of fortifying the defense of our country, and of increasing and improving the production in our particular industry. Our nucleus takes active part in the preparations, having outlined a number of measures, such as addresses at young workers' meetings, short articles in the wall newspaper, an evening at the club, and so on. By the way, we publish a provincial paper for the young workers, "Smera" (the Successors), to which the young Communists subscribe nearly to the extent of 100 per cent.

Requests Letters From America.

"We invite all young workers and members of the Young Workers (Communist) League to write us about their conditions in America. We are interested to hear about your conditions of work and about the problems and work of your nucleus.

Yours for Communism,
D. ARKHAROV,
Correspondence Secretary "Pishchevik" Works, Y. C. L. Nucleus, Kostroma, U. S. S. R.

• • •

All communications of young workers or branches of the league to the above nucleus in the Soviet Union should be sent to the Young Workers (Communist) League, 43 E. 125th St., New York. The National Office will immediately send these communications to the parties addressed.

TELLS OF GAINS IN SOVIET UNION

Komsomols Like to Get Letters From America

The following letter has been received by the Young Workers (Communist) League from the Komsomols of Leningrad, in which they tell of the advantages enjoyed by the working class youth of the Soviet Union.

Replies should be sent to the National Office of the Young Workers (Communist) League, 43 East 125th St., New York City.

• • •

"All-Union Leninist Communist Union of Youth (Komsomols)
"Leningrad District Committee,
"19 Skorohodova St.,
"Leningrad, 22, U. S. S. R.

"Dear Comrades:

"With the greatest pleasure we will correspond with you on the following subjects: the labor movement, and the Communist youth movement Of the greatest interest for our foreign correspondence, of course, is the work of the Young Communist League in your city and country.

"We are the Esperanto section of the Leningrad Committee of the V. L. K. S. M. (Komsomols) Our task at present is to establish connections between our Komsomols and the Communist youth of other countries for the purpose of developing the world knowledge of our comrades, exchange of experiences and propaganda value in other countries by letting you know of our achievements. We must help each other.

"We have completed courses in Esperanto and now are beginning 'living' correspondence with the Communist youth organizations of the whole world.

"The economic situation of the youth in the Soviet Union is quite good. The young workers do not receive less than the adults for the same work. Young workers from 16 to 18 work four to six hours daily. They receive a month's vacation with pay every year.

"All workers who are ill receive without charge accomodations in the rest homes at health resorts. Expenses are paid by the trade unions and the government.

"At the present time, many factories have introduced the seven-hour day. In Leningrad, the large clothing factory, "Volodarsky," introduced the seven-hour day May 1.

"In other letters, we will write more about the living conditions in Leningrad and in the Soviet Union.

"Write us in detail about your work, tasks, salaries, the work of the Communist youth nuclei, the general tasks of the Communist youth of your city and country, the revolutionary struggles, and persecution of the workers.

"We await your reply. We will reply in detail to any questions you may wish to ask.

"With fraternal greetings,
"Komsomol Esperanto Section,
"Correspondence Department,
"Leningrad Committee, V. L. K. S. M. (Komsomols)."

YOUNG WORKERS STUDY TO FIGHT

School Step Forward in Class Struggle

To Young Worker Section, Daily Worker:

The Young Workers League Educational Courses began in Hancock, Michigan on July 16th. We are fortunate in having Comrade Hayes and Rahkonen as instructors. There are forty-two students in all from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

The subjects being taught are: Sociology, Role and Program of the Communist Youth, Public Speaking American History (the workers viewpoint) and Marxian Economics. We also read the Daily Worker Young Worker and the Tyomies. The studies make clear to us, as young workers what our position is, and how we can better our conditions. We are given a true outlook on the chance of a worker at present and the possibilities he would have in a Communist society. We have interesting lectures, discussion circles and meetings. The students themselves organize the activities about the school, and thus are given training which may be of help in the future. We have a Discipline Committee. Sports Committee and Wall ewspaper Committee. The Newspaper is to be called "The Yowles Echo."

The instructors are doing their utmost to have us realize the importance of organization of young workers. We must cooperate with our instructors and our comrades while we are here, in order that we may keep other young workers and explain to them how our present system of society is wrong. We should try to learn the ways of establishing more stepping stones for our Communist society. Comrades, let us all cooperate and do our bit for what we set as our goal.

Rauha L. Laitala,
Box B., Hancock, Mich.

CORRESPOND WITH THE U. S. S. R.

Letters are received almost daily from the young workers organizations in the Soviet Union requesting correspondence with young American workers.

Correspondence with the Soviet Union will enable young workers to get "first hand" information on conditions and the achievements of the workers Republic in detail. Those who wish to correspond with the U. S. S. R. should send their letters to the Young Workers League, 43 East 125 Street, New York City, and the letters will be translated and forwarded to the Komsomol organizations in the Soviet Union.

To Demonstrate Against War

Calling upon all sympathetic individuals, labor and progressive organizations to join in with its next demonstration against the war danger, the New York branch of the All-America Anti-Imperialist League yesterday announced that it would hold a meeting Saturday, August 4 at Battery Park, South Ferry during the noon hour.

The last demonstration of the organization held on July 3, was illegally broken up by the Tammany police and jail sentence were meted out to a number of demonstrators by Magistrate Gotlieb under orders, it is believed, of the democratic administration.

"The coming meeting will be held as scheduled," Harriet Silverman, secretary of the New York branch declared. "Our League and the American workers will not be prevented from demonstrating their opposition to imperialist war."

CLOAK WORKERS SCORE MACHINE OF RIGHT WING

Meet Called by Clique Proves Boomerang

Philadelphia, July 29.—A meeting of all the members of the cloakmakers' union called here the other day by the Sigmund-Schlesinger machine for the purpose of making another of their well-known attacks on the militant and progressive elements turned into a boomerang when member after member arose and denounced in unmistakable terms the union-wrecking tactics of the machine.

Expose Fake Elections.

The local bureaucrats were provoked into calling the meeting by a leaflet issued by the Trade Union Educational League which exposed the fake elections for business agent of the union which were recently held. The leaflet also revealed the terroristic tactics employed by the Sigman lieutenants against the rank and file.

At the meeting, not only left wing and progressive workers, but even several of Sigman's followers, spoke in denunciation of the trickery and hypocrisy of the machine. The chief defender of the right-wing clique appeared in the person of a gentleman who at at one time made overtures to the left wing and been rejected. He has since lost no opportunity to vent his gall on all who oppose the policy of betrayal and union-wrecking practised by the machine.

Sharp Replies.

Sharp replies to the slanders of this individual came from L. Seltzer and Asher Libak, two left wing union members, who, together with a number of other speakers, pointed out the sad state of the union in this city as a result of the policies of the Sigman clique. Shop after shop is slipping from union control, they declared, while the bosses cut wages, lengthen hours and in general do what they please, reaping the fruits of Sigman's efforts at "rebuilding" the union.

OPEN SHOPPERS WRITE PLATFORM

Old Parties Adopted All Demands

Continued from Page One

ination and election of practically every president in the past twenty years since its organization, which controls scores of state legislatures and has been shown to have in its pay scores of the officials of the labor movement.

The platform of the association was officially presented to the major parties by John E. Edgerton, its president. Edgerton, it is known, spent hours with the leaders of both old parties directing the drawing up of their platforms. The leaders of the American Federation of Labor received about ten minutes from these parties.

"Full Thought" There.

Emery announced yesterday that "substantial parts of the associations' program, and in some cases the full thought were incorporated in either or both of the national platforms."

Among the planks dictated by the open shop association which has carried on the most relentless war against the organized labor movement, Emery admits, is that of "taxation, economy, immigration, merchant marine, foreign, policy, government competition with business and reorganization of government departments."

Both Alike.

In the tariff planks, Emery says, the republican party platform "meets the urgent demand of industry to open up revision to apply to the free lists; while the democratic platform makes political history and cites the necessity for protection to maintain 'legitimate business and a high standard of wages for American labor.'"

NO VACATIONS FOR U.S. MARINES

Bosses Not Grateful for "Protection"

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 29.—Due to the demands of American imperialism for profits and protection of investments in the colonial countries, the marines will be minus their "furloughs" this year.

No vacations will be given to the marines who are protecting Wall Street interests in Nicaragua and China, and the number of "furloughs" will be less than half the usual number, in spite of the extremely unpleasant life and hardships in the Tropics.

Tammany Contractor and His Puppet

The picture shows left to right, Governor Alfred Smith, Tammany democrat candidate for president of the United States, and William F. Kenny, millionaire contractor and heavy contributor to the Smith campaign fund. They are pictured at the funeral of the son of John Raskob, chairman of the Smith campaign committee, who recently went thru a gesture of resigning as chairman of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation.

TO PROBE SHADY SEWER EVIDENCE

Jersey Inquiry to Be Resumed Sept. 10

Conflict in the testimony of Mary McFeely, sister of Bernard N. McFeeley, director of public safety of Hoboken, in connection with the sewer graft investigation being conducted in Hudson county by a republican legislative committee, is scheduled to be investigated today by Attorney General Katzenbach it is announced.

Many important officials of Hudson County, including the democratic Mayor Hague of Jersey City, are believed to be involved in this latest graft scandal which it has been authoritatively predicted, will surpass the Queens sewer scandal in both the extent of graft and the number of high officials involved There are also indications that a direct connection exists between the Queens and the Hudson County sewer rings.

The republican legislative committee which is conducting the inquiry into the rival party's malodorous graft activities has temporarily adjourned and will resume the investigation in Trenton Sept 10.

ADMITS MARINES DEFEND BANKERS

Teacher Tells Purpose of Intervention

ADMITS MARINES

BLUE RIDGE, N. C., July 29.—In a speech at a student conference here, Dr. W. C. Jackson, vice-president of North Carolina College for Women, admitted that the purpose of the American Marine forces in Nicaragua and Santo Domingo is to protect the investments of bankers.

Dr. Jackson declared that imperialism gives a great field for the banker, and that capital invested in Nicaragua gives a return of 10 per cent profit as contrasted with four and a half per cent in New York.

Four reasons, according to Dr. Jaakson, had caused America to "embark upon a policy of economic imperialism." These were: Surplus production, necessity of the finding and holding of new fields, development of transportation facilities, demanding an ever increasing volume of goods to transport, need of the United States manufacturers for raw products, such as rubber from the tropics and the surplus of capital in America (despite the millions of unemployed workers) seeking new fields for investment.

DETROIT, (FP) July 29. — A union catering service, plain or fancy according to the purse, is offered by Cooks & Pastry Cooks Local 234. Picnics, banquets and special gatherings are served. Banquets up to 1000 plates are handled.

PAINTERS FIGHT WINS BACK PAY

But Mechanics Lose Out

After carrying on a fight in the supreme court here for some time more than 2,600 claimants have won $1,000,000 in back pay from this city. This back pay was won by the painters in the department of plant and structures. Because the mechanics had entered no official protest at the time they were given the lowered wages, they are without legal basis to fight their case in court. The city will, therefore, not pay them their due money.

The painters had amounts of back pay returned to them which ranged from $200 to $2,000. The workers had signed the original payrolls under protest.

"MANY SOLDIERS WITH WORKERS' CAUSE"--PORTER

Fear Keeps Them "Loyal" to Bosses

FORT ADAMS, R. I., July 29.—"You have no idea how many soldiers realize that they are used against the workers, but are afraid to express their ideas publicly," stated John Porter, sentenced to two and a half years at hard labor after he told a court-martial that the army is the tool of the bosses.

Porter's statement is supported by the comments of the soldiers here, many of them declaring that they regard the militant young worker as a hero and that he told the court-martial "just what we would say if we only had the courage."

"Ready to Face Any Sentence"

"I know that my severe sentence was on account of my stand," says Porter, "but I am ready to face even any sentence for the workers." The officers have made every effort to break Porter's spirit and force him to repudiate his views, even giving him to understand that he would be released within a month if he would take back his militant statements.

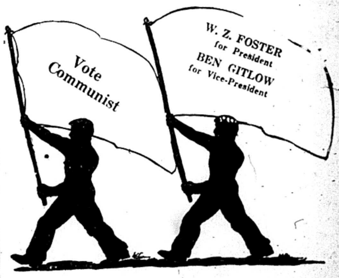
The authorities have refused to deliver some of the mail for Porter. An official letter from the National Executive Committee of the Young Workers (Communist) League, congratulating Porter's splendid spirit, was not delivered by the officers.

• • •

World-Wide Drive for Porter.

The National Executive Committee of the Young Workers (Communist) League has announced that the Porter case, instead of being ended by his sentence, is just beginning and that a world-wide drive will be made to obtain his release by the military authorities.

The International Labor Defense also states that the organization will continue its efforts in Porter's behalf.



Order a Bundle!

Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.

Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.

Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.

$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).

Enclosed find $..........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

REMEMBER AUGUST 4TH, 1914
THE OPENING OF THE WORLD WAR!
FIGHT THE WAR DANGER!
PROTEST AGAINST
GUNBOATS IN CHINA
MARINES IN NICARAGUA
PLOTS AGAINST THE SOVIET UNION
Down With Capitalism—Breeder of Wars!

SPEAKERS:
Ben Gitlow, Robert Minor, M. J. Olgin, Phil Frankfeld, Albert Weisbord, Bert Miller, Richard Moore, John J. Ballam, Ben Gold, D. Benjamin, Ray Ragozin, Scott Nearing, Rebecca Grecht, Paul Crouch.

Mass Demonstrrtion
Sunday, August 4 at 1 P. M—Union Square, Near 17th St.
Auspices: Workers (Communist) Party and Young Workers (Communist) League
26-28 Union Square

Enraged Workers Force Way Into Limoges Jail to Liberate Imprisoned Communist

TROOPS HELD IN READINESS TO ATTACK MASSES

Continue Demonstration in City

PARIS, July 29.—Incensed by the arrest of a Communist charged with distributing literature to shoe workers at Limoges, several hundred workers yesterday attempted to liberate him and were met by the clubs of the police.

The report, which arrived here from Limoges today, states that police reserves have been called out and put into action against the workers and that soldiers in the neighboring garrisons are being held in readiness for use in case the police are unable to cope with the situation.

The effort to liberate the jailed worker began shortly after his arrest on charges of handing out leaflets to shoe workers.

A large crowd, chiefly workers from the shoe factories, is reported to have formed immediately and to have begun a march on the jail. Arrived in front of the prison the men demanded that the prisoner be released. When this was refused, they undertook to release him themselves.

Frantic calls for aid from the prison authorities brought the police to the scene. They attempted to disperse the workers with their clubs, but this proving ineffective, reserves were rushed to the struggle. They also failed to stop the workers, who had already entered the jail before they were overpowered by the authorities.

Following the clash a number of arrests were made but the workers refused to leave the streets and massed in the center of the city where they continued to demonstrate and demand the release of the imprisoned worker.

A heavy guard has been placed around the prison.

PRAVDA SCORES NANKING PACT

Exposes Manoevur of U. S. Imperialism

Continued from Page One

clever move, Pravda in a leading article yesterday made the following statements on the move.

"This separate treaty shows that American capital is ready to use the Nanking Government against Japan and England, as an agency for peaceful penetration in China. Such penetration, which will encroach on the English and Japanese spheres of influence, naturally involves the sharpening of the rivalry of the Imperialists in China."

* * *

London Won't Recognize.

LONDON, July 29.—The British government is in no hurry to follow the tacit recognition of the Nanking regime implied in the treaty negotiations between Nanking and the United States, the British foreign office let it be known yesterday.

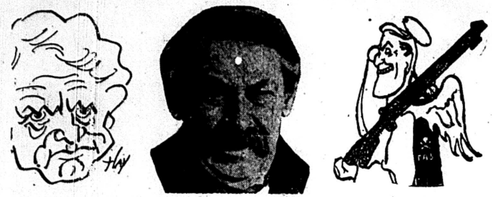
While demanding that all the powers be included in any negotiations for tariff regulation with the Nanking government, the British admit that the American state department has done a shrewd manoeuver in the present treaty.

Big Bosses to Exploit Labor in Small Towns

Small towns, with cheap labor and low living standards, are coming rapidly into the affection of executives representing $32,000,000. These bosses met with the policy-holders service bureau of Metropolitan Life and the National Electric Light Assn. to consider industrial trends.

Martin J. Insull, president of Middle West Utilities Co., boosted the small town as a cure for union [illegible] of manufacturers.

When Shall We Three Meet Again?—In Paris, August 27



The three diplomats pictured above are from left to right, Secretary of State Kellogg, Aristide Briand, French foreign minister and Sir Austin Chamberlain, British foreign secretary. The trio of "peace" imperialists will sign the Kellogg pact in Paris on August 27. Each hopes that his government, under cover of the pact, will be able to arm faster than the others.

To Hold Anti-War Demonstration

Continued from Page One

solemnly declare that the nations of the earth will in the future settle their differences over the conference table, all the powers are feverishly preparing and getting ready to jump at each other's throats, when the possibilities of reconciling their conflicting interests thru diplomatic maneuvers have been exhausted.

"Secretary of State Kellogg, while waging war on Nicaragua, is peddling a hypocritical 'peace' treaty for the outlawry of war. It is significant that Kellogg has not invited the government of the Soviet Union, whose territory stretches over one-sixth of the earth's surface, to be a signatory to this treaty. While the government of the Soviet Union knows quite well that Kellogg's gesture is only an imperialist war maneuver, his refusal to invite that proletarian world power to sign the treaty shows that behind the cloak of peace the imperialists are trying to build a wall of hostile bayonets around the U. S. S. R.

"While Kellogg peddles his "scrap of paper," United States marines are shooting down the people of Nicaragua, and United States warships ride in Nicaraguan waters with guns trained on its seaport cities. This is the true picture of the peaceful intentions of the United States government.

"This is the policy that Hoover, the republican party candidate for the presidency, stands for. This is the policy that Al Smith, presidential candidate on the democratic ticket, stands for. Smith, the democrat, will serve the interests of the American imperialists as well as Hoover. They are all puppets, and Wall Street pulls the strings.

"Norman Thomas, the socialist candidate for president, while spouting pacifist phrases, is objectively an imperialist. Against the war preparations of the ruling classes he throws up prayers that they be good, that they look into their collective conscience and keep peace on earth. Thomas spreads illusions about the League of Nations. As long as the imperialists maintain peace among themselves, Thomas and the socialists will be content. They are opposed to an organized struggle against imperialism; they ally themselves with the labor bureaucracy, the chief bulwarks of imperialism in this and other capitalist countries.

"In the next war as in the last the exploited masses, the workers, farmers and colonial masses will be the chief sufferers. The imperialists will as heretofore throw the masses into the slaughter, and after the dead are counted and the ruling class killers have exhausted their resources the victors will sit down at the council table and divide the spoils.

"Despite the universal cry of agony that went up from the harrowed souls of widows and orphans who lost their loved ones in the last great world debacle, the "Christian" gentlemen who rule the greater part of the capitalist world have shut their eyes to human suffering and go about the business of building battleships, bomb-throwing airplanes, and poison gases with perfect equanimity. What matters the loss of millions of proletarian lives in the game of profit-seeking?

"While the imperialists prattle about peace and at the same time seek to outlaw Soviet Russia and prepare for war against the Workers' Republic, they are conducting wars of extermination against the independence of colonial peoples. The American Empire is out to bring the whole of Latin America under its iron heel, with its marines in Nicaragua and thru its dollar and diplomatic war on the rest of Latin America.

The British Empire is suppressing with military and naval forces the efforts of the colonial peoples in the Orient to emancipate themselves from the imperial yoke, and France recently crushed with the most murderous cruelty the struggle of the people of Syria and Morocco for independence.

"Against the imperialist preparations for the next war the workers of the world must make counter-preparations. Under the leadership of the Communist International the class-conscious proletariat is organizing for a struggle to overthrow this system that must have its periodical slaughter-fest. The pacifist illusions broadcast by the socialists must be combatted. The working class must be taught that there can be no peace except the peace of death for them as long as imperialism is permitted to live.

"Here in the United States, the most powerful imperialism on earth, the Workers (Communist) Party assumes the task of mobilizing the masses against imperialist war. . . In the election campaign its candidates, headed by William Z. Foster and Benjamin Gitlow, will sound the war cry, to see to it that it will be their last, that the workers of the United States will follow the example set by the heroic workers and peasants of Russia in 1917, and topple the master class into the abyss of historical oblivion.

"The monster mass meeting on August 4th shall demand that neither men, money nor guns be given to an imperialist army or navy, that the imperialist war against Nicaragua must stop, and that the marines instead of shooting down their fellow workers go over to the side of the forces fighting for freedom, that all American troops and warships be immediately withdrawn from Latin America and China, that complete independence be immediately given the colonies and semi-colonies of the United States, that Wall Street keep its claws off Mexico, that United States customs control of Latin America be abolished and support withdrawn from the puppet fascist governments of Venezuela, Peru and Chile, that the abuse known as extraterritoriality be abolished in Asia, Africa and Latin America, that the present mercenary army and navy be abolished and that the workers struggle for a militia of the workers and poor farmers in its place, that the workers fight against the system of infamous imperialist 'peace' treaties, against the Dawes plan, for the cancellation of all war debts and the immediate withdrawal of the United States from the World Court of the League of Nations.

"The Workers (Communist) Party calls on the masses to rally to its standard in this election campaign, to organize around its program, to join its ranks, and actively engage in the work of preparing for the final struggle to abolish the system that breeds wars, unemployment and poverty, and establish on the ruins of this murderous system a Workers' and Farmers' government, the government of the working masses."

Funds to carry on the Communist Campaign are urgently needed. Help bring the danger of imperialist war home to the masses! Contribute your share of the financial burden of this work! Send your contribution immediately to the National Election Campaign Committee, Alexander Trachtenberg, treasurer, 43 East 125th St., New York City.

MINE HOSPITAL RUN BY BOSSES

SHENANDOAH, Pa., (FP) July 29.—The miners hospital, a cube of cement and brick on the hill overlooking the town, cost the coal miners more than $100,000. Every miner donated shifts and many extra dollars in drives for funds to build the hospital.

Then the hospital was given to the state. Immediately it became a political battlefield. Miners choice for the post of chief surgeon was consistently ignored. As the hospital became institutionalized, the miners found themselves left with one lone representative on the board of trustees.

Run By Politician.

Since then the hospital has been a sore spot with the miners. "We built it. The politicians have taken it away from us and run it," they complain.

Miners were given free treatment in the hospital for years. Even when their trouble was not due to colliery accidents, the hospital policy was lenient and miners usually forgot their bills for treatment.

Now the hospital is to operate under a new system. A miner is to be given 90 days to square his bill. If then the bill still remains unpaid, the trustees will be empowered by the new ruling to sell out the miner's furniture through a collection agency, in order to get its money.

"Boss Machine."

The workers are highly indignant over this change, to which no publicity has been given in the press. But local unions are passing resolutions condemning the innovation and denouncing roundly the anthracite political machine and the "whole boss machine of the boss ridden state of Pennsylvania."

GOVERNMENT IN MOVE TO SMASH ROSARIO STRIKE

Mayor Gets Ownership Transfer Decree

ROSARIO, Argentine, July 29.—An attempt to smash the general strike here by an indirect maneouver in signing over the street railway administration from private hands to the municipality was in course of being effected yesterday. The move, which is in the form of a decree of transfer of ownership, is at present before the mayor for signature.

Workers Confident.

While labor leaders here are confident that the change in ownership cannot seriously affect the progress of the strike, they see in the maneouver a guarantee by the authorities that force will be used against the strikers and justifed in order to keep a government-owned public utility in operation.

Deep resentment, rather than alarm was the characteristic feeling of the strikers yesterday, following announcement that the decree was pending.

"We do not fear the decree," the leader of one of the striking unions is quoted as saying. "The strikers are in a position of power, but we are also conscious of what the government intends in effecting this transfer of authority. It is another instance of how closely the owners and the government collaborate."

Resentment High.

Complete failure of all efforts to import strike-breakers, following the total suspension of traction service in this city, is moving the authorities and the owners to attempt drastic action to break the general strike. The obvious intention of the owners to take such measures and to urge the government along the same path has raised the resentment of the workers to a higher pitch than at any previous time during the walk-out.

Declaring that they would rather close down than accede to the demands of the unions, the big companies have publically announced that they will not better conditions of the workers or grant wage increases. It is believed here that they have been emboldened by government connivance during the last few days.

The telephone operators, however, have already wrung concessions from the corporation, which has informed the government that it will be unable to resume service until proper safeguards have been made for the workers. Further demands of the telephone workers are as yet ungranted.

3,000 Mile Motor Race Planned in U. S. S. R.

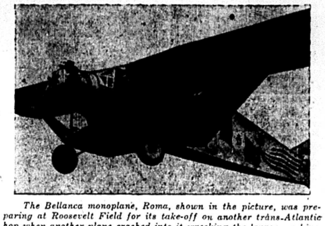
MOSCOW, July 29.—A three-thousand motorcycle race from Moscow to Tiflis and back again is being planned here. Among the contestants in the race, which has been arranged by the Soviet authorities for the purpose of ascertaining which type of car is best suited to the rigorous conditions of roads in the Soviet Union, are motorcycles of American, British, French, German and Austrian makes.

There are also several automobiles in the race. One of these is a specially prepared aircooled machine produced by the Soviet Scientific Institute.

MILLIONS IN PROFITS.

Six million dollars in profits was earned during the first half of this year by the Pan-American Petroleum Transport Co. This is equivalent to $1.80 a share on the common and common "B" stock.

Imperialist Stunt Flight Comes to Grief



The Bellanca monoplane, Roma, shown in the picture, was preparing at Roosevelt Field for its take-off on another trans-Atlantic hop when another plane crashed into it wrecking the larger machine.

11TH SESSION OF WORLD CONGRESS

Jay Lovestone Opens Meeting

Continued from Page One

commensurate with its political influence.

Thaelmann also stated that the Trotzkyist opposition in Germany had been completely destroyed. The chief danger now is from the right wing, he said, which must be fought.

Canadian Workers.

Spector, of Canada, declared that the Canadian workers are becoming increasingly radical and that the hostility of the Canadian Labor Party towards the Communists is growing.

Chitarov, of the Young Communist International, declared that Young Communist Leagues have become great political factors, but that some countries have occupied themselves too much with party questions, as for example the United States and Poland.

A Finnish comrade then declared that the Finnish social democracy was becoming the open, instead of the veiled, supporter of the white terror and hence the workers are leaving the social democrats who recently suffered an electoral defeat.

Twelfth Session.

Sikander, of India, was chairman of the twelfth session. Lumley, of Great Britain, declared that the general strike was the turning point in the British labor movement because it had exposed the reformist leaders. The reformists refused to fight the capitalists but were fighting the Communists. The latter in turn must fight to retain their position in the Trade Unions and the Labor Party. He declared further that the General Council was the greatest hindrance to the workers' struggle.

Nischevitz, of Germany, declared that rationalization is causing working women to take a greater part in the revolutionary movement and hence the Communists must do more recruiting work amongst the women.

Kostcheva, of Poland, declared that the illegal experience of the Polish Party was of international value. All efforts against the Soviet Union were concentrated in Poland. Party differences still existed, but must be overcome, not by dismissing the old leadership, but by uniting all forces.

Evert, of Germany, stated that some German comrades think Bukharin's theses too pessimistic. The Communists, however, must have a real analysis of the situation not an exaggeratedly rosy one. Monopolist capitalism represents a drag on the revolutionary development in consequence of the tremendous pressure on the working class, particularly on the non-class-conscious elements. However, the internal and external contradictions of capitalism are sharpening. Iit is more difficult to commence labor struggles today, but once they are begun they become more bitter and revolutionary. Severe struggles may be expected in many countries in the immediate future tho final victory for the Communists is hardly likely. The leftward swing of the masses is accompanied by a rightward development of certain sections of the workers with the simultaneous growth of Communist and social democratic influence. The Communist and social democratic electorial victories are different, but the latter's victory must not be underestimated because it is based on a great party, deeply rooted traditionally and organizationally in the masses and supported by the trade union cooperative, etc. The election showed that the German workers still believe that the social democratic ministers mean economic advantages for the workers.

KELLOGG SHUNS MULTILATERAL WAR DEBT TAL

Cloaking Militarism to Be Sole Concern

WASHINGTON, July 29.—That the iron hand of American economic empire will not be removed from the millions of European workers, although an attempt will be made to cloak its mailed fist aspect in the multilateral peace treaty, was made clear yesterday with the state department's confirmation of the rumor tha twar debts will form no part of Secretary of State Kellogg's business with the European diplomats when he goes to Paris next month to add his signature to the peace pact which bears his name.

The briefest possible visit is planned by Kellogg, according to the state department, thus effectually rendering impossible an discussion of the war debts which the European powers piled up during the late war.

Despite the ridicule to which the multilateral peace treaty has been subjected by large sections in every country in which it has been openly discussed, considerable solemnity will be thrown over the occasion by the powers involved. J. T. Marriner, chief of the division of Western European affairs of the state department will sail shortly to prepare the continent for Secretary Kellogg's approach, and it is planned to have Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary and the French foreign minister, Aristide Briand, affix their signatures to the treaty at the same time that Kellogg signs for the American government.

Spend Your Vacation
AT
UNITY CAMP
WE HAVE BUNGALOW ACCOMODATIONS

Your Proletarian Summer Home

All Improvements and Conveniences

Directions: From 110th St. and 7th Ave. direct to the Camp by bus. From Grand Central or 125th St. to Wingdale and from there take our machine to the Camp. For registration inquire
1800 SEVENTH AVENUE
Corner 110th Street.
Telephone: Monument 0111.
Camp Tel.: Wingdale 10-F-12.

BUSSES LEAVE
1800 Seventh Ave.
Corner of 110th St.
Monday, 1:00 p. m.
Tuesday, 1:30 p. m.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

TO ALL OUR READERS:
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS
Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.
Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....
Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS
Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More

Now Ready
NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

TWO COMMUNIST CAMPAIGNERS
DESIGNED BY FRED ELLIS

The VOTE COMMUNIST Stamp
Printed over a background formed by the Red Hammer and Sickle with the photographs of Foster and Gitlow tastefully worked in.
To be posted on envelopes, letters, programs, shop papers, bulletins, etc.
PRICE: Book of eighty stamps, $1.00. Can be resold at 10c per page of eight stamps. Quantity lots: 55 books for $50; 90 books for $75; 125 for $100

The VOTE COMMUNIST Button
A beautiful arrangement of the photographs of Foster and Gitlow within a solid red shield.
VOTE COMMUNIST stands out.
Can be sold anywhere for a dime.
PRICE: 5c in lots up to 100; 4c in lots up to 1,000; 3c in lots up to 5,000; 2c in lots of 5,000 or over.

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY
43 East 125th St, NEW YORK, N. Y.

To Witness the Celebration of the 11th Anniversary of the NOVEMBER REVOLUTION

ACROSS EUROPE TO SOVIET RUSSIA

LAST TOUR THIS YEAR sails OCT. 17 on the express ship "Mauretania."

COST OF THE ENTIRE TOUR
$375
$25 First Payment, balance payable in installments.

FREE SOVIET VISAS
We Assist You to extend your stay so as to visit your relatives and friends in any part of the Soviet Union.

World Tourists, Inc.
69 Fifth Ave., New York
Tel. Algonquin 6900

Police Arrest Twenty-Five Workers of S. J. Cohen Company, Correspondent Writes

HANDOUTS

[illegible] Manuel Casanova, president [illegible] National Bank of Havana, [illegible] came to the United States to [illegible] methods of American bankers. [illegible] success is indicated by the fact [illegible] he has just been arrested for [illegible] of the Mann act.

* * *

Rudy's Jewelry

The jewel collection of the late Rudolph Valentino, moving picture star, has been purchased by Jules Howard and is on display at the Howard Company, 5th St. and Sixth Ave. A worker should reflect that under the capitalist system he has to put in eight to twelve hours a day hard labor to buy earrings for a movie actor.

* * *

The working class must go through a great deal of suffering before a successful proletarian revolution will free it. But little things occur from day to day to cheer workers. For instance, yesterday John Magee, New York coal and railroad baron and labor exploiter, swallowed three of his false teeth.

* * *

A Good One

"Mama, who's this fellow?"

"He's Good."

"Well perhaps he is but what's his name?"

"That's it. James W. Good, western campaign manager for Hoover."

"Well what's he good for?"

"His job is to make every farmer who earns $300 a year think prosperity's here and the republicans brought it."

"Is that why he looks so puzzled?"

"Adolph, quit eating that tooth paste."

Gems of Learning

Senator Norris—"Our (legal) procedure, particularly in our criminal courts has not kept pace with the advancing civilization of the world. We are as yet unable to convict a hundred million dollars." And another thing, senator, it will be hard to persuade a hundred million dollars to allow a change in the government which will ever make possible the conviction of a hundred million dollars.

Dr. Louis E. Bisch—"All men are tempted towards new adventures in love. All men think about them. But men, even among those who do prove disloyal, make themselves sick first in their efforts to fight down their inherent polygamous tendencies. . . . Every man should develop some interest outside of his work and his immediate family." For instance stenographers.

[illegible] Robert Petre, in Victor Berger's Milwaukee Leader—"Shall I meet any of my readers in Italy this summer? If I do, it will probably be at the Corpus Christi festival at Perugia, or it will be at the Royal Auto Race at Rome on the [illegible]." If he meets any of his working class readers this summer it will probably be at Liggett's Drug store.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, at Omaha—"Violence and strikes will accomplish nothing. Only the sane, [illegible] constructive attitude of the conference room will bring an end to this deplorable situation. . . . Is the company afraid to submit to arbitration or is it looking only to its own selfish ends. . . . Business should always stand by labor." Don't worry, Bill, it does. Class as a bandit [illegible] gun in your ribs.

FLAIANI AND FOUR OTHER PICKETS STAND GROUND

Philadelphia Clothing Workers Courageous

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA (By Mail).—Last Saturday morning at 10 a. m., 65 per cent. of the employes of the S. J. Cohen Clothing Company at 13th and Callowhill walked out because the bosses of this firm wanted to fire certain workers who are interested in organizing the shop on a union basis.

Dirty Work.

Later workers were out on picket duty and everything was quite until noon. However, scores of policemen, as well as scores of private detectives from the Ross detective agency, including the big bull Ross himself, were on hand. Ross was there looking for rough and dirty work.

At noon the captain of police from District No. 8, the 10th and Buttonwood streets police station, threatened the pickets with arrest if they did not disband immediately.

The pickets, led by Dominick Flaiani, a militant worker, and known to all workers of his trade for militant and vigorous leadership, were not frightened by these threats, and the picket line remained firm, despite the fact that the officials of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers are against the policy of mass picketing. But, of course, the picket line was small in numbers.

Threaten Flaiani.

The captain and the sergeant, seeing that the picket line did not disband, with raised clubs, rushed brutally to Flaiani, threatening him with arrest. Flaiani did not budge at this, but stood his ground firmly and insisted on his right to picket. Upon this persistence of a militant spirit, they immediately seized Flaiani and four other pickets, B. Palermo, C. LaSpina, Rea and Peter Succia.

Unfortunately for the police, they could not secure a patrol wagon for almost an hour. So the five arrested pickets, led by Flaiani, sang to the hundreds of workers who had gathered and were cheering the strikers. They sang revolutionary songs as "Bandiera Rossa" (Red Flag), "Hold the Fort," and "Solidarity Forever."

When the militant pickets were finally taken into the patrol wagon hundreds of workers waved their hands and cheered them, cursing the American democracy that does not permit the workers to make an effort to better their standard of living by peaceful picketing.

At the station house the pickets were released on bail, and they immediately returned to the picket line, undaunted.

25 Arrested.

At 5 p. m., when the picket line had been enlarged, the police charged the pickets and arrested 25 of them. All this time they had been threatening Flaiani, recognizing him as the leader and arresting him first, the second time in a period of five hours. Another worker had just left his daily work from another shop which had no connection with the picket line. Policeman No. 1686 came over to this worker and asked him what he was doing. The worker replied, "I have just left work and am going home." The policeman viciously cracked his face, severely injuring the utterly innocent worker. This incident is typical of the police methods employed by these lackeys of the Vare machine.

The 25 arrested men were later released on bail for hearing the morning after.

—C. RABIN.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 29.—Coal mining, flour milling and meat packing offered fewer jobs in Iowa in June than in May, but harvest demands absorbed considerable surplus labor, according to the U. S. employment service.

Seamen Riding Sixteen-Inch Death

It is among types of American seamen like those in the picture that the Young Workers (Communist) League is carrying on successful distributions of leaflets and other literature. The above group are shown astride the fourteen-inch guns of the battleship Texas which are soon to belch death in the coming imperialist slaughter.

PLAN BIG ANTI-WAR MEETINGS

Appeals to British Workers in Letter

NEW HAVEN, July 29.—The Workers (Communist) Party and the Young Workers (Commuinst) League of District 15, Connecticut, have arranged for big anti-war open air demonstrations to take place in most of the principal cities in the ~~state on~~ the fourteenth anniversary of the outbreak of the imperialist war of 1914-18.

These meetings, taking place in various cities between July 31 and August 6, inclusive, will be addressed by Charles Mitchell, acting district organizer of the party, and Dan Grey, district organizer of the league.

The dates and places of the meetings are as follows: New Haven, Tuesday, July 31 at 8 p. m., at the Green, Church and Chopel Sts.; New Britain, Wednesday, August 1 at 8 p. m., at the Center; Hartford, Thursday, August 2 at 7:30 p. m., at Buckingham and Main Sts.; Stamford, Friday, August 3 at 7:30 p. m., on the Town Hall steps; Bridgeport, Saturday, August 4 at 8 p. m., at Bank and Main Sts., and in New London, Monday, August 6 at 8 p. m., at Bank and Main Sts.

All preparations have been made for a successful anti-war demonstration in cities like New Haven, Bridgeport and New London, the former two being the center of war industry and the latter one of the biggest naval bases in the country.

In arranging these anti-war meetings, it is the aim of the Party and the Young Workers League to bring home to the workers of this state the disastrous results of the last world war, which cost the working class of the world over ten million lives and untold misery and degradation, and to warn against the frenzied preparations on the part of the imperialists for another world slaughter.

CUBA JAILS FOR CANCER TORTURE

HAVANA, July 30.—The innoculation of cancer into prisoners as an alternative to the death penalty has been proposed by Cuban medical and health officials. It is proposed that prisoners condemned to death should be given the choice of allowing themselves to be inoculated with cancer, in which case they would remain for twelve years under medical observation for experimentation and study of the disease and its developments and methods of cure. If the prisoner survives these twelve years he would be freed to die outside the prison.

The proposal is to go before the Cuban congress for legislative action. At present the Cuban convicts condemned to death are executed by the old Spanish system of the "garrote," by which the condemned is chocked to death by an iron ring placed around his neck and a turr screw, which is forced into the back of the neck.

BILLINGS CALLS FOR AID IN FIGHT

Workers Party to Hold Demonstrations

Continued from Page One

ers' Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. During the years 1913, 1914, 1915 and 1916 I was an active participant in many strikes—some of my own trade, and some in other trades with which I was sympathetic. During part of that time I was president of Local 216 (San Francisco, Cal.), of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union and a delegate to the San Francisco Labor Council and also to the International Workers' Defense League. In short, I was an active progressive in the labor movement along with Thomas J. Mooney, Edward D. Nolan and others.

"Early in 1916 we were all interested in an attempt to organize the Electric Railway Workers of San Francisco and this, coupled with our other activities, won us the enmity of various public utilities corporations which subsequently sought to remove us from their path to lower wages and obtain greater profits.

"On July 22, 1916, during a patriotic demonstration, known at the time as the "Preparedness Parade," a bomb of some sort was exploded at the intersection of two of the principal streets of the city and 11 persons were killed and 40 more injured. It was a deplorable catastrophe and a heinous crime, but the corporations who sought our removal from the field of labor lost no time whatever in turning it to their advantage, and in a very short time they had us all in prison charged with the crime. Five of us were arrested—Thomas J. Mooney, Mrs. Rena Mooney, his wife, Edward D. Nolan, Israel Weinberg and myself.

Absolutely No Evidence.

"There was obsolutely no evidence to connect us with the crime, but that made no difference to the corporations and their private detectives. They hired ex-convicts, prostitutes, drug addicts, and criminals of any and all stripes to appear as witnesses against us, and the result was that both Mooney and I were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. Mrs. Mooney and Weinberg were both acquitted on the selfsame evidence upon which we were convicted, but that was after we had exposed the bulk of the testimony as rank perjury. Nolan was never tried at all, but was released after nine months' imprisonment.

"The high courts sustained the convictions against us and maintain that they have no power to liberate us, but that we must appeal to the governor of California for pardon. This we have done, but the governor does not seem willing to pardon us. We have asked International Labor Defense to campaign in our behalf.

"On July 22, this year, it will be 12 years that we have been in prison and unless the spirit of the workers of the entire world is aroused, we shall no doubt languish in prison for 12 years more. International Labor defense is working for our release in conjunction with other friends of liberty and justice and we trust that you too will add aid and assistance to the great body of protest that is being organized in our behalf.

"Trusting that we may depend upon your co-operation and support and assuring you of the sympathy and unity of American workers with the workers of Great Britain, I am,

"Sincerely and fraternally yours,
(Signed) "WARREN K. BILLINGS,
"No. 10699, Represa, Calif."

WORKERS IN CAFE DECIDES UNION MAY BE USEFUL

Amalgamated Urged to Issue Leaflets

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Some time ago I had a conversation with a dishwasher. In the course of our conversation I asked him whether he was a union man.

"No," he replied, "there is no union in my line of work."

"Yes, there is; and the name of it is the Amalgamated Food Workers' Union," I told him.

"Is that so? Well, I never thought of it. But can you show me a restaurant that is operated by union help?"

"Yes, I will show you many." I asked him to go over to the Cooperative Restaurant on Union Square. Besides, I wanted to show him several other places operated by union help.

"That is very good," he said, "but I do not believe that the union can better my condition and help me secure more pay."

I cited many examples to him of how workers in his trade obtained more money and better conditions That was only through having a union. I then asked him how many hours he worked per day.

12 Hours a Day.

"Twelve hours a day, from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. I get two half days off during the week."

"Well, don't you think 12 hours is too much for a day's work? Don't you think that eight hours a day is sufficient," I asked him.

"I think that I am better off by working twelve hours a day. This gives me a chance to save my money since I have no time to go any place," he answered.

"So you're a philorophor and a human being. A horse works and sleeps, too. What's the difference between you and a horse?"

To this argument I received no reply. I gave him examples showing workers who labor eight hours a day receive more money and are better treated than those who work twelve hours per day.

Join Now.

"Guess you're right. I never thought of that," he replied.

"I sure am right, lad, 'for the union makes us strong.' In union there is strength. Your place is in the union. Join it now."

"I'll think it over. Anyway, your talk was worth while."

"If you want to know something about trade unionism, read The DAILY WORKER. You can buy it at any newsstand."

"I shall. So long. Hope to see you again," and off he went.

This is a simple incident that shows that even workers who are hostile to trade unionism can be won over to the workers' cause after proper talk. They think as they do because capitalist society has forced them to learn what it wished ever since they were children.

The Amalgamated Food Workers' Union should issue leaflets about its union and they surely will get a good response.

It can be done.
It must be done! N. B.

Ring Lardner Comedy 'Elmer the Great', Here in September

GEORGE M. COHAN has definitely set his first play for this season. This will be "Elmer the Great" a baseball comedy by Ring Lardner, and will open here in September. The play is now running in Chicago with Walter Houston playing the leading role.

G. M. Cohan

"By request" by J. C. Elliott Nugent, will be tried out in Newark, before going to Chicago, where it is scheduled to begin a run on August 20.

Other productions listed by Cohan will be a musical show for Polly Walker, who made such a hit in his production of "The Merry Malones." The musical comedy will have a run in Boston before coming here. Grant Mitchell, last seen here in "The Baby Cyclone," is also scheduled to star in a new play.

SCENE FROM "CZAR IVAN"

Two of the important players in a tense scene from "Czar Ivan the Terrible," showing this week at the Cameo Theatre.

Myron C. Fagan's new play "The Great Power" will be seen two weeks in Philadelphia before its New York premier, opening at the Adelphi Theatre, Philadelphia, August 27, and coming into the Ritz Theatre, September 10.

Minna Gombell is featured.

Besides Marie Saxon, who has been engaged for the prima donna role in "Ups-A-Daisy," Lewis E. Gensler's forthcoming musical comedy, Bobbie Perkins, the dancer who made her debut in the "Garrick Gaieties will also be in the production.

Butler Davenport will offer a bill of three one-act plays at his theatre on East Twenty-Seventh Street tonight. These include, "The Affected Young Ladies" by Moliere, "Swan Song," by Tchekhov and English farce "Little Toddleskins."

The Lenox Hill Players, who have taken over the Cherry Lane Theatre, will stage this season a posthumous Andreyev play, "The Days of Our Life." Herman Bernstein did the translation.

CONTROL WORLD CABLE SYSTEMS

Huge Communications Merger Planned

OTTAWA, Ontario, July 28.—The report of the Imperial Wireless and Cable Conference of 1928, issued here yesterday, disclosed a plan proposing a world-wide merger and control of cables and wireless by the British government. The merger company would include all companies of the British dominions, protectorates and colonies and would control virtually all major lines of communication.

The report states that British control of all the companies will be guaranteed and that the government will assume control of the cable and wireless systems in time of war or other emergencies. The right to build stations and lines solely for military purposes is reserved by the merger company, under supervision of the English government.

The merger, which went into effect as of April 1, 1928, includes the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company, Eastern Extension and Western Telegraph Companies, the Pacific Cable Board, the West Indian Cable and Wireless system, the Imperial Atlantic Cables and all post office stations and beams.

Although the Canadian Wireless Company will be allowed to maintain a parallel independent service it will be subject to immediate incorporation into the British government merger in times of emergency.

The boards of directors of the mergers must be approved by the English government on the suggestion of the cable companies. The government will thus retain complete control of the communications merger.

On matters of policy the company will have to refer to an advisory board which will consist of government representatives.

The report warns against "certain foreign interests to secure an increased share in the control and operation of world communications" and says that the merger will virtually eliminate foreign competition.

MORE JOBLESS IN BRITAIN

LONDON, July 29.—The amount of unemployed in Great Britain June 11 of this year totaled 1,149,900, as compared with 1,028,700 on June 13, 1927.

Youth of Bulgaria Defies White Terror

SOFIA, July 29.—The Bulgarian youth movement has not been permitted legal existence for five years. Under the fascist rule, working class youth organizations are forbidden and every effort is made to prevent the spread of revolutionary ideas among the working class youth.

In spite of the White Terror, the underground youth movement is very active, and at the present moment has sections in about 30 places. The conditions under which the youth work is very difficult, and legal conventions are impossible.

A conference held May 24, in which 53 delegates took part, was raided by the police. In spite of everything, the working class youth remains active.

HIT NATIONAL GUARD AS TOOL OF OPERATORS

Point to Kenosha As Example

(By a Worker Correspondent)

Another exposure of the purpose of the national guard and capitalist militarism in general as a strikebreaking agency comes from Kenosha, Wis.

The city council of Kenosha recently sent a request for use of the national guard in the hosiery workers' strike. Unable to break the strike with the power of the local police, the national guardsmen had to be called in.

Fight Against Own Interests.

What does this mean? It shows the importance of the national guard as a tool of the bosses, and that many workers who enlist are used against their own interest. Workers from one industry are used against those of another, and occasionally against their own strikes, as happened in the Henderson, N. C., textile strike. When the police can not succeed in breaking a strike, the national guard is the next line of the bosses' strength.

The answer of the governor of Wisconsin was that the efforts of the local authorities should be intensified, and that if again unsuccessful the request for the national guard should be repeated. This does not lessen the significance of the case, for the governor is reluctant to use the national guard when the police could use their clubs more effectively. The city council exposed itself and this matter must be taken up by the workers.

Appeal to Youth.

The Young Workers (Communist) League plans an appeal to youth organizations for a united front against the use of the national guard as a strike-breaker. This case must be used to expose militarism. The national guardsmen, who come from the ranks of the workers, must be shown the role for which they are used, so that they will refuse to be used as strike-breakers and that when called upon to fight against their fellow workers, they will use their military knowledge for their own class against the bosses.

—J. B.

Over 10,000,000 Out of Work Many Years

PARIS, July 29.—At the recent International Social Conference held here, it was stated that at no time during the past few years had the total of unemployed in the world fallen below 10,000,000.

Prevention of unemployment was declared the most important problem, and relief of unemployment was placed in second rank.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family
in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded If Not Satisfied With Play.

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:35
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S
MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

ALBEE KEITH-
REFRIGERATED
CAMEO
COOL AND COMFORTABLE
42nd St. and Broadway
NOW
FILM ARTS GUILD presents
"CZAR IVAN THE TERRIBLE"
with LEONIDOFF and Moscow Art Players
AND ON THE SAME PROGRAM— "POTEMKIN" THE RUSSIAN FILM CLASSIC

DAILY WORKER
ANNUAL PICNIC
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19
10 A. M. TO MIDNIGHT
PLEASANT BAY PARK
ADMISSION 35 CENTS

Good Books for Workers

Workers Library Publishers

We carry a full line of literature for workers: Fiction, history olitics, social studies, books on Soviet Russia, etc.

We publish the Communist — monthly theoretical organ of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Write for a list of our latest publications and watch our daily announcements in The DAILY WORKER for new books and pamphlets.

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th St., New ork City

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates

2 weeks 65c	1 month $1
2 months $1.50	3 months $2

Enclosed find $............
for ..... months / weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y.

BOOKS

Spend An Enjoyable and Useful Vacation
Take Along a Book!

Soviet Russia in the Second Decade—Edited by Chase, Dunn and Tugwell .... Price: 2:50
The Diary of a Communist Schoolboy—By Ognyov
Price: 2.50
Leninism—By Stalin .... Price: 2.50
Organization of a World Party—By O. Piatnitsky
Price: 15 cents
The Communist Nucleus—By M. Jenks
Price: 15 cents
Fifteenth Congress of the CPSU .... Prce: 50 cents

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 E. 125th St., New York City

COMMITTEE Y. WORKERS AID MINERS

Trades Attend g Meeting

ference for miners' relief day evening at Bryant 120 delegates present, hich were cloakmakers, goods workers, and food ers, furriers, milliners, formed a permanent shop for miners' relief, com an executive committee of out of the conference.

t steps of the new com will be the taking of weekly ections for the purchase medical aid and the supply fense funds for the strik and their families, many lying in jail on various charges. Besides the from among all the work h shop, the delegates lunteered to tax them certain amount of their wages for relief and de k.

ions were unanimously pledging full support to the their formation of a new condemning the sell-out rupt Lewis machine. Be rning, the conference orsed the Miners' Solid of August 5th, to be held Bay Park. Thousands are expected to attend as evidence of their with the striking miners.

ORS DENIED MAGES IN BILL

ANY, N. Y., July 29 (UP). inor cannot recover damages his father for damages sus d in an automobile accident, the of appeals has decided.

Sorrentine, through his nd guardian, Caroline Sor emanded $20,000 damages father, Frank Sorrentine court dismissed the com he appellate division upheld court.

youth appealed to the highest which also upheld the trial declaring that an action for injuries may not be main against a parent by an un ated minor child.

father made a denial of a driving charge.

SSES, BATTY AKE NEW MOVE

on Protests Judge Milliken's Action

Continued from Page One

Raymundo, 18-year-old picket bailed out for the third yesterday, was chairman. El Dawson made a special appeal the English members of the Textile Workers to live up their militant traditions of Brit workers and reject the yellow ership of Batty.

multaneously another huge took place in the North End. E. Beale, recently released jail; Pelczar, Lameiras and addressed this meeting.

tense expectation with which tire city awaited Saturday's was not dissipated by its ement. The citizens' com which had collected over signatures demanding that uthorities permit the parade, announced that it will continue signatures but, since the has been postponed, it will asking the mayor to grant a for the time being.

Union Protests.

Milliken has refused con in the cases of the six cap arrested yesterday and the is protesting what it consid dangerous precedent.

The trial opened with no lawyer the defense. Donnelly the stand and engaged in a bout with the police complain who charged that he refused the line at the Kilburn Friday. There was also a sharp with the judge.

In New Maneuver.

to the state board of arbi proposals offered yester a conference of officials of Council and the manu have been requested for details of the conference are being carefully it has been learned from sources that an arbitration involving the appointment of a of three, one each from Textile Council, the New Bed Manufacturers' Association and arbitration board, has been It will be the object of committee to name one man single decision will be bind the strikers.

Textile Mills Committee is to issue a statement on collaboration of the manu and the Batty leadership Textile Council.

VANSVILLE, Ind., (FP) July The Indiana State Federation opens its annual convention ville Sept. 11.

4,000 Pampered Athletes Battle for Mastery in Sports Spectacle

Four thousand athletes, representing 46 countries, yesterday began their battle for mastery at the quadrennial Olympic games at Amsterdam, Holland. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are involved in this inflated sports spectacle for which the athletes are carefully trained and pampered months in advance. Photo shows an air view of the stadium in which the games are being held.

SAILOR IS PUNISHED FOR BEING INJURED

A sailor of the Pacific Fleet was forced to risk his life—to go into a lifeboat without line and with boots on—and when somebody let go the tackle, he was thrown into the water. Before he could be picked up, he was struck by the bow of the U. S. S. Arizona and his ankle broken.

Thrown in Dungeon.

The authorities, themselves responsible punished the sailor severely for being hurt. He was thrown into the dungeon on bread and water and fined $300, which means that he will get no more pay during his enlistment. When the sailor took the matter up with the Division Admiral, he was told to "drop it."

Letter Received by "Daily."

A letter from this sailor, telling of his treatment in the service, has been received by the Daily Worker. The reference to "Crouch's Demands" refers to the official demands of the Young Workers Communist League for servicemen. An article in the Daily Worker telling of these demands was signed by Paul Crouch.

The letter from the serviceman follows:

"Editor Daily Worker:

"I have read the article by Paul Crouch in your paper and I want to say that he is right in most cases with his demands for changes in the service.

'I am writing to tell you about my own troubles in the hope that you will be able to publish it so that others will understand better the actual conditions in the navy.

Forced to Risk Life.

About two months ago when my ship was en route to Hawaii for battle-practice we were going full speed in formation off the West Coast of Mexico. I was at work in one of the starboard lifeboats, getting the tackle in proper shape. The coxswain had ordered me in the boat without a line about me although I had protested that I might fall overboard. (You know, a lifeboat is swang from two divets that suspend it over the side of the ship). Well somebody either purposely or accidentally let go the tackle and I was thrown into the water and narrowly missed the divet which also fell. I was wearing boots and only after a hard struggle was I able to rise to the surface again. The S. S. Arizona was next in line behind us, and, although she changed her course as soon as an alarm was given, the Arizona's bow hit me, breaking an ankle and bruising me severely. I was picked up, more dead than alive and sent to the hospital (sick bay)

Seriously Injured.

"Today my ankle is twice its normal size and the bones bulge out where they shouldn't because the doctor that treated me probably had a 'pull' in Washington and got his job on friendship—he certainly did not know much about setting bones

30 Days Bread and Water.

"Eventually I was returned to my ship for trial. (As soon as I left sick bay I was put in the brig). At my trial the coxswain who sent me in the lifeboat without a line was dishonorably discharged from the service. Two other sailors, partially responsible for the accident, were given short brig sentences and lost a portion of their pay. But I— well I was sentenced to thirty days bread and water, in a rotten hole three decks below. I will lose over three hundred dollars of my pay (which means that I will not draw another cent during the duration of my enlistment) and will not be allowed shore leave for months to come besides getting all the dirty work they can hand me.

Told to "Drop It."

"I took the whole matter up with our division admiral and he told me to drop it as my enlistment will expire at the end of the year. That's the kind of 'justice' that they hand out in this navy. Since I was not to blame for the accident at all, and since a broken ankle and thirty days bread and water seemed enough punishment I had hoped to get my pay refunded. Sometimes though I don't care much for I've learned my lesson—here's one sailor that knows when he's got enough. I'll go to jail for life before I'll put on another uniform for a country that hands out the treatment I got and calls it 'justice.'

"If you publish this letter, do not use my name—I'm not out of the service yet.

"Yours for the realiation of Crouch's demands,

"DISABLED SEAMAN.

"U S. S. Battle Fleet
"Division 3."

India Textile Mills Tied Up by Strike

WASHINGTON, (FP) JULY 29.—Cabled reports to the U. S. Department of Commerce from India show that Bombay textile mills are tied up by strikes, although there are some signs that an early settlement may be had. Steel workers in the Tata district continue to hold out. Railway strikers in Eastern India have been starved back to work after a desperate struggle against hunger.

YESTERDAY'S BALL GAMES

American League

Cleveland, 24; New York, 6.
Philadelphia, 8; St. Louis, 3.
Chicago, 5; Washington, 1.
Boston, 5; Detroit, 2.

National League

New York, 4; Chicago 3 (1st).
Chicago, 3; New York, 1 (2nd).
Cincinnati, 6; Brooklyn, 5.

Fake Progressive Party Organized in Nebraska

OMAHA, NEB., July 29—A so-called "Progressive" Party was formed in Omaha last night. Dr. Henry Hoffman, after two false starts Tuesday, delivered the keynote speech of the national convention before the 13 delegates—all from Nebraska—who attended.

"This party is not the Bull Moose Party," Dr. Hoffman declared, "But if the Bull Moosers work with us, we will be glad to have them."

By virtue of proxies from other states, Hoffman assumed the role of temporary chairman. Then he delivered his keynote speech and after that adopted his own platform with the statement that "this meeting will be written into history."

MINE BANNER IS SENT TO DETROIT

RENTON, Pa., July 29—The solidarity banner, embroidered by the wives of two striking miners of Renton, Pa., Mrs. Martin Strahar and Mrs. John Cairn, was completed today and sent to the National Miners' Relief Committee of Detroit, 1967 Grand River ave. The organization affiliated with the relief committee which makes the greatest showing of solidarity in the National Miners Relief and Defense week drive, will win the trophy.

Renton's appreciation of solidarity is embroidered in gold on a crimson background, and edged with a heavy golden fringe. The banner was carried from end to end of the barrack patch today, before it was sent to Detroit. The children formed a procession, running from door to door. More than 800 families who have been fed solely by the National Miners Relief Committee since April are sending the banner as a symbol of their appreciation.

WANTED—Large light room with all improvements. Apply Box 1, Daily Worker.

Advertise your union meetings here. For information write to
The DAILY WORKER
Advertising Dept.
26-28 Union Sq., New York City

AMALGAMATED FOOD WORKERS
Bakers' Local 164
Meets 1st Saturday in the month at 3468 Third Ave. Bronx, N. Y.
Ask for Union Label Bread

MINERS' DRIVE REACHES CLIMAX

Big Mass Collections in Every City

PITTSBURGH, July 29. — The climax of the National Miners Relief and Defense Week activities will be reached today and tomorrow when 200,000 workers, armed with collection lists, will participate in a mass house to house collection campaign and tag days in hundreds of cities in this country and Canada. Hunger banquets are being held everywhere. Truckloads of miners come to the Pittsburgh headquarters of the National Miners Relief Committee at 611 Penn Ave. every day, to help rush supplies to every relief and defense committee participating.

Reach 2,000,000 People.

"If each one of the 200,000 workers who have proved their loyalty to the miners in this great struggle by their work in the past, visit 10 sympathizers, over 2,000,000 people in Canada and every corner of the United States will be reached," computes Alfred Wagenknecht, relief director. "This is the most far-reaching campaign for miners' aid ever attempted, but the situation in the strike fields has never been so critical during the entire period of the fight as it is today."

The collection lists, which are printed in folder form, tell the story of the strike, the arrests, hunger and hardships in the strike fields, in pictures and letters from the National Miners Relief Committee and the International Labor Defense.

Nickels, quarters and dollars for relief and defense will be collected at the factory gates, at lodges, unions and from house to house. More than 30,000 organizations will be reached and asked to take collections at their meetings and make donations out of their treasuries.

Need is Acute.

Because the circulation of lists is so tremendous, and the need so acute, the time limit cannot be complied with, and the campaign will continue well into next week. Tens of thousands of lists are still in the mails, and more are going out daily.

"Every worker who has already received a contribution list must collect as much as possible, no matter how little," the relief committee urges. "If you haven't a list, get one from the National Miners Relief Committee in your city or from the International Labor Defense headquarters, or write for one directly to the Pittsburgh relief center. One Ford factory worker sent in $300 already. Every organization must again take up the question of helping the miners in their struggle, and send contributions to 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh..

CO-OPERATIVE
Dental Clinic
2700 Bronx Park East
Ap't C. I.
TEL. ESTABROOK 0568.
DR. I. STAMLER
Surgeon-Dentist
DIRECTOR
OPEN: Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs. from 10 to 8 P. M. Saturday and Sunday from 10 to 7 P. M.

I. STERNBERG
Optometrist
Eyes Examined—Glasses Fitted
916 Prospect Ave. Cor E. 162 St.
BRONX, N. Y.
Telephone—Kilpatrick 8448

РУССКИЙ ЗУБНОЙ ВРАЧ
Dr JOSEPH B. WEXLER
Surgeon Dentist
25 yrs. in practice. Moderate prices.
223 SECOND AV. NEW YORK
Temple Courts Bldg.

Dr. J. Mindel Dr. L. Hendin
Surgeon Dentists
1 UNION SQUARE
Room 803 Phone, Algonquin 8183

STRIKING COAL MINER MAY LOSE HIS FURNITURE

Court Acts to Collect Unpaid Rent

(Special to the Daily Worker)

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—A "notice of distress" has been served upon Anthony Calamari, a striking miner of Charleroi by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Anden, threatening to sell everything in his household tomorrow. Unless his unpaid rent is raised somehow, the Calamaris and their four little children will find themselves without a bed to sleep in, or a roof over their heads Monday night. A complete inventory of the miner's "property" is listed on the warrant. A stove, table, chairs, cupboard, three beds and one hot plate are among the fourteen items of "property distrained."

Mine Leader.

Calamari is a leading rank and file organizer in Washington County, recently elected to a union office by progressive miners. Calamari's ruddy, smiling face is familiar in the mining camps through the valley, where he is constantly making the rounds in order to maintain the organization and fight the open-shop.

Calamari's family is living on the relief sent to Charleroi by the National Miners' Relief Committee of 611 Penn Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Money is a rarity in the strike camps. All of Calamari's friends are in the same position that he is in, so he cannot turn to them for help. This morning the miner appealed to the relief committee. But the funds the relief committee has must be used to buy flour and potatoes for thousands of hungry families. The $40 which he requires must feed 40 families.

Serious Plight.

Charles Sanders, another progressive leader of Curtisville, is in the same fix. His rent bill is $12. There is no room in the over-crowded barracks for his wife and their six children. The only thing that can save the miners is an immediate contribution from sympathizers.

LABOR IS ACTIVE IN DEFENSE WEEK

Miners' Relief Drive In All Cities

(Special to The DAILY WORKER)

PITTSBURGH, July 29—The nation-wide drive for miners' relief and defense now being conducted jointly by the National Miners' Relief Committee and the International Labor Defense has stirred the interest and attention of thousands of workers in practically every large city and in scores of districts, according to an announcement issued today from the headquarters of the relief committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh.

"This is the big week," a call by the committee to the labor movement declares. "Every man, woman and child in sympathy with the struggling coal miners will co-operate fully in our national miners' relief and defense week."

The relief and defense week, which began last Sunday, will conclude on Saturday and Sunday, July 28 and 29, with a big house to house collection campaign conducted in all cities and sections.

Communications and remittances should be made to the National Miners' Relief Committee, 611 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, the call says.

Phone Stuyvesant 3816
John's Restaurant
SPECIALTY: ITALIAN DISHES
A place with atmosphere where all radicals meet.
302 E. 12th ST. NEW YORK

Health Food
Vegetarian Restaurant
1600 MADISON AVE.
PHONE: UNIVERSITY 5865

All Comrades Meet at
BRONSTEIN'S
VEGETARIAN HEALTH RESTAURANT
558 Claremont P'kway Bronx

Rational
Vegetarian Restaurant
199 SECOND AVE.
Bet. 12th and 13th Sts.
Strictly Vegetarian Food.

WE ALL MEET
at the
NEW WAY CAFETERIA
101 WEST 27th STREET
NEW YORK

Workers Party Activities

Units, branches, nuclei, etc. of the Workers (Communist) Party and the Young Workers (Communist) League in New York City are asked to send notices of their activities to this column. There is no charge. All notices must arrive one day in advance to ensure publication.

* * *

Public Speaking Class.

The public speaking class of sections 2 and 3 of the Workers (Communist) Party will meet regularly for a period of four weeks, every Tuesday evening at 8 oclock, at 101 West 27th Street.

* * *

FD 3, Section 2, Sub sec. E Meeting.

Today at 6 p. m., unit FD 3, Sec 2. Subsection E will hold its party day meeting, at its regular meeting place, 108 East 14th St. All members must be present; failing to do so will be reported to the district.

* * *

Downtown Y. W. L.

Downtown units Nos. 1 and 2, of the Young Workers League, will hold a joint comeraderie, Friday, August 3rd, at 60 St. Marks Place.

A good program has been arranged. All comrades are invited to attend, and are requested to bring non-league members with them.

Pioneer Leader

Special session Class will be held at 8:00 p. m. at the Workers School, 26-28 Union Sq. A comrade of the District Agit-Prop Department of the League will lead a discussion on the 14th Anniversary of the war. All comrades engaged in Pioneer work must be present.

* * *

Branch 5, Section 5.

A very important question will be discussed at the regular meeting Tuesday at 2075 Clinton Avenue at 8:30 sharp.

* * *

Subsection 3C Meeting.

All units of subsection 3C will meet today at 6:30 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. The election of campaign directors and other important matters will take place. All members must attend.

* * *

Branch 4, Section 5.

Branch 4, Section 5 will hold a meeting to observe the 14th anniversary of the World War. Comrade Berney will lead the discussion on "Communist Tactics in the Next War."

* * *

Branch 6.

Branch 6 announces the opening of Campaign Headquarters in the 6th Assembly District, Bronx at 2700 Bronx Park East, Home of the United Workers Cooperative Association. An appeal is made to all Workers Party members and sympathizers to report nightly to the above headquarters for campaign work. The immediate job on hand is the task of getting signatures on the petition to place the Workers Party on the ballot. Comrade Leo Zaancer in charge of the campaign of that district will be at the headquarters nightly to issue instructions.

* * *

Section 7, Speakers Class.

Section 7 Speakers Class will meet Tuesday at the campaign headquarters, 1373 43rd St., Brooklyn. All members of the class are asked to report promptly at 8 p. m.

* * *

Brownsville Y. W. L. Meet.

The Brownsville unit of the Young Workers (Communist) League has arranged two open air meetings which will be held on the following dates and places with the following speakers:

Monday, at Hopkinson and Pitkin Aves.—Frum, Palchik, Gudesman, M. Mellman and Lipshitz.

Tuesday at Hopkinson and Utica Aves.—Kass, Mellman and Williams.

* * *

The following open air meetings for next week have been arranged by District 2 of the Workers (Communist) Party:

Monday, July 30

Rudgers Square—Wright, Milgrom, Baum, Schalk, and I Cohen.

First Ave., and 49th St., N. Y.—Schachtman, LeRoy, Gussakoff, Reiss, and Blake.

Tuesday, July 31.

Grand St. Est., and Havemyer, B'klyn—Bimba, Rosemond and G. Welsh

Sutter and Williams, B'klyn—Nessin, Lipzin, Ed. Welsh, and Joe Cohen.

Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Myrtle and Prince, B'klyn—Padmore, Suskin and Napoli.

Eagle Pencil Co. (noon)—P. Crouch.

25 Dayton Ave., Passaic—Marshal, Freiman and Erdy.

Thursday, Aug. 2.

Hendrix and Sutter Ave., B'klyn—Padgug, Silber and Pasternack.

Steinway and Jamaica, L. I.—Powers, Baum, Harfield and Heder.

138th St., and Annes Ave., Bronx—Jacobson, Wortis, Shapiro, Welch and Moore.

40th St. and 8th Ave., N. Y.—Yusem and V. Smith.

Allerton and Cruger., Ave Bronx—Bentall, Leibowitz, Peer, Wilkes and Cibulsky.

24th St. and Mermaid Ave., C. I.—Huiswood, Hendin and Ballam.

Loose Wells Biscuit Co., L. I.—B. Miller. (noon)

National Biscuit Co (noon)—Grecht,

Friday, August 3.

and Rosa.

Bristol and Pitkins, B'klyn—Ragozin and Lypsin.

Varet and Graham, B'klyn—Magliacno, H. Williams, Lillienstein, Taft and Severino.

5th Ave. and 110th St., N. Y.—Trachtenberg, Lyons, Codkind, Reiss and LeRoy.

Market and Plaza, Newark, N. J.—Markoff and Stanley.

Saturday, August 4.

First Ave., and 79th St.—Bentall, Auerbach, Blake and Lillienstein.

13th Ave. and 42nd St., B'klyn—Padgug, Suskin, Lustig and Magliacano.

West N. Y., N. J., 14th St. and Bergenline—Wright and Schalk.

* * *

"Fight War Danger."

"Fight the War Danger" leaflets and accompanying election campaign contribution envelopes are now ready in the district office. Every campaign director must call for these at once for distribution at open-air meetings. They must be used at every meeting up to August 4th.

* * *

Party Days!

All comrades, including all functionaries, are instructed to attend unit meetings held during this period, to take up important tasks in connection with the election campaign standing. Section and unit executives and to place themselves in good are instructed to prepare a special order of business for the meetings to be held on the Party Days.

* * *

Party Membership Meeting.

The comrades in the units are asked to take note of the fact that there will be a Party membership meeting Wednesday, August 1st at Manhattan Lyceum, 66 E. 4th St. No other meetings are to be arranged to conflict with this date.

Note is also to be taken of the fact that on Saturday afternoon, August 4, the anniversary of the World War opening, there will be an open air demonstration at Union Square under the auspices of the Workers Party. All units are to make arrangements for mobilizing masses of workers to attend.

District Executive Committee, District 2, John J. Ballam, Acting District Organizer.

* * *

Note For Literature Agents.

The National Party platform is out. All section literature agents are urged to procure bundles of them at the Workers Book Shop, 26-28 Union Square. Additional copies of the "Communist" for July are also available.

* * *

Subsection 3E.

Subsection 3E will hold a membership meeting on Tuesday, 6:15 p. m. at 101 West 27th St. All members must come on time, because action will be taken against members who fail to answer at the roll call.

Labor and Fraternal Organizations

Labor and fraternal organizations in New York City and vicinity are asked to send notices of their activities to this column. There is no charge. All notices must arrive one day in advance to ensure publication.

* * *

Workingclass Housewives.

Council No. 5 of Coney Island, will hold a beach party, on Tuesday afternoon, July 31st, on the 28th St., beach, near the Half Moon Hotel. The party will start at 1 p. m. Ray Ragozin will speak and Peretz Shickman will entertain. Councils of Brighton Beach and Bath Beach, also all working class women of the neighborhood are invited to participate.

* * *

Working Women's Federation.

On the eve of the anniversary of the World War, the New York Working Women's Federation is calling a delegate meeting of shop representatives and delegates of its affiliated organizations at Labor Temple 14th St. and 2nd Ave. at 7:30 sharp August 2, 1928. At this conference the causes of war, and the methods to be used in fighting the war danger will be discussed by women prominent in the labor movement. Women organizations are invited to send delegates, and girls working in shops are invited to represent their shops at this conference.

* * *

Washington Heights, Attention!

The second meeting of the Washington Heights Culture Club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Arnow, 100 Northern Ave., corner 181 St., Apt. 33. All those interested are urged to be present to help build up this new undertaking.

RUSSIAN
Taught by professional teacher; university graduate; instructor in Russian at Berlitz School of Languages.
MICHAEL M. JERLITZYN
2013 Fifth Ave., N. Y. C.
Harlem 5560

"For Any Kind of Insurance"
CARL BRODSKY
7 E. 42d St. New York City
Telephone Murray Hill 5550.

MARY WOLFE
STUDENT OF THE DAMROSCH CONSERVATORY
PIANO LESSONS
Moved to
2420 Bronx Park East
Near Co-operative Colony, Apt. 5H
Telephone EASTABROOK 2459
Special rates to students from the Co-operative House.

Unity Co-operators Patronize
SAM LESSER
Ladies' and Gents' Tailor
1818 — 7th Ave. New York
Between 110th and 111th Sts.
Next to Unity Co-operative House

Tel. Pulaski 1770. Res. 167 Pulaski St. Tel. Pulaski 5216.
Insure with
DAVID OSHINSKY
GENERAL INSURANCE
Office: 60 Graham Ave., Brooklyn.
Fire, Life, Public Liability, Compensation Automobile, Accident, Health.

No Tip Center Barber Shop
NEW WORKERS CENTER
26-28 Union Sq. 1 Flight Up
NEW YORK CITY
Individual Sanitary Service by Experts.—LADIES' HAIR BOBBING SPECIALISTS.
Patronize a Comradely Barber Shop

BLOODHOUNDS HUNT FOUR MEN IN TEXAS CITY

'Shoot to Kill' Is Order to Posse

HOUSTON, Texas, July 29.—Four prisoners who rebelled at the intolerable prison conditions and fought their way to freedom were late yesterday being hunted by 150 armed men with 35 bloodhounds in the swamps near Richmond, 20 miles from here. Four other convicts, who joined their companions in the revolt, have already been captured. All four were wounded by the armed man-hunters.

R. J. Flanagan, leader of the posse and manager of the three prison farms at Sugar Land, has issued orders to his men to "shoot to kill." The remaining 474 prisoners on Imperial Farm 2 are being herded in their cells instead of being sent to work in the fields because most of the guards have joined the hunt.

CONN. CARPET WORKERS STRIKE

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., July 26 (UP).—Between 250 and 4? employes in the Jacquard department of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Company went on strike today.

The workers, most of them weavers, left the mill after their committee and company representatives had failed in a two hours' conference to settle differnces.

Workers Cooperative Clothiers, Inc.
WORKERS CO-OPERATIVE CLOTHIERS INC.
SUITS MADE TO ORDER.
READY MADE SUITS.
Quality—Full Value
872 BROADWAY, N. Y
Cor. 18th St.—Tel. Algonquin 2223

NOW OPEN
Workers Book Shop
Temporary Headquarters:
26-28 UNION SQUARE
1 Flight Up
Books, Pamphlets, Magazines, on all subjects.
OPEN DAILY UNTIL 9 P. M.

Put the Party on the Ballot

All Party members and all sympathizers are asked to report for duty to collect signatures to put the Party on the ballot at the following headquarters which are open every evening:

Section 1—Downtown Manhattan—60 St. Marks Place
Section 4—Harlem—43 East 103rd St.
Section 5—Bronx—2075 Clinton Ave.
Section 6—Williamsburg—29 Graham Avenue
Section 7—Boro Park, 764 40th St.
Section 8—Brownsville, 154 Watkins St.

Dividends Paid From the First of July
CONSUMERS FINANCE CORPORATION
Subsidiary of the United Workers' Co-operative Ass'n.
6% dividends are being paid from the first day of deposit on gold bonds in denominations of $100, $300, $500 and $1,000 secured by the second mortgage of the second block of houses in the Co-operative Workers' Colony.
Offices: 69—5th Ave., New York, N. Y.
TELEPHONE: ALGONQUIN 6900.
2700 Bronx Park East (Co-operative Workers' Colony)

Daily Worker

Published by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): $8 per year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months
Address and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor..........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor................WM. F. DUNNE

Entered as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
For the Workers! Against the Capitalists!

Hoover Steals a Nation

Herbert Hoover did nothing out of keeping with his regular role when as secretary of commerce, he used the dirtiest methods known to the art of imperialist robbery to force a whole nation into slavery to the Morgan-controlled National City Bank and Harvey Firestone.

Hoover used the power of the United States government to reduce the Republic of Liberia to slavery.

A whole nation on the coast of Africa passed to the direct control of Hoover's banking friends and his backers, the multi-millionaire rubber manufacturer, Harvey Firestone. Forced labor of practically the mass of the population of Liberia at a fixed wage of 25 cents per day per man was arranged for Harvey Firestone by the United States government. A forced loan which clinches the control of the Liberian Republic until the year 1967 was put through for the National City Bank by Hoover and the state department.

Then the National City Bank, that is, Morgan, Harvey Firestone, and other capitalist patriots brought about the nomination of Hoover for president. (Coolidge, Firestone and Hoover have long been intimates.) Prior to this deal in politics it was arranged that the coming president of the United States would appoint a virtual dictator over Liberia to enforce the "agreement." Behind the dictator, to be appointed by Hoover if Hoover is elected, will be Hoover himself, interested in the gigantic deal, and the whole naval power of the United States.

The reeking corruption of Teapot Dome is outdone. Teapot Dome graft involves, after all, only some oil wells; this gigantic rubber graft and international thuggery involves the selling of a whole people.

This is international crime on a scale which gives us a foretaste of what we are to expect of the capitalist imperialism of the United States in the near future. Today Nicaragua is being bombed. Mexico is raped, bloody counter-revolution launched against its people and the head of its government murdered as the direct or indirect product of the effort of the United States to force Mexico under the control of United States oil capitalists and bankers. Haiti is ruled by United States marines to make profits for New York bankers. Porto Rico, Cuba, the Virgin Islands, the Philippines, fall under the colossal power of Yankee imperialism which grows more and more aggressive and grasping each month.

And now it is to be Africa!

And this time it is not oil, but rubber!

What was Hoover doing when, some two years ago, he, as secretary of commerce, made drastic attacks on the British rubber monopoly? Was he already interested in the Firestone corporation and the Liberian venture in hundreds of millions?

But these are not passing events, to be cured by some reform. This is not something "abnormal" or excessive," as the simpering liberals would have us believe. In the present period it is normal, it is the inevitable course of capitalism in the period of imperialism.

Nor is it something peculiar to Hoover and the spectacular bunch of yeggs that started with Jess Smith, Jake Hamon, Albert B. Fall, Warren G. Harding, Harry Sinclair some eight years ago, and which is continued in the gang of Coolidge, Mellon and Hoover today. It is not peculiar to Hoover, nor to the republican party.

And as for Al Smith and the democratic party, with Bill Kenny, John Raskob, Woodin—and the Tammany gang—they are likewise aiming at the same goal. Any party that supports capitalist "democracy"—including any "socialist" party, as proven by the Barmat affair in Germany—supports this imperialism which is the growing body of capitalist "democracy" today.

More than once in these columns we have called attention to the fact that the Firestone venture in Liberia has vast political significance. Africa is the great continent heretofore divided for enslavement between England, France, Belgium and other European nations—the United States having been out of it.

But the heyday of American imperialism dawns, and the United States, in ever-sharpening competition with Great Britain, will fight for a redivision of colonal possessions.

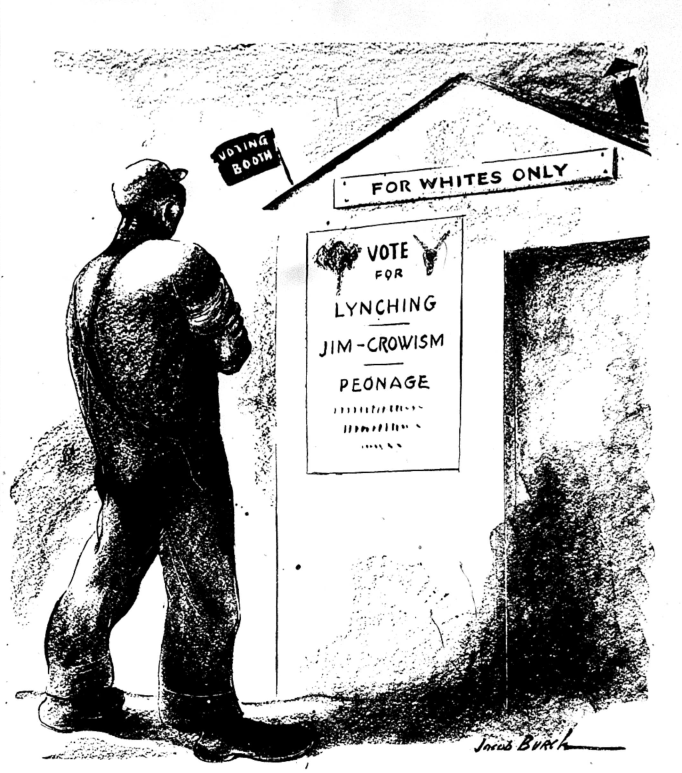
Imperialism means slavery, and it means inevitable war.

Let this example of the vile conspirator Hoover be a potent lesson to the working class of the whole world and the enslaved colonial and semi-colonial slaves of imperialism. Freedom from imperialist slavery and war can come only by destroying imperialism, destroying capitalism.

The Bolshevik way is the only way out.

BE A BOLSHEVIK!

By Jacob Burck



Militants Suppressed in Chile

Right Wing Union Makes Overtures to William Green

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 29.—In his capacity as president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, William Green, of the A. F. of L., received a letter from the "Congreso Social Obrero" (Social Labor Congress) of Chile asking him for details about the Pan-American Federation of Labor, of which they first learned about from a letter by a Chilean employers association which calls itself the "Asociacion de Trabajo" (Association of Labor).

Benefit Association.

The "Congreso Social Obrero," founded in 1900, is a very loose grouping of many mutual benefit, consumers and manufacturing cooperatives, insurance, sick and death premium associations and cultural and recreation societies of workers, employes and members of the lower middle class. They hold yearly congresses and accept a number of resolutions, after which each organization continues to sleep separately without any contact with or common direction from the others.

Real Unions Persecuted.

Before the establishment of Ibanez's dictatorship, the central committee of this organization invited the Chilean Communist Labor Federation to join, which invitation, however, was never accepted. With the advent of Ibanez all labor organizations of a militant character, particularly the largest of them, the Chilean Federation of Labor (member of the Profintern, with about 60,000 members) the I. W. W., with about 10,000 members among the marine workers, and the employes' association under Communist-syndicate influence, were dissolved and their leaders exiled to the Mas Afuera Islands. Only the Catholic unions under the leadership of priests were tolerated.

The letter of the president and secretary of the "Congreso Social Obrero" to Green points out that in Chile "the labor organization has not been carried on in the same manner as in North America," and gives as reason that "religious tendencies which still divide the workingmen and the Communists, have curbed our good efforts," but "fortunately the present government has opposed them to a certain degree."

False Claim.

With this introduction, they claim consequently to "represent most genuinely the national labor movement" and ask Green to tell them whether the Pan-American Federation of Labor" is only a central organization representing the North American workingmen, or whether it is an international institution with representation in all the American countries."

Thus it seems that the fame of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, which claims to represent the labor movement of the American hemisphere, has reached the "most genuinely national labor movement" of Chile through an employers' organization.

If this organization becomes a member of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, the latter then will be able to claim affiliations in South America, including the fake organizations of Peru (the "Assembly of United Societies," a Leguia organization), and a non-existent rubber stamp organization of Colombia.

Weak Influence of A. F. of L.

A historical survey of labor legislation in Latin-America, by Moises Poblete Troncoso, former under secretary in the Chilean ministry of hygiene and labor, published in the July edition of the Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, Washington, states that "it should be noted that there are no traces in South America of the action of North American workers' organizations, the American Federation of Labor, which only influences the countries near the United States, such as Mexico, Cuba, parts of Central America and to a slight extent Venezuela and Cuba."

Spike Lies About Soviet Union

Milton Goodman, director of World Tourists, 60 Fifth Ave., accredited American agency for Sovtorgflot, official Soviet travel department in Moscow, yesterday made public a communication from Narkomtorg (People's Trade Commissariat) of the Russian government instructing him to reply to charges made in American newspapers (New York World, July 28; Washington News, June 20, and others) that Russian customs officials were prohibiting American tourists to Russia from bringing into that country adequate necessities to insure comfort. Soviet officials recently estimated that about 5,000 American tourists will visit Russia during the next 12 months. (Journal of Commerce, July 26.)

Send Instructions.

The official communication to Goodman read, in part: "We are sending you herewith a list or articles which may be brought into U. S. S. R., in accordance with the decree of Narkomtorg (People's Trade Commissariat) of April 26, 1927, pertaining to domestic and foreign trade of the U. S. S. R., and to the privileges accorded foreign tourists in granting them the permission to bring certain necessities into the U. S. S. R.

"It is desirable that you advise those who contemplate visiting Russia of this decree so that they may be guided accordingly." Instructions to advise the press was contained in the communication.

Goodman said that the reason for the issuance of a tabulated list of what the tourist may bring into Russia was to prevent smuggling and save the tourist custom charges.

He stated that under the present ruling the tourist visiting Russia is allowed more personal effects than the average traveler would care to carry. In the matter of clothing, he said, four suits were allowed, four coats, including one fur coat; ten dresses, twelve skirts, twelve pieces of underwear, eighteen shirts, also jewelry, shaving sets and other articles. The complete list would fill three steamer trunks, Goodman said.

"The reason that the Soviet government issues a restricted list of articles which may be brought into the Soviet Union is because it is anxious to check the introduction of contraband goods into tnat country. The U. S. S. R. is trying to build up its home industries and if it allowed tourists to glut the market with foreign goods it would be defeating its own purpose," Mr. Goodman said.

SWINDLE SHEET FROM ARGENTINE INDIANS

BUENOS AIRES, July 29.—The chief of the Tehuelche Indians inhabiting Northern Patagonia arrived in Buenos Aires to ask protection of the federal government against the local authorities and "influential citizens," who are robbing them of their sheep herds, their only means of subsistence, and are driving them away from the pasture lands, which have been reserved since the time of the Spanish rule.

The old chief Truquel Seihuque, has been waiting in the capital for several weeks for an audience with the president, but the latter has no time yet to receive him. He gave several interviews to the Buenos Aires press, which published the details. He described how local police officials rob the Indians of their sheep by imposing fines for imaginary offenses and as the Indians have no cash money the officials confiscate sheep.

In this process the authorities connive with ordinary swindlers who obtain from the Indians thumb-print signatures on documents, the contents of which they never saw or knew. To enforce these fraudulent contracts, the sheep herds are confiscated and the Indians are driven from their land out into the desert. The Indian chief said that if his tribe does not receive justice from the authorities in Buenos Aires, the whole tribe will emigrate to Chile, which is bidding for immigrants and which does not discriminate against Indians.

Dr. Pavlov's New Book To Be Out Soon

INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHERS, 381 Fourth Ave., New York, have received word from Dr. W. Horsley Gantt, from Leningrad, who is translating Professor Ivan P. Pavlov's book on Conditioned Reflexes, that Professor Pavlov is preparing several new chapters, which have not been included in any of his previously published writings, either in Russian or in foreign editions. Dr Gantt, who has been working with Professor Pavlov in the Institute of Experimental Medicine in Leningrad since 1925, reports that Professor Pavlov is writing up his recent experiment in the field which has made him famous throughout the world, and gained for him the Nobel Prize some years ago.

According to present indications, the book, which is being edited by Professor Walter B. Cannon of Harvard University, will be published in the early fall under the title "Lectures on Conditioned Reflexes"—Twenty-five Years of Objective Study of the Higher Nervous Activity (Behavior) of Animals.

U. S. Imperialism Flips a Coin in Panama

By HARRY GANNES

NICARAGUA is not the only central American country that is to have an election in which the United States is vitally interested. On August 5 Panama will vote for president and members of Congress Since Panama is a military outpost of U. S. imperialism any official selected must be a puppet of the White House and Wall Street. Little Panama means big guns to American militarists. Panama, at the same time, politically, is connected with the present conflict in Nicaragua.

Pre-election excitement is becoming rife in Panama. Four "opposition" leaders are in jail charged with threatening the "liberal" candidate. That the insurgents are receiving the sympathy of the United States is proved by their insistence on marine intervention. Though the candidate they oppose is a former employe of the United Fruit Company and a tried vassal of imperialism, their slogan is: "Intervention or revolution!" That is to say intervention of marines.

U. S. Controls All Panama Area.

It is the common belief that U. S. control is limited to the Canal Zone. In reality it includes a protectorate over the entire so-called republic of Panama definitely established by the written constitution of the republic. Panama is a part of the American Empire. Everything that happens there is by the instigation of imperialist agents.

One of the candidates for the presidency, representing the Porrista Party, is a decendant of an American family, Jorge E. Boyd now in the United States undoubtedly getting the approval of his U. S. masters. It is the representatives of the Porrista Party who are asking for marine supervision of the Panama elections.

The Porissta Party derives its name from Belisario Porras, a former president. The present government of Panama is all that Kellogg could wish in the way of a rubberstamp; yet in trying to win power the Porristas outdo Chiari the present president of Panama, in the lickspittle act.

Wall St. Officials Rule.

Panama is comfortably in the palm of Wall Street. Besides controlling the bootlicking officials there is always present a financial "adviser" to guard Wall Street's investors. There is a customs inspector; a railroad commission; a police inspector—every type of instrument for the effective administration of a colony.

Last month the National City Company purchased $12,000,000 of Panama bonds secured by the customs, liquor tax, stamp tax, and by liens on the annuity paid by the United States government for the use and occupation of the Canal Zone, and on the constitutional funds of the republic.

Panama was wrested from Columbia, to which it belonged before 1903, by President Roosevelt. Professor Pereyra, member of the Hague permanent court of arbitration calls the brigandage of the U. S. "the most formidable scandal of American diplomacy."

Military Stronghold.

Now Panama is the key to the American military machine. It is not impregnable, which is one of the reasons the marines are trying to insure the right of U. S. bankers to build another canal through Nicaragua. As war looms on the horizon, the iron bands that are riveted to Panama are welded tighter, and a new bond is put on Nicaragua. The Chicago Tribune (Oct. 5, 1927), rabid organ of imperialism, urges the further militarization of Panama.

"The Panama Canal should be made as nearly impregnable as lies within the power of military and naval engineers. It should be made another Gibraltar, with guns of the longest range and heaviest caliber, amply fortified, with great naval docks at either end, with flying fields and planes numerous enough to ward off any conceivable attack from the air, and with a land force large enough to man the fortifications and to constitute a mobile body capable of repelling invasion. It is essential that the troops expected to serve in Panama should be located there in numbers. . . The Panama canal should be armed now."

Kellogg Peace Liar.

It should be kept in mind that the Panama canal is heavily armed now. Plans have already been drawn up for a $4,000,000 aerodrome in the Panama district. Work will start soon.

The insitence on heavier armament in Panama, and the recent heavy contribution by Congress to the army and navy, belie louder than canon shots Kellogg's peace-war maneucers.

War and Business Interests.

The entire Caribbean area is considered by the United States as an American lake. To the military authorities it is an important unit of defense and offense; to Wall Street, it is a rich source of exploitation. With the war danger a live issue, Panama, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, Guatemala,—in fact the entire sector in the Caribbean becomes more and more a naval and military reserve. With U S. financial penetration of Latin-America growing by leaps and bounds, this territory is contemplated as a private door-step for American entry into the rich hinterland of South America.

The United States has no opposition to the present government in Panama, or to the candidate of the Party in power, Arosamena, who has amply proved his fitness as an employee of American investors. Whichever way the coin falls Wall Street wins. The agitation for intervention is just a vicious means of proving the necessity for United States mastership of these colonies.

Told You

IT is one darned thing after anoth for harassed Jimmy Walker, dapper little mayor and marath traveler. Barely had he recov from the socialist charge that dances too much and attends races instead of attending to business of his bourgeois mast when he received a report from C missioner of Police Warren there was an $18,000 deficit in treasury of the Glee Club, the mu sical auxiliary of the New Yo police department.

• • •

WHY so much fuss should be ma over the trifling sum of $18,0 is beyond our understanding. these days of sewer graft and slu funds amounting to millions should be beneath the dignity of city official to take cognizance of trifling indiscretion like the embezzlement of $18,000.

• • •

SENATOR OWEN of Oklahoma has bolted the democratic ticket because he says Governor Smith, by reason of his environment, is qualified for the exalted position president of these United States. The senator continued that he cou not support Smith any more th he could "a representative of Vare machine of Pennsylvan What a fraud the Oklahoma sen is? Owen has declared for H and it so happens that senator is the pure mortal who fo hand of secretary of the Mellon and put the Pennsylvani delegation in the Hoover colum the Kansas convention. A p on the lot of them.

• • •

A HIGH-SALARIED salesman went into a New York department store a few days ago and when he departed a pair of unpaid gloves went along with him. A lynx-eyed store detective tapped him on the shoulder and his arrest followed. The value of the gloves was put at $1.95. Whether the salesman took the gloves with malice aforethought not we cannot say, but detectives employed by stores to watch out talkative people oftentimes p articles on prospective custo and then arrest them. A detec is about the lowest thing in human scale.

• • •

WHEN Mrs. Mary C. Booze, Negro Republican National Committeewoman from the State of Mississippi attended the meeting of the Republican National Committeewomen Washington a few days ago, thing happened which should the eyes of those Negroes who believe that the G. O. P. of today freed them from chattel slavery. Mrs. Booze was as welcome at the meeting as a cat in a mouse hole. The republican ladies were exceedingly embarrassed by her presence until a resourceful reporter induced Mrs. Booze to leave her associates in order to get a separate picture. she returned the republican were missing.

• • •

THERE is no differnece bet the attitude of the repub and democratic parties toward Negroes. The democrats re them the vote in the South, Jim-Crow them and lynch them, republicans whose votes in southern states could be hidden a waste basket make a big show friendliness to the Negro for sake of the northern Negro vote But the action of the republican national committeewomen shows clearly that the democratic party has no monopoly on hatred of the Negroes.

• • •

MARCUS GARVEY, thru his the "Negro World," has dorsed Al Smith for the preside Garvey claims that Al is a be friend of the Negroes than Hoo But Garvey is no fool and he kn that the democratic party is the torical party of chattel slavery that the blacks in the South are freer today than they were bef the civil war, except, perhaps, fr to starve. They are not permit to vote and on the eve of the democratic convention in Houston, Texas a Negro was lynched within gunshot of the city and no responsible democratic leader uttered a word of protest. How much did Marcus get for the sell-out?

• • •

SPEAKERS for Garvey's organization hold forth on the streets of Harlem night after night, firing their hearers with words of hate against the "white man," worker as well as capitalist. But here we see the hypocrisy and dishonesty of those misleaders of the Negro masses shown up in the light of day endorsing the white capitalist politicians, a political party that treats the Negro race like the dirt on the street. This latest act of the charlatan Garvey should open the eyes of the Negro workers, those of them who are not already wise to him.

• • •

THE papers publish as news the report that the state Federation of Labor would support Al Smith when it meets next month. This is almost like saying that Tammany Hall would endorse Tammany Hall. The New York trade union movement is in Tammany's pocket and will take orders. It is said that Al intends to send the New York labor fakers all over the country enlisting the trade unions on his side. This should be a good year for labor leaders who look on the trade union movement as something to loot and barter for personal favors and emoluments.

Tom O'Flaherty

THE DAILY WORKER FIGHTS
TO ORGANIZE THE UNORGANIZED
FOR THE 40-HOUR WEEK
FOR A LABOR PARTY
FOR A WORKERS' AND FARMERS' GOVERNMENT

Daily Worker

WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE

NATIONAL EDITION

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. V., No. 181. | Published daily except Sunday by The National Daily Worker Publishing Association, Inc., 26-28 Union Sq., New York, N. Y. | NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1928 | SUBSCRIPTION RATES: In New York, by mail, $8.00 per year. Outside New York, by mail, $6.00 per year. | Price 3 Cents

236 NEW BEDFORD PICKETS SENTENCED TO 60 DAYS

CHINA WORKER PEASANT ARMY MAKES BIG GAIN

Advances Steadily in Chang-sha Drive

HONG KONG, July 31.— The Chinese Red army of 10,000 workers and peasants today was within 40 miles southeast of Changsha, with the capture of the city of Li Long. The worker-peasant army has been steadily advancing for the past twenty-four hours. Risings of farmers and workers against the war lords have invariably occurred in advance of the arrival of the Red troops.

Stirred by the steady success of the Red troops the workers of Canton are said to be on the verge of a revolt against the Kuomitang war lords. Additional reinforcements have been rushed against the workers by tha Kuomintang war lords to no avail.

Fear of the Red troops has resulted in a continuation of the executions of workers on a large scale by the Cantonese authorities.

EVIDENCE SHOWS CLERICAL GUILT

Mexican Police Seek to Blame Labor

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—Reiterated denial by Jose de Lecn Toral, slayer of Obregon, that anyone but himself was responsible for the assassination marked today's developments. At the same time the police in a formal statement declared that both Sister Concepcion Acevedo de la [illegible], a nun now under arrest, and Manuel Trejo, a member of the Mexican Federation of Labor, were indirectly involved, in spite of the fact that the statement contains almost specific evidence that Obregon's death was due to a clerical plot.

There is some reason to believe that the police, under the pressure of reactionary forces, are seeking to implicate some weak-kneed labor leaders in the crime in order to provide the basis for an attack upon the working class itself and the trade unions.

The nun declared that she had no part in influencing the young slayer, although it was in the convent of which she is mother superior that the plot was hatched to kill Obregon.

The police statement further declares that the nun has admitted that she may have "told Toral that religious difficulties would end with the death of Obregon, Calles" and others.

Notwithstanding this apparently clear confirmation of the first reports of clerical guilt, the police are still hesitant about making a formal report on the killings, the reason being, it is believed, that the pressure of reaction is weighing heavily on the Calles government.

ENGLISH TORY SPLIT LIKELY

LONDON, July 31.—A disagreement in policy on the protective tariff threatens to split the Conservative Party at the meeting of the cabinet tomorrow as the two factions led respectively by Baldwin and Winston Churchill on one side and William Joynson Hicks on the other refuse to concede their position.

The Baldwin-Churchill faction are opponents of a protective tariff and Joynson-Hicks, who has a considerable tory following in the parliament, calls for the use of the tariff to "safeguard" the iron and steel industry and repair the depressing economic condition of the country.

USSR PROTESTS RUMANIA TRICK

MOSCOW, July 31. — Foreign Commissar Tchitcherin today cabled a protest to the Rumanian government against the sale of 200 ships and other property belonging to the Soviet Union.

[illegible] of this property, the pro[illegible], would give the Soviet [illegible] the right to use the [illegible] high-handed methods in regard to Rumanian property in the [illegible].

Communist Election Drive Opens in Chicago

RELIGION IS OPIUM FOR THE PEOPLE. A.A.A.A.
ПРОГОНИТЕ БОГОВ С Н КАПИТ[illegible]
BANISH [illegible]
AND CAPITALISTS FROM EARTH

The picture shows workers selling literature at the opening of the presidential campaign in Chicago. The group pictured is the Russian branch of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism. (Photo by M. Stolar, Chicago)

MAYOR OF PITTSTON BARS MINE MEETING

(By Anthracite Correspondent)

PITTSTON, Pa., July 31.—Mayor Gillespie of this town forbids Local No. 1703 of U. M. W. of A. to hold its meeting, because "the colliery is now in operation and that there is no necessity for a special session."

The meeting was called for the purpose of ousting grievance committee who agreed to resume work on the company terms.

Terrorize Miners.

This morning, a cordon of 22 state police, 10 deputy sheriffs, the chief police and the entire Pittston police force patrolled the highways leading to Colliery No. 6 of the Penn. Coal Co. which is located in Inkerman. This was done to terrorize miners to go back to work and to prevent the rank and file leaders from carrying on agitation among the miners.

The police used their clubs freely, preventing miners from gathering in groups, and in this way they succeeded in forcing miners to go back. Earlier this morning, Chas. Licata, an officer of Local 1703 was arrested for posting notices announcing the special meeting of the local union. He was released later in the day.

Plan Frame-Up.

During the whole day, state cossacks, city police and the entire police force divided in groups, invaded miners homes and searched for guns or other weapons. They arrested a few of the miners when they found a knife in the home of one of them, and kept them in the barracks. One is held under $1,000 bail.

This raid in the homes of the miners have stirred a general protest, but Mayor Gillespie, commenting on the raids said, "It was made just to show the lawless element that the authorities are not asleep and are on the job. It is rather pleasing to note that in a systematic search of the city no guns were found."

Evidently the only lawless element in Pittston is the police force that raids peaceful miners' houses at any time of the day or night without a permit or warrant, scaring the miners' wives and children by their invasion.

TROOPS SHOOT INDIA STUDENTS

55 Seriously Hurt In Clash

BANGALORE, India, July 31.—Fifty-five Hindus were seriously wounded and many others hurt here today when a regiment of lancers charged a crowd of 10,000 which was demonstrating before the British government offices

Three thousand students refused to attend the educational institutions in the city marched in a body to the foreign office. There they were joined by 7,000 of the inhabitants who were all aroused by the repressive methods of the British rulers of India.

When the crowd refused to disperse at the orders of the British officials, the regiment of Mysore Lancers was called in and they were ordered to charge into the crowd with fixed bayonets and drawn swords. The wounded were transported to hospitals for treatment.

POLISH FLIER KILLED.

BAGDAD, July 31 (UP).—Lieut. Kasimir Szalas, Polish army aviator, was killed when his Fokker monoplane crashed at the local airdrome today after a non-stop flight from Warsaw.

A. F. L. COUNCIL OPENS SESSION

Political Betrayal Is on Program

(Special to the Daily Worker)

ATLANTIC CITY, July 31.—Discussion on the presidential situation, it is understood, will form the chief topic on the program before the executive council of the American Federation of Labor which is to meet here for its opening session today.

It has been rumored that because of the division among the labor bureaucrats over the endorsement of Smith or Hoover, no choice will be announced for president. Matthew Woll is known to have had several secret conferences with Hoover recently and is fighting for the candidate who has just been exposed as the enslaver of the Liberian Negro masses in the interest of the Morgan-controlled Firestone rubber interests.

William Green, president of the Federation, on the other hand, has intimated that he would favor Smith following a secret conference held with the Tammany governor about two weeks ago in which Smith agreed to make a statement on injunctions.

CANADA NEEDLE MILITANTS MEET

Score Right Wing Record of Betrayal

TORONTO, July 31.—Disgusted with the several Internationals holding jurisdiction over the Canadian needle trades, and charging that in many cases they amount to company unions, the militant needle workers in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg have commenced efforts to organize the thousands of unorganized workers into militant rank and file unions.

The Canadian Cloak and Dressmakers' Union, taking the lead to unify the work of organization has issued a call for a conference of new organizations and groups in the Canadian needle trades, to be held in Toronto on August 4 and 5. The call scores the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union for its policy of collaboration with the bosses, and for its long record of labor betrayal.

STEAL BIBLES FROM CHURCH.

LOGANSPORT, Ill., July 31.—Several men entered the Bass Lake Christian Church here last night and stole six bibles and 50 hymn books, the congregation reported to the local officers.

COMMUNNISTS OF ALL COUNTRIES TELL OF POLICIES

Lovestone Speaks for Party Committee

(Wireless to the Daily Worker)

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., July 30.—Continuing his speech at the twelfth session of the World Congress of the Communist International, Evert, of Germany declared that reformist illusions among the workers represent a source of right wing danger for the Communist Party. The policy of the Communist Party has been in general correct, he said. Differences of opinion had existed, however, as for example in regards to the return of Brandler and Thalheimer but, since the ninth plenum of the Executive Committee of the Communist International all differences had been abolished. However, organizational action is being taken against the comrades who stand upon the basis of the Essen Party Congress decision.

Fractional struggles between groups who have no great differences of opinion make the consolidation of the party difficult. The struggle must be carried on against right wing deviations, but organizational measures must be the last resort.

The Communist Party is faced with great tasks as a result of the growing aggressiveness of the bourgeoisie against the workers and the Soviet Union. Unity is absolutely necessary. (Applause).

Comrades Strachov and Rust Briatin then spoke.

Following the address of Mechor, of Czecho-Slovakia, Losovsky, presi-

Continued on Page Two

IMPERIALISTS TO PARLEY IN PARIS

Chamberlain to Meet Kellogg

PARIS, July 31 (UP).—Secret negotiations, which have been conducted for the past two months, have resulted in a naval agreement between France and Great Britain, the foreign office announced today.

* * *

LONDON, July 31. — Austen Chamberlain accepted today the invitation extended to him by the French government to meet Kellogg and representatives of the other powers to sign the "Kellogg" pact in Paris on August 27, at the same time sending the text of the Franco-British naval pact to Kellogg.

Lloyd George, commenting on the Kellogg plan, said that unless it were followed by disarmament on the part of the powers the people would understand that they had been tricked and that the whole thing was "hum-bug".

In the meanwhile the naval pact entered into by England and France is still being kept seceret until "the naval authorities determine how much of it they want known."

Chambedlain explained in the house of commons that the naval pact was not an agreement as to definite reductions but essentially a "formula of principles."

* * *

BERLIN, July 31.—According to rumors circulated here the three day visit of Maxim Litvinov, Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Union, has prepared the way for the initation of the U.S.S.R. to the anti-war conference to be held in Paris on August 27.

At the recent sessions of the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva, the Soviet Union proposed complete and immediate disarmament. Its proposals were rejected by the powers.

New Bedford Strikers' Children With Pails for Food

The bayonets of the Massachusetts National Guard have been used by the textile barons and their allies, the authorities, to hold at bay thousands of men and women textile strikers. Hundreds have been jailed. Every form of police violence is being triedto crush the great strike. But all these measures are of no avail. The lines still form around the mills and the pickets sing "Solidarity" in their cells. Only hunger can crush the New Bedford strike. And this danger must be met with generous relief from workers everywhere. Recently the New Bedford relief area has been extended to cover the entire country. Rush money and supplies to the Workers International Relief, Room 2, 49 Williams St., New Bedford, Mass.

CALL WORKERS TO CLOAK MEET

To Launch Campaign to Build Union Aug. 8

"The hour has struck for the building of a union of the workers in our industry."

With this as a keynote, a statement has been issued by the National Organization Committee, calling upon all cloak and dressmakers to attend en masse the great mass meeting in Bronx Stadium Wednesday, August 8, which will launch a huge drive to organize the industry and build up a strong union of the workers.

Wretched Conditions.

Pointing out the unbearable conditions that now prevail in the cloak and dress industry, the statement appeals to every cloak and dressmaker to attend this historic gathering and to arouse his co-workers to join in the struggle for a union.

The statement follows:

"To all cloak and dressmakers!

"Brothers and sisters:

"Unite your ranks. Stand ready for the great work. The end to the domination of the clique in our union is approaching. Their false campaign has been broken by your resistance. The international and the bosses can no longer save their company union from annihilation.

"Get to Work!"

"Let us get to work. Let us mobilize. The hour has struck for the building of a union of the workers of our industry. Mobilize for

Continued on Page Three

Anita Whitney Aids Party Election Drive; Sends Check for $100

Anita Whitney of Oakland, California, member of the Workers (Communist) Party and militant battler against brutal capitalist rule in the state of California, sent a check for $100 to the Communist Party Election Campaign Fund for 125 books of Vote Communist stamps.

Comrade Whitney is a thorn in the side of California "justice," that "justice" that has kept Mooney and Billings and other innocent victims of capitalist hate in living tombs for the best part of their lives.

FIND ANCIENT SKELETON.

BELOIT, Wis., July 31.—What is believed to be the first complete skeleton of ancient man ever found in North Africa is being brought to Beloit by Paul Nesbitt, who lately finished a series of excavations in Algeria.

JAIL BENJAMIN AT COMMUNIST MEETING

(Special to the Daily Worker)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 31.—Herbert Benjamin, district organizer of the Workers (Communist) Party here, was again arrested last night when a group of police charged and brutally broke up a workers' outdoor rally that was being held on the corners of Marshall and Girard Aves. Police continued their suppression activities, which have been going on for the past few weeks, when they were sent out from the police stations in the vicinity to break up meetings of workers and to arrest the speakers.

Follows Flaini's Arrest

Only yesterday, Dominick Flaini, young militant trade union leader and member of the Young Workers (Communist) League in Philadelphia, was arrested for his activity in speaking at outdoor meetings of workers.

Benjamin was tried this morning on the flimsy and thinly-concocted charges of having obstructed traffic and for "breach of peace." After a short "trial," during which the judge acted as prosecuting attorney, a penalty of $10 fine and ten days in jail was given him.

Given 10 Days in Jail

Benjamin refused to pay the fine, and therefore immediately was taken to jail, where he will remain for the next ten days.

FISHWICK CREW WITH OPERATORS

Meet to Complete the Betrayal

CHICAGO, Ill., July 31.—While rank and file miners are seeking to hold together their forces to maintain an organized front against the attack of the operators on their wage standards and conditions, members of the discredited Lewis-Fishwick machine are meeting here with the operators to work out wage reductions under an "agreement" which will enable the operators to drive the miners back to work.

Illinois miners are preparing actively for the convention for a new mine union which is to be held in Pittsburgh on September 9.

CHARGE LABOR TRUST STEAL.

PITTSBURGH, July 31.—After a delay of two years officials of the alleged labor bank, the Brotherhood Savings and Trust Company, will be brought to trial this fall, charged with embezzlement of $320,000 of workers' savings.

GUARDSMEN TOLD TO SHOOT TO KILL

"You Have No Mother —No Sweetheart"

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 31.—Before leaving for the summer training camp at Ft. Wright, New York, the members of the National Guard here were told by the officers that they should be ready to return at any time for "duty" in New Bedford on account of the strike.

"My mother is one of the strikers," said one of the National Guardsmen. "What shall I do if I am called on to shoot?" The officer replied:

"In the military service, you have no mother—no sweetheart. If you are called upon to shoot, you shoot to kill. If there is any nonsense, you will be court-martialed."

The statement caused a wave of indignation among the men. Of the 88 men, 78 are textile workers and 70 are strikers.

The National Guardsmen did not make any reply for they did not wish a court-martial just for fun, but many of them declared privately that when they have any fighting to do it will be on the side of the workers.

USSR APPROVES CHUKHNOVKY ACT

Commends Refusal to Give Nobile Photos

MOSCOW, July 31 (UP).—The Russian Relief Committee approved today the refusal of Aviator Chukhnovsky of the Russian icebreaker Krassin to hand over to General Umberto Nobile films he took when he sighted two men of the dirigible Italia on the ice off Northeast Land.

Sighted Third Figure

Chukhnovsky sighted Captains Zappi and Mariano and they were rescued subsequently. But Chukhnovsky said also that he was certain he had seen a third figure prostrate on the ice. A third man had started out with Zappi and Mariano—Prof. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist of the Italia Pictures Prove Claim.

Zappi and Mariano said they left him to die alone on the ice a month before they were rescued by the Krassin. Reports from the Krassin were that Zappi was wearing some of Malmgren's clothing and there were other confusing reports.

Chukhnovsky, insisting that he saw a third man with Zappi and Mariano, said he expected the pictures he had taken would prove whether he was right or wrong.

In refusing to give Nobile the originals of the film, the Relief Committee said Chuknovsky was right, for he had been ordered strictly, as had been other Russian rescuers, to retain all materials and data gathered.

STRIKERS DEFY BOSS COURT BY BAIL REFUSALS

Larger Line Forms at Whitman Mill

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 31.—Following an open revolt in the ranks of the small picket line of William Batty, president of the textile council, the police began preparations for mass arrests on the New Bedford Textile Union's line this evening.

Strikers drowned out McMahon, president of the U. T. W. with cries of "No Arbitration" when he attempted to put across a sell-out at a meeting yesterday.

The local jail is reported to be seriously overcrowded, with eight prisoners occupying a cell intended for one.

* * *

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 31.—Hustled into court by armed guards while thousands of strikers cheered outside, 237 textile strikers, arrested for picketing the Whitman Mill yesterday, waived examination today and were sentenced to two months in jail. All appealed and their bail was fixed at $500, pending hearing before a superior court. All refused bail.

Fred E. Beale and Jack Rubinstein, strike leaders, received six month sentences at once and were placed in bail of $1,500 each. Beale was recently released after serving a month's sentence for activities on the picket line. Pelczar and Boshak Dawson, Marion Batelho and Maris Silvia, received sentences of three months and are held in $1,000 bail each.

Cheered On Way.

The strikers arrested yesterday were brought from the jail to the court in trucks in batches of thir[illegible]. Cheering crowds, assembled early in the morning to listen to the singing of the pickets in their cells, accompanied the trucks and were held back at the courthouse by the bayonets of the Massachusetts National Guard who are still patrolling the city.

The dock in the third-district court was utterly inadequate to hold the 150 prisoners whose cases had been held over from last week. What room there was, had been reserved by the authorities for the small group of Batty's pickets who were as usual were privileged with the first hearing.

The hundreds of arrested strikers of the New Bedford Textile Union were jammed into the spectators' benches. While the cheering outside continued, the court undertook to find out what it means to arrest a whole population.

All the arrested strikers pleaded not guilty and received their sentences in an atmosphere tense with excitement.

Parents Jailed.

In many cases both parents of a family are in jail.. One family of six small children walked miles to the jail, the oldest carrying a two months old baby in her arms.

While the sentences were being handed down in the court room, a line of pickets larger than yesterday undaunted by the previous night's arrests resumed picketing at the Whitman Mill. The police did not interfere, altho the resumption of picketing is in direct defiance of police orders.

The Textile Mills Committee yesterday issued a statement pointing out that the hysteria and desperation of the mill owners was never better seen than when mayor called in the national guard.

"By this time", the statement says, "it has become plain to everyone in the city that the mayor at the request of the mill owners is anxious for bloodshed. Last Saturday he issued a call to the police from other cities all over the state to come to New Bedford.

"At that time the stage was all set for shooting down the strikers and the mayor and the police were very disappointed that nothing had happened.

"Yesterday the mayor saw to it that something 'did happen,' rushing masses of police against the

Continued on Page Five

TAXI DRIVERS WIN.

VANCOUVER, B. C. (By Mail).—Taxi drivers working for the Yellow Cab Company have won wage increases. The taxi workers won at the same time the continuance of the union shop.

NEW EVIDENCE EXPOSES CENTRALIA FRAME-UP

Two Jurors, In Affidavits, Swear They Believed Jailed Militants Innocent

New evidence in the form of additional affidavits made by two other jurors in the case of the Centralia I. W. W. who are now serving terms in the Walla Walla, Washington, penitentiary, was yesterday produced to show the manner in which the frame-up against these lumber workers was carried through. They were convicted and sentenced despite the fact that many of the jurors believed the defendants to be innocent of the charges made against them by the prosecution it is revealed. The affidavits were yesterday made public by the national office of International Labor Defense, 80 E. 11th Street, which is conducting an energetic campaign throughout the country for the immediate release of the eight prisoners.

The affidavits, made by the two jurors W. E. Inmon and E. E. Sweitzer, clearly expose the facts of the frame-up. They read as follows:

"W. E. Inmon and E. E. Sweitzer of Grays Harbor County, Washington, each for himself upon his oath says:

"That he was one of the jurors in the case of the State of Washington vs. Britt Smith et. al. tried in Grays Harbor County, at Montesano Washington, during the first three months of the year 1920, as an outgrowth of the Armistice day tragedy at Centralia, Washington, November 11, 1919; that during the consideration of said case by the jury, one Harry Sellers, one of said jurors, stated in the jury room in substance 'Every one of them is guilty and ought to be hung no matter what the evidence shows'; that the evidence showed, as affiants verily believe that all the defendants were in-

Continued on Page Three

Many Industries To Be Represented at New Jersey State Communist Convention

NEGRODELEGATES WILL BE PRESENT AT RATIFICATION

Nearing, Weisbord to Speak at Banquet

The Ratification Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party, to be held at 93 Mercer St., Newark, N. J., next Sunday, at which delegates from all over the state of New Jersey will ratify the candidates and platform of the Workers Party, will present a truly international scene. From the numerous textile mills, foundries and refineries which are to be found throughout the state workers will meet at Newark representing not only all trades and industries but also all languages. Among the delegates will be Lithuanians, Ukrainians, Hungarians, Poles, Russians, Italians, Germans, etc.

Negro delegates will voice their protests against the capitalist form of government which fosters lynchings and crystalize that protest into votes for the candidates of the Workers (Communist) Party.

Among the delegations which will endorse and support the Workers (Communist) Party in its election campaign will be those from Passaic, composed of textile workers, in whose minds are fresh the memories of the Passaic strike. From Passaic, as from Bayonne and other towns where industrial repression has been keenly felt by the workers, the largest and most militant delegations are expected. Among the delegates who have already signified their intention of being present at the convention may be found oil workers, textile workers, carpenters, machinists, painters and dock workers. Especially large delegations will be on hand from Perth Amboy, Passaic, Roselle, Clifton, Elizabeth, Bayonne, Jersey City, Newark, Garfield and Lodi.

On Saturday, August 4, at 8 p. m., all the delegates and many other workers will meet at the scene of the next day's convention and celebrate the opening of the election campaign in New Jersey for the candidates of the Workers (Communist) Party at a Red Proletarian banquet. Besides good food, the workers present will hear Scott Nearing, Communist candidate for Governor, and Albert Weisbord, Communist candidate for U. S. Senator and leader of the Passaic strike.

The date of the Red banquet coinciding with the date of the opening of the last world war, it will be turned into a demonstration against the menace of a new world war and American imperialism. Delegates coming in to Newark from outlying points in the state will be provided with free overnight accommodations to bridge the gap between the banquet and the opening of the convention at 10 the next morning.

All workers or organizations, every shop, factory and refinery throughout the state is entitled to elect delegates to the banquet and the ratification convention. Organizations and shops which have not received the conference call are also asked to elect delegates.

STRIKE FILMS AT SOLIDARITY FAIR

Miners' Relief Affair to Last All Night

Workers will have the opportunity of becoming moving picture actors at the great Miners' Solidarity Fair at Pleasant Bay Park next Sunday when movies will be taken of the Solidarity Parade in which a large number of workingclass organizations will take part.

These movies will subsequently be shown throut the country, and workers will be able to see themselves on the screen. The taking of moving pictures of the Solidarity Parade is only one of the many unusual features that promises to make the Miners' Solidarity Fair the greatest proletarian picnic of the year.

Miners' Strike Film.

Another feature that is arousing great interest is the miners' strike film that will be shown for the first time. The exact nature of this film is being kept a secret, but all reports indicate that this movie will be decidedly of a unique sort.

Other Features Prepared.

Among the other numbers on the big program will be athletics and sports of all sorts, games and dancing. Starting early in the morning, the fair will last until late at night, giving every one of the thousands of workers who will be present an opportunity to enjoy him or herself to the full. Since the fair, besides being a social event, will also have as its purpose the demonstration of solidarity with the striking miners who have been waging a heroic struggle for 16 months, a large turnout of militant workers is expected.

WASHINGTON, July 30. (UP).—The Federal Radio Commission today named J. H. Dellinger, radio expert of the bureau of standards as its chief engineer.

DISCUSS POLICIES AT RED WORLD CONGRESS

Continued from Page One

dent of the Red International of Trade Unions, declared that the fourth congress of the R. I. L. U. had exposed all the deficiencies of trade union work. Decisions were unanimously adopted. Our opposition, however, showed itself, said the speaker, particularly in Germany and the United States.

The Fourth Congress decided to increase the struggle against the reformists and work for a united front chiefly from below, to carry on labor struggles when the reformists sabotaged; to strengthen the revolutionary unions, if necessary at the expense of the reformist unions; to organize the unorganized, to fight against expulsions and condemn the "unity at any price" policy.

The German right wing comrades attacked these decisions and in the United States the opposition came from the Central Committee of the Party, Losovsky said. There Pepper had set up the theory of the numerical growth of the American Federation of Labor and thus distracted attention from the urgent problem of organizing the unorganized into new unions.

France and Czecho-Slovakia have done the most to carry out the decisions but the work is going on slowly. For example in France ninety per cent of the workers are unorganized.

The German rights also attacked the Red International of Trade Unions on the question of strike strategy, the speaker said, putting up instead the slogan of "force the leaders," as the pressure could make fighters of reformists.

Our task is to replace reformists of the trade unions by proletarian fighters, who will take the lead in strikes and utilize them against the reformists and the bourgeoisie. The German rights want to wait until we have captured the trade union apparatus but that would be fatal for us.

The Fourth Congress did not decide on disruption but also opposed unconditional capitulation to the reformists. The forces of the Red International of Trade Unions are growing. Victory over the capitalists is certain.

The following comrades then addressed the congress, Li-kuang, of China, Lenski, of Poland; and Dombal, of the Peasant International.

Foster, of the United States, declared that the American bourgeoisie is trying to break the resistance of the workers by propagating reform plans which are nothing but utopias. These tendencies are dangerous.

Calls Analysis Short.

The speaker further declared that Bukharin's analysis of American imperialism is somewhat short. Foster considered that a detailed analysis of American imperialism is necessary in order to determine the correct policy for the American party.

"The majority of the Central Committee of the party has committed serious opportunist errors," the speaker went on, "it has overestimated the reserve forces of American capitalism, underestimated the present economic depression, underestimated the war danger and the aggressive policy of the United States in China, underestimated the radicalization of the masses, neglected to organize the unorganized and neglected to work amongst the women and the Negroes.

"The majority does not believe in the fighting spirit of the masses. The majority does not fight against the right wing tendencies because itself is pursuing a right wing policy. The Communist International must correct the party policy."

At the fourteenth session of the congress, Comrades Theng-kuang and Ulbricht, of Germany, spoke.

Charge Overestimation.

The latter attacked Evert, declaring that his attitude hindered the party from overcoming right wing deviations. He declared that Evert's speech was pessimistic, that it overestimated capitalist stabilization, particularly in Great Britain, that it overestimated the strength of the social democrats and contradicted Bukharin's analysis. The right wing danger and those who tolerate it in Germany must be overcome.

Lominadse then declared that Evert underestimates the significance of the Vienna insurrection, the British general strike and the electoral victory of the German Communist Party.

He declared that the failure of the German Communist Party is in not using sufficient organizational measures against the right wing. Pepper confuses still more the redicalization of the European working class and judges wrongly and pessimistically the prospects for a left swing in the American proletariat, the speaker stated. The American situation is ripe enough to apply the tactics which the ninth plenum determined for Britain and France.

The theses declare that the Canton insurrection was not a putsch and the Chinese comrades can answer Pepper and others who "warned" them of insurrection, in the words of Lenin, "as long as the possibility of victory exists, insurrection must be attempted."

Lovestone Points Out Errors

Lovestone, of the United States, then declared that the opposition wrongly accuses the majority in charging that the latter makes propaganda for American imperialism because it recognizes that American imperialism is still growing. The minority overestimates the present economic depression which is caused by rationalization and not by decline. The growth of American imperialism and its contradictions makes favorable ground for the work of the party.

What the opposition fails to see is the conection between the growing strength and the growing aggressiveness of American imperialism. We see the radicalization of the American workers but believe that this radicalization is not yet so general as the opposition thinks.

CAMPS ACTIVE IN MINERS' RELIEF

Unity and Nitgedaiget Have $1 Tax

A number of summer camps and resorts are giving active co-operation in the campaign to furnish relief for thousands of miners, their wives and children, it is announced by the National Miners Relief Committee at 799 Broadway.

Camp Nitgedaiget and Unity Camp, both co-operative institutions have during the past few weeks instituted a voluntary tax of $1 a week on the campers. Half of this tax goes to the National Miners Relief Committee and the other half to the Joint Defense. A large proportion of the guests at these two camps have gladly paid this $1 tax and the money turned over to the relief committee has been converted into food, shelter and clothing for the destitute miners and their families.

Wocolona Also Active.

Camp Wocolona, another co-operative camp, has been conducting collections almost every week. During the last weekend $123 was collected after an eloquent appeal by Rebecca Grecht, who was formerly an organizer in the strike fields.

A collection of $70 was recently made at Maud's Summer Ray, North Branch, N. Y. The committee making the collection consisted of Ethel Guskin, Helen Drester, Rose Marcus and Israel Wexler. One hundred dollars has been collected at the House of Joy, South Fallsburg, N. Y., and $33 at a summer resort at Woodbridge, N. J. All of these camps have promised to continue collection work.

ELECTION STAMP PROVES POPULAR WITH WORKERS

Proceeds for $100,000 Workers Party Drive

ORDERS are begining to pour into Communist campaign headquarters at 43 E. 125th St. for books of campaign stamps. These stamps printed in three colors with the Soviet emblem and the pictures of Foster and Gitlow, have caught the imagination of workers immediately.

In shops and factories, on railroads and even by radical seamen on board ships, the stamps are being pasted surreptitiously on walls and pillars, much to the chagrin of the bosses who sometimes contribute to the gayety of the workers by attempting to tear them off their sticking places.

Many Orders.

But the stamps, as is obvious, are printed on gum paper, and it is almost as hard for an infuriated boss to remove them as it is for workers to get a raise without the aid of a strong union and a militant struggle.

Not a piece of literature leaves the National Office of the Workers (Communist) Party without a VOTE COMMUNIST stamp. And the Workers (Communist) Party turns out no mean quantity of literature.

S. Essman, the secretary of the Rochester local of the Party, writes in for $20 worth of stamps.

A worker in a Passaic textile factory, with the memory of the great strike fresh in his memory, had a good look at the proletarian emblem of the first Workers' Republic and the presidential and vice-presidential candidates of the Party, and immediately got busy among his comrades to raise the price of ten books, eighty stamps to a book. He sent in ten dollars with the following letter: "Workers Party of America:

I am not a Communist yet, but I remember what the Communists did for us when we were in the long struggle against the mill bosses, backed by the Democratic and Republican Party politicians. From reading the Daily Worker I learned that Foster and Gitlow were working actively for us as well as the whole party. I never heard that Al Smith or Hoover raised a voice in our behalf. We were clubbed and arrested by Democratic and Republican policemen, convicted by Democratic and Republican judges and jailed by Democratic and Republican wardens. The textile workers of Passaic would be crazy to keep on supporting these capitalist parties. A great number of them will work and vote for the Communist Party in this election, and we will stick up so many stamps here before the campaign is over that the bosses will be cockeyed."

Subway Scenes.

This worker does not want his name published as it would mean immediate dismissal.

The writer observed a clever stunt in a subway train a few days ago. A passenger stuck a VOTE COMMUNIST stamp when nobody was looking in his direction, and after he gave it a chance to get a firm hold turned around and gazed at it with the greatest curiosity. The brakeman also got curious. I never saw one that was not. While the train was rattling on to the next stop he came over and scratched his head. "Who the hell are those birds?" he asked. It was anybody's answer, so the stamp-sticker, who also had a copy of the Daily Worker conspicuously displayed, gave him the necessary information in a good-natured, tolerant manner. The brakeman was puzzled why his passenger wouldn't vote for Al Smith but was shaken in his devotion to the fellow in the brown derby by the time he got to the end of the run. And he carried a copy of the Daily Worker with him.

The number of uses to which these VOTE COMMUNIST stamps can be put in helping to popularize the Communist candidates, the emblem of the Soviet Republic, and the Workers (Communist) Party are varied. Workers are urged to write their experiences in disposing of them to the Publicity Department, National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City. These stories make good reading and "making" the stories is great fun.

The proceeds from these stamps will help to swell the $100,000 Communist Campaign Fund. All funds for stamps should be addressed to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City.

NEARING SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE OF FEDERATION

Working Women Will Confer Thursday

Scott Nearing will speak on "The War Danger" at the second delegate conference of the New York Working Women's Federation to be held Thursday evening, August 2, at Labor Temple.

Women workers thruout the city, organized and unorganized, have been notified to attend the conference regardless of whether or not they can be sent officially to represent their shops or unions. In calling this conference, the federation has taken the initiative in launching a campaign among women workers to enlist them in the struggle against imperialism.

The threatening attack against the Soviet Union, gunboats in China, U. S. marines in Nicaragua, Haiti and the Philippines, and feverish preparations for war give the lie to the peace talk at Washington, the call for the conference declares.

Nearing will expose the causes of imperialist war, set forth the tasks before the working class in combatting the forces of imperialism and urge the need for working women to join with working men in organizing support for all colonial and semi-colonial peoples who bear the brunt of imperialism, it is announced.

The conference program includes time for discussion in order to give all delegates an opportunity to state their views.

Arrested Many Times for Picketing Mills

Augusto C. G. Pinto, shown in the picture has been arrested many times by the New Bedford police for picketing at the textile mills. He is one of the thousands of militant textile workers who have kept the ranks of the strikers firm since the beginning of the walk-out in spite of the increasing terrorism of the police.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 31 (UP)—A National Telegraphers dispatch from Natal said that the Savoia transatlantic airplane of Major Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo Del Prete, of the Royal Air Force, capsized in taking off today and was damaged so badly that it can not continue its flight southward to Buenos Ayres.

INCREASE PRICE OF OIL

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (UP).—The Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency announced a 15-cent increase today in the price of Somerset medium oil in Cumberland Pipe Line Company lines.

The new price effective today is $1.70 a barrel.

TREASURY BALANCE REPORT

WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—The treasury net balance for July was $130,351,106.53. Customs receipts this month to the 27th were $39843,473.37.

MORE MONEY FOR RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—Increased compensation of about $15,000,000 a year for trunk line railroads transporting mail for the postoffice department was ordered today in a majority decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In addition, a retroactive provision making the increases effective from July, 1925, gave the carriers about $45,000,000 in back pay.

POLISH STATUTE TAKES RIGHTS FROMPRISONERS

Politicals Treated as Criminals

WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—amnesty promised in Poland had not been granted and all hopes for the release of political prisoners had been disappointed the new prison statutes went into effect on July 1st.

No Rights.

Political prisoners in Poland have had until now certain rights and there was an understood difference between the treatment of criminal prisoners and them. In a certain number of prisons they were allowed to wear their own clothes, receive books and newspapers, allowed to take longer walks in the prison yard, and were supposed to be treated in a decent manner. These "privileges" were only granted after a ten year long battle. Hunger strikes were engaged in in order to procure these small privileges.

Persecuted.

According to the new statute all prisoners are to be dressed in the regular prison clothes, the right is taken away from them to receive books, they are forbidden to be together, and they can be forced to do any kind of work. The smallest resistance can be suppressed with the use of weapons.

In numerous mass meetings the Polish proletaria has protested against this latest blow of the fascist regime against the 6000 political prisoners. It is also important to note that workers of other lands have demonstrated their solidarity with the prisoners of Polish fascism in protest mass meetings.

DETROIT, Mich., July 31.—Steamfitters here have secured a union shop agreement and improved working conditions.

REMEMBER AUGUST 4TH, 1914
THE OPENING OF THE WORLD WAR!
FIGHT THE WAR DANGER!
PROTEST AGAINST
GUNBOATS IN CHINA
MARINES IN NICARAGUA
PLOTS AGAINST THE SOVIET UNION
Down With Capitalism—Breeder of Wars!
SPEAKERS:
Ben Gitlow, Robert Minor, M. J. Olgin, Phil Frankfeld, Albert Weisbord, Bert Miller, Richard Moore, John J. Ballam, Ben Gold, D. Benjamin, Ray Ragozin, Scott Nearing, Rebecca Grecht, Paul Crouch.
Mass Demonstration
Saturday, August 4 at 1 P. M.—Union Square, Near 17th St.
Auspices: Workers (Communist) Party and Young Workers (Communist) League
26-28 Union Square

PHYSICAL and MENTAL RECREATION
Co-operative Workers
Camp Nitgedaiget
Beacon, N. Y.—Tel: Beacon 731

MASS PLAYS, mass singing, sports, such as baseball, soccer, football, tennis, etc. Social dancing, campfires, amateur nights, lectures, camp magazine and other recreations during the entire summer season.

A kindergarten with competent counselors for children whose parents stay in camp.

Don't drag any bundles.—You can get everything at moderate prices at the camp store.

REGISTER NOW for the New Spacious and Airy Bungalows At:
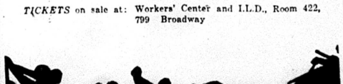
OFFICE: 69 Fifth Ave. PHONE: Alg. 6900
2700 Bronx Park, East (Co-operative Workers Colony)
Rates: $17.00 Per Week
TRAINS LEAVE GRAND CENTRAL EVERY HOUR.
BOATS TO NEWBURGH—$1.50 ROUND TRIP

International Outing
To Aid Class War Prisoners and Their Families
Saturday, August 11, 1928
. PLEASANT BAY PARK, BRONX.
ATHLETICS—JAZZ BAND—OPEN AIR DANCING
GAMES—TORCH LIGHT PARADE—MASS
SCENE—REFRESHMENTS.
Movies Will Be Taken at the Park.
Admission 35 cents
Auspices: International Labor Defense
New York Section
DIRECTIONS: Take Bronx Park Subway or L to 177th St., then take Union Port Car to end of line.
Free busses to park.
TICKETS on sale at: Workers' Center and I.L.D., Room 422, 799 Broadway



FIRST SHOWING! FIRST SHOWING!
MINERS' STRIKE FILM
at the
Miners' Solidarity Fair
SUNDAY, AUGUST 5th,
PLEASANT BAY PARK
OTHER BIG ATTRACTIONS
ADMISSION, 35 CENTS
National Miners' Relief Committee, 799 Broadway

Vote Communist
W. Z. FOSTER for President
BEN GITLOW for Vice-President
Order a Bundle!
Let The DAILY WORKER help you in your Election Campaign Work.
Order a bundle to distribute and sell at your open air meetings, in front of factories and at union meetings.
Special price on Daily Worker bundles during election campaign.
$8.00 per thousand (regular price $10.00 per thousand).
Enclosed find $..........for........Daily Workers
Name ....
Street ....
City .... State ....

American Manager of Nicaraguan Mine Wants U. S. Troops to Leave the Country

WELL TREATED BY SANDINO'S MEN, HE SAYS

Charges Wall St. Is Cause of Invasion

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Through the Anti-Imperialist League the following letter was sent to the White House:

"Mr. Calvin Coolidge:
"President of the United States.
"Esteemed Sir:

"At the present time, I, along with 18 other American citizens am a prisoner of General Sandino. We request that you withdraw the American troops from Nicaragua permitting that country to administer its affairs as an independent government. While American troops remain in Nicaragua, neither our lives nor our property are safe. During the recent disturbances American lives and property were safe. Our present difficulties are a result of the maintenance of American troops in Nicaragua. All that General Sandino asks is that American troops be withdrawn and that Nicaragua be permitted to solve its political questions without foreign interference.

Treated with Respect.

"I left the mine of La Luz on the 8th of April, and I am glad to report that I have been treated with consideration and respect, I do not consider my life in danger on account of the forces of Sandino. Nevertheless, I am exposed to the same risk as he and his soldiers, in case of an armed attack or in case American airplanes bomb Sandino's troops. I am certain that if the American people were given a chance to decide that they would be in complete agreement with me, that it is a mistake to send troops to this country. And furthermore, I am convinced that the American people are not in favor with the policy towards Latin America of the present administration.

"There exist certain Wall Street interests who wish to obtain advantageous concessions and raw materials and want their interests protected by armed forces of the American government. Foreign capital not backed by marines, is well received here. I understand that the mine of La Luz has been worked here for over twenty years by an American company, and has passed through many revolutions, without the Americans being disturbed in any way. This is the first time that the Americans are being bothered.

"Trusting that you will give this letter the attention it deserves, I remain,

"(Signed) GEORGE MARSHALL,
"Administrator of the La Luz and
"Los Angeles Mining Company."

PORTUGAL LAW EXILES 'REBELS'

To Apply to All Anti-Government Actions

LISBON, Portugal, July 31.—The law passed by the Council of Ministers that metes out punishment to all those who attempt or "conspire to overthrow the government," decrees that deportation shall be the penalty.

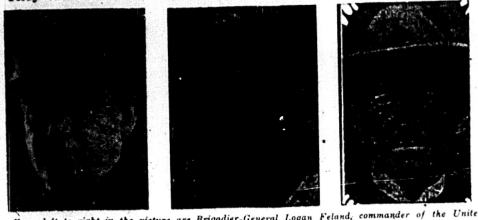
Workers here regard this new law with much apprehension since it can be turned against them in strikes and mass demonstrations as well as against those participating in the armed revolt of last week.

The participants in the uprising in Lisbon will be exiled to the island of Timor, in the Malay archipelago off Australia. The soldiers of the garrison will be sent to the African colonial service for three years.

Mexican Troops Rout Counter-Revolutionists

MEXICO CITY, July 31.—Federal soldiers dispersed 450 counter-revolutionaries near Los Volcanes Ranch, a Guadalajara dispatch to the Excelsior said today. No report of casualties was made. Five priests were said to be among the rebels. Seventeen counter-revolutionaries and five federal soldiers were killed in a smaller fight near Atenguillo.

They Will See That "Fair" Nicaraguan Election Turns Out Right



From left to right in the picture are Brigadier-General Logan Feland, commander of the United States marines in Nicaragua, Adolfo Diaz, hand-picked American president during the inter-regnum, and Frank F. McCoy, president Coolidge's special envoy to supervise the Nicaraguan vote. Preparations for the marine-controlled elections, in which it is alleged that the American state department has picked General Moncada as the successful candidadate, are practically completed.

EXPENSES FOR SOVIET STUDENT

Special Courses for Home Industry

By CLARINA MICHELSON.

LENINGRAD, July 11 (By Mail).—Although home industry in the U. S. S. R. is necessarily affected by the increased industrialization there are still many workers engaged in it, mostly in addition to their other work. There are even whole villages which engage only in home industry. This work commands good prices and is in great demand outside the U. S. S. R.

In Leningrad a large building houses a School for Home Industry, started in 1924, where 309 students, from 16 to 30 years, study linen making, lace making, wood carving, metal work, tapestry making, etc. The four-year course brings workers from all over the U. S. S. R. They are given food, clothing, some money each month and are lodged in a special dormitory near the school. In connection with the school is a museum where are shown specimens of all the home industries from the time of Peter the Great to the present day.

CHICAGO PICNIC TO HEAR GITLOW

Election Drive Now in Full Swing

CHICAGO, Ill., July 31.—Labor and fraternal organizations from all parts of the city of Chicago met last night at a big conference to arrange plans whereby they could all co-operate in making the coming Illinois Campaign Picnic a huge success. Representatives and the membership of the Workers (Communist) Party, the Young Workers (Communist) League, the various trade organizations and sports organizations in the city, all sympathetic to the Workers (Communist) Party election campaign, attended the meeting.

After the meeting, at which all the organizations present pledged their support to the Campaign Picnic and to the party election campaign, a proposal to invite Benjamin Gitlow, candidate for vice-president of the United States on the Workers (Communist) Party ticket, to address the workers at the Campaign Picnic was made.

The invitation will be forwarded to Gitlow immediately. It is almost certain that Gitlow will accept.

Gitlow has already arranged to speak at the Connecticut State Picnic for the election campaign which will be held at Hartford on August 19.

According to all present indications, the Chicago workers have thrown themselves heart and soul into the fight to place the names of the Workers (Communist) Party candidates on the state ballot in the fall. Petitions and circulars calling upon the workers of Illinois to vote for a ticket of the workers are now being circulated throughout the state. Illinois workers are also preparing for active participation in the Indiana and Missouri state election campaign drives.

Police Raid Offices of Irish Revolutionaries

DUBLIN, July 31.—A group of detectives carried out a raid on the editorial offices of the Irish national revolutionaries' newspaper "The Republic," which lasted for hours. They searched for material on the activities of the national revolutionaries.

When the raid brought no results the detective squad searched the entire building of the newspaper's press for manuscripts that they wished to withold from publication. This likewise had no result.

The homes of many national revolutionaries have also been raided and a number arrested.

5 MORE INDICTED IN CHASER GRAFT

Legalized Intimidation Aim of "Inquiry"

The New York County Grand Jury yesterday returned indictments against four more attorneys involved in the so-called ambulance-chasing inquiry, which is drawing to a close now.

Those indicted are Morris Cohen of 132 Nassau St.; Abraham Oberstein of 119 Nassau St., and a former clerk of his, now being sought for his connection with the ambulance-chasing activities; and Louis M. Phillips and Nathan Gordon, both of 299 Broadway.

The charges against the men are forgery and grand and petty larceny.

The inquiry, held originally at the instigation of several corporations of the city in an effort to effect a decrease in the number of suits continually filed against them by workers injured through their negligence, has succeeded in intimidating the workers to such an extent that the suits, according to a statement of the big corporations, have fallen off by more than 50 per cent. since the so-called investigation was begun.

THIRTY JAPANESE FOUND ENSLAVED

'Owner' Seeks Kidnaped Workers

HOQUIAM, Wash., July 31.—Thirty Japanese laborers, employed here by Donald W. Lyle, wood pulp contractor, were attacked last night by a group of over forty men, who broke into the bunkhouses which the contractor had given them as sleeping quarters, loaded the Japanese workers forcibly into trucks and started in the direction of Tacoma.

One of the trucks went into a ditch near Tacoma, and the workers who had been imprisoned in it escaped. They are believed to be in hiding somewhere in the vicinity of the accident, frightened not only by this last act of intimidation and oppression, but also by many other similar acts perpetrated on their race by white bosses in the past.

Lyle, the owner of the plant at which they were employed, has left for Tacoma to claim the Japanese as his property.

Statements from several Japanese organizations in the vicinity brand the act as an attempt to create a virtual system of ownership over the Japanese workers. Acts of this sort have been frequent occurrences in the region, and the white owners of factories and plantations are treating the Japanese laborers as slaves.

Machado Delegates to Go to Kellogg's Parley

HAVANA, Cuba, July 31.—President Machado of Cuba has sent a formal acceptance of the invitation to the western hemisphere "peace" conference that is to be held on December 10 to Kellogg.

Machado will send Dr. Antonio Sanchez de Bustamante, chairman of the Sixth Pan-American Conference, and Dr. Orestes Ferrara, ambassador to Washington, to represent the United States department and Machado at the conference.

DEATH LOOMS IN ITALIAN PRISON

Torture Brings Serious Illness

GENEVA (By Mail).—Immediately after sentence was passed on the Communists in the recent trial before the special tribunal in Rome they were transferred to various prisons. Until now it was not known where the prisoners were sent.

According to latest reports, however, it is known that Terracini, who had been sentenced to 22 years in prison, was transferred to "Santo Stefano." This prison, in which the worst criminals are placed, is the worst prison hole in Italy. Terracini, who has been behind bars since the spring of 1926, became seriously ill.

At the trial in Rome he already showed that he had suffered from mishandling that led to his illness. In the hell-hole of Santo Stefano, Terracini's condition grows worse every day. It is feared that in a short time the same will happen to him as happened to many others imprisoned by Mussolini.

CALL WORKERS TO CLOAK MEET

To Launch Campaign to Build Union Aug. 8

Continued from Page One

the decisive struggle for a union of the rank and file, under the leadership of the National Organization Committee.

"The unbearable sweat-shop system which destroys our lives must be fought against. The organization campaign must be carried through immediately. The union of cloak and dressmakers must once more establish its control in the cloak and dress industry. Enough suffering. Enough fear. Enough sighing under the whip of the triple alliance of the bosses, the underworld and the union traitors. Get to work to organize the union. Let us begin to establish union conditions.

Spread Message.

"This is the great task before us. You cannot permit yourselves to be stifled in the sweat-shops like mice in a trap. You must take up the struggle in defense of your life interest. You must organize your union. Spread this call of the National Organization Committee in every shop, in every sweat-shop, everywhere where cloak and dressmakers slave. Tell them that the signal for organizing a union of the workers has been sounded. Awaken them! Rally them to the organization meeting at the Bronx Stadium right after work on August 8, which will mark the beginning of the campaign to build the union.

"Bring your complaints about the open shops you work in, or the so-called union shops where conditions have been wiped out to our office at 16 W. 21st St. Call your fellow-workers to join with you in the struggle to establish a union. Arouse them from their indifferences. Root out submission and fear from the hearts of your co-workers and shopmates. Make clear to every worker, young or old, that he has nothing to lose, but has a union to gain that will fight for the improvement of your conditions.

"Forward to the meeting at the Bronx Stadium!

"Forward to a union of the workers!

"NATIONAL ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE,
"Louis Hyman, Chairman."

200 Weavers Strike Against $5 Wage Cut

HARTFORD, CONN., July 31 (FP).—Two hundred Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. weavers walked out of the Thompsonville plant when wages were cut $5 a week.

SOFIA, July 31.—The worker deputy, Abraham Stoyanoff, who spoke against the abuse of justice by the Bulgarian courts and its use against the workers was ousted from the senate for a period of three sessions.

PRISON MURDERS ROUSE ITALIAN WORKING CLASS

Anti-Fascist Is Found Hanging in Field

GENEVA, (By Mail).—The latest deaths in the Florence prison, Murate, have roused the Italian working class to tremendous protest.

The Communists Alfredo Marencelli, Shorsi, Poli and an unknown Polish prisoner died following fearful mistreatment. In the same prison the Italian Communist Targioni is now a raving maniac, having lost his reason after being tortured. In the Santo Stefano prison the sick Communist leader Terracini is slowly collapsing.

News of another murder has also leaked past the Italian frontier. A few weeks ago the body of a man was found hanging from a tree in an open field. It was the body of an anti-fascist from Fiume, who was first choked and then hanged to create the impression that he had committed suicide. The officials naturally kept this strictly secret. The relatives of the murdered Serdos were not even permitted to know the details of his burial or where he was buried. Urged on by the relatives of Serdos, the city officials of Fiume attempted to have the body transfered to the native city for re-burial but the request still remains unanswered.

The officials have made no investigations into the murder of Serdos. Under the rule of Mussolini the death of an anti-fascist is not worthy of investigation, on the contrary it is hailed as a "patriotic and heroic deed."

News of the murder of Serdos has aroused the protest of the anti-fascists of Fiume and Trieste, where he had many friends and followers.

U. S. STEEL PAYS RECORD DIVIDEND

Declares $2.75 or 11% On Stock

A dividend of $2.75 per share for the second quarter of the year, or at the rate of about 11 per cent, was yesterday announced by the United States Steel Corporation in a report showing earnings for the quarter of $46,932,986.

Higher prices for its steel products coupled with a larger volume of business, probably resulting from its recent merger with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the consequent monopolization of the market and the rising of its prices, were responsible for its record earnings.

The net earnings for the first quarter of the year were $40,934,032. These net returns are available for dividends on common stock and represent the surplus after salaries are paid to oficials and dividends are paid on preferred stock, interest is paid on bonds and large sums are set aside for depreciation and sinking funds.

The workers of the large open-shop steel corporation, which is a Morgan-controlled concern, are among the lowest paid in the country and work under the most taxing and dangerous conditions.

Where Chinese Reactionaries Murder Workers

The picture shows the execution grounds at Canton. Here hundreds of workers, men and women, have been executed by the war-lords. The latest murders were those of seventeen workers arrested in the recent terrorism.

BARE FACTS IN CENTRALIA CASE

Victims Innocent, Two Jurors Swear

Continued from Page One

nocent and not guilty and that not one of said defendants, Loren Roberts, Bert Bland, O. C. Bland, Eugene Barnett, John Lamb, James McInerney, Ray Becker and Britt Smith, killed, injured, wounded or harmed anyone; that these affiants and each of them, believed that in the event of a hung jury, a new jury would have been called and in the face of the hysteria that then existed, innocent men might have been hung; that rather than have this happen these affiants believed that it was to have a second degree verdict against seven defendants and acquit two, thus leaving the two free to work for the release of the others and leaving an opportunity to spread the truth; that in the event of another trial and these affiants were to sit as jurors in this case and were permitted to receive in evidence what they now know, their verdict for each and all said defendants would be 'Not Guilty' and no power or influence could induce them to return a verdict of Guilty in any degree."

(Signed) "W. E. Inmon.
(Signed) "E. E. Sweitzer."

The Centralia Liberation Committee, a body representing varied elements in the movement for the prisoners' release and in which the International Labor Defense, is one of the most active forces is continuing a vigorous agitation for the incarcerated men.

WOMEN STRIKERS JAILED.

CHENGAIL, India, (By Mail).—At the beginning of July a number of women strikers at the Ludlow jute mill were asked to see the manager. A number of their comrades followed them.

These women refused to accept soothing verbal assurances from the manager, who thereupon became threatening. When the women started to talk to him they were hustled out of the room by mill officials and the police.

Seven were arrested; a number were dragged by their hair out of the mill. Some sustained serious injuries; an old women of 60 was carried unconscious to hospital.

U.S. PRUDISHNESS NEW IN HISTORY

Greek Classic Barred From America

BALTIMORE, Md., July 31.—Evidence has just been discovered that the prudishness of the American government is something new in history, and would have aroused the indignation of the Ancients.

After having circulated for 1,500 years, the story of Daphnis and Chloe, a Greek love classic known to students thruout the world and not even objected to during the Dark Ages of church rule and superstition, has been marked "taboo" by the American authorities.

A translation of the story published in England was held up here by the customs officers on the ground that it would "corrupt morals" of the innocent Americans.

BUILD MICHIGAN PIONEER CAMP

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 31.—Registration is now going on for the second week of the Pioneer Camp for workers' children, at Cooperative Lake.

During the first week a model group was demonstrated and the children learned many valuable lessons in cooperative living and experimenting besides conducting an interesting sport and educational program.

All workers are urged to send their children or donate contributions for the Camp to 211 Monroe, Room 209, where registration is going on at all times.

MACHADO TERROR AGAINST LABOR GROWS IN CUBA

Communists Sought as "Conspirators"

HAVANA, July 31.—A campaign to persecute Communists and militant workers was started here today when Cuban secret service men raided working class districts and radical centers in a search for Communists, whom, they allege, are implicated in the plot to assassinate Gen. Gerardo Machado, president of Cuba.

According to reports released from the police headquarters one "suspect" has already been arrested, Miguel Gonzales, who is alleged to have in his possession documents implicating a number of Communists.

It is generally believed here that the Machado regime will take this opportunity to arrest and persecute as many Communists as possible, under the pretext of discovering those implicated in a plot to assassinate the president.

Those having already had experience with Machado justice, do not think that any of the Communist, "suspects" will escape unscathed.

WORKERS ON CITY DAM IN WALKOUT

Strike Against 10-Hour Day, Low Wages

FITCHBURG, Mass. (By Mail).—Unable longer to endure the long hours, low pay and unbearable working conditions, workers on the city's new reservoir dam have walked out in a body. The strikers demand a reduction of hours from ten to nine and a pay increase from 40 to 50 cents an hour.

The strikers' ranks are holding firm despite the threats of coercion being made by the city government. Efforts to resume work on the reservoir dam with the aid of scabs have thus far met with little success.

Production of Color Films to Start Soon

ROCHESTER, July 31 (UP).—The new Kodacolor films which will make colored motion pictures available for Cinekodak users will be offered to the public immediately, according to officials of the Eastman Kodak Company.

Production of the film is not yet in full swing, it was said. A limited number of deliveries will be made within the next few days.

$100,000

To fight the mighty Wall Street Powers with their millions. Send your contribution at once to the National Election Campaign Committee, 43 East 125th Street, New York City. Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

STELTON, N. J.

CONCERT and BALL
FOR THE BENEFIT OF
The Daily Worker
WILL BE HELD IN THE AUDITORIUM
FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 8:30 P. M.

This concert will be the event of the year and should not be missed by anyone.

All of the proceeds will go to the support of our revolutionary working-class newspaper

To Witness the Celebration of the 11th Anniversary of the NOVEMBER REVOLUTION

ACROSS EUROPE TO SOVIET RUSSIA

LAST TOUR THIS YEAR group sails OCT. 17 on the express ship "Mauretania."

COST OF THE ENTIRE TOUR
$375
$25 First Payment, balance payable in installments.

Free Soviet Visas
We assist you to extend your stay so as to visit your relatives and friends in any part of the Soviet Union.

World Tourists, Inc.
69 Fifth Ave., New York
Tel. Algonquin 6900

THE PLATFORM OF THE CLASS STRUGGLE
64 PAGES OF SMASHING FACTS

Price: 10 Cents Each
30 Per Cent. Discount in Lots of 100 or More

Now Ready

NATIONAL PLATFORM OF THE WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

NATIONAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE
43 East 125th Street, NEW YORK, N. Y.
Make checks and money orders payable to Alexander Trachtenberg, Treasurer.

Rank and File Union Demanded at Pittston Meet, Mine Correspondent Writes

HANdOuTS

The type of mendacity emitted by preachers when they tell the worker he is a lucky dog under capitalism and if he has hard luck not to worry because he'll be happy after he's dead, is common. But the Rev. Thomas Whelpley, Presbyterian, stepped a little out of line. He hired out as a taxi driver. The capitalist press has been filled with lurid tales of incidents that were supposed to have transpired in his cab, but which are not believed by any except the most gullible. He told of one woman who jumped into his cab and said: "Drive me to Hell." Another, who shouted: "Turn around. Turn around! Don't you hear? Go back. Damned if she'll get him. He's mine." The Rev. Whelpley is one of the few taxi drivers who have managed to keep from starving at the business and he had to sell fiction to the yellow capitalist press in order to do it.

* * *

Rare Byrd

Above is Commander Richard E. Byrd being handed a gold medal by Captain Andre La Fond for the recent flight which he attended between the U. S. and France. (There are birds and birds. This one has far more of the prudence of the hen than the daring of the eagle. Whenever he gets a new plane he has workers test it for him for a few weeks and then when it's proved as safe as a goat cart with four wheel brakes he calls up the newspaper photographers and is seen to climb in. The capitalist class does everything it can to encourage aviation and spectacular flights so that every boy in the U. S. will want to be an aviator and, when the war comes, go out and get shot through the B. V. D.'s with a piece of shrapnel and become a hero. Byrd's field is the Arctic. He flies out into the cold, discovers some new kinds of snow and returns and tells everybody he cut his initials in the North Pole and if you don't believe him you can go out and ask the icebergs.

* * *

Queen Marie of Rumania was reported last week to be planning another tour of the United States next winter. Prime Minister Bratianu had a short conversation with her after which she announced in the press "Certain premature reports of her majesty's plans are totally unfounded." The Rumanian government doesn't believe that the kind of publicity the queen received on her last trip will either add to her reputation or aid the Rumanian government in its torture or exploitation of the workers.

Gems of Learning

Rev. Norman Thomas, archbishop of the Socialist Party—"In contrast with the old parties and their leaders we have a definite program on all . . . progressive issues. We mean to bring about an integrated system of power development and distribution by public authorities, federal, state and municipal, for the use of farmers and city dwellers and not for the profit of bankers and trust magnates who have successfully made regulation a joke." This proposal successfully makes a joke out of a well known preacher.

John Wanamaker. "From the Founder's Writings — "There are many men and more women than men who are obliged to work too hard. But they are not to be pitied as much as the women and men who do not work at all." If the boss offers to pay you your wages and let you work not at all, organize a strike and demand twelve hours a day.

Judge Sidney Ballou, Executive Secretary of the Sugar Institute—"The only comment the sugar institute desires to make . . . is in reference to the statements that price changes have been made by refiners 'virtually as a body,' 'acting in unison' or as a 'joint action.' These statements are wholly unwarranted. Neither the sugar institute nor the members acting jointly exercise any control over the price of sugar. That price was made exactly as it was made before the formation of the institute, by some one refiner taking the lead, either in an advance or a decline, and the other members following or not following, according to their individual judgment." Its just great good luck for the sugar refiners that the price happens to be uniformly the same and uniformly high.

14 KILLED IN CRASH.

AUGSBURG, Germany, July 31 (UP).—At least fourteen persons were reported killed and 20 seriously injured today, when an express train collided with a freight between Dinkelscherben and Swabia.

POLICE ATTEMPT TERROR TACTICS AT GATHERING

McGarry 'Victory' Will Be His Destruction

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PITTSTON, Pa. (By Mail).—Pittston, in District No. 1 of the United Mine Workers of America, has been known as the center of militancy, where miners and mine workers put up a fight against the coal companies, contractors and their servants, the reactionary union officials. Cappellini came from Pittston. He came to power as district president by giving lip service to the mine workers who fought for elimination of the contractor system and for establishment of union conditions in the mines of the Pennsylvania coal companies. Cappellini betrayed the miners during his period as district president. He served the contractor system and the Cappanies. The miners of Pittston once more came to the fight against the contractor syste mand the Cappellini-Lewis machine. McGarry became a president of the district, elected by the insurgent convention, which declared for the elimination of the contractor system, elimination of the coal companies' influence and corruption in the union, and for equalization of work.

Miners and mine workers in collieries No. 9 and No. 14 of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, in Pittston, have been on strike for the past few days, demanding recognition of the newly elected officials of the local unions and for seniority rights of mine workers as the company began to practice giving work to the men whom it brings from other places to replace the local miners. The company practically declared a lock-out. In colliery No. 6 (Local No. 1703) worked only 36 days since January. This colliery is also locked out. The miners under the leadership of the Save-the-Union movement put up a demand for a general strike under the Pennsylvania Coal Company to force the company to eliminate the contractor system and establish union conditions. A resolution to that effect was presented by James Lamarca and seconded by Charles Licata in Local No. 1703. McGarry tabled the motion. Then the question came up in the general body. It was defeated by the manoeuver of the McGarry faction.

The miners did not give up the fight and mobilized their forces once more in an effort to declare a general strike. At the meeting of the general grievance committee of the Pennsylvania Coal Company held this Saturday, July 28, delegates under the leadership of Sam Licata put up a stiff fight for a general strike. Hundreds of miners assembled in and around the hall, discussing the matter and expressing their willingness to fight, pressing a general strike. Pittston police with black-jacks continuously dispersed the crowd and ejected from the hall those whom McGarry disliked. Sergeant Tom Reddington threatened to break up the meeting, but in spite of the terrorization of the police and the McGarry faction, the miners militantly fought for their rights. The police took Licata from the front of the hall and drove him to the rear in an attempt to suppress the expression from the rank and file delegates. Nevertheless Licata, supported by the delegates, once more took the floor and exposed the attempts of McGarry to suppress the demands of the miners.

McGarry succeeded in defeating the motion for a general strike of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, but this victory of McGarry is a "victory" which will lead to his destruction as was the case of Cappellini, as the miners of Pittston are awake to the fact that McGarry is not the one who can give them leadership in a fight against the contractors and the coal companies. The miners of Pittston will mobilize their forces and under the leadership of the rank and file will succeed to get control of their union and put up a victorious fight against the coal operators.

The henchman of the Lewis machine in District No. 1, Rinaldo Cappellini, became so discredited and exposed that Lewis was forced to fire him and to appoint Boylan district board member from the first inspection district as president of the district. This change of personalities in the Lewis machine in District No. 1 has in view to fool the miners and play for consolidation with the Brennan-McGarry group. It is already reported that Edward McGrone, who served as secretary of the insurgent's convention in Scranton, will be appointed to succeed Boylan as district board member. This indicates that the appointment of Boylan is leading toward the gradual absorption of the Brennan-McGarry faction. At the same time Boylan promises to fight against the contractor system by taking the matter up with the conciliation board. Taking the matter up with the conciliation board is plain to everybody that Boylan wants to show that he is trying to do something for the miners, but in reality he is preparing the betrayal and sell-out of the anthracite miners.

There is also agitation for a separate Anthracite Union. Stanley Figlock is put to the front to speak for it. But there is no question that the the coal companies and some reactionary officials are behind the move. Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers' of America, came out with a statement against a separate union, but it is the Lewis-Kennedy machine that is responsible for dividing the anthracite and the bituminous miners by signing a separate agreement of the national strike of 1922, and at the present time, during the strike of the soft coal miners no attempt was made to support the strike by sympathy strike of anthracite miners, and relief raised from assessments did not go to strikers, but to the Lewis machine. Lewis' betrayed and sold out the soft coal miners, broke the union and accepted the wage-cut. This will have an effect on the anthracite miners who are today already under the fire of the guns of the coal operators, who are worsening working conditions, cutting down wages, and increasing unemployment to 40 per cent. Many mines are shut down completely, and both administrations, McGarry and Boylan-Lewis, are not doing anything to remedy the situation. The Save-the-Union movement is fighting the idea of the separated anthracite union, warning of its danger coming not only from Figlock, but also from the McGarry faction, and pledge their solidarity toward the soft coal miners.

The McGarry administration, at the meeting held Saturday, July 28, passed the resolution in favor of a general strike "if that is necessary" to get recognition from Lewis and the coal companies. The miners cannot permit themselves to be fooled. The miners are not interested in recognition of McGarry by Lewis. They must mobilize their strength in every local union for election of delegates to the National Miners' Convention which will unite soft coal and anthracite under the banner of a new real rank and file miners' union.

The McGarry's talk about a general strike for his recognition shall be converted into a strike for interests of the miners, by putting up demands for elimination of the contractor system, equalization of work, against wage cuts, and linking up this struggle with the struggle for a National Miners' Union.

Call New Colored Movies Practicable

Thomas A. Edison, aged inventor, at left in picture is shown with George Eastman, owner of the kodak company which bears his name, examining the new colored movies. The colored movie is now declared practicable for home use. Edison and Eastman hope to add to their already immense fortunes thru the exploitation of the new films.

AUTO COMBINE GOES THROUGH

Chrysler Absorbs the Dodge Car

BALTIMORE, July 31 (UP).—The proposed merger of the Chrysler Motor Corporation and the Dodge Brothers Corporation was approved at a meeting of Dodge Brothers stockholders here today. Over 90 per cent. of all classes of outstanding stock was deposited with the committee under the merger plan.

At the same time, Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the Chrysler Corporation, announced his intention of assuming the position of president of the newly organized Dodge Brothers Corporation.

Under plans of the merger, the Chrysler Corporation will continue to manufacture the present lines of Dodge cars in their newly-acquired properties, the cars to be sold by Dodge Brothers Corporation, a division of the Chrysler Corporation.

INDIAN PRINCES BACK ENGLAND

LONDON, July 31.—The Indian princes who have collected in London to gain the favor of the British rule against the Indian people, have adjourned their conference until October.

They had been conferring with the Indian States Committee in order to work out a government favorable both to themselves and England.

The Indian nobility feel that their position would be threatened if more power were given to the people and they have expressed their willingness to support the imperial protector rather than to permit control by the Indian peasants.

NEGRO TAXIMEN FACE PREJUDICE

Unable to Get Jobs; Lower Pay

(By a Taxi Worker Correspondent)

I am a Negro taxicab driver and I want to give you a picture of the discrimination which is being practiced especially against us Negro drivers who work in the Harlem district.

The Yellow Taxi Corporation, the largest cab operators in the east, do not employ Negroes. I hack from the corner of 135th St. and Seventh Ave. Recently I applied for a job as driver at the east 23rd St. office of the open-shop Yellow Taxi Corporation. One of the employment bosses told me that, "We don't employ niggers and you can go back and tell your 'Boogie' friends not to be coming around here."

Same Discrimination.

This is not only true of the Yellow Taxi Corporation, but of the large independent fleet owners. In order to get a job many Negro drivers are forced to work for 35 per cent, while white drivers working for the same fleet owners, driving the same make of cabs, get 40 per cent.

Benny Engle, who operates 125 Mogul checker cabs, is one of the fleet owners that will not hire a Negro taxi driver. Maloney & Nichols, who operate over 100 Paramount cabs and whose garage is located in the heart of the colored residential and business section of Harlem, is another who will have nothing to do with colored hackmen. Many of the fleet owners will hire a Negro taxi driver only in a "pinch."

One Negro friend of mine tells of an experience he had with a fleet owner in Brooklyn. This fleet owner had advertised for day and night taxi drivers. This driver had come all the way from lower Harlem and applied for a job.

The boss, after looking over the driver's book, badge and police criminal identification card, told the man to wait. The driver waited from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. While waiting he noticed the cabs rolling out. He asked the boss for a cab and was told that there were no more.

The boss told the driver that all the white drivers had taken their cabs out to work and that if he wanted a job real bad he could buy one of his "loads" (cabs). The driver explained that he had come to work and not to buy a cab. The boss, who was mad because of the low "bookings" his regular men were bringing in, shouted: "Get the hell out of here you black b- - - - -d."

That is what we drivers who are unorganized are up against, and the lot of the Negro workers is even worse than that of his white brothers.

COUNTY OFFICIALS KILL MAN.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., July 31.—Arthur Christ, 28, died at a local hospital last night from injuries suffered when he was struck by the automobile of Guy Oldt, of Paxtonville, a Snyder County Commissioner. He is survived by a widow and a five-months old baby.

TRY TO BLAME STRIKERS FOR FOREMAN DEATH

Paid Press Aids Cohen Bosses

(By a Worker Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, (By Mail).—The usual tactics of vicious propaganda thru an all too willing, even anxious press, and no newspapers anywhere can "better" the local ones as journalistic prostitutes, are being employed by the bosses against the strikers in the campaign now going on to organize the clothing workers in this city.

The foreman of the S. J. Cohen and Bros. clothing factory, at 13th and Callowhill Sts., Ermino Mattea, was killed by a speeding sedan as he was running for a trolley to go to work.

Immediately the lawyers for the concern, at which nearly all the workers are out on strike, asked Assistant Director of Safety Hearn to investigate the case, charging that Mattea was deliberately run over by gangsters hired by the striking clothing workers of the plant.

In fact David Felix, one of the attorneys said, "While we have no definite proof, the tragedy has all the earmarks of a deliberate murder. We believe gangsters, hired by the strikers, killed Mattea."

The police of course obligingly supported the "murder" theory, and the newspapers of the city picked up all possible material, including pictures, and presented sensational stories of the strike. The reason for the avidity with which this incident was handled by the press was to show the public what "bad" people the strikers are.

The only recourse remaining to the strikers and to all other workers wanting to know the workers' side of this strike as well as all other news of interest to workers is to read daily The DAILY WORKER.

Incidentally the papers make much of the police statements about pickets at the plant, and about how well the public guard not only the clothing factories where the strike is now in progress, but also the homes of the bosses.

Police details have been guarding the home of Cohen for two weeks. No workers' homes are being guarded by the police, nor is their any likelihood for any such protection for the workers under capitalistic rule.

—C. RABIN.

BACK ROSARIO TELEPHONE CO.

Officials Fine Firm for Every Day Idle

ROSARIO, Argentina, July 31.—The city government today openly attempted to shift to the telephone company the burden of ending the strike of the operators by force by informing the company officials that the corporation will be fined 500 pesos a day until service is resumed.

In reply the company stated that it is impossible to resume service immediately due to the fact that strikers refuse to permit strikebreakers to repair the lines.

All attempts of the telephone company to resume service have failed to date, due to the united resistance of the strikers of Rosario. Scabs attempting to repair the telephone wires have been effectively stopped by groups of strikers who have employed all means effectively.

SANTAL MIDY
Irritable Bladder Catarrh
Soon cleared up by genuine Santal Midy
Effective-Harmless
Sold by All Druggists,

Vacation-Reading
SUGGESTIONS

LENINISM—By J. Stalin $2.50
FOUNDATIONS OF IMPERIALIST POLICY—By M. Pavlovitch 1.10
DIARY OF A COMMUNIST SCHOOLBOY—By Ognyov 2.50
HISTORY OF THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL—By G. M. Stekloff 3.50
ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION 2.50
MISLEADERS OF LABOR—By Wm. Z. Foster... 1.25
REPORT OF THE FIFTEENTH CONGRESS OF THE C. P. S. U. .... .60
ORGANIZATION OF A WORLD PARTY—By Osip Piatnitsky .... .15

WORKERS LIBRARY PUBLISHERS
39 East 125th Street, NEW YORK C'.

St. John Irvine Comedy to Be Seen on Broadway This Season

ALEXANDER McKAIG announces the following plays for next season: "The First Mr. Fraser," a new comedy by St. John Ervine. The play will also be done in London next season. Mr. Ervine's last play to be done here was "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," which Mrs. Fiske did for Mr. Belasco. Before that the Theatre Guild produced two of his plays, "John Ferguson" and "Jane Clegg." Mr. Ervine is coming to America in the autumn to do special dramatic criticism for the World.

"Best Man," by Eva Flint and Martha Madison, two new playwrights, who are the authors of "My Public," which has been announced by Brady and Wiman for next season. A play by Arthur Richman temporarily titled, "Dim Turning." Mr. Richman will also have another play on next season, "The Hungry Wife," which will be produced by Gilbert Miller with Mary Boland in the leading role. "The Racket," which was produced by Mr. McKaig last year just finished a successful run on the Pacific coast.

* * *

Bernard Shaw's "Misalliance" is announced as the first production for the Washington Square Players' summer season.

* * *

The Garrick Theatre will house the productions of Charles L. Wagner this season. He will open October 1 with a presentation of the old English play, "When the Cruminules Played."

* * *

"Jarnegan," the dramatization by Garret Fort and Charles Beahan of Jim Tully's novel, is set for the Longacre Theatre, September 24, with Richard Bennett in the principal role.

* * *

David Belasco has a new Molnar play ready for showing. The title of the Hungarian's opera is "Mima", and will have Lenora Ulric playing the leading role. Another play Belasco has in mind is one written for Beth Merrill by William Hurlbut and himself.

* * *

"Revolt," a new play by Harry Wagstaff Gribble, will come to Broadway early in October. The play was recently tried out in Brooklyn under the title of "The Gambler."

AT LUNA PARK CIRCUS.

One of the chief features at the Luna Park free circus is the famous Wirth family, including May Wirth and her brother, Phil. Picture shows May and her trained horse.

Leningrad Children Have Own Theatre

By CLARINA MICHELSON

LENINGRAD, July 11, (By Mail).—The season of the Childrens Theatre in Leningrad is just ending. Six hundred children come from their schools six days a week, nine months a year, to see the performances which are given only for children. Four new plays and about twelve former ones are put on each year. Among the favorites are some based on stories American children know, such as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "The Prince and the Pauper." However, practically all the plays are realistic except for a few dealing with folk-lore and some historical plays about the French revolution, etc. The plays are appropriate for children of three different age groups, from 8 to 11 years, from 11 to 14 years and for children over 14. The reaction of the children is carefully tested throughout each performance to guide the future productions at the Childrens Theatre. Besides this all the children are given lists of the plays, with questions, asking which ones they like best and why, which the children fill out at school.

"At 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'," the director of the theatre said, "there was a real deluge of crying. And all the performance the children are most responsive. Their answers to our questions are also honest and spontaneous." There are eight such theatres in the U. S. S. R. In Leningrad there are also two Marionette Shows and two Punch and Judy Shows for workers' children. The Childrens Theatres are subsidized by the government.

The Vege-Tarry Inn
"GRINE KRETCHME"
BEST VEGETARIAN FOOD
MODERN IMPROVEMENTS
DIRECTIONS: Take ferries at 23d St., Christopher St., Barclay St. or Hudson Tubes to Hoboken, Lackawanna Railroad to Berkeley Heights, N. J.
BERKELEY HEIGHTS
NEW JERSEY
Phone, Fanwood 7463 R 1.

Take the
DAILY WORKER
With You on Your
Vacation

Keep in touch with the struggles of the workers while you are away on your vacation. This summer the Election Campaign will be in full swing. The DAILY WORKER will carry up-to-the-minute news concerning the campaign of the Workers (Communist) Party in the various states.

Daily cable news service from the World Congress of the Communist International which opens soon in Moscow.

Vacation Rates
2 weeks 65c 1 month $1
2 months $1.50 3 months $2

Enclosed find $..........
for ..... months / weeks subscription
to The DAILY WORKER.
Name ....
Street ....
City ....
State ....

DAILY WORKER
26-28 UNION SQUARE
NEW YORK, N. Y

FARMERS' CROPS BURN UP; WATER RATES TOO HIGH

Cotton Mortgaged to Banks and Gins

(By a Worker Correspondent)

RIPLEY, Calif., (By Mail).—While the capitalist class as a whole in these United States is a bloody lot, the petty capitalists of California are by far the most thieving blood-sucking set of pirates heard of since Captain Kidd was hung.

In the Palo Verde Valley, which is the chief cotton area of the state a water famine has set in. This area is farmed by irrigation methods, the source of water supply being the Colorado River.

The crops are standing up in the field burning with drougth, and many a poor farmer and tenant sees absolute ruin and starvation staring him in the face. Before one can plant his crop he must pay costly water rates and assessments to a water combine whose engineers have all winter to perfect the best methods for raising water out of the river during the summer.

The farmers are being constantly taxed for costly hydraulic machinery, dredges, suction pumps, etc. Yet here in July, when water is needed most, and the temperature ranges from 117 to 120 degrees Fahrenheit in the shade, very little water is to be had.

Most of the farmers are tenants and share-croppers. With the cotton market holding firm and December quotations running from 21 to 24 cents, many had planned to migrate in the event of a good crop. It may be (this is purely a supposition) that there is some design in the present water-shortage tending toward keeping these poor farmers and tenants in continued slavery another year.

AMUSEMENTS

BOOTH Thea., 45 St., W. of B'way
Evenings 8:30
Mats. Tuesday and Thursday, 2:30
GRAND ST. FOLLIES

LUNA PARK
The Heart of Coney Island
Battle of Chateau Thierry
May Wirth, Phil & Family,
in BIG FREE CIRCUS
Luna's Great Swimming Pool
50 Acres of Real Fun

The LADDER
SEATS NOW ON SALE
8 WEEKS IN ADVANCE.
CORT THEATRE, W. 48 St.
Eves. 8:30. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Money Refunded if Not Satisfied With Play.

CHANIN'S 46th St. W. of Broadway
Evenings at 8:35
Mats. Wed. & Sat.
SCHWAB and MANDEL'S MUSICAL SMASH
GOOD NEWS
with GEO. OLSEN and HIS MUSIC

CAMEO 42nd & B'way NOW
"Czar Ivan the Terrible"
with LEONIDOFF & Moscow Art Players and "Potemkin" The Russian Film Classic

CURTIS IN KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 31 (UP).—Senator Charles Curtis, republican vict presidential candidate, passed through Kansas City today enroute from Washington to his home in Topeka, Kan.

DAILY WORKER
International Costume Carnival
SUNDAY, AUGUST 19—PLEASANT BAY PARK

GAMES — OPEN AIR
Dancing--Sports
ATHLETIC EXHIBITIONS

ADMISSION, 35c
Tickets Now For Sale at Daily Worker Office, 26-28 Union Sq.

TO ALL OUR READERS:

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTIZERS

Do not forget at all times to mention that you are a reader of The DAILY WORKER. Fill out this coupon stating where you buy your clothes, furnishings, etc.

Name of business place ....
Address ....
Your name ....
Address ....

Mail to
DAILY WORKER
33 FIRST STREET NEW YORK CITY

TROOPS BAYONET MILL STRIKERS IN NEW BEDFORD

Thousands at Jail Gate Demand Pickets Out

Continued from Page One

picket line. The unreasonable arrest and the calling out of the national guards shows to what extent the mill owners are willing to go to provoke a situation where they can club and shoot down the workers and get away with it.

"The New Bedford Textile Workers' Union will not be deterred by these actions. We fight for our right to picket and to picket in numbers which will ensure that our picket lines will not be broken up by the police and other gangsters called into the city by the employers. We must have large picket lines and we shall have large picket lines, in spite of the strikebreaking actions of the authorities who are elected by our votes but who obey the wishes of Mr. Sullivan.

"We call oupon the whole city of New Bedford to protest against the outrageous actions of the police and city authorities. We call upon the citizens defense and relief and civil rights committee immediately to start a drive for the impeachment of the city officials.

"Of one thing we are certain that is that the same firm policy of the Union will be carried on as before."

* * *

(Special to the Daily Worker)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 30.—Aroused by reports that pickets arrested in this afternoon's police raid are being beaten in their cells, thousands of textile workers are closing in on the New Bedford jail, demanding the release of their comrades.

The Massachusetts national guard has been called out and a number of strikers are reported to have been bayonetted by the state troops.

The troops are patrolling the city diverting traffic, scrutinizing every automobile and holding and questioning pedestrians. No one is permitted on the streets six blocks from the prison as the masses of textile strikers close in.

A food truck, which is to carry supplies to the strikers who will otherwise go hungry all night, has been held up by the national guards. Reports state that guardsmen and strikers manning the relief truck are fraternizing, but officers are alert to prevent successful fraternization.

* * *

(Special to the Daily Worker)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 30.—"Let all the world know that we defy the police to destroy our lines." With these words flung into the teeth of the New Bedford police, three hundred men and women pickets were hustled into police wagons and rushed to headquarters here for picketing the Whitman Mill yesterday. As the crowded wagons swung through the city the strikers jammed inside sang strike songs of defiance.

While the huge line which Fred E. Beale, strike leader, had predicted when speaking in the morning at the North End, gathered around the Whitman Mill yesterday, automobile police rushed up and dispersed the spectators.

This was only the advance guard. By five o'clock they were followed by two huge moving vans full of police, who leaped from their conveyances and, dispensing with the reading of the riot act charged the picket lines. Men, women and children on the line stood absolutely firm.

Strikers Slugged.

Slugging with blackjacks, the police assaulted men and women without discrimination, while over the tumult voices shouted, "Come on, comrades, make another line." Then they began to sing "Solidarity" and a long cheer arose.

Boos and hisses followed the police, cheers went up for the strikers, as the wagons crammed with pickets rolled off to the station house. Inside the prisoners continued singing "Solidarity."

Lead by seventeen-year-old Mary Costa, a doffer, whose mother had already been arrested, a second line formed immediately and proceeded with the picketing.

Jails Filled.

Other police wagons appeared shortly and the whole second line was loaded into them. Waving with her hand to beat time for the arrested pickets, a woman striker led the singing of "Ramboya" in the wagon. Mary Costa wept bitterly because she was not arrested, due to the overcrowding of the police wagon.

Among the prisoners are Rubinstein and Pelczar. Many Polish workers were arrested together with Augusto Pinto, arrested now for the eleventh time.

The jail is filled to overflowing and the singing of the jailed men and women in their cells can be heard for blocks around.

All the arrested pickets have refused bail.

Wealthy Parasites and Gamblers Throng Saratoga Race Track

Horse racing is one of the sports which the wealthy bourgeoisie has reserved chiefly for its own amusement. "The sport of kings," as it is traditionally called, is in this country the sport of parasitic capitalists. Photo shows a scene at the Saratoga race track, where thousands of dollars exchange hands with the victory or defeat of certain horses.

BOROUGH PARK IN NAME DRIVE

Signatures are Needed for Campaign

Section 7 of the Workers (Communist) Party, District 2, which is in the Boro Park section of Brooklyn, has turned out quite a surprise to the Election Campaign Committee of the District, according to Rebecca Grecht, campaign manager. Before the actual beginning of the campaign, the Boro Park section was thought to be the one in whichmost difficulties would be encountered with respect to the obtaining of signatures to put the party on the ballot.

Contrary to this somewhat gloomy anticipation, Section 7 was the first to start with its Sunday Mobilization on July 15th. All units were visited and members mobilized for the signature drive. The Jewish Workers Club, at 1373-43rd Street was visited by a committee, and the club not only endorsed the program of the Workers (Communist) Party but also donated its headquarters as the campaign headquarters of the section during the election drive This was done with no renumeration.

Visits Workers.

The Campaign Committee of the Boro Park section also visited other workers' organizations in the Coney Island and Boro Park, getting them to endorse the Workers Party Platform and getting signatures for the Party petitions. Thruout the whole district, the "Put The Workers Party on The Ballot" leaflets were distributed.

All members in the Bensonhurst Bath Beach, and Coney Island sections are urged to report at the headquarters at 1343 43rd Street to participate to put on the ballot Alexandra H. Chalupski, Workers Communist) Party candidate for Assembly in the 9th Assemly District of Brooklyn.

WORKERS PARTY IN MICHIGAN

To Challenge Open-Shoppers in Campaign

The state of Michigan, dominated by the Ford Company and General Motors, two of the most pronounced open-shop industrial organizations in the United States, will ring with the message of Communism in this election campaign.

The Workers (Communist) Party has nominated its state ticket, headed by William Reynolds, candidate for governor, and Ben A. Faulkner for United States senator.

Reynolds, a member of the carpenters' union, was for a long time the leader in the struggle against the reactionary international president, Hutcheson. The great majority of the membership supported Reynolds, but the czar of carpenters' union in Indianapolis ignored the will of the majority and expelled the militants from the organization.

The Detroit Federation of Labor, formerly a progressive stronghold, is now in the hands of the reactionaries and political bargainers who sell out regularly to the capitalist parties for personal favors.

The automobile slaves of Michigan are among the most oppressed and slave-driven workers in the United States, and the state offers a fertile field for Communist propaganda.

Full Ticket.

In addition to Raynolds and Faulkner, the state committee nominated the following candidates:

For lieutenant governor, Wilfrad Newman; for secretary of state, Mrs. Elva Rushton; for attorney general, John Kiskilla, for congress, fifth district, Arnold Zeigler, sixth fifth district, Arnold Zeigler, sixth district, Charles I. Coz; eighth district, John Zittel, ninth district, Ray Rector; thirteenth district, Wm. Millenhauser.

A full list of ten presidential electors were also placed on the ballot.

A state campaign committee was formed as follows: William Mollenhauser, chairman; William Reynolds, secretary; John Schmies, Philip Raymond, Mrs. Elva Rushton, George J. Kich, William Miller, David Miller, John Zittel, Herman P. Brucken, Arnold Zeigler, Wilfred Newman, S. Cojersan, Ray Rector and L. Eckert.

Workers Persecuted In British Columbia

TORONTO, July 31.—In view of the many militant strikes in British Columbia, the government officials have decided on sharp legal action against the working class. A senate committee had proposed that "the most effective means of fighting the Communist danger be studied" and at the same time demanded prison terms of from one month to 14 years for "mass meetings or the sperading of communist, socialist or anarchist propaganda."

Since two thirds of the senate is composed of conservatives it is very probable that all revolutionary deeds and propaganda will be suppressed and many workers be thrown into jail.

PACIFIC SEAMEN FORMING LEAGUE

Many Register at Meet in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 26. (By Mail).—More than fifty seamen, harbor workers and longshoremen gathered together in the hall of the Caulkers' Union in this port last night to organize the Marine Workers' Progressive League of San Francisco and take the first step towards remedying the disgraceful conditions to which the marine workers are subjected by the bosses on the Pacific Coast.

The meeting was addressed by N. Sparks of the International Seamen's Club of New York who gave facts showing the huge profits of the American steamship companies and pointed out how the fiction that "American ships cannot compete with the foreigners" is used to force down the wages of the American seamen. Sparks gave figures showing that American seamen's wages are not a cent higher than those paid by most of the foreign merchant marines.

The speaker analyzed the recent history of Furuseth's International Seamen's Union and showed how this organization has entirely abandoned any attempts to do anything for the seamen, giving itself up completely to class collaboration and stoolpigeon activities. He described the work of the Seamen's Club in New York and showed how The Marine Workers' League can be made itself a force working for organization among the marine workers.

The discussion which followed brought out the strong feeling for organization which prevails among the west coast seamen. The men welcomed the idea of the formation of the Marine Workers' Progressive League, to be closely affiliated with the New York Seamen's Club, and practically the entire audience responded by giving their names when registration for the League was called for.

This is the second of a series of meetings being held in the Pacific Coast ports by the Marine Workers' Progressive League in collaboration with the New York International Seamen's Club. A meeting held in San Pedro a week ago served to establish the League in the port of Los Angeles, and, permanent headquarters for the League will soon be opened in all the chief ports of the Pacific Coast.

191 Workers Killed on Jobs During May

ALBANY, N. Y., July 31.—Statistics recently completed show that during the month of May, 1928, an enormous increase in the number of industrial workers who were killed in accidents occurring during work in New York State. According to a recent statement, 191 such deaths were reported during the month of May, which is 46 more than during the previous month.

Farmers Fighting Fire That Destroyed Grain

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 31 —More than three hundred frenzied farmers and volunteer fire-fighters were battling a grain fire early today in the vicinity of Eureka Flats about thirty miles from here, in an attempt to save their homes and crops.

It was estimated that the fire which started late last night, had destroyed 50,000 to 75,000 sacks of grain and burned over 10,000 to 25,000 acres of wheat.

SECTIONS AID ELECTION DRIVE

Organizations to Help Party Campaign

"The Communist election campaign is now in full swing in New York City and promises to excell all previous election campaigns in organization and activity," according to a statement made yesterday by Rebecca Grecht, New York state campaign manager.

At the first meeting of the City Election Campaign Committee yesterday, reports were given by section campaign managers, delegates from the Young Workers League, representatives from the language bureaus, leading fractions, and various departments, such as Negro and Women, showing not only that the Party membership in the city is throwning itself energetically into the campaign, but that a very sympathetic response to the Workers Party is met with among the working masses.

Fraternal foreign-language organizations are respondnig to the call of the Workers Party language bureaus in forming special campaign committees for work among the different language groups in the city. Such a committee has already been established for the left wing Jewish workers' fraternal and educational societies. The Ukrainian committee will be organized at a conference called for the end of August. The Lithuanian and Hungarian bureaus are laying the basis for similar conferences. Within the next month the campaign will be well under way to win the foreign-language organizations to support the Workers Party in the elections.

An extensive program for work among the Negro masses, and also for mobilization of the working women in the election campaign is already being put into action. The Party plans special leaflets addressed to the Negro workers and also special appeals to the working women based on their problems and the platform demands of the Workers Party.

SEAMENS' CLUB IN PHILADELPHIA

Form Branch of World Wide Organization

(By a Seaman Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—Following the example of the International Seamens' Club of New York City which has had a militant and notable career during its several years of existence a similar club has recently been established in the Port of Philadelphia.

The new branch is one of a number which it is planned to establish throughout American ports. The New York Club has carried on extensive and successful work among the seamen on the metropolitan water-front.

A Refuge.

The object of the club is to provide a place where seamen may gather for recreational and educational purposes, without being under the watchful supervision and patronage of shipowners and missionaries.

A World Membership.

Anyone connected with marine transportation is eligible for membership. When you join the club you automatically become a member of our clubs which are located thruout the principal ports of the world such as New York, Rotterdam, Hamburg, Copenhagen, Bordeaux, Rouon, Vladivostok, Sidney Australia, Leningrad, Odessa, Novorossick, etc.

Seek White Men Who Attacked Negro Girls

LOUISVILLE, Ky. July 31.—Several weeks ago three Negro girls were assaulted near Lexington, Ky. by seven white men, who have not as yet been captured. A reward of $250 each for the capture of the white men has been offered. The local office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, pointing out the fact that usually the Negro worker is persecuted for occurrences of the same sort, has taken the matter in hand.

MANY OPEN AIR PARTY MEETINGS IN NEW YORK

Workers Will Rally in Campaign

Many open air meetings will be held this week by the Workers (Communist) Party.

The following are the meetings announced:

Tonight:

Myrtle and Prince, B'klyn—Padmore, Suskin, Napoli and M. Stone.

Eagle Pencil Co. (noon)—P. Crouch and H. Gordon.

25 Dayton Ave., Passaic—Marshal and Erdy.

Thursday, August 2

Hendrix and Sutter Ave., B'klyn—Padgug, Silber, Pasternack and S. Finkelstein.

Steinway and Jamaica, L. I.—Powers, Baum, Harfield and Heder.

138th St. and Annes Ave., Bronx—Moore, Jacobson, Wortis, Shapiro, Weich and B. Baum.

40th St., and 8th Ave., N. Y.—Yusem and V. Smith.

Allerton and Cruger, Bronx—Bentall, Leibowitz, Peer, Wilkes and C. Fox.

25th St., and Mermaid Ave., C. I.—Ballam, Huiswood, Hendin and R. Finkelson.

Friday, August 3

National Biscuit Co. (noon)—Grecht, Ross and Stein.

Varet and Graham, B'klyn—Taft, Maglicano, H. Williams, Lillienstein and S. Wellman.

5th Ave. and 110th St.—Trachtenberg, Severino, Codkind, Reiss, Lyons and J. Taft.

Market and Plaza, Newark, N. J.—Markoff and Stanley.

7 Street and Ave "A," N. Y. C.—Le-Roy and Nessin.

Saturday, August 4

First Ave., and 79th St.—Bentall, Auerbach, Blake, Lillienstein and M. Himoff.

13th Ave. and 42nd St., B'klyn—Padgug, Suskin, Lustig, Maglicano and Chalupski.

West N.Y., N. J., 14th St., and Bergenline—Wright and Schalk.

PASSAIC TO HEAR ALBERT WEISBORD

To Speak on Relief for New Bedford

PASSAIC, N. J., July 30.—Albert Weisbord will open the New Jersey state drive of the Workers' International Relief for funds for the striking New Bedford textile workers at a meeting to be held here Thursday evening, Aug. 4, at the Ukranian Hall, President St.

"The meeting will be the rallying point for a state-wide campaign in every textile center of New Jersey, to bring mass support to the New Bedford strikers," Local New York, W. I. R., which is calling the meeting, announced in a statement tonight.

"Relief and defense for the New Bedford textile workers is imperative. The terrorist tactics and power of the mill owners must meet defeat at the hands of the mill workers of New Bedford who are fighting not merely in their own interests but for the organization of the tens of thousands of exploited textile workers in every center in the U. S."

Passaic and Paterson are the first cities lined up to put across the drive for relief. The mass meeting here Thursday will be followed by a house-to-house collection Saturday, and an appeal for funds at the picnic on Sunday.

ADMITS JOKER IN TRACTION PLAN

Profit Will Be 'Private' Says Untermeyer

Admission that the much-talked of transit unification plan would in fact permit operation of the new billion dollar subway by private companies was made yesterday by Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the Transit Commission, the author of the proposed plan. It was a reply to a statement issued by Mayor Jimmie Walker now in Hollywood in which the latter virtually declared that he would never favor a plan which does not provide for the operation of the valuable lines by his personal friends, the traction officials.

In reply, Untermeyer admitted that his plan, which has been announced as one providing for a quasi-public corporation, in fact can be converted, so that private companies may profit from the subways built by the city.

Workers Calender

All announcements for this column must reach The DAILY WORKER several days before the event in question to make the announcement effective. Many announcements arrive at the office too late for publication owing to the additional time needed for the delivery of the past.

* * *

League Picnic in Philadelphia.

A picnic, the proceeds of which will go to the Young Worker, will be held on Sunday, August 5, at the Burlhome Park. A splendid time is assured to all who come. Sports, games and songs will be had. Admission free. Direction: Take No. 50 car and go as far as 7500 north. A committee will wait for you there.

* * *

Philadelphia T. U. E. L. Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Trade Union Educational League of Philadelphia will hold a Grand Picnic at Maple Park Grove on August 4, beginning at 9 a. m. and ending at 2 a. m. the next morning. Sports, dancing and musical programs will be added to the speeches of prominent members returned from the U. S. S. R. All are invited to attend.

* * *

Philadelphia Picnic.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The Workers (Communist) Party here has arranged a picnic to be held August 19 at Burholme Park. All workers are invited to attend.

* * *

Scranton Y. W. L. Picnic.

SCRANTON, Pa.—A picnic will be held under the auspices of the Young Workers (Communist) League of Scranton, Pa., at Runo Farm, Hollow Ave., on August 5, a 10 A. M. All young workers are welcome. A very interesting program has been arranged.

* * *

Chicago Sacco-Vanzatti Memorial.

The Sacco-Vanzetti Memorial Conference, Chicago, will hold a memorial meeting in honor of the murdered worker martyrs, Sacco and Vanzetti, on Wednesday, August 22, at 8 p. m., at Temple Hall, Van Buren and Marshfield. Ralph Chaplin, orator and poet, Mordecai Shulman, attorney Guido Serio of the Anti-Fascist Alliance, and others, will address the meeting. A beautiful musical program will be had.

* * *

Philadelphia Open-air Meetings.

Workers Party will hold the following noon-hour meetings:

Wednesday, Aug. 1st, a 40th & Lancaster, Thursday, Aug. 2nd, 53rd & Girard Ave.

* * *

Notice Texas Communists.

You are called to meet on County Convention day, Aug. 4, and elect a delegate to the State Nominating Convention of the Workers (Communist) Party called for the 14th day of August in the city of Houston at 304½ Main St. Those taking part in the conventions must be qualified voters, the qualifications for candidates are the same.

* * *

Chicago Miners' Relief.

The big drive began July 29th. Headquarters open 8 a. m.

Mobilize for relief and defense for the fighting miners. Stations:

West Side—23 S. Lincoln St.; 3301 W. Roosevelt Rd., Freiheit; 1510 W. 18th St., Roynost Ludu; 1823 S. Loomis St., Radnik.

Northwest Side—2021 W. Division St., 2736 W. Division St.

North Side—2409 N. Halsted St., Imperial Hall; 453 W. North Ave., Hungarian Hall

Albany Park—4021 N. Drake Ave.

Cicero—5100 W. 23rd St.

Maywood—410 S. 9th St.

South Side—3116 S. Halsted, Vilnis; 3035 W. 51st St., Workers' Home; 3201 S. Wabash Ave., Community House.

Woodlawn—647 E. 61st St.

Pullman—2954 E. 94th St.

* * *

Washington Economics Class.

The weekly class in Elementary Marxian Economics of the Workers' every Saturday at 8 o'clock at 817 13th St., N. W., "A B C of Communism" and other text books are in use. Non-communists are invited.

* * *

Washington Leninist Class.

The weekly class in Leninism of the Workers' School of Washington, D. C., meets at 8 o'clock every Tuesday at 817 13th St., N. W.

* * *

Canton Festival for Miners.

The Canton Branch of the National Miners' Relief will hold a huge festival for the starving miners on Aug. 14. Admission rice is only 15 cents. Cake and ice cream served free. Music, games, sports. Come one, come all, workers.

* * *

Kenosha Workers, Attention!

The Workers (Communist) Party and the Young Workers (Communist) League, Local Kenosha, will hold a picnic at Dexter Woods on Sunday, August 5.

Trucks and automobiles will leave for the picnic grounds at 12:00 noon and 2:00 p. m., from the Russian Hall, 1207 55th St.

Workers of Kenosha! Attend the picnic and help the party and the league to continue the good work.

* * *

Attention Newark Organizations.

Do not arrange any affairs for August 19, 1928. The local branch of the I. L. D. has arranged a bus ride to Asbury Park for that date.

* * *

Philadelphia Election Meet.

The following election campaign meetings will be held in Philadelphia:

Wednesday, August 1—At 40th and Lancaster Ave.

* * *

New Haven Anti-War Meetings.

The Workers (Communist) Party and the Young Workers (Communist) League will hold the following anti-war meetings:

New Britain, Wednesday, August 1 at 8 p. m., at the Center; Harftord, Thursday, August 2 at 7:30 p. m., at Buckinghom and Main Sts.; Stamford, Friday, August 3 at 7:30 p. m., on the Town Hall steps; Brideport, Saturday, August 4 at 8 p. m., at Bank and Main Sts.; New London, Monday, August 6, 8 p. m., at Bank and Main Sts.

Meetings will be addressed by Charles Mitchell, acting district organizer of the party and Dan Grey, district organizer of the league.

* * *

Ohio Labor Defense Picnic.

The International Labor Defense branches of Lansing, Dillonvale, Martins Ferry, Yorkville, Neffs and Bellaire will hold a picnic at Lansing. Taylor's Grove, stop 23½. Bishop Brown, author and ostracised bishop, member of the National Committee of the I. L. D.; John J. Watt, national secretary Save-the-Union Committee, and Carl Hacker, state secretary of the I. L. D., will speak. A parade will begin in the morning at Bridgeport to march to the picnic grounds. All workers are urged to attend.

* * *

Youngstown, O., Y. W. L. Picnic.

The Young Workers (Communist) League of Youngstown, O., will hold a picnic on Sunday, August 12, at Sharon line stop 27.

Dancing, games and sports will feature the program. There'll be aplenty so you neednt bring any with you. But come and bring everyone along to enjoy our program and eats.

WORKER BLAMED FOR "L" WRECK BY INTERBOROUGH

I. R. T. Forces Arrest of Motorman

Following the usual precedent set by officials of public service corporations who seek to divert attention from their own responsibility for accidents by fastening blame on their employes, the Interborough Rapid Transit Company yesterday through its legal department secured the arrest of Stanley W. Zillig, the motorman of one of the elevated trains involved in Sunday night's wreck. Zillig was today arrested following an order issued by Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora.

Latest figures put the total of those injured in the smash-up of the wooden-car trains at 67. Seven of those most seriously injured are still in the hospital.

Notwithstanding the fact that wooden cars have repeatedly been condemned and have led to numerous wrecks followed by injuries and the loss of life, the use of these wooden cars is persisted in by both the Interborough and the B.-M. T.

Bail for Zwillig was set for $10,000 by Pecora. Events preceding the accident are not yet known, it is believed that a south-bound elevated train about ten o'clock Sunday developed trouble which finally caused a short circuit.

ANTI-TRUST ACT VOID

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., July 31.—The California anti-trust law has been declared invalid by Superior Judge H. E. Lucas. The decision was made in a civil action brought by a moving picture theatre owner who charged several defendants joined in a conspiracy to prevent him from obtaining films.

Confirms Smith as Tool of Tammany

NEW YORK, July 31 (UP).—William Allen White, Kansas Editor, called upon Governor Alfred E. Smith today to answer his charge that Smith was subservient to Tammany in voting in the New York Assembly to protect vicious interests. White issued a lengthy Statement here to-night citing Smith's Assembly votes.

Smith's answer, White said, "Should not be an alibi and lacking repudiation the record stands as a foreshadowing portent of what may be expected from Gov. Smith in the White House."

Stresemann Prepares to Sign "Peace" Pact

BERLIN, July 31 (UP).—Foreign minister Streseman will return from Carlsbad August 20 and then proceed to Paris for the signing of the United States "peace" treaty August 27, it was reported today. Stresemann hopes to discuss such questions as reparations and the evacuation of the Rhineland with French Foreign Minister Briand.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

PHILADELPHIA
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
1214 SPRING GARDEN ST.
A. SOKOLOV, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: POPLAR 0837

Philadelphia, Pa.
PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISER
MARKET RESTAURANT
1228 Spring Garden St.
DELICIOUS FOOD
Have Your Dinner and Supper With Us—Telehone Poplar 4971

CAPITAL BEVERAGE COMPANY
Will take care of your entertainments and supply
SODA WATER AND BEER
2434 WEST YORK ST.
Telephone: Columbia 6255.

PHILADELPHIA
The work we make is good. Organizations' work—our speciality.
Spruce Printing Co.
152 N. SEVENTH ST., PHILA., PA.
Bell—Market 6883 Union
Keystone—Main 7040. Printers.

CAMP HULIET
(Over the Delaware)
LUMBERVILLE, PA.
JUST THE PLACE FOR A WORKER'S VACATION.
Directions—By Bus or Trolley to Doyleston and then by Camp Bus to the Camp.
By Train—To Raven Rock, N. J., on the Penna R. R.
Form New York—By Train to Raven Rock, N. J.
For further information and registration apply to:
Workers' Co-operative Assn.
817 So. 5th St. PHILA, PA.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
122 West 3rd St.—Room 101
PAUL C. REISS, Mgr.
Accepts Subscritions, Ads and Bundle Orders

Los Angeles, Calif.
DR. M. KOMPANIEZ
DENTIST
2630½ Brooklyn Ave., Cor. Mott St.
Open Evenings Till 9 P. M.
Phone: Angelus 9057

SCHUETZEN PARK
83rd and Tinicum Ave.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Beautiful nature spot. Splendid picnic ground with a dance hall of 1,000 capacity. Will accommodate any labor organization.
DIRECTIONS: Take trolley car south-bound to Moyamensing Ave. then Southwestern car going westward. Also Subway line No. 37.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
DAILY WORKER AND FREIHEIT CARNIVAL
SUNDAY, AUGUST 26
at the
MAPLE GROVE PARK
Splendid Program—Philadelphia Never Witnessed
WATCH FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS!

PITTSBURGH, PA.

PITTSBURGH
DAILY WORKER OFFICE
805 JAMES ST., NS.
JOHN KASPER, Mgr.
Accepts Subscriptions, Ads and Bundle Orders.
PHONE: CEDAR 8819

PITTSBURGH, PA.
Daily Worker—Freiheit EXCURSION
Steamer JULIA BELLE
Saturday Evening, August 11, 1928
Boat Leaves Smithfield and Water Sts., near B. & O. Station at 8:30 P. M.—Back at 11:30 P. M.
ADMISSION - - - ADULTS, 75c

Red Cartoons 1928
Sixty-four pages of the choice work of the best proletarian artists in America, including:
FRED ELLIS · WM. GROPPER · HUGO GELLERT
M. BECKER · JACOB BURCK · DON BROWN
HAY BALES · K. A. SUVANTO · WM. SIEGEL
Introduction by Robert Minor
FREE WITH A YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION
($6.00) to the Daily Worker
THE DAILY WORKER, 33 First St., New York, N. Y.
RATES
$6.00 a year
$3.50 6 months
$2.00 3 months
Enclosed $.......... for .... sub to the Daily Worker. Send me the premium "Red Cartoons of 1928" (only with a year's sub).
NAME ....
STREET ....
CITY .... STATE ....

Daily Worker

[illegible] by NATIONAL DAILY WORKER PUBLISHING ASS'N, Inc., Daily, Except Sunday
[illegible] Square, New York, N. Y. Cable Address: "Daiwork" Phone, Stuyvesant 1696-7-8

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Mail (in New York only): [illegible] year $4.50 six months $2.50 three months
By Mail (outside of New York): $6.00 per year $3.50 six months $2 three months

[illegible] and mail out checks to THE DAILY WORKER, 26-28 Union Square, New York, N. Y.

Editor........................ROBERT MINOR
Assistant Editor.................WM. F. DUNNE

[illegible] as second-class mail at the post-office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

VOTE COMMUNIST!

For President
WILLIAM Z. FOSTER

For Vice-President
BENJAMIN GITLOW

☭ ☒ WORKERS (COMMUNIST) PARTY

For the Party of the Class Struggle!
For the Workers!
Against the Capitalists!

Al Smith for Negro Slavery.

A very interesting situation is created in the [illegible] of the Republican and Democratic [illegible] for electoral votes in the Southern [illegible] and the effect of this upon the rotten [illegible]-bourgeoisie of the South. The demo[illegible] party is busy, from Raskob's office down, [illegible]ding the southern ruling class that if it [illegible] not accept Wall Street's Tammany can[illegible], as against Wall Street's Republican can[illegible], the masses of agricultural laborers and [illegible] workers whose faces are black may slip [illegible] possession of some of the rights of citizen[illegible].

[illegible] Smith headquarters at Atlanta, Ga., has [illegible] out a very illuminating piece of propa[illegible] from the pen of old Richard Cannon [illegible], chief justice of South Carolina, who [illegible]:

